twice, but I will proceed no further."
- 6 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind: 7 "Gird up your loins like a man;

- 42 Then Job answered the LORD:
2 "I know that thou canst do all things, and that no purpose of thine can be thwarted.
- 3 'Who is this that hides counsel without knowledge?' Therefore I have uttered what I did not understand, things too wonderful for me, which I did not know.
- 4 'Hear, and I will speak;
I will question you, and you declare to me.'
- 5 I had heard of thee by the hearing of the ear,
but now my eye sees thee;
6 therefore I despise myself, and repent in dust and ashes."
- 7 After the LORD had spoken these words to Job, the LORD said to El'i-phaz the Te'manite: "My wrath is kindled against you and against your two friends; for you have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has.

8 Now therefore take seven bulls and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you, for I will accept his prayer not to deal with you according to your folly; for you have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has."
9 So El'iphaz the Te'manite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Na'amathite went and did what the LORD had told them; and the LORD accepted Job's prayer.

10 And the LORD restored the fortunes of Job, when he had prayed for his friends; and the LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before.
11 Then came to him all his brothers and sisters and all who had known him before, and ate bread with him in his house; and they showed him sympathy and comforted him for all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him; and each of them gave him a piece of money¹⁰ and a ring of gold.
12 And the LORD blessed the latter days of Job more than his beginning; and he had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.
13 He had also seven sons and three daughters.
14 And he called the name of the first Jemi'mah; and the name of the second Kezi'ah; and the name of the third Ker'en-hap'puch.
15 And in all the land there were no women so fair as Job's daughters; and their father gave them inheritance among their brothers.
16 And after this Job lived a hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, four generations.
17 And Job died, an old man, and full of days.

THE PSALMS

BOOK I

1 Blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the wicked,
nor stands in the way of sinners,
nor sits in the seat of scoffers;
2 but his delight is in the law of the LORD,
and on his law he meditates day and night.
3 He is like a tree planted by streams of water, that yields its fruit in its season,
and its leaf does not wither.
In all that he does, he prospers.

4 The wicked are not so, but are like chaff which the wind drives away.
5 Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of
the righteous;
6 for the LORD knows the way of the righteous,
but the way of the wicked will perish.

2 Why do the nations conspire, and the peoples plot in vain?
2 The kings of the earth set themselves,
and the rulers take counsel together,
against the LORD and his anointed,
saying,
3 "Let us burst their bonds asunder, and cast their cords from us." 4 He who sits in the heavens laughs;
the LORD has them in derision.
5 Then he will speak to them in his wrath,
and terrify them in his fury, saying, 6 "I have set my king
on Zion, my holy hill."
7 I will tell of the decree of the LORD:
He said to me, "You are my son,
today I have begotten you.

8 Ask of me, and I will make the nations your heritage, and the ends of the earth your possession.

9 You shall break them with a rod of iron,
and dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel."

10 Now therefore, O kings, be wise;
be warned, O rulers of the earth.

11 Serve the LORD with fear, with trembling ¹² kiss his feet,^a lest he be angry, and you perish in the way;
for his wrath is quickly kindled.

Blessed are all who take refuge in
him.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

3 O LORD, how many are my foes!
Many are rising against me;
2 many are saying of me,
there is no help for him in God.
Selah

3 But thou, O LORD, art a shield about
me,
my glory, and the lifter of my head.

4 I cry aloud to the LORD, and he answers me from his holy hill. Selah

5 I lie down and sleep;
I wake again, for the LORD sustains me.

6 I am not afraid of ten thousands of people
who have set themselves against me round about.

7 Arise, O LORD!
Deliver me, O my God!
For thou dost smite all my enemies on the cheek, thou dost break the teeth of the wicked.

A Psalm of David.

5 Give ear to my words, O LORD;
give heed to my groaning.

² Harken to the sound of my cry, my King and my God,
for to thee do I pray.

³ O LORD, in the morning thou dost hear my voice;
in the morning I prepare a sacrifice for thee, and watch.

⁴ For thou art not a God who delights in wickedness; evil may not sojourn with thee.

4.4: Eph 4.26. 5.9: Rom 3.13.

⁵ The boastful may not stand before thy eyes;
thou hatest all evildoers.

⁶ Thou destroyest those who speak lies;
the LORD abhors bloodthirsty and deceitful men.

⁷ But I through the abundance of thy steadfast love will enter thy house,
I will worship toward thy holy temple in the fear of thee.

⁸ Lead me, O LORD, in thy righteousness because of my enemies;
make thy way straight before me.

⁹ For there is no truth in their mouth;
their heart is destruction, their throat is an open sepulchre, they flatter with their tongue.

¹⁰ Make them bear their guilt, O God;
let them fall by their own counsels;
because of their many transgressions cast them out,
for they have rebelled against thee.

¹¹ But let all who take refuge in thee rejoice, let them ever sing for joy;
and do thou defend them,
that those who love thy name may exult in thee.

¹² For thou dost bless the righteous, O LORD; thou dost cover him with favor as with a shield.

A Psalm of David.

6 O LORD, rebuke me not in thy anger, nor chasten me in thy wrath.

² Be gracious to me, O LORD, for I am languishing;
O LORD, heal me, for my bones are troubled.

³ My soul also is sorely troubled.
But thou, O LORD—how long?

⁴ Turn, O LORD, save my life; deliver me for the sake of thy steadfast love.

- ⁵ For in death there is no remembrance of thee;
in Sheol who can give thee praise?
- ⁶ I am weary with my moaning;
every night I flood my bed with tears;

- ⁸ Depart from me, all you workers of evil;
for the LORD has heard the sound of my weeping.
- ⁹ The LORD has heard my supplication;
the LORD accepts my prayer.
- ¹⁰ All my enemies shall be ashamed and sorely troubled;
they shall turn back, and be put to shame in a moment.
- A Shiggaion of David, which he sang to the LORD concerning Cush a Benjaminite.
- 7 O LORD my God, in thee do I take refuge;
save me from all my pursuers,
and deliver me,
² lest like a lion they rend me, dragging me away, with none to rescue.
- ³ O LORD my God, if I have done this,
if there is wrong in my hands, ⁴ if I have requited my friend with evil or plundered my enemy without cause, ⁵ let the enemy pursue me and overtake me, and let him trample my life to the ground, and lay my soul in the dust. Selah
- ⁶ Arise, O LORD, in thy anger, lift thyself up against the fury of my enemies;
awake, O my God;^b thou hast appointed a judgment.
- ⁷ Let the assembly of the peoples be gathered about thee;
and over it take thy seat^c on high.
- ⁸ The LORD judges the peoples;
- judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness and according to the integrity that is in me.
- ⁹ O let the evil of the wicked come to an end,
but establish thou the righteous, thou who triest the minds and hearts, thou righteous God.
- ¹⁰ My shield is with God, who saves the upright in heart.
- ¹¹ God is a righteous judge, and a God who has indignation every day.
- ¹² If a man^d does not repent, God^d will whet his sword;
he has bent and strung his bow;
¹³ he has prepared his deadly weapons,

- ¹⁴ Behold, the wicked man conceives evil,
and is pregnant with mischief, and brings forth lies.
- ¹⁵ He makes a pit, digging it out,
and falls into the hole which he has made.
- ¹⁶ His mischief returns upon his own head, and on his own pate his violence descends.
- ¹⁷ I will give to the LORD the thanks due to his righteousness, and I will sing praise to the name of the LORD, the Most High.
- To the choirmaster: according to The Gittith. A Psalm of David.
- 8 O LORD, our Lord,
how majestic is thy name in all the earth!
- Thou whose glory above the heavens is chanted
- ² by the mouth of babes and infants, thou hast founded a bulwark because of thy foes, to still the enemy and the avenger.

- ⁴ what is man that thou art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou dost care for him?
- ⁵ Yet thou hast made him little less than God,
and dost crown him with glory and honor.
- ⁶ Thou hast given him dominion over the works of thy hands;
thou hast put all things under his feet, ⁷ all sheep and oxen,
and also the beasts of the field,
⁸ the birds of the air, and the fish of the sea, whatever passes along the paths of the sea.
- ⁹ O LORD, our Lord,
how majestic is thy name in all the earth!
- To the choirmaster: according to Muth-labben. A Psalm of David.
- 9 I will give thanks to the LORD with my whole heart;
I will tell of all thy wonderful deeds.
- ² I will be glad and exult in thee,
I will sing praise to thy name, O Most High.
- ³ When my enemies turned back, they stumbled and perished before thee.
- ⁴ For thou hast maintained my just cause;
thou hast sat on the throne giving righteous judgment.
- ⁵ Thou hast rebuked the nations, thou hast destroyed the wicked;
thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.
- ⁶ The enemy have vanished in everlasting ruins;
their cities thou hast rooted out;
the very memory of them has perished.
- ⁷ But the LORD sits enthroned for ever,
he has established his throne for judgment;
- ⁸ and he judges the world with righteousness,
he judges the peoples with equity.
- ⁹ The LORD is a stronghold for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble.
- ¹⁰ And those who know thy name put their trust in thee, for thou, O LORD, hast not forsaken those who seek thee.
- ¹¹ Sing praises to the LORD, who dwells in Zion!
Tell among the peoples his deeds!
- ¹² For he who avenges blood is mindful of them;
he does not forget the cry of the afflicted.
- ¹³ Be gracious to me, O LORD!
Behold what I suffer from those who hate me,
O thou who liftest me up from the gates of death,
- ¹⁴ that I may recount all thy praises, that in the gates of the daughter of Zion
I may rejoice in thy deliverance.
- ¹⁵ The nations have sunk in the pit which they made;
in the net which they hid has their own foot been caught.
- ¹⁶ The LORD has made himself known,
he has executed judgment;
the wicked are snared in the work of their own hands.
Higgaion. Selah
- ¹⁷ The wicked shall depart to Sheol, all the nations that forget God.
- ¹⁸ For the needy shall not always be forgotten, and the hope of the poor shall not perish for ever.
- ¹⁹ Arise, O LORD! Let not man prevail;
let the nations be judged before thee!
- ²⁰ Put them in fear, O LORD!
Let the nations know that they are but men!
Selah
- 10 Why dost thou stand afar off,
O LORD?
Why dost thou hide thyself in times of trouble?

² In arrogance the wicked hotly pursue the poor;
let them be caught in the schemes which they have devised.

³ For the wicked boasts of the desires of his heart, and the man greedy for gain curses and renounces the LORD.

⁴ In the pride of his countenance the wicked does not seek him;
all his thoughts are, "There is no God."

⁵ His ways prosper at all times;
thy judgments are on high, out of his sight;
as for all his foes, he puffs at them.

⁶ He thinks in his heart, "I shall not be moved; throughout all generations I shall not meet adversity."

⁷ His mouth is filled with cursing and deceit and oppression;
under his tongue are mischief and iniquity.

⁸ He sits in ambush in the villages;
in hiding places he murders the innocent.

His eyes stealthily watch for the hapless,

⁹ he lurks in secret like a lion in his covert;
he lurks that he may seize the poor,
he seizes the poor when he draws him into his net.

¹⁰ The hapless is crushed, sinks down, and falls by his might.

¹¹ He thinks in his heart, "God has forgotten, he has hidden his face, he will never see it."

¹² Arise, O LORD; O God, lift up thy hand; forget not the afflicted.

¹³ Why does the wicked renounce God, and say in his heart, "Thou wilt not call to account"?

¹⁴ Thou dost see; yea, thou dost note trouble and vexation, that thou mayst take it into thy hands;

the hapless commits himself to thee;
thou hast been the helper of the fatherless.

¹⁵ Break thou the arm of the wicked and evildoer;
seek out his wickedness till thou find none.

¹⁶ The LORD is king for ever and ever;
the nations shall perish from his land.

¹⁷ O LORD, thou wilt hear the desire of the meek; thou wilt strengthen their heart, thou wilt incline thy ear

¹⁸ to do justice to the fatherless and the oppressed, so that man who is of the earth may strike terror no more.

To the choirmaster. Of David.

11 In the LORD I take refuge;
how can you say to me,
"Flee like a bird to the mountains;"

² for lo, the wicked bend the bow, they have fitted their arrow to the string,
to shoot in the dark at the upright in heart;

³ if the foundations are destroyed, what can the righteous do?"

⁴ The LORD is in his holy temple, the LORD's throne is in heaven;
his eyes behold, his eyelids test,
the children of men.

⁵ The LORD tests the righteous and the wicked, and his soul hates him that loves violence.

⁶ On the wicked he will rain coals of fire and brimstone;
a scorching wind shall be the portion of their cup.

⁷ For the LORD is righteous, he loves righteous deeds;
the upright shall behold his face.

To the choirmaster: according to The Sheminith. A Psalm of David.

12 Help, LORD; for there is no longer any that is godly;

for the faithful have vanished from among the sons of men.

² Every one utters lies to his neighbor; with flattering lips and a double heart they speak.

³ May the LORD cut off all flattering lips, the tongue that makes great boasts,

⁴ those who say, "With our tongue we will prevail, our lips are with us; who is our master?"

⁵ "Because the poor are despoiled, because the needy groan, I will now arise," says the LORD; "I will place him in the safety for which he longs."

⁶ The promises of the LORD are promises that are pure, silver refined in a furnace on the ground, purified seven times.

⁷ Do thou, O LORD, protect us, guard us ever from this generation.

⁸ On every side the wicked prowls, as vileness is exalted among the sons of men.

To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David.

13 How long, O LORD? Wilt thou forget me for ever?
How long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

² How long must I bear pain¹ in my soul, and have sorrow in my heart all the day?

How long shall my enemy be exalted over me?

³ Consider and answer me, O LORD my God;
lighten my eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death;

⁴ lest my enemy say, "I have prevailed over him";
lest my foes rejoice because I am shaken.

⁵ But I have trusted in thy steadfast love;

my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation.

⁶ I will sing to the LORD, because he has dealt bountifully with me.

To the choirmaster. Of David.

14 The fool says in his heart, "There is no God."
They are corrupt, they do abominable deeds,
there is none that does good.

² The LORD looks down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there are any that act wisely, that seek after God.

³ They have all gone astray, they are all alike corrupt;
there is none that does good,
no, not one.

⁴ Have they no knowledge, all the evildoers who eat up my people as they eat bread, and do not call upon the LORD?

⁵ There they shall be in great terror, for God is with the generation of the righteous.

⁶ You would confound the plans of the poor,
but the LORD is his refuge.

⁷ O that deliverance for Israel would come out of Zion!
When the LORD restores the fortunes of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, Israel shall be glad.

A Psalm of David.

15 O LORD, who shall sojourn in thy tent?
Who shall dwell on thy holy hill?

² He who walks blamelessly, and does what is right, and speaks truth from his heart;

³ who does not slander with his tongue, and does no evil to his friend,

nor takes up a reproach against his neighbor;

⁴ in whose eyes a reprobate is despised, but who honors those who fear the LORD;

who swears to his own hurt and does not change;

⁵ who does not put out his money at interest, and does not take a bribe against the innocent.

He who does these things shall never be moved.

A Miktam of David.

16 Preserve me, O God, for in thee I take refuge.

² I say to the LORD, "Thou art my Lord; I have no good apart from thee."^g

³ As for the saints in the land, they are the noble, in whom is all my delight.

⁴ Those who choose another god multiply their sorrows;^h their libations of blood I will not pour out or take their names upon my lips.

⁵ The LORD is my chosen portion and my cup; thou holdest my lot.

⁶ The lines have fallen for me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.

⁷ I bless the LORD who gives me counsel; in the night also my heart instructs me.

⁸ I keep the LORD always before me; because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

⁹ Therefore my heart is glad, and my soul rejoices; my body also dwells secure.

¹⁰ For thou dost not give me up to Sheol, or let thy godly one see the Pit.

¹¹ Thou dost show me the path of life;

in thy presence there is fulness of joy, in thy right hand are pleasures for evermore.

A Prayer of David.

17 Hear a just cause, O LORD; attend to my cry! Give ear to my prayer from lips free of deceit!

² From thee let my vindication come! Let thy eyes see the right!

³ If thou triest my heart, if thou visitest me by night, if thou testest me, thou wilt find no wickedness in me; my mouth does not transgress.

⁴ With regard to the works of men, by the word of thy lips I have avoided the ways of the violent.

⁵ My steps have held fast to thy paths, my feet have not slipped.

⁶ I call upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God; incline thy ear to me, hear my words.

⁷ Wondrously show thy steadfast love, O savior of those who seek refuge from their adversaries at thy right hand.

⁸ Keep me as the apple of the eye; hide me in the shadow of thy wings,

⁹ from the wicked who despoil me, my deadly enemies who surround me.

¹⁰ They close their hearts to pity; with their mouths they speak arrogantly.

¹¹ They track me down; now they surround me; they set their eyes to cast me to the ground.

¹² They are like a lion eager to tear, as a young lion lurking in ambush.

¹³ Arise, O LORD! confront them, overthrow them! Deliver my life from the wicked by thy sword,

^h Cn: The meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain

¹⁴ from men by thy hand, O LORD, from men whose portion in life is of the world.
 May their belly be filled with what thou hast stored up for them; may their children have more than may they leave something over to their babes.

¹⁵ As for me, I shall behold thy face in righteousness;
 when I awake, I shall be satisfied with beholding thy form.

To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD, who addressed the words of this song to the LORD on the day when the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. He said:

18 I love thee, O LORD, my strength.

² The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, my rock, in whom I take refuge,
 my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold.

³ I call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised,
 and I am saved from my enemies.

⁴ The cords of death encompassed me, the torrents of perdition assailed
 me;

⁵ the cords of Sheol entangled me,
 the snares of death confronted me.

⁶ In my distress I called upon the LORD;
 to my God I cried for help.
 From his temple he heard my voice, and my cry to him reached his ears.

⁷ Then the earth reeled and rocked;
 the foundations also of the mountains trembled
 and quaked, because he was angry.

⁸ Smoke went up from his nostrils, and devouring fire from his mouth; glowing coals flamed forth from
 him.

⁹ He bowed the heavens, and came down;
 thick darkness was under his feet.

¹⁰ He rode on a cherub, and flew;

18.1-50: 2 Sam 22.2-51.

he came swiftly upon the wings of the wind.

¹¹ He made darkness his covering around him,
 his canopy thick clouds dark with
 water.

¹² Out of the brightness before him there broke through his clouds hailstones and coals of fire.

¹³ The LORD also thundered in the heavens,
 and the Most High uttered his voice,
 hailstones and coals of fire.

¹⁴ And he sent out his arrows, and scattered them;
 he flashed forth lightnings, and routed them.

¹⁵ Then the channels of the sea were seen,
 and the foundations of the world were laid bare,
 at thy rebuke, O LORD,
 at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

¹⁶ He reached from on high, he took me, he drew me out of many waters.

¹⁷ He delivered me from my strong enemy,
 and from those who hated me;
 for they were too mighty for me.

¹⁸ They came upon me in the day of my calamity;
 but the LORD was my stay.

¹⁹ He brought me forth into a broad place;
 he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

²⁰ The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;
 according to the cleanness of my hands he recompensed me.

²¹ For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

²² For all his ordinances were before
 me,
 and his statutes I did not put away
 from me.

²³ I was blameless before him, and I kept myself from guilt.

²⁴ Therefore the LORD has recompensed me according to my righteousness,
 according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight.

- 25 With the loyal thou dost show thyself loyal;
with the blameless man thou dost show thyself blameless;
- 26 with the pure thou dost show thyself pure;
and with the crooked thou dost show thyself perverse.
- 27 For thou dost deliver a humble people;
but the haughty eyes thou dost bring down.
- 28 Yea, thou dost light my lamp;
the LORD my God lightens my darkness.
- 29 Yea, by thee I can crush a troop;
and by my God I can leap over a wall.
- 30 This God—his way is perfect;
the promise of the LORD proves true;
he is a shield for all those who take refuge in him.
- 31 For who is God, but the LORD?
And who is a rock, except our God?—
- 32 the God who girded me with strength, and made my way safe.
- 33 He made my feet like hinds' feet,
and set me secure on the heights.
- 34 He trains my hands for war,
so that my arms can bend a bow of bronze.
- 35 Thou hast given me the shield of thy salvation, and thy right hand supported me,
and thy help¹ made me great.
- 36 Thou didst give a wide place for my steps under me, and my feet did not slip.
- 37 I pursued my enemies and overtook them;
and did not turn back till they were consumed.
- 38 I thrust them through, so that they were not able to rise;
they fell under my feet.
- 39 For thou didst gird me with strength for the battle;
thou didst make my assailants sink under me.
- 40 Thou didst make my enemies turn their backs to me, and those who hated me I destroyed.
- 41 They cried for help, but there was none to save, they cried to the LORD, but he did not answer them.
- 42 I beat them fine as dust before the wind;
I cast them out like the mire of the streets.
- 43 Thou didst deliver me from strife with the peoples;²
thou didst make me the head of the nations;
people whom I had not known served me.
- 44 As soon as they heard of me they obeyed me; foreigners came cringing to me.
- 45 Foreigners lost heart, and came trembling out of their fastnesses.
- 46 The LORD lives; and blessed be my rock, and exalted be the God of my salvation,
- 47 the God who gave me vengeance and subdued peoples under me;
- 48 who delivered me from my enemies;
yea, thou didst exalt me above my adversaries;
thou didst deliver me from men of violence.
- 49 For this I will extol thee, O LORD,
among the nations,
and sing praises to thy name.
- 50 Great triumphs he gives to his king,
and shows steadfast love to his anointed, to David and his descendants for ever.

To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David.

19 The heavens are telling the glory of God;
and the firmament proclaims his handiwork.

the earth,
and their words to the end of the

In them he has set a tent for the sun, ⁵ which comes forth like a bridegroom leaving his chamber,
and like a strong man runs its course with joy.

⁶ Its rising is from the end of the heavens,
and its circuit to the end of them;
and there is nothing hid from its heat.

⁷ The law of the LORD is perfect, reviving the soul;
the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple;

⁸ the precepts of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart;
the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes;

⁹ the fear of the LORD is clean,
enduring for ever;
the ordinances of the LORD are true, and righteous altogether.

¹⁰ More to be desired are they than gold, even much fine gold;
sweeter also than honey and drippings of the honeycomb.

¹¹ Moreover by them is thy servant warned;
in keeping them there is great reward.

¹² But who can discern his errors?
Clear thou me from hidden faults.

¹³ Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins;

me!
Then I shall be blameless, and innocent of great transgression.

and through the steadfast love of the Most High he shall not be moved.

8 Your hand will find out all your enemies;
your right hand will find out those who hate you.

9 You will make them as a blazing oven
when you appear.
The LORD will swallow them up in his
wrath;
and fire will consume them.

10 You will destroy their offspring from
the earth,
and their children from among the sons of men.

11 If they plan evil against you, if they devise mischief, they will not succeed.

12 For you will put them to flight;
you will aim at their faces with your bows.

13 Be exalted, O LORD, in thy strength!
We will sing and praise thy power.

To the choirmaster: according to The Hind of the Dawn. A Psalm of David.

22 My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
Why art thou so far from helping me, from the words of my groaning?

2 O my God, I cry by day, but thou dost not answer;
and by night, but find no rest.

3 Yet thou art holy,
enthroned on the praises of Israel.

4 In thee our fathers trusted; they trusted, and thou didst deliver
them.

5 To thee they cried, and were saved;
in thee they trusted, and were not disappointed.

6 But I am a worm, and no man; scorned by men, and despised by they make mouths at me, they wag their heads;

8 "He committed his cause to the LORD; let him deliver him, let him rescue him, for he delights

9 Yet thou art he who took me from the

and since my mother bore me thou hast been my God.

11 Be not far from me, for trouble is near
and there is none to help.

strong bulls of Bashan surround
me;

13 they open wide their mouths at me, like a ravening and roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint;
my heart is like wax,
it is melted within my breast;

15 my strength is dried up like a pot-sherd,
and my tongue cleaves to my jaws;
thou dost lay me in the dust of death.

16 Yea, dogs are round about me;
a company of evildoers encircle
me;
they have pierced^m my hands and feet—

17 I can count all my bones—they stare and gloat over me;

18 they divide my garments among them, and for my raiment they cast lots.

19 But thou, O LORD, be not far off!

⁶ Be mindful of thy mercy, O LORD, and of thy steadfast love,
for they have been from of old.

⁷ Remember not the sins of my youth,

May the LORD bless his people with peace!

A Psalm of David. A Song at the dedication of the Temple.

- 30 I will extol thee, O LORD, for thou hast drawn me up, and hast not let my foes rejoice over me.
² O LORD my God, I cried to thee for help,
and thou hast healed me.
³ O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from Sheol, restored me to life from among those gone down to the Pit.ⁱ ⁴ Sing praises to the LORD, O you his saints,
and give thanks to his holy name.
⁵ For his anger is but for a moment, and his favor is for a lifetime.
Weeping may tarry for the night,
but joy comes with the morning.
⁶ As for me, I said in my prosperity,
"I shall never be moved."
⁷ By thy favor, O LORD, thou hadst established me as a strong mountain;
thou didst hide thy face,
I was dismayed.
⁸ To thee, O LORD, I cried; and to the LORD I made supplica-
tion:
⁹ "What profit is there in my death,
if I go down to the Pit?
Will the dust praise thee?
Will it tell of thy faithfulness?"
¹⁰ Hear, O LORD, and be gracious to
me!
O LORD, be thou my helper!"
¹¹ Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing;
thou hast loosed my sackcloth and girded me with gladness, ¹² that my soul^j may praise thee and not be silent.
O LORD my God, I will give thanks to thee for ever.

refuge;

^j Heb that glory

- in thy righteousness deliver me!
- 2 Incline thy ear to me,
rescue me speedily!
Be thou a rock of refuge for me,
a strong fortress to save me!
- 3 Yea, thou art my rock and my fortress;
for thy name's sake lead me and guide me,
- 4 take me out of the net which is hidden for me,
for thou art my refuge.
- 5 Into thy hand I commit my spirit;
thou hast redeemed me, O LORD, faithful God.
- 6 Thou hatest^k those who pay regard to vain idols;
but I trust in the LORD.
- 7 I will rejoice and be glad for thy steadfast love, because thou hast seen my affliction, thou hast taken heed of my adversities,
- 8 and hast not delivered me into the hand of the enemy;
thou hast set my feet in a broad place.
- 9 Be gracious to me, O LORD, for I am in distress;
my eye is wasted from grief,
my soul and my body also.
- 10 For my life is spent with sorrow, and my years with sighing;
my strength fails because of my misery,^l and my bones waste away.
- 11 I am the scorn of all my adversaries,
a horror^m to my neighbors,
an object of dread to my acquaintances;
those who see me in the street flee from me.
- 12 I have passed out of mind like one who is dead;
I have become like a broken vessel.
- 13 Yea, I hear the whispering of many—terror on every side!—
as they scheme together against me, as they plot to take my life.
- 14 But I trust in thee, O LORD,
- I say, "Thou art my God."
15 My times are in thy hand; deliver me from the hand of my enemies and persecutors!
- 16 Let thy face shine on thy servant;
save me in thy steadfast love!
- 17 Let me not be put to shame, O LORD,
for I call on thee;
let the wicked be put to shame,
let them go dumbfounded to Sheol.
- 18 Let the lying lips be dumb, which speak insolently against the righteous in pride and contempt.
- 19 O how abundant is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for those who fear thee,
and wrought for those who take refuge in thee,
in the sight of the sons of men!
- 20 In the covert of thy presence thou hidest them from the plots of men;
thou holdest them safe under thy shelter from the strife of tongues.
- 21 Blessed be the LORD,
for he has wondrously shown his steadfast love to me when I was beset as in a besieged city.
- 22 I had said in my alarm,
"I am driven far" from thy sight."
But thou didst hear my supplications, when I cried to thee for help.
- 23 Love the LORD, all you his saints!
The LORD preserves the faithful, but abundantly requites him who acts haughtily.
- 24 Be strong, and let your heart take courage, all you who wait for the LORD!

the way you should go;
I will counsel you with my eye
upon you.

9 Be not like a horse or a mule, without understanding,
which must be curbed with bit and bridle,
else it will not keep with you.

10 Many are the pangs of the wicked;
but steadfast love surrounds him who trusts in the LORD.

11 Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice, O
righteous,
and shout for joy, all you upright in heart!

33 Rejoice in the LORD, O you
righteous!

Praise befits the upright.

2 Praise the LORD with the lyre, make melody to him with the harp of ten strings!

3 Sing to him a new song, play skilfully on the strings, with loud shouts.

4 For the word of the LORD is upright; and all his work is done in faithfulness.

5 He loves righteousness and justice;
the earth is full of the steadfast love
of the LORD.

6 By the word of the LORD the heavens were made,
and all their host by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathered the waters of the sea as in a bottle;
he put the deeps in storehouses.

8 Let all the earth fear the LORD, let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him!

9 For he spoke, and it came to be;
he commanded, and it stood forth.

10 The LORD brings the counsel of the nations to nought;
he frustrates the plans of the peoples.

11 The counsel of the LORD stands for
ever,
the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

12 Blessed is the nation whose God is
the LORD,
the people whom he has chosen as his heritage!

13 The LORD looks down from heaven, he sees all the sons of men;

14 from where he sits enthroned he looks forth
on all the inhabitants of the earth, 15 he who fashions the hearts of them all,
and observes all their deeds.

16 A king is not saved by his great army;
a warrior is not delivered by his great strength.

17 The war horse is a vain hope for victory,
and by its great might it cannot save.

18 Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear him,
on those who hope in his steadfast
love,

19 that he may deliver their soul from
death,
and keep them alive in famine.

20 Our soul waits for the LORD;
he is our help and shield.

21 Yea, our heart is glad in him, because we trust in his holy name.

 22 Let thy steadfast love, O LORD, be upon us, upon us,
 even as we hope in thee.

A Psalm of David, when he feigned madness before Abimelech, so that he drove him out, and he went away.

34 I will bless the LORD at all times;
 his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul makes its boast in the LORD; let the afflicted hear and be glad.

3 O magnify the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together!

4 I sought the LORD, and he answered me, and delivered me from all my fears.

5 Look to him, and be radiant;
 so your faces shall never be ashamed.

6 This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

7 The angel of the LORD encamps around those who fear him, and delivers them.

8 O taste and see that the LORD is good!
 Happy is the man who takes refuge in him!

9 O fear the LORD, you his saints, for those who fear him have no want!

10 The young lions suffer want and hunger;
 but those who seek the LORD lack no good thing.

11 Come, O sons, listen to me,
 I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

12 What man is there who desires life, and covets many days, that he may enjoy good?

13 Keep your tongue from evil, and your lips from speaking deceit.

14 Depart from evil, and do good;
 seek peace, and pursue it.

15 The eyes of the LORD are toward the righteous, and his ears toward their cry.

 16 The face of the LORD is against evil-doers, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 When the righteous cry for help,
 the LORD hears,
 and delivers them out of all their troubles.

18 The LORD is near to the broken-hearted, and saves the crushed in spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous;
 but the LORD delivers him out of them all.

20 He keeps all his bones; not one of them is broken.

21 Evil shall slay the wicked;
 and those who hate the righteous will be condemned.

22 The LORD redeems the life of his servants; none of those who take refuge in him will be condemned.

A Psalm of David.

35 Contend, O LORD, with those who contend with me; fight against those who fight against me!

2 Take hold of shield and buckler, and rise for my help!

3 Draw the spear and javelin against my pursuers!
 Say to my soul,
 "I am your deliverance!"

4 Let them be put to shame and dishonor who seek after my life!
 Let them be turned back and confounded who devise evil against me!

5 Let them be like chaff before the wind, with the angel of the LORD driving them on!

6 Let their way be dark and slippery, with the angel of the LORD pursuing them!

7 For without cause they hid their net for me;

without cause they dug a pit^s for my life.

⁸ Let ruin come upon them unawares!
And let the net which they hid ensnare them;
let them fall therein to ruin!

⁹ Then my soul shall rejoice in the LORD, exulting in his deliverance.

¹⁰ All my bones shall say,
"O LORD, who is like thee, thou who deliverest the weak from him who is too strong for him, the weak and needy from him who despoils him?"

¹¹ Malicious witnesses rise up;
they ask me of things that I know not.

¹² They requite me evil for good;
my soul is forlorn.

¹³ But I, when they were sick—
I wore sackcloth,
I afflicted myself with fasting.
I prayed with head bowed^t on my bosom,

¹⁴ as though I grieved for my friend or my brother;
I went about as one who laments his mother, bowed down and in mourning.

¹⁵ But at my stumbling they gathered in glee, they gathered together against me;
cripples whom I knew not slandered me without ceasing;

¹⁶ they impiously mocked more and more,^u gnashing at me with their teeth.

¹⁷ How long, O LORD, wilt thou look on?
Rescue me from their ravages,
my life from the lions!

¹⁸ Then I will thank thee in the great congregation;
in the mighty throng I will praise thee.

¹⁹ Let not those rejoice over me who are wrongfully my foes, and let not those wink the eye who hate me without cause.

²⁰ For they do not speak peace, but against those who are quiet in the land they conceive words of deceit.
²¹ They open wide their mouths against me;
they say, "Aha, Aha!
our eyes have seen it!"

²² Thou hast seen, O LORD; be not silent!
O Lord, be not far from me!

²³ Bestir thyself, and awake for my right, for my cause, my God and my Lord!

²⁴ Vindicate me, O LORD, my God, according to thy righteousness;
and let them not rejoice over me!

²⁵ Let them not say to themselves,
"Aha, we have our heart's desire!"
Let them not say, "We have swallowed him up."

²⁶ Let them be put to shame and confusion altogether who rejoice at my calamity!
Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify themselves against me!

²⁷ Let those who desire my vindication shout for joy and be glad,
and say evermore,
"Great is the LORD,
who delights in the welfare of his servant!"

²⁸ Then my tongue shall tell of thy righteousness and of thy praise all the day long.

thy faithfulness to the clouds.
- 6 Thy righteousness is like the mountains of God,
thy judgments are like the great deep;
man and beast thou savest, O LORD.
- 7 How precious is thy steadfast love, and their bows shall be broken.

A Psalm of David.

- 37 Fret not yourself because of the

- 3 Trust in the LORD, and do good;
so you will dwell in the land, and enjoy security.
- 4 Take delight in the LORD, and he will give you the desires of your heart.
- 5 Commit your way to the LORD;
trust in him, and he will act.
- 6 Better is a little that the righteous has than the abundance of many wicked.
- 7 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken;
but the LORD upholds the righteous.
- 8 The LORD knows the days of the blameless,
and their heritage will abide for

- 9 they are not put to shame in evil
times,
in the days of famine they have abundance.

20 But the wicked perish;
the enemies of the LORD are like

21 The wicked borrows, and cannot pay back,
but the righteous is generous and gives;

22 for those blessed by the LORD shall

23 The steps of a man are from the LORD,
and he establishes him in whose
way he delights;

24 though he fall, he shall not be cast for the LORD is the stay of his hand.

25 I have been young, and now am old;
yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken
or his children begging bread.

26 He is ever giving liberally and lend-
ing,
and his children become a blessing.

27 Depart from evil, and do good;
so shall you abide for ever.

28 For the LORD loves justice;
he will not forsake his saints.

The righteous shall be preserved for 32 The wicked watches the righteous, and seeks to slay him.

33 The LORD will not abandon him to or let him be condemned when he is brought to trial.

34 Wait for the LORD, and keep to his 39 The salvation of the righteous is from

the LORD;
he is their refuge in the time of

he delivers them from the wicked, and saves them,
because they take refuge in him.

- 42 As a hart longs for flowing streams, so longs my soul for thee, O God.
- 2 My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. When shall I come and behold the face of God?
- 3 My tears have been my food day and night, while men say to me continually, "Where is your God?"
- 4 These things I remember, as I pour out my soul: how I went with the throng, 41.9: Jn 13.18.

- and led them in procession to the house of God, with glad shouts and songs of thanksgiving, a multitude keeping festival.
- 5 Why are you cast down, O my soul, and why are you disquieted within me? Hope in God; for I shall again praise him, my help ⁶ and my God.
- My soul is cast down within me, therefore I remember thee from the land of Jordan and of Hermon, from Mount Mizar.
- 7 Deep calls to deep at the thunder of thy cataracts; all thy waves and thy billows have gone over me.
- 8 By day the LORD commands his steadfast love; and at night his song is with me, a prayer to the God of my life.

- 9 I say to God, my rock: "Why hast thou forgotten me? Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?"
- 10 As with a deadly wound in my body, my adversaries taunt me, while they say to me continually, "Where is your God?"
- 11 Why are you cast down, O my soul, and why are you disquieted within me? Hope in God; for I shall again praise him, my help and my God.

To the choirmaster. A Maskil of the Sons of Korah.

44 We have heard with our ears, O
God,
our fathers have told us, what deeds thou didst perform in their days,
in the days of old:
 2 thou with thy own hand didst drive out the nations,
but them thou didst plant;
thou didst afflict the peoples,
but them thou didst set free; 3 for not by their own sword did they win the land,
nor did their own arm give them
victory;
but thy right hand, and thy arm,
and the light of thy countenance;
for thou didst delight in them.
 4 Thou art my King and my God, who ordainest^e victories for Jacob.
 5 Through thee we push down our foes;
through thy name we tread down
our assailants.
 6 For not in my bow do I trust, nor can my sword save me.
 7 But thou hast saved us from our
foes,
and hast put to confusion those who hate us.
 8 In God we have boasted continually, and we will give thanks to thy name for ever. Selah
 9 Yet thou hast cast us off and abased
us,
and hast not gone out with our armies.

10 Thou hast made us turn back from
the foe;
and our enemies have gotten spoil.
 11 Thou hast made us like sheep for slaughter,
and hast scattered us among the
nations.
 12 Thou hast sold thy people for a trifle, demanding no high price for them.
 13 Thou hast made us the taunt of our neighbors,
the derision and scorn of those about us.
 14 Thou hast made us a byword among
the nations,
a laughingstock^f among the peoples.
 15 All day long my disgrace is before me, and shame has covered my face, 16 at the words of the taunters and re-vilers,
at the sight of the enemy and the avenger.
 17 All this has come upon us, though we have not forgotten thee,
or been false to thy covenant.
 18 Our heart has not turned back, nor have our steps departed from thy way, 19 that thou shouldst have broken us in the place of jackals,
and covered us with deep darkness.
 20 If we had forgotten the name of our
God,
or spread forth our hands to a strange god,
 21 would not God discover this?
For he knows the secrets of the heart.
 22 Nay, for thy sake we are slain all the day long,
and accounted as sheep for the slaughter.
 23 Rouse thyself! Why sleepest thou, O
Lord?
Awake! Do not cast us off for ever!
 24 Why dost thou hide thy face?
Why dost thou forget our affliction and oppression?
 25 For our soul is bowed down to the dust;
our body cleaves to the ground.
 26 Rise up, come to our help!

A Maskil of the Sons of Korah;
a love song.

45 My heart overflows with a goodly theme;
I address my verses to the king;
my tongue is like the pen of a ready scribe.

² You are the fairest of the sons of men;
grace is poured upon your lips;
therefore God has blessed you for ever.

³ Gird your sword upon your thigh, O mighty one,
in your glory and majesty!

⁴ In your majesty ride forth victoriously for the cause of truth and to defend⁹ the right; let your right hand teach you dread deeds!

⁵ Your arrows are sharp in the heart of the king's enemies;
the peoples fall under you.

⁶ Your divine throne^b endures for ever and ever.
Your royal scepter is a scepter of equity;

⁷ you love righteousness and hate wickedness.
Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows;

⁸ your robes are all fragrant with myrrh and aloes and cassia.
From ivory palaces stringed instruments make you glad;

⁹ daughters of kings are among your ladies of honor; at your right hand stands the queen in gold of Ophir.

¹⁰ Hear, O daughter, consider, and incline your ear;
forget your people and your father's house;

¹¹ and the king will desire your beauty.

Since he is your lord, bow to him;
¹² the peopleⁱ of Tyre will sue your favor with gifts, the richest of the people¹³ with all kinds of wealth.

The princess is decked in her chamber with gold-woven robes;^j ¹⁴ in many-colored robes she is led to the king, with her virgin companions, her escort,^k in her train.

¹⁵ With joy and gladness they are led along as they enter the palace of the king.

¹⁶ Instead of your fathers shall be your sons;
you will make them princes in all the earth.

¹⁷ I will cause your name to be celebrated in all generations;
therefore the peoples will praise you for ever and ever.

- 47 Clap your hands, all peoples!
Shout to God with loud songs of joy!
² For the LORD, the Most High, is

be praised
in the city of our God!
His holy mountain, ² beautiful in elevation,
is the joy of all the earth,

the city of the great King.
³ Within her citadels God has shown himself a sure defense.
⁴ For lo, the kings assembled, they came on together.
⁵ As soon as they saw it, they were astounded,
they were in panic, they took to flight;
⁶ trembling took hold of them there, anguish as of a woman in travail.
⁷ By the east wind thou didst shatter the ships of Tarshish.
⁸ As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the LORD of hosts,
in the city of our God,
which God establishes for ever.

¹⁰ As thy name, O God, so thy praise reaches to the ends of
the earth.
Thy right hand is filled with victory;

Let the daughters of Judah rejoice because of thy judgments!
¹² Walk about Zion, go round about her, number her towers,

To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet came to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

51 Have mercy on me, O God, according to thy steadfast love; according to thy abundant mercy blot out my transgressions.

2 Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin!

5 Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me.

6 Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward being; therefore teach me wisdom in my secret heart.

7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

8 Fill^c me with joy and gladness; let the bones which thou hast broken rejoice.

9 Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities.

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God, and put a new and right^d spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with a willing spirit.

13 Then I will teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners will return to thee.

14 Deliver me from bloodguiltiness,^e O God, thou God of my salvation, and my tongue will sing aloud of thy deliverance.

15 O Lord, open thou my lips, and my mouth shall show forth thy praise.

16 For thou hast no delight in sacrifice; were I to give a burnt offering, thou wouldst not be pleased.

17 The sacrifice acceptable to God^f is a broken spirit; a broken and contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

11 Once God has spoken;

steadfast love.

For thou dost requite a man
according to his work.

A Psalm of David, when he was in the Wilderness of Judah.

63 O God, thou art my God, I seek thee,
my soul thirsts for thee;
my flesh faints for thee,
as in a dry and weary land where no water is.

2 So I have looked upon thee in the sanctuary,
beholding thy power and glory.

3 Because thy steadfast love is better than life,
my lips will praise thee.

4 So I will bless thee as long as I live;
I will lift up my hands and call on thy name.

5 My soul is feasted as with marrow and fat,
and my mouth praises thee with joyful lips,

6 when I think of thee upon my bed,

A Psalm of Asaph.

- 73 Truly God is good to the upright, to those who are pure in heart.¹
- ² But as for me, my feet had almost stumbled, my steps had well nigh slipped.
- ³ For I was envious of the arrogant, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
- ⁴ For they have no pangs;
their bodies are sound and sleek.
- ⁵ They are not in trouble as other men are;
they are not stricken like other men.
- ⁶ Therefore pride is their necklace;
violence covers them as a garment.
- ⁷ Their eyes swell out with fatness, their hearts overflow with follies.
- ⁸ They scoff and speak with malice;
loftily they threaten oppression.
- ⁹ They set their mouths against the heavens, and their tongue struts through the earth.
- ¹⁰ Therefore the people turn and praise them;² and find no fault in them.³
- ¹¹ And they say, "How can God know?
Is there knowledge in the Most High?"
- ¹² Behold, these are the wicked; always at ease, they increase in riches.
- ¹³ All in vain have I kept my heart clean and washed my hands in innocence.
- ¹⁴ For all the day long I have been stricken, and chastened every morning.
- ¹⁵ If I had said, "I will speak thus,"
I would have been untrue to the generation of thy children.
- ¹⁶ But when I thought how to understand this,
it seemed to me a wearisome task,
- ¹⁷ until I went into the sanctuary of God;
then I perceived their end.

- ¹⁸ Truly thou dost set them in slippery places;
thou dost make them fall to ruin.
- ¹⁹ How they are destroyed in a moment,

- ²⁰ They are⁴ like a dream when one awakes,

- ²³ Nevertheless I am continually with thee;
thou dost hold my right hand.
- ²⁴ Thou dost guide me with thy counsel, and afterward thou wilt receive me to glory.⁵
- ²⁵ Whom have I in heaven but thee?
And there is nothing upon earth that I desire besides thee.
- ²⁶ My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the strength⁶ of my heart and my portion for ever.
- ²⁷ For lo, those who are far from thee shall perish;

 5 At the upper entrance they hacked the wooden trellis with axes.²
 6 And then all its carved wood they broke down with hatchets and hammers.
 7 They set thy sanctuary on fire; to the ground they desecrated the dwelling place of thy name.
 8 They said to themselves, "We will utterly subdue them"; they burned all the meeting places of God in the land.
 9 We do not see our signs; there is no longer any prophet, and there is none among us who knows how long.
 10 How long, O God, is the foe to scoff? Is the enemy to revile thy name for ever?
 11 Why dost thou hold back thy hand, why dost thou keep thy right hand in^a thy bosom?
 12 Yet God my King is from of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.
 13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy might; thou didst break the heads of the dragons on the waters.
 14 Thou didst crush the heads of Leviathan, thou didst give him as food^b for the creatures of the wilderness.
 15 Thou didst cleave open springs and brooks; thou didst dry up ever-flowing streams.
 16 Thine is the day, thine also the night; thou hast established the luminaries and the sun.
 17 Thou hast fixed all the bounds of the earth; thou hast made summer and winter.
 18 Remember this, O LORD, how the enemy scoffs, and an impious people reviles thy name.
 19 Do not deliver the soul of thy dove to the wild beasts; do not forget the life of thy poor for ever.

- 20 Have regard for thy^c covenant; for the dark places of the land are full of the habitations of violence.
 21 Let not the downtrodden be put to shame; let the poor and needy praise thy name.
 22 Arise, O God, plead thy cause; remember how the impious scoff at thee all the day!
 23 Do not forget the clamor of thy foes, the uproar of thy adversaries which goes up continually!

 4 I say to the boastful, "Do not boast," and to the wicked, "Do not lift up your horn;
 5 do not lift up your horn on high, or speak with insolent neck."
 6 For not from the east or from the west and not from the wilderness comes lifting up;
 7 but it is God who executes judgment, putting down one and lifting up another.
 8 For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup, with foaming wine, well mixed; and he will pour a draught from it, and all the wicked of the earth shall drain it down to the dregs.
 9 But I will rejoice^e for ever, I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.

⁴ Glorious art thou, more majestic than the everlasting mountains.
⁵ The stouthearted were stripped of their spoil;
they sank into sleep;

⁶ At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both rider and horse lay stunned.
⁷ But thou, terrible art thou!
Who can stand before thee when once thy anger is roused?
⁸ From the heavens thou didst utter judgment;
the earth feared and was still,

⁶ I commune^h with my heart in the night;
I meditate and search my spirit:
⁷ "Will the Lord spurn for ever,
and never again be favorable?
⁸ Has his steadfast love for ever ceased?
Are his promises at an end for all time?
⁹ Has God forgotten to be gracious?
Has he in anger shut up his compassion?" Selah
¹⁰ And I say, "It is my grief that the right hand of the Most High has changed."
¹¹ I will call to mind the deeds of the LORD;

²⁰ Thou didst lead thy people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

A Maskil of Asaph.

78 Give ear, O my people, to my teaching;
incline your ears to the words of my mouth!

² I will open my mouth in a parable;
I will utter dark sayings from of old,

³ things that we have heard and known, that our fathers have told us.

⁴ We will not hide them from their children, but tell to the coming generation the glorious deeds of the LORD, and his might,
and the wonders which he has wrought.

⁵ He established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers to teach to their children;

⁶ that the next generation might know them,
the children yet unborn,
and arise and tell them to their children,

⁷ so that they should set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God,
but keep his commandments;

⁸ and that they should not be like their fathers,
a stubborn and rebellious generation,
a generation whose heart was not steadfast, whose spirit was not faithful to God.

⁹ The E'phraimites, armed with the bow, turned back on the day of battle.

¹⁰ They did not keep God's covenant, but refused to walk according to his law.

¹¹ They forgot what he had done, and the miracles that he had shown them.

¹² In the sight of their fathers he wrought marvels in the land of Egypt, in the fields of Zo'an.

¹³ He divided the sea and let them pass through it, and made the waters stand like a heap.

¹⁴ In the daytime he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a fiery light.

¹⁵ He cleft rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink abundantly as from the deep.

¹⁶ He made streams come out of the rock, and caused waters to flow down like rivers.

¹⁷ Yet they sinned still more against him, rebellious against the Most High in the desert.

¹⁸ They tested God in their heart by demanding the food they craved.

¹⁹ They spoke against God, saying,
"Can God spread a table in the wilderness?"

²⁰ He smote the rock so that water gushed out and streams overflowed.
Can he also give bread,
or provide meat for his people?"

²¹ Therefore, when the LORD heard, he was full of wrath;
a fire was kindled against Jacob,
his anger mounted against Israel;

²² because they had no faith in God, and did not trust his saving power.

²³ Yet he commanded the skies above, and opened the doors of heaven;

²⁴ and he rained down upon them manna to eat, and gave them the grain of heaven.

²⁵ Man ate of the bread of the angels;
he sent them food in abundance.

78.2: Mt 13.35. 78.24: Jn 6.31.

- 27 he rained flesh upon them like dust, winged birds like the sand of the seas;
- 28 he let them fall in the midst of their camp,
all around their habitations.
- 29 And they ate and were well filled,
for he gave them what they craved.
- 30 But before they had sated their crav-
ing,
while the food was still in their mouths,
- 31 the anger of God rose against them and he slew the strongest of them, and laid low the picked men of Israel.
- 32 In spite of all this they still sinned ;
despite his wonders they did not believe.
- 33 So he made their days vanish like a breath,
and their years in terror.
- 34 When he slew them, they sought for
him ;
they repented and sought God earnestly.
- 35 They remembered that God was their rock,
the Most High God their redeemer.
- 36 But they flattered him with their mouths ;
they lied to him with their tongues.
- 37 Their heart was not steadfast toward
him ;
they were not true to his covenant.
- 38 Yet he, being compassionate, forgave their iniquity,
and did not destroy them ;
he restrained his anger often,
and did not stir up all his wrath.
- 39 He remembered that they were but flesh,
a wind that passes and comes not again.
- 40 How often they rebelled against him in the wilderness
and grieved him in the desert !
- 41 They tested him again and again, and provoked the Holy One of Israel.
- 42 They did not keep in mind his power, or the day when he redeemed them from the foe ;
- 43 when he wrought his signs in Egypt, and his miracles in the fields of Zo'an.
- 44 He turned their rivers to blood, so that they could not drink of their streams.
- 45 He sent among them swarms of flies,
which devoured them,
and frogs, which destroyed them.
- 46 He gave their crops to the caterpillar, and the fruit of their labor to the locust.
- 47 He destroyed their vines with hail,
and their sycamores with frost.
- 48 He gave over their cattle to the hail,
and their flocks to thunderbolts.
- 49 He let loose on them his fierce anger, wrath, indignation, and distress,
a company of destroying angels.
- 50 He made a path for his anger ;
he did not spare them from death, but gave their lives over to the plague.
- 51 He smote all the first-born in Egypt, the first issue of their strength in the tents of Ham.
- 52 Then he led forth his people like sheep,
and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
- 53 He led them in safety, so that they were not afraid ;
but the sea overwhelmed their
enemies.
- 54 And he brought them to his holy
land,
to the mountain which his right hand had won.
- 55 He drove out nations before them ;
he apportioned them for a possession and settled the tribes of Israel in their tents.
- 56 Yet they tested and rebelled against
the Most High God,
and did not observe his testi-
monies,
- 57 but turned away and acted treacherously like their fathers ;
they twisted like a deceitful bow.
- 58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places ;
they moved him to jealousy with their graven images.
- 59 When God heard, he was full of
wrath,
and he utterly rejected Israel.
- 60 He forsook his dwelling at Shiloh, the tent where he dwelt among
men,

- 61 and delivered his power to captivity,
his glory to the hand of the foe.
- 62 He gave his people over to the sword, and vented his wrath on his heritage.
- 63 Fire devoured their young men, and their maidens had no marriage song.
- 64 Their priests fell by the sword, and their widows made no lamentation.
- 65 Then the Lord awoke as from sleep, like a strong man shouting because of wine.
- 66 And he put his adversaries to rout;
he put them to everlasting shame.
- 67 He rejected the tent of Joseph,
he did not choose the tribe of E'phraim;
- 68 but he chose the tribe of Judah,
Mount Zion, which he loves.
- 69 He built his sanctuary like the high heavens,
like the earth, which he has founded for ever.
- 70 He chose David his servant,
and took him from the sheepfolds;
- 71 from tending the ewes that had young he brought him to be the shepherd of Jacob his people, of Israel his inheritance.
- 72 With upright heart he tended them,
and guided them with skilful hand.

A Psalm of Asaph.

- 79 O God, the heathen have come into thy inheritance;
they have defiled thy holy temple;
they have laid Jerusalem in ruins.
- 2 They have given the bodies of thy servants to the birds of the air for food, the flesh of thy saints to the beasts
of the earth.
- 3 They have poured out their blood like water
round about Jerusalem,
and there was none to bury them.
- 4 We have become a taunt to our neighbors, mocked and derided by those round about us.
- 5 How long, O LORD? Wilt thou be angry for ever?

- Will thy jealous wrath burn like fire?
- 6 Pour out thy anger on the nations that do not know thee,
and on the kingdoms
that do not call on thy name!
- 7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his habitation.
- 8 Do not remember against us the iniquities of our forefathers;
let thy compassion come speedily to meet us,
for we are brought very low.
- 9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name;
deliver us, and forgive our sins,
for thy name's sake!
- 10 Why should the nations say,
"Where is their God?"
Let the avenging of the outpoured blood of thy servants be known among the nations before our eyes!
- 11 Let the groans of the prisoners come before thee;
according to thy great power preserve those doomed to die!
- 12 Return sevenfold into the bosom of our neighbors
the taunts with which they have taunted thee, O Lord!
- 13 Then we thy people, the flock of thy pasture,
will give thanks to thee for ever;
from generation to generation we will recount thy praise.

- 4 O LORD God of hosts,
how long wilt thou be angry with thy people's prayers?

- 5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, and given them tears to drink in full measure.
- 6 Thou dost make us the scorn^k of our neighbors;
and our enemies laugh among themselves.
- 7 Restore us, O God of hosts;

- 9 Thou didst clear the ground for it;
it took deep root and filled the land.
- 10 The mountains were covered with its shade,
the mighty cedars with its branches;
- 11 it sent out its branches to the sea,
and its shoots to the River.
- 12 Why then hast thou broken down its walls,
so that all who pass along the way pluck its fruit?
- 13 The boar from the forest ravages it,
and all that move in the field feed on it.
- 14 Turn again, O God of hosts!

- 16 They have burned it with fire, they have cut it down;

"I have set the crown^z upon one who is mighty,
I have exalted one chosen from the people.
- 20 I have found David, my servant;
with my holy oil I have anointed him;

² Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting thou art God.

³ Thou turnest ^{us} man back to the dust, and sayest, "Turn back, O children of men!"

⁴ For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, or as a watch in the night.

⁵ Thou dost sweep men away; they are like a dream, like grass which is renewed in the morning;

⁶ in the morning it flourishes and is renewed;
 in the evening it fades and withers.

⁷ For we are consumed by thy anger; by thy wrath we are overwhelmed.

⁸ Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

⁹ For all our days pass away under thy wrath, our years come to an end like a sigh.

¹⁰ The years of our life are threescore and ten, or even by reason of strength fourscore;
 yet their span⁹ is but toil and trouble;
 they are soon gone, and we fly away.

¹¹ Who considers the power of thy anger, and thy wrath according to the fear of thee?

¹² So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom.

¹³ Return, O LORD! How long? Have pity on thy servants!

¹⁴ Satisfy us in the morning with thy steadfast love, that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

¹⁵ Make us glad as many days as thou hast afflicted us, and as many years as we have seen evil.

¹⁶ Let thy work be manifest to thy servants, and thy glorious power to their children.

¹⁷ Let the favor of the LORD our God be upon us, and establish thou the work of our hands upon us, yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

91 He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High, who abides in the shadow of the Almighty,

² will say to the LORD, "My refuge and my fortress;
 my God, in whom I trust."

³ For he will deliver you from the snare of the fowler and from the deadly pestilence;

⁴ he will cover you with his pinions, and under his wings you will find refuge;
 his faithfulness is a shield and buckler.

⁵ You will not fear the terror of the night, nor the arrow that flies by day,

⁶ nor the pestilence that stalks in darkness, nor the destruction that wastes at noonday.

⁷ A thousand may fall at your side, ten thousand at your right hand;
 but it will not come near you.

⁸ You will only look with your eyes and see the recompense of the wicked.

⁹ Because you have made the LORD your refuge,^h

the Most High your habitation, ¹⁰ no evil shall befall you, no scourge come near your tent.

¹¹ For he will give his angels charge of you to guard you in all your ways.

¹² On their hands they will bear you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone.

A Psalm. A Song for the Sabbath.

- 92 It is good to give thanks to the LORD, to sing praises to thy name, O Most High;
2 to declare thy steadfast love in the morning, and thy faithfulness by night, 3 to the music of the lute and the harp, to the melody of the lyre.
4 For thou, O LORD, hast made me glad by thy work;
at the works of thy hands I sing for joy.
- 5 How great are thy works, O LORD!
Thy thoughts are very deep!
6 The dull man cannot know,
the stupid cannot understand this:
7 that, though the wicked sprout like grass and all evildoers flourish, they are doomed to destruction for ever, 8 but thou, O LORD, art on high for ever.
- 9 For, lo, thy enemies, O LORD, for, lo, thy enemies shall perish;
all evildoers shall be scattered.
- 10 But thou hast exalted my horn like that of the wild ox;
thou hast poured over me^f fresh oil.
- 11 My eyes have seen the downfall of my enemies,
my ears have heard the doom of my evil assailants.

- 12 The righteous flourish like the palm tree, and grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
13 They are planted in the house of the LORD, they flourish in the courts of our God.
14 They still bring forth fruit in old age, they are ever full of sap and green, 15 to show that the LORD is upright;
he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

- 93 The LORD reigns; he is robed in majesty;
the LORD is robed, he is girded with strength.
Yea, the world is established; it shall never be moved;
2 thy throne is established from of old;
thou art from everlasting.
- 3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD,
the floods have lifted up their voice,
the floods lift up their roaring.
4 Mightier than the thunders of many waters, mightier than the waves^j of the sea,
the LORD on high is mighty!
- 5 Thy decrees are very sure;
holiness befits thy house,
O LORD, for evermore.

- 94 O LORD, thou God of vengeance, thou God of vengeance, shine forth!
2 Rise up, O judge of the earth; render to the proud their deserts!
3 O LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked exult?
- 4 They pour out their arrogant words,
they boast, all the evildoers.
5 They crush thy people, O LORD, and afflict thy heritage.
6 They slay the widow and the sojourner, and murder the fatherless;
7 and they say, "The LORD does not see;
the God of Jacob does not perceive."

- Fools, when will you be wise?
 9 He who planted the ear, does he not hear?
 He who formed the eye, does he not see?
 10 He who chastens the nations, does he not chastise?
 He who teaches men knowledge, 11 the LORD, knows the thoughts of man, that they are but a breath.
- 12 Blessed is the man whom thou dost chasten, O LORD, and whom thou dost teach out of thy law 13 to give him respite from days of trouble, until a pit is dug for the wicked.
 14 For the LORD will not forsake his people;
 he will not abandon his heritage; 15 for justice will return to the righteous, and all the upright in heart will follow it.
- 16 Who rises up for me against the wicked?
 Who stands up for me against evil-doers?
 17 If the LORD had not been my help, my soul would soon have dwelt in the land of silence.
 18 When I thought, "My foot slips," thy steadfast love, O LORD, held me up.
 19 When the cares of my heart are many,
 thy consolations cheer my soul.
 20 Can wicked rulers be allied with thee, who frame mischief by statute?
 21 They band together against the life of the righteous, and condemn the innocent to death.
 22 But the LORD has become my stronghold, and my God the rock of my refuge.
 23 He will bring back on them their iniquity

- 2 Let us come into his presence with thanksgiving;
 let us make a joyful noise to him with songs of praise!
 3 For the LORD is a great God, and a great King above all gods.
 4 In his hand are the depths of the earth;
 the heights of the mountains are his also.
 5 The sea is his, for he made it;
 for his hands formed the dry land.
 6 O come, let us worship and bow down, let us kneel before the LORD, our Maker!
 7 For he is our God,
 and we are the people of his pasture,
 and the sheep of his hand.

O that today you would hearken to his voice!

- 8 Harden not your hearts, as at Mer'ibah, as on the day at Massah in the wilderness, 9 when your fathers tested me, and put me to the proof, though they had seen my work.
 10 For forty years I loathed that generation and said, "They are a people who err in heart, and they do not regard my ways." 11 Therefore I swore in my anger that they should not enter my rest.

96 O sing to the LORD a new song;
 sing to the LORD, all the earth!

- 2 Sing to the LORD, bless his name;
 tell of his salvation from day to day.
 3 Declare his glory among the nations, his marvelous works among all the peoples!
 4 For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised;
 he is to be feared above all gods.
 5 For all the gods of the peoples are idols;
 but the LORD made the heavens.
 6 Honor and majesty are before him;
 strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.

- 7 Ascribe to the LORD, O families of the peoples,

- ascribe to the LORD glory and strength!
8 Ascribe to the LORD the glory due his name;
bring an offering, and come into his courts!
9 Worship the LORD in holy array;

11 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice;
let the sea roar, and all that fills it;
12 let the field exult, and everything in it!
Then shall all the trees of the wood sing for joy 13 before the LORD, for he comes, for he comes to judge the earth.
He will judge the world with righteousness, and the peoples with his truth.

- 97 The LORD reigns; let the earth rejoice;
let the many coastlands be glad!
2 Clouds and thick darkness are round about him; righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
3 Fire goes before him, and burns up his adversaries round about.
4 His lightnings lighten the world;
the earth sees and trembles.
5 The mountains melt like wax before the LORD, before the Lord of all the earth.
6 The heavens proclaim his righteousness;
and all the peoples behold his glory.
7 All worshipers of images are put to shame, who make their boast in worthless idols;
all gods bow down before him.
8 Zion hears and is glad,
and the daughters of Judah rejoice, because of thy judgments, O God.

- 9 For thou, O LORD, art most high over all the earth;
thou art exalted far above all gods.
10 The LORD loves those who hate evil;^k he preserves the lives of his saints;
he delivers them from the hand of the wicked.
11 Light dawns^l for the righteous, and joy for the upright in heart.
12 Rejoice in the LORD, O you righteous,
and give thanks to his holy name!

A Psalm.

- 98 O sing to the LORD a new song,

2 The LORD has made known his victory, he has revealed his vindication in the sight of the nations.
3 He has remembered his steadfast love and faithfulness to the house of Israel.
All the ends of the earth have seen the victory of our God.
4 Make a joyful noise to the LORD, break forth into joyous song and sing praises!

5 Sing praises to the LORD with the lyre, with the lyre and the sound of melody!
6 With trumpets and the sound of the horn make a joyful noise before the King, the LORD!
7 Let the sea roar, and all that fills it;

to give them their food in due season.
- 28 When thou givest to them, they gather it up;
when thou openest thy hand,
they are filled with good things.
- 29 When thou hidest thy face, they are dismayed;
when thou takest away their breath, they die and return to their dust.
- 30 When thou sendest forth thy Spirit,^s
they are created;
and thou renewest the face of the ground.
- 31 May the glory of the LORD endure for ever,
may the LORD rejoice in his works, 32 who looks on the earth and it trembles,

- who touches the mountains and they smoke!
- 33 I will sing to the LORD as long as I live;
I will sing praise to my God while I have being.
- 34 May my meditation be pleasing to him,
for I rejoice in the LORD.
- 35 Let sinners be consumed from the earth, and let the wicked be no more!
Bless the LORD, O my soul!
Praise the LORD!

- 105 O give thanks to the LORD,
call on his name,
make known his deeds among the peoples!
- 2 Sing to him, sing praises to him, tell of all his wonderful works!
- 3 Glory in his holy name;
let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice!
- 4 Seek the LORD and his strength, seek his presence continually!
- 5 Remember the wonderful works that he has done,
his miracles, and the judgments he uttered,
- 6 O offspring of Abraham his servant,
sons of Jacob, his chosen ones!
- 7 He is the LORD our God;
his judgments are in all the earth.
- 8 He is mindful of his covenant for ever,
of the word that he commanded,
for a thousand generations, 9 the covenant which he made with Abraham, his sworn promise to Isaac, 10 which he confirmed to Jacob as a statute, to Israel as an everlasting covenant, 11 saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan as your portion for an inheritance."
- 12 When they were few in number,
of little account, and sojourners in it, 13 wandering from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people, 14 he allowed no one to oppress them;
he rebuked kings on their account,

^s Or breath

- 15 saying, "Touch not my anointed ones, do my prophets no harm!"
- 16 When he summoned a famine on the land,
and broke every staff of bread, 17 he had sent a man ahead of them,
Joseph, who was sold as a slave.
18 His feet were hurt with fetters, his neck was put in a collar of iron; 19 until what he had said came to pass the word of the LORD tested him.
20 The king sent and released him,
the ruler of the peoples set him free; 21 he made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his possessions, 22 to instruct his princes at his pleasure, and to teach his elders wisdom.
- 23 Then Israel came to Egypt;
Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.
24 And the LORD made his people very fruitful, and made them stronger than their foes.
25 He turned their hearts to hate his people, to deal craftily with his servants.
- 26 He sent Moses his servant,
and Aaron whom he had chosen.
27 They wrought his signs among them,
and miracles in the land of Ham.
28 He sent darkness, and made the land dark;
they rebelled^a against his words.
29 He turned their waters into blood, and caused their fish to die.
30 Their land swarmed with frogs, even in the chambers of their kings.
31 He spoke, and there came swarms of flies, and gnats throughout their country.
32 He gave them hail for rain, and lightning that flashed through their land.
33 He smote their vines and fig trees, and shattered the trees of their country.
34 He spoke, and the locusts came,
and young locusts without number;
- 35 which devoured all the vegetation in their land,
and ate up the fruit of their ground.
36 He smote all the first-born in their land,
the first issue of all their strength.
- 37 Then he led forth Israel with silver and gold, and there was none among his tribes who stumbled.
38 Egypt was glad when they departed, for dread of them had fallen upon it.
39 He spread a cloud for a covering,
and fire to give light by night.
40 They asked, and he brought quails, and gave them bread from heaven in abundance.
41 He opened the rock, and water gushed forth;
it flowed through the desert like a river.
42 For he remembered his holy promise, and Abraham his servant.
- 43 So he led forth his people with joy,
his chosen ones with singing.
44 And he gave them the lands of the nations;
and they took possession of the fruit of the peoples' toil, 45 to the end that they should keep his statutes, and observe his laws.
Praise the LORD!

- Praise the LORD!
O give thanks to the LORD,
for he is good;
for his steadfast love endures for ever!
- 2 Who can utter the mighty doings of the LORD, or show forth all his praise?
- 3 Blessed are they who observe justice, who do righteousness at all times!
- 4 Remember me, O LORD, when thou showest favor to thy people;
help me when thou deliverest them;
- 5 that I may see the prosperity of thy chosen ones, that I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation, that I may glory with thy heritage.

- 6 Both we and our fathers have sinned ;
we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
- 7 Our fathers, when they were in Egypt,
did not consider thy wonderful
works ;
they did not remember the abundance of thy steadfast love, but rebelled against the Most High^c at the Red Sea.
- 8 Yet he saved them for his name's sake,
that he might make known his mighty power.
- 9 He rebuked the Red Sea, and it became dry ;
and he led them through the deep
as through a desert.
- 10 So he saved them from the hand of
the foe,
and delivered them from the power of the enemy.
- 11 And the waters covered their adversaries ;
not one of them was left.
- 12 Then they believed his words ;
they sang his praise.
- 13 But they soon forgot his works ;
they did not wait for his counsel.
- 14 But they had a wanton craving in the wilderness,
and put God to the test in the desert ;
- 15 he gave them what they asked, but sent a wasting disease among
them.
- 16 When men in the camp were jealous of Moses
and Aaron, the holy one of the
LORD,
- 17 the earth opened and swallowed up Dathan,
and covered the company of Abi'- ram.
- 18 Fire also broke out in their company ;
the flame burned up the wicked.
- 19 They made a calf in Horeb and worshiped a molten image.
- 20 They exchanged the glory of God for the image of an ox that eats grass.
- 21 They forgot God, their Savior, who had done great things in Egypt,
- 22 wondrous works in the land of Ham,
and terrible things by the Red Sea.
- 23 Therefore he said he would destroy
them—
had not Moses, his chosen one, stood in the breach before him, to turn away his wrath from destroying them.
- 24 Then they despised the pleasant land, having no faith in his promise.
- 25 They murmured in their tents, and did not obey the voice of the
LORD.
- 26 Therefore he raised his hand and swore to them that he would make them fall in the wilderness,
- 27 and would disperse¹⁰ their descendants among the nations, scattering them over the lands.
- 28 Then they attached themselves to the Ba'al of Pe'or,
and ate sacrifices offered to the dead ;
- 29 they provoked the LORD to anger with their doings,
and a plague broke out among them.
- 30 Then Phin'ehas stood up and interposed,
and the plague was stayed.
- 31 And that has been reckoned to him as righteousness from generation to generation for
ever.
- 32 They angered him at the waters of Mer'ibah,
and it went ill with Moses on their account ;
- 33 for they made his spirit bitter,
and he spoke words that were rash.
- 34 They did not destroy the peoples, as the LORD commanded them,
- 35 but they mingled with the nations and learned to do as they did.
- 36 They served their idols, which became a snare to them.
- 37 They sacrificed their sons and their daughters to the demons ;
- 38 they poured out innocent blood, the blood of their sons and daughters,
whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan ;

- 107 O give thanks to the LORD,
for he is good;
for his steadfast love endures for ever!
- ² Let the redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he has redeemed from trouble

- from the east and from the west, from the north and from the south.
- ⁴ Some wandered in desert wastes, finding no way to a city to dwell in;

their soul fainted within them.
- ⁶ Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
and he delivered them from their distress;
- ⁷ he led them by a straight way,

- ⁸ Let them thank the LORD for his steadfast love,

- 21 Let them thank the LORD for his steadfast love,
for his wonderful works to the sons of men!
- 22 And let them offer sacrifices of thanksgiving, and tell of his deeds in songs of joy!
- 23 Some went down to the sea in ships, doing business on the great waters;
- 24 they saw the deeds of the LORD,
his wondrous works in the deep.
- 25 For he commanded, and raised the stormy wind, which lifted up the waves of the sea.
- 26 They mounted up to heaven, they went down to the depths;
their courage melted away in their evil plight;
- 27 they reeled and staggered like drunken men,
and were at their wits' end.
- 28 Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
and he delivered them from their distress;
- 29 he made the storm be still,
and the waves of the sea were hushed.
- 30 Then they were glad because they had quiet, and he brought them to their desired haven.
- 31 Let them thank the LORD for his steadfast love,
for his wonderful works to the sons of men!
- 32 Let them extol him in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.
- 33 He turns rivers into a desert, springs of water into thirsty ground,
- 34 a fruitful land into a salty waste, because of the wickedness of its inhabitants.
- 35 He turns a desert into pools of water, a parched land into springs of water.
- 36 And there he lets the hungry dwell, and they establish a city to live in;
- 37 they sow fields, and plant vineyards,

- and get a fruitful yield.
- 38 By his blessing they multiply greatly;
and he does not let their cattle decrease.
- 39 When they are diminished and brought low through oppression, trouble, and sorrow,
- 40 he pours contempt upon princes and makes them wander in trackless wastes;
- 41 but he raises up the needy out of affliction,
and makes their families like flocks.
- 42 The upright see it and are glad;
and all wickedness stops its mouth.
- 43 Whoever is wise, let him give heed to these things;
let men consider the steadfast love of the LORD.

A Song. A Psalm of David.

I will sing and make melody!
Awake, my soul!
- 2 Awake, O harp and lyre!
I will awake the dawn!
- 3 I will give thanks to thee, O LORD,
among the peoples,
I will sing praises to thee among the nations.
- 4 For thy steadfast love is great above the heavens,
thy faithfulness reaches to the clouds.
- 5 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens!
Let thy glory be over all the earth!
- 6 That thy beloved may be delivered, give help by thy right hand, and answer me!
- 7 God has promised in his sanctuary:
"With exultation I will divide up Shechem, and portion out the Vale of Succoth.
- 8 Gilead is mine; Manas'seh is mine;
E'phraim is my helmet;
Judah my scepter.
- 9 Moab is my washbasin;

^h Or by his holiness

upon Edom I cast my shoe;
over Philistia I shout in triumph.”

- 10 Who will bring me to the fortified city?
Who will lead me to Edom?
11 Hast thou not rejected us, O God?
Thou dost not go forth, O God, with our armies.
12 O grant us help against the foe,
for vain is the help of man!
13 With God we shall do valiantly;
it is he who will tread down our foes.

To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David.

109 Be not silent, O God of my praise!

- 2 For wicked and deceitful mouths are opened against me, speaking against me with lying tongues.
3 They beset me with words of hate, and attack me without cause.

13 May his posterity be cut off;
may his name be blotted out in the second generation!
14 May the iniquity of his fathers be remembered before the LORD, and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out!

- 15 Let them be before the LORD continually; and may his^c memory be cut off from the earth!
16 For he did not remember to show kindness, but pursued the poor and needy and the brokenhearted to their death.

He did not like blessing; may it be far from him!
18 He clothed himself with cursing as his coat, may it soak into his body like water, like oil into his bones!
19 May it be like a garment which he wraps round him, like a belt with which he daily girds himself!
20 May this be the reward of my accusers from the LORD, of those who speak evil against my life!
21 But thou, O GOD my Lord, deal on my behalf for thy name's sake;
because thy steadfast love is good,
deliver me!
22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is stricken within me.
23 I am gone, like a shadow at evening;
I am shaken off like a locust.
24 My knees are weak through fasting;
my body has become gaunt.
25 I am an object of scorn to my accusers;
when they see me, they wag their heads.
26 Help me, O LORD my God!

"The right hand of the LORD does
valiantly,

16 the right hand of the LORD is exalted,
the right hand of the LORD does
valiantly!"

17 I shall not die, but I shall live, and recount the deeds of the LORD.

18 The LORD has chastened me sorely, but he has not given me over to death.

19 Open to me the gates of righteousness,
that I may enter through them and give thanks to the LORD.

20 This is the gate of the LORD;
the righteous shall enter through
it.

21 I thank thee that thou hast answered
me
and hast become my salvation.

22 The stone which the builders rejected
has become the head of the corner.

23 This is the LORD's doing;
it is marvelous in our eyes.

24 This is the day which the LORD has made;
let us rejoice and be glad in it.

25 Save us, we beseech thee, O LORD!
O LORD, we beseech thee, give us success!

26 Blessed be he who enters in the name
of the LORD!
We bless you from the house of the
LORD.

27 The LORD is God,
and he has given us light.
Bind the festal procession with branches,
up to the horns of the altar!

28 Thou art my God, and I will give thanks to thee;
thou art my God, I will extol thee.

29 O give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;

for his steadfast love endures for
ever!

119 Blessed are those whose way is blameless,

who walk in the law of the LORD!

2 Blessed are those who keep his testimonies,
who seek him with their whole
heart,

3 who also do no wrong,
but walk in his ways!

4 Thou hast commanded thy precepts to be kept diligently.

5 O that my ways may be steadfast in keeping thy statutes!

6 Then I shall not be put to shame, having my eyes fixed on all thy commandments.

7 I will praise thee with an upright
heart,
when I learn thy righteous ordinances.

8 I will observe thy statutes;
O forsake me not utterly!

9 How can a young man keep his way pure?

By guarding it according to thy word.

10 With my whole heart I seek thee; let me not wander from thy commandments!

11 I have laid up thy word in my heart, that I might not sin against thee.

12 Blessed be thou, O LORD;
teach me thy statutes!

13 With my lips I declare all the ordinances of thy mouth.

14 In the way of thy testimonies I delight
as much as in all riches.

15 I will meditate on thy precepts, and fix my eyes on thy ways.

16 I will delight in thy statutes;
I will not forget thy word.

17 Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may live and observe thy
word.

18 Open my eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

19 I am a sojourner on earth; hide not thy commandments from
me!

20 My soul is consumed with longing for thy ordinances at all times.

- 21 Thou dost rebuke the insolent, accursed ones, who wander from thy commandments;
- 22 Take away from me their scorn and contempt, for I have kept thy testimonies.
- 23 Even though princes sit plotting against me,
thy servant will meditate on thy statutes.
- 24 Thy testimonies are my delight,
they are my counselors.
- 25 My soul cleaves to the dust;
revive me according to thy word!
- 26 When I told of my ways, thou didst answer me;
teach me thy statutes!
- 27 Make me understand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate on thy wondrous works.
- 28 My soul melts away for sorrow;
strengthen me according to thy word!
- 29 Put false ways far from me;
and graciously teach me thy law!
- 30 I have chosen the way of faithfulness,
I set thy ordinances before me.
- 31 I cleave to thy testimonies, O LORD;
let me not be put to shame!
- 32 I will run in the way of thy commandments when thou enlargest my understanding!
- 33 Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes;
and I will keep it to the end.
- 34 Give me understanding, that I may keep thy law and observe it with my whole heart.
- 35 Lead me in the path of thy commandments, for I delight in it.
- 36 Incline my heart to thy testimonies,
and not to gain!
- 37 Turn my eyes from looking at vanities;
and give me life in thy ways.
- 38 Confirm to thy servant thy promise, which is for those who fear thee.
- 39 Turn away the reproach which I dread;
for thy ordinances are good.
- 40 Behold, I long for thy precepts;
in thy righteousness give me life!
- 41 Let thy steadfast love come to me,
O LORD,
thy salvation according to thy promise;
- 42 then shall I have an answer for those who taunt me, for I trust in thy word.
- 43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth, for my hope is in thy ordinances.
- 44 I will keep thy law continually,
for ever and ever;
- 45 and I shall walk at liberty,
for I have sought thy precepts.
- 46 I will also speak of thy testimonies before kings, and shall not be put to shame;
- 47 for I find my delight in thy commandments, which I love.
- 48 I revere thy commandments, which I love, and I will meditate on thy statutes.
- 49 Remember thy word to thy servant,
in which thou hast made me hope.
- 50 This is my comfort in my affliction that thy promise gives me life.
- 51 Godless men utterly deride me,
but I do not turn away from thy law.
- 52 When I think of thy ordinances from of old,
I take comfort, O LORD.
- 53 Hot indignation seizes me because of the wicked, who forsake thy law.
- 54 Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.
- 55 I remember thy name in the night, O LORD, and keep thy law.
- 56 This blessing has fallen to me, that I have kept thy precepts.
- 57 The LORD is my portion;
I promise to keep thy words.
- 58 I entreat thy favor with all my heart;
be gracious to me according to thy promise.
- 59 When I think of thy ways,
I turn my feet to thy testimonies;
- 60 I hasten and do not delay to keep thy commandments.
- 61 Though the cords of the wicked ensnare me,
I do not forget thy law.
- 62 At midnight I rise to praise thee, because of thy righteous ordinances.

- 63 I am a companion of all who fear thee, of those who keep thy precepts.
- 64 The earth, O LORD, is full of thy
steadfast love;
teach me thy statutes!
- 65 Thou hast dealt well with thy servant,
O LORD, according to thy word.
- 66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge,
for I believe in thy commandments.
- 67 Before I was afflicted I went astray;
but now I keep thy word.
- 68 Thou art good and doest good;
teach me thy statutes.
- 69 The godless besmear me with lies, but with my whole heart I keep thy precepts;
- 70 their heart is gross like fat,
but I delight in thy law.
- 71 It is good for me that I was afflicted, that I might learn thy statutes.
- 72 The law of thy mouth is better to me than thousands of gold and silver pieces.
- 73 Thy hands have made and fashioned
me;
give me understanding that I may learn thy commandments.
- 74 Those who fear thee shall see me and rejoice,
because I have hoped in thy word.
- 75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are right,
and that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.
- 76 Let thy steadfast love be ready to comfort me
according to thy promise to thy servant.
- 77 Let thy mercy come to me, that I may live;
for thy law is my delight.
- 78 Let the godless be put to shame, because they have subverted me with guile;
as for me, I will meditate on thy precepts.
- 79 Let those who fear thee turn to me, that they may know thy testimonies.
- 80 May my heart be blameless in thy statutes,
that I may not be put to shame!
- 81 My soul languishes for thy salvation;
I hope in thy word.
- 82 My eyes fail with watching for thy promise;
I ask, "When wilt thou comfort
me?"
- 83 For I have become like a wineskin in the smoke,
yet I have not forgotten thy
statutes.
- 84 How long must thy servant endure?
When wilt thou judge those who persecute me?
- 85 Godless men have dug pitfalls for
me,
men who do not conform to thy
law.
- 86 All thy commandments are sure;
they persecute me with falsehood;
help me!
- 87 They have almost made an end of me
on earth;
but I have not forsaken thy precepts.
- 88 In thy steadfast love spare my life, that I may keep the testimonies of thy mouth.
- 89 For ever, O LORD, thy word is firmly fixed in the heavens.
- 90 Thy faithfulness endures to all generations;
thou hast established the earth,
and it stands fast.
- 91 By thy appointment they stand this
day;
for all things are thy servants.
- 92 If thy law had not been my delight,
I should have perished in my affliction.
- 93 I will never forget thy precepts;
for by them thou hast given me life.
- 94 I am thine, save me;
for I have sought thy precepts.
- 95 The wicked lie in wait to destroy me;
but I consider thy testimonies.
- 96 I have seen a limit to all perfection, but thy commandment is exceedingly broad.
- 97 Oh, how I love thy law!
It is my meditation all the day.
- 98 Thy commandment makes me wiser than my enemies,
for it is ever with me.
- 99 I have more understanding than all my teachers,
for thy testimonies are my meditation.
- 100 I understand more than the aged,

for I keep thy precepts.

101 I hold back my feet from every evil way, in order to keep thy word.

102 I do not turn aside from thy ordinances, for thou hast taught me.

103 How sweet are thy words to my taste, sweeter than honey to my mouth!

104 Through thy precepts I get understanding;
therefore I hate every false way.

105 Thy word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path.

106 I have sworn an oath and confirmed it, to observe thy righteous ordinances.

107 I am sorely afflicted; give me life, O LORD, according to thy word!

108 Accept my offerings of praise, O LORD, and teach me thy ordinances.

109 I hold my life in my hand continually, but I do not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me, but I do not stray from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies are my heritage for ever;
yea, they are the joy of my heart.

112 I incline my heart to perform thy statutes for ever, to the end.

113 I hate double-minded men,
but I love thy law.

114 Thou art my hiding place and my shield;
I hope in thy word.

115 Depart from me, you evildoers, that I may keep the commandments of my God.

116 Uphold me according to thy promise, that I may live,
and let me not be put to shame in my hope!

117 Hold me up, that I may be safe and have regard for thy statutes continually!

118 Thou dost spurn all who go astray from thy statutes;
yea, their cunning is in vain.

119 All the wicked of the earth thou dost count as dust;
therefore I love thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembles for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgments.

121 I have done what is just and right;
do not leave me to my oppressors.

122 Be surety for thy servant for good;
let not the godless oppress me.

123 My eyes fail with watching for thy salvation, and for the fulfilment of thy righteous promise.

124 Deal with thy servant according to thy steadfast love,
and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy servant; give me understanding, that I may know thy testimonies!

126 It is time for the LORD to act, for thy law has been broken.

127 Therefore I love thy commandments above gold, above fine gold.

128 Therefore I direct my steps by all thy precepts;^k
I hate every false way.

129 Thy testimonies are wonderful; therefore my soul keeps them.

130 The unfolding of thy words gives light;
it imparts understanding to the simple.

131 With open mouth I pant, because I long for thy commandments.

132 Turn to me and be gracious to me, as is thy wont toward those who love thy name.

133 Keep steady my steps according to thy promise, and let no iniquity get dominion over me.

134 Redeem me from man's oppression, that I may keep thy precepts.

135 Make thy face shine upon thy servant,
and teach me thy statutes.

136 My eyes shed streams of tears, because men do not keep thy law.

137 Righteous art thou, O LORD, and right are thy judgments.

138 Thou hast appointed thy testimonies in righteousness and in all faithfulness.

^k Gk Jerome: Heb uncertain

- 139 My zeal consumes me, because my foes forget thy words.
- 140 Thy promise is well tried,
and thy servant loves it.
- 141 I am small and despised,
yet I do not forget thy precepts.
- 142 Thy righteousness is righteous for
ever,
and thy law is true.
- 143 Trouble and anguish have come upon me,
but thy commandments are my delight.
- 144 Thy testimonies are righteous for
ever;
give me understanding that I may live.
- 145 With my whole heart I cry;
answer me, O LORD!
I will keep thy statutes.
- 146 I cry to thee; save me, that I may observe thy testimonies.
- 147 I rise before dawn and cry for help;
I hope in thy words.
- 148 My eyes are awake before the watches of the night, that I may meditate upon thy
promise.
- 149 Hear my voice in thy steadfast love; O LORD, in thy justice preserve my
life.
- 150 They draw near who persecute me with evil purpose;
they are far from thy law.
- 151 But thou art near, O LORD, and all thy commandments are true.
- 152 Long have I known from thy testimonies
that thou hast founded them for
ever.
- 153 Look on my affliction and deliver
me,
for I do not forget thy law.
- 154 Plead my cause and redeem me;
give me life according to thy promise!
- 155 Salvation is far from the wicked,
for they do not seek thy statutes.
- 156 Great is thy mercy, O LORD; give me life according to thy justice.
- 157 Many are my persecutors and my adversaries,
but I do not swerve from thy testimonies.
- 158 I look at the faithless with disgust, because they do not keep thy commands.
- 159 Consider how I love thy precepts!
Preserve my life according to thy steadfast love.
- 160 The sum of thy word is truth;
and every one of thy righteous ordinances endures for ever.
- 161 Princes persecute me without cause, but my heart stands in awe of thy words.
- 162 I rejoice at thy word like one who finds great spoil.
- 163 I hate and abhor falsehood,
but I love thy law.
- 164 Seven times a day I praise thee for thy righteous ordinances.
- 165 Great peace have those who love thy
law;
nothing can make them stumble.
- 166 I hope for thy salvation, O LORD, and I do thy commandments.
- 167 My soul keeps thy testimonies;
I love them exceedingly.
- 168 I keep thy precepts and testimonies,
for all my ways are before thee.
- 169 Let my cry come before thee, O
LORD;
give me understanding according to thy word!
- 170 Let my supplication come before
thee;
deliver me according to thy word.
- 171 My lips will pour forth praise that thou dost teach me thy statutes.
- 172 My tongue will sing of thy word, for all thy commandments are right.
- 173 Let thy hand be ready to help me,
for I have chosen thy precepts.
- 174 I long for thy salvation, O LORD, and thy law is my delight.
- 175 Let me live, that I may praise thee, and let thy ordinances help me.
- 176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep;
seek thy servant,
for I do not forget thy commandments.

A Song of Ascents.

120 In my distress I cry to the
LORD,
that he may answer me:
2 "Deliver me, O LORD,

from lying lips,
from a deceitful tongue.”

- 3 What shall be given to you?
And what more shall be done to
you,
you deceitful tongue?
- 4 A warrior's sharp arrows, with glowing coals of the broom tree!
- 5 Woe is me, that I sojourn in Meshech, that I dwell among the tents of Kedar!
- 6 Too long have I had my dwelling among those who hate peace.
- 7 I am for peace;
but when I speak,
they are for war!

A Song of Ascents.

121 I lift up my eyes to the hills.
From whence does my help
come?

- 2 My help comes from the LORD,
who made heaven and earth.
- 3 He will not let your foot be moved,
he who keeps you will not slumber.
- 4 Behold, he who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.
- 5 The LORD is your keeper;
the LORD is your shade
on your right hand.
- 6 The sun shall not smite you by day,
nor the moon by night.
- 7 The LORD will keep you from all evil;
he will keep your life.
- 8 The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and for ever-
more.

A Song of Ascents. Of David.

- 122 I was glad when they said to
me,
“Let us go to the house of the LORD!”
- 2 Our feet have been standing within your gates, O Jerusalem!
- 3 Jerusalem, built as a city which is bound firmly together,

- 4 to which the tribes go up,
the tribes of the LORD,
as was decreed for Israel, to give thanks to the name of the
LORD.
- 5 There thrones for judgment were set,
the thrones of the house of David.
- 6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem!
“May they prosper who love you!
- 7 Peace be within your walls, and security within your towers!”
- 8 For my brethren and companions' sake
I will say, “Peace be within you!”
- 9 For the sake of the house of the LORD
our God,
I will seek your good.

A Song of Ascents.

123 To thee I lift up my eyes, O thou who art enthroned in the heavens!

- 2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master, as the eyes of a maid
to the hand of her mistress, so our eyes look to the LORD our God, till he have mercy upon us.
- 3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us,
for we have had more than enough of contempt.
- 4 Too long our soul has been sated with the scorn of those who are at ease,
the contempt of the proud.

A Song of Ascents. Of David.

- 124 If it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
let Israel now say—
- 2 if it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
when men rose up against us, 3 then they would have swallowed us up alive,
when their anger was kindled against us;
- 4 then the flood would have swept us
away,
the torrent would have gone over
us;
- 5 then over us would have gone
the raging waters.

- 6 Blessed be the LORD,
who has not given us
as prey to their teeth!
7 We have escaped as a bird from the snare of the fowlers;
the snare is broken,
and we have escaped!

- 8 Our help is in the name of the LORD,
who made heaven and earth.

A Song of Ascents.

125 Those who trust in the LORD are like Mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abides
for ever.

- 2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem,
so the LORD is round about his
people,
from this time forth and for ever-
more.

- 3 For the scepter of wickedness shall not rest upon the land allotted to the
righteous,
lest the righteous put forth their hands to do wrong.

- 4 Do good, O LORD, to those who are
good,
and to those who are upright in their hearts!

- 5 But those who turn aside upon their crooked ways
the LORD will lead away with evil-doers!
Peace be in Israel!

A Song of Ascents.

126 When the LORD restored the fortunes of Zion,¹
we were like those who dream.

- 2 Then our mouth was filled with laughter,
and our tongue with shouts of joy;
then they said among the nations,
"The LORD has done great things for them."

- 3 The LORD has done great things for
us;
we are glad.

- 4 Restore our fortunes, O LORD,
like the watercourses in the Negeb!

¹ Or brought back those who returned to Zion ^m Another reading is so

- 5 May those who sow in tears reap with shouts of joy!
6 He that goes forth weeping, bearing the seed for sowing, shall come home with shouts of
joy,
bringing his sheaves with him.

A Song of Ascents. Of Solomon.

127 Unless the LORD builds the house,
those who build it labor in vain.

- Unless the LORD watches over the city,
the watchman stays awake in vain.
2 It is in vain that you rise up early and go late to rest,
eating the bread of anxious toil;
for^m he gives to his beloved sleep.

- 3 Lo, sons are a heritage from the
LORD,
the fruit of the womb a reward.

- 4 Like arrows in the hand of a warrior are the sons of one's youth.

- 5 Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them!
He shall not be put to shame when he speaks with his enemies in the gate.

A Song of Ascents.

128 Blessed is every one who fears the LORD,
who walks in his ways!

- 2 You shall eat the fruit of the labor of your hands;
you shall be happy, and it shall be well with you.

- 3 Your wife will be like a fruitful vine within your house;
your children will be like olive shoots around your table.

- 4 Lo, thus shall the man be blessed who fears the LORD.

- 5 The LORD bless you from Zion!
May you see the prosperity of Jerusalem

- all the days of your life!
6 May you see your children's children!

Peace be upon Israel!

A Song of Ascents.

A Song of Ascents. Of David.

129 "Sorely have they afflicted me from my youth,"

let Israel now say—

² "Sorely have they afflicted me from my youth, yet they have not prevailed against me.

³ The plowers plowed upon my back; they made long their furrows."

⁴ The LORD is righteous; he has cut the cords of the wicked.

⁵ May all who hate Zion be put to shame and turned backward!

⁶ Let them be like the grass on the housetops, which withers before it grows up,

⁷ with which the reaper does not fill his hand or the binder of sheaves his bosom,

⁸ while those who pass by do not say, "The blessing of the LORD be upon you!

We bless you in the name of the LORD!"

A Song of Ascents.

130 Out of the depths I cry to thee, O LORD!

² Lord, hear my voice!

Let thy ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications!

³ If thou, O LORD, shouldst mark iniquities,

Lord, who could stand?

⁴ But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

⁵ I wait for the LORD, my soul waits, and in his word I hope;

⁶ my soul waits for the LORD more than watchmen for the morning, more than watchmen for the morning.

⁷ O Israel, hope in the LORD!

For with the LORD there is steadfast love, and with him is plenteous redemption.

⁸ And he will redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

131 O LORD, my heart is not lifted up, my eyes are not raised too high; I do not occupy myself with things too great and too marvelous for me.

² But I have calmed and quieted my soul, like a child quieted at its mother's breast;

like a child that is quieted is my soul.

³ O Israel, hope in the LORD from this time forth and for evermore.

A Song of Ascents.

132 Remember, O LORD, in David's favor,

all the hardships he endured;

² how he swore to the LORD and vowed to the Mighty One of Jacob,

³ "I will not enter my house or get into my bed;

⁴ I will not give sleep to my eyes or slumber to my eyelids,

⁵ until I find a place for the LORD, a dwelling place for the Mighty One of Jacob."

⁶ Lo, we heard of it in Eph'rathah, we found it in the fields of Ja'ar.

⁷ "Let us go to his dwelling place; let us worship at his footstool!"

⁸ Arise, O LORD, and go to thy resting place, thou and the ark of thy might.

⁹ Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy saints shout for joy.

¹⁰ For thy servant David's sake do not turn away the face of thy anointed one.

¹¹ The LORD swore to David a sure oath from which he will not turn back:

"One of the sons of your body I will set on your throne.

¹² If your sons keep my covenant and my testimonies which I shall teach them, their sons also for ever shall sit upon your throne."

- 13 For the LORD has chosen Zion;
 he has desired it for his habitation:
 14 "This is my resting place for ever; here I will dwell, for I have desired
 it.
 15 I will abundantly bless her provisions;
 I will satisfy her poor with bread.
 16 Her priests I will clothe with salvation,
 and her saints will shout for joy.
 17 There I will make a horn to sprout for David;
 I have prepared a lamp for my anointed.
 18 His enemies I will clothe with shame, but upon himself his crown will shed its luster."

A Song of Ascents.

- 133 Behold, how good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell in unity!
 2 It is like the precious oil upon the head,
 running down upon the beard,
 upon the beard of Aaron, running down on the collar of his robes!
 3 It is like the dew of Hermon, which falls on the mountains of Zion!
 For there the LORD has commanded the blessing,
 life for evermore.

A Song of Ascents.

- 134 Come, bless the LORD,
 all you servants of the LORD, who stand by night in the house of
 the LORD!
 2 Lift up your hands to the holy place,
 and bless the LORD!
 3 May the LORD bless you from Zion, he who made heaven and earth!

- 135 Praise the LORD.
 Praise the name of the LORD,
 give praise, O servants of the LORD, 2 you that stand in the house of the
 LORD,
 in the courts of the house of our
 God!

- 3 Praise the LORD, for the LORD is
 good;
 sing to his name, for he is gracious!
 4 For the LORD has chosen Jacob for himself,
 Israel as his own possession.
 5 For I know that the LORD is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.
 6 Whatever the LORD pleases he does,
 in heaven and on earth,
 in the seas and all deeps.
 7 He it is who makes the clouds rise at the end of the earth,
 who makes lightnings for the rain and brings forth the wind from his storehouses.

- 8 He it was who smote the first-born of Egypt,
 both of man and of beast;
 9 who in thy midst, O Egypt, sent signs and wonders against Pharaoh and all his servants;
 10 who smote many nations and slew mighty kings, 11 Sihon, king of the Amorites,
 and Og, king of Bashan,
 and all the kingdoms of Canaan, 12 and gave their land as a heritage,
 a heritage to his people Israel.
 13 Thy name, O LORD, endures for ever, thy renown, O LORD, throughout all ages.
 14 For the LORD will vindicate his
 people,
 and have compassion on his servants.
 15 The idols of the nations are silver and gold,
 the work of men's hands.
 16 They have mouths, but they speak not,
 they have eyes, but they see not, 17 they have ears, but they hear not, nor is there any breath in their mouths.
 18 Like them be those who make
 them!—
 yea, every one who trusts in them!
 19 O house of Israel, bless the LORD!
 O house of Aaron, bless the LORD!

- 20 O house of Levi, bless the LORD!
You that fear the LORD, bless the
LORD!
21 Blessed be the LORD from Zion, he who dwells in Jerusalem!
Praise the LORD!

136 O give thanks to the LORD,
for he is good,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever.

2 O give thanks to the God of gods,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever.

3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

4 to him who alone does great wonders,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

5 to him who by understanding made the heavens,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

6 to him who spread out the earth upon the waters,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

7 to him who made the great lights,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

8 the sun to rule over the day,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

9 the moon and stars to rule over the
night,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

10 to him who smote the first-born of Egypt,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

11 and brought Israel out from among
them,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

12 with a strong hand and an outstretched arm,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

13 to him who divided the Red Sea in sunder,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

14 and made Israel pass through the midst of it,

for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

15 but overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

16 to him who led his people through the wilderness,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

17 to him who smote great kings,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

18 and slew famous kings,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

19 Sihon, king of the Amorites,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

20 and Og, king of Bashan,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

21 and gave their land as a heritage,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

22 a heritage to Israel his servant,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever.

23 It is he who remembered us in our low estate,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

24 and rescued us from our foes,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever;

25 he who gives food to all flesh,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever.

26 O give thanks to the God of heaven,
for his steadfast love endures for
ever.

137 By the waters^o of Babylon, there we sat down and wept, when we remembered Zion.

2 On the willows^p there we hung up our lyres.

3 For there our captors required of us songs,
and our tormentors, mirth, saying,
"Sing us one of the songs of Zion!"

4 How shall we sing the LORD's song in a foreign land?

5 If I forget you, O Jerusalem,

^o Heb streams ^p Or poplars

 6 Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth,

7 Remember, O LORD, against the E'domites
 the day of Jerusalem,
 how they said, "Raise it, raise it!
 Down to its foundations!"

8 O daughter of Babylon, you devastator!⁴ Happy shall he be who requites
 you
 with what you have done to us!
 9 Happy shall he be who takes your little ones
 and dashes them against the rock!

A Psalm of David.

138 I give thee thanks, O LORD, with my whole heart;

before the gods I sing thy praise;
 2 I bow down toward thy holy temple and give thanks to thy name for thy steadfast love and thy faithfulness;
 for thou hast exalted above everything
 thy name and thy word.⁷

3 On the day I called, thou didst answer me,
 my strength of soul thou didst increase.⁸

4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O LORD,
 for they have heard the words of
 thy mouth;

5 and they shall sing of the ways of the LORD,
 for great is the glory of the LORD.

6 For though the LORD is high, he regards the lowly;
 but the haughty he knows from afar.

7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble,
 thou dost preserve my life;
 thou dost stretch out thy hand against the wrath of my enemies, and thy right hand delivers me.

8 The LORD will fulfil his purpose for
 me;
 thy steadfast love, O LORD, endures for ever.
 Do not forsake the work of thy hands.

To the choir-master. A Psalm of David.

139 O LORD, thou hast searched me and known me!

2 Thou knowest when I sit down and when I rise up;
 thou discernest my thoughts from
 afar.

3 Thou searchest out my path and my lying down,
 and art acquainted with all my ways.

4 Even before a word is on my tongue, lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.

5 Thou dost beset me behind and before,
 and layest thy hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for
 me;
 it is high, I cannot attain it.

7 Whither shall I go from thy Spirit?
 Or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend to heaven, thou art there!
 If I make my bed in Sheol, thou art there!

9 If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,

10 even there thy hand shall lead me,
 and thy right hand shall hold me.

11 If I say, "Let only darkness cover
 me,
 and the light about me be night,"

12 even the darkness is not dark to thee.
 the night is bright as the day;
 for darkness is as light with thee.

13 For thou didst form my inward parts,
 thou didst knit me together in my mother's womb.

14 I praise thee, for thou art fearful and wonderful.[†]

 16 Thy eyes beheld my unformed substance; in thy book were written, every one of them,
 the days that were formed for me,
 when as yet there was none of them.
 17 How precious to me are thy thoughts,
 O God!
 How vast is the sum of them!
 18 If I would count them, they are more than the sand.
 When I awake, I am still with thee.^u 19 O that thou wouldst slay the wicked,
 O God,
 and that men of blood would depart
 from me,
 20 men who maliciously defy thee, who lift themselves up against thee for evil!^v 21 Do I not hate them that hate thee,
 O LORD?
 And do I not loathe them that rise up against thee?
 22 I hate them with perfect hatred;
 I count them my enemies.
 23 Search me, O God, and know my
 heart!
 Try me and know my thoughts!
 24 And see if there be any wicked^w way in me,
 and lead me in the way everlasting!^x

To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David.

- 140 Deliver me, O LORD, from evil men;
 preserve me from violent men, 2 who plan evil things in their heart, and stir up wars continually.
 3 They make their tongue sharp as a serpent's,
 and under their lips is the poison

- 4 Guard me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked;
 preserve me from violent men, who have planned to trip up my

 5 Arrogant men have hidden a trap for
 me,
 and with cords they have spread a net,^y
 by the wayside they have set snares for me. Selah
 6 I say to the LORD, Thou art my God; give ear to the voice of my sup-plications, O LORD!
 7 O LORD, my Lord, my strong deliverer,
 thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.
 8 Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the
 wicked;
 do not further his evil plot! Selah 9 Those who surround me lift up their head,^z
 let the mischief of their lips overwhelm them!
 10 Let burning coals fall upon them!

 11 Let not the slanderer be established in the land;
 let evil hunt down the violent man speedily!
 12 I know that the LORD maintains the cause of the afflicted, and executes justice for the needy.
 13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks to thy name;
 the upright shall dwell in thy
 presence.

A Psalm of David.

THE PROVERBS

- 1 The proverbs of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel:
- 2 That men may know wisdom and instruction, understand words of insight, 3 receive instruction in wise dealing,
righteousness, justice, and equity;
4 that prudence may be given to the simple, knowledge and discretion to the youth—5 the wise man also may hear and increase in learning, and the man of understanding acquire skill, 6 to understand a proverb and a figure,
the words of the wise and their riddles.
- 7 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge;
fools despise wisdom and instruction.
- 8 Hear, my son, your father's instruction, and reject not your mother's teaching; 9 for they are a fair garland for your head, and pendants for your neck.
10 My son, if sinners entice you, do not consent.
11 If they say, "Come with us, let us lie in wait for blood, let us wantonly ambush the innocent; 12 like Sheol let us swallow them alive and whole, like those who go down to the Pit; 13 we shall find all precious goods, we shall fill our houses with spoil; 14 throw in your lot among us, we will all have one purse"— 15 my son, do not walk in the way with them, hold back your foot from their paths;
- 16 for their feet run to evil,
and they make haste to shed blood.
17 For in vain is a net spread in the sight of any bird; 18 but these men lie in wait for their own blood, they set an ambush for their own lives.
19 Such are the ways of all who get gain by violence;
it takes away the life of its possessors.
- 20 Wisdom cries aloud in the street;
in the markets she raises her voice; 21 on the top of the walls^a she cries out;
at the entrance of the city gates she speaks:
22 "How long, O simple ones, will you love being simple?
How long will scoffers delight in their scoffing and fools hate knowledge?
23 Give heed^b to my reproof;
behold, I will pour out my thoughts^c to you;
I will make my words known to you.
24 Because I have called and you refused to listen, have stretched out my hand and no one has heeded, 25 and you have ignored all my counsel and would have none of my reproof, 26 I also will laugh at your calamity;
I will mock when panic strikes you, 27 when panic strikes you like a storm, and your calamity comes like a whirlwind, when distress and anguish come upon you.
28 Then they will call upon me, but I will not answer;
they will seek me diligently but will not find me.
29 Because they hated knowledge

^a Heb uncertain ^b Heb Turn ^c Heb spirit
1.20-21: Prov 8.1-3.

and did not choose the fear of the LORD, 30 would have none of my counsel, and despised all my reproof, 31 therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way and be sated with their own devices.
 32 For the simple are killed by their turning away, and the complacency of fools destroys them; 33 but he who listens to me will dwell secure and will be at ease, without dread of evil.”

2 My son, if you receive my words and treasure up my commandments with you, 2 making your ear attentive to wisdom and inclining your heart to understanding; 3 yes, if you cry out for insight and raise your voice for understanding, 4 if you seek it like silver and search for it as for hidden treasures; 5 then you will understand the fear of the LORD and find the knowledge of God.
 6 For the LORD gives wisdom;
 from his mouth come knowledge and understanding; 7 he stores up sound wisdom for the upright;
 he is a shield to those who walk in integrity, 8 guarding the paths of justice and preserving the way of his saints.
 9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice and equity, every good path; 10 for wisdom will come into your heart, and knowledge will be pleasant to your soul; 11 discretion will watch over you; understanding will guard you; 12 delivering you from the way of evil,
 from men of perverted speech, 13 who forsake the paths of uprightness to walk in the ways of darkness, 14 who rejoice in doing evil and delight in the perverseness of evil; 15 men whose paths are crooked, and who are devious in their ways.

 16 You will be saved from the loose^d woman, from the adventuress^e with her smooth words, 17 who forsakes the companion of her youth and forgets the covenant of her God; 18 for her house sinks down to death, and her paths to the shades; 19 none who go to her come back nor do they regain the paths of life.

20 So you will walk in the way of good men and keep to the paths of the righteous.
 21 For the upright will inhabit the land, and men of integrity will remain in it; 22 but the wicked will be cut off from the land, and the treacherous will be rooted out of it.

3 My son, do not forget my teaching, but let your heart keep my commandments;
 2 for length of days and years of life and abundant welfare will they give you.
 3 Let not loyalty and faithfulness forsake you;
 bind them about your neck,
 write them on the tablet of your heart.
 4 So you will find favor and good repute^f in the sight of God and man.
 5 Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and do not rely on your own insight.
 6 In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths.

3.11-12: Heb 12.5-6. 3.34 (Gk): Jas 4.6; 1 Pet 5.5.

- 6 Do not forsake her, and she will keep you;
love her, and she will guard you.
- 7 The beginning of wisdom is this:
Get wisdom,
and whatever you get, get insight.
- 8 Prize her highly,^p and she will exalt you;
she will honor you if you embrace her.
- 9 She will place on your head a fair garland;
she will bestow on you a beautiful crown.^q
- 10 Hear, my son, and accept my words, that the years of your life may be many.
- 11 I have taught you the way of wisdom;
I have led you in the paths of uprightness.
- 12 When you walk, your step will not be hampered;
and if you run, you will not stumble.
- 13 Keep hold of instruction, do not let go;
guard her, for she is your life.
- 14 Do not enter the path of the wicked, and do not walk in the way of evil men.
- 15 Avoid it; do not go on it;
turn away from it and pass on.
- 16 For they cannot sleep unless they have done wrong;
they are robbed of sleep unless they have made some one stumble.
- 17 For they eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence.
- 18 But the path of the righteous is like the light of dawn, which shines brighter and brighter until full day.
- 19 The way of the wicked is like deep darkness;
they do not know over what they stumble.
- 20 My son, be attentive to my words; incline your ear to my sayings.
- 21 Let them not escape from your sight;
keep them within your heart.
- 22 For they are life to him who finds them,
and healing to all his flesh.
- 23 Keep your heart with all vigilance;
for from it flow the springs of life.
- 24 Put away from you crooked speech, and put devious talk far from you.
- 25 Let your eyes look directly forward, and your gaze be straight before you.
- 26 Take heed to^r the path of your feet, then all your ways will be sure.
- 27 Do not swerve to the right or to the left;
turn your foot away from evil.
- 5 My son, be attentive to my wisdom, incline your ear to my understanding; 2 that you may keep discretion, and your lips may guard knowledge.
- 3 For the lips of a loose woman drip honey, and her speech^r is smoother than oil; 4 but in the end she is bitter as worm-wood, sharp as a two-edged sword.
- 5 Her feet go down to death;
her steps follow the path to^s Sheol; 6 she does not take heed to^t the path of life;
her ways wander, and she does not know it.
- 7 And now, O sons, listen to me, and do not depart from the words of my mouth.
- 8 Keep your way far from her,
and do not go near the door of her house; 9 lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless; 10 lest strangers take their fill of your strength,^u and your labors go to the house of an alien; 11 and at the end of your life you groan, when your flesh and body are consumed, 12 and you say, "How I hated discipline, and my heart despised reproof!"
- 13 I did not listen to the voice of my teachers or incline my ear to my instructors.

17 haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood,
18 a heart that devises wicked plans, feet that make haste to run to evil,

 27 If you have nothing with which to pay,
 why should your bed be taken from under you?
 28 Remove not the ancient landmark which your fathers have set.
 29 Do you see a man skilful in his work?
 he will stand before kings;
 he will not stand before obscure

 you;
 2 and put a knife to your throat
 if you are a man given to appetite.
 3 Do not desire his delicacies, for they are deceptive food.
 4 Do not toil to acquire wealth;
 be wise enough to desist.
 5 When your eyes light upon it, it is

 7 for he is like one who is inwardly

 "Eat and drink!" he says to you;
 but his heart is not with you.
 8 You will vomit up the morsels which you have eaten,
 and waste your pleasant words.
 9 Do not speak in the hearing of a fool, for he will despise the wisdom of your words.
 10 Do not remove an ancient landmark or enter the fields of the fatherless;
 11 for their Redeemer is strong;
 he will plead their cause against
 you.
 12 Apply your mind to instruction and your ear to words of knowl-

 13 Do not withhold discipline from a child;
 if you beat him with a rod, he will

 14 If you beat him with the rod you will save his life from Sheol.
 15 My son, if your heart is wise, my heart too will be glad.

- 16 My soul will rejoice
 when your lips speak what is right.
 17 Let not your heart envy sinners, but continue in the fear of the LORD all the day.
 18 Surely there is a future,
 and your hope will not be cut off.
 19 Hear, my son, and be wise, and direct your mind in the way.
 20 Be not among winebibbers, or among gluttonous eaters of meat;
 21 for the drunkard and the glutton will come to poverty,
 and drowsiness will clothe a man with rags.
 22 Hearken to your father who begot
 you,
 and do not despise your mother
 when she is old.
 23 Buy truth, and do not sell it; buy wisdom, instruction, and understanding.
 24 The father of the righteous will greatly rejoice;
 he who begets a wise son will be glad in him.
 25 Let your father and mother be glad,
 let her who bore you rejoice.
 26 My son, give me your heart, and let your eyes observeⁿ my
 ways.
 27 For a harlot is a deep pit;
 an adventuress is a narrow well.
 28 She lies in wait like a robber

 30 Those who tarry long over wine, those who go to try mixed wine.
 31 Do not look at wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the cup

 32 At the last it bites like a serpent, and stings like an adder.
 33 Your eyes will see strange things,

- 24 Be not envious of evil men,
 nor desire to be with them;
² for their minds devise violence, and their lips talk of mischief.
- ³ By wisdom a house is built,

 your soul know it,
 and will he not requite man according to his work?
- ¹³ My son, eat honey, for it is good, and the drippings of the honeycomb are sweet to your taste.
- ¹⁴ Know that wisdom is such to your soul;
 if you find it, there will be a future,
 and your hope will not be cut off.
- ¹⁵ Lie not in wait as a wicked man against the dwelling of the righteous;
 do not violence to his home;
- ¹⁶ for a righteous man falls seven times,
 and rises again;
 but the wicked are overthrown by
 calamity.
- ¹⁷ Do not rejoice when your enemy falls, and let not your heart be glad when he stumbles;
- ¹⁸ lest the LORD see it, and be displeased,
 and turn away his anger from him.
- ¹⁹ Fret not yourself because of evildoers, and be not envious of the wicked;

 the lamp of the wicked will be put out.
- ²¹ My son, fear the LORD and the king, and do not disobey either of them;^r come from them both?

- ²³ These also are sayings of the wise.
 Partiality in judging is not good.

Praise of a worthy woman

- ¹⁹ She puts her hands to the distaff, and her hands hold the spindle.
- ²⁰ She opens her hand to the poor, and reaches out her hands to the needy.
- ²¹ She is not afraid of snow for her household,
for all her household are clothed in scarlet.
- ²² She makes herself coverings;
her clothing is fine linen and purple.
- ²³ Her husband is known in the gates, when he sits among the elders of the land.
- ²⁴ She makes linen garments and sells
them;
she delivers girdles to the merchant.
- ²⁵ Strength and dignity are her clothing, and she laughs at the time to come.
- ²⁶ She opens her mouth with wisdom,
and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue.
- ²⁷ She looks well to the ways of her
household,
and does not eat the bread of idle-
ness.
- ²⁸ Her children rise up and call her blessed;
her husband also, and he praises
her:
- ²⁹ "Many women have done excellently, but you surpass them all."
- ³⁰ Charm is deceitful, and beauty is vain,
but a woman who fears the LORD is to be praised.
- ³¹ Give her of the fruit of her hands, and let her works praise her in the gates.

³ What does man gain by all the toil at which he toils under the sun?

⁴ A generation goes, and a generation comes, but the earth remains for ever.

⁵ The sun rises and the sun goes down, and hastens to the place where it rises.

⁶ The wind blows to the south, and goes round to the north; round and round goes the wind, and on its circuits the wind returns.

⁷ All streams run to the sea, but the sea is not full; to the place where the streams flow, there they flow again.

⁸ All things are full of weariness; a man cannot utter it; the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

⁹ What has been is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun.

¹⁰ Is there a thing of which it is said, "See, this is new"?

It has been already, in the ages before us.

¹¹ There is no remembrance of former things, nor will there be any remembrance of later things yet to happen among those who come after.

¹² I the Preacher have been king over Israel in Jerusalem. ¹³And I applied my mind to seek and to search out by wisdom all that is done under heaven; it is an unhappy business that God has given to the sons of men to be busy with. ¹⁴I have seen everything that is done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and a striving after wind.^b

¹⁵ What is crooked cannot be made straight, and what is lacking cannot be numbered.

¹⁶ I said to myself, "I have acquired great wisdom, surpassing all who were over Jerusalem before me; and my mind has had great experience of wisdom and knowledge." ¹⁷And I applied my mind to know wisdom and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also is but a striving after wind.

¹⁸ For in much wisdom is much vexation, and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

2 I said to myself, "Come now, I will make a test of pleasure; enjoy yourself." But behold, this also was vanity. ²I said of laughter, "It is mad," and of pleasure, "What use is it?" ³I searched with my mind how to cheer my body with wine—my mind still guiding me with wisdom—and how to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was good for the sons of men to do under heaven during the few days of their life. ⁴I made great works; I built houses and planted vineyards for myself; ⁵I made myself gardens and parks, and planted in them all kinds of fruit trees. ⁶I made myself pools from which to water the forest of growing trees. ⁷I bought male and female slaves, and had slaves who were born in my house; I had also great possessions of herds and flocks, more than any who had been before me in Jerusalem. ⁸I also gathered for myself silver and gold and the treasure of kings and provinces; I got singers, both men and women, and many concubines,^c man's delight.

⁹ So I became great and surpassed all who were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom remained with me. ¹⁰And whatever my eyes desired I did not keep from them; I kept my heart from no pleasure, for my heart found pleasure in all my toil, and this was my reward for all my toil. ¹¹ Then I considered all that my hands had done and the toil I had spent in doing it, and behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was nothing to be gained under the sun.

^c The meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

12 So I turned to consider wisdom and madness and folly; for what can the man do who comes after the king? Only what he has already done. 13 Then I saw that wisdom excels folly as light excels darkness. 14 The wise man has his eyes in his head, but the fool walks in darkness; and yet I perceived that one fate comes to all of them. 15 Then I said to myself, "What befalls the fool will befall me also; why then have I been so very wise?" And I said to myself that this also is vanity. 16 For of the wise man as of the fool there is no enduring remembrance, seeing that in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. How the wise man dies just like the fool! 17 So I hated life, because what is done under the sun was grievous to me; for all is vanity and a striving after wind.

18 I hated all my toil in which I had toiled under the sun, seeing that I must leave it to the man who will come after me; 19 and who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will be master of all for which I toiled and used my wisdom under the sun. This also is vanity. 20 So I turned about and gave my heart up to despair over all the toil of my labors under the sun, 21 because sometimes a man who has toiled with wisdom and knowledge and skill must leave all to be enjoyed by a man who did not toil for it. This also is vanity and a great evil. 22 What has a man from all the toil and strain with which he toils beneath the sun? 23 For all his days are full of pain, and his work is a vexation; even in the night his mind does not rest. This also is vanity.

24 There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and find enjoyment in his toil. This also, I saw, is from the hand of God; 25 for apart from him^d who can eat or who can have enjoyment? 26 For to the man who pleases him God gives wisdom and knowledge and joy; but to the sinner he gives the work of gathering and heaping, only to give to one who pleases God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

3 For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven:

- ² a time to be born, and a time to die;
- a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted;

- ³ a time to kill, and a time to heal;
- a time to break down, and a time to build up;
- ⁴ a time to weep, and a time to laugh;
- a time to mourn, and a time to dance;
- ⁵ a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together;
- a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
- ⁶ a time to seek, and a time to lose;
- a time to keep, and a time to cast away;
- ⁷ a time to rend, and a time to sew;
- a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
- ⁸ a time to love, and a time to hate;
- a time for war, and a time for peace.
- ⁹ What gain has the worker from his toil?

10 I have seen the business that God has given to the sons of men to be busy with. 11 He has made everything beautiful in its time; also he has put eternity into man's mind, yet so that he cannot find out what God has done from the beginning to the end. 12 I know that there is nothing better for them than to be happy and enjoy themselves as long as they live; 13 also that it is God's gift to man that every one should eat and drink and take pleasure in all his toil. 14 I know that whatever God does endures for ever; nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it; God has made it so, in order that men should fear before him. 15 That which is, already has been; that which is to be, already has been; and God seeks what has been driven away.

16 Moreover I saw under the sun that in the place of justice, even there was wickedness, and in the place of righteousness, even there was wickedness. 17 I said in my heart, God will judge the righteous and the wicked, for he has appointed a time for every matter, and for every work. 18 I said in my heart with regard to the sons of men that God is testing them to show them that they are but beasts. 19 For the fate of the sons of men and the fate of beasts is the same; as one dies, so dies the other. They all have the same breath, and man has no advantage over the beasts; for all is vanity. 20 All go to one place; all are from the dust, and all turn to dust again. 21 Who knows whether the spirit of man goes upward and the spirit of the beast goes down to the earth?²² So I saw that there is nothing better than that a man should enjoy his work, for that is his lot; who can bring him to see what will be after him?

4 Again I saw all the oppressions that are practiced under the sun. And behold, the tears of the oppressed, and they had no one to comfort them! On the side of their oppressors there was power, and there was no one to comfort them.² And I thought the dead who are already dead more fortunate than the living who are still alive;³ but better than both is he who has not yet been, and has not seen the evil deeds that are done under the sun.

4 Then I saw that all toil and all skill in work come from a man's envy of his neighbor. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

5 The fool folds his hands, and eats his own flesh.

6 Better is a handful of quietness than two hands full of toil and a striving after wind.

7 Again, I saw vanity under the sun: ⁸ a person who has no one, either son or brother, yet there is no end to all his toil, and his eyes are never satisfied with riches, so that he never asks, "For whom am I toiling and depriving myself of pleasure?" This also is vanity and an unhappy business.

9 Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their toil.¹⁰ For if they fall, one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him who is alone when he falls and has not another to lift him up.¹¹ Again, if two lie together, they are warm; but how can one be warm alone?¹² And though a man might prevail against one who is alone, two will withstand him. A threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who will no longer take advice,¹⁴ even though he had gone from prison to the throne or in his own kingdom had been born poor.¹⁵ I saw all the living who move about under the sun, as well as that youth, who was to stand in his place;¹⁶ there was no end of all the people; he was over all of them. Yet those who come later will not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

5⁹ Guard your steps when you go to the house of God; to draw near to listen is better than to offer the sacrifice of fools; for they do not know that they are doing evil.²⁰ Be not rash with your mouth, nor let your heart be hasty to utter a word before God, for God is in heaven, and you upon earth; therefore let your words be few.

3 For a dream comes with much business, and a fool's voice with many words.

4 When you vow a vow to God, do not delay paying it; for he has no pleasure in fools. Pay what you vow.⁵ It is better that you should not vow than that you should vow and not pay.⁶ Let not your mouth lead you into sin, and do not say before the messenger⁷ that it was a mistake; why should God be angry at your voice, and destroy the work of your hands?

7 For when dreams increase, empty words grow many;⁸ but do you fear God.

8 If you see in a province the poor oppressed and justice and right violently taken away, do not be amazed at the matter; for the high official is watched by a higher, and there are yet higher ones over them.⁹ But in all, a king is an advantage to a land with cultivated fields.⁴

10 He who loves money will not be satisfied with money; nor he who loves wealth, with gain; this also is vanity.

11 When goods increase, they increase who eat them; and what gain has their owner but to see them with his eyes?

12 Sweet is the sleep of a laborer, whether he eats little or much; but the surfeit of the rich will not let him sleep.

13 There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun: riches were kept by their owner to his hurt,¹⁴ and those riches were lost in a bad venture; and he is father of a son, but he has nothing in his hand.¹⁵ As he came from his mother's womb he shall go again, naked as he came, and shall take nothing for his toil, which he may carry away in his hand.¹⁶ This also is a grievous evil: just as he came, so shall he go; and

¹ Heb the second ⁹ Ch 4.17 in Heb ^h Ch 5.1 in Heb ⁱ Or angel

¹⁰ Or For in a multitude of dreams there is futility, and ruin in a flood of words

⁴ Or The profit of the land is among all of them; a cultivated field has a king what gain has he that he toiled for the wind,¹⁷ and spent all his days in darkness and grief,¹ in much vexation and sickness and resentment?

18 Behold, what I have seen to be good and to be fitting is to eat and drink and find enjoyment in all the toil with which one toils under the sun the few days of his life which God has given him, for this is his lot.¹⁹ Every man also to whom God has given wealth and possessions and power to enjoy them, and to accept his lot and find enjoyment in his toil—this is the gift of God.²⁰ For he will not much remember the days of his life because God keeps him occupied with joy in his heart.

6 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it lies heavy upon men: ² a man to whom God gives wealth, possessions, and honor, so that he lacks nothing of all that he desires, yet God does not give him power to enjoy them, but a stranger enjoys them; this is vanity; it is a sore affliction.³ If a man begets a hundred children, and lives many years, so that the days of his years are many, but he does not enjoy life's good things, and also has no burial, I say that an untimely birth is better off than he.⁴ For it comes into vanity and goes into darkness, and in darkness its name is covered; ⁵ moreover it has not seen the sun or known anything; yet it finds rest rather than he.⁶ Even though he should live a thousand years twice told, yet enjoy no good—do not all go to the one place?

7 All the toil of man is for his mouth, yet his appetite is not satisfied.⁸ For what advantage has the wise man over the fool? And what does the poor man have who knows how to conduct himself before the living?⁹ Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of desire; this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

10 Whatever has come to be has already been named, and it is known what man is, and that he is not able to dispute with one stronger than he.

¹¹ The more words, the more vanity, and what is man the better? ¹² For who knows what is good for man while he lives the few days of his vain life, which he passes like a shadow? For who can tell man what will be after him under the sun?

¹ Gk: Heb all his days also he eats in darkness

7 A good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death, than the day of birth.

² It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting; for this is the end of all men, and the living will lay it to heart.

³ Sorrow is better than laughter, for by sadness of countenance the heart is made glad.

⁴ The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

⁵ It is better for a man to hear the rebuke of the wise than to hear the song of fools.

⁶ For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fools; this also is vanity.

⁷ Surely oppression makes the wise man foolish, and a bribe corrupts the mind.

⁸ Better is the end of a thing than its beginning; and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

⁹ Be not quick to anger, for anger lodges in the bosom of fools.

¹⁰ Say not, "Why were the former days better than these?" For it is not from wisdom that you ask this.

¹¹ Wisdom is good with an inheritance, an advantage to those who see the sun.

¹³ Consider the work of God; who can make straight what he has made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider; God has made the one as well as the other, so that man may not find out anything that will be after him.

15 In my vain life I have seen everything; there is a righteous man who perishes in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man who prolongs his life in his evil-doing.¹⁶ Be not righteous overmuch, and do not make yourself overwise; why should you destroy yourself? ¹⁷ Be not wicked overmuch, neither be a fool; why should you die before your time? ¹⁸ It is good that you should take hold of this, and from that withhold not your hand; for he who fears God shall come forth from them all.

¹⁹ Wisdom gives strength to the wise man more than ten rulers that are in a city.

²⁰ Surely there is not a righteous man on earth who does good and never sins.

²³ All this I have tested by wisdom; I said, "I will be wise"; but it was far from me. ²⁴ That which is, is far off, and deep, very deep; who can find it out?

²⁵ I turned my mind to know and to search out and to seek wisdom and the sum of things, and to know the wickedness of folly and the foolishness which is madness. ²⁶ And I found more bitter than death the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and whose hands are fetters; he who pleases God escapes her, but the sinner is taken by her. ²⁷ Behold, this is what I found, says the Preacher, adding one thing to another to find the sum, ²⁸ which my mind has sought repeatedly, but I have not found. One man among a thousand I found, but a woman among all these I have not found. ²⁹ Behold, this alone I found, that God made man upright, but they have sought out many devices.

8 Who is like the wise man?
And who knows the interpretation of a thing?

A man's wisdom makes his face shine, and the hardness of his countenance is changed.

² Keep^m the king's command, and because of your sacred oath be not dismayed; ³ go from his presence, do not delay when the matter is unpleasant, for he does whatever he pleases. ⁴ For the word of the king is supreme, and who may say to him, "What are you doing?"

⁵ He who obeys a command will meet no harm, and the mind of a wise man will know the time and way. ⁶ For every matter has its time and way, although man's trouble lies heavy upon him. ⁷ For he does not know what is to be, for who can tell him how it will be? ⁸ No man has power to retain the spirit, or authority over the day of death; there is no discharge from war, nor will wickedness deliver those who are given to it. ⁹ All this I observed while applying my mind to all that is done under the sun, while man lords it over man to his hurt.

¹⁰ Then I saw the wicked buried; they used to go in and out of the holy place, and were praised in the city where they had done such things. This also is vanity. ¹¹ Because sentence against an evil deed is not executed speedily, the heart of the sons of men is fully set to do evil. ¹² Though a sinner does evil a hundred times and prolongs his life, yet I know that it will be well with those who fear God, because they fear before him; ¹³ but it will not be well with the wicked, neither will he prolong his days like a shadow, because he does not fear before God.

¹⁴ There is a vanity which takes place on earth, that there are righteous men to whom it happens according to the deeds of the wicked, and there are wicked men to whom it happens according to the deeds of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity. ¹⁵ And I commend enjoyment, for man has no good thing under the sun but to eat, and drink, and enjoy himself, for this will go with him in his toil through the days of life which God gives him under the sun.

¹⁶ When I applied my mind to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done on earth, how neither day nor night one's eyes see sleep; ¹⁷ then I saw all the work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun. However much man may toil in seeking, he will not find it out; even though a wise man claims to know, he cannot find it out.

9 But all this I laid to heart, examining it all, how the righteous and the wise and their deeds are in the hand of God; whether it is love or hate man does not know. Everything before them is vanity, ² since one fate comes to all, to the righteous and the wicked, to the good and the evil, ³ to the clean and the unclean, to him who sacrifices and him who does not sacrifice. As is the good man, so is the sinner; and he who swears is as he who shuns an oath.

^m Heb inserts an I

² Syr Compare Gk: Heb Everything before them is everything ³ Gk Syr Vg: Heb lacks and the evil

³ This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that one fate comes to all; also the hearts of men are full of evil, and madness is in their hearts while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

⁴ But he who is joined with all the living has hope, for a living dog is better than a dead lion. ⁵ For the living know that they will die, but the dead know nothing, and they have no more reward; but the memory of them is lost. ⁶ Their love and their hate and their envy have already perished, and they have no more for ever any share in all that is done under the sun.

⁸ Let your garments be always white; let not oil be lacking on your head.

⁹ Enjoy life with the wife whom you love, all the days of your vain life which he has given you under the sun, because that is your portion in life and in your toil at which you toil under the sun. ¹⁰ Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work or thought or knowledge or wisdom in Sheol, to which you are going.

¹³ I have also seen this example of wisdom under the sun, and it seemed great to me. ¹⁴ There was a little city with few men in it; and a great king came against it and besieged it, building great siegeworks against it. ¹⁵ But there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city. Yet no one remembered that poor man. ¹⁶ But I say that wisdom is better than might, though the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heeded.

¹⁷ The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the shouting of a ruler among fools. ¹⁸ Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner destroys much good.

10 Dead flies make the perfumer's ointment give off an evil odor; so a little folly outweighs wisdom and honor.

² A wise man's heart inclines him toward the right, but a fool's heart toward the left.

³ Even when the fool walks on the road, he lacks sense, and he says to every one that he is a fool.

⁴ If the anger of the ruler rises against you, do not leave your place, for deference will make amends for great offenses.

⁸ He who digs a pit will fall into it; and a serpent will bite him who breaks through a wall.

⁹ He who quarries stones is hurt by them; and he who splits logs is endangered by them.

¹⁰ If the iron is blunt, and one does not whet the edge, he must put forth more strength; but wisdom helps one to succeed.

¹¹ If the serpent bites before it is charmed, there is no advantage in a charmer.

¹² The words of a wise man's mouth win him favor, but the lips of a fool consume him.

¹³ The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness, and the end of his talk is wicked madness.

¹⁴ A fool multiplies words, though no man knows what is to be, and who can tell him what will be after him?

¹⁵ The toil of a fool wearies him, so that he does not know the way to the city.

¹⁶ Woe to you, O land, when your king is a child, and your princes feast in the morning!

17 Happy are you, O land, when your king is the son of free men, and your princes feast at the proper time, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

18 Through sloth the roof sinks in, and through indolence the house leaks.

19 Bread is made for laughter, and wine gladdens life, and money answers everything.

20 Even in your thought, do not curse the king, nor in your bedchamber curse the rich; for a bird of the air will carry your voice, or some winged creature tell the matter.

11 Cast your bread upon the waters, for you will find it after many days.

2 Give a portion to seven, or even to eight, for you know not what evil may happen on earth.

3 If the clouds are full of rain, they empty themselves on the earth; and if a tree falls to the south or to the north, in the place where the tree falls, there it will lie.

4 He who observes the wind will not sow; and he who regards the clouds will not reap.

5 As you do not know how the spirit comes to the bones in the womb^p of a woman with child, so you do not know the work of God who makes everything.

6 In the morning sow your seed, and at evening withhold not your hand; for you do not know which will prosper, this or that, or whether both alike will be good.

7 Light is sweet, and it is pleasant for the eyes to behold the sun.

8 For if a man lives many years, let him rejoice in them all; but let him remember that the days of darkness will be many. All that comes is vanity.

9 Rejoice, O young man, in your youth, and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth; walk in the ways of your heart and the sight of your eyes. But know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment.

10 Remove vexation from your mind, and put away pain from your body; for youth and the dawn of life are vanity.

12 Remember also your Creator in the days of your youth, before the evil days come, and the years draw nigh, when you will say, "I have no pleasure in them";² before the sun and the light and the moon and the stars are darkened and the clouds return after the rain;³ in the day when the keepers of the house tremble, and the strong men are bent, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look through the windows are dimmed,⁴ and the doors on the street are shut; when the sound of the grinding is low, and one rises up at the voice of a bird, and all the daughters of song are brought low;⁵ they are afraid also of what is high, and terrors are in the way; the almond tree blossoms, the grasshopper drags itself along^q and desire fails; because man goes to his eternal home, and the mourners go about the streets;⁶ before the silver cord is snapped,⁷ or the golden bowl is broken, or the pitcher is broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern,⁷ and the dust returns to the earth as it was, and the spirit returns to God who gave it.⁸ Vanity of vanities, says the Preacher; all is vanity.

9 Besides being wise, the Preacher also taught the people knowledge, weighing and studying and arranging proverbs with great care.¹⁰ The Preacher sought to find pleasing words, and uprightly he wrote words of truth.

11 The sayings of the wise are like goads, and like nails firmly fixed are the collected sayings which are given by one Shepherd.¹² My son, beware of anything beyond these. Of making many books there is no end, and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

13 The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man.¹⁴ For God will bring every deed into judgment, with^l every secret thing, whether good or evil.

THE SONG OF SOLOMON

- 1 The Song of Songs, which is Solomon's.
- 2 O that you^a would kiss me with the kisses of your^b mouth!
For your love is better than wine, 3 your anointing oils are fragrant, your name is oil poured out;
therefore the maidens love you.
4 Draw me after you, let us make haste.
The king has brought me into his chambers.
We will exult and rejoice in you;
we will extol your love more than wine;
rightly do they love you.
- 5 I am very dark, but comely,
O daughters of Jerusalem,
like the tents of Kedar,
like the curtains of Solomon.
6 Do not gaze at me because I am swarthy, because the sun has scorched me.
My mother's sons were angry with me,
they made me keeper of the vineyards;
but, my own vineyard I have not kept!
7 Tell me, you whom my soul loves,
where you pasture your flock,
where you make it lie down at noon;
for why should I be like one who wanders^c beside the flocks of your companions?
- 8 If you do not know,
O fairest among women,
follow in the tracks of the flock, and pasture your kids
beside the shepherds' tents.
- 9 I compare you, my love, to a mare of Pharaoh's chariots.
10 Your cheeks are comely with ornaments, your neck with strings of jewels.
- 11 We will make you ornaments of gold, studded with silver.
- 12 While the king was on his couch,
my nard gave forth its fragrance.
13 My beloved is to me a bag of myrrh, that lies between my breasts.
14 My beloved is to me a cluster of henna blossoms in the vineyards of En-ge'di.
- 15 Behold, you are beautiful, my love;
behold, you are beautiful;
your eyes are doves.
16 Behold, you are beautiful, my beloved, truly lovely.
Our couch is green;
17 the beams of our house are cedar,
our rafters^d are pine.
- 2 I am a rose^e of Sharon,
a lily of the valleys.
- 2 As a lily among brambles,
so is my love among maidens.
- 3 As an apple tree among the trees of the wood,
so is my beloved among young men.
With great delight I sat in his shadow, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.
4 He brought me to the banqueting house, and his banner over me was love.
5 Sustain me with raisins, refresh me with apples;
for I am sick with love.
6 O that his left hand were under my head, and that his right hand embraced me!
7 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the gazelles or the hinds of the field,
that you stir not up nor awaken love
until it please.

Behold, there he stands behind our wall,
gazing in at the windows,
looking through the lattice.
- 10 My beloved speaks and says to me:
"Arise, my love, my fair one,

mountains.

I sought him whom my soul

I sought him, but found him not;
I called him, but he gave no answer.^g
- 2 "I will rise now and go about the
city,
in the streets and in the squares;
I will seek him whom my soul loves."^h
I sought him, but found him not.
- 3 The watchmen found me,
as they went about in the city.
- "Have you seen him whom my soul loves?"
- 4 Scarcely had I passed them, when I found him whom my soul
loves.
I held him, and would not let him go until I had brought him into my mother's house,
and into the chamber of her that conceived me.
- 5 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
by the gazelles or the hinds of the field,
that you stir not up nor awaken love
until it please.
- 6 What is that coming up from the
wilderness,
like a column of smoke, perumed with myrrh and frankincense,
with all the fragrant powders of the merchant?
- 7 Behold, it is the litter of Solomon!
About it are sixty mighty men of the mighty men of Israel, 8 all girt with swords
and expert in war,
each with his sword at his thigh, against alarms by night.
- 9 King Solomon made himself a palanquin
from the wood of Lebanon.
- 10 He made its posts of silver, its back of gold, its seat of purple;
it was lovingly wrought within^h
by the daughters of Jerusalem.
- 11 Go forth, O daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon, with the crown with which his mother crowned him
on the day of his wedding, on the day of the gladness of his heart.
- 4 Behold, you are beautiful, my
love,
behold, you are beautiful!
Your eyes are doves
behind your veil.
Your hair is like a flock of goats,
moving down the slopes of Gilead.
- 2 Your teeth are like a flock of shorn

- 8 Come with me from Lebanon, my bride;
come with me from Lebanon.
Depart^j from the peak of Ama'na, from the peak of Senir and Hermon, from the dens of lions,
from the mountains of leopards.
- 9 You have ravished my heart, my sister, my bride,
you have ravished my heart with a glance of your eyes,
with one jewel of your necklace.
- 10 How sweet is your love, my sister,
my bride!
how much better is your love than wine,
and the fragrance of your oils than any spice!
- 11 Your lips distil nectar, my bride;
honey and milk are under your tongue;
the scent of your garments is like the scent of Lebanon.
- 12 A garden locked is my sister, my
bride,
a garden locked, a fountain sealed.
- 13 Your shoots are an orchard of pomegranates
with all choicest fruits, henna with nard,
- 14 nard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon,
with all trees of frankincense,
myrrh and aloes,
with all chief spices—
- 15 a garden fountain, a well of living
water,
and flowing streams from Lebanon.
- 16 Awake, O north wind,
and come, O south wind!
Blow upon my garden,
let its fragrance be wafted abroad.
Let my beloved come to his garden,
and eat its choicest fruits.
- 5 I come to my garden, my sister,
my bride,
I gather my myrrh with my spice,
I eat my honeycomb with my honey,
I drink my wine with my milk.
- Eat, O friends, and drink:
drink deeply, O lovers!
- 2 I slept, but my heart was awake.
Hark! my beloved is knocking.
"Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my perfect one;
for my head is wet with dew, my locks with the drops of the night."
- 3 I had put off my garment, how could I put it on?
I had bathed my feet,
how could I soil them?
- 4 My beloved put his hand to the latch, and my heart was thrilled within
me.
- 5 I arose to open to my beloved,
and my hands dripped with myrrh,
my fingers with liquid myrrh, upon the handles of the bolt.
- 6 I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had turned and gone.
My soul failed me when he spoke.
I sought him, but found him not;
I called him, but he gave no answer.
- 7 The watchmen found me,
as they went about in the city;
they beat me, they wounded me,
they took away my mantle,
those watchmen of the walls.
- 8 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
if you find my beloved,
that you tell him
I am sick with love.

other beloved,

- O fairest among women?
What is your beloved more than another beloved,
that you thus adjure us?
- 10 My beloved is all radiant and ruddy, distinguished among ten thousand.
- 11 His head is the finest gold;
his locks are wavy,
black as a raven.
- 12 His eyes are like doves beside springs of water, bathed in milk,

- 13 His cheeks are like beds of spices,

His lips are lilies,

- 15 His legs are alabaster columns,

His appearance is like Lebanon, choice as the cedars.
- 16 His speech is most sweet,
and he is altogether desirable.
This is my beloved and this is my friend,
O daughters of Jerusalem.
- 6 Whither has your beloved gone,
O fairest among women?
Whither has your beloved turned,
that we may seek him with you?
- 2 My beloved has gone down to his garden,
to the beds of spices,
to pasture his flock in the gardens,
and to gather lilies.
- 3 I am my beloved's and my beloved is mine;
he pastures his flock among the lilies.
- 4 You are beautiful as Tirzah, my love, comely as Jerusalem,
terrible as an army with banners.
- 5 Turn away your eyes from me, for they disturb me—
Your hair is like a flock of goats,
moving down the slopes of Gilead.
- 6 Your teeth are like a flock of ewes, that have come up from the washing,
all of them bear twins,
not one among them is bereaved.
- 7 Your cheeks are like halves of a pomegranate
behind your veil.
- 8 There are sixty queens and eighty concubines, and maidens without number.
- 9 My dove, my perfect one, is only one,
the darling of her mother, flawless to her that bore her.
The maidens saw her and called her happy;
the queens and concubines also,
and they praised her.
- 10 "Who is this that looks forth like the dawn, fair as the moon, bright as the sun,
terrible as an army with banners?"
- 11 I went down to the nut orchard, to look at the blossoms of the valley,
to see whether the vines had budded, whether the pomegranates were in bloom.
- 12 Before I was aware, my fancy set me in a chariot beside my prince.ⁿ
- 13^o Return, return, O Shu'lammitte, return, return, that we may look upon you.
- Why should you look upon the Shu'lammitte, as upon a dance before two armies?^p
- 7 How graceful are your feet in sandals,
O queenly maiden!
Your rounded thighs are like jewels,
the work of a master hand.
- 2 Your navel is a rounded bowl that never lacks mixed wine.
Your belly is a heap of wheat, encircled with lilies.
- 3 Your two breasts are like two fawns,

THE BOOK OF

ISAIAH

- 1 The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzzi'ah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezeki'ah, kings of Judah.
- 2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth;
 for the LORD has spoken:
 "Sons have I reared and brought up, but they have rebelled against me.
- 3 The ox knows its owner, and the ass its master's crib;
 but Israel does not know, my people does not understand."
- 4 Ah, sinful nation,
 a people laden with iniquity, offspring of evildoers, sons who deal corruptly!
 They have forsaken the LORD,
 they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are utterly estranged.
- 5 Why will you still be smitten, that you continue to rebel?
 The whole head is sick,
 and the whole heart faint.
- 6 From the sole of the foot even to the head,
 there is no soundness in it, but bruises and sores
 and bleeding wounds;
 they are not pressed out, or bound up,
 or softened with oil.
- 7 Your country lies desolate, your cities are burned with fire;
 in your very presence
 aliens devour your land;
- it is desolate, as overthrown by aliens.
- 8 And the daughter of Zion is left like a booth in a vineyard, like a lodge in a cucumber field,
 like a besieged city.
- 9 If the LORD of hosts had not left us a few survivors, we should have been like Sodom, and become like Gomor'rah.
- 10 Hear the word of the LORD,
 you rulers of Sodom!
 Give ear to the teaching of our God,
 you people of Gomor'rah!
- 11 "What to me is the multitude of your sacrifices?
 says the LORD;
 I have had enough of burnt offerings of rams
 and the fat of fed beasts;
 I do not delight in the blood of bulls, or of lambs, or of he-goats.
- 12 "When you come to appear before me, who requires of you
 this trampling of my courts?
- 13 Bring no more vain offerings;
 incense is an abomination to me.
 New moon and sabbath and the calling of assemblies—
 I cannot endure iniquity and solemn assembly.
- 14 Your new moons and your appointed feasts
 my soul hates;
 they have become a burden to me,
 I am weary of bearing them.
- 15 When you spread forth your hands,
 I will hide my eyes from you;

- even though you make many prayers, I will not listen;
your hands are full of blood.
- 16 Wash yourselves; make yourselves
clean;
remove the evil of your doings from before my eyes;
cease to do evil,
- 17 learn to do good;
seek justice,
correct oppression;
defend the fatherless,
plead for the widow.
- 18 "Come now, let us reason together,
says the LORD:
though your sins are like scarlet,
they shall be as white as snow;
though they are red like crimson,
they shall become like wool.
- 19 If you are willing and obedient,
you shall eat the good of the
land;
- 20 But if you refuse and rebel, you shall be devoured by the sword;
for the mouth of the LORD has spoken."
- 21 How the faithful city has become a harlot,
she that was full of justice!
Righteousness lodged in her,
but now murderers.
- 22 Your silver has become dross, your wine mixed with water.
- 23 Your princes are rebels and companions of thieves.
Every one loves a bribe and runs after gifts.
They do not defend the fatherless, and the widow's cause does not come to them.
- 24 Therefore the Lord says,
the LORD of hosts,
the Mighty One of Israel:
"Ah, I will vent my wrath on my
enemies,
and avenge myself on my foes.
- 25 I will turn my hand against you and will smelt away your dross as with lye
and remove all your alloy.
- 26 And I will restore your judges as at the first,
and your counselors as at the beginning.
- Afterward you shall be called the city of righteousness,
the faithful city."
- 27 Zion shall be redeemed by justice, and those in her who repent, by righteousness.
- 28 But rebels and sinners shall be destroyed together,
and those who forsake the LORD shall be consumed.
- 29 For you shall be ashamed of the oaks
in which you delighted;
and you shall blush for the gardens which you have chosen.
- 30 For you shall be like an oak whose leaf withers,
and like a garden without water.
- 31 And the strong shall become tow,
and his work a spark,
and both of them shall burn together,
with none to quench them.
- 2 The word which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.
- 2 It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the house of
the LORD
shall be established as the highest of
the mountains,
and shall be raised above the hills;
and all the nations shall flow to it,
and many peoples shall come,
and say:
- "Come, let us go up to the mountain
of the LORD,
to the house of the God of Jacob;
that he may teach us his ways
and that we may walk in his paths."
For out of Zion shall go forth the
law,
and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.
- 4 He shall judge between the nations, and shall decide for many peoples;
and they shall beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning
hooks;
nation shall not lift up sword against
nation,
neither shall they learn war any
more.
- 5 O house of Jacob,
come, let us walk
in the light of the LORD.

- ⁶ For thou hast rejected thy people,
the house of Jacob,
because they are full of diviners^a from the east and of soothsayers like the Philistines,
and they strike hands with foreigners.
- ⁷ Their land is filled with silver and
gold,
and there is no end to their treasures;
their land is filled with horses,
and there is no end to their chariots.
- ⁸ Their land is filled with idols;
they bow down to the work of their hands,
to what their own fingers have
made.
- ⁹ So man is humbled,
and men are brought low—forgive them not!
- ¹⁰ Enter into the rock, and hide in the dust
from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the glory of his majesty.
- ¹¹ The haughty looks of man shall be brought low,
and the pride of men shall be
humbled;
and the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.
- ¹² For the LORD of hosts has a day against all that is proud and lofty, against all that is lifted up and high;^b
- ¹³ against all the cedars of Lebanon, lofty and lifted up;
and against all the oaks of Bashan;
- ¹⁴ against all the high mountains, and against all the lofty hills;
- ¹⁵ against every high tower,
and against every fortified wall;
- ¹⁶ against all the ships of Tarshish, and against all the beautiful craft.
- ¹⁷ And the haughtiness of man shall be
humbled,
and the pride of men shall be
brought low;
and the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.
- ¹⁸ And the idols shall utterly pass away.
- ¹⁹ And men shall enter the caves of the rocks
and the holes of the ground,
from before the terror of the LORD,
- and from the glory of his majesty,
when he rises to terrify the earth.
- ²⁰ In that day men will cast forth their idols of silver and their idols of gold,
which they made for themselves to worship,
to the moles and to the bats, to enter the caverns of the rocks and the clefts of the cliffs,
from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the glory of his majesty,
when he rises to terrify the earth.
- ²² Turn away from man
in whose nostrils is breath, for of what account is he?
- 3 For, behold, the Lord, the LORD
of hosts,
is taking away from Jerusalem and from Judah
stay and staff,
the whole stay of bread,
and the whole stay of water;
- ² the mighty man and the soldier,
the judge and the prophet,
the diviner and the elder,
- ³ the captain of fifty and the man of rank,
the counselor and the skilful magician and the expert in charms.
- ⁴ And I will make boys their princes, and babes shall rule over them.
- ⁵ And the people will oppress one another,
every man his fellow
and every man his neighbor;
the youth will be insolent to the elder,
and the base fellow to the honorable.
- ⁶ When a man takes hold of his brother
in the house of his father, saying: “You have a mantle;
you shall be our leader,
and this heap of ruins
shall be under your rule”;
- ⁷ in that day he will speak out, saying:
“I will not be a healer;
in my house there is neither bread nor mantle;
you shall not make me
leader of the people.”
- ⁸ For Jerusalem has stumbled,
and Judah has fallen;

^a Cn: Heb lacks of diviners ^b Cn Compare Gk: Heb low because their speech and their deeds are against the LORD,

defying his glorious presence.

⁹ Their partiality witnesses against
them;

they proclaim their sin like Sodom,
they do not hide it.

Woe to them!

For they have brought evil upon themselves.

¹⁰ Tell the righteous that it shall be well with them,
for they shall eat the fruit of their deeds.

¹¹ Woe to the wicked! It shall be ill with
him,
for what his hands have done shall be done to him.

¹² My people—children are their oppressors,
and women rule over them.

O my people, your leaders mislead
you,
and confuse the course of your paths.

¹³ The LORD has taken his place to contend,
he stands to judge his people.^d

¹⁴ The LORD enters into judgment with the elders and princes of his
people:

“It is you who have devoured the vineyard,
the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

¹⁵ What do you mean by crushing my
people,
by grinding the face of the poor?”
says the Lord GOD of hosts.

¹⁶ The LORD said:

Because the daughters of Zion are haughty
and walk with outstretched necks, glancing wantonly with their eyes, mincing along as they go,
tinkling with their feet;

¹⁷ the Lord will smite with a scab the heads of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will lay bare their secret parts.

¹⁸ In that day the Lord will take away the finery of the anklets, the headbands, and the crescents; ¹⁹ the pendants, the bracelets, and the scarfs; ²⁰ the headdresses, the armlets, the sashes, the perfume boxes, and the amulets; ²¹ the signet rings and nose rings; ²² the festal robes, the mantles, the cloaks, and the handbags; ²³ the garments of gauze, the linen garments, the turbans, and the veils.

²⁴ Instead of perfume there will be rottenness;

and instead of a girdle, a rope;
and instead of well-set hair, baldness;
and instead of a rich robe, a girding of sackcloth;
instead of beauty, shame.^e

²⁵ Your men shall fall by the sword and your mighty men in battle.

²⁶ And her gates shall lament and mourn;
ravaged, she shall sit upon the ground.

4 And seven women shall take hold of one man in that day, saying, “We will eat our own bread and wear our own clothes, only let us be called by your name; take away our reproach.”

² In that day the branch of the LORD shall be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land shall be the pride and glory of the survivors of Israel. ³ And he who is left in Zion and remains in Jerusalem will be called holy, every one who has been recorded for life in Jerusalem, ⁴ when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion and cleansed the bloodstains of Jerusalem from its midst by a spirit of judgment and by a spirit of burning. ⁵ Then the LORD will create over the whole site of Mount Zion and over her assemblies a cloud by day, and smoke and the shining of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory there will be a canopy and a pavilion. ⁶ It will be for a shade by day from the heat, and for a refuge and a shelter from the storm and rain.

5 Let me sing for my beloved a love song concerning his vineyard:

My beloved had a vineyard on a very fertile hill.

² He dugged it and cleared it of stones, and planted it with choice vines;
he built a watchtower in the midst of
it,

^d Gk Syr: Heb judge peoples ^e One ancient Ms: Heb lacks shame

- and hewed out a wine vat in it;
and he looked for it to yield grapes,
but it yielded wild grapes.
- 3 And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah,
judge, I pray you, between me and my vineyard.
- 4 What more was there to do for my
vineyard,
that I have not done in it?
When I looked for it to yield grapes, why did it yield wild grapes?
- 5 And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard.
I will remove its hedge,
and it shall be devoured;
I will break down its wall,
and it shall be trampled down.
- 6 I will make it a waste;
it shall not be pruned or hoed, and briars and thorns shall grow up;
I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.
- 7 For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah
are his pleasant planting;
and he looked for justice, but behold, bloodshed;
for righteousness,
but behold, a cry!
- 8 Woe to those who join house to
house,
who add field to field,
until there is no more room, and you are made to dwell alone
in the midst of the land.
- 9 The LORD of hosts has sworn in my hearing:
"Surely many houses shall be desolate,
large and beautiful houses, without inhabitant.
- 10 For ten acres of vineyard shall yield
but one bath,
and a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah."
- 11 Woe to those who rise early in the morning,
that they may run after strong
drink,
who tarry late into the evening
- till wine inflames them!
- 12 They have lyre and harp, timbrel and flute and wine at their
feasts;
but they do not regard the deeds of
the LORD,

justice,
and the Holy God shows himself holy in righteousness.
- 17 Then shall the lambs graze as in their fatlings and kids^g shall feed among the ruins.

- 18 Woe to those who draw iniquity with who draw sin as with cart ropes, 19 who say: "Let him make haste, let him speed his work

that we may see it;
let the purpose of the Holy One of

for they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts,
and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.
- ²⁵ Therefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against his people, and he stretched out his hand against them and smote them, and the mountains quaked;
and their corpses were as refuse in the midst of the streets.
For all this his anger is not turned away
and his hand is stretched out still.

6 In the year that King Uzzi'ah died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up; and his train filled the temple. ²Above him stood the seraphim; each had six wings: with two he covered his face, and with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew.

³And one called to another and said:

"Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of
hosts;

the whole earth is full of his glory."

⁴And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called,
and the house was filled with smoke.

⁵And I said: "Woe is me! For I am lost; for I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts!"

⁶ Then flew one of the seraphim to me, having in his hand a burning coal which he had taken with tongs from the altar. ⁷And he touched my mouth, and said: "Behold, this has touched your lips; your guilt is taken away, and your sin forgiven." ⁸And I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send,
and who will go for us?" Then I said,
"Here am I! Send me." ⁹And he said,
"Go, and say to this people:

"Hear and hear, but do not understand;

see and see, but do not perceive."

¹⁰ Make the heart of this people fat, and their ears heavy,
and shut their eyes;

lest they see with their eyes,
and hear with their ears,
and understand with their hearts, and turn and be healed."

¹¹ Then I said, "How long, O Lord?"

And he said:

"Until cities lie waste
without inhabitant,
and houses without men,
and the land is utterly desolate,

¹² and the LORD removes men far away, and the forsaken places are many
in the midst of the land.

¹³And though a tenth remain in it,
it will be burned again,
like a terebinth or an oak, whose stump remains standing when it is felled."

The holy seed is its stump.

7 In the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, son of Uzzi'ah, king of Judah, Rezin the king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remali'ah the king of Israel came up to Jerusalem to wage war against it, but they could not conquer
it. ²When the house of David was told,
"Syria is in league with E'phraim," his heart and the heart of his people shook as the trees of the forest shake before the wind.

3 And the LORD said to Isaiah, "Go forth to meet Ahaz, you and She'ar-jash'ub^h your son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool on the highway to the Fuller's Field, ⁴ and say to him, "Take heed, be quiet, do not fear, and do not let your heart be faint because of these two smoldering stumps of firebrands, at the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria and the son of Remali'ah. ⁵ Because Syria, with E'phraim and the son of Remali'ah, has devised evil against you, saying, ⁶ "Let us go up against Judah and terrify it, and let us conquer it for ourselves, and set up the son of Ta'be-el as king in the midst of it," ⁷ thus says the Lord God:

It shall not stand,
and it shall not come to pass.

⁸ For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin. (Within sixty-five years E'phraim will be broken to pieces so that it will no longer be a people.)

⁹ And the head of E'phraim is Samar'ia, and the head of Samar'ia is the son of Remali'ah.

If you will not believe, surely you shall not be established."

10 Again the LORD spoke to Ahaz, ¹¹ "Ask a sign of the LORD your God; let it be deep as Sheol or high as heaven." ¹² But Ahaz said, "I will not ask, and I will not put the LORD to the test." ¹³ And he said, "Hear then, O house of David! Is it too little for you to weary men, that you weary my God also? ¹⁴ Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, a young woman^l shall conceive and bear^j a son, and shall call his name Imman'u-el.^k ¹⁵ He shall eat curds and honey when he knows how to refuse the evil and choose the good. ¹⁶ For before the child knows how to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land before whose two kings you are in dread will be deserted. ¹⁷ The LORD will bring upon you and upon your people and upon your father's house such days as have not come since the day that E'phraim departed from Judah—the king of Assyria."

18 In that day the LORD will whistle for the fly which is at the sources of the streams of Egypt, and for the bee which is in the land of Assyria. ¹⁹ And they will all come and settle in the steep ravines, and in the clefts of the rocks, and on all the thornbushes, and on all the pastures.

20 In that day the Lord will shave with a razor which is hired beyond the River—with the king of Assyria—the head and the hair of the feet, and it will sweep away the beard also.

21 In that day a man will keep alive a young cow and two sheep; ²² and because of the abundance of milk which they give, he will eat curds; for every one that is left in the land will eat curds and honey.

23 In that day every place where there used to be a thousand vines, worth a thousand shekels of silver, will become briers and thorns. ²⁴ With bow and arrows men will come there, for all the land will be briers and thorns; ²⁵ and as for all the hills which used to be hoed with a hoe, you will not come there for fear of briers and thorns; but they will become a place where cattle are let loose and where sheep tread.

8 Then the LORD said to me, "Take a large tablet and write upon it in common characters, 'Belonging to Ma'her-shal'al-hash'-baz.'" ² And I got reliable witnesses, Uri'ah the priest and Zechari'ah the son of Jeberechi'ah, to attest for me. ³ And I went to the prophetess, and she conceived and bore a son. Then the LORD said to me, "Call his name Ma'her-shal'al-hash'-baz; ⁴ for before the child knows how to cry 'My father' or 'My mother,' the wealth of Damascus and the spoil of Samar'ia will be carried away before the king of Assyria."

5 The LORD spoke to me again: ⁶ "Because this people have refused the waters of Shilo'ah that flow gently, and melt in fear before^m Rezin and the son of Remali'ah; ⁷ therefore, behold, the Lord is bringing up against them the waters of the River, mighty and many, the king of Assyria and all his glory; and it will rise over all its channels and go over all its banks; ⁸ and it will sweep on into Judah, it will overflow and pass on, reaching even to the neck; and its outspread wings will fill the breadth of your land, O Imman'u-el."

- ⁹ Be broken, you peoples, and be dismayed;
 give ear, all you far countries;
 gird yourselves and be dismayed;
 gird yourselves and be dismayed.
¹⁰ Take counsel together, but it will come to nought; speak a word, but it will not stand, for God is with us.^r

¹¹ For the LORD spoke thus to me with his strong hand upon me, and warned me not to walk in the way of this people, saying: ¹² "Do not call conspiracy all that this people call conspiracy, and do not fear what they fear, nor be in dread. ¹³ But the LORD of hosts, him you shall regard as holy; let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. ¹⁴ And he will become a sanctuary, and a stone of offense, and a rock of stumbling to both houses of Israel, a trap and a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁵ And many shall stumble thereon; they shall fall and be broken; they shall be snared and taken."

¹⁶ Bind up the testimony, seal the teaching among my disciples. ¹⁷ I will wait for the LORD, who is hiding his face from the house of Jacob, and I will hope in him. ¹⁸ Behold, I and the children whom the LORD has given me are signs and portents in Israel from the LORD of hosts, who dwells on Mount Zion. ¹⁹ And when they say to you, "Consult the mediums and the wizards who chirp and mutter," should not a people consult their God? Should they consult the dead on behalf of the living? ²⁰ To the teaching and to the testimony! Surely for this word which they speak there is no dawn. ²¹ They will pass through the land, greatly distressed and hungry; and when they are hungry, they will be enraged and will curse their king and their God, and turn their faces upward; ²² and they will look to the earth, but behold, distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish; and they will be thrust into thick darkness.

⁹ But there will be no gloom for her that was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naph'tali, but in the latter time he will make glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

- ²⁴ The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light;
 those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness,
 on them has light shined.
³ Thou hast multiplied the nation, thou hast increased its joy;
 they rejoice before thee
 as with joy at the harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil.
⁴ For the yoke of his burden, and the staff for his shoulder,
 the rod of his oppressor,
 thou hast broken as on the day of Mid'ian.
⁵ For every boot of the tramping warrior in battle tumult and every garment rolled in blood will be burned as fuel for the fire.
⁶ For to us a child is born, to us a son is given;
 and the government will be upon his shoulder, and his name will be called "Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace." ⁷ Of the increase of his government and of peace
 there will be no end,
 upon the throne of David, and over his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from this time forth and for evermore.
 The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.
⁸ The Lord has sent a word against Jacob, and it will light upon Israel;
⁹ and all the people will know, E'phraim and the inhabitants of Samar'ia, who say in pride and in arrogance of heart:

and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.
- 7 But he does not so intend,
and his mind does not so think;
but it is in his mind to destroy,
and to cut off nations not a few;
- 8 for he says:
“Are not my commanders all kings?
9 Is not Calno like Car'chemish?
Is not Hamath like Arpad?
Is not Samar'ia like Damascus?”
- 10 As my hand has reached to the kingdoms of the idols

12 When the Lord has finished all his work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem he^u will punish the arrogant boasting of the king of Assyria and his haughty pride. ¹³ For he says:

“By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom, for I have understooding;

I have removed the boundaries of peoples, and have plundered their treasures;
like a bull I have brought down those who sat on thrones.

¹⁴ My hand has found like a nest the wealth of the peoples; and as men gather eggs that have been forsaken so I have gathered all the earth;
and there was none that moved a wing, or opened the mouth, or chirped.”

¹⁵ Shall the axe vaunt itself over him who hews with it, or the saw magnify itself against him who wields it?
As if a rod should wield him who lifts it, or as if a staff should lift him who is not wood!

¹⁶ Therefore the Lord, the LORD of hosts, will send wasting sickness among his stout warriors,
and under his glory a burning will be kindled,
like the burning of fire.

¹⁷ The light of Israel will become a fire, and his Holy One a flame; and it will burn and devour his thorns and briars in one day.

¹⁸ The glory of his forest and of his fruitful land the LORD will destroy, both soul and body, and it will be as when a sick man wastes away.

¹⁹ The remnant of the trees of his forest will be so few that a child can write them down.

²⁰ In that day the remnant of Israel and the survivors of the house of Jacob will no more lean upon him that smote them, but will lean upon the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, in truth. ²¹ A remnant will return, the remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God. ²² For though your people Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will return. Destruction is decreed, overflowing with righteousness. ²³ For the Lord, the LORD of hosts, will make a full end, as decreed, in the midst of all the earth.

²⁴ Therefore thus says the Lord, the LORD of hosts: “O my people, who dwell in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrians when they smite with the rod and lift up their staff against you as the Egyptians did. ²⁵ For in a very little while my indignation will come to an end, and my anger will be directed to their destruction. ²⁶ And the LORD of hosts will wield against them a scourge, as when he smote Mid'ian at the rock of Oreb; and his rod will be over the sea, and he will lift it as he did in Egypt. ²⁷ And in that day his burden will depart from your shoulder, and his yoke will be destroyed from your neck.”

cruel, with wrath and fierce anger, to make the earth a desolation and to destroy its sinners from it.

22 "I will rise up against them," says the LORD of hosts, "and will cut off from Babylon name and remnant, offspring and posterity, says the LORD. ²³And I will make it a possession of the hedgehog, and pools of water, and I will sweep it with the broom of destruction, says the LORD of hosts.”

- ²⁴ The LORD of hosts has sworn:
 “As I have planned,
 so shall it be,
 and as I have purposed,
 so shall it stand,
²⁵ that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains trample him under foot;
 and his yoke shall depart from them,
 and his burden from their shoulder.” ²⁶ This is the purpose that is purposed concerning the whole earth; and this is the hand that is stretched out over all the nations.
²⁷ For the LORD of hosts has purposed, and who will annul it?
 His hand is stretched out,
 and who will turn it back?
²⁸ In the year that King Ahaz died came this oracle:
²⁹ “Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of you, that the rod which smote you is broken,
 for from the serpent’s root will come forth an adder,
 and its fruit will be a flying serpent.
³⁰ And the first-born of the poor will feed, and the needy lie down in safety;
 but I will kill your root with famine,
 and your remnant I^a will slay.
³¹ Wail, O gate; cry, O city;
 melt in fear, O Philistia, all of you!
 For smoke comes out of the north, and there is no straggler in his ranks.”
³² What will one answer the messengers of the nation?
 “The LORD has founded Zion, and in her the afflicted of his people find refuge.”

- 15 An oracle concerning Moab.
 Because Ar is laid waste in a night
 Moab is undone;
 because Kir is laid waste in a night
 Moab is undone.
² The daughter of Dibon^b has gone up to the high places to weep; over Nebo and over Med’eba Moab wails.
 On every head is baldness,
 every beard is shorn;
³ in the streets they gird on sackcloth;
 on the housetops and in the squares every one wails and melts in tears.
⁴ Heshbon and Elea’leh cry out, their voice is heard as far as Jahaz;
 therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud;
 his soul trembles.
⁵ My heart cries out for Moab;
 his fugitives flee to Zo’ar, to Eg’lath-shelish’iyah.
 For at the ascent of Luhith they go up weeping;
 on the road to Horona’im
 they raise a cry of destruction; ⁶ the waters of Nimrim
 are a desolation;
 the grass is withered, the new growth fails,
 the verdure is no more.
⁷ Therefore the abundance they have gained and what they have laid up they carry away
 over the Brook of the Willows.
⁸ For a cry has gone
 round the land of Moab;
 the wailing reaches to Egl’a’im,
 the wailing reaches to Beer-e’lim.
⁹ For the waters of Dibon^c are full of blood;
 yet I will bring upon Dibon^c even
 more,
 a lion for those of Moab who escape,
 for the remnant of the land.

- 16 They have sent lambs to the ruler of the land, from Sela, by way of the desert, to the mount of the daughter of Zion.
² Like fluttering birds,
 like scattered nestlings,

^a One ancient Ms Vg: Heb he ^b Cn: Heb the house and Dibon

14.29-31: Jer 47; Ezek 25.15-17; Joel 3.4-8; Amos 1.6-8; Zeph 2.4-7; Zech 9.5-7.
 15-16: Is 25.10-12; Jer 48; Ezek 25.8-11; Amos 2.1-3; Zeph 2.8-11.

so are the daughters of Moab at the fords of the Arnon.

³ "Give counsel,
grant justice;
make your shade like night at the height of noon;
hide the outcasts,
betray not the fugitive;

⁴ let the outcasts of Moab sojourn among you;
be a refuge to them
from the destroyer.

When the oppressor is no more,
and destruction has ceased, and he who tramples under foot has vanished from the land,

⁵ then a throne will be established in steadfast love
and on it will sit in faithfulness in the tent of David one who judges and seeks justice and is swift to do righteousness."

⁶ We have heard of the pride of Moab, how proud he was;
of his arrogance, his pride, and his insolence—
his boasts are false.

⁷ Therefore let Moab wail, let every one wail for Moab.
Mourn, utterly stricken, for the raisin-cakes of Kir-harcsest.

⁸ For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah;
the lords of the nations have struck down its branches, which reached to Jazer
and strayed to the desert;
its shoots spread abroad and passed over the sea.

⁹ Therefore I weep with the weeping of Jazer
for the vine of Sibmah;
I drench you with my tears,
O Heshbon and Elea'leh; for upon your fruit and your harvest the battle shout has fallen.

¹⁰ And joy and gladness are taken away from the fruitful field;
and in the vineyards no songs are sung,
no shouts are raised;
no treader treads out wine in the presses;
the vintage shout is hushed.^d

¹¹ Therefore my soul moans like a lyre for Moab,
and my heart for Kir-he'eres.

¹² And when Moab presents himself, when he wearies himself upon the high place, when he comes to his sanctuary to pray, he will not prevail.

¹³ This is the word which the LORD spoke concerning Moab in the past.
¹⁴ But now the LORD says, "In three years, like the years of a hireling, the glory of Moab will be brought into contempt, in spite of all his great multitude, and those who survive will be very few and feeble."

17 An oracle concerning Damascus.

Behold, Damascus will cease to be a
city,
and will become a heap of ruins.

² Her cities will be deserted for ever;^e they will be for flocks, which will lie down, and none will make them afraid.

³ The fortress will disappear from E'phraim,
and the kingdom from Damascus;
and the remnant of Syria will be like the glory of the children of Israel,
says the LORD of hosts.

⁴ And in that day
the glory of Jacob will be brought low,
and the fat of his flesh will grow lean.

⁵ And it shall be as when the reaper gathers standing grain and his arm harvests the ears, and as when one gleanes the cars of grain
in the Valley of Reph'aim.

⁶ Gleanings will be left in it,
as when an olive tree is beaten—
two or three berries
in the top of the highest bough, four or five
on the branches of a fruit tree, says the LORD God of Israel.

⁷ In that day men will regard their Maker, and their eyes will look to the Holy One of Israel; ⁸ they will not have regard for the altars, the work of their hands, and they will not look to what

^d Gk: Heb I have hushed ^e Cn Compare Gk: Heb the cities of Aroer are deserted 17.1-3; Jer 49.23-27; Amos 1.3-5; Zech 9.1.

their own fingers have made, either the Ashe'rim or the altars of incense.

9 In that day their strong cities will be like the deserted places of the Hivites and the Amorites,⁷ which they deserted because of the children of Israel, and there will be desolation.

10 For you have forgotten the God of your salvation, and have not remembered the Rock of your refuge;
therefore, though you plant pleasant plants and set out slips of an alien god, 11 though you make them grow on the day that you plant them, and make them blossom in the morning that you sow;

yet the harvest will flee away in a day of grief and incurable pain.

12 Ah, the thunder of many peoples, they thunder like the thundering of the sea!

Ah, the roar of nations,
they roar like the roaring of mighty waters!

13 The nations roar like the roaring of many waters, but he will rebuke them, and they will flee far away, chased like chaff on the mountains before the wind and whirling dust before the storm.

14 At evening time, behold, terror!
Before morning, they are no more!
This is the portion of those who despoil us, and the lot of those who plunder us.

18 Ah, land of whirring wings which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia;

2 which sends ambassadors by the Nile, in vessels of papyrus upon the waters!

Go, you swift messengers,
to a nation, tall and smooth,
to a nation feared near and far,
a nation mighty and conquering,
whose land the rivers divide.

3 All you inhabitants of the world,
you who dwell on the earth,

when a signal is raised on the mountains, look!

When a trumpet is blown, hear!

4 For thus the LORD said to me:
"I will quietly look from my dwelling like clear heat in sunshine, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest."

5 For before the harvest, when the blossom is over, and the flower becomes a ripening grape,
he will cut off the shoots with pruning hooks,
and the spreading branches he will hew away.

6 They shall all of them be left to the birds of prey of the mountains and to the beasts of the earth.
And the birds of prey will summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth will winter upon them.

7 At that time gifts will be brought to the LORD of hosts from a people tall and smooth, from a people feared near and far,
a nation mighty and conquering,
whose land the rivers divide,
to Mount Zion, the place of the name of the LORD of hosts.

19 An oracle concerning Egypt.
Behold, the LORD is riding on a swift cloud and comes to Egypt;

and the idols of Egypt will tremble at his presence, and the heart of the Egyptians will melt within them.

2 And I will stir up Egyptians against Egyptians, and they will fight, every man against his brother and every man against his neighbor, city against city, kingdom against kingdom;

3 and the spirit of the Egyptians within them will be emptied out, and I will confound their plans;
and they will consult the idols and the sorcerers,
and the mediums and the wizards;

⁷ Cf. Compare Gk: Heb the wood and the highest bough.
18: Zeph 2.12. 19: Jer 46; Ezek 29-32; Zech 14.18-19.

- 4 and I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a hard master; and a fierce king will rule over them, says the Lord, the LORD of hosts.
- 5 And the waters of the Nile will be dried up, and the river will be parched and dry;
- 6 and its canals will become foul, and the branches of Egypt's Nile will diminish and dry up, reeds and rushes will rot away.
- 7 There will be bare places by the Nile, on the brink of the Nile, and all that is sown by the Nile will dry up, be driven away, and be no more.
- 8 The fishermen will mourn and lament, all who cast hook in the Nile; and they will languish who spread nets upon the water.
- 9 The workers in combed flax will be in despair, and the weavers of white cotton.
- 10 Those who are the pillars of the land will be crushed, and all who work for hire will be grieved.
- 11 The princes of Zo'an are utterly foolish; the wise counselors of Pharaoh give stupid counsel. How can you say to Pharaoh, "I am a son of the wise, a son of ancient kings"?
- 12 Where then are your wise men? Let them tell you and make known what the LORD of hosts has purposed against Egypt.
- 13 The princes of Zo'an have become fools, and the princes of Memphis are deluded; those who are the cornerstones of her tribes have led Egypt astray.
- 14 The LORD has mingled within her a spirit of confusion; and they have made Egypt stagger in all her doings as a drunken man staggers in his vomit.
- 15 And there will be nothing for Egypt which head or tail, palm branch or reed, may do.

16 In that day the Egyptians will be like women, and tremble with fear before the hand which the LORD of hosts shakes over them. ¹⁷And the land of Judah will become a terror to the Egyptians; every one to whom it is mentioned will fear because of the purpose which the LORD of hosts has purposed against them.

18 In that day there will be five cities in the land of Egypt which speak the language of Canaan and swear allegiance to the LORD of hosts. One of these will be called the City of the Sun.

19 In that day there will be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar to the LORD at its border. ²⁰It will be a sign and a witness to the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt; when they cry to the LORD because of oppressors he will send them a savior, and will defend and deliver them. ²¹And the LORD will make himself known to the Egyptians; and the Egyptians will know the LORD in that day and worship with sacrifice and burnt offering, and they will make vows to the LORD and perform them. ²²And the LORD will smite Egypt, smiting and healing, and they will return to the LORD, and he will heed their supplications and heal them.

23 In that day there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian will come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians will worship with the Assyrians.

24 In that day Israel will be the third with Egypt and Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth, ²⁵whom the LORD of hosts has blessed, saying, "Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel my heritage."

20 In the year that the commander in chief, who was sent by Sargon the king of Assyria, came to Ashdod and fought against it and took it,—²at that time the LORD had spoken by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, "Go, and loose the sackcloth from your loins and take off your shoes from your feet," and he had done so, walking naked and barefoot—³the LORD said, "As my servant Isaiah has walked naked and barefoot for three years as a sign and a portent against Egypt and Ethiopia, ⁴so shall the king of Assyria lead away the Egyptians caprives and the Ethiopians exiles, both the young and the old, naked and barefoot, with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. ⁵ Then they shall be dismayed and confounded because of Ethiopia their hope and of Egypt their boast. ⁶ And the inhabitants of this coastland will say in that day, 'Behold, this is what has happened to those in whom we hoped and to whom we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria! And we, how shall we escape?' "

21 The oracle concerning the wilderness of the sea.

As whirlwinds in the Negeb sweep on,
it comes from the desert,
from a terrible land.

² A stern vision is told to me;
the plunderer plunders,
and the destroyer destroys.

Go up, O Elam,
lay siege, O Media;
all the sighing she has caused
I bring to an end.

³ Therefore my loins are filled with anguish;
pangs have seized me,
like the pangs of a woman in travail;

I am bowed down so that I cannot hear,
I am dismayed so that I cannot see.

⁴ My mind reels, horror has appalled me;
the twilight I longed for has been turned for me into trembling.

⁵ They prepare the table, they spread the rugs,
they eat, they drink.

Arise, O princes,
oil the shield!

⁶ For thus the Lord said to me:

"Go, set a watchman,
let him announce what he sees.

⁷ When he sees riders, horsemen in pairs, riders on asses, riders on camels, let him listen diligently,
very diligently."

⁸ Then he who saw^g cried:

"Upon a watchtower I stand, O Lord, continually by day,
and at my post I am stationed whole nights.

⁹ And, behold, here come riders, horsemen in pairs!"

And he answered,

"Fallen, fallen is Babylon;
and all the images of her gods he has shattered to the ground."

¹⁰ O my threshed and winnowed one, what I have heard from the LORD
of hosts,
the God of Israel, I announce to you.

¹¹ The oracle concerning Dumah.
One is calling to me from Se'ir,
"Watchman, what of the night?
Watchman, what of the night?"

¹² The watchman says:
"Morning comes, and also the night.
If you will inquire, inquire;
come back again."

¹³ The oracle concerning Arabia.
In the thickets in Arabia you will lodge,
O caravans of De'danites.

¹⁴ To the thirsty bring water, meet the fugitive with bread,
O inhabitants of the land of Tema.

¹⁵ For they have fled from the swords, from the drawn sword,
from the bent bow,
and from the press of battle.

¹⁶ For thus the Lord said to me,
"Within a year, according to the years of a hireling, all the glory of Kedar will come to an end; ¹⁷ and the remainder of the archers of the mighty men of the sons of Kedar will be few; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken."

22 The oracle concerning the valley of vision.

What do you mean that you have gone up,

all of you, to the housetops,

² you who are full of shoutings, tumultuous city, exultant town?

Your slain are not slain with the sword
or dead in battle.

³ All your rulers have fled together, without the bow they were captured.

All of you who were found were captured,
though they had fled far away.^h

⁴ Therefore I said:

"Look away from me,
let me weep bitter tears;

^g One ancient Ms: Heb a lion ^h Gk Syr Vg: Heb from far away

do not labor to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.”

⁵ For the Lord GOD of hosts has a day of tumult and trampling and confusion in the valley of vision, a battering down of walls and a shouting to the mountains.

⁶ And Elam bore the quiver with chariots and horsemen,ⁱ and Kir uncovered the shield.

⁷ Your choicest valleys were full of
chariots,
and the horsemen took their stand at the gates.

⁸ He has taken away the covering of Judah.

In that day you looked to the weapons of the House of the Forest,⁹ and you saw that the breaches of the city of David were many, and you collected the waters of the lower pool,¹⁰ and you counted the houses of Jerusalem, and you broke down the houses to fortify the wall.¹¹ You made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool. But you did not look to him who did it, or have regard for him who planned it long ago.

¹² In that day the Lord GOD of hosts called to weeping and mourning, to baldness and girding with sackcloth;

¹³ and behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine.

“Let us eat and drink,
for tomorrow we die.”

¹⁴ The LORD of hosts has revealed himself in my ears:

“Surely this iniquity will not be forgiven you till you die,”
says the Lord GOD of hosts.

¹⁵ Thus says the Lord GOD of hosts, “Come, go to this steward, to Shebna, who is over the household, and say to him: ¹⁶ What have you to do here and whom have you here, that you have hewn here a tomb for yourself, you who hew a tomb on the height, and carve a habitation for yourself in the rock?”

¹⁷ Behold, the LORD will hurl you away violently, O you strong man. He will seize firm hold on you,¹⁸ and whirl you round and round, and throw you like a ball into a wide land; there you shall die, and there shall be your splendid chariots,
you shame of your master’s house.

¹⁹ I will thrust you from your office, and you will be cast down from your station.

²⁰ In that day I will call my servant Eli’akim the son of Hilki’ah,²¹ and I will clothe him with your robe, and will bind your girdle on him, and will commit your authority to his hand; and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the house of Judah.

²² And I will place on his shoulder the key of the house of David; he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open.²³ And I will fasten him like a peg in a sure place, and he will become a throne of honor to his father’s house.²⁴ And they will hang on him the whole weight of his father’s house, the offspring and issue, every small vessel, from the cups to all the flagons.²⁵ In that day, says the LORD of hosts, the peg that was fastened in a sure place will give way; and it will be cut down and fall, and the burden that was upon it will be cut off, for the LORD has spoken.”

23 The oracle concerning Tyre.

Wail, O ships of Tarshish, for Tyre is laid waste, without house or haven!

From the land of Cyprus
it is revealed to them.

² Be still, O inhabitants of the coast,
O merchants of Sidon;

³ your messengers passed over the sea^j
and were on many waters;

your revenue was the grain of Shihor,
the harvest of the Nile;
you were the merchant of the nations.

⁴ Be ashamed, O Sidon, for the sea has spoken,

the stronghold of the sea, saying: “I have neither travailed nor given birth,

I have neither reared young men nor brought up virgins.”

⁵ When the report comes to Egypt, ⁱ The Hebrew of this line is obscure

^j One ancient Ms.: Heb who passed over the sea, they replenished you

22.22: Rev 3.7. 23: Ezek 26.1-28.19; Joel 3.4-8; Amos 1.9-10; Zech 9.3-4.

- they will be in anguish over the report about Tyre.
- 6 Pass over to Tarshish, wail, O inhabitants of the coast!
- 7 Is this your exultant city whose origin is from days of old, whose feet carried her
to settle afar?
- 8 Who has purposed this against Tyre, the bestower of crowns,
whose merchants were princes, whose traders were the honored of
the earth?
- 9 The LORD of hosts has purposed it, to defile the pride of all glory, to dishonor all the honored of the earth.
- 10 Overflow your land like the Nile, O daughter of Tarshish;
there is no restraint any more.
- 11 He has stretched out his hand over
the sea,
he has shaken the kingdoms;
the LORD has given command concerning Canaan
to destroy its strongholds.
- 12 And he said:
"You will no more exult,
O oppressed virgin daughter of Sidon;
arise, pass over to Cyprus,
even there you will have no rest."

13 Behold the land of the Chalde'ans!
This is the people; it was not Assyria.
They destined Tyre for wild beasts.
They erected their siege towers, they razed her palaces, they made her a ruin.^a

- 14 Wail, O ships of Tarshish,
for your stronghold is laid waste.
- 15 In that day Tyre will be forgotten for seventy years, like the days of one king.
At the end of seventy years, it will happen to Tyre as in the song of the harlot:
- 16 "Take a harp,
go about the city,
O forgotten harlot!
Make sweet melody,
sing many songs,
that you may be remembered."
- 17 At the end of seventy years, the LORD will visit Tyre, and she will return to her hire, and will play the harlot with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth. ¹⁸ Her merchandise and her hire will be dedicated to the LORD; it will not be stored or hoarded, but her merchandise will supply abundant food and fine clothing for those who dwell before the LORD.

- 24 Behold, the LORD will lay waste the earth and make it desolate, and he will twist its surface and scatter its inhabitants.
- 2 And it shall be, as with the people,
so with the priest;
as with the slave, so with his master;
as with the maid, so with her mistress;
as with the buyer, so with the seller;
as with the lender, so with the borrower;
as with the creditor, so with the debtor.
- 3 The earth shall be utterly laid waste and utterly despoiled;
for the LORD has spoken this word.
- 4 The earth mourns and withers,
the world languishes and withers;
the heavens languish together with
the earth.
- 5 The earth lies polluted
under its inhabitants;
for they have transgressed the laws, violated the statutes,
broken the everlasting covenant.
- 6 Therefore a curse devours the earth, and its inhabitants suffer for their guilt;
therefore the inhabitants of the earth
are scorched,
and few men are left.
- 7 The wine mourns,
the vine languishes,
all the merry-hearted sigh.
- 8 The mirth of the timbrels is stilled,
the noise of the jubilant has ceased,
the mirth of the lyre is stilled.
- 9 No more do they drink wine with singing;
strong drink is bitter to those who drink it.
- 10 The city of chaos is broken down, every house is shut up so that none can enter.
- 11 There is an outcry in the streets for lack of wine;
all joy has reached its eventide;

^a The Hebrew of this verse is obscure 23.17: Rev 17.2. 24.8: Rev 18.22.

- the gladness of the earth is banished.
- 12 Desolation is left in the city,
the gates are battered into ruins.
- 13 For thus it shall be in the midst of the earth
among the nations,
as when an olive tree is beaten,
as at the gleaning when the vintage is done.
- 14 They lift up their voices, they sing for joy;
over the majesty of the LORD they shout from the west.
- 15 Therefore in the east give glory to the LORD;
in the coastlands of the sea, to the name of the LORD, the God of Israel.
- 16 From the ends of the earth we hear songs of praise, of glory to the Righteous One.
But I say, "I pine away,
I pine away. Woe is me!
For the treacherous deal treacherously, the treacherous deal very treacherously."
- 17 Terror, and the pit, and the snare are upon you, O inhabitant of the earth!
- 18 He who flees at the sound of the terror shall fall into the pit;
and he who climbs out of the pit shall be caught in the snare.
For the windows of heaven are opened,
and the foundations of the earth tremble.
- 19 The earth is utterly broken,
the earth is rent asunder,
the earth is violently shaken.
- 20 The earth staggers like a drunken man,
it sways like a hut;
its transgression lies heavy upon it,
and it falls, and will not rise again.
- 21 On that day the LORD will punish the host of heaven, in heaven, and the kings of the earth, on the earth.
- 22 They will be gathered together as prisoners in a pit;
they will be shut up in a prison,
- and after many days they will be punished.
- 23 Then the moon will be confounded,
and the sun ashamed;
for the LORD of hosts will reign on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem and before his elders he will manifest his glory.
- 25 O LORD, thou art my God;
I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name;
for thou hast done wonderful things, plans formed of old, faithful and sure.
- 2 For thou hast made the city a heap,
the fortified city a ruin;
the palace of aliens is a city no more,
it will never be rebuilt.
- 3 Therefore strong peoples will glorify thee;
cities of ruthless nations will fear thee.
- 4 For thou hast been a stronghold to the poor,
a stronghold to the needy in his distress,
a shelter from the storm and a shade from the heat;
for the blast of the ruthless is like a storm against a wall, like heat in a dry place.
- 5 Thou dost subdue the noise of the aliens;
as heat by the shade of a cloud,
so the song of the ruthless is stilled.
- 6 On this mountain the LORD of hosts will make for all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of wine on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wine on the lees well refined. ⁷And he will destroy on this mountain the covering that is cast over all peoples, the veil that is spread over all nations. ⁸He will swallow up death for ever, and the LORD GOD will wipe away tears from all faces, and the reproach of his people he will take away from all the earth; for the LORD has spoken.
- 9 It will be said on that day, "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, that he might save us. This is the LORD; we have waited for him; let us be glad and rejoice in his salvation."
- 10 For the hand of the LORD will rest on this mountain, and Moab shall be trodden down in his place, as straw is trodden down in a dung-pit. ¹¹And he will spread out his hands in the midst of it as a swimmer spreads his hands out to swim; but the LORD will lay low his pride together with the skill^l of his hands. ¹²And the high fortifications of his walls he will bring down, lay low, and cast to the ground, even to the dust.

26 In that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah:

- "We have a strong city;
he sets up salvation
as walls and bulwarks.
² Open the gates,
that the righteous nation which keeps faith
may enter in.
³ Thou dost keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee,
because he trusts in thee.
⁴ Trust in the LORD for ever, for the LORD GOD
is an everlasting rock.
⁵ For he has brought low
the inhabitants of the height, the lofty city.
He lays it low, lays it low to the
ground,
casts it to the dust.
⁶ The foot tramples it,
the feet of the poor,
the steps of the needy."⁷
- ⁷ The way of the righteous is level;
thou^m dost make smooth the path of the righteous.
⁸ In the path of thy judgments,
O LORD, we wait for thee;
thy memorial name
is the desire of our soul.
⁹ My soul yearns for thee in the
night,
my spirit within me earnestly seeks
thee.
For when thy judgments are in the
earth,
the inhabitants of the world learn
righteousness.
¹⁰ If favor is shown to the wicked, he does not learn righteousness;
in the land of uprightness he deals perversely
and does not see the majesty of the
LORD.
¹¹ O LORD, thy hand is lifted up, but they see it not.

Let them see thy zeal for thy people, and be ashamed.

- Let the fire for thy adversaries consume them.
¹² O LORD, thou wilt ordain peace for
us,
thou hast wrought for us all our
works.
¹³ O LORD our God,
other lords besides thee have ruled over us,
but thy name alone we acknowledge.
¹⁴ They are dead, they will not live;
they are shades, they will not arise;
to that end thou hast visited them with destruction and wiped out all remembrance of
them.
¹⁵ But thou hast increased the nation,
O LORD,
thou hast increased the nation;
thou art glorified;
thou hast enlarged all the borders of the land.
¹⁶ O LORD, in distress they sought thee, they poured out a prayerⁿ when thy chastening was upon
them.
¹⁷ Like a woman with child, who writhes and cries out in her pangs,
when she is near her time,
so were we because of thee, O LORD; ¹⁸ we were with child, we writhed, we have as it were brought forth wind.
We have wrought no deliverance in
the earth,
and the inhabitants of the world have not fallen.
¹⁹ Thy dead shall live, their bodiesⁿ shall rise.
O dwellers in the dust, awake and sing for joy!
For thy dew is a dew of light, and on the land of the shades thou wilt let it fall.
²⁰ Come, my people, enter your chambers,
and shut your doors behind you;
hide yourselves for a little while until the wrath is past.
²¹ For behold, the LORD is coming forth out of his place

^l The meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain ^m Cn Compare Gk: Heb thou (that art) upright to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity, and the earth will disclose the blood shed upon her,

and will no more cover her slain.

27 In that day the LORD with his hard and great and strong sword will punish Leviathan the fleeing serpent, Leviathan the twisting serpent, and he will slay the dragon that is in the sea.

² In that day:

“A pleasant vineyard, sing of it!

³ I, the LORD, am its keeper;
every moment I water it.

Lest any one harm it,
I guard it night and day;

⁴ I have no wrath.

Would that I had thorns and briers to battle!

I would set out against them,
I would burn them up together.

⁵ Or let them lay hold of my protection,
let them make peace with me,
let them make peace with me.”

⁶ In days to come^a Jacob shall take root,

Israel shall blossom and put forth shoots, and fill the whole world with fruit.

⁷ Has he smitten them as he smote those who smote them?

Or have they been slain as their slayers were slain?

⁸ Measure by measure,^b by exile thou didst contend with them;

he removed them with his fierce blast in the day of the east wind.

⁹ Therefore by this the guilt of Jacob will be expiated, and this will be the full fruit of the removal of his sin:

when he makes all the stones of the altars like chalkstones crushed to pieces, no Ashe'rim or incense altars will remain standing.

¹⁰ For the fortified city is solitary, a habitation deserted and forsaken,
like the wilderness;

there the calf grazes,

there he lies down, and strips its branches.

¹¹ When its boughs are dry, they are broken;

women come and make a fire of them.

For this is a people without discernment;

therefore he who made them will not have compassion on them, he that formed them will show them no favor.

¹² In that day from the river Euphrates to the Brook of Egypt the LORD will thresh out the grain, and you will be gathered one by one, O people of Israel. ¹³ And in that day a great trumpet will be blown, and those who were lost in the land of Assyria and those who were driven out to the land of Egypt will come and worship the LORD on the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

28 Woe to the proud crown of the drunkards of E'phraim, and to the fading flower of its glorious beauty, which is on the head of the rich valley of those overcome with wine!

² Behold, the Lord has one who is mighty and strong;

like a storm of hail, a destroying tempest,

like a storm of mighty, overflowing waters,

he will cast down to the earth with violence.

³ The proud crown of the drunkards of E'phraim will be trodden under foot;

⁴ and the fading flower of its glorious beauty, which is on the head of the rich valley,

will be like a first-ripe fig before the summer:

when a man sees it, he eats it up as soon as it is in his hand.

⁵ In that day the LORD of hosts will be a crown of glory, and a diadem of beauty, to the remnant of his people;

⁶ and a spirit of justice to him who sits in judgment,

^a Heb Those to come. ^b Compare Syr Vg Tg: The meaning of the Hebrew word is unknown

- and strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.
- 7 These also reel with wine and stagger with strong drink;
the priest and the prophet reel with strong drink,
they are confused with wine,
they stagger with strong drink;
they err in vision,
they stumble in giving judgment.
- 8 For all tables are full of vomit,
no place is without filthiness.
- 9 "Whom will he teach knowledge, and to whom will he explain the message?
Those who are weaned from the milk,
those taken from the breast?
- 10 For it is precept upon precept, precept upon precept,
line upon line, line upon line,
here a little, there a little."
- 11 Nay, but by men of strange lips and with an alien tongue
the LORD will speak to this people, to whom he has said, 12 "This is rest;
give rest to the weary;
and this is repose";
yet they would not hear.
- 13 Therefore the word of the LORD will be to them
precept upon precept, precept upon precept,
line upon line, line upon line,
here a little, there a little;
that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and
taken.
- 14 Therefore hear the word of the LORD,
you scoffers,
who rule this people in Jerusalem!
- 15 Because you have said, "We have made a covenant with death, and with Sheol we have an agreement;
when the overwhelming scourge passes through
it will not come to us;
for we have made lies our refuge, and in falsehood we have taken shelter";
- 16 therefore thus says the Lord GOD,
- "Behold, I am laying in Zion for a foundation
a stone, a tested stone,
a precious cornerstone, of a sure
foundation:
'He who believes will not be in haste.'
- 17 And I will make justice the line, and righteousness the plummet;
and hail will sweep away the refuge of lies,
and waters will overwhelm the
shelter."
- 18 Then your covenant with death will be annulled,
and your agreement with Sheol will not stand;
when the overwhelming scourge
passes through
you will be beaten down by it.
- 19 As often as it passes through it will take you;
for morning by morning it will pass through,
by day and by night;
and it will be sheer terror to understand the message.
- 20 For the bed is too short to stretch oneself on it,
and the covering too narrow to wrap oneself in it.
- 21 For the LORD will rise up as on Mount Pera'zim,
he will be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon;
to do his deed—strange is his deed!
and to work his work—alien is his work!
- 22 Now therefore do not scoff, lest your bonds be made strong;
for I have heard a decree of destruction
from the Lord GOD of hosts upon the whole land.
- 23 Give ear, and hear my voice;
hearken, and hear my speech.
- 24 Does he who plows for sowing plow continually?
does he continually open and harrow his ground?
- 25 When he has leveled its surface, does he not scatter dill, sow
cummin,
and put in wheat in rows and barley in its proper place, and spelt as the border?

- ²⁶ For he is instructed aright;
his God teaches him.
- ²⁷ Dill is not threshed with a threshing sledge,
nor is a cart wheel rolled over
cummin;
but dill is beaten out with a stick,
and cummin with a rod.
- ²⁸ Does one crush bread grain?
No, he does not thresh it for ever;
when he drives his cart wheel over it with his horses, he does not crush
it.
- ²⁹ This also comes from the LORD of
hosts;
he is wonderful in counsel,
and excellent in wisdom.

29 Ho Ariel, Ariel,
the city where David encamped!

- Add year to year;
let the feasts run their round.
- ² Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be moaning and lamentation,
and she shall be to me like an Ariel.
- ³ And I will encamp against you round about,
and will besiege you with towers and I will raise siegeworks against
you.
- ⁴ Then deep from the earth you shall speak,
from low in the dust your words shall come;
your voice shall come from the ground like the voice of a ghost, and your speech shall whisper out of the dust.
- ⁵ But the multitude of your foes^s shall be like small dust,
and the multitude of the ruthless like passing chaff.
And in an instant, suddenly,
- ⁶ you will be visited by the LORD
of hosts
with thunder and with earthquake and great noise,
with whirlwind and tempest,
and the flame of a devouring fire.
- ⁷ And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, all that fight against her and her stronghold and distress her, shall be like a dream, a vision of the night.

- ⁸ As when a hungry man dreams he is eating and awakes with his hunger not satisfied, or as when a thirsty man dreams he is drinking
and awakes faint, with his thirst not quenched,
so shall the multitude of all the nations be that fight against Mount Zion.
- ⁹ Stupefy yourselves and be in a stupor, blind yourselves and be blind!
Be drunk, but not with wine;
stagger, but not with strong drink!
- ¹⁰ For the LORD has poured out upon
you
a spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes, the prophets,
and covered your heads, the seers.
- ¹¹ And the vision of all this has become to you like the words of a book that is sealed. When men give it to one who can read, saying, "Read this," he says, "I cannot, for it is sealed." ¹² And when they give the book to one who cannot read, saying, "Read this," he says, "I cannot read."
- ¹³ And the Lord said:
"Because this people draw near with their mouth
and honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me,
and their fear of me is a commandment of men learned by rote;
- ¹⁴ therefore, behold, I will again do marvelous things with this
people,
wonderful and marvelous;
and the wisdom of their wise men shall perish,
and the discernment of their discerning men shall be hid."
- ¹⁵ Woe to those who hide deep from the LORD their counsel, whose deeds are in the dark, and who say, "Who sees us?
Who knows us?"
- ¹⁶ You turn things upside down!
Shall the potter be regarded as the clay;

^s Cf. Heb strangers

- that the thing made should say of its maker,
 "He did not make me";
 or the thing formed say of him who formed it,
 "He has no understanding"?
- ¹⁷ Is it not yet a very little while until Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be regarded as a forest?
- ¹⁸ In that day the deaf shall hear the words of a book, and out of their gloom and darkness the eyes of the blind shall see.
- ¹⁹ The meek shall obtain fresh joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall exult in the Holy One of Israel.
- ²⁰ For the ruthless shall come to nought and the scoffer cease, and all who watch to do evil shall be cut off,
- ²¹ who by a word make a man out to be an offender, and lay a snare for him who reproves in the gate, and with an empty plea turn aside him who is in the right.
- ²² Therefore thus says the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob:
 "Jacob shall no more be ashamed, no more shall his face grow pale.
- ²³ For when he sees his children, the work of my hands, in his midst, they will sanctify my name; they will sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and will stand in awe of the God of Israel.
- ²⁴ And those who err in spirit will come to understanding, and those who murmur will accept instruction."
- 30 "Woe to the rebellious children," says the LORD,
 "who carry out a plan, but not mine;
 and who make a league, but not of my spirit,
 that they may add sin to sin;
² who set out to go down to Egypt, without asking for my counsel,
- to take refuge in the protection of Pharaoh, and to seek shelter in the shadow of Egypt!
³ Therefore shall the protection of Pharaoh turn to your shame, and the shelter in the shadow of Egypt to your humiliation.
- ⁴ For though his officials are at Zo'an and his envoys reach Ha'nes, ⁵ every one comes to shame through a people that cannot profit them, that brings neither help nor profit, but shame and disgrace."
- ⁶ An oracle on the beasts of the Negeb. Through a land of trouble and anguish, from where come the lioness and the lion, the viper and the flying serpent, they carry their riches on the backs of asses, and their treasures on the humps of camels, to a people that cannot profit them.
- ⁷ For Egypt's help is worthless and empty, therefore I have called her "Rahab who sits still."
- ⁸ And now, go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come as a witness for ever.
- ⁹ For they are a rebellious people, lying sons, sons who will not hear the instruction of the LORD;
- ¹⁰ who say to the seers, "See not"; and to the prophets, "Prophecy not to us what is right; speak to us smooth things, prophesy illusions,
- ¹¹ leave the way, turn aside from the path, let us hear no more of the Holy One of Israel."
- ¹² Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel,
 "Because you despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and rely on them; ¹³ therefore this iniquity shall be to you

- like a break in a high wall, bulging out, and about to collapse, whose crash comes suddenly, in an instant;
- 14 and its breaking is like that of a potter's vessel which is smashed so ruthlessly that among its fragments not a sherd is found with which to take fire from the hearth, or to dip up water out of the cistern."
- 15 For thus said the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel,
"In returning and rest you shall be saved;
in quietness and in trust shall be your strength."
And you would not, 16 but you said,
"No! We will speed upon horses," therefore you shall speed away;
and, "We will ride upon swift steeds," therefore your pursuers shall be swift.
- 17 A thousand shall flee at the threat of one,
at the threat of five you shall flee, till you are left
like a flagstaff on the top of a mountain, like a signal on a hill.
- 18 Therefore the LORD waits to be gracious to you;
therefore he exalts himself to show mercy to you.
For the LORD is a God of justice;
blessed are all those who wait for him.
- 19 Yea, O people in Zion who dwell at Jerusalem; you shall weep no more. He will surely be gracious to you at the sound of your cry; when he hears it, he will answer you. 20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your Teacher will not hide himself any more, but your eyes shall see your Teacher. 21 And your ears shall hear a word behind you, saying, "This is the way, walk in it," when you turn to the right or when you turn to the left. 22 Then you will defile your silver-covered graven images and your gold-plated molten images. You will scatter them as
- unclean things; you will say to them, "Begone!"
- 23 And he will give rain for the seed with which you sow the ground, and grain, the produce of the ground, which will be rich and plenteous. In that day your cattle will graze in large pastures; 24 and the oxen and the asses that till the ground will eat salted provender, which has been winnowed with shovel and fork. 25 And upon every lofty mountain and every high hill there will be brooks running with water, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. 26 Moreover the light of the moon will be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day when the LORD binds up the hurt of his people, and heals the wounds inflicted by his blow.
- 27 Behold, the name of the LORD comes from far, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke;
his lips are full of indignation,
and his tongue is like a devouring fire; 28 his breath is like an overflowing stream that reaches up to the neck;
to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction, and to place on the jaws of the peoples a bridle that leads astray.
- 29 You shall have a song as in the night when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one sets out to the sound of the flute to go to the mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel. 30 And the LORD will cause his majestic voice to be heard and the descending blow of his arm to be seen, in furious anger and a flame of devouring fire, with a cloudburst and tempest and hailstones. 31 The Assyrians will be terror-stricken at the voice of the LORD, when he smites with his rod. 32 And every stroke of the staff of punishment which the LORD lays upon them will be to the sound of timbrels and lyres; battling with brandished arm he will fight with them. 33 For a burning place^c has long been prepared; yea, for the king^d it is made ready, its pyre made deep and wide, with fire and wood in

^c Or Topheth ^d Or Molech

abundance; the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, kindles
it.

31 Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help
and rely on horses,
who trust in chariots because they are many
and in horsemen because they are very strong,
but do not look to the Holy One of Israel

or consult the LORD!

² And yet he is wise and brings disaster,
he does not call back his words, but will arise against the house of the evildoers,
and against the helpers of those who work iniquity.

³ The Egyptians are men, and not
God;
and their horses are flesh, and not spirit.

When the LORD stretches out his hand,
the helper will stumble, and he who is helped will fall, and they will all perish together.

⁴ For thus the LORD said to me, As a lion or a young lion growls over his prey,
and when a band of shepherds is called forth against him is not terrified by their shouting or daunted at their noise, so the LORD of hosts will come down to fight upon Mount Zion and upon its hill.

⁵ Like birds hovering, so the LORD of
hosts
will protect Jerusalem;
he will protect and deliver it,
he will spare and rescue it.

⁶ Turn to him from whom you^v have deeply revolted, O people of Israel.
⁷ For in that day every one shall cast away his idols of silver and his idols of gold, which your hands have sinfully made for you.

⁸ "And the Assyrian shall fall by a sword, not of man;
and a sword, not of man, shall devour him;
and he shall flee from the sword,

^v Heb they

and his young men shall be put to forced labor.

⁹ His rock shall pass away in terror, and his officers desert the standard in panic,"
says the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

32 Behold, a king will reign in righteousness,
and princes will rule in justice.

² Each will be like a hiding place from
the wind,
a covert from the tempest,
like streams of water in a dry place, like the shade of a great rock in a weary land.

³ Then the eyes of those who see will not be closed,
and the ears of those who hear will hearken.

⁴ The mind of the rash will have good judgment,
and the tongue of the stammerers will speak readily and distinctly.

⁵ The fool will no more be called noble, nor the knave said to be honorable.

⁶ For the fool speaks folly, and his mind plots iniquity:
to practice ungodliness,
to utter error concerning the LORD, to leave the craving of the hungry unsatisfied,
and to deprive the thirsty of drink.

⁷ The knaveries of the knave are evil;
he devises wicked devices to ruin the poor with lying words, even when the plea of the needy is right.

⁸ But he who is noble devises noble things,
and by noble things he stands.

⁹ Rise up, you women who are at ease, hear my voice;
you complacent daughters, give ear to my speech.

¹⁰ In little more than a year you will shudder, you complacent women;
for the vintage will fail,
the fruit harvest will not come.

¹¹ Tremble, you women who are at ease, shudder, you complacent ones;
strip, and make yourselves bare,
and gird sackcloth upon your loins.

¹² Beat upon your breasts for the pleasant fields,

- for the fruitful vine, 13 for the soil of my people growing up in thorns and briers; yea, for all the joyous houses in the joyful city.
 14 For the palace will be forsaken,
 the populous city deserted;
 the hill and the watchtower will become dens for ever, a joy of wild asses,
 a pasture of flocks;
 15 until the Spirit is poured upon us from on high,
 and the wilderness becomes a fruitful field,
 and the fruitful field is deemed a forest.
 16 Then justice will dwell in the wilderness,
 and righteousness abide in the fruitful field.
 17 And the effect of righteousness will be peace,
 and the result of righteousness,
 quietness and trust for ever.
 18 My people will abide in a peaceful habitation,
 in secure dwellings, and in quiet resting places.
 19 And the forest will utterly go down,^w and the city will be utterly laid low.
 20 Happy are you who sow beside all waters,
 who let the feet of the ox and the ass range free.

33 Woe to you, destroyer, who yourself have not been destroyed;
 you treacherous one,
 with whom none has dealt treach-erously!
 When you have ceased to destroy,
 you will be destroyed;
 and when you have made an end of dealing treacherously,
 you will be dealt with treacherously.

- 2 O LORD, be gracious to us; we wait for thee.
 Be our arm every morning,
 our salvation in the time of trouble.
 3 At the thunderous noise peoples flee, at the lifting up of thyself nations are scattered;

- 4 and spoil is gathered as the caterpillar gathers;
 as locusts leap, men leap upon it.
 5 The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high;
 he will fill Zion with justice and
 righteousness;
 6 and he will be the stability of your
 times,
 abundance of salvation, wisdom,
 and knowledge;
 the fear of the LORD is his treasure.
 7 Behold, the valiant ones^v cry without;
 the envoys of peace weep bitterly.
 8 The highways lie waste,
 the wayfaring man ceases.
 Covenants are broken,
 witnesses^z are despised,
 there is no regard for man.
 9 The land mourns and languishes; Lebanon is confounded and withers
 away;
 Sharon is like a desert;
 and Bashan and Carmel shake off their leaves.
 10 "Now I will arise," says the LORD,
 "now I will lift myself up;
 now I will be exalted." 11 You conceive chaff, you bring forth stubble;
 your breath is a fire that will consume you.
 12 And the peoples will be as if burned to lime,
 like thorns cut down, that are burned in the fire."
 13 Hear, you who are far off, what I have done;
 and you who are near, acknowledge my might.
 14 The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling has seized the godless:
 "Who among us can dwell with the devouring fire?
 Who among us can dwell with everlasting burnings?"
 15 He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly,
 who despises the gain of oppres-
 sions,
 who shakes his hands, lest they hold a bribe,

^w Cn: Heb And it will hail when the forest comes down who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed

and shuts his eyes from looking upon evil, 16 he will dwell on the heights; his place of defense will be the fortresses of rocks;
his bread will be given him, his water will be sure.

17 Your eyes will see the king in his beauty;
they will behold a land that stretches afar.

18 Your mind will muse on the terror:
"Where is he who counted, where is he who weighed the tribute?
Where is he who counted the towers?"

19 You will see no more the insolent
people,
the people of an obscure speech which you cannot comprehend, stammering in a tongue which you cannot understand.

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our appointed feasts!

Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a quiet habitation, an immovable tent,
whose stakes will never be plucked
up,

nor will any of its cords be broken.

21 But there the LORD in majesty will be for us
a place of broad rivers and streams, where no galley with oars can go,
nor stately ship can pass.

22 For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our ruler,
the LORD is our king; he will save
us.

23 Your tackle hangs loose;
it cannot hold the mast firm in its place,
or keep the sail spread out.

Then prey and spoil in abundance will be divided;

even the lame will take the prey.

24 And no inhabitant will say, "I am sick";
the people who dwell there will be forgiven their iniquity.

34 Draw near, O nations, to hear, and hearken, O peoples!

Let the earth listen, and all that fills
it;
the world, and all that comes from
it.

2 For the LORD is enraged against all
the nations,
and furious against all their host,
he has doomed them, has given them over for slaughter.

3 Their slain shall be cast out, and the stench of their corpses
shall rise;
the mountains shall flow with their
blood.

4 All the host of heaven shall rot away, and the skies roll up like a scroll.
All their host shall fall,
as leaves fall from the vine,
like leaves falling from the fig tree.

5 For my sword has drunk its fill in the heavens;
behold, it descends for judgment
upon Edom,
upon the people I have doomed.

6 The LORD has a sword; it is sated with blood,
it is gorged with fat,
with the blood of lambs and goats,
with the fat of the kidneys of rams.

For the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah,
a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 Wild oxen shall fall with them, and young steers with the mighty bulls.

Their land shall be soaked with
blood,
and their soil made rich with fat.

8 For the LORD has a day of vengeance, a year of recompense for the cause of Zion.

9 And the streams of Edom^a shall be turned into pitch,
and her soil into brimstone;
her land shall become burning pitch.

10 Night and day it shall not be
quenched;
its smoke shall go up for ever.
From generation to generation it shall lie waste;

- 11 But the hawk and the porcupine shall possess it,
the owl and the raven shall dwell in it.

- 12 They shall name it No Kingdom There,

- 13 Thorns shall grow over its strongholds, nettles and thistles in its fortresses.
It shall be the haunt of jackals, an abode for ostriches.
- 14 And wild beasts shall meet with hyenas,
the satyr shall cry to his fellow;
yea, there shall the night hag alight,
and find for herself a resting place.
- 15 There shall the owl nest and lay and hatch and gather her young in her shadow; yea, there shall the kites be gathered,
each one with her mate.
- 16 Seek and read from the book of the LORD:
Not one of these shall be missing;
none shall be without her mate.
For the mouth of the LORD has commanded,
and his Spirit has gathered them.
- 17 He has cast the lot for them,
his hand has portioned it out to them with the line;
they shall possess it for ever,
from generation to generation they shall dwell in it.
- 35 The wilderness and the dry land shall be glad,
the desert shall rejoice and blossom;
like the crocus ² it shall blossom abundantly,

They shall see the glory of the LORD,
the majesty of our God.
- ³ Strengthen the weak hands, and make firm the feeble knees.
- ⁴ Say to those who are of a fearful heart,
"Be strong, fear not!
Behold, your God
will come with vengeance, with the recompense of God.
He will come and save you."
- ⁵ Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened,
and the ears of the deaf unstopped;
- ⁶ then shall the lame man leap like a hart,
and the tongue of the dumb sing for joy.
For waters shall break forth in the wilderness, and streams in the desert;
- ⁷ the burning sand shall become a pool,
and the thirsty ground springs of water;
the haunt of jackals shall become a swamp,^c
the grass shall become reeds and rushes.
- ⁸ And a highway shall be there, and it shall be called the Holy Way;
the unclean shall not pass over it,^d and fools shall not err therein.
- ⁹ No lion shall be there,
nor shall any ravenous beast come up on it;
they shall not be found there,
but the redeemed shall walk there.
- ¹⁰ And the ransomed of the LORD shall return,
and come to Zion with singing;
everlasting joy shall be upon their heads;
they shall obtain joy and gladness,
and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.
- 36 In the fourteenth year of King Hezeki'ah, Sennach'erib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and took them. ²And the king of Assyria sent the Rab'shakeh from Lachish to King Hezeki'ah at Jerusalem, with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool on the highway to the Fuller's Field. ³And there came out to him Eli'akim the son of Hilki'ah, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and Jo'ah the son of Asaph, the recorder.

⁴ And the Rab'shakeh said to them, "Say to Hezeki'ah, 'Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria: On what do you rest this confidence of yours? ⁵ Do you think that mere words are strategy and power for war? On whom do you now rely, that you have rebelled against me? ⁶ Behold, you are relying on Egypt, that broken reed of a staff, which will pierce the hand of any man who leans on it. Such is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who rely on him. ⁷ But if you say to me, 'We rely on the LORD our God,'" is it not he whose high places and altars Hezeki'ah has removed, saying to Judah and to Jerusalem, 'You shall worship before this altar'? ⁸ Come now, make a wager with my master the king of Assyria: I will give you two thousand horses, if you are able on your part to set riders upon them. ⁹ How then can you repulse a single captain among the least of my master's servants, when you rely on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? ¹⁰ Moreover, is it without the LORD that I have come up against this land to destroy it? The LORD said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.'"

¹¹ Then Eli'akim, Shebna, and Jo'ah said to the Rab'shakeh, "Pray, speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it; do not speak to us in the language of Judah within the hearing of the people who are on the wall." ¹² But the Rab'shakeh said, "Has my master sent me to speak these words to your master and to you, and not to the men sitting on the wall, who are doomed with you to eat their own dung and drink their own urine?"

¹³ Then the Rab'shakeh stood and called out in a loud voice in the language of Judah: "Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria! ¹⁴ Thus says the king: 'Do not let Hezeki'ah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you. ¹⁵ Do not let Hezeki'ah make you rely on the LORD by saying, 'The LORD will surely deliver us; this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.'" ¹⁶ Do not listen to Hezeki'ah; for thus says the king of Assyria: Make your peace with me and come out to me;

then every one of you will eat of his own vine, and every one of his own fig tree, and every one of you will drink the water of his own cistern; ¹⁷ until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and wine, a land of bread and vineyards. ¹⁸ Beware lest Hezeki'ah mislead you by saying, "The LORD will deliver us." Has any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? ¹⁹ Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharva'im? Have they delivered Samar'ia out of my hand? ²⁰ Who among all the gods of these countries have delivered their countries out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?"

²¹ But they were silent and answered him not a word, for the king's command was, "Do not answer him." ²² Then Eli'akim the son of Hilki'ah, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and Jo'ah the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezeki'ah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of the Rab'shakeh.

37 When King Hezeki'ah heard it, he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD. ² And he sent Eli'akim, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and the senior priests, clothed with sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz. ³ They said to him, "Thus says Hezeki'ah, 'This day is a day of distress, of rebuke, and of disgrace; children have come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring them forth. ⁴ It may be that the LORD your God heard the words of the Rab'shakeh, whom his master the king of Assyria has sent to mock the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD your God has heard; therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.'"

⁵ When the servants of King Hezeki'ah came to Isaiah, ⁶ Isaiah said to them, "Say to your master, 'Thus says the LORD: Do not be afraid because of the words that you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have reviled me. ⁷ Behold, I will put a spirit in him, so that he shall hear a rumor, and return to his own land; and I will make him fall by the sword in his own land.'"

8 The Rab'shakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah; for he had heard that the king had left Lachish. ⁹ Now the king heard concerning Tirha'kah king of Ethiopia, "He has set out to fight against you." And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezeki'ah, saying, ¹⁰ "Thus shall you speak to Hezeki'ah king of Judah: 'Do not let your God on whom you rely deceive you by promising that Jerusalem will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. ¹¹ Behold, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, destroying them utterly. And shall you be delivered? ¹² Have the gods of the nations delivered them, the nations which my fathers destroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden who were in Telas'sar? ¹³ Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, the king of the city of Sepharva'im, the king of Hena, or the king of Iv-vah?'"

¹⁴ Hezeki'ah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Hezeki'ah went up to the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD. ¹⁵ And Hezeki'ah prayed to the LORD: ¹⁶ "O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, who art enthroned above the cherubim, thou art the God, thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth. ¹⁷ Incline thy ear, O LORD, and hear; open thy eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear all the words of Sennach'erib, which he has sent to mock the living God. ¹⁸ Of a truth, O LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations and their lands, ¹⁹ and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they were destroyed. ²⁰ So now, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou alone art the LORD."

²¹ Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezeki'ah, saying, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Because you have prayed to me concerning Sennach'erib king of Assyria, ²² this is the word that the LORD has spoken concerning him:

'She despises you, she scorns you—

- ²³ 'Whom have you mocked and reviled?
Against whom have you raised your voice
and haughtily lifted your eyes?
Against the Holy One of Israel!
- ²⁴ By your servants you have mocked
the Lord,
and you have said, With my many
chariots
I have gone up the heights of the mountains,
to the far recesses of Lebanon;
I felled its tallest cedars,
its choicest cypresses;
I came to its remotest height, its densest forest.
- ²⁵ I dug wells
and drank waters,
and I dried up with the sole of my foot
all the streams of Egypt.

- ²⁶ 'Have you not heard that I determined it long ago?
I planned from days of old
what now I bring to pass, that you should make fortified cities crash into heaps of ruins, ²⁷ while their inhabitants, shorn of strength,
are dismayed and confounded, and have become like plants of the field
and like tender grass,
like grass on the housetops, blighted^e before it is grown.

- ²⁸ 'I know your sitting down and your going out and coming in,
and your raging against me.
- ²⁹ Because you have raged against me and your arrogance has come to my ears,
I will put my hook in your nose and my bit in your mouth, and I will turn you back on the way by which you came.'

³⁰ "And this shall be the sign for you: this year eat what grows of itself, and in the second year what springs of the same; then in the third year sow and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat their fruit. ³¹ And the surviving remnant of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward; ³² for out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of Mount Zion a band of survivors. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will accomplish this.

³³ "Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria: He shall not come into this city, or shoot an arrow there, or come before it with a shield, or cast up a siege mound against it. ³⁴ By the way that he came, by the same he shall return, and he shall not come into this city, says the LORD. ³⁵ For I will defend this city to save it, for my own sake and for the sake of my servant David."

³⁶ And the angel of the LORD went forth, and slew a hundred and eighty-five thousand in the camp of the Assyrians; and when men arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies. ³⁷ Then Sennach'erib king of Assyria departed, and went home and dwelt at Nin'evah. ³⁸ And as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, Adram'melech and Share'zer, his sons, slew him with the sword, and escaped into the land of Ararat. And E'sar-had'don his son reigned in his stead.

38 In those days Hezeki'ah became sick and was at the point of death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said to him, "Thus says the LORD: Set your house in order; for you shall die, you shall not recover." ² Then Hezeki'ah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the LORD, ³ and said, "Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in faithfulness and with a whole heart, and have done what is good in thy sight." And Hezeki'ah wept bitterly. ⁴ Then the word of the LORD came to Isaiah: ⁵ "Go and say to Hezeki'ah, Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father: I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears; behold, I will add fifteen years to your life. ⁶ I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and defend this city.

⁷ "This is the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he has promised: ⁸ Behold, I will make the shadow cast by the declining

²¹ Now Isaiah had said, "Let them take a cake of figs, and apply it to the boil, that he may recover."²² Hezeki'ah also had said, "What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?"

39 At that time Mero'dach-bal'-adan the son of Bal'adan, king of Babylon, sent envoys with letters and a present to Hezeki'ah, for he heard that he had been sick and had recovered.² And Hezeki'ah welcomed them; and he showed them his treasure house, the silver, the gold, the spices, the precious oil, his whole armory, all that was found in his storehouses. There was nothing in his house or in all his realm that Hezeki'ah did not show them.³ Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezeki'ah, and said to him, "What did these men say? And whence did they come to you?" Hezeki'ah said, "They have come to me from a far country, from Babylon."⁴ He said, "What have they seen in your house?" Hezeki'ah answered, "They have seen all that is in my house; there is nothing in my storehouses that I did not show them."

⁵ Then Isaiah said to Hezeki'ah, "Hear the word of the LORD of hosts: ⁶ Behold, the days are coming, when all that is in your house, and that which your fathers have stored up till this day, shall be carried to Babylon; nothing shall be left, says the LORD. ⁷ And some of your own sons, who are born to you, shall be taken away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon."⁸ Then said Hezeki'ah to Isaiah, "The word of the LORD which you have spoken is good." For he thought, "There will be peace and security in my days."

41 Listen to me in silence, O coast-lands;
let the peoples renew their strength;
let them approach, then let them speak;
let us together draw near for judgment.

² Who stirred up one from the east whom victory meets at every step?
He gives up nations before him, so that he tramples kings under foot;
he makes them like dust with his sword, like driven stubble with his bow.

³ He pursues them and passes on safely, by paths his feet have not trod.

⁴ Who has performed and done this, calling the generations from the beginning?
I, the LORD, the first, and with the last; I am He.

those who strive against you shall be as nothing and shall perish.

¹² You shall seek those who contend with you, but you shall not find them;
those who war against you shall be as nothing at all.

¹³ For I, the LORD your God, hold your right hand;
it is I who say to you, "Fear not,
I will help you."

¹⁴ Fear not, you worm Jacob,

in the Holy One of Israel you shall glory.

¹⁷ When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none,
and their tongue is parched with thirst,
I the LORD will answer them,
I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

¹⁸ I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys;
I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.

"He is right?"
There was none who declared it, none who proclaimed,
none who heard your words.

and I give to Jerusalem a herald of good tidings.
- 28 But when I look there is no one;
among these there is no counselor who, when I ask, gives an answer.
- 29 Behold, they are all a delusion;
their works are nothing;
their molten images are empty wind.
- 42 Behold my servant, whom I uphold,
my chosen, in whom my soul delights;
I have put my Spirit upon him,
he will bring forth justice to the nations.
- 2 He will not cry or lift up his voice, or make it heard in the street;
- 3 a bruised reed he will not break,
and a dimly burning wick he will not quench;
he will faithfully bring forth justice.
- 4 He will not fail^t or be discouraged^u till he has established justice in the earth; and the coastlands wait for his law.
- 5 Thus says God, the LORD, who created the heavens and stretched them out,
who spread forth the earth and what comes from it, who gives breath to the people upon it and spirit to those who walk in it:
- 6 "I am the LORD, I have called you in righteousness,
I have taken you by the hand and kept you;
I have given you as a covenant to the people,
a light to the nations,
- 7 to open the eyes that are blind,
to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon,
from the prison those who sit in darkness.
- 8 I am the LORD, that is my name;
my glory I give to no other,
nor my praise to graven images.
- 9 Behold, the former things have come to pass, and new things I now declare;
before they spring forth
I tell you of them."
- 10 Sing to the LORD a new song, who trust in graven images, who say to molten images,

"You are our gods."
- 18 Hear, you deaf;
and look, you blind, that you may see!
- 19 Who is blind but my servant,
or deaf as my messenger whom I send?
Who is blind as my dedicated one,
or blind as the servant of the LORD?
- 20 He sees^a many things, but does not observe them;
his ears are open, but he does not hear.
- 21 The LORD was pleased, for his righteousness' sake, to magnify his law and make it glorious.
- 22 But this is a people robbed and plundered, they are all of them trapped in holes and hidden in prisons;
they have become a prey with none to rescue,
a spoil with none to say, "Restore!"
- 23 Who among you will give ear to this,
will attend and listen for the time to come?
- 24 Who gave up Jacob to the spoiler, and Israel to the robbers?
Was it not the LORD, against whom we have sinned,
in whose ways they would not walk,
and whose law they would not obey?
- 25 So he poured upon him the heat of his anger and the might of battle;
it set him on fire round about, but he did not understand;
it burned him, but he did not take it to heart.
- 43 But now thus says the LORD,
he who created you, O Jacob,
he who formed you, O Israel:
"Fear not, for I have redeemed you;
I have called you by name, you are mine.
- 2 When you pass through the waters
I will be with you;
and through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you;
when you walk through fire you shall not be burned,
and the flame shall not consume you.
- 3 For I am the LORD your God,
the Holy One of Israel, your Savior.
I give Egypt as your ransom, Ethiopia and Seba in exchange for you.
- 4 Because you are precious in my eyes,
and honored, and I love you,
I give men in return for you, peoples in exchange for your life.
- 5 Fear not, for I am with you;
I will bring your offspring from the east,
and from the west I will gather you;
- 6 I will say to the north, Give up,

^a Heb you see

- and to the south, Do not withhold;
bring my sons from afar and my daughters from the end of
the earth,
7 every one who is called by my name, whom I created for my glory, whom I formed and made.”
- 8 Bring forth the people who are blind, yet have eyes,
who are deaf, yet have ears!
9 Let all the nations gather together, and let the peoples assemble.
Who among them can declare this,
and show us the former things?
Let them bring their witnesses to justify them,
and let them hear and say, It is true.
- 10 “You are my witnesses,” says the
LORD,
“and my servant whom I have chosen,
that you may know and believe me and understand that I am He.
Before me no god was formed, nor shall there be any after me.
- 11 I, I am the LORD,
and besides me there is no savior.
12 I declared and saved and proclaimed, when there was no strange god
among you;
and you are my witnesses,” says
the LORD.
- 13 “I am God, and also henceforth I am He;
there is none who can deliver from
my hand;
I work and who can hinder it?”
- 14 Thus says the LORD,
your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:
“For your sake I will send to Babylon and break down all the bars, and the shouting of the Chalde’ans will be turned to lamentations.” 15 I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King.”
- 16 Thus says the LORD,
who makes a way in the sea,
a path in the mighty waters, 17 who brings forth chariot and horse, army and warrior;
they lie down, they cannot rise, they are extinguished, quenched
like a wick:
- 18 “Remember not the former things, 19 nor consider the things of old.
Behold, I am doing a new thing;
now it springs forth, do you not perceive it?
I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert.
20 The wild beasts will honor me,
the jackals and the ostriches;
for I give water in the wilderness, rivers in the desert,
to give drink to my chosen people, 21 the people whom I formed for myself
that they might declare my praise.
- 22 “Yet you did not call upon me, O
Jacob;
but you have been weary of me,
O Israel!
23 You have not brought me your sheep for burnt offerings, or honored me with your sacrifices.
I have not burdened you with offerings,
or wearied you with frankincense.
24 You have not bought me sweet cane with money,
or satisfied me with the fat of your sacrifices.
But you have burdened me with your sins,
you have wearied me with your in-iquities.
- 25 “I, I am He who blots out your transgressions for my own sake,
and I will not remember your sins.
26 Put me in remembrance, let us argue together;
set forth your case, that you may be proved right.
27 Your first father sinned, and your mediators transgressed against me.
28 Therefore I profaned the princes of the sanctuary,
I delivered Jacob to utter destruction
and Israel to reviling.
- 44 “But now hear, O Jacob my servant,
Israel whom I have chosen!
2 Thus says the LORD who made you, who formed you from the womb
and will help you:

⁴ Heb obscure

Fear not, O Jacob my servant,
Jesh'urun whom I have chosen.

³ For I will pour water on the thirsty
land,

and streams on the dry ground;

I will pour my Spirit upon your descendants,

and my blessing on your offspring.

⁴ They shall spring up like grass amid waters,^a like willows by flowing streams.

⁵ This one will say, 'I am the LORD's,' another will call himself by the name of Jacob,

and another will write on his hand,
'The LORD's,'

and surname himself by the name of Israel."

⁶ Thus says the LORD, the King of Israel

and his Redeemer, the LORD of
hosts:

"I am the first and I am the last;
besides me there is no god.

⁷ Who is like me? Let him proclaim it, let him declare and set it forth before me.

Who has announced from of old the things to come?²

Let them tell us^a what is yet to be.

⁸ Fear not, nor be afraid; have I not told you from of old and declared it?

And you are my witnesses!

Is there a God besides me?

There is no Rock; I know not any."

⁹ All who make idols are nothing, and the things they delight in do not profit; their witnesses neither see nor know, that they may be put to shame.

¹⁰ Who fashions a god or casts an image, that is profitable for nothing? ¹¹ Behold,
all his fellows shall be put to shame, and the craftsmen are but men; let them all assemble, let them stand forth, they shall be terrified, they shall be put to shame together.

¹² The ironsmith fashions it^b and works it over the coals; he shapes it with hammers, and forges it with his strong arm; he becomes hungry and his strength fails, he drinks no water and is faint. ¹³ The carpenter stretches a line, he marks it out with a pencil; he fashions it with planes, and marks it with a compass; he shapes it into the figure of a man, with the beauty of a man, to dwell in a house. ¹⁴ He cuts down cedars; or he chooses a holm tree or an oak and lets it grow strong among the trees of the forest; he plants a cedar and the rain nourishes it. ¹⁵ Then it becomes fuel for a man; he takes a part of it and warms himself, he kindles a fire and bakes bread; also he makes a god and worships it, he makes it a graven image and falls down before it.

¹⁶ Half of it he burns in the fire; over the half he eats flesh, he roasts meat and is satisfied; also he warms himself and says, "Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire!" ¹⁷ And the rest of it he makes into a god, his idol; and falls down to it and worships it; he prays to it and says,
"Deliver me, for thou art my god!"

¹⁸ They know not, nor do they discern; for he has shut their eyes, so that they cannot see, and their minds, so that they cannot understand. ¹⁹ No one considers, nor is there knowledge or discernment to say, "Half of it I burned in the fire, I also baked bread on its coals, I roasted flesh and have eaten; and shall I make the residue of it an abomination? Shall I fall down before a block of wood?" ²⁰ He feeds on ashes; a deluded mind has led him astray, and he cannot deliver himself or say, "Is there not a lie in my right hand?"

²¹ Remember these things, O Jacob, and Israel, for you are my servant;
I formed you, you are my servant;
O Israel, you will not be forgotten by me.

²² I have swept away your transgressions like a cloud,
and your sins like mist;
return to me, for I have redeemed
you.

²³ Sing, O heavens, for the LORD has done it;
shout, O depths of the earth;
break forth into singing, O mountains,
O forest, and every tree in it!
For the LORD has redeemed Jacob, and will be glorified in Israel.

sion together.

who formed the earth and made it (he established it;
he did not create it a chaos,
he formed it to be inhabited!):
'I am the LORD, and there is no other.

to him shall come and be ashamed,
all who were incensed against him.
- 25 In the LORD all the offspring of Israel shall triumph and glory."
- 46 Bel bows down, Nebo stoops, their idols are on beasts and cattle;
these things you carry are loaded as burdens on weary beasts.
- 2 They stoop, they bow down together, they cannot save the burden,
but themselves go into captivity.
- 3 "Hearken to me, O house of Jacob, all the remnant of the house of Israel,
who have been borne by me from your birth,

they set it in its place, and it stands there;
it cannot move from its place.

pose,'

country.
I have spoken, and I will bring it to pass;
I have purposed, and I will do it.
- 12 "Hearken to me, you stubborn of heart,
you who are far from deliverance:
13 I bring near my deliverance, it is not far off,
and my salvation will not tarry;
I will put salvation in Zion, for Israel my glory."
- 47 Come down and sit in the dust,
O virgin daughter of Babylon;
sit on the ground without a throne,
O daughter of the Chalde'ans!
For you shall no more be called

- 2 Take the millstones and grind meal, put off your veil,
strip off your robe, uncover your legs,
pass through the rivers.
- 3 Your nakedness shall be uncovered,

and I will spare no man.
- 4 Our Redeemer—the LORD of hosts

- 5 Sit in silence, and go into darkness,
O daughter of the Chalde'ans;
for you shall no more be called

- 6 I was angry with my people,
I profaned my heritage;
I gave them into your hand,
you showed them no mercy;
on the aged you made your yoke

- 7 You said, "I shall be mistress for so that you did not lay these things to heart

or remember their end.
- 8 Now therefore hear this, you lover of pleasures,
who sit securely,
who say in your heart,
"I am, and there is no one besides
me;
I shall not sit as a widow or know the loss of children": 9 These two things shall come to you in a moment, in one day;
the loss of children and widowhood shall come upon you in full measure,
in spite of your many sorceries and the great power of your en-chantments.
- 10 You felt secure in your wickedness, you said, "No one sees me";
your wisdom and your knowledge led you astray,
and you said in your heart,

for which you cannot atone;
disaster shall fall upon you,
which you will not be able to ex-

before they came to pass I announced them to you, lest you should say, 'My idol did them, my graven image and my molten image commanded them.'

⁶ "You have heard; now see all this;
and will you not declare it?
From this time forth I make you hear new things,
hidden things which you have not

⁷ They are created now, not long ago;
before today you have never heard
of them,
lest you should say, 'Behold, I

⁸ You have never heard, you have never known,
from of old your ear has not been opened.
For I knew that you would deal very treacherously,
and that from birth you were called a rebel.

⁹ "For my name's sake I defer my

49 Listen to me, O coastlands, and hearken, you peoples from afar.

The LORD called me from the womb, from the body of my mother he named my name.

² He made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand he hid me;
he made me a polished arrow,
in his quiver he hid me away.

³ And he said to me, "You are my servant, Israel, in whom I will be glorified."

⁴ But I said, "I have labored in vain,
I have spent my strength for nothing and vanity;
yet surely my right is with the LORD, and my recompense with my God."

⁵ And now the LORD says, who formed me from the womb
to be his servant,
to bring Jacob back to him,
and that Israel might be gathered to him,
for I am honored in the eyes of the LORD, and my God has become my strength—

⁶ he says:

"It is too light a thing that you should be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob and to restore the preserved of Israel; I will give you as a light to the nations, that my salvation may reach to the end of the earth."

⁷ Thus says the LORD,
the Redeemer of Israel and his Holy One,
to one deeply despised, abhorred by the nations,
the servant of rulers:
"Kings shall see and arise;
princes, and they shall prostrate themselves;
because of the LORD, who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you."

⁸ Thus says the LORD:
"In a time of favor I have answered you,
in a day of salvation I have helped you;

I have kept you and given you as a covenant to the people, to establish the land,
to apportion the desolate heritages;

⁹ saying to the prisoners, 'Come forth,' to those who are in darkness, 'Appear.'

They shall feed along the ways,
on all bare heights shall be their pasture;

¹⁰ they shall not hunger or thirst, neither scorching wind nor sun shall smite them,
for he who has pity on them will lead them,
and by springs of water will guide them.

¹¹ And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be raised up.

- 17 Your builders outstrip your destroyers, and those who laid you waste go forth from you.
- 18 Lift up your eyes round about and see;
they all gather, they come to you.
As I live, says the LORD,
you shall put them all on as an ornament, you shall bind them on as a bride does.
- 19 "Surely your waste and your desolate places and your devastated land—surely now you will be too narrow but who has brought up these?

Behold, I was left alone;
whence then have these come?'"
- 22 Thus says the Lord God:

and raise my signal to the peoples;
- and they shall bring your sons in their bosom, and your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders.
- 23 Kings shall be your foster fathers, and their queens your nursing mothers.
With their faces to the ground
they shall bow down to you, and lick the dust of your feet.
Then you will know that I am the LORD;

- 24 Can the prey be taken from the mighty,
or the captives of a tyrant^m be rescued?
- 25 Surely, thus says the LORD:
"Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken,
and the prey of the tyrant be rescued,
for I will contend with those who contend with you, and I will save your children.
- 26 I will make your oppressors eat their own flesh, and they shall be drunk with their own blood as with wine.
Then all flesh shall know that I am the LORD your Savior, and your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob."
- 50 Thus says the LORD:
"Where is your mother's bill of divorce, with which I put her away?
Or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you?
Behold, for your iniquities you were sold,
and for your transgressions your mother was put away.
- 2 Why, when I came, was there no man?
When I called, was there no one to answer?
Is my hand shortened, that it cannot redeem?
Or have I no power to deliver?
Behold, by my rebuke I dry up the sea,
I make the rivers a desert;
their fish stink for lack of water, and die of thirst.

- ³ I clothe the heavens with blackness,

- ⁴ The Lord GOD has given me the tongue of those who are taught, that I may know how to sustain with a word
him that is weary.
Morning by morning he awakens, he awakens my ear
to hear as those who are taught.
- ⁵ The Lord GOD has opened my ear,
and I was not rebellious,
I turned not backward.
- ⁶ I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to those who pulled out the beard;
I hid not my face
from shame and spitting.
- ⁷ For the Lord GOD helps me; therefore I have not been confounded;
therefore I have set my face like a flint,
and I know that I shall not be put to shame;
⁸ he who vindicates me is near.
Who will contend with me?
Let us stand up together.
Who is my adversary?
Let him come near to me.

who will declare me guilty?
Behold, all of them will wear out like the moth will eat them up.

and obeys the voice of his servant,
who awakens in darkness
and has no light,

and relies upon his God?
- ¹¹ Behold, all you who kindle a fire, who set brands alight!”
Walk by the light of your fire, and by the brands which you have kindled!

- O arm of the LORD;
awake, as in days of old,
the generations of long ago.
Was it not thou that didst cut Rahab in pieces,
that didst pierce the dragon?
10 Was it not thou that didst dry up the
sea,
the waters of the great deep;
that didst make the depths of the sea
a way
for the redeemed to pass over?
11 And the ransomed of the LORD shall return,
and come to Zion with singing;
everlasting joy shall be upon their heads;
they shall obtain joy and gladness,
and sorrow and sighing shall flee
away.
- 12 "I, I am he that comforts you; who are you that you are afraid of man who dies,
of the son of man who is made like

13 and have forgotten the LORD, your Maker,
who stretched out the heavens and laid the foundations of the
earth,
and fear continually all the day because of the fury of the oppressor,
when he sets himself to destroy?
And where is the fury of the oppressor?
14 He who is bowed down shall speedily be released;
he shall not die and go down to the Pit,
neither shall his bread fail.
15 For I am the LORD your God, who stirs up the sea so that its waves roar—
the LORD of hosts is his name.
16 And I have put my words in your mouth,
and hid you in the shadow of my
hand,
stretching out^p the heavens and laying the foundations of the
earth,
and saying to Zion, 'You are my
people.'"
- 17 Rouse yourself, rouse yourself, stand up, O Jerusalem,
you who have drunk at the hand of
the LORD
the cup of his wrath, who have drunk to the dregs
the bowl of staggering.
18 There is none to guide her among all the sons she has borne;
there is none to take her by the hand among all the sons she has brought up.
19 These two things have befallen you—who will condole with you?— devastation and destruction, famine and sword;
who will comfort you?^q 20 Your sons have fainted, they lie at the head of every street like an antelope in a net;
they are full of the wrath of the LORD,
the rebuke of your God.
- 21 Therefore hear this, you who are afflicted,
who are drunk, but not with wine:
22 Thus says your Lord, the LORD, your God who pleads the cause of his people:
"Behold, I have taken from your hand
the cup of staggering;
the bowl of my wrath
you shall drink no more; 23 and I will put it into the hand of your tormentors,
who have said to you,
'Bow down, that we may pass
over';
and you have made your back like the
ground
and like the street for them to pass over."
- 52 Awake, awake,
put on your strength, O Zion;
put on your beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city;
for there shall no more come into you the uncircumcised and the unclean.
2 Shake yourself from the dust, arise, O captive^r Jerusalem;
loose the bonds from your neck,
O captive daughter of Zion.

the return of the LORD to Zion.
⁹ Break forth together into singing, for the LORD has comforted his people, he has redeemed Jerusalem.

¹⁰ The LORD has bared his holy arm

¹¹ Depart, depart, go out thence,

go out from the midst of her, purify yourselves,
you who bear the vessels of the LORD.
¹² For you shall not go out in haste, and you shall not go in flight,
for the LORD will go before you,

- ¹⁵ so shall he startle^t many nations;
kings shall shut their mouths because of him;
for that which has not been told them they shall see,
and that which they have not heard they shall understand.

53 Who has believed what we have heard?

And to whom has the arm of the LORD been revealed?

- ² For he grew up before him like a young plant, and as one from whom men hide their faces

he was despised, and we esteemed him not.
⁴ Surely he has borne our griefs^x and carried our sorrows;^y yet we esteemed him stricken, smitten by God, and afflicted.
⁵ But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities;
upon him was the chastisement that made us whole,
and with his stripes we are healed.
⁶ All we like sheep have gone astray;
we have turned every one to his own way;
and the LORD has laid on him
the iniquity of us all.
⁷ He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth;
like a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and like a sheep that before its shearers is dumb,
so he opened not his mouth.
⁸ By oppression and judgment he was taken away;

- ¹⁷ He put on righteousness as a breast-plate,
and a helmet of salvation upon his
head;
he put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and wrapped himself in fury as a mantle.
- ¹⁸ According to their deeds, so will he repay,
wrath to his adversaries, requital to his enemies;
to the coastlands he will render re-quital.
- ¹⁹ So they shall fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun;
for he will come like a rushing stream,
which the wind of the LORD drives.
- ²⁰ "And he will come to Zion as Redeemer,
to those in Jacob who turn from transgression, says the LORD.
- ²¹ "And as for me, this is my covenant with them, says the LORD: my spirit which is upon you, and my words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, or out of the mouth of your children, or out of the mouth of your children's children, says the LORD, from this time forth and for evermore."
- 60 Arise, shine; for your light has
come,
and the glory of the LORD has risen
upon you.
- ² For behold, darkness shall cover the
earth,
and thick darkness the peoples;
but the LORD will arise upon you,
and his glory will be seen upon you.
- ³ And nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising.
- ⁴ Lift up your eyes round about, and see;
they all gather together, they come
to you;
your sons shall come from far,
and your daughters shall be carried in the arms.
- ⁵ Then you shall see and be radiant, your heart shall thrill and rejoice;^a because the abundance of the sea shall be turned to you, the wealth of the nations shall come
to you.
- ⁶ A multitude of camels shall cover
you,
the young camels of Mid'ian and Ephah;
all those from Sheba shall come.

they shall come up with acceptance on my altar, and I will glorify my glorious house.
- 8 Who are these that fly like a cloud, and like doves to their windows?
- 9 For the coastlands shall wait for me,
the ships of Tarshish first,
to bring your sons from far,
their silver and gold with them, for the name of the LORD your God, and for the Holy One of Israel, because he has glorified you.
- 10 Foreigners shall build up your walls,

- 3 "I have trodden the wine press alone, and from the peoples no one was with me;
I trod them in my anger and trampled them in my wrath;
their lifeblood is sprinkled upon my garments,
and I have stained all my raiment.
4 For the day of vengeance was in my heart, and my year of redemption^u has come.
5 I looked, but there was no one to help;
I was appalled, but there was no one to uphold;
so my own arm brought me victory,
and my wrath upheld me.
6 I trod down the peoples in my anger,
I made them drunk in my wrath, and I poured out their lifeblood on the earth."

7 I will recount the steadfast love of the LORD, the praises of the LORD,
according to all that the LORD has granted us, and the great goodness to the house of Israel which he has granted them according to his mercy, according to the abundance of his steadfast love.

- 8 For he said, Surely they are my people, sons who will not deal falsely;
and he became their Savior.
9 In all their affliction he was afflicted,^v and the angel of his presence saved them;
in his love and in his pity he redeemed them;
he lifted them up and carried them all the days of old.

and grieved his holy Spirit;
therefore he turned to be their enemy,
and himself fought against them.

those that remember thee in thy ways.
Behold, thou wast angry, and we sinned;
in our sins we have been a long time, and shall we be saved?^z

that bestirs himself to take hold of thee;
for thou hast hid thy face from us,
and hast delivered^a us into the hand of our iniquities.
- 8 Yet, O LORD, thou art our Father;
we are the clay, and thou art our potter;
we are all the work of thy hand.
- 9 Be not exceedingly angry, O LORD, and remember not iniquity for ever.
Behold, consider, we are all thy people.

Zion has become a wilderness,
Jerusalem a desolation.

Wilt thou keep silent, and afflict us sorely?

65 I was ready to be sought by those who did not ask for me; I was ready to be found by those who did not seek me.

I said, "Here am I, here am I," to a nation that did not call on my name.

² I spread out my hands all the day to a rebellious people, who walk in a way that is not good, following their own devices;

³ a people who provoke me to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens and burning incense upon bricks;

⁴ who sit in tombs, and spend the night in secret places; who eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels;

⁵ who say, "Keep to yourself, do not come near me, for I am set apart from you."

These are a smoke in my nostrils, a fire that burns all the day.

⁶ Behold, it is written before me: "I will not keep silent, but I will repay, yea, I will repay into their bosom

⁷ their^b iniquities and their^b fathers' iniquities together,

says the LORD;

because they burned incense upon the mountains and reviled me upon the hills,

I will measure into their bosom payment for their former doings."

⁸ Thus says the LORD:

"As the wine is found in the cluster, and they say, 'Do not destroy it, for there is a blessing in it,' so I will do for my servants' sake, and not destroy them all.

⁹ I will bring forth descendants from Jacob, and from Judah inheritors of my mountains;

my chosen shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

¹⁰ Sharon shall become a pasture for flocks, and the Valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down,

for my people who have sought me.

¹¹ But you who forsake the LORD, who forget my holy mountain, who set a table for Fortune and fill cups of mixed wine for Destiny;

¹² I will destine you to the sword, and all of you shall bow down to the slaughter;

because, when I called, you did not answer, when I spoke, you did not listen, but you did what was evil in my eyes, and chose what I did not delight in."

¹³ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "Behold, my servants shall eat, but you shall be hungry;

behold, my servants shall drink,

but you shall be thirsty;

behold, my servants shall rejoice,

but you shall be put to shame;

¹⁴ behold, my servants shall sing for gladness of heart, but you shall cry out for pain of heart, and shall wail for anguish of spirit.

¹⁵ You shall leave your name to my chosen for a curse, and the Lord GOD will slay you;

but his servants he will call by a different name.

¹⁶ So that he who blesses himself in the land shall bless himself by the God of truth, and he who takes an oath in the land shall swear by the God of truth;

because the former troubles are forgotten and are hid from my eyes.

¹⁷ "For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth;

and the former things shall not be remembered or come into mind.

¹⁸ But be glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create;

for behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

JEREMIAH

1 The words of Jeremiah, the son of Hilki'ah, of the priests who were in An'athoth in the land of Benjamin, ² to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josi'ah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. ³ It came also in the days of Jehoia'kim the son of Josi'ah, king of Judah, and until the end of the eleventh year of Zedeki'ah, the son of Josi'ah, king of Judah, until the captivity of Jerusalem in the fifth month.

⁴ Now the word of the LORD came to me saying,

⁵ "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, and before you were born I consecrated you; I appointed you a prophet to the nations."

⁶ Then I said, "Ah, Lord God! Behold, I do not know how to speak, for I am only a youth." ⁷ But the LORD said to me,

"Do not say, 'I am only a youth'; for to all to whom I send you you shall go, and whatever I command you you shall speak.

⁸ Be not afraid of them, for I am with you to deliver you, says the LORD."

⁹ Then the LORD put forth his hand and touched my mouth; and the LORD said to me,

"Behold, I have put my words in your mouth.

¹⁰ See, I have set you this day over nations and over kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down, to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant."

¹¹ And the word of the LORD came to me, saying, "Jeremiah, what do you see?" And I said, "I see a rod of almond."^a ¹² Then the LORD said to me, "You have seen well, for I am watching^b over my word to perform it."

¹³ The word of the LORD came to me a second time, saying, "What do you see?" And I said, "I see a boiling pot, facing away from the north." ¹⁴ Then the LORD said to me, "Out of the north evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land. ¹⁵ For, lo, I am calling all the tribes of the kingdoms of the north, says the LORD; and they shall come and every one shall set his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, against all its walls round about, and against all the cities of Judah. ¹⁶ And I will utter my judgments against them, for all their wickedness in forsaking me; they have burned incense to other gods, and worshiped the works of their own hands. ¹⁷ But you, gird up your loins; arise, and say to them everything that I command you. Do not be dismayed by them, lest I dismay you before them. ¹⁸ And I, behold, I make you this day a fortified city, an iron pillar, and bronze walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, its princes, its priests, and the people of the land. ¹⁹ They will fight against you; but they shall not prevail against you, for I am with you, says the LORD, to deliver you."

2 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ² "Go and proclaim in the hearing of Jerusalem, Thus says the LORD,

I remember the devotion of your youth,
your love as a bride,
how you followed me in the wilderness,
in a land not sown.

³ Israel was holy to the LORD, the first fruits of his harvest.
All who ate of it became guilty;
evil came upon them,
says the LORD."

⁴ Hear the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel. ⁵ Thus says the LORD:
"What wrong did your fathers find in me that they went far from me,

^a Heb shaqed ^b Heb shoged

- and went after worthlessness, and became worthless?
- 6 They did not say, 'Where is the LORD who brought us up from the land of Egypt, who led us in the wilderness, in a land of deserts and pits, in a land of drought and deep darkness, in a land that none passes through, where no man dwells?'
- 7 And I brought you into a plentiful land to enjoy its fruits and its good things. But when you came in you defiled my land, and made my heritage an abomination.
- 8 The priests did not say, 'Where is the LORD?' Those who handle the law did not know me; the rulers^c transgressed against me; the prophets prophesied by Ba'al, and went after things that do not profit.
- 9 "Therefore I still contend with you, says the LORD, and with your children's children I will contend.
- 10 For cross to the coasts of Cyprus and see, or send to Kedar and examine with care; see if there has been such a thing.
- 11 Has a nation changed its gods, even though they are no gods? But my people have changed their glory for that which does not profit.
- 12 Be appalled, O heavens, at this, be shocked, be utterly desolate, says the LORD,
- 13 for my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed out cisterns for themselves, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.
- 14 "Is Israel a slave? Is he a homeborn servant? Why then has he become a prey?
- 15 The lions have roared against him,
- they have roared loudly. They have made his land a waste; his cities are in ruins, without inhabitant.
- 16 Moreover, the men of Memphis and Tahpanhes have broken the crown of your head.
- 17 Have you not brought this upon yourself by forsaking the LORD your God, when he led you in the way?
- 18 And now what do you gain by going to Egypt, to drink the waters of the Nile? Or what do you gain by going to Assyria, to drink the waters of the Euphrates?
- 19 Your wickedness will chasten you, and your apostasy will reprove you. Know and see that it is evil and bitter for you to forsake the LORD your God; the fear of me is not in you, says the Lord GOD of hosts.
- 20 "For long ago you broke your yoke and burst your bonds; and you said, 'I will not serve.' Yea, upon every high hill and under every green tree you bowed down as a harlot.
- 21 Yet I planted you a choice vine, wholly of pure seed. How then have you turned degenerate and become a wild vine?
- 22 Though you wash yourself with lye and use much soap, the stain of your guilt is still before me, says the Lord GOD.
- 23 How can you say, 'I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Ba'als?' Look at your way in the valley; know what you have done—a restive young camel interlacing her tracks,
- 24 a wild ass used to the wilderness, in her heat sniffing the wind! Who can restrain her lust? None who seek her need weary themselves; in her month they will find her.
- 25 Keep your feet from going unshod and your throat from thirst. But you said, 'It is hopeless,

^c Heb shepherds

for I have loved strangers, and after them I will go.'

26 "As a thief is shamed when caught, so the house of Israel shall be shamed:

they, their kings, their princes,
their priests, and their prophets,

27 who say to a tree, 'You are my father,' and to a stone, 'You gave me birth.'

For they have turned their back to
me,
and not their face.

But in the time of their trouble they say,

'Arise and save us!'

28 But where are your gods that you made for yourself?

Let them arise, if they can save you,
in your time of trouble;
for as many as your cities are your gods, O Judah.

29 "Why do you complain against me?
You have all rebelled against me,
says the LORD.

30 In vain have I smitten your children, they took no correction;
your own sword devoured your prophets
like a ravaging lion.

31 And you, O generation, heed the word of the LORD.

Have I been a wilderness to Israel, or a land of thick darkness?

Why then do my people say, 'We are free,

we will come no more to thee?'

32 Can a maiden forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire?

Yet my people have forgotten me days without number.

33 "How well you direct your course to seek lovers!

So that even to wicked women
you have taught your ways.

34 Also on your skirts is found the lifeblood of guiltless poor;
you did not find them breaking in.

Yet in spite of all these things

35 you say, 'I am innocent; surely his anger has turned from
me.'

Behold, I will bring you to judgment for saying, 'I have not sinned.'

36 How lightly you gad about, changing your way!

^d Gk Syr: Heb Saying, If

You shall be put to shame by Egypt as you were put to shame by Assyria.

37 From it too you will come away with your hands upon your head, for the LORD has rejected those in whom you trust,
and you will not prosper by them.

3 "If^d a man divorces his wife and she goes from him and becomes another man's wife, will he return to her?

Would not that land be greatly polluted?

You have played the harlot with many lovers;

and would you return to me?
says the LORD.

2 Lift up your eyes to the bare heights, and see!

Where have you not been lain with?

By the waysides you have sat awaiting lovers

like an Arab in the wilderness.

You have polluted the land with your vile harlotry.

3 Therefore the showers have been withheld,

and the spring rain has not come:
yet you have a harlot's brow,
you refuse to be ashamed.

4 Have you not just now called to me,
'My father, thou art the friend of my youth—

5 will he be angry for ever, will he be indignant to the end?'

Behold, you have spoken, but you have done all the evil that you could."

6 The LORD said to me in the days of King Josi'ah: "Have you seen what she did, that faithless one, Israel, how she went up on every high hill and under every green tree, and there played the harlot? ⁷And I thought, 'After she has done all this she will return to me'; but she did not return, and her false sister Judah saw it. ⁸She saw that for all the adulteries of that faithless one, Israel, I had sent her away with a decree of divorce; yet her false sister Judah did not fear, but she too went and played the harlot. ⁹Because harlotry was so light to her, she polluted the land, committing adultery with stone and tree.

¹⁰ Yet for all this her false sister Judah did not return to me with her whole heart, but in pretense, says the LORD."

¹¹ And the LORD said to me, "Faithless Israel has shown herself less guilty than false Judah. ¹² Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, 'Return, faithless Israel,

says the LORD.
I will not look on you in anger,
for I am merciful,

says the LORD;
I will not be angry for ever.

¹³ Only acknowledge your guilt, that you rebelled against the LORD your God
and scattered your favors among strangers under every green
tree,
and that you have not obeyed my
voice,

says the LORD.

¹⁴ Return, O faithless children,
says the LORD;
for I am your master;
I will take you, one from a city and two from a family,
and I will bring you to Zion.

¹⁵ "And I will give you shepherds after my own heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding.

¹⁶ And when you have multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, says the LORD, they shall no more say,
"The ark of the covenant of the LORD."

It shall not come to mind, or be remembered, or missed; it shall not be made again. ¹⁷ At that time Jerusalem shall be called the throne of the LORD, and all nations shall gather to it, to the presence of the LORD in Jerusalem, and they shall no more stubbornly follow their own evil heart. ¹⁸ In those days the house of Judah shall join the house of Israel, and together they shall come from the land of the north to the land that I gave your fathers for a heritage.

¹⁹ "I thought how I would set you among my sons,
and give you a pleasant land,
a heritage most beautiful of all nations.

And I thought you would call me,
My Father,
and would not turn from following
me.

²⁰ Surely, as a faithless wife leaves her husband,

so have you been faithless to me,
O house of Israel,
says the LORD.' "

²¹ A voice on the bare heights is heard, the weeping and pleading of Israel's sons,
because they have perverted their
way,
they have forgotten the LORD their
God.

²² "Return, O faithless sons,
I will heal your faithlessness."
"Behold, we come to thee;
for thou art the LORD our God.

²³ Truly the hills are a delusion, the orgies on the mountains.
Truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.

²⁴ "But from our youth the shameful thing has devoured all for which our fathers labored, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

²⁵ Let us lie down in our shame, and let our dishonor cover us; for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even to this day; and we have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God."

4 "If you return, O Israel,
says the LORD,
to me you should return.

If you remove your abominations from my presence,
and do not waver,

² and if you swear, 'As the LORD lives,' in truth, in justice, and in uprightness,

then nations shall bless themselves in
him,
and in him shall they glory."

³ For thus says the LORD to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem:

"Break up your fallow ground,
and sow not among thorns.

⁴ Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, remove the foreskin of your hearts, O men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem;

lest my wrath go forth like fire,
and burn with none to quench it,
because of the evil of your doings."

⁵ Declare in Judah, and proclaim in Jerusalem, and say,
"Blow the trumpet through the land;
cry aloud and say,

- 'Assemble, and let us go into the fortified cities!'
- 6 Raise a standard toward Zion, flee for safety, stay not, for I bring evil from the north, and great destruction.
- 7 A lion has gone up from his thicket, a destroyer of nations has set out; he has gone forth from his place to make your land a waste; your cities will be ruins without inhabitant.
- 8 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and wail; for the fierce anger of the LORD has not turned back from us."
- 9 "In that day, says the LORD, courage shall fail both king and princes; the priests shall be appalled and the prophets astounded." 10 Then I said, "Ah, Lord GOD, surely thou hast utterly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, 'It shall be well with you'; whereas the sword has reached their very life."
- 11 At that time it will be said to this people and to Jerusalem, "A hot wind from the bare heights in the desert toward the daughter of my people, not to winnow or cleanse, 12 a wind too full for this comes for me. Now it is I who speak in judgment upon them."
- 13 Behold, he comes up like clouds, his chariots like the whirlwind; his horses are swifter than eagles— woe to us, for we are ruined!
- 14 O Jerusalem, wash your heart from wickedness, that you may be saved. How long shall your evil thoughts lodge within you?
- 15 For a voice declares from Dan and proclaims evil from Mount Ephraim.
- 16 Warn the nations that he is coming; announce to Jerusalem, "Besiegers come from a distant land; they shout against the cities of Judah.
- 17 Like keepers of a field are they against her round about, because she has rebelled against me, says the LORD.
- 18 Your ways and your doings have brought this upon you. This is your doom, and it is bitter; it has reached your very heart."
- 19 My anguish, my anguish! I writhe in pain!
Oh, the walls of my heart!
My heart is beating wildly;
I cannot keep silent;
for I hear the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.
- 20 Disaster follows hard on disaster, the whole land is laid waste. Suddenly my tents are destroyed, my curtains in a moment.
- 21 How long must I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?
- 22 "For my people are foolish, they know me not; they are stupid children, they have no understanding. They are skilled in doing evil, but how to do good they know not."
- 23 I looked on the earth, and lo, it was waste and void; and to the heavens, and they had no light.
- 24 I looked on the mountains, and lo, they were quaking, and all the hills moved to and fro.
- 25 I looked, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the air had fled.
- 26 I looked, and lo, the fruitful land was a desert, and all its cities were laid in ruins before the LORD, before his fierce anger.
- 27 For thus says the LORD, "The whole land shall be a desolation; yet I will not make a full end.
- 28 For this the earth shall mourn, and the heavens above be black; for I have spoken, I have purposed; I have not relented nor will I turn back."
- 29 At the noise of horseman and archer every city takes to flight; they enter thickets; they climb among rocks; all the cities are forsaken, and no man dwells in them.
- 30 And you, O desolate one, what do you mean that you dress in scarlet, that you deck yourself with ornaments of gold, that you enlarge your eyes with paint?
In vain you beautify yourself.
Your lovers despise you;

they seek your life.

- ³¹ For I heard a cry as of a woman in travail, anguish as of one bringing forth her first child,
the cry of the daughter of Zion gasping for breath, stretching out her hands, “Woe is me! I am fainting before murderers.”

5 Run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, look and take note!
Search her squares to see if you can find a man,
one who does justice
and seeks truth;
that I may pardon her.

² Though they say, “As the LORD lives,” yet they swear falsely.

³ O LORD, do not thy eyes look for truth?

Thou hast smitten them,
but they felt no anguish;
thou hast consumed them,
but they refused to take correction.

They have made their faces harder than rock;
they have refused to repent.

⁴ Then I said, “These are only the poor, they have no sense;
for they do not know the way of the LORD,
the law of their God.

⁵ I will go to the great,
and will speak to them;
for they know the way of the LORD,
the law of their God.”
But they all alike had broken the yoke, they had burst the bonds.

⁶ Therefore a lion from the forest shall slay them,
a wolf from the desert shall destroy them.

A leopard is watching against their cities, every one who goes out of them shall be torn in pieces;
because their transgressions are many,
their apostasies are great.

⁷ “How can I pardon you?
Your children have forsaken me,
and have sworn by those who are no gods.

When I fed them to the full,
they committed adultery and trooped to the houses of harlots.

⁸ They were well-fed lusty stallions, each neighing for his neighbor's wife.

⁹ Shall I not punish them for these things?

says the LORD;
and shall I not avenge myself
on a nation such as this?

¹⁰ “Go up through her vine-rows and destroy, but make not a full end;
strip away her branches,
for they are not the LORD's.

¹¹ For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have been utterly faithless to me,

says the LORD.

¹² They have spoken falsely of the LORD, and have said, ‘He will do nothing;
no evil will come upon us,
nor shall we see sword or famine.

¹³ The prophets will become wind;
the word is not in them.
Thus shall it be done to them!’ ”

¹⁴ Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts:

“Because they^c have spoken this word, behold, I am making my words in your mouth a fire, and this people wood, and the fire shall devour them.

¹⁵ Behold, I am bringing upon you a nation from afar, O house of Israel,

says the LORD.

It is an enduring nation,
it is an ancient nation,
a nation whose language you do not know, nor can you understand what they say.

¹⁶ Their quiver is like an open tomb, they are all mighty men.

¹⁷ They shall eat up your harvest and your food;

^c Heb you

- they shall eat up your sons and your daughters;
 they shall eat up your flocks and your herds;
 they shall eat up your vines and your fig trees;
 your fortified cities in which you trust they shall destroy with the sword.”
- 18 “But even in those days, says the LORD, I will not make a full end of you. 19 And when your people say, ‘Why has the LORD our God done all these things to us?’ you shall say to them, ‘As you have forsaken me and served foreign gods in your land, so you shall serve strangers in a land that is not yours.’”
- 20 Declare this in the house of Jacob, proclaim it in Judah: 21 “Hear this, O foolish and senseless people, who have eyes, but see not,
 who have ears, but hear not.
 22 Do you not fear me? says the LORD;
 Do you not tremble before me?
 I placed the sand as the bound for the sea,
 a perpetual barrier which it cannot pass;
 though the waves toss, they cannot prevail, though they roar, they cannot pass over it.
 23 But this people has a stubborn and rebellious heart;
 they have turned aside and gone away.
 24 They do not say in their hearts, ‘Let us fear the LORD our God, who gives the rain in its season,
 the autumn rain and the spring rain, and keeps for us
 the weeks appointed for the harvest.’ 25 Your iniquities have turned these away, and your sins have kept good from you.
 26 For wicked men are found among my people;
 they lurk like fowlers lying in wait.
 They set a trap;
 they catch men.
 27 Like a basket full of birds,
- their houses are full of treachery;
 therefore they have become great and rich,
 and they have grown fat and sleek.
 28 They know no bounds in deeds of wickedness;
 they judge not with justice
 the cause of the fatherless, to make it prosper, and they do not defend the rights of the needy.
 29 Shall I not punish them for these things?
 says the LORD,
 and shall I not avenge myself
 on a nation such as this?”
- 30 An appalling and horrible thing has happened in the land: 31 the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule at their direction;
 my people love to have it so,
 but what will you do when the end comes?
- 6 Flee for safety, O people of Benjamin, from the midst of Jerusalem!
 Blow the trumpet in Teko’a, and raise a signal on Beth-hac-che’-rem;
 for evil looms out of the north,
 and great destruction.
 2 The comely and delicately bred I will destroy, the daughter of Zion.
 3 Shepherds with their flocks shall come against her;
 they shall pitch their tents around her,
 they shall pasture, each in his place.
 4 “Prepare war against her;
 up, and let us attack at noon!” “Woe to us, for the day declines, for the shadows of evening lengthen!” 5 “Up, and let us attack by night, and destroy her palaces!”
 6 For thus says the LORD of hosts: “Hew down her trees;
 cast up a siege mound against Jerusalem.
 This is the city which must be punished;

/ Heb uncertain

5.21: Is 6.9-10; Mt 13.10-15; Mk 8.17-18.

- there is nothing but oppression within her.
- ⁷ As a well keeps its water fresh, so she keeps fresh her wickedness; violence and destruction are heard within her; sickness and wounds are ever before me.
- ⁸ Be warned, O Jerusalem, lest I be alienated from you; lest I make you a desolation, an uninhabited land."
- ⁹ Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Glean^g thoroughly as a vine the remnant of Israel; like a grape-gatherer pass your hand again over its branches."
- ¹⁰ To whom shall I speak and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ears are closed,^h they cannot listen; behold, the word of the LORD is to them an object of scorn, they take no pleasure in it.
- ¹¹ Therefore I am full of the wrath of the LORD; I am weary of holding it in. "Pour it out upon the children in the street, and upon the gatherings of young men, also; both husband and wife shall be taken, the old folk and the very aged.
- ¹² Their houses shall be turned over to others, their fields and wives together; for I will stretch out my hand against the inhabitants of the land,"
- says the LORD.
- ¹³ "For from the least to the greatest of them, every one is greedy for unjust gain; and from prophet to priest, every one deals falsely.
- ¹⁴ They have healed the wound of my people lightly, saying, 'Peace, peace,' when there is no peace.
- ¹⁵ Were they ashamed when they committed abomination? No, they were not at all ashamed;

- they did not know how to blush. Therefore they shall fall among those who fall; at the time that I punish them, they shall be overthrown," says the LORD.
- ¹⁶ Thus says the LORD: "Stand by the roads, and look, and ask for the ancient paths, where the good way is; and walk in it, and find rest for your souls. But they said, 'We will not walk in it.'
- ¹⁷ I set watchmen over you, saying, 'Give heed to the sound of the trumpet!' But they said, 'We will not give heed.'
- ¹⁸ Therefore hear, O nations, and know, O congregation, what will happen to them.
- ¹⁹ Hear, O earth; behold, I am bringing evil upon this people, the fruit of their devices, because they have not given heed to my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it.
- ²⁰ To what purpose does frankincense come to me from Sheba, or sweet cane from a distant land? Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices pleasing to me.
- ²¹ Therefore thus says the LORD: 'Behold, I will lay before this people stumbling blocks against which they shall stumble; fathers and sons together, neighbor and friend shall perish.' "
- ²² Thus says the LORD: "Behold, a people is coming from the north country, a great nation is stirring from the farthest parts of the earth.
- ²³ They lay hold on bow and spear, they are cruel and have no mercy, the sound of them is like the roaring sea; they ride upon horses, set in array as a man for battle, against you, O daughter of Zion!"
- ²⁴ We have heard the report of it, our hands fall helpless; anguish has taken hold of us,

^g Cn: Heb they shall glean ^h Heb uncircumcised

- pain as of a woman in travail.
- 25 Go not forth into the field,
nor walk on the road;
for the enemy has a sword, terror is on every side.
- 26 O daughter of my people, gird on sackcloth,
and roll in ashes;
make mourning as for an only son,
most bitter lamentation;
for suddenly the destroyer will come upon us.
- 27 "I have made you an assayer and tester among my people, that you may know and assay their
ways.
- 28 They are all stubbornly rebellious, going about with slanders;
they are bronze and iron,
all of them act corruptly.
- 29 The bellows blow fiercely,
the lead is consumed by the fire;
in vain the refining goes on,
for the wicked are not removed.
- 30 Refuse silver they are called, for the LORD has rejected them."

7 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ² "Stand in the gate of the LORD's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all you men of Judah who enter these gates to worship the LORD. ³ Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will let you dwell in this place. ⁴ Do not trust in these deceptive words: 'This is the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD.'

⁵ "For if you truly amend your ways and your doings, if you truly execute justice one with another, ⁶ if you do not oppress the alien, the fatherless or the widow, or shed innocent blood in this place, and if you do not go after other gods to your own hurt, ⁷ then I will let you dwell in this place, in the land that I gave of old to your fathers for ever.

⁸ "Behold, you trust in deceptive words to no avail. ⁹ Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, burn incense to Ba'al, and go after other gods that you have not known, ¹⁰ and then come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, 'We are delivered!'—only to go on doing all these abominations? ¹¹ Has this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I myself have seen it, says the LORD. ¹² Go now to my place that was in Shiloh, where I made my name dwell at first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel. ¹³ And now, because you have done all these things, says the LORD, and when I spoke to you persistently you did not listen, and when I called you, you did not answer, ¹⁴ therefore I will do to the house which is called by my name, and in which you trust, and to the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh. ¹⁵ And I will cast you out of my sight, as I cast out all your kinsmen, all the offspring of E'phraim.

¹⁶ "As for you, do not pray for them, and do not intercede with me, for I do not hear you. ¹⁷ Do you not see what they are doing in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁸ The children gather wood, the fathers kindle fire, and the women knead dough, to make cakes for the queen of heaven; and they pour out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke me to anger. ¹⁹ Is it I whom they provoke? says the LORD. Is it not themselves, to their own confusion? ²⁰ Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, my anger and my wrath will be poured out on this place, upon man and beast, upon the trees of the field and the fruit of the ground; it will burn and not be quenched."

²¹ Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices, and eat the flesh. ²² For in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, I did not speak to your fathers or command them concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices. ²³ But this command I gave them, 'Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be my people; and walk in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.' ²⁴ But they did not obey or incline their ear, but walked in their own counsels and the stubbornness of their evil hearts, and went backward and not forward. ²⁵ From the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have persistently sent all my servants the prophets to them, day after day; ²⁶ yet they did not listen to me, or incline their ear, but stiffened their neck. They did worse than their fathers.

27 "So you shall speak all these words to them, but they will not listen to you. You shall call to them, but they will not answer you. 28 And you shall say to them, 'This is the nation that did not obey the voice of the LORD their God, and did not accept discipline; truth has perished; it is cut off from their lips.

29 Cut off your hair and cast it away; raise a lamentation on the bare heights, for the LORD has rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.'

30 "For the sons of Judah have done evil in my sight, says the LORD; they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it.

31 And they have built the high place¹ of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I did not command, nor did it come into my mind. 32 Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when it will no more be called Topheth, or the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of Slaughter: for they will bury in Topheth, because there is no room elsewhere. 33 And the dead bodies of this people will be food for the birds of the air, and for the beasts of the earth; and none will frighten them away. 34 And I will make to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land shall become a waste.

8 "At that time, says the LORD, the bones of the kings of Judah, the bones of its princes, the bones of the priests, the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be brought out of their tombs; 2 and they shall be spread before the sun and the moon and all the host of heaven, which they have loved and served, which they have gone after, and which they have sought and worshiped; and they shall not be gathered or buried; they shall be as dung on the surface of the ground. 3 Death shall be preferred to life by all the remnant that remains of this evil family in all the places where I have driven them, says the LORD of hosts.

4 "You shall say to them, Thus says the LORD:

When men fall, do they not rise again?

If one turns away, does he not return?

5 Why then has this people turned away in perpetual backsliding?

They hold fast to deceit,

they refuse to return.

6 I have given heed and listened, but they have not spoken aright;

no man repents of his wickedness, saying, 'What have I done?'

Every one turns to his own course, like a horse plunging headlong into battle.

7 Even the stork in the heavens knows her times;

and the turtledove, swallow, and crane¹

keep the time of their coming;

but my people know not the ordinance of the LORD.

8 "How can you say, 'We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us?'

But, behold, the false pen of the scribes has made it into a lie.

9 The wise men shall be put to shame, they shall be dismayed and taken;

lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore I will give their wives to others and their fields to conquerors, because from the least to the greatest every one is greedy for unjust gain;

from prophet to priest

every one deals falsely.

11 They have healed the wound of my people lightly, saying, 'Peace, peace,'

when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they committed abomination?

No, they were not at all ashamed;

they did not know how to blush.

¹ Gk Tg: Heb high places ² The meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain 7.34: Rev 18.23.

- Therefore they shall fall among the fallen;
when I punish them, they shall be overthrown,
says the LORD.
- 13 When I would gather them, says the LORD,
there are no grapes on the vine,
nor figs on the fig tree;
even the leaves are withered, and what I gave them has passed away from them."^k
- 14 Why do we sit still?
Gather together, let us go into the fortified cities and perish there;
for the LORD our God has doomed us to perish,
and has given us poisoned water to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD.
- 15 We looked for peace, but no good came,
for a time of healing, but behold, terror.
- 16 "The snorting of their horses is heard from Dan;
at the sound of the neighing of their stallions
the whole land quakes.
They come and devour the land and all that fills it,
the city and those who dwell in it.
- 17 For behold, I am sending among you serpents, adders which cannot be charmed, and they shall bite you,"
says the LORD.
- 18 My grief is beyond healing,^l
my heart is sick within me.
- 19 Hark, the cry of the daughter of my people from the length and breadth of the land:
"Is the LORD not in Zion?
Is her King not in her?"
"Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with their foreign idols?"
- 20 "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved."
- 21 For the wound of the daughter of my people is my heart wounded,
I mourn, and dismay has taken hold on me.
- 22 Is there no balm in Gilead?
Is there no physician there?
Why then has the health of the daughter of my people not been restored?
- 9^m O that my head were waters,
and my eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!
- 2ⁿ O that I had in the desert
a wayfarers' lodging place, that I might leave my people and go away from them!
For they are all adulterers,
a company of treacherous men.
- 3 They bend their tongue like a bow;
falsehood and not truth has grown strong^o in the land;
for they proceed from evil to evil,
and they do not know me, says the LORD.
- 4 Let every one beware of his neighbor, and put no trust in any brother;
for every brother is a supplanter,
and every neighbor goes about as a slanderer.
- 5 Every one deceives his neighbor, and no one speaks the truth;
they have taught their tongue to speak lies;
they commit iniquity and are too weary to repent.^p
- 6 Heaping oppression upon oppression, and deceit upon deceit,
they refuse to know me, says the LORD.
- 7 Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts:
"Behold, I will refine them and test them, for what else can I do, because of my people?"
- 8 Their tongue is a deadly arrow;
it speaks deceitfully;
with his mouth each speaks peaceably to his neighbor,
but in his heart he plans an ambush for him.

- ¹¹ I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins, a lair of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant."
- ¹² Who is the man so wise that he can understand this? To whom has the mouth of the LORD spoken, that he may declare it? Why is the land ruined and laid waste like a wilderness, so that no one passes through? ¹³ And the LORD says: "Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, or walked in accord with it, ¹⁴ but have stubbornly followed their own hearts and have gone after the Ba'als, as their fathers taught them. ¹⁵ Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will feed this people with wormwood, and give them poisonous water to drink. ¹⁶ I will scatter them among the nations whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send the sword after them, until I have consumed them."

not in thy anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

- ²⁵ Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that know thee not, and upon the peoples that call not on thy name; for they have devoured Jacob; they have devoured him and consumed him, and have laid waste his habitation.

11 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ² "Hear the words of this covenant, and speak to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³ You shall say to them, Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Cursed be the man who does not heed the words of this covenant ⁴ which I commanded your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Listen to my voice, and do all that I command you. So shall you be my people, and I will be your God, ⁵ that I may perform the oath which I swore to your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as at this day." Then I answered, "So be it, LORD."

⁶ And the LORD said to me, "Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: Hear the words of this covenant and do them. ⁷ For I solemnly warned your fathers when I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, warning them persistently, even to this day, saying, Obey my voice. ⁸ Yet they did not obey or incline their ear, but every one walked in the stubbornness of his evil heart. Therefore I brought upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did not."

⁹ Again the LORD said to me, "There is revolt among the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁰ They have turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words; they have gone after other gods to serve them; the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers. ¹¹ Therefore, thus says the LORD, Behold, I am bringing evil upon them which they cannot escape; though they cry to me, I will not listen to them.

¹² Then the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem will go and cry to the gods to whom they burn incense, but they cannot save them in the time of their trouble. ¹³ For your gods have become as many as your cities, O Judah; and as many as the streets of Jerusalem are the altars you have set up to shame, altars to burn incense to Ba'al.

¹⁴ "Therefore do not pray for this people, or lift up a cry or prayer on their behalf, for I will not listen when they call to me in the time of their trouble. ¹⁵ What right has my beloved in my house, when she has done vile deeds? Can vows' and sacrificial flesh avert your doom? Can you then exult? ¹⁶ The LORD once called you, 'A green olive tree, fair with goodly fruit'; but with the roar of a great tempest he will set fire to it, and its branches will be consumed. ¹⁷ The LORD of hosts, who planted you, has pronounced evil against you, because of the evil which the house of Israel and the house of Judah have done, provoking me to anger by burning incense to Ba'al."

- ¹⁸ The LORD made it known to me and I knew; then thou didst show me their evil deeds.
- ¹⁹ But I was like a gentle lamb led to the slaughter. I did not know it was against me they devised schemes, saying, "Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name be remembered no more."
- ²⁰ But, O LORD of hosts, who judgest righteously, who triest the heart and the mind, let me see thy vengeance upon them, for to thee have I committed my cause.

²¹ Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the men of An'athoth, who seek your life, and say, "Do not prophesy in the name of the LORD, or you will die by our hand"— ²² therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: "Behold, I will punish them; the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; ²³ and none of them shall be left. For I will bring evil upon the men of An'athoth, the year of their punishment."

12 Righteous art thou, O LORD, when I complain to thee; yet I would plead my case before thee.

Why does the way of the wicked prosper?

Why do all who are treacherous thrive?

² Thou plantest them, and they take root;

they grow and bring forth fruit; thou art near in their mouth and far from their heart.

³ But thou, O LORD, knowest me; thou seest me, and triest my mind toward thee.

Pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and set them apart for the day of slaughter.

they are in full cry after you; believe them not, though they speak fair words to you."

⁷ "I have forsaken my house, I have abandoned my heritage; I have given the beloved of my soul into the hands of her enemies.

¹³ They have sown wheat and have reaped thorns, they have tired themselves out but profit nothing.

They shall be ashamed of their^a harvests because of the fierce anger of the LORD."

¹⁴ Thus says the LORD concerning all my evil neighbors who touch the heritage which I have given my people Israel to inherit: "Behold, I will pluck them up from their land, and I will pluck up the house of Judah from among them. ¹⁵And after I have plucked them up, I will again have compassion on them, and I will bring them again each to his heritage and each to his land. ¹⁶And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, 'As the LORD lives,' even as they taught my people to swear by Ba'al, then they shall be built up in the midst of my people. ¹⁷But if any nation will not listen, then I will utterly pluck it up and destroy it, says the LORD."

13 Thus said the LORD to me, "Go and buy a linen waistcloth, and put it on your loins, and do not dip it in water."² So I bought a waistcloth according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loins. ³And the word of the LORD came to me a second time, ⁴ "Take the waistcloth which you have bought, which is upon your loins, and arise, go to the Eu-phra'tes, and hide it there in a cleft of the rock." ⁵ So I went, and hid it by the Eu-phra'tes, as the LORD commanded me. ⁶ And after many days the LORD said to me, "Arise, go to the Eu-phra'tes, and take from there the waistcloth which I commanded you to hide there." ⁷ Then I went to the Eu-phra'tes, and dug, and I took the waistcloth from the place where I had hidden it. And behold, the waistcloth was spoiled; it was good for nothing.

⁸ Then the word of the LORD came to me: ⁹ "Thus says the LORD: Even so will I spoil the pride of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem. ¹⁰ This evil people, who refuse to hear my words, who stubbornly follow their own heart and have gone after other gods to serve them and worship them, shall be like this waistcloth, which is good for nothing. ¹¹ For as the waistcloth clings to the loins of a man, so I made the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah cling to me, says the LORD, that they might be for me a people, a name, a praise, and a glory, but they would not listen.

¹² "You shall speak to them this word: 'Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, "Every jar shall be filled with wine."' - ² "Judah mourns and her gates languish;
her people lament on the ground,
and the cry of Jerusalem goes up.
³ Her nobles send their servants for
water;
they come to the cisterns,
they find no water,
they return with their vessels empty;
they are ashamed and confounded and cover their heads.
⁴ Because of the ground which is dismayed,
since there is no rain on the land,
the farmers are ashamed,
they cover their heads.
⁵ Even the hind in the field forsakes her newborn calf
because there is no grass.
⁶ The wild asses stand on the bare heights,
they pant for air like jackals;

us,
act, O LORD, for thy name's sake;
for our backslidings are many,
we have sinned against thee.
⁸ O thou hope of Israel, its savior in time of trouble, why shouldst thou be like a stranger
in the land,
like a wayfarer who turns aside to tarry for a night?
⁹ Why shouldst thou be like a man confused,
like a mighty man who cannot
save?
Yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of
us,
and we are called by thy name;
leave us not."
¹⁰ Thus says the LORD concerning this
people:
"They have loved to wander thus,
they have not restrained their feet;
therefore the LORD does not accept
them,
now he will remember their iniquity
and punish their sins."

¹¹ The LORD said to me: "Do not pray for the welfare of this people.
¹² Though they fast, I will not hear their cry, and though they offer burnt offering and cereal offering, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence."

¹³ Then I said: "Ah, Lord GOD, behold, the prophets say to them, 'You shall not see the sword, nor shall you have famine, but I will give you assured peace in this place.'" ¹⁴ And the LORD said to me: "The prophets are prophesying lies in my name; I did not send them, nor did I command them or speak to them. They are prophesying to you a lying vision, worthless divination, and the deceit of their own minds.
¹⁵ Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who prophesy in my name although I did not send them, and who say, 'Sword and famine shall not come on this land': By sword and famine those prophets shall be consumed. ¹⁶ And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, victims of famine and sword, with none to bury them—they, their wives, their sons, and their daughters. For I will pour out their wickedness upon them.

¹⁷ "You shall say to them this word:
'Let my eyes run down with tears night and day,
and let them not cease,
for the virgin daughter of my people is smitten with a great wound, with a very grievous blow.
¹⁸ If I go out into the field, behold, those slain by the sword!
And if I enter the city,
behold, the diseases of famine!
For both prophet and priest ply their trade through the land, and have no knowledge.'"

¹⁹ Hast thou utterly rejected Judah?
Does thy soul loathe Zion?
Why hast thou smitten us
so that there is no healing for us?
We looked for peace, but no good came;
for a time of healing, but behold, terror.
²⁰ We acknowledge our wickedness, O
LORD,

and the iniquity of our fathers,
for we have sinned against thee.

²¹ Do not spurn us, for thy name's sake;
do not dishonor thy glorious throne;

remember and do not break thy covenant with us.

²² Are there any among the false gods of the nations that can bring rain?

Or can the heavens give showers?

Art thou not he, O LORD our God?

We set our hope on thee,
for thou doest all these things.

15 Then the LORD said to me,
"Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my heart would not turn toward this people. Send them out of my sight, and let them go! ²And when they ask you, 'Where shall we go?'
you shall say to them, 'Thus says the
LORD:

"Those who are for pestilence, to
pestilence,
and those who are for the sword,
to the sword;

those who are for famine, to famine,
and those who are for captivity, to captivity."

³ "I will appoint over them four kinds of destroyers, says the LORD: the sword to slay, the dogs to tear, and the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth to devour and destroy. ⁴And I will make them a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth because of what Manasseh the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, did in Jerusalem.

⁵ "Who will have pity on you, O Jerusalem,

or who will bemoan you?

Who will turn aside

to ask about your welfare?

⁶ You have rejected me, says the LORD,
you keep going backward;

so I have stretched out my hand against you and destroyed you;—

I am weary of relenting.

⁷ I have winnowed them with a winnowing fork

in the gates of the land;

I have bereaved them, I have destroyed my people;

they did not turn from their ways.

⁸ I have made their widows more in number

than the sand of the seas;

I have brought against the mothers of young men

a destroyer at noonday;

I have made anguish and terror fall upon them suddenly.

⁹ She who bore seven has languished;
she has swooned away;

her sun went down while it was yet
day;

she has been shamed and disgraced.

And the rest of them I will give to the sword

before their enemies,
says the LORD."

¹⁰ Woe is me, my mother, that you bore me, a man of strife and contention to the whole land! I have not lent, nor have I borrowed, yet all of them curse me. ¹¹ So let it be, O LORD, if I have not entreated^y thee for their good, if I have not pleaded with thee on behalf of the enemy in the time of trouble and in the time of distress! ¹² Can one break iron, iron from the north, and bronze?

¹³ "Your wealth and your treasures
I will give as spoil, without price, for all your sins, throughout all your territory.

¹⁴ I will make you serve your enemies in a land which you do not know, for in my anger a fire is kindled which shall burn for ever."

¹⁵ O LORD, thou knowest;
remember me and visit me,
and take vengeance for me on my persecutors.

In thy forbearance take me not away;
know that for thy sake I bear reproach.

¹⁶ Thy words were found, and I ate
them,

and thy words became to me a joy
and the delight of my heart;

for I am called by thy name,

O LORD, God of hosts.

¹⁷ I did not sit in the company of merrymakers,

nor did I rejoice;

I sat alone, because thy hand was
upon me,

for thou hadst filled me with indignation.

¹⁸ Why is my pain unceasing, my wound incurable,
refusing to be healed?

¹ Gk Old Latin: Heb the LORD said ^y Cn: Heb obscure

Wilt thou be to me like a deceitful

¹⁹ Therefore thus says the LORD:

“If you return, I will restore you, and you shall stand before me.

If you utter what is precious, and not what is worthless,
you shall be as my mouth.

They shall turn to you,
but you shall not turn to them.

²⁰ And I will make you to this people a fortified wall of bronze;

they will fight against you,
but they shall not prevail over you,

for I am with you
to save you and deliver you,

says the LORD.

²¹ I will deliver you out of the hand of the wicked,

and redeem you from the grasp of the ruthless.”

16 The word of the LORD came to me: ² “You shall not take a wife, nor shall you have sons or daughters in this place. ³ For thus says the LORD concerning the sons and daughters who are born in this place, and concerning the mothers who bore them and the fathers who begot them in this land: ⁴ They shall die of deadly diseases. They shall not be lamented, nor shall they be buried; they shall be as dung on the surface of the ground. They shall perish by the sword and by famine, and their dead bodies shall be food for the birds of the air and for the beasts of
the earth.

⁵ “For thus says the LORD: Do not enter the house of mourning, or go to lament, or bemoan them; for I have taken away my peace from this people, says the LORD, my steadfast love and mercy. ⁶ Both great and small shall die in this land; they shall not be buried, and no one shall lament for them or cut himself or make himself bald for them.

⁷ No one shall break bread for the mourner, to comfort him for the dead; nor shall any one give him the cup of consolation to drink for his father or his mother. ⁸ You shall not go into the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat and drink. ⁹ For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will make to cease from this place, before your eyes and in your days, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.

¹⁰ “And when you tell this people all these words, and they say to you, ‘Why has the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? What is our iniquity?
What is the sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?’ ¹¹ then you shall say to them: ‘Because your fathers have forsaken me, says the LORD, and have gone after other gods and have served and worshiped them, and have forsaken me and have not kept my law, ¹² and because you have done worse than your fathers, for behold, every one of you follows his stubborn evil will, refusing to listen to me; ¹³ therefore I will hurl you out of this land into a land which neither you nor your fathers have known, and there you shall serve other gods day and night, for I will show you no favor.’

¹⁴ “Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when it shall no longer be said, ‘As the LORD lives who brought up the people of Israel out of the land of Egypt,’ ¹⁵ but ‘As the LORD lives who brought up the people of Israel out of the north country and out of all the countries where he had

¹⁷ For my eyes are upon all their ways; they are not hid from me, nor is their iniquity concealed from my eyes.

iniquity and their sin, because they have polluted my land with the carcasses of their detestable idols, and have filled my inheritance with their abomina-
tions.”

worthless things in which there is no profit.

²⁰ Can man make for himself gods?
Such are no gods!"

²¹ "Therefore, behold, I will make them know, this once I will make them know my power and my might, and they shall know that my name is the LORD."

17 "The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron; with a point of diamond it is engraved on the tablet of their heart, and on the horns of their altars, ² while their children remember their altars and their Ashe'rim, beside every green tree, and on the high hills, ³ on the mountains in the open country. Your wealth and all your treasures I will give for spoil as the price of your sin^a throughout all your territory. ⁴ You shall loosen your hand^b from your heritage which I gave to you, and I will make you serve your enemies in a land which you do not know, for in my anger a fire is kindled which shall burn for ever."

⁵ Thus says the LORD:

"Cursed is the man who trusts in man and makes flesh his arm, whose heart turns away from the LORD.

⁶ He is like a shrub in the desert, and shall not see any good come.
He shall dwell in the parched places of the wilderness,
in an uninhabited salt land.

⁷ "Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD, whose trust is the LORD.

⁸ He is like a tree planted by water, that sends out its roots by the stream, and does not fear when heat comes,
for its leaves remain green, and is not anxious in the year of drought, for it does not cease to bear fruit."

⁹ The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately corrupt;
who can understand it?

¹⁰ "I the LORD search the mind and try the heart,

to give to every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his doings."

¹¹ Like the partridge that gathers a brood which she did not hatch, so is he who gets riches but not by right; in the midst of his days they will leave him,
and at his end he will be a fool.

is the place of our sanctuary.

¹³ O LORD, the hope of Israel, all who forsake thee shall be put to shame;
those who turn away from thee^c shall be written in the earth, for they have forsaken the LORD,
the fountain of living water.

¹⁴ Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed;
save me, and I shall be saved;
for thou art my praise.

¹⁵ Behold, they say to me,
"Where is the word of the LORD?
Let it come!"

¹⁶ I have not pressed thee to send evil, nor have I desired the day of disaster,
thou knowest;
that which came out of my lips was before thy face.

¹⁷ Be not a terror to me;
thou art my refuge in the day of evil.

¹⁸ Let those be put to shame who persecute me, but let me not be put to shame;
let them be dismayed,
but let me not be dismayed;
bring upon them the day of evil;
destroy them with double destruction!

¹⁹ Thus said the LORD to me: "Go and stand in the Benjamin^d Gate, by which the kings of Judah enter and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem, ²⁰ and say: 'Hear the word of the LORD, you kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of

Jerusalem, who enter by these gates. ²¹ Thus says the LORD: Take heed for the sake of your lives, and do not bear a burden on the sabbath day or bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem. ²² And do not carry a burden out of your houses on the sabbath or do any work, but keep the sabbath day holy, as I commanded your fathers. ²³ Yet they did not listen or incline their ear, but stiffened their neck, that they might not hear and receive instruction.

²⁴ "But if you listen to me, says the LORD, and bring in no burden by the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but keep the sabbath day holy and do no work on it, ²⁵ then there shall enter by the gates of this city kings^e who sit on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their princes, the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall be inhabited for ever. ²⁶ And people shall come from the cities of Judah and the places round about Jerusalem, from the land of Benjamin, from the Shephe'lah, from the hill country, and from the Negeb, bringing burnt offerings and sacrifices, cereal offerings and frankincense, and bringing thank offerings to the house of the LORD. ²⁷ But if you do not listen to me, to keep the sabbath day holy, and not to bear a burden and enter by the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day, then I will kindle a fire in its gates, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem and shall not be quenched."

18 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ² "Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will let you hear my words." ³ So I went down to the potter's house, and there he was working at his wheel. ⁴ And the vessel he was making of clay was spoiled in the potter's hand, and he reworked it into another vessel, as it seemed good to the potter to do.

⁵ Then the word of the LORD came to me: ⁶ "O house of Israel, can I not do with you as this potter has done? says the LORD. Behold, like the clay in the potter's hand, so are you in my hand, O house of Israel. ⁷ If at any time I declare concerning a nation or a kingdom, that I will pluck up and break down and destroy it, ⁸ and if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turns from its evil, I will repent of the evil that I intended to do to it. ⁹ And if at any time I declare concerning a nation or a kingdom that I will build and plant it, ¹⁰ and if it does evil in my sight, not listening to my voice, then I will repent of the good which I had intended to do to it. ¹¹ Now, therefore, say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: 'Thus says the LORD, Behold, I am shaping evil against you and devising a plan against you. Return, every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings.'

¹² "But they say, 'That is in vain! We will follow our own plans, and will every one act according to the stubbornness of his evil heart.'

¹³ "Therefore thus says the LORD: Ask among the nations, who has heard the like of this? The virgin Israel has done a very horrible thing.

²⁰ Is evil a recompense for good?

Yet they have dug a pit for my life.
Remember how I stood before thee to speak good for them, to turn away thy wrath from them.

famine;

give them over to the power of the
sword,

let their wives become childless and widowed.

May their men meet death by
pestilence,
their youths be slain by the sword in battle.

²² May a cry be heard from their houses, when thou bringest the marauder

For they have dug a pit to take me, and laid snares for my feet.

all their plotting to slay me.

Forgive not their iniquity, nor blot out their sin from thy sight.

Let them be overthrown before thee;
deal with them in the time of thine anger.

19 Thus said the LORD, "Go, buy a potter's earthen flask, and take some of the elders of the people and some of the senior priests, ² and go out to the valley of the son of Hinnom at the entry of the Potsherd Gate, and proclaim there the words that I tell you. ³ You shall say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I am bringing such evil upon this place that the ears of every one who hears of it will tingle. ⁴ Because the people have forsaken me, and have profaned this place by burning incense in it to other gods whom neither they nor their fathers nor the kings of Judah have known; and because they have filled this place with the blood of innocents, ⁵ and have built the high places of Ba'al to burn their sons in the fire as burnt offerings to Ba'al, which I did not command or decree, nor did it come into my mind; ⁶ therefore, behold, days are coming, says the LORD, when this place shall no more be called Topheth, or the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of Slaughter. ⁷ And in this place I will make void the plans of Judah and Jerusalem, and will cause their people to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of those who seek their life. I will give their dead bodies for food to the birds of the air and to the beasts of the earth. ⁸ And I will make this city a horror, a thing to be hissed at; every one who passes by it will be horrified and will hiss because of all its disasters. ⁹ And I will make them eat the flesh of their sons and their daughters, and every one shall eat the flesh of his neighbor in the siege and in the distress, with which their enemies and those who seek their life afflict them."

¹⁰ "Then you shall break the flask in the sight of the men who go with you, ¹¹ and shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: So will I break this people and this city, as one breaks a potter's vessel, so that it can never be mended. Men shall bury in Topheth because there will be no place else to bury. ¹² Thus will I do to this place, says the LORD, and to its inhabitants, making this city like Topheth. ¹³ The houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah—all the houses upon whose roofs incense has been burned to all the host of heaven, and drink offerings have been poured out to other gods—shall be defiled like the place of Topheth."

¹⁴ Then Jeremiah came from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and he stood in the court of the LORD's house, and said to all the people: ¹⁵ "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I am bringing upon this city and upon all its towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have stiffened their neck, refusing to hear my words."

20 Now Pashhur the priest, the son of Immer, who was chief officer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things. ² Then Pashhur beat Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper Benjamin Gate of the house of the LORD. ³ On the morrow, when Pashhur released Jeremiah from the stocks, Jeremiah said to him, "The LORD does not call your name Pashhur, but Teror on every side. ⁴ For thus says the LORD: Behold, I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends. They shall fall by the sword of their enemies while you look on. And I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon; he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword. ⁵ Moreover, I will give all the wealth of the city, all its gains, all its prized belongings, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah into the hand of their enemies, who shall plunder them, and seize them, and carry them to Babylon. ⁶ And you, Pashhur, and all who dwell in your house, shall go into captivity; to Babylon you shall go; and there you shall die, and there you shall be buried, you and all your friends, to whom you have prophesied falsely."

⁷ O LORD, thou hast deceived me, and I was deceived; thou art stronger than I, and thou hast prevailed.

I have become a laughingstock all the day; every one mocks me.

⁸ For whenever I speak, I cry out, I shout, "Violence and destruction!"

For the word of the LORD has become for me a reproach and derision all day long.

⁹ If I say, "I will not mention him, or speak any more in his name," there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with holding it in, and I cannot.

¹⁰ For I hear many whispering. Terror is on every side! "Denounce him! Let us denounce him!"

say all my familiar friends, watching for my fall. "Perhaps he will be deceived, then we can overcome him, and take our revenge on him."

¹¹ But the LORD is with me as a dread warrior; therefore my persecutors will stumble, they will not overcome me. They will be greatly shamed, for they will not succeed. Their eternal dishonor will never be forgotten.

¹² O LORD of hosts, who triest the righteous, who seest the heart and the mind, let me see thy vengeance upon them, for to thee have I committed my cause.

¹³ Sing to the LORD; praise the LORD! For he has delivered the life of the needy from the hand of evildoers.

¹⁴ Cursed be the day on which I was born! The day when my mother bore me, let it not be blessed!

¹⁵ Cursed be the man who brought the news to my father, "A son is born to you," making him very glad.

¹⁶ Let that man be like the cities which the LORD overthrew without pity;

let him hear a cry in the morning and an alarm at noon,

¹⁷ because he did not kill me in the womb; so my mother would have been my grave, and her womb for ever great.

¹⁸ Why did I come forth from the womb to see toil and sorrow, and spend my days in shame?

21 This is the word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when King Zedeki'ah sent to him Pashhur the son of Malchi'ah and Zephani'ah the priest, the son of Ma-asei'ah, saying, ² "Inquire of the LORD for us, for Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon is making war against us; perhaps the LORD will deal with us according to all his wonderful deeds, and will make him withdraw from us."

³ Then Jeremiah said to them: ⁴ "Thus you shall say to Zedeki'ah, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war which are in your hands and with which you are fighting against the king of Babylon and against the Chalde'ans who are besieging you outside the walls; and I will bring them together into the midst of this city. ⁵ I myself will fight against you with outstretched hand and strong arm, in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath. ⁶And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast; they shall die of a great pestilence. ⁷Afterward, says the LORD, I will give Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people in this city who survive the pestilence, sword, and famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and into the hand of their enemies, into the hand of those who seek their lives. He shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not pity them, or spare them, or have compassion.

⁸ "And to this people you shall say: 'Thus says the LORD: Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. ⁹He who stays in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; but he who goes out and surrenders to the Chaldeans who are besieging you shall live and shall have his life as a prize of war. ¹⁰For I have set my face against this city for evil and not for good, says the LORD: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.'

¹¹ "And to the house of the king of Judah say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, ¹²O house of David! Thus says the LORD:

"Execute justice in the morning, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed,
lest my wrath go forth like fire,
and burn with none to quench it,
because of your evil doings.'"

¹³ "Behold, I am against you, O inhabitant of the valley, O rock of the plain,
says the LORD;

you who say, 'Who shall come down against us, or who shall enter our habitations?'

¹⁴ I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings,
says the LORD;
I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it shall devour all that is round about her."

and speak there this word, ²and say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O King of Judah, who sit on the throne of David, you, and your servants, and your people who enter these gates. ³Thus says the LORD: Do justice and righteousness, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed. And do no wrong or violence to the alien, the fatherless, and the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place. ⁴For if you will indeed obey this word, then there shall enter the gates of this house kings who sit on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their servants, and their people. ⁵But if you will not heed these words, I swear by myself, says the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation. ⁶For thus says the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah:

"You are as Gilead to me, as the summit of Lebanon, yet surely I will make you a desert, an uninhabited city.^k

⁷ I will prepare destroyers against you, each with his weapons;
and they shall cut down your choicest cedars,
and cast them into the fire.

⁸ "And many nations will pass by this city, and every man will say to his neighbor, 'Why has the LORD dealt thus with this great city?' ⁹And they will answer, 'Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshiped other gods and served them.'"

¹⁰ Weep not for him who is dead, nor bemoan him;
but weep bitterly for him who goes away, for he shall return no more to see his native land.

¹¹ For thus says the LORD concerning Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, and who went away from this place: "He shall return here no more, ¹²but in the place where they have carried him captive, there shall he die, and he shall never see this land again."

¹³ "Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness,
and his upper rooms by injustice;

22 Thus says the LORD: "Go down to the house of the king of Judah, ^k Cf. Heb. cities 22.5; Mt 23.38; Lk 13.35.

- who makes his neighbor serve him for nothing,
and does not give him his wages; 14 who says, 'I will build myself a great house
with spacious upper rooms,' and cuts out windows for it, paneling it with cedar,
and painting it with vermilion.
- 15 Do you think you are a king because you compete in cedar?
Did not your father eat and drink and do justice and righteousness?
Then it was well with him.
- 16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy;
then it was well.
Is not this to know me?
says the LORD.
- 17 But you have eyes and heart only for your dishonest gain, for shedding innocent blood, and for practicing oppression and violence."
- 18 Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoi'akim the son of Josi'- ah, king of Judah:
"They shall not lament for him,
saying,
'Ah my brother!' or 'Ah sister!'
They shall not lament for him,
saying,
'Ah lord!' or 'Ah his majesty!' 19 With the burial of an ass he shall be buried,
dragged and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem."
- 20 "Go up to Lebanon, and cry out, and lift up your voice in Bashan;
cry from Ab'arim,
for all your lovers are destroyed.
- 21 I spoke to you in your prosperity, but you said, 'I will not listen.'
This has been your way from your youth,
that you have not obeyed my voice.
- 22 The wind shall shepherd all your shepherds,
and your lovers shall go into captivity;
then you will be ashamed and confounded
because of all your wickedness.
- 23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, nested among the cedars,

how you will groan^r when pangs come upon you,
pain as of a woman in travail!"

24 "As I live, says the LORD, though Coni'ah the son of Jehoi'akim, king of Judah, were the signet ring on my right hand, yet I would tear you off²⁵ and give you into the hand of those who seek your life, into the hand of those of whom you are afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon and into the hand of the Chalde'ans. 26 I will hurl you and the mother who bore you into another country, where you were not born, and there you shall die.
27 But to the land to which they will long to return, there they shall not return."

28 Is this man Coni'ah a despised, broken pot,
a vessel no one cares for?
Why are he and his children hurled and cast into a land which they do not know?
29 O land, land, land,
hear the word of the LORD!
30 Thus says the LORD:
"Write this man down as childless, a man who shall not succeed in his days;
for none of his offspring shall succeed in sitting on the throne of David, and ruling again in Judah."

23 "Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture!" says the LORD. 2 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the shepherds who care for my people: "You have scattered my flock, and have driven them away, and you have not attended to them.
Behold, I will attend to you for your evil doings, says the LORD. 3 Then I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries where I have driven them, and I will bring them back to their fold, and they shall be fruitful and multiply. 4 I will set shepherds over them who will care for them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be missing, says the
LORD.

5 "Behold, the days are coming, says
the LORD, when I will raise up for David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. ⁶ In his days Judah will be saved, and Israel will dwell securely. And this is the name by which he will be called: 'The LORD is our righteousness.'

⁷ "Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when men shall no longer say, 'As the LORD lives who brought up the people of Israel out of the land of Egypt,' ⁸ but 'As the LORD lives who brought up and led the descendants of the house of Israel out of the north country and out of all the countries where he^m had driven them.' Then they shall dwell in their own land."

9 Concerning the prophets:

My heart is broken within me,
all my bones shake;
I am like a drunken man,
like a man overcome by wine, because of the LORD
and because of his holy words.

¹⁰ For the land is full of adulterers; because of the curse the land mourns,
and the pastures of the wilderness are dried up.

Their course is evil,
and their might is not right.

¹¹ "Both prophet and priest are ungodly; even in my house I have found their wickedness,
says the LORD.

¹² Therefore their way shall be to them like slippery paths in the darkness,
into which they shall be driven and
fall;

for I will bring evil upon them in the year of their punishment,
says the LORD.

¹³ In the prophets of Samar'ia
I saw an unsavory thing:
they prophesied by Ba'al and led my people Israel astray.

¹⁴ But in the prophets of Jerusalem
I have seen a horrible thing:
they commit adultery and walk in lies;
they strengthen the hands of evil-
doers,
so that no one turns from his wickedness;

all of them have become like Sodom
to me,
and its inhabitants like Gomor'-
rah."

¹⁵ Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts
concerning the prophets:

"Behold, I will feed them with wormwood,
and give them poisoned water to
drink;

for from the prophets of Jerusalem ungodliness has gone forth into all the land."

¹⁶ Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Do not listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you, filling you with vain hopes; they speak visions of their own minds, not from the mouth of the LORD. ¹⁷ They say continually to those who despise the word of the LORD, 'It shall be well with you'; and to every one who stubbornly follows his own heart, they say, 'No evil shall come upon
you.'"

¹⁸ For who among them has stood in the council of the LORD to perceive and to hear his word, or who has given heed to his word and listened?

¹⁹ Behold, the storm of the LORD!
Wrath has gone forth,
a whirling tempest;
it will burst upon the head of the wicked.

²⁰ The anger of the LORD will not turn back
until he has executed and accomplished
the intents of his mind.
In the latter days you will understand it clearly.

²¹ "I did not send the prophets, yet they ran;
I did not speak to them,
yet they prophesied.

²² But if they had stood in my council, then they would have proclaimed
my words to my people, and they would have turned them
from their evil way,
and from the evil of their doings.

²³ "Am I a God at hand, says the LORD, and not a God afar off? ²⁴ Can a man hide himself in secret places so that

^m Gk: Heb /

I cannot see him? says the LORD. Do I not fill heaven and earth? says the LORD. ²⁵ I have heard what the prophets have said who prophesy lies in my name, saying, 'I have dreamed, I have dreamed!' ²⁶ How long shall there be liesⁿ in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies, and who prophesy the deceit of their own heart, ²⁷ who think to make my people forget my name by their dreams which they tell one another, even as their fathers forgot my name for Ba'al? ²⁸ Let the prophet who has a dream tell the dream, but let him who has my word speak my word faithfully. What has straw in common with wheat? says the LORD. ²⁹ Is not my word like fire, says the LORD, and like a hammer which breaks the rock in pieces? ³⁰ Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, says the LORD, who steal my words from one another. ³¹ Behold, I am against the prophets, says the LORD, who use their tongues and say, 'Says the LORD.' ³² Behold, I am against those who prophesy lying dreams, says the LORD, and who tell them and lead my people astray by their lies and their recklessness, when I did not send them or charge them; so they do not profit this people at all, says the LORD.

³³ "When one of this people, or a prophet, or a priest asks you, 'What is the burden of the LORD?' you shall say to them, 'You are the burden,' and I will cast you off, says the LORD." ³⁴ And as for the prophet, priest, or one of the people who says, 'The burden of the LORD,' I will punish that man and his household. ³⁵ Thus shall you say, every one to his neighbor and every one to his brother, 'What has the LORD answered?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' ³⁶ But 'the burden of the LORD' you shall mention no more, for the burden is every man's own word, and you pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God. ³⁷ Thus you shall say to the prophet, 'What has the LORD answered you?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' ³⁸ But if you say, 'The burden of the LORD,' thus says the LORD, 'Because you have said these words, "The burden of the LORD," when I sent to you, saying, "You shall not say, 'The burden of the LORD,'" ³⁹ therefore, behold, I will surely lift you up and cast you away from my presence, you and the city which I gave to you and your fathers. ⁴⁰ And I will bring upon you everlasting reproach and perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.' "

24 After Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon had taken into exile from Jerusalem Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, together with the princes of Judah, the craftsmen, and the smiths, and had brought them to Babylon, the LORD showed me this vision: Behold, two baskets of figs placed before the temple of the LORD. ² One basket had very good figs, like first-ripe figs, but the other basket had very bad figs, so bad that they could not be eaten. ³ And the LORD said to me, "What do you see, Jeremiah?" I said, "Figs, the good figs very good, and the bad figs very bad, so bad that they cannot be eaten."

⁴ Then the word of the LORD came to me: ⁵ "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Like these good figs, so I will regard as good the exiles from Judah, whom I have sent away from this place to the land of the Chalde'ans. ⁶ I will set my eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them back to this land. I will build them up, and not tear them down; I will plant them, and not uproot them. ⁷ I will give them a heart to know that I am the LORD; and they shall be my people and I will be their God, for they shall return to me with their whole heart.

⁸ "But thus says the LORD: Like the bad figs which are so bad they cannot be eaten, so will I treat Zedekiah the king of Judah, his princes, the remnant of Jerusalem who remain in this land, and those who dwell in the land of Egypt. ⁹ I will make them a horrorⁿ to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a reproach, a byword, a taunt, and a curse in all the places where I shall drive them. ¹⁰ And I will send sword, famine, and pestilence upon them, until they shall be utterly destroyed from the land which I gave to them and their fathers."

king of Babylon),² which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem:³ "For twenty-three years, from the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, to this day, the word of the LORD has come to me, and I have spoken persistently to you, but you have not listened.⁴ You have neither listened nor inclined your ears to hear, although the LORD persistently sent to you all his servants the prophets,⁵ saying, 'Turn now, every one of you, from his evil way and wrong doings, and dwell upon the land which the LORD has given to you and your fathers from of old and for ever;⁶ do not go after other gods to serve and worship them, or provoke me to anger with the work of your hands. Then I will do you no harm.'⁷ Yet you have not listened to me, says the LORD, that you might provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to your own harm.

8 "Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: Because you have not obeyed my words,⁹ behold, I will send for all the tribes of the north, says the LORD, and for Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and I will bring them against this land and its inhabitants, and against all these nations round about; I will utterly destroy them, and make them a horror, a hissing, and an everlasting reproach.⁹ ¹⁰ Moreover, I will banish from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the grinding of the millstones and the light of the lamp.¹¹ This whole land shall become a ruin and a waste, and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.¹² Then after seventy years are completed, I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation, the land of the Chaldeans, for their iniquity, says the LORD, making the land an everlasting waste.¹³ I will bring upon that land all the words which I have uttered against it, everything written in this book, which Jeremiah prophesied against all the nations.¹⁴ For many nations and great kings shall make slaves even of them; and I will recompense them according to their deeds and the work of their hands."

15 Thus the LORD, the God of Israel, said to me: "Take from my hand this cup of the wine of wrath, and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it.¹⁶ They shall drink and stagger and be crazed because of the sword which I am sending among them."

17 So I took the cup from the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to whom the Lord sent me drink it:¹⁸ Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, its kings and princes, to make them a desolation and a waste, a hissing and a curse, as at this day;¹⁹ Pharaoh king of Egypt, his servants, his princes, all his people,²⁰ and all the foreign folk among them; all the kings of the land of Uz and all the kings of the land of the Philistines (Ash'ke-lon, Gaza, Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod);²¹ Edom, Moab, and the sons of Ammon;²² all the kings of Tyre, all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the coastland across the sea;²³ Dedan, Tema, Buz, and all who cut the corners of their hair;²⁴ all the kings of Arabia and all the kings of the mixed tribes that dwell in the desert;²⁵ all the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of Media;²⁶ all the kings of the north, far and near, one after another, and all the kingdoms of the world which are on the face of the earth. And after them the king of Babylon shall drink.

27 "Then you shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink, be drunk and vomit, fall and rise no more, because of the sword which I am sending among you.'

28 "And if they refuse to accept the cup from your hand to drink, then you shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: You must drink!²⁹ For behold, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name, and shall you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, for I am summoning a sword against all the inhabitants of the earth, says the LORD of hosts.'

30 "You, therefore, shall prophesy against them all these words, and say to them:

'The LORD will roar from on high, and from his holy habitation utter his voice;

he will roar mightily against his fold, and shout, like those who tread grapes,

26 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoi'akim the son of Josi'ah, king of Judah, this word came from the LORD, ² "Thus says the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak to all the cities of Judah which come to worship in the house of the LORD all the words that I command you to speak to them; do not hold back a word. ³ It may be they will listen, and every one turn from his evil way, that I may repent of the evil which I intend to do to them because of their evil doings. ⁴ You shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD: If you will not listen to me, to walk in my law which I have set before you, ⁵ and to heed the words of my servants the prophets whom I send to you urgently, though you have not heeded, ⁶ then I will make this house like Shiloh, and I will make this city a curse for all the nations of the earth.' "

⁷ The priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD. ⁸ And when Jeremiah had finished speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, then the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold of him, saying, "You shall die! ⁹ Why have you prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, 'This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant?'" And all the people gathered about Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

¹⁰ When the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house to the house of the LORD and took their seat in the entry of the New Gate of the house of the LORD. ¹¹ Then the priests and the prophets said to the princes and to all the people, "This man deserves the sentence of death, because he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your own ears."

¹² Then Jeremiah spoke to all the princes and all the people, saying, "The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and this city all the words you have heard. ¹³ Now therefore amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God, and the LORD will repent of the evil which he has pronounced against you. ¹⁴ But as for me, behold, I am in your hands. Do with me as seems good and right to you. ¹⁵ Only know for certain that if you put me to death, you will bring innocent blood upon yourselves and upon this city and its inhabitants, for in truth the LORD sent me to you to speak all these words in your ears."

¹⁶ Then the princes and all the people said to the priests and the prophets, "This man does not deserve the sentence of death, for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.”¹⁷ And certain of the elders of the land arose and spoke to all the assembled people, saying,¹⁸ “Micah of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and said to all the people of Judah: ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts,

Zion shall be plowed as a field;

Jerusalem shall become a heap of ruins, and the mountain of the house a wooded height.’

¹⁹ Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him to death? Did he not fear the LORD and entreat the favor of the LORD, and did not the LORD repent of the evil which he had pronounced against them? But we are about to bring great evil upon ourselves.”

²⁰ There was another man who prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah from Kir-iath-je-arim. He prophesied against this city and against this land in words like those of Jeremiah.²¹ And when King Jehoiakim, with all his warriors and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard of it, he was afraid and fled and escaped to Egypt.²² Then King Jehoiakim sent to Egypt certain men, Elnathan the son of Achbor and others with him,²³ and they fetched Uriah from Egypt and brought him to King Jehoiakim, who slew him with the sword and cast his dead body into the burial place of the common people.

²⁴ But the hand of Ahi-kam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah so that he was not given over to the people to be put to death.

27 In the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah^a the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD.² Thus the LORD said to me: “Make yourself thongs and yoke-bars, and put them on your neck.³ Send word^b to the king of Edom, the king of Moab, the king of the sons of Ammon, the king of Tyre, and the king of Sidon by the hand of the envoys who have come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah.⁴ Give them this charge for their masters: ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: This is what you shall say to your masters: ⁵ ‘It is I who by my great power and my outstretched arm have made the earth, with the men and animals that are on the earth, and I give it to whomever it seems right to me.⁶ Now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, my servant, and I have given him also the beasts of the field to serve him.⁷ All the nations shall serve him and his son and his grandson, until the time of his own land comes; then many nations and great kings shall make him their slave.

⁸ ‘“But if any nation or kingdom will not serve this Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and put its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, I will punish that nation with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence, says the LORD, until I have consumed it by his hand.⁹ So do not listen to your prophets, your diviners, your dreamers,¹⁰ your soothsayers, or your sorcerers, who are saying to you, ‘You shall not serve the king of Babylon.’¹⁰ For it is a lie which they are prophesying to you, with the result that you will be removed far from your land, and I will drive you out, and you will perish.¹¹ But any nation which will bring its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serve him, I will leave on its own land, to till it and dwell there, says the LORD.”’¹¹

¹² To Zedekiah king of Judah I spoke in like manner: “Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live.¹³ Why will you and your people die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence, as the LORD has spoken concerning any nation which will not serve the king of Babylon?¹⁴ Do not listen to the words of the prophets who are saying to you, ‘You shall not serve the king of Babylon,’ for it is a lie which they are prophesying to you.¹⁵ I have not sent them, says the LORD, but they are prophesying falsely in my name, with the result that I will drive you out and you will perish, you and the prophets who are prophesying to you.”

¹⁶ Then I spoke to the priests and to all this people, saying, “Thus says the LORD: Do not listen to the words of your prophets who are prophesying to you, saying, ‘Behold, the vessels of the LORD’s house will now shortly be brought back from Babylon,' for it is a lie which they are prophesying to you. ¹⁷ Do not listen to them; serve the king of Babylon and live. Why should this city become a desolation? ¹⁸ If they are prophets, and if the word of the LORD is with them, then let them intercede with the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem may not go to Babylon. ¹⁹ For thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, the sea, the stands, and the rest of the vessels which are left in this city, ²⁰ which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take away, when he took into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem—²¹ thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem: ²² They shall be carried to Babylon and remain there until the day when I give attention to them, says the LORD. Then I will bring them back and restore them to this place."

28 In that same year, at the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fifth month of the fourth year, Hananiah the son of Azur, the prophet from Gibeon, spoke to me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and all the people, saying, ² "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon. ³ Within two years I will bring back to this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place and carried to Babylon. ⁴ I will also bring back to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and all the exiles from Judah who went to Babylon, says the LORD, for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon."

⁵ Then the prophet Jeremiah spoke to Hananiah the prophet in the presence of the priests and all the people who were standing in the house of the LORD; ⁶ and the prophet Jeremiah said, "Amen! May the LORD do so; may the LORD make the words which you have prophesied come true, and bring back to this place from Babylon the vessels of the house of the LORD, and all the exiles. ⁷ Yet hear now this word which I speak in your hearing and in the hearing of all the people. ⁸ The prophets who preceded you and me from ancient times prophesied war, famine, and pestilence against many countries and great kingdoms. ⁹ As for the prophet who prophesies peace, when the word of that prophet comes to pass, then it will be known that the LORD has truly sent the prophet."

¹⁰ Then the prophet Hananiah took the yoke-bars from the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, and broke them. ¹¹ And Hananiah spoke in the presence of all the people, saying, "Thus says the LORD: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all the nations within two years." But Jeremiah the prophet went his way.

¹² Sometime after the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke-bars from off the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ¹³ "Go, tell Hananiah, "Thus says the LORD: You have broken wooden bars, but I^x will make in their place bars of iron. ¹⁴ For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put upon the neck of all these nations an iron yoke of servitude to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they shall serve him, for I have given to him even the beasts of the field." ¹⁵ And Jeremiah the prophet said to the prophet Hananiah, "Listen, Hananiah, the LORD has not sent you, and you have made this people trust in a lie. ¹⁶ Therefore thus says the LORD: 'Behold, I will remove you from the face of the earth. This very year you shall die, because you have uttered rebellion against the LORD.'"

¹⁷ In that same year, in the seventh month, the prophet Hananiah died.

29 These are the words of the letter which Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the elders^y of the exiles, and to the priests, the prophets, and all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had taken into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon. ² This was after King Jeconiah, and the queen mother, the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen, and the smiths had departed from Jerusalem.

^x Gk: Heb you ^y Gk: Heb the rest of the elders

³ The letter was sent by the hand of Ela'sah the son of Shaphan and Gemari'ah the son of Hilki'ah, whom Zedeki'ah king of Judah sent to Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. It said: ⁴ "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the exiles whom I have sent into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon: ⁵ Build houses and live in them; plant gardens and eat their produce. ⁶ Take wives and have sons and daughters; take wives for your sons, and give your daughters in marriage, that they may bear sons and daughters; multiply there, and do not decrease. ⁷ But seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the LORD on its behalf, for in its welfare you will find your welfare. ⁸ For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Do not let your prophets and your diviners who are among you deceive you, and do not listen to the dreams which they dream, ⁹ for it is a lie which they are prophesying to you in my name; I did not send them, says the LORD.

¹⁰ "For thus says the LORD: When seventy years are completed for Babylon, I will visit you, and I will fulfil to you my promise and bring you back to this place. ¹¹ For I know the plans I have for you, says the LORD, plans for welfare and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope. ¹² Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will hear you. ¹³ You will seek me and find me; when you seek me with all your heart, ¹⁴ I will be found by you, says the LORD, and I will restore your fortunes and gather you from all the nations and all the places where I have driven you, says the LORD, and I will bring you back to the place from which I sent you into exile.

¹⁵ "Because you have said, 'The LORD has raised up prophets for us in Babylon,' ¹⁶ Thus says the LORD concerning the king who sits on the throne of David, and concerning all the people who dwell in this city, your kinsmen who did not go out with you into exile: ¹⁷ Thus says the LORD of hosts, Behold, I am sending on them sword, famine, and pestilence, and I will make them like vile figs which are so bad they cannot be eaten. ¹⁸ I will pursue them with sword, famine, and pestilence, and will make them a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, a terror, a hissing, and a reproach among all the nations where I have driven them, ¹⁹ because they did not heed my words, says the LORD, which I persistently sent to you by my servants the prophets, but you would not listen, says the LORD. ²⁰ Hear the word of the LORD, all you exiles whom I sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon: ²¹ Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kola'iah and Zedeki'ah the son of Ma-asei'ah, who are prophesying a lie to you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall slay them before your eyes. ²² Because of them this curse shall be used by all the exiles from Judah in Babylon: "The LORD make you like Zedeki'ah and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire," ²³ because they have committed folly in Israel, they have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives, and they have spoken in my name lying words which I did not command them. I am the one who knows, and I am witness, says the LORD."

²⁴ To Shemai'ah of Nehel'am you shall say: ²⁵ Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: You have sent letters in your name to all the people who are in Jerusalem, and to Zephani'ah the son of Ma-asei'ah the priest, and to all the priests, saying, ²⁶ The LORD has made you priest instead of Jehoi'ada the priest, to have charge in the house of the LORD over every madman who prophesies, to put him in the stocks and collar. ²⁷ Now why have you not rebuked Jeremiah of An'athoth who is prophesying to you? ²⁸ For he has sent to us in Babylon, saying, "Your exile will be long; build houses and live in them, and plant gardens and eat their produce."

²⁹ Zephani'ah the priest read this letter in the hearing of Jeremiah the prophet. ³⁰ Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ³¹ "Send to all the exiles, saying, Thus says the LORD concerning Shemai'ah of Nehel'am: Because Shemai'ah has prophesied to you when I did not send him, and has made you trust in a lie, ³² therefore thus says the LORD: Behold, I will punish

30 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ² "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Write in a book all the words that I have spoken to you. ³ For behold, days are coming, says the LORD, when I will restore the fortunes of my people, Israel and Judah, says the LORD, and I will bring them back to the land which I gave to their fathers, and they shall take possession of it."

⁴ These are the words which the LORD spoke concerning Israel and Judah:

⁵ "Thus says the LORD:

We have heard a cry of panic,
of terror, and no peace.

⁶ Ask now, and see,

can a man bear a child?

Why then do I see every man with his hands on his loins like a woman in labor?

Why has every face turned pale?

⁷ Alas! that day is so great there is none like it;

it is a time of distress for Jacob;
yet he shall be saved out of it.

⁸ "And it shall come to pass in that day, says the LORD of hosts, that I will break the yoke from off their^b neck, and I will burst their^b bonds, and strangers shall no more make servants of them.^c

⁹ But they shall serve the LORD their God and David their king, whom I will raise up for them.

¹⁰ "Then fear not, O Jacob my servant, says the LORD, nor be dismayed, O Israel;
for lo, I will save you from afar, and your offspring from the land of their captivity.

Jacob shall return and have quiet and
ease,
and none shall make him afraid.

¹¹ For I am with you to save you,
says the LORD;

I will make a full end of all the nations
among whom I scattered you,

but of you I will not make a full end.

I will chasten you in just measure, and I will by no means leave you unpunished.

¹² "For thus says the LORD:

Your hurt is incurable, and your wound is grievous.

¹³ There is none to uphold your cause, no medicine for your wound,
no healing for you.

¹⁴ All your lovers have forgotten you;
they care nothing for you;
for I have dealt you the blow of an enemy,

the punishment of a merciless foe,
because your guilt is great,
because your sins are flagrant.

¹⁵ Why do you cry out over your hurt?
Your pain is incurable.

Because your guilt is great,
because your sins are flagrant,
I have done these things to you.

¹⁶ Therefore all who devour you shall be devoured,

and all your foes, every one of them, shall go into captivity;
those who despoil you shall become a spoil,
and all who prey on you I will make a prey.

¹⁷ For I will restore health to you, and your wounds I will heal,
says the LORD,

because they have called you an outcast:
'It is Zion, for whom no one cares!'

¹⁸ "Thus says the LORD:

Behold, I will restore the fortunes of the tents of Jacob,
and have compassion on his dwellings;

the city shall be rebuilt upon its

and the palace shall stand where it used to be.

⁸ Behold, I will bring them from the north country,

²⁰ Is E'phraim my dear son?
Is he my darling child?

²¹ “Set up waymarks for yourself,

For the LORD has created a new thing

²³ Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Once more they shall use these words in the land of Judah and in its cities, when I restore their ²⁴ And Judah and all its cities shall

the LORD. ²⁹In those days they shall no longer say:

‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes, teeth shall be set on edge.

the house of Judah, ³²not like the covenant which I made with their fathers when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, my covenant which they broke, though I make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD: I will put my law within them, and I will write it upon their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

32 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedeki'ah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrez'zar. ² At that time the army of the king of Babylon was besieging Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard which was in the palace of the king of Judah.
³ For Zedeki'ah king of Judah had imprisoned him, saying, "Why do you prophecy and say, 'Thus says the LORD: Behold, I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; ⁴ Zedeki'ah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chalde'ans, but shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him face to face and see him eye to eye; ⁵ and he shall take Zedeki'ah to Babylon, and there he shall remain until I visit him, says the LORD; though you fight against the Chalde'ans, you shall not succeed?"

⁶ Jeremiah said, "The word of the LORD came to me: ⁷ Behold, Han'amel the son of Shallum your uncle will come to you and say, 'Buy my field which is at An'athoth, for the right of redemption by purchase is yours.' ⁸ Then Han'amel my cousin came to me in the court of the guard, in accordance with the word of the LORD, and said to me,
'Buy my field which is at An'athoth in the land of Benjamin, for the right of possession and redemption is yours; buy it for yourself.' Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

⁹ "And I bought the field at An'athoth from Han'amel my cousin, and weighed out the money to him, seventeen shekels of silver. ¹⁰ I signed the deed, sealed it, got witnesses, and weighed the money on scales. ¹¹ Then I took the sealed deed of purchase, containing the terms and conditions, and the open copy; ¹² and I gave the deed of purchase to Baruch the son of Neri'ah son of Mahsei'ah, in the presence of Han'amel my cousin, in the presence of the witnesses who signed the deed of purchase, and in the presence of all the Jews who were sitting in the court of the guard. ¹³ I charged Baruch in their presence, saying, ¹⁴ "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, both this sealed deed of purchase and this open deed, and put them in an earthenware vessel, that they may last for a long time. ¹⁵ For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall again be bought in this land."

¹⁶ "After I had given the deed of purchase to Baruch the son of Neri'ah,
I prayed to the LORD, saying: ¹⁷ 'Ah Lord God! It is thou who hast made the heavens and the earth by thy great power and by thy outstretched arm!
Nothing is too hard for thee, ¹⁸ who showest steadfast love to thousands, but dost requite the guilt of fathers to their children after them, O great and mighty God whose name is the LORD of hosts, ¹⁹ great in counsel and mighty in deed; whose eyes are open to all the ways of men, rewarding every man according to his ways and according to the fruit of his doings; ²⁰ who hast shown signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, and to this day in Israel and among all mankind, and hast made thee a name, as at this day. ²¹ Thou didst bring thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs and wonders, with a strong hand and outstretched arm, and with great terror; ²² and thou gavest them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey; ²³ and they entered and took possession of it. But they did not obey thy voice or walk in thy law; they did nothing of all thou didst command them to do. Therefore thou hast made all this evil come upon them. ²⁴ Behold, the siege mounds have come up to the city to take it, and because of sword and famine and pestilence the city is given into the hands of the Chalde'ans who are fighting against it. What thou didst speak has come to pass, and behold, thou seest it. ²⁵ Yet thou, O Lord GOD, hast said to me, "Buy the field for money and get witnesses"—though the city is given into the hands of the Chalde'ans."

²⁶ The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ²⁷ "Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh; is anything too hard for me? ²⁸ Therefore, thus says the LORD: Behold, I am giving this city into the hands of the Chalde'ans and into the hand of Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon, and he shall take it. ²⁹ The Chalde'ans who are fighting against this city shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses on whose roofs incense has been offered to Ba'al and drink offerings have been poured out to other gods, to provoke me to anger. ³⁰ For the sons of Israel and the sons of Judah have done nothing but evil in my sight from their youth; the sons of Israel have done nothing but provoke me to anger by the work of their hands, says the LORD. ³¹ This city has aroused my anger and wrath, from the day it was built to this day, so that I will remove it from my sight ³² because of all the evil of the sons of Israel and the sons of Judah which they did to provoke me to anger—their kings and their princes, their priests and their prophets, the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³³ They have turned to me their back and not their face; and though I have taught them persistently they have not listened to receive instruction. ³⁴ They set up their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³⁵ They built the high places of Ba'al in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to offer up their sons and daughters to Molech, though I did not command them, nor did it enter into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.

³⁶ "Now therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city of which you say, 'It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by sword, by famine, and by pestilence': ³⁷ Behold, I will gather them from all the countries to which I drove them in my anger and my wrath and in great indignation; I will bring them back to this place, and I will make them dwell in safety. ³⁸ And they shall be my people, and I will be their God. ³⁹ I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for their own good and the good of their children after them. ⁴⁰ I will make with them an everlasting covenant, that I will not turn away from doing good to them; and I will put the fear of me in their hearts, that they may not turn from me. ⁴¹ I will rejoice in doing them good, and I will plant them in this land in faithfulness, with all my heart and all my soul.

⁴² "For thus says the LORD: Just as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so I will bring upon them all the good that I promise them. ⁴³ Fields shall be bought in this land of which you are saying, It is a desolation, without man or beast; it is given into the hands of the Chalde'ans. ⁴⁴ Fields shall be bought for money, and deeds shall be signed and sealed and witnessed, in the land of Benjamin, in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, in the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the Shephe'lah, and in the cities of the Negeb; for I will restore their fortunes, says the LORD."

33 The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah a second time, while he was still shut up in the court of the guard: ² "Thus says the LORD who made the earth,⁹ the LORD who formed

⁹ GK: Heb it 32.38-40; Jer 31.31-34.

it to establish it—the LORD is his name: ³ Call to me and I will answer you, and will tell you great and hidden things which you have not known. ⁴ For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city and the houses of the kings of Judah which were torn down to make a defense against the siege mounds and before the sword: ⁵

⁵ The Chaldeans are coming in to fight and to fill them with the dead bodies of men whom I shall smite in my anger and my wrath, for I have hidden my face from this city because of all their wickedness. ⁶ Behold, I will bring to it health and healing, and I will heal them and reveal to them abundance of prosperity and security. ⁷ I will restore the fortunes of Judah and the fortunes of Israel, and rebuild them as they were at first. ⁸ I will cleanse them from all the guilt of their sin against me, and I will forgive all the guilt of their sin and rebellion against me. ⁹ And this city ^a shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and a glory before all the nations of the earth who shall hear of all the good that I do for them; they shall fear and tremble because of all the good and all the prosperity I provide for it.

¹⁰ "Thus says the LORD: In this place of which you say, 'It is a waste without man or beast,' in the cities of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate, without man or inhabitant or beast, there shall be heard again ¹¹ the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voices of those who sing, as they bring thank offerings to the house of the LORD:

'Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for his steadfast love endures forever!'

For I will restore the fortunes of the land as at first, says the LORD.

¹² "Thus says the LORD of hosts: In this place which is waste, without man or beast, and in all of its cities, there shall again be habitations of shepherds resting their flocks. ¹³ In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the Shephe'lah, and in the cities of the Negeb, in the land of Benjamin, the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, flocks shall again pass under the hands of the one who counts them, says the LORD.

¹⁴ "Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will fulfil the promise I made to the house of Israel and the house of Judah. ¹⁵ In those days and at that time I will cause a righteous Branch to spring forth for David; and he shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. ¹⁶ In those days Judah will be saved and Jerusalem will dwell securely. And this is the name by which it will be called: 'The LORD is our righteousness.'

¹⁹ The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ²⁰ "Thus says the LORD: If you can break my covenant with the day and my covenant with the night, so that day and night will not come at their appointed time, ²¹ then also my covenant with David my servant may be broken, so that he shall not have a son to reign on his throne, and my covenant with the Levitical priests my ministers. ²² As the host of heaven cannot be numbered and the sands of the sea cannot be measured, so I will multiply the descendants of David my servant, and the Levitical priests who minister to me."

²³ The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ²⁴ "Have you not observed what these people are saying, 'The LORD has rejected the two families which he chose'? Thus they have despised my people so that they are no longer a nation in their sight. ²⁵ Thus says the LORD: If I have not established my covenant with day and night and the ordinances of heaven and earth, ²⁶ then I will reject the descendants of Jacob and David my servant and will not choose one of his descendants to rule over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. For I will restore their fortunes, and will have mercy upon them."

34 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army and all the kingdoms of the earth under his dominion and all the peoples were fighting against Jerusalem and all of its cities: ² "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Go and speak to Zedeki'ah king of Judah and say to him, 'Thus says the LORD: Behold, I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire. ³ You shall not escape from his hand, but shall surely be captured and delivered into his hand; you shall see the king of Babylon eye to eye and speak with him face to face; and you shall go to Babylon.' ⁴ Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedeki'ah king of Judah! Thus says the LORD concerning you: 'You shall not die by the sword. ⁵ You shall die in peace. And as spices were burned for your fathers, the former kings who were before you, so men shall burn spices for you and lament for you, saying, "Alas, lord!"' For I have spoken the word, says the LORD."

⁸ The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after King Zedeki'ah had made a covenant with all the people in Jerusalem to make a proclamation of liberty to them, ⁹ that every one should set free his Hebrew slaves, male and female, so that no one should enslave a Jew, his brother. ¹⁰ And they obeyed, all the princes and all the people who had entered into the covenant that every one would set free his slave, male or female, so that they would not be enslaved again; they obeyed and set them free. ¹¹ But afterward they turned around and took back the male and female slaves they had set free, and brought them into subjection as slaves. ¹² The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ¹³ "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, ¹⁴ 'At the end of six¹ years each of you must set free the fellow Hebrew who has been sold to you and has served you six years; you must set him free from your service.' But your fathers did not listen to me or incline their ears to me. ¹⁵ You recently repented and did what was right in my eyes by proclaiming liberty, each to his neighbor, and you made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name; ¹⁶ but then you turned around and profaned my name when each of you took back his male and female slaves, whom you had set free according to their desire, and you brought them into subjection to be your slaves. ¹⁷ Therefore, thus says the LORD: You have not obeyed me by proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother and to his neighbor; behold, I proclaim to you liberty to the sword, to pestilence, and to famine, says the LORD. I will make you a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth. ¹⁸ And the men who transgressed my covenant and did not keep the terms of the covenant which they made before me, I will make like ^m the calf which they cut in two and passed between its parts—¹⁹ the princes of Judah, the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, the priests, and all the people of the land who passed between the parts of the calf; ²⁰ and I will give them into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their lives. Their dead bodies shall be food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth. ²¹ And Zedeki'ah king of Judah, and his princes I will give into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their lives, into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon which has withdrawn from you. ²² Behold, I will command, says the LORD, and will bring them back to this city; and they will fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire. I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without inhabitant."

35 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoi'akim the son of Josi'ah, king of Judah: ² "Go to the house of the Rechabites, and speak with them, and bring them to the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers; then offer them wine to drink." ³ So I took Jazani'ah the son of Jeremiah, son of Habazzini'ah, and his brothers, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Re'chabites. ⁴ I brought them to the house of the LORD into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdali'ah, the man of God, which was near the chamber of the princes, above the chamber of Ma-asei'ah the son of Shalum, keeper of the threshold. ⁵ Then I set before the Re'chabites pitchers full of wine, and cups; and I said to them, "Drink wine." ⁶ But they answered, "We will drink no wine, for Jon'adab the son of Rechab, our father, commanded us, 'You shall not drink wine, neither you nor your sons for ever; ⁷ you shall not build a house; you shall not sow seed; you shall not plant or have a vineyard; but you shall live in tents all your days, that you may live many days in the land where you sojourn.' ⁸ We have obeyed the voice of Jon'adab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he commanded us, to drink no wine all our days, ourselves, our wives, our sons, or our daughters, ⁹ and not to build houses to dwell in. We have no vineyard or field or seed; ¹⁰ but we have lived in tents, and have obeyed and done all that Jon'adab our father commanded us. ¹¹ But when Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon came up against the land, we said, 'Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chalde'ans and the army of the Syrians.' So we are living in Jerusalem."

¹² Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ¹³ "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will you not receive instruction and listen to my words? says the LORD. ¹⁴ The command which Jon'adab the son of Rechab gave to his sons, to drink no wine, has been kept; and they drink none to this day, for they have obeyed their father's command. I have spoken to you persistently, but you have not listened to me. ¹⁵ I have sent to you all my servants the prophets, sending them persistently, saying, 'Turn now every one of you from his evil way, and amend your doings, and do not go after other gods to serve them, and then you shall dwell in the land which I gave to you and your fathers.' But you did not incline your ear or listen to me. ¹⁶ The sons of Jon'adab the son of Rechab have kept the command which their father gave them, but this people has not obeyed me. ¹⁷ Therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I am bringing on Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them; because I have spoken to them and they have not listened, I have called to them and they have not answered."

¹⁸ But to the house of the Re'chabites Jeremiah said, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because you have obeyed the command of Jon'adab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done all that he commanded you, ¹⁹ therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Jon'adab the son of Rechab shall never lack a man to stand before me."

36 In the fourth year of Jehoi'akim the son of Josi'ah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ² "Take a scroll and write on it all the words that I have spoken to you against Israel and Judah and all the nations, from the day I spoke to you, from the days of Josi'ah until today. ³ It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I intend to do to them, so that every one may turn from his evil way, and that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin."

⁴ Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neri'ah, and Baruch wrote upon a scroll at the dictation of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD which he had spoken to him. ⁵ And Jeremiah ordered Baruch, saying, "I am debarred from going to the house of the LORD; ⁶ so you are to go, and on a fast day in the hearing of all the people in the LORD's house you shall read the words of the LORD from the scroll which you have written at my dictation. You shall read them also in the hearing of all the men of Judah who come out of their cities. ⁷ It may be that their supplication will come before the LORD, and that every one will turn from his evil way, for great is the anger and wrath that the LORD has pronounced against this people." ⁸ And Baruch the son of Neri'ah did all that Jeremiah the prophet ordered him about reading from the scroll the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.

salem and all the people who came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem proclaimed a fast before the LORD.¹⁰ Then, in the hearing of all the people, Baruch read the words of Jeremiah from the scroll, in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemari'ah the son of Shaphan the secretary, which was in the upper court, at the entry of the New Gate of the LORD's house.

¹¹ When Micai'ah the son of Gemari'ah, son of Shaphan, heard all the words of the LORD from the scroll,¹² he went down to the king's house, into the secretary's chamber; and all the princes were sitting there: Elish'ama the secretary, Dela'iah the son of Shemai'ah, Elna'than the son of Achbor, Gemari'ah the son of Shaphan, Zedeki'ah the son of Hanani'ah, and all the princes.¹³ And Micai'ah told them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the scroll in the hearing of the people.¹⁴ Then all the princes sent Jehu'di the son of Nethani'ah, son of Shelemi'ah, son of Cushi, to say to Baruch, "Take in your hand the scroll that you read in the hearing of the people, and come." So Baruch the son of Neri'ah took the scroll in his hand and came to them.¹⁵ And they said to him, "Sit down and read it." So Baruch read it to them.¹⁶ When they heard all the words, they turned one to another in fear; and they said to Baruch, "We must report all these words to the king."¹⁷ Then they asked Baruch, "Tell us, how did you write all these words? Was it at his dictation?"¹⁸ Baruch answered them, "He dictated all these words to me, while I wrote them with ink on the scroll."¹⁹ Then the princes said to Baruch, "Go and hide, you and Jeremiah, and let no one know where you are."

²⁰ So they went into the court to the king, having put the scroll in the chamber of Elish'ama the secretary; and they reported all the words to the king.²¹ Then the king sent Jehu'di to get the scroll, and he took it from the chamber of Elish'ama the secretary; and Jehu'di read it to the king and all the princes who stood beside the king.²² It was the ninth month, and the king was sitting in the winter house and there was a fire burning in the brazier before him.²³ As Jehu'di read three or four columns, the king would cut them off with a pen-knife and throw them into the fire in the brazier, until the entire scroll was consumed in the fire that was in the brazier.²⁴ Yet neither the king, nor any of his servants who heard all these words, was afraid, nor did they rend their garments.²⁵ Even when Elna'than and Dela'iah and Gemari'ah urged the king not to burn the scroll, he would not listen to them.²⁶ And the king commanded Jerah-meel the king's son and Serai'ah the son of Az'ri-el and Shelemi'ah the son of Abdeel to seize Baruch the secretary and Jeremiah the prophet, but the LORD hid them.

²⁷ Now, after the king had burned the scroll with the words which Baruch wrote at Jeremiah's dictation, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah:²⁸ "Take another scroll and write on it all the former words that were in the first scroll, which Jehoi'akim the king of Judah has burned."²⁹ And concerning Jehoi'akim king of Judah you shall say, "Thus says the LORD, You have burned this scroll, saying, 'Why have you written in it that the king of Babylon will certainly come and destroy this land, and will cut off from it man and beast?'"³⁰ Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoi'akim king of Judah, He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David, and his dead body shall be cast out to the heat by day and the frost by night.³¹ And I will punish him and his offspring and his servants for their iniquity; I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they would not hear."

³² Then Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neri'ah, who wrote on it at the dictation of Jeremiah all the words of the scroll which Jehoi'akim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and many similar words were added to them.

37 Zedeki'ah the son of Josi'ah, whom Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah, reigned instead of Coni'ah the son of Jehoi'akim.² But neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land listened to the words of the LORD which he spoke through Jeremiah the prophet.

³ King Zedeki'ah sent Jehu'al the son of Shelemi'ah, and Zephani'ah the priest, the son of Ma-asei'ah, to Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "Pray for us to the LORD our God."⁴ Now Jeremiah was still going in and out among the people, for he had not yet been put in prison.⁵ The army of Pharaoh had come out of Egypt; and when the Chalde'ans who were besieging Jerusalem heard news of them, they withdrew from Jerusalem.

6 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet:⁷ "Thus says the LORD, God of Israel: Thus shall you say to the king of Judah who sent you to me to inquire of me, 'Behold, Pharaoh's army which came to help you is about to return to Egypt, to its own land.⁸ And the Chalde'ans shall come back and fight against this city; they shall take it and burn it with fire.'⁹ Thus says the LORD, Do not deceive yourselves, saying, 'The Chalde'ans will surely stay away from us,' for they will not stay away.¹⁰ For even if you should defeat the whole army of Chalde'ans who are fighting against you, and there remained of them only wounded men, every man in his tent, they would rise up and burn this city with fire.'"

11 Now when the Chalde'an army had withdrawn from Jerusalem at the approach of Pharaoh's army,¹² Jeremiah set out from Jerusalem to go to the land of Benjamin to receive his portion¹³ there among the people.¹³ When he was at the Benjamin Gate, a sentry there named Iri'jah the son of Shelemi'ah, son of Hanani'ah, seized Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "You are deserting to the Chalde'ans."¹⁴ And Jeremiah said, "It is false; I am not deserting to the Chalde'ans." But Iri'jah would not listen to him, and seized Jeremiah and brought him to the princes.¹⁵ And the princes were enraged at Jeremiah, and they beat him and imprisoned him in the house of Jonathan the secretary, for it had been made a prison.

16 When Jeremiah had come to the dungeon cells, and remained there many days,¹⁷ King Zedeki'ah sent for him, and received him. The king questioned him secretly in his house, and said, "Is there any word from the LORD?" Jeremiah said, "There is." Then he said, "You shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon."¹⁸ Jeremiah also said to King Zedeki'ah,

¹⁸ Heb obscure

"What wrong have I done to you or your servants or this people, that you have put me in prison?¹⁹ Where are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, 'The king of Babylon will not come against you and against this land?'²⁰ Now hear, I pray you, O my lord the king: let my humble plea come before you, and do not send me back to the house of Jonathan the secretary, lest I die there."²¹ So King Zedeki'ah gave orders, and they committed Jeremiah to the court of the guard; and a loaf of bread was given him daily from the bakers' street, until all the bread of the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

38 Now Shephati'ah the son of Mattan, Gedali'ah the son of Pashhur, Jucal the son of Shelemi'ah, and Pashhur the son of Malchi'ah heard the words that Jeremiah was saying to all the people,² "Thus says the LORD, He who stays in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; but he who goes out to the Chalde'ans shall live; he shall have his life as a prize of war, and live."³ Thus says the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon and be taken."⁴ Then the princes said to the king, "Let this man be put to death, for he is weakening the hands of the soldiers who are left in this city, and the hands of all the people, by speaking such words to them. For this man is not seeking the welfare of this people, but their harm."⁵ King Zedeki'ah said, "Behold, he is in your hands; for the king can do nothing against you."⁶ So they took Jeremiah and cast him into the cistern of Malchi'ah, the king's son, which was in the court of the guard, letting Jeremiah down by ropes. And there was no water in the cistern, but only mire, and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

7 When E'bed-mel'ech the Ethiopian, a eunuch, who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah into the cistern—the king was sitting in the Benjamin Gate—⁸ E'bed-mel'ech went from the king's house and said to the king,⁹ "My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they did to Jeremiah the prophet by casting him into the cistern; and he will die there of hunger, for there is no bread left in the city." ¹⁰ Then the king commanded E'bed-mel'ech, the Ethiopian, "Take three men with you from here, and lift Jeremiah the prophet out of the cistern before he dies." ¹¹ So E'bed-mel'ech took the men with him and went to the house of the king, to a wardrobe of the storehouse, and took from there old rags and worn-out clothes, which he let down to Jeremiah in the cistern by ropes. ¹² Then E'bed-mel'ech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, "Put the rags and clothes between your armpits and the ropes." Jeremiah did so. ¹³ Then they drew Jeremiah up with ropes and lifted him out of the cistern. And Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

¹⁴ King Zedeki'ah sent for Jeremiah the prophet and received him at the third entrance of the temple of the LORD. The king said to Jeremiah, "I will ask you a question; hide nothing from me." ¹⁵ Jeremiah said to Zedeki'ah, "If I tell you, will you not be sure to put me to death? And if I give you counsel, you will not listen to me." ¹⁶ Then King Zedeki'ah swore secretly to Jeremiah, "As the LORD lives, who made our souls, I will not put you to death or deliver you into the hand of these men who seek your life."

¹⁷ Then Jeremiah said to Zedeki'ah, "Thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, If you will surrender to the princes of the king of Babylon, then your life shall be spared, and this city shall not be burned with fire, and you and your house shall live. ¹⁸ But if you do not surrender to the princes of the king of Babylon, then this city shall be given into the hand of the Chal-de'ans, and they shall burn it with fire, and you shall not escape from their hand."

¹⁹ King Zedeki'ah said to Jeremiah, "I am afraid of the Jews who have deserted to the Chal-de'ans, lest I be handed over to them and they abuse me." ²⁰ Jeremiah said, "You shall not be given to them. Obey now the voice of the LORD in what I say to you, and it shall be well with you, and your life shall be spared. ²¹ But if you refuse to surrender, this is the vision which the LORD has shown to me: ²² Behold, all the women left in the house of the king of Judah were being led out to the princes of the king of Babylon and were saying,

"Your trusted friends have deceived you and prevailed against you; now that your feet are sunk in the mire, they turn away from you."

²⁴ Then Zedeki'ah said to Jeremiah, "Let no one know of these words and you shall not die. ²⁵ If the princes hear that I have spoken with you and come to you and say to you, 'Tell us what you said to the king and what the king said to you; hide nothing from us and we will not put you to death,' ²⁶ then you shall say to them, 'I made a humble plea to the king that he would not send me back to the house of Jonathan to die there.'" ²⁷ Then all the princes came to Jeremiah and asked him, and he answered them as the king had instructed him. So they left off speaking with him, for the conversation had not been overheard. ²⁸ And Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

39 In the ninth year of Zedeki'ah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and besieged it; ² in the eleventh year of Zedeki'ah, in the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, a breach was made in the city. ³ When Jerusalem was taken, ⁴ all the princes of the king of Babylon came and sat in the middle gate: Ner'gal-sharc'zer, Sam'gar-ne'bo, Sar'sechim the Rab'saris, and Ner'gal-share'zer the Rab-mag, with all the rest of the officers of the king of Babylon. ⁵ When Zedeki'ah king of Judah and all the soldiers saw them, they fled, going out of the city at night by way of the king's garden through the gate between the two walls; and they went toward the Arabah. ⁶ But the army of the Chal-de'ans pursued them, and overtook Zedeki'ah in the plains of Jericho; and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon, at Riblah.

¹⁰ Cn: Heb to under ¹¹ This clause has been transposed from the end of Chapter 38

in the land of Hamath; and he passed sentence upon him. ⁶ The king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedeki'ah at Riblah before his eyes; and the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. ⁷ He put out the eyes of Zedeki'ah, and bound him in fetters to take him to Babylon. ⁸ The Chalde'ans burned the king's house and the house of the people, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem. ⁹ Then Nebu'zarad'an, the captain of the guard, carried into exile to Babylon the rest of the people who were left in the city, those who had deserted to him, and the people who remained. ¹⁰ Nebu'zarad'an, the captain of the guard, left in the land of Judah some of the poor people who owned nothing, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

¹⁵ The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah while he was shut up in the court of the guard: ¹⁶ "Go, and say to E'bed-mel'ech the Ethiopian, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will fulfil my words against this city for evil and not for good, and they shall be accomplished before you on that day. ¹⁷ But I will deliver you on that day, says the LORD, and you shall not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid. ¹⁸ For I will surely save you, and you shall not fall by the sword; but you shall have your life as a prize of war, because you have put your trust in me, says the LORD.'"

40 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD after Nebu'zarad'an the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he took him bound in chains along with all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah who were being exiled to Babylon. ² The captain of the guard took Jeremiah and said to him, "The LORD your God pronounced this evil against this place; ³ the LORD has brought it about, and has done as he said. Because you sinned against the LORD, and did not obey his voice, this thing has come upon you. ⁴ Now, behold, I release you today from the chains on your hands. If it seems good to you to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will look after you well; but if it seems wrong to you to come with me to Babylon, do not come. See, the whole land is before you; go wherever you think it good and right to go. ⁵ If you remain, ⁶ then return to Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon appointed governor of the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wherever you think it right to go." So the captain of the guard gave him an allowance of food and a present, and let him go. ⁶ Then Jeremiah went to Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, at Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people who were left in the land.

⁷ When all the captains of the forces in the open country and their men heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam governor in the land, and had committed to him men, women, and children, those of the poorest of the land who had not been taken into exile to Babylon, ⁸ they went to Gedali'ah at Mizpah—Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah, Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah, Serai'ah the son of Tanhu'meth, the sons of Ephai the Netoph'athite, Jezani'ah the son of the Ma-ac'athite, they and their men. ⁹ Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, son of Shaphan, swore to them and their men, saying, "Do not be afraid to serve the Chalde'ans. Dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. ¹⁰ As for me, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand for you before the Chalde'ans who will come to us; but as for you, gather wine and summer fruits and oil, and store them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that you have taken." ¹¹ Likewise, when all the Jews who were in Moab and among the Ammonites and in Edom and in other lands heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah and had appointed Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, son of Shaphan, as governor over them, ¹² then all the Jews returned from all the places to which they had been driven and came to the land of Judah, to Gedali'ah at Mizpah; and they gathered wine and summer fruits in great abundance.

¹³ Now Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah and all the leaders of the forces in the open country came to Gedali'ah at Mizpah ¹⁴ and said to him, "Do you know that Ba'alis the king of the Ammonites has sent Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah to take your life?" But Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam would not believe them. ¹⁵ Then Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah spoke secretly to Gedali'ah at Mizpah, "Let me go and slay Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah, and no one will know it. Why should he take your life, so that all the Jews who are gathered about you would be scattered, and the remnant of Judah would perish?" ¹⁶ But Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam said to Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah, "You shall not do this thing, for you are speaking falsely of Ish'mael."

41 In the seventh month, Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah, son of Elish'ama, of the royal family, one of the chief officers of the king, came with ten men to Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, at Mizpah. As they ate bread together there at Mizpah, ² Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah and the ten men with him rose up and struck down Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, son of Shaphan, with the sword, and killed him, whom the king of Babylon had appointed governor in the land. ³ Ish'mael also slew all the Jews who were with Gedali'ah at Mizpah, and the Chalde'an soldiers who happened to be there.

Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah and the men with him slew them, and cast them into a cistern. ⁸ But there were ten men among them who said to Ish'mael, "Do not kill us, for we have stores of wheat, barley, oil, and honey hidden in the fields." So he refrained and did not kill them with their companions.

⁹ Now the cistern into which Ish'mael cast all the bodies of the men whom he had slain was the large cistern which King Asa had made for defense against Ba'asha king of Israel; Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah filled it with the slain. ¹⁰ Then Ish'mael took captive all the rest of the people who were in Mizpah, the king's daughters and all the people who were left at Mizpah, whom Nebu'zarad'an, the captain of the guard, had committed to Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam. Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah took them captive and set out to cross over to the Ammonites.

¹¹ But when Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah and all the leaders of the forces with him heard of all the evil which Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah had done, ¹² they took all their men and went to fight against Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah. They came upon him at the great pool which is in Gibeon. ¹³ And when all the people who were with Ish'mael saw Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah and all the leaders of the forces with him, they rejoiced. ¹⁴ So all the people whom Ish'mael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about and came back, and went to Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah. ¹⁵ But Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah escaped from Joha'nan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites. ¹⁶ Then Joha'nan the son of Kare'ah and all the leaders of the forces with him took all the rest of the people whom Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah had carried away captive from Mizpah after he had slain Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam—soldiers, women, children, and eunuchs, whom Joha'nan brought back from Gibeon. ¹⁷ And they went and stayed at Geruth Chimham near Bethleham, intending to go to Egypt ¹⁸ because of the Chalde'ans; for they were afraid of them, because Ish'mael the son of Nethani'ah had slain Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.

42 Then all the commanders of the forces, and Joha'nán the son of Kare'ah and Azari'ah' the son of Hoshai'ah, and all the people from the least to the greatest, came near ² and said to Jeremiah the prophet, "Let our supplication come before you, and pray to the LORD your God for us, for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as your eyes see us), ³ that the LORD your God may show us the way we should go, and the thing that we should do."⁴ Jeremiah the prophet said to them, "I have heard you; behold, I will pray to the LORD your God according to your request, and whatever the LORD answers you I will tell you; I will keep nothing back from you."⁵ Then they said to Jeremiah, "May the LORD be a true and faithful witness against us if we do not act according to all the word with which the LORD your God sends you to us. ⁶ Whether it is good or evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God to whom we are sending you, that it may be well with us when we obey the voice of the LORD our God."

⁷ At the end of ten days the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah. ⁸ Then he summoned Joha'nán the son of Kare'ah and all the commanders of the forces who were with him, and all the people from the least to the greatest, ⁹ and said to them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your supplication before him: ¹⁰ If you will remain in this land, then I will build you up and not pull you down; I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I repent of the evil which I did to you. ¹¹ Do not fear the king of Babylon, of whom you are afraid; do not fear him, says the LORD, for I am with you, to save you and to deliver you from his hand. ¹² I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy on you and let you remain in your own land. ¹³ But if you say, 'We will not remain in this land,' disobeying the voice of the LORD your God ¹⁴ and saying, 'No, we will go to the land of Egypt, where we shall not see war, or hear the sound of the trumpet, or be hungry for bread, and we will dwell there,' ¹⁵ then hear the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: If you set your faces to enter Egypt and go to live there, ¹⁶ then the sword which you fear shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt; and the famine of which you are afraid shall follow hard after you to Egypt; and there you shall die. ¹⁷ All the men who set their faces to go to Egypt to live there shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; they shall have no remnant or survivor from the evil which I will bring upon them.

¹⁸ "For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: As my anger and my wrath were poured out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so my wrath will be poured out on you when you go to Egypt. You shall become an execration, a horror, a curse, and a taunt. You shall see this place no more. ¹⁹ The LORD has said to you, O remnant of Judah, 'Do not go to Egypt.' Know for a certainty that I have warned you this day ²⁰ that you have gone astray at the cost of your lives. For you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, 'Pray for us to the LORD our God, and whatever the LORD our God says declare to us and we will do it.' ²¹ And I have this day declared it to you, but you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God in anything that he sent me to tell you. ²² Now therefore know for a certainty that you shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence in the place where you desire to go to live."

43 When Jeremiah finished speaking to all the people all these words of the LORD their God, with which the LORD their God had sent him to them, ² Azari'ah the son of Hoshai'ah and Joha'nán the son of Kare'ah and all the insolent men said to Jeremiah, "You are telling a lie. The LORD our God did not send you to say, 'Do not go to Egypt to live there'; ³ but Baruch the son of Neri'ah has set you against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chalde'ans, that they may kill us or take us into exile in Babylon."⁴ So Joha'nán the son of Kare'ah and all the commanders of the forces and all the people did not obey the voice of the LORD, to remain in the land of Judah. ⁵ But Joha'nán the son of Kare'ah and all the commanders of the forces took all the remnant of Judah who had returned to live in the land of Judah from all the nations to which they had been driven—⁶ the men, the women, the children, the princesses, and every person whom Nebu'zarad'an the captain of the guard had left with Gedali'ah the son of Ahi'kam, son of Shaphan; also Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch the son of Neri'ah. ⁷And they came into the land of Egypt, for they did not obey the voice of the LORD. And they arrived at Tah'panhes.

⁸ Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah in Tah'panhes: ⁹ "Take in your hands large stones, and hide them in the mortar in the pavement which is at the entrance to Pharaoh's palace in Tah'panhes, in the sight of the men of Judah, ¹⁰ and say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrez'zar the king of Babylon, my servant, and he^u will set his throne above these stones which I have hid, and he will spread his royal canopy over them. ¹¹ He shall come and smite the land of Egypt, giving to the pestilence those who are doomed to the pestilence, to captivity those who are doomed to captivity, and to the sword those who are doomed to the sword. ¹² He^v shall kindle a fire in the temples of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them and carry them away captive; and he shall clean the land of Egypt, as a shepherd cleans his cloak of vermin; and he shall go away from there in peace. ¹³ He shall break the obelisks of Heliop'olis which is in the land of Egypt; and the temples of the gods of Egypt he shall burn with fire.' "

44 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews that dwelt in the land of Egypt, at Migdol, at Tah'panhes, at Memphis, and in the land of Pathros, ² "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: You have seen all the evil that I brought upon Jerusalem and upon all the cities of Judah. Behold, this day they are a desolation, and no one dwells in them, ³ because of the wickedness which they committed, provoking me to anger, in that they went to burn incense and serve other gods that they knew not, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers. ⁴ Yet I persistently sent to you all my servants the prophets, saying, 'Oh, do not do this abominable thing that I hate!' ⁵ But they did not listen or incline their ear, to turn from their wickedness and burn no incense to other gods. ⁶ Therefore my wrath and my anger were poured forth and kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they became a waste and a desolation, as at this day. ⁷ And now thus says the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel: Why do you commit this great evil against yourselves, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and child, from the midst of Judah, leaving you no remnant? ⁸ Why do you provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt where you have come to live, that you may be cut off and become a curse and a taunt among all the nations of the earth? ⁹ Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, the wickedness of the kings of Judah, the wickedness of their^u wives, your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁰ They have not humbled themselves even to this day, nor have they feared, nor walked in my law and my statutes which I set before you and before your fathers.

¹¹ "Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, to cut off all Judah. ¹² I will take the remnant of Judah who have set their faces to come to the land of Egypt to live, and they shall all be consumed; in the land of Egypt they shall fall; by the sword and by famine they shall be consumed; from the least to the greatest, they shall die by the sword and by famine; and they shall become an execration, a horror, a curse, and a taunt. ¹³ I will punish those who dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence, ¹⁴ so that none of the remnant of Judah who have come to live in the land of Egypt shall escape or survive or return to the land of Judah, to which they desire to return to dwell there; for they shall not return, except some fugitives."

dwelt in Pathros in the land of Egypt, answered Jeremiah: ¹⁶ "As for the word which you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD, we will not listen to you. ¹⁷ But we will do everything that we have vowed, burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out libations to her, as we did, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; for then we had plenty of food, and prospered, and saw no evil. ¹⁸ But since we left off burning incense to the queen of heaven and pouring out libations to her, we have lacked everything and have been consumed by the sword and by famine." ¹⁹ And the women said, "When we burned incense to the queen of heaven and poured out libations to her, was it without our husbands' approval that we made cakes for her bearing her image and poured out libations to her?"

²⁰ Then Jeremiah said to all the people, men and women, all the people who had given him this answer: ²¹ "As for the incense that you burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember it?" Did it not come into his mind? ²² The LORD could no longer bear your evil doings and the abominations which you committed; therefore your land has become a desolation and a waste and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day. ²³ It is because you burned incense, and because you sinned against the LORD and did not obey the voice of the LORD or walk in his law and in his statutes and in his testimonies, that this evil has befallen you, as at this day."

of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by my great name, says the LORD, that my name shall no more be invoked by the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, 'As the Lord GOD lives.' ²⁷ Behold, I am watching over them for evil and not for good; all the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by famine, until there is an end of them. ²⁸ And those who escape the sword shall return from the land of Egypt to the land of Judah, few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, who came to the land of Egypt to live, shall know whose word will stand, mine or theirs. ²⁹ This shall be the sign to you, says the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, in order that you may know that my words will surely stand against you for evil: ³⁰ Thus says the LORD, Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies and into the hand of those who seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, who was his enemy and sought his life."

45 The word that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neri'ah, when he wrote these words in a book at the dictation of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoi'akim the son of Josi'ah, king of Judah: ² "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to you, O Baruch: ³ You said, 'Woe is me! for the LORD has added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest.' ⁴ Thus shall you say to him, Thus says the LORD: Behold, what I have built I am breaking down, and what I have planted I am plucking up—that is, the whole land. ⁵ And do you seek great things for yourself? Seek them not; for, behold, I am bringing evil upon all flesh, says the LORD; but I will give you your life as a prize of war in all places to which you may go."

- and every inhabitant of the land shall wail.
³ At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his stallions, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of their wheels, the fathers look not back to their children,
 so feeble are their hands, ⁴ because of the day that is coming to destroy
 all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper that remains.
 For the LORD is destroying the Philistines,
 the remnant of the coastland of Caphtor.
⁵ Baldness has come upon Gaza, Ash'kelon has perished.
 O remnant of the Anakim,^b how long will you gash yourselves?
⁶ Ah, sword of the LORD!
 How long till you are quiet?
 Put yourself into your scabbard, rest and be still!
⁷ How can it^c be quiet, when the LORD has given it a charge?
 Against Ash'kelon and against the seashore
 he has appointed it."

48 Concerning Moab.
 Thus says the LORD of hosts,
 the God of Israel:
 "Woe to Nebo, for it is laid waste!
 Kiriathaim is put to shame, it is taken;
 the fortress is put to shame and broken down;
² the renown of Moab is no more.
 In Heshbon they planned evil against
 her:
 'Come, let us cut her off from being a nation!'
 You also, O Madmen, shall be brought to silence;
 the sword shall pursue you.

- ³ "Hark! a cry from Horonaim, for at the descent of Horona'im they have heard the cry of destruction.

- 6 Flee! Save yourselves!
Be like a wild ass^a in the desert!
- 7 For, because you trusted in your strongholds^b and your treasures, you also shall be taken; and Chemosh shall go forth into exile, with his priests and his princes.
- 8 The destroyer shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape; the valley shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD has spoken.
- 9 "Give wings to Moab, for she would fly away; her cities shall become a desolation, with no inhabitant in them.
- 10 "Cursed is he who does the work of the LORD with slackness; and cursed is he who keeps back his sword from bloodshed.
- 11 "Moab has been at ease from his youth and has settled on his lees; he has not been emptied from vessel to vessel, nor has he gone into exile; so his taste remains in him, and his scent is not changed.
- 12 "Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I shall send to him tilters who will tilt him, and empty his vessels, and break his jars in pieces.¹³ Then Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel, their confidence.
- 14 "How do you say, 'We are heroes and mighty men of war?'
- 15 The destroyer of Moab and his cities has come up, and the choicest of his young men have gone down to slaughter, says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.
- 16 The calamity of Moab is near at hand and his affliction hastens apace.
- 17 Bemoan him, all you who are round about him,
and all who know his name;
say, 'How the mighty scepter is broken, the glorious staff.'
- 18 "Come down from your glory, and sit on the parched ground, O inhabitant of Dibon!
For the destroyer of Moab has come up against you;
he has destroyed your strongholds.
- 19 Stand by the way and watch, O inhabitant of Aro'er!
Ask him who flees and her who escapes;
say, 'What has happened?'
- 20 Moab is put to shame, for it is broken;
wail and cry!
Tell it by the Arnon,
that Moab is laid waste.
- 21 "Judgment has come upon the tableland, upon Holon, and Jahzah, and Meph'a-ath,²² and Dibon, and Nebo, and Beth-diblattha'im,²³ and Kiriatha'im, and Beth-ga'mul, and Beth-me'on,²⁴ and Ker'i-oth, and Bozrah, and all the cities of the land of Moab, far and near.²⁵ The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, says the LORD.
- 26 "Make him drunk, because he magnified himself against the LORD: so that Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he too shall be held in derision.²⁷ Was not Israel a derision to you? Was he found among thieves, that whenever you spoke of him you wagged your head?
- 28 "Leave the cities, and dwell in the rock,
O inhabitants of Moab!
Be like the dove that nests
in the sides of the mouth of a gorge.
- 29 We have heard of the pride of Moab—
he is very proud—
of his loftiness, his pride, and his arrogance, and the haughtiness of his heart.

his boasts are false,
his deeds are false.

- ³¹ Therefore I wail for Moab;
I cry out for all Moab;
for the men of Kir-he'eres I mourn.
- ³² More than for Jazer I weep for you,

Your branches passed over the sea, reached as far as Jazer;^j

- ³³ Gladness and joy have been taken away
from the fruitful land of Moab;
I have made the wine cease from the wine presses;
no one treads them with shouts of
joy;
the shouting is not the shout of joy.

³⁴ "Heshbon and Elealeh cry out;^k as far as Jahaz they utter their voice, from Zo'ar to Horona'im and Eg'lathshelish'iyah. For the waters of Nimrim also have become desolate. ³⁵And I will bring to an end in Moab, says the LORD, him who offers sacrifice in the high place and burns incense to his god.
³⁶ Therefore my heart moans for Moab like a flute, and my heart moans like a flute for the men of Kir-he'eres; therefore the riches they gained have perished.

³⁷ "For every head is shaved and every beard cut off; upon all the hands are gashes, and on the loins is sackcloth. ³⁸ On all the housetops of Moab and in the squares there is nothing but lamentation; for I have broken Moab like a vessel for which no one cares, says the LORD. ³⁹ How it is broken! How they wail! How Moab has turned his back in shame! So Moab has become a derision and a horror to all that are round about him."

- ⁴⁰ For thus says the LORD:
"Behold, one shall fly swiftly like an eagle,
and spread his wings against Moab;
⁴¹ the cities shall be taken and the strongholds seized.
The heart of the warriors of Moab shall be in that day like the heart of a woman in her
pangs;
⁴² Moab shall be destroyed and be no longer a people,

- because he magnified himself against the LORD.
- ⁴³ Terror, pit, and snare are before you, O inhabitant of Moab!
says the LORD.
- ⁴⁴ He who flees from the terror shall fall into the pit, and he who climbs out of the pit shall be caught in the snare.
For I will bring these things^l upon Moab
in the year of their punishment,
says the LORD.

- ⁴⁵ "In the shadow of Heshbon fugitives stop without strength; for a fire has gone forth from Heshbon,
a flame from the house of Sihon;
it has destroyed the forehead of Moab,
the crown of the sons of tumult.
- ⁴⁶ Woe to you, O Moab!
The people of Chemosh is un-
done;
for your sons have been taken captive,
and your daughters into captivity.
- ⁴⁷ Yet I will restore the fortunes of Moab
in the latter days, says the LORD."
Thus far is the judgment on Moab.

- 49 Concerning the Ammonites.
Thus says the LORD:
"Has Israel no sons?
Has he no heir?
Why then has Milcom dispossessed Gad,
and his people settled in its cities?"
- ² Therefore, behold, the days are coming,
says the LORD,
when I will cause the battle cry to be heard against Rabbah of the Ammonites;
it shall become a desolate mound, and its villages shall be burned with fire;
then Israel shall dispossess those who dispossessed him,
says the LORD.

 For Milcom shall go into exile, with his priests and his princes.
- 4 Why do you boast of your valleys, "O faithless daughter, who trusted in her treasures, saying, "Who will come against me?"
- 5 Behold, I will bring terror upon you, says the Lord GOD of hosts, from all who are round about you, and you shall be driven out, every man straight before him, with none to gather the fugitives.
- 6 But afterward I will restore the fortunes of the Ammonites, says the LORD."
- 7 Concerning Edom.
 Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Is wisdom no more in Teman? Has counsel perished from the prudent? Has their wisdom vanished?"
- 8 Flee, turn back, dwell in the depths, O inhabitants of Dedan!
 For I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time when I punish him.
- 9 If grape-gatherers came to you, would they not leave gleanings? If thieves came by night, would they not destroy only enough for themselves?
- 10 But I have stripped Esau bare, I have uncovered his hiding places, and he is not able to conceal himself.
 His children are destroyed, and his brothers, and his neighbors; and he is no more.
- 11 Leave your fatherless children, I will keep them alive; and let your widows trust in me."
- 12 For thus says the LORD: "If those who did not deserve to drink the cup must drink it, will you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you must drink. 13 For I have sworn by myself, says the LORD, that Bozrah shall become a horror, a taunt, a waste, and a curse; and all her cities shall be perpetual wastes."
- 14 I have heard tidings from the LORD,
- and a messenger has been sent among the nations:
 "Gather yourselves together and come against her, and rise up for battle!"
- 15 For behold, I will make you small among the nations, despised among men.
- 16 The horror you inspire has deceived you, and the pride of your heart, you who live in the clefts of the rock, who hold the height of the hill. Though you make your nest as high as the eagle's, I will bring you down from there, says the LORD.
- 17 "Edom shall become a horror; every one who passes by it will be horrified and will hiss because of all its disasters. 18 As when Sodom and Gomorrah and their neighbor cities were overthrown, says the LORD, no man shall dwell there, no man shall sojourn in her. 19 Behold, like a lion coming up from the jungle of the Jordan against a strong sheepfold, I will suddenly make them run away from her; and I will appoint over her whomever I choose. For who is like me? Who will summon me? What shepherd can stand before me? 20 Therefore hear the plan which the LORD has made against Edom and the purposes which he has formed against the inhabitants of Teman: Even the little ones of the flock shall be dragged away; surely their fold shall be appalled at their fate. 21 At the sound of their fall the earth shall tremble; the sound of their cry shall be heard at the Red Sea. 22 Behold, one shall mount up and fly swiftly like an eagle, and spread his wings against Bozrah, and the heart of the warriors of Edom shall be in that day like the heart of a woman in her pangs."

28 Concerning Kedar and the kingdoms of Hazor which Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon smote.

Thus says the LORD:

"Rise up, advance against Kedar!
Destroy the people of the east!

29 Their tents and their flocks shall be taken,
their curtains and all their goods;
their camels shall be borne away from
them,
and men shall cry to them: 'Terror on every side!'
30 Flee, wander far away, dwell in the depths,
O inhabitants of Hazor!

says the LORD.

For Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon has made a plan against you, and formed a purpose against you.

31 "Rise up, advance against a nation at ease,
that dwells securely,
says the LORD,
that has no gates or bars,
that dwells alone.

32 Their camels shall become booty, their herds of cattle a spoil.
I will scatter to every wind those who cut the corners of their hair,
and I will bring their calamity from every side of them,
says the LORD.

33 Hazor shall become a haunt of jackals, an everlasting waste;
no man shall dwell there,
no man shall sojourn in her."

34 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedeki'ah king of Judah.

35 Thus says the LORD of hosts:
"Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the mainstay of their might;
36 and I will bring upon Elam the four winds from the four quarters of heaven; and I will scatter them to all those winds, and there shall be no nation to which those driven out of Elam shall not come. 37 I will terrify Elam before their enemies, and before those who seek their life; I will bring evil upon them, my fierce anger, says the LORD. I will send the sword after them, until I have consumed them; 38 and I will set my throne in Elam, and destroy their king and princes, says the LORD.

39 "But in the latter days I will restore the fortunes of Elam, says the LORD."

50 The word which the LORD spoke concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chalde'ans, by Jeremiah the prophet:

2 "Declare among the nations and proclaim,
set up a banner and proclaim,
conceal it not, and say:
'Babylon is taken,
Bel is put to shame,
Mer'odach is dismayed.
Her images are put to shame, her idols are dismayed.'

3 "For out of the north a nation has come up against her, which shall make her land a desolation, and none shall dwell in it; both man and beast shall flee away.

4 "In those days and in that time, says the LORD, the people of Israel and the people of Judah shall come together, weeping as they come; and they shall seek the LORD their God. 5 They shall ask the way to Zion, with faces turned toward it, saying, 'Come, let us join ourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant which will never be forgotten.'

they have forgotten their fold. ⁷All who found them have devoured them, and their enemies have said, 'We are not guilty, for they have sinned against the LORD, their true habitation, the LORD, the hope of their fathers.'

8 "Flee from the midst of Babylon, and go out of the land of the Chalde'ans, and be as he-goats before the flock. ⁹For behold, I am stirring up and bringing against Babylon a company of great nations, from the north country; and they shall array themselves against her; from there she shall be taken. Their arrows are like a skilled warrior who does not return empty-handed. ¹⁰Chalde'a shall be plundered; all who plunder her shall be sated, says the LORD.

11 "Though you rejoice, though you exult, O plunderers of my heritage, though you are wanton as a heifer at grass,
and neigh like stallions,

12 your mother shall be utterly shamed, and she who bore you shall be disgraced.

Lo, she shall be the last of the nations,
a wilderness dry and desert.

13 Because of the wrath of the LORD she shall not be inhabited, but shall be an utter desolation;
every one who passes by Babylon shall be appalled, and hiss because of all her wounds.

14 Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about, all you that bend the bow;
shoot at her, spare no arrows,
for she has sinned against the LORD.

15 Raise a shout against her round about,
she has surrendered;
her bulwarks have fallen,
her walls are thrown down.

For this is the vengeance of the LORD:
take vengeance on her,
do to her as she has done.

16 Cut off from Babylon the sower, and the one who handles the sickle in time of harvest;
because of the sword of the oppressor,

every one shall turn to his own people, and every one shall flee to his own land.

17 "Israel is a hunted sheep driven away by lions. First the king of Assyria devoured him, and now at last Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon has gnawed his bones. ¹⁸Therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I am bringing punishment on the king of Babylon and his land, as I punished the king of Assyria. ¹⁹I will restore Israel to his pasture, and he shall feed on Carmel and in Bashan, and his desire shall be satisfied on the hills of E'phraim and in Gilead. ²⁰In those days and in that time, says the LORD, iniquity shall be sought in Israel, and there shall be none; and sin in Judah, and none shall be found; for I will pardon those whom I leave as a remnant.

21 "Go up against the land of Merathaim,^s and you did not know it;

you were found and caught,
because you strove against the LORD.

25 The LORD has opened his armory, and brought out the weapons of his wrath, for the Lord God of hosts has a work to do in the land of the Chalde'ans.

destroy her utterly;

let nothing be left of her.

let them go down to the slaughter.
Woe to them, for their day has
come,
the time of their punishment.

28 "Hark! they flee and escape from the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, vengeance for his temple.

29 "Summon archers against Babylon, all those who bend the bow. Encamp round about her; let no one escape. Requite her according to her deeds, do to her according to all that she has done; for she has proudly defied the LORD, the Holy One of Israel.³⁰ Therefore her young men shall fall in her squares, and all her soldiers shall be destroyed on that day, says the LORD.

31 "Behold, I am against you, O proud
one,
says the Lord God of hosts;
for your day has come,
the time when I will punish you.

32 The proud one shall stumble and
fall,
with none to raise him up,
and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it will devour all that is round about him.

33 "Thus says the LORD of hosts:
The people of Israel are oppressed, and the people of Judah with them; all who took them captive have held them fast, they refuse to let them go.³⁴ Their Redeemer is strong; the LORD of hosts is his name. He will surely plead their cause, that he may give rest to the earth, but unrest to the inhabitants of Babylon.

35 "A sword upon the Chalde'ans, says
the LORD,
and upon the inhabitants of Baby-
lon,
and upon her princes and her wise
men!

36 A sword upon the diviners, that they may become fools!
A sword upon her warriors, that they may be destroyed!

37 A sword upon her horses and upon her chariots,
and upon all the foreign troops in her midst,
that they may become women!

A sword upon all her treasures, that they may be plundered!

38 A drought upon her waters, that they may be dried up!
For it is a land of images, and they are mad over idols.

39 "Therefore wild beasts shall dwell with hyenas in Babylon, and ostriches shall dwell in her; she shall be peopled no more for ever, nor inhabited for all generations.⁴⁰ As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomor'rah and their neighbor cities, says the LORD, so no man shall dwell there, and no son of man shall sojourn in her.

41 "Behold, a people comes from the north;
a mighty nation and many kings are stirring from the farthest parts of the earth.

42 They lay hold of bow and spear;
they are cruel, and have no mercy.
The sound of them is like the roaring of the sea;
they ride upon horses,
arrayed as a man for battle against you, O daughter of Babylon!

43 "The king of Babylon heard the report of them,
and his hands fell helpless;
anguish seized him,
pain as of a woman in travail.

44 "Behold, like a lion coming up from the jungle of the Jordan against a strong sheepfold, I will suddenly make them run away from her; and I will appoint over her whomever I choose.
For who is like me? Who will summon me? What shepherd can stand before me? ⁴⁵ Therefore hear the plan which the LORD has made against Babylon, and the purposes which he has formed against the land of the Chalde'ans: Surely the little ones of their flock shall be dragged away; surely their fold shall be appalled at their fate. ⁴⁶ At the sound of the capture of Babylon the earth shall tremble, and her cry shall be heard among the nations."

51 Thus says the LORD:
"Behold, I will stir up the spirit of a destroyer
against Babylon,

- against the inhabitants of Chal-de'a;"
- 2 and I will send to Babylon win-nowers, and they shall winnow her,
and they shall empty her land, when they come against her from every side
on the day of trouble.
- 3 Let not the archer bend his bow, and let him not stand up in his coat of mail.
Spare not her young men;
utterly destroy all her host.
- 4 They shall fall down slain in the land of the Chal-de'ans,
and wounded in her streets.
- 5 For Israel and Judah have not been forsaken
by their God, the LORD of hosts; but the land of the Chal-de'ans" is full of guilt
against the Holy One of Israel.
- 6 "Flee from the midst of Babylon,
let every man save his life!
Be not cut off in her punishment, for this is the time of the LORD's vengeance,
the requital he is rendering her.
- 7 Babylon was a golden cup in the LORD's hand,
making all the earth drunken;
the nations drank of her wine, therefore the nations went mad.
- 8 Suddenly Babylon has fallen and been broken;
wail for her!
Take balm for her pain;
perhaps she may be healed.
- 9 We would have healed Babylon,
but she was not healed.
Forsake her, and let us go
each to his own country;
for her judgment has reached up to heaven
and has been lifted up even to the skies.
- 10 The LORD has brought forth our vindication;
come, let us declare in Zion
the work of the LORD our God.
- 11 "Sharpen the arrows!
Take up the shields!
- The LORD has stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes, because his purpose concerning Babylon is to destroy it, for that is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance for his temple.
- 12 Set up a standard against the walls of Babylon;
make the watch strong;
set up watchmen;
prepare the ambushes;
for the LORD has both planned and
done
what he spoke concerning the inhabitants of Babylon.
- 13 O you who dwell by many waters,
rich in treasures,
your end has come,
the thread of your life is cut.
- 14 The LORD of hosts has sworn by
himself:
Surely I will fill you with men, as many as locusts,
and they shall raise the shout of victory over you.
- 15 "It is he who made the earth by his power,
who established the world by his wisdom,
and by his understanding stretched out the heavens.
- 16 When he utters his voice there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he makes the mist rise from the ends of the earth.
He makes lightnings for the rain, and he brings forth the wind from his storehouses.
- 17 Every man is stupid and without knowledge;
every goldsmith is put to shame by his idols;
for his images are false,
and there is no breath in them.
- 18 They are worthless, a work of delusion;
at the time of their punishment they shall perish.
- 19 Not like these is he who is the portion for he is the one who formed all

things,
and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance;
the LORD of hosts is his name.

bring up horses like bristling locusts.
- 28 Prepare the nations for war against
her,
the kings of the Medes, with their governors and deputies, and every land under their dominion.
- 29 The land trembles and writhes in pain,
- for the LORD's purposes against Babylon stand,
to make the land of Babylon a desola-
tion,
without inhabitant.
- 30 The warriors of Babylon have ceased fighting,
they remain in their strongholds;
their strength has failed,
they have become women;
her dwellings are on fire,
her bars are broken.
- 31 One runner runs to meet another, and one messenger to meet another,
to tell the king of Babylon that his city is taken on every side;
- 32 the fords have been seized,
the bulwarks are burned with fire,
and the soldiers are in panic.
- 33 For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor
at the time when it is trodden; yet a little while and the time of her harvest will
come."
- 34 "Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon has devoured me,
he has crushed me;
he has made me an empty vessel, he has swallowed me like a monster;
he has filled his belly with my delicacies,
he has rinsed me out.
- 35 The violence done to me and to my kinsmen be upon Babylon," let the inhabitant of Zion say.
"My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea,"
let Jerusalem say.
- 36 Therefore thus says the LORD:
"Behold, I will plead your cause and take vengeance for you.
I will dry up her sea
and make her fountain dry;
- 37 and Babylon shall become a heap of ruins,
the haunt of jackals,
a horror and a hissing,
without inhabitant.
- 38 "They shall roar together like lions;
they shall growl like lions' whelps.
- 39 While they are inflamed I will prepare them a feast

- and make them drunk, till they swoon away" and sleep a perpetual sleep and not wake, says the LORD.
- 40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams and he-goats.
- 41 "How Babylon^a is taken,
the praise of the whole earth seized!
How Babylon has become a horror among the nations!
- 42 The sea has come up on Babylon;
she is covered with its tumultuous waves.
- 43 Her cities have become a horror,
a land of drought and a desert,
a land in which no one dwells, and through which no son of man passes.
- 44 And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and take out of his mouth what he has swallowed.
The nations shall no longer flow to him;
the wall of Babylon has fallen.
- 45 "Go out of the midst of her, my people!
Let every man save his life
from the fierce anger of the LORD!
- 46 Let not your heart faint, and be not fearful at the report heard in the land, when a report comes in one year and afterward a report in another year, and violence is in the land,
and ruler is against ruler.
- 47 "Therefore, behold, the days are coming when I will punish the images of Babylon;
her whole land shall be put to shame, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.
- 48 Then the heavens and the earth, and all that is in them,
shall sing for joy over Babylon;
for the destroyers shall come against them out of the north,
says the LORD.
- 49 Babylon must fall for the slain of Israel, as for Babylon have fallen the slain of all the earth.
- 50 "You that have escaped from the sword, go, stand not still!
Remember the LORD from afar,
and let Jerusalem come into your mind:
- 51 "We are put to shame, for we have heard reproach;
dishonor has covered our face, for aliens have come into the holy places of the LORD's house.'
- 52 "Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will execute judgment upon her images, and through all her land
the wounded shall groan.
- 53 Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify her strong height, yet destroyers would come from me upon her,
says the LORD.
- 54 "Hark! a cry from Babylon!
The noise of great destruction from the land of the Chalde'ans!
- 55 For the LORD is laying Babylon waste, and stilling her mighty voice.
Their waves roar like many waters,
the noise of their voice is raised;
- 56 for a destroyer has come upon her,
upon Babylon;
her warriors are taken,
their bows are broken in pieces;
for the LORD is a God of recompense, he will surely requite.
- 57 I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, her governors, her commanders,
and her warriors;
they shall sleep a perpetual sleep and not wake,
says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.
- 58 "Thus says the LORD of hosts:
The broad wall of Babylon shall be leveled to the ground and her high gates
shall be burned with fire.
The peoples labor for nought, and the nations weary themselves only for fire."

59 The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neri'ah, son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah king of Judah to Babylon, in the fourth year of his reign. Seraiah was the quartermaster. 60 Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, all these words that are written concerning Babylon. 61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah: "When you come to Babylon, see that you read all these words, 62 and say, 'O LORD, thou hast said concerning this place that thou wilt cut it off, so that nothing shall dwell in it, neither man nor beast, and it shall be desolate for ever.' 63 When you finish reading this book, bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of the Eu-phra'tes, 64 and say, 'Thus shall Babylon sink, to rise no more, because of the evil that I am bringing upon her.'"^y

Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

52 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamu'tal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. 2 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. 3 Surely because of the anger of the LORD things came to such a pass in Jerusalem and Judah that he cast them out from his presence.

And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. 4 And in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came with all his army against Jerusalem, and they laid siege to it and built siegeworks against it round about. 5 So the city was besieged till the eleventh year of King Zedekiah. 6 On the ninth day of the fourth month the famine was so severe in the city, that there was no food for the people of the land. 7 Then a breach was made in the city; and all the men of war fled and went out from the city by night by the way of a gate between the two walls, by the king's garden, while the Chaldeans were round about the city. And they went in the direction of the Arabah. 8 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. 9 Then they captured the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he passed sentence upon him. 10 The king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and also slew all the princes of Judah at Riblah. 11 He put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him in fetters, and the king of Babylon took him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 In the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month—which was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon—Nebu'zarad'an the captain of the bodyguard who served the king of Babylon, entered Jerusalem. 13 And he burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house and all the houses of Jerusalem; every great house he burned down. 14 And all the army of the Chaldeans, who were with the captain of the guard, broke down all the walls round about Jerusalem. 15 And Nebu'zarad'an the captain of the guard carried away captive some of the poorest of the people and the rest of the people who were left in the city and the deserters who had deserted to the king of Babylon, together with the rest of the artisans. 16 But Nebu'zarad'an the captain of the guard left some of the poorest of the land to be vinedressers and plowmen.

17 And the pillars of bronze that were in the house of the LORD, and the stands and the bronze sea that were in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans broke in pieces, and carried all the bronze to Babylon. 18 And they took away the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the basins, and the dishes for incense, and all the vessels of bronze used in the temple service; 19 also the small bowls, and the firepans, and the basins, and the pots, and the lampstands, and the dishes for incense, and the bowls for libation. What was of gold the captain of the guard took away as gold, and what was of silver, as silver. 20 As for the two pillars, the one sea, the twelve bronze bulls which were under the sea,² and the stands, which Solomon the king had made for the house of the LORD, the bronze of all these things was beyond weight. 21 As for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, its circumference was twelve cubits, and its thickness was four fingers, and it was hollow. ²² Upon it was a capital of bronze; the height of the one capital was five cubits; a network and pomegranates, all of bronze, were upon the capital round about. And the second pillar had the like, with pomegranates. ²³ There were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides; all the pomegranates were a hundred upon the network round about.

²⁴ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the threshold; ²⁵ and from the city he took an officer who had been in command of the men of war, and seven men of the king's council, who were found in the city; and the secretary of the commander of the army who mustered the people of the land; and sixty men of the people of the land, who were found in the midst of the city. ²⁶ And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah. ²⁷ And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried captive out of its land.

²⁸ This is the number of the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year, three thousand and twenty-three Jews; ²⁹ in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred and thirty-two persons; ³⁰ in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadrezzar, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred and forty-five persons; all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

³¹ And in the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth day of the month, Evil-mero'dach king of Babylon, in the year that he became king, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah and brought him out of prison; ³² and he spoke kindly to him, and gave him a seat above the seats of the kings who were with him in Babylon. ³³ So Jehoiachin put off his prison garments. And every day of his life he dined regularly at the king's table; ³⁴ as for his allowance, a regular allowance was given him by the king according to his daily need, until the day of his death as long as he lived.

THE LAMENTATIONS

OF JEREMIAH

- 1 How lonely sits the city that was full of people!
How like a widow has she become,
she that was great among the nations!
She that was a princess among the cities has become a vassal.
- 2 She weeps bitterly in the night,
tears on her cheeks;
among all her lovers
she has none to comfort her;
all her friends have dealt treacherously with her,
they have become her enemies.

- 3 Judah has gone into exile because of affliction and hard servitude;
she dwells now among the nations,
but finds no resting place;
her pursuers have all overtaken her in the midst of her distress.
- 4 The roads to Zion mourn, for none come to the appointed feasts;
all her gates are desolate,
her priests groan;
her maidens have been dragged away,^a and she herself suffers bitterly.

^a Gk Old Latin: Heb afflicted

⁵ Her foes have become the head, her enemies prosper,
because the LORD has made her suffer
for the multitude of her transgressions;
her children have gone away,
captives before the foe.

⁶ From the daughter of Zion has departed
all her majesty.
Her princes have become like harts that find no pasture;
they fled without strength before the pursuer.

⁷ Jerusalem remembers in the days of her affliction and bitterness^b all the precious things that were hers from days of old.
When her people fell into the hand of
the foe,
and there was none to help her,
the foe gloated over her,
mocking at her downfall.

⁸ Jerusalem sinned grievously, therefore she became filthy;
all who honored her despise her,
for they have seen her naked-
ness;
yea, she herself groans,
and turns her face away.

⁹ Her uncleanness was in her skirts;
she took no thought of her doom;
therefore her fall is terrible,
she has no comforter.
"O LORD, behold my affliction, for the enemy has triumphed!"

¹⁰ The enemy has stretched out his hands
over all her precious things; yea, she has seen the nations invade her sanctuary,
those whom thou didst forbid to enter thy congregation.

¹¹ All her people groan
as they search for bread;
they trade their treasures for food
to revive their strength.
"Look, O LORD, and behold, for I am despised."

¹² "Is it nothing to you," all you who pass by?
Look and see if there is any sorrow like my sorrow which was brought upon me, which the LORD inflicted on the day of his fierce anger.

¹³ "From on high he sent fire; into my bones^d he made it descend;
he spread a net for my feet;
he turned me back;
he has left me stunned,
faint all the day long.

¹⁴ "My transgressions were bound" into a yoke;
by his hand they were fastened together;
they were set upon my neck;
he caused my strength to fail;
the Lord gave me into the hands of those whom I cannot withstand.

¹⁵ "The Lord flouted all my mighty men
in the midst of me;
he summoned an assembly against
me
to crush my young men;
the Lord has trodden as in a wine press
the virgin daughter of Judah.

¹⁶ "For these things I weep;
my eyes flow with tears;
for a comforter is far from me,
one to revive my courage;
my children are desolate,
for the enemy has prevailed."

¹⁷ Zion stretches out her hands, but there is none to comfort her;
the LORD has commanded against
Jacob
that his neighbors should be his
foes;
Jerusalem has become a filthy thing among them.

¹⁸ "The LORD is in the right, for I have rebelled against his
word;
but hear, all you peoples,
and behold my suffering;

my maidens and my young men have gone into captivity.

- 19 "I called to my lovers but they deceived me;
my priests and elders
perished in the city, while they sought food
to revive their strength.
- 20 "Behold, O LORD, for I am in distress,
my soul is in tumult,
my heart is wrung within me, because I have been very rebellious.
In the street the sword bereaves;
in the house it is like death.
- 21 "Hear^f how I groan;
there is none to comfort me.
All my enemies have heard of my
trouble;
they are glad that thou hast done it.
Bring thou^g the day thou hast announced,
and let them be as I am.
- 22 "Let all their evil doing come before
thee;
and deal with them
as thou hast dealt with me because of all my transgressions; for my groans are many
and my heart is faint."
- 2 How the Lord in his anger has set the daughter of Zion under a cloud!
He has cast down from heaven to
earth
the splendor of Israel;
he has not remembered his foot-stool
in the day of his anger.
- 2 The Lord has destroyed without mercy
all the habitations of Jacob;
in his wrath he has broken down the strongholds of the daughter of Judah;
he has brought down to the ground in dishonor
the kingdom and its rulers.

³ He has cut down in fierce anger
all the might of Israel;

^fGk Syr: Heb they heard ^gSyr: Heb thou hast brought he has withdrawn from them his right hand

in the face of the enemy;
he has burned like a flaming fire in Jacob,
consuming all around.

- ⁴ He has bent his bow like an enemy,
with his right hand set like a foe;
and he has slain all the pride of our eyes
in the tent of the daughter of Zion;
he has poured out his fury like fire.
- ⁵ The Lord has become like an enemy,
he has destroyed Israel;
he has destroyed all its palaces, laid in ruins its strongholds;
and he has multiplied in the daughter of Judah
mourning and lamentation.
- ⁶ He has broken down his booth like that of a garden,
laid in ruins the place of his appointed feasts;
the LORD has brought to an end in Zion
appointed feast and sabbath, and in his fierce indignation has spurned
king and priest.
- ⁷ The Lord has scorned his altar, disowned his sanctuary;
he has delivered into the hand of the enemy
the walls of her palaces;
a clamor was raised in the house of
the LORD
as on the day of an appointed feast.
- ⁸ The LORD determined to lay in
ruins
the wall of the daughter of Zion;
he marked it off by the line;
he restrained not his hand from destroying;
he caused rampart and wall to lament,
they languish together.
- ⁹ Her gates have sunk into the ground;
he has ruined and broken her bars;
her king and princes are among the
nations;
the law is no more,

- and her prophets obtain
no vision from the LORD.
- ¹⁰ The elders of the daughter of Zion sit on the ground in silence; they have cast dust on their heads and put on sackcloth;
the maidens of Jerusalem have bowed their heads to the ground.
- ¹¹ My eyes are spent with weeping;
my soul is in tumult;
my heart is poured out in grief^b because of the destruction of the daughter of my people, because infants and babes faint
in the streets of the city.
- ¹² They cry to their mothers,
"Where is bread and wine?"
as they faint like wounded men
in the streets of the city, as their life is poured out on their mothers' bosom.
- ¹³ What can I say for you, to what compare you,
O daughter of Jerusalem?
What can I liken to you, that I may comfort you,
O virgin daughter of Zion?
For vast as the sea is your ruin;
who can restore you?
- ¹⁴ Your prophets have seen for you false and deceptive visions;
they have not exposed your iniquity to restore your fortunes, but have seen for you oracles false and misleading.
- ¹⁵ All who pass along the way clap their hands at you;
they hiss and wag their heads
at the daughter of Jerusalem;
"Is this the city which was called the perfection of beauty, the joy of all the earth?"
- ¹⁶ All your enemies
rail against you;
they hiss, they gnash their teeth, they cry: "We have destroyed
her!
Ah, this is the day we longed for;
now we have it; we see it!"
- ¹⁷ The LORD has done what he pur-
posed,
has carried out his threat;
as he ordained long ago,
he has demolished without pity;
he has made the enemy rejoice over
you,
and exalted the might of your foes.
- ¹⁸ Cry aloudⁱ to the Lord!
O daughter of Zion!
Let tears stream down like a torrent day and night!
Give yourself no rest,
your eyes no respite!
- ¹⁹ Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches!
Pour out your heart like water before the presence of the Lord!
Lift your hands to him
for the lives of your children, who faint for hunger
at the head of every street.
- ²⁰ Look, O LORD, and see!
With whom hast thou dealt thus?
Should women eat their offspring,
the children of their tender care?
Should priest and prophet be slain
in the sanctuary of the Lord?
- ²¹ In the dust of the streets lie the young and the old;
my maidens and my young men
have fallen by the sword;
in the day of thy anger thou hast slain
them,
slaughtering without mercy.
- ²² Thou didst invite as to the day of an appointed feast
my errors on every side;
and on the day of the anger of the LORD
none escaped or survived;
those whom I dandled and reared my enemy destroyed.
- 3 I am the man who has seen affliction under the rod of his wrath; ² he has driven and brought me into darkness without any light; ³ surely against me he turns his hand again and again the whole day long.

he has made me desolate;
- 12 he bent his bow and set me

- 13 He drove into my heart
the arrows of his quiver;
- 14 I have become the laughingstock of

- 15 He has filled me with bitterness, he has sated me with wormwood.
- 16 He has made my teeth grind on his mercies never come to an end;

they are new every morning;
great is thy faithfulness.
- 24 "The LORD is my portion," says my
soul,
"therefore I will hope in him."
- 25 The LORD is good to those who wait for him,
to the soul that seeks him.
- 26 It is good that one should wait quietly for the salvation of the LORD.
- 27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.
- 28 Let him sit alone in silence
when he has laid it on him;
- 29 let him put his mouth in the dust—
there may yet be hope;

and be filled with insults.
- 31 For the Lord will not cast off for ever, 32 but, though he cause grief, he will have compassion
according to the abundance of his
steadfast love;
- 33 for he does not willingly afflict or grieve the sons of men.
- 34 To crush under foot
all the prisoners of the earth, 35 to turn aside the right of a man in the presence of the Most High,
- 36 to subvert a man in his cause,
the Lord does not approve.
- 37 Who has commanded and it came to
pass,
unless the Lord has ordained it?
- 38 Is it not from the mouth of the Most High
that good and evil come?
- 39 Why should a living man complain, a man, about the punishment of his sins?

and return to the LORD!
- 41 Let us lift up our hearts and hands to God in heaven:
- 42 "We have transgressed and rebelled, and thou hast not forgiven.
- 43 "Thou hast wrapped thyself with anger and pursued us, slaying without pity;

So they became fugitives and wanderers;
men said among the nations,
"They shall stay with us no longer."
- 16 The LORD himself has scattered
them,
he will regard them no more;
no honor was shown to the priests,
no favor to the elders.
- 17 Our eyes failed, ever watching vainly for help;
in our watching^f we watched for a nation which could not save.
- 18 Men dogged our steps so that we could not walk in our streets;
our end drew near; our days were numbered;
for our end had come.
- 19 Our pursuers were swifter than the vultures in the heavens;
they chased us on the mountains,
- 20 they lay in wait for us in the wilderness.
- 20 The breath of our nostrils, the LORD's anointed,
was taken in their pits,
he of whom we said, "Under his shadow
we shall live among the nations."
- 21 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom,
dweller in the land of Uz;
but to you also the cup shall pass;
you shall become drunk and strip yourself bare.
- 22 The punishment of your iniquity, O daughter of Zion, is accomplished,
he will keep you in exile no longer;
but your iniquity, O daughter of Edom, he will punish,
he will uncover your sins.
- 5 Remember, O LORD, what has befallen us;
behold, and see our disgrace!
- 2 Our inheritance has been turned over to strangers,
our homes to aliens.
- 3 We have become orphans, fatherless;
our mothers are like widows.
- 4 We must pay for the water we drink,
the wood we get must be bought.
- 5 With a yoke^g on our necks we are hard driven;
we are weary, we are given no rest.
- 6 We have given the hand to Egypt, and to Assyria, to get bread enough.
- 7 Our fathers sinned, and are no more;
and we bear their iniquities.
- 8 Slaves rule over us;
there is none to deliver us from their hand.
- 9 We get our bread at the peril of our lives,
because of the sword in the wilderness.
- 10 Our skin is hot as an oven with the burning heat of famine.
- 11 Women are ravished in Zion, virgins in the towns of Judah.
- 12 Princes are hung up by their hands;
no respect is shown to the elders.
- 13 Young men are compelled to grind at the mill;
and boys stagger under loads of wood

- 14 The old men have quit the city gate, the young men their music.
- 15 The joy of our hearts has ceased;
our dancing has been turned to mourning.
- 16 The crown has fallen from our head;
woe to us, for we have sinned!
- 17 For this our heart has become sick, for these things our eyes have grown dim,
- 18 for Mount Zion which lies desolate;
jackals prowl over it.
- 19 But thou, O LORD, dost reign for
ever;
thy throne endures to all generations.
- 20 Why dost thou forget us for ever,
why dost thou so long forsake us?
- 21 Restore us to thyself, O LORD, that we may be restored!
Renew our days as of old!
- 22 Or hast thou utterly rejected us?
Art thou exceedingly angry with
us?

THE BOOK OF EZEKIEL

1 In the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was among the exiles by the river Chebar, the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God. ² On the fifth day of the month (it was the fifth year of the exile of King Jehoi'achin), ³ the word of the LORD came to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chalde'ans by the river Chebar; and the hand of the LORD was upon him there.

4 As I looked, behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, and a great cloud, with brightness round about it, and fire flashing forth continually, and in the midst of the fire, as it were gleaming bronze. ⁵ And from the midst of it came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had the form of men, ⁶ but each had four faces, and each of them had four wings. ⁷ Their legs were straight, and the soles of their feet were like the sole of a calf's foot; and they sparkled like burnished bronze. ⁸ Under their wings on their four sides they had human hands. And the four had their faces and their wings thus: ⁹ their wings touched one another; they went every one straight forward, without turning as they went. ¹⁰ As for the likeness of their faces, each had the face of a man in front; ^a the four had the face of a lion on the right side, the four had the face of an ox on the left side, and the four had the face of an eagle at the back. ^b ¹¹ Such were their faces. And their wings were spread out above; each creature had two wings, each of which touched the wing of another, while two covered their bodies. ¹² And each went straight forward; wherever the spirit would go, they went, without turning as they went. ¹³ In the midst of ^c the living creatures there was something that looked like burning coals of fire, like torches moving to and fro among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning. ¹⁴ And the living creatures darted to and fro, like a flash of lightning.

15 Now as I looked at the living creatures, I saw a wheel upon the earth beside the living creatures, one for each of the four of them. ^d ¹⁶ As for the appearance of the wheels and their construction: their appearance was like the gleaming of a chrysolite; and the four had the same likeness, their construction being as it were a wheel within a wheel. ¹⁷ When they went, they went in any of their four directions ^e without turning as they went. ¹⁸ The four wheels had rims and they had spokes; ^f and their rims were full of eyes round about. ¹⁹ And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures rose from the earth, the wheels rose. ²⁰ Wherever the spirit would go, they went, and the wheels rose along with them; for the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels. ²¹When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those rose from the earth, the wheels rose along with them; for the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

²²Over the heads of the living creatures there was the likeness of a firmament, shining like crystal,⁹ spread out above their heads. ²³And under the firmament their wings were stretched out straight, one toward another; and each creature had two wings covering its body. ²⁴And when they went, I heard the sound of their wings like the sound of many waters, like the thunder of the Almighty, a sound of tumult like the sound of a host; when they stood still, they let down their wings. ²⁵And there came a voice from above the firmament over their heads; when they stood still, they let down their wings.

²⁶And above the firmament over their heads there was the likeness of a throne, in appearance like sapphire;⁹ and seated above the likeness of a throne was a likeness as it were of a human form. ²⁷And upward from what had the appearance of his loins I saw as it were gleaming bronze, like the appearance of fire enclosed round about; and downward from what had the appearance of his loins I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness round about him.ⁱ ²⁸Like the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud on the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about.

Such was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard the voice of one speaking.

2 And he said to me, "Son of man, stand upon your feet, and I will speak with you."² And when he spoke to me, the Spirit entered into me and set me upon my feet; and I heard him speaking to me. ³And he said to me, "Son of man, I send you to the people of Israel, to a nation¹ of rebels, who have rebelled against me; they and their fathers have transgressed against me to this very day. ⁴The people also are impudent and stubborn: I send you to them; and you shall say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD.'⁵ And whether they hear or refuse to hear (for they are a rebellious house) they will know that there has been a prophet among them. ⁶And you, son of man, be not afraid of them, nor be afraid of their words, though briars and thorns are with you and you sit upon scorpions; be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house. ⁷And you shall speak my words to them, whether they hear or refuse to hear; for they are a rebellious house.

⁸"But you, son of man, hear what I say to you; be not rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth, and eat what I give you."⁹ And when I looked, behold, a hand was stretched out to me, and, lo, a written scroll was in it;¹⁰ and he spread it before me; and it had writing on the front and on the back, and there were written on it words of lamentation and mourning and woe.

3 ¹And he said to me, "Son of man, eat what is offered to you; eat this scroll, and go, speak to the house of Israel."² So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat. ³And he said to me, "Son of man, eat this scroll that I give you and fill your stomach with it." Then I ate it; and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey.

⁴And he said to me, "Son of man, go, get you to the house of Israel, and speak with my words to them. ⁵For you are not sent to a people of foreign speech and a hard language, but to the house of Israel—⁶not to many peoples of foreign speech and a hard language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely, if I sent you to such, they would listen to you. ⁷But the house of Israel will not listen to you; for they are not willing to listen to me; because all the house of Israel are of a hard forehead and of a stubborn heart. ⁸Behold, I have made your face hard against their faces, and your forehead hard against their foreheads. ⁹Like adamant harder than flint have I made your forehead; fear them not, nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house."¹⁰ Moreover he said to me, "Son of man, all my words that I shall speak to you receive in your heart, and hear with your ears. ¹¹And go, get you to the exiles, to your people, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God'; whether they hear or refuse to hear."

12 Then the Spirit lifted me up, and as the glory of the LORD arose^k from its place, I heard behind me the sound of a great earthquake; ¹³ it was the sound of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the sound of the wheels beside them, that sounded like a great earthquake. ¹⁴ The Spirit lifted me up and took me away, and I went in bitterness in the heat of my spirit, the hand of the LORD being strong upon me; ¹⁵ and I came to the exiles at Tela'bib, who dwelt by the river Chebar.^l And I sat there overwhelmed among them seven days.

16 And at the end of seven days, the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁷ "Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you shall give them warning from me. ¹⁸ If I say to the wicked, 'You shall surely die,' and you give him no warning, nor speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, in order to save his life, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood I will require at your hand. ¹⁹ But if you warn the wicked, and he does not turn from his wickedness, or from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you will have saved your life. ²⁰ Again, if a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die; because you have not warned him, he shall die for his sin, and his righteous deeds which he has done shall not be remembered; but his blood I will require at your hand. ²¹ Nevertheless if you warn the righteous man not to sin, and he does not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning; and you will have saved your life."

22 And the hand of the LORD was there upon me; and he said to me, "Arise, go forth into the plain,^m and there I will speak with you."²³ So I arose and went forth into the plain;^m and, lo, the glory of the LORD stood there, like the glory which I had seen by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face. ²⁴ But the Spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spoke with me and said to me, "Go, shut yourself within your house. ²⁵ And you, O son of man, behold, cords will be placed upon you, and you shall be bound with them, so that you cannot go out among the people; ²⁶ and I will make your tongue cleave to the roof of your mouth, so that you shall be dumb and unable to reprove them; for they are a rebellious house. ²⁷ But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God'; he that will hear, let him hear; and he that will refuse to hear, let him refuse; for they are a rebellious house.

4 "And you, O son of man, take a brick and lay it before you, and portray upon it a city, even Jerusalem; ² and put siegeworks against it, and build a siege wall against it, and cast up a mound against it; set camps also against it, and plant battering rams against it round about. ³ And take an iron plate, and place it as an iron wall between you and the city; and set your face toward it, and let it be in a state of siege, and press the siege against it. This is a sign for the house of Israel.

⁴ "Then lie upon your left side, and I will lay the punishment of the house of Israel upon you;" for the number of the days that you lie upon it, you shall bear their punishment. ⁵ For I assign to you a number of days, three hundred and ninety days, equal to the number of the years of their punishment; so long shall you bear the punishment of the house of Israel. ⁶ And when you have completed these, you shall lie down a second time, but on your right side, and bear the punishment of the house of Judah; forty days I assign you, a day for each year. ⁷ And you shall set your face toward the siege of Jerusalem, with your arm bared; and you shall prophesy against the city. ⁸ And, behold, I will put cords upon you, so that you cannot turn from one side to the other, till you have completed the days of your siege.

⁹ "And you, take wheat and barley, beans and lentils, millet and spelt, and put them into a single vessel, and make bread of them. During the number of days that you lie upon your side, three hundred and ninety days, you shall eat it. ¹⁰And the food which you eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day; once a day you shall eat it. ¹¹And water you shall drink by measure, the sixth part of a hin; once a day you shall drink. ¹²And you shall eat it as a barley cake, baking it in their sight on human dung. ¹³And the LORD said, "Thus shall the people of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them." ¹⁴Then I said, "Ah Lord GOD! behold, I have never defiled myself; from my youth up till now I have never eaten what died of itself or was torn by beasts, nor has foul flesh come into my mouth." ¹⁵Then he said to me, "See, I will let you have cow's dung instead of human dung, on which you may prepare your bread." ¹⁶Moreover he said to me, "Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem; they shall eat bread by weight and with fearfulness; and they shall drink water by measure and in dismay. ¹⁷I will do this that they may lack bread and water, and look at one another in dismay, and waste away under their punishment.

5 "And you, O son of man, take a sharp sword; use it as a barber's razor and pass it over your head and your beard; then take balances for weighing, and divide the hair. ²A third part you shall burn in the fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are completed; and a third part you shall take and strike with the sword round about the city; and a third part you shall scatter to the wind, and I will unsheathe the sword after them. ³And you shall take from these a small number, and bind them in the skirts of your robe. ⁴And of these again you shall take some, and cast them into the fire, and burn them in the fire; from there a fire will come forth into all the house of Israel. ⁵Thus says the Lord GOD: This is Jerusalem; I have set her in the center of the nations, with countries round about her. ⁶And she has wickedly rebelled against my ordinances^a more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries round about her, by rejecting my ordinances and not walking in my statutes. ⁷Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because you are more turbulent than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes or kept my ordinances, but have acted^b according to the ordinances of the nations that are round about you; ⁸therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I, even I, am against you; and I will execute judgments in the midst of you in the sight of the nations. ⁹And because of all your abominations I will do with you what I have never yet done, and the like of which I will never do again. ¹⁰Therefore fathers shall eat their sons in the midst of you, and sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments on you, and any of you who survive I will scatter to all the winds. ¹¹Wherefore, as I live, says the Lord GOD, surely, because you have defiled my sanctuary with all your detestable things and with all your abominations, therefore I will cut you down;^c my eye will not spare, and I will have no pity. ¹²A third part of you shall die of pestilence and be consumed with famine in the midst of you; a third part shall fall by the sword round about you; and a third part I will scatter to all the winds and will unsheathe the sword after them.

¹³"Thus shall my anger spend itself, and I will vent my fury upon them and satisfy myself; and they shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken in my jealousy, when I spend my fury upon them. ¹⁴Moreover I will make you a desolation and an object of reproach among the nations round about you and in the sight of all that pass by. ¹⁵You shall be^d a reproach and a taunt, a warning and a horror, to the nations round about you, when I execute judgments on you in anger and fury, and with furious chastisements—I, the LORD, have spoken—¹⁶when I loose against you^e my deadly arrows of famine, arrows for destruction, which I will loose to destroy you, and when I bring more and more famine upon you, and break your staff of bread. ¹⁷I will send famine and wild beasts against you, and they will rob you of your children; pestilence and blood shall pass through you; and I will bring the sword upon you. I, the LORD, have spoken."

6 The word of the LORD came to me: ²"Son of man, set your face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them, ³and say, You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD! Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and the hills, to the ravines and the valleys: Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places. ⁴Your altars shall become desolate, and your incense altars shall be broken; and I will cast down your slain before your idols. ⁵And I will lay the dead bodies of the people of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars. ⁶Wherever you dwell your cities shall be waste and your high places ruined, so that your altars will be waste and ruined, your idols broken and destroyed, your incense altars cut down, and your works wiped out. ⁷And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and you shall know that I am the LORD.

⁸“Yet I will leave some of you alive. When you have among the nations some who escape the sword, and when you are scattered through the countries, ⁹then those of you who escape will remember me among the nations where they are carried captive, when I have broken their wanton heart which has departed from me, and blinded their eyes which turn wantonly after their idols; and they will be loathsome in their own sight for the evils which they have committed, for all their abominations. ¹⁰And they shall know that I am the LORD; I have not said in vain that I would do this evil to them.”

¹¹Thus says the Lord GOD: “Clap your hands, and stamp your foot, and say, Alas! because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel; for they shall fall by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence. ¹²He that is far off shall die of pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that is left and is preserved shall die of famine. Thus I will spend my fury upon them. ¹³And you shall know that I am the LORD, when their slain lie among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, on all the mountain tops, under every green tree, and under every leafy oak, wherever they offered pleasing odor to all their idols. ¹⁴And I will stretch out my hand against them, and make the land desolate and waste, throughout all their habitations, from the wilderness to Riblah.” Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

7 The word of the LORD came to me: ²“And you, O son of man, thus says the Lord GOD to the land of Israel: An end! The end has come upon the four corners of the land. ³Now the end is upon you, and I will let loose my anger upon you, and will judge you according to your ways; and I will punish you for all your abominations. ⁴And my eye will not spare you, nor will I have pity; but I will punish you for your ways, while your abominations are in your midst. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

⁵“Thus says the Lord GOD: Disaster after disaster! Behold, it comes. ⁶An end has come, the end has come; it has awakened against you. Behold, it comes. ⁷Your doom” has come to you, O inhabitant of the land; the time has come, the day is near, a day of tumult, and not of joyful shouting upon the mountains. ⁸Now I will soon pour out my wrath upon you, and spend my anger against you, and judge you according to your ways; and I will punish you for all your abominations. ⁹And my eye will not spare, nor will I have pity; I will punish you according to your ways, while your abominations are in your midst. Then you will know that I am the LORD, who smite.

¹⁰“Behold, the day! Behold, it comes! Your doom” has come, injustice² has blossomed, pride has budded. ¹¹Violence has grown up into a rod of wickedness; none of them shall remain, nor their abundance, nor their wealth; neither shall there be pre-eminence among them.” ¹²The time has come, the day draws near. Let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn, for wrath is upon all their multitude. ¹³For the seller shall not return to what he has sold, while they live. For wrath² is upon all their multitude; it shall not turn back; and because of his iniquity, none can maintain his life.”

pestilence and famine are within; he that is in the field dies by the sword; and him that is in the city famine and pestilence devour. ¹⁶And if any survivors escape, they will be on the mountains, like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, every one over his iniquity. ¹⁷All hands are feeble, and all knees weak as water. ¹⁸They gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror covers them; shame is upon all faces, and baldness on all their heads. ¹⁹They cast their silver into the streets, and their gold is like an unclean thing; their silver and gold are not able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD; they cannot satisfy their hunger or fill their stomachs with it. For it was the stumbling block of their iniquity. ²⁰Their^b beautiful ornament they used for vainglory, and they made their abominable images and their detestable things of it; therefore I will make it an unclean thing to them. ²¹And I will give it into the hands of foreigners for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall profane it. ²²I will turn my face from them, that they may profane my precious^c place; robbers shall enter and profane it, ²³and make a desolation.^d

"Because the land is full of bloody crimes and the city is full of violence, ²⁴I will bring the worst of the nations to take possession of their houses; I will put an end to their proud might, and their holy places shall be profaned. ²⁵When anguish comes, they will seek peace, but there shall be none. ²⁶Disaster comes upon disaster, rumor follows rumor; they seek a vision from the prophet, but the law perishes from the priest, and counsel from the elders. ²⁷The king mourns, the prince is wrapped in despair, and the hands of the people of the land are palsied by terror. According to their way I will do to them, and according to their own judgments I will judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD."

8 In the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house, with the elders of Judah sitting before me, the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me. ²Then I beheld, and, lo, a form that had the appearance of a man;^e below what appeared to be his loins it was fire, and above his loins it was like the appearance of brightness, like gleaming bronze. ³He put forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head; and the Spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven, and brought me in visions of God to Jerusalem, to the entrance of the gateway of the inner court that faces north, where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provokes to jealousy. ⁴And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, like the vision that I saw in the plain.

⁵Then he said to me, "Son of man, lift up your eyes now in the direction of the north." So I lifted up my eyes toward the north, and behold, north of the altar gate, in the entrance, was this image of jealousy. ⁶And he said to me, "Son of man, do you see what they are doing, the great abominations that the house of Israel are committing here, to drive me far from my sanctuary? But you will see still greater abominations."

⁷And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, there was a hole in the wall. ⁸Then said he to me, "Son of man, dig in the wall"; and when I dug in the wall, lo, there was a door. ⁹And he said to me, "Go in, and see the vile abominations that they are committing here." ¹⁰So I went in and saw; and there, portrayed upon the wall round about, were all kinds of creeping things, and loathsome beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel. ¹¹And before them stood seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, with Ja-azani'ah the son of Shaphan standing among them. Each had his censer in his hand, and the smoke of the cloud of incense went up. ¹²Then he said to me, "Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel are doing in the dark, every man in his room^f of pictures? For they say, 'The LORD does not see us, the LORD has forsaken the land.'" ¹³He said also to me, "You will see still greater abominations which they commit."

¹⁴Then he brought me to the entrance of the north gate of the house of the LORD; and behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz. ¹⁵Then he said to me, "Have you seen this, O son of man? You will see still greater abominations than these."

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the house of the LORD; and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about twenty-five men, with their backs to the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east, worshipping the sun toward the east. 17 Then he said to me, "Have you seen this, O son of man? Is it too slight a thing for the house of Judah to commit the abominations which they commit here, that they should fill the land with violence, and provoke me further to anger? Lo, they put the branch to their nose. 18 Therefore I will deal in wrath; my eye will not spare, nor will I have pity; and though they cry in my ears with a loud voice, I will not hear them."

9 Then he cried in my ears with a loud voice, saying, "Draw near, you executioners of the city, each with his destroying weapon in his hand." 2 And lo, six men came from the direction of the upper gate, which faces north, every man with his weapon for slaughter in his hand, and with them was a man clothed in linen, with a writing case at his side. And they went in and stood beside the bronze altar.

3 Now the glory of the God of Israel had gone up from the cherubim on which it rested to the threshold of the house; and he called to the man clothed in linen, who had the writing case at his side. 4 And the LORD said to him, "Go through the city, through Jerusalem, and put a mark upon the foreheads of the men who sigh and groan over all the abominations that are committed in it." 5 And to the others he said in my hearing, "Pass through the city after him, and smite; your eye shall not spare, and you shall show no pity; 6 slay old men outright, young men and maidens, little children and women, but touch no one upon whom is the mark. And begin at my sanctuary." So they began with the elders who were before the house. 7 Then he said to them, "Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain. Go forth." So they went forth, and smote in the city. 8 And while they were smiting, and I was left alone, I fell upon my face, and cried, "Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou destroy all that remains of Israel in the outpouring of thy wrath upon Jerusalem?"

9 Then he said to me, "The guilt of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great; the land is full of blood, and the city full of injustice; for they say, 'The LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD does not see.' 10 As for me, my eye will not spare, nor will I have pity, but I will requite their deeds upon their heads."

11 And lo, the man clothed in linen, with the writing case at his side, brought back word, saying, "I have done as thou didst command me."

10 Then I looked, and behold, on the firmament that was over the heads of the cherubim there appeared above them something like a sapphire, in form resembling a throne. 2 And he said to the man clothed in linen, "Go in among the whirling wheels underneath the cherubim; fill your hands with burning coals from between the cherubim, and scatter them over the city."

And he went in before my eyes. 3 Now the cherubim were standing on the south side of the house, when the man went in; and a cloud filled the inner court. 4 And the glory of the LORD went up from the cherubim to the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the glory of the LORD. 5 And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard as far as the outer court, like the voice of God Almighty when he speaks.

6 And when he commanded the man clothed in linen, "Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim," he went in and stood beside a wheel. 7 And a cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim to the fire that was between the cherubim, and took some of it, and put it into the hands of the man clothed in linen, who took it and went out. 8 The cherubim appeared to have the form of a human hand under their wings.

9 And I looked, and behold, there were four wheels beside the cherubim, one beside each cherub; and the appearance of the wheels was like sparkling chrysolite. 10 And as for their appearance, the four had the same likeness, as if a wheel were within a wheel.

¹¹ When they went, they went in any of their four directions^g without turning as they went, but in whatever direction the front wheel faced the others followed without turning as they went. ¹²And^h their rims, and their spokes,ⁱ and the wheels were full of eyes round about—the wheels that the four of them had. ¹³As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing the whirling wheels. ¹⁴And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

¹⁵ And the cherubim mounted up. These were the living creatures that I saw by the river Chebar. ¹⁶And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels did not turn from beside them. ¹⁷ When they stood still, these stood still, and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them; for the spirit of the living creatures^j was in them.

²⁰ These were the living creatures that I saw underneath the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim. ²¹ Each had four faces, and each four wings, and underneath their wings the semblance of human hands. ²²And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the very faces whose appearance I had seen by the river Chebar. They went every one straight forward.

11 The Spirit lifted me up, and brought me to the east gate of the house of the LORD, which faces east. And behold, at the door of the gateway there were twenty-five men; and I saw among them Ja-azani'ah the son of Azzur, and Pelati'ah the son of Benai'ah, princes of the people. ²And he said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who devise iniquity and who give wicked counsel in this city; ³ who say, 'The time is not near^k to build houses; this city is the caldron, and we are the flesh.' ⁴ Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man."

⁵ And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and he said to me, "Say, Thus says the LORD: So you think, O house of Israel; for I know the things that come into your mind. ⁶ You have multiplied your slain in this city, and have filled its streets with the slain. ⁷ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Your slain whom you have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron; but you shall be brought forth out of the midst of it. ⁸ You have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword upon you, says the Lord GOD. ⁹ And I will bring you forth out of the midst of it, and give you into the hands of foreigners, and execute judgments upon you. ¹⁰ You shall fall by the sword; I will judge you at the border of Israel; and you shall know that I am the LORD.

¹¹ This city shall not be your caldron, nor shall you be the flesh in the midst of it; I will judge you at the border of Israel; ¹² and you shall know that I am the LORD; for you have not walked in my statutes, nor executed my ordinances, but have acted according to the ordinances of the nations that are round about you."

¹³ And it came to pass, while I was prophesying, that Pelati'ah the son of Benai'ah died. Then I fell down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, "Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?"

¹⁴ And the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁵ "Son of man, your brethren, even your brethren, your fellow exiles,^l the whole house of Israel, all of them, are those of whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, 'They have gone far from the LORD; to us this land is given for a possession.' ¹⁶ Therefore say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: Though I removed them far off among the nations, and though I scattered them among the countries, yet I have been a sanctuary to them for a while^m in the countries where they have gone.⁷ ¹⁷Therefore say, "Thus says the Lord GOD: I will gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel."¹⁸ And when they come there, they will remove from it all its detestable things and all its abominations. ¹⁹And I will give them one⁹ heart, and put a new spirit within them; I will take the stony heart out of their flesh and give them a heart of flesh, ²⁰that they may walk in my statutes and keep my ordinances and obey them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God. ²¹But as for those¹⁰ whose heart goes after their detestable things and their abominations, I will requite their deeds upon their own heads, says the Lord GOD.¹¹

²²Then the cherubim lifted up their wings, with the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them. ²³And the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city. ²⁴And the Spirit lifted me up and brought me in the vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to the exiles. Then the vision that I had seen went up from me. ²⁵And I told the exiles all the things that the LORD had showed me.

12 The word of the LORD came to me: ²"Son of man, you dwell in the midst of a rebellious house, who have eyes to see, but see not, who have ears to hear, but hear not; ³for they are a rebellious house. Therefore, son of man, prepare for yourself an exile's baggage, and go into exile by day in their sight; you shall go like an exile from your place to another place in their sight. Perhaps they will understand, though¹¹ they are a rebellious house. ⁴You shall bring out your baggage by day in their sight, as baggage for exile; and you shall go forth yourself at evening in their sight, as men do who must go into exile. ⁵Dig through the wall in their sight, and go¹² out through it. ⁶In their sight you shall lift the baggage upon your shoulder, and carry it out in the dark; you shall cover your face, that you may not see the land; for I have made you a sign for the house of Israel."

⁷And I did as I was commanded. I brought out my baggage by day, as baggage for exile, and in the evening I dug through the wall with my own hands; I went forth in the dark, carrying my outfit upon my shoulder in their sight.

⁸In the morning the word of the LORD came to me: ⁹"Son of man, has not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said to you, 'What are you doing?' ¹⁰Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: This oracle concerns the prince in Jerusalem and all the house of Israel who are in it.'¹¹ Say, 'I am a sign for you: as I have done, so shall it be done to them; they shall go into exile, into captivity.'¹² And the prince who is among them shall lift his baggage upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth; he¹³ shall dig through the wall and go¹⁴ out through it; he shall cover his face, that he may not see the land with his eyes. ¹³And I will spread my net over him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Babylon in the land of the Chaldeans, yet he shall not see it; and he shall die there. ¹⁴And I will scatter toward every wind all who are round about him, his helpers¹⁵ and all his troops; and I will unsheathe the sword after them. ¹⁵And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I disperse them among the nations and scatter them through the countries. ¹⁶But I will let a few of them escape from the sword, from famine and pestilence, that they may confess all their abominations among the nations where they go, and may know that I am the LORD."

¹⁷Moreover the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁸"Son of man, eat your bread with quaking, and drink water with trembling and with fearfulness; ¹⁹and say of the people of the land, Thus says the Lord GOD concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem in the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with fearfulness, and drink water in dismay, because their land will be stripped of all it contains, on account of the violence of all those who dwell in it. ²⁰And the inhabited cities shall be laid waste, and the land shall become a desolation; and you shall know that I am the LORD."

21 And the word of the LORD came to me: ²² "Son of man, what is this proverb that you have about the land of Israel, saying, 'The days grow long, and every vision comes to nought?' ²³ Tell them therefore, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: I will put an end to this proverb, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel.' But say to them, 'The days are at hand, and the fulfilment' of every vision. ²⁴ For there shall be no more any false vision or flattering divination within the house of Israel. ²⁵ But I the LORD will speak the word which I will speak, and it will be performed. It will no longer be delayed, but in your days, O rebellious house, I will speak the word and perform it, says the Lord GOD."

26 Again the word of the LORD came to me: ²⁷ "Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, 'The vision that he sees is for many days hence, and he prophesies of times far off.' ²⁸ Therefore say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: None of my words will be delayed any longer, but the word which I speak will be performed, says the Lord GOD.'"

13 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel, prophesy ³ and say to those who prophesy out of their own minds: 'Hear the word of the LORD!' ⁴ Thus says the Lord GOD, Woe to the foolish prophets who follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing! ⁵ Your prophets have been like foxes among ruins, O Israel. ⁶ You have not gone up into the breaches, or built up a wall for the house of Israel, that it might stand in battle in the day of the LORD. ⁷ They have spoken falsehood and divined a lie; they say, 'Says the LORD,' when the LORD has not sent them, and yet they expect him to fulfil their word. ⁸ Have you not seen a delusive vision, and uttered a lying divination, whenever you have said, 'Says the LORD,' although I have not spoken?"

⁹ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "Because you have uttered delusions and seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, says the Lord GOD. ¹⁰ My hand will be against the prophets who see delusive visions and who give lying divinations; they shall not be in the council of my people, nor be enrolled in the register of the house of Israel, nor shall they enter the land of Israel; and you shall know that I am the Lord GOD. ¹¹ Because, yea, because they have misled my people, saying, 'Peace,' when there is no peace; and because, when the people build a wall, these prophets daub it with whitewash; ¹² say to those who daub it with whitewash that it shall fall! There will be a deluge of rain, ¹³ great hailstones will fall, and a stormy wind break out; ¹⁴ and when the wall falls, will it not be said to you, 'Where is the daubing with which you daubed it?' ¹⁵ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: I will make a stormy wind break out in my wrath; and there shall be a deluge of rain in my anger, and great hailstones in wrath to destroy it. ¹⁶ And I will break down the wall that you have daubed with whitewash, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundation will be laid bare; when it falls, you shall perish in the midst of it; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁷ Thus will I spend my wrath upon the wall, and upon those who have daubed it with whitewash; and I will say to you, 'The wall is no more, nor those who daubed it, ¹⁸ the prophets of Israel who prophesied concerning Jerusalem and saw visions of peace for her, when there was no peace, says the Lord GOD.

²² "Wherefore thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against your magic bands with which you hunt the souls, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls that you hunt go free² like birds. ²¹Your veils also I will tear off, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand as prey; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ²²Because you have disheartened the righteous falsely, although I have not disheartened him, and you have encouraged the wicked, that he should not turn from his wicked way to save his life; ²³therefore you shall no more see delusive visions nor practice divination; I will deliver my people out of your hand. Then you will know that I am the LORD.”

14 Then came certain of the elders of Israel to me, and sat before me. ²And the word of the LORD came to me: ³“Son of man, these men have taken their idols into their hearts, and set the stumbling block of their iniquity before their faces; should I let myself be inquired of at all by them? ⁴Therefore speak to them, and say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Any man of the house of Israel who takes his idols into his heart and sets the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and yet comes to the prophet, I the LORD will answer him myself⁶ because of the multitude of his idols, ⁵that I may lay hold of the hearts of the house of Israel, who are all estranged from me through their idols.

⁶“Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: Repent and turn away from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. ⁷For any one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, who separates himself from me, taking his idols into his heart and putting the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and yet comes to a prophet to inquire for himself of me, I the LORD will answer him myself; ⁸and I will set my face against that man, I will make him a sign and a byword and cut him off from the midst of my people; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ⁹And if the prophet be deceived and speak a word, I, the LORD, have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand against him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. ¹⁰And they shall bear their punishment—the punishment of the prophet and the punishment of the inquirer shall be alike—¹¹that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, nor defile themselves any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people and I may be their God, says the Lord GOD.”

¹²And the word of the LORD came to me: ¹³“Son of man, when a land sins against me by acting faithlessly, and I stretch out my hand against it, and break its staff of bread and send famine upon it, and cut off from it man and beast, ¹⁴even if these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they would deliver but their own lives by their righteousness, says the Lord GOD. ¹⁵If I cause wild beasts to pass through the land, and they ravage it, and it be made desolate, so that no man may pass through because of the beasts; ¹⁶even if these three men were in it, as I live, says the Lord GOD, they would deliver neither sons nor daughters; they alone would be delivered, but the land would be desolate. ¹⁷Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Let a sword go through the land; and I cut off from it man and beast; ¹⁸though these three men were in it, as I live, says the Lord GOD, they would deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they alone would be delivered. ¹⁹Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my wrath upon it with blood, to cut off from it man and beast; ²⁰even if Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, says the Lord GOD, they would deliver neither son nor daughter; they would deliver but their own lives by their righteousness.

²¹“For thus says the Lord GOD: How much more when I send upon Jerusalem my four sore acts of judgment, sword, famine, evil beasts, and pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast! ²²Yet, if there should be left in it any survivors to lead out sons and daughters, when they come forth to you, and you see their ways and their doings, and you will be consoled for the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, for all that I have brought upon it. ²³They will console you, when you see their ways and their doings; and you shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, says the Lord GOD.”

15 And the word of the LORD came to me: ²“Son of man, how does the wood of the vine surpass any wood, the vine branch which is among the trees of the forest? ³Is wood taken from it to make anything? Do men take a peg from it to hang any vessel on? ⁴Lo, it is given to the fire for fuel; when the fire has consumed both ends of it, and the middle of it is charred, is it useful for anything? ⁵Behold, when it was whole, it was used for nothing; how much less, when the fire has consumed it and it is charred, can it ever be used for anything! ⁶Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Like the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give up the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ⁷And I will set my face against them; though they escape from the fire, the fire shall yet consume them; and you will know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them. ⁸And I will make the land desolate, because they have acted faithlessly, says the Lord GOD.”

16 Again the word of the LORD came to me: ²“Son of man, make known to Jerusalem her abominations, ³and say, Thus says the Lord GOD to Jerusalem: Your origin and your birth are of the land of the Canaanites; your father was an Amorite, and your mother a Hittite. ⁴And as for your birth, on the day you were born your navel string was not cut, nor were you washed with water to cleanse you, nor rubbed with salt, nor swathed with bands. ⁵No eye pitied you, to do any of these things to you out of compassion for you; but you were cast out on the open field, for you were abhorred, on the day that you were born.

⁶“And when I passed by you, and saw you weltering in your blood, I said to you in your blood, ‘Live, ⁷and grow up^b like a plant of the field.’ And you grew up and became tall and arrived at full maidenhood; ^cyour breasts were formed, and your hair had grown; yet you were naked and bare.

⁸“When I passed by you again and looked upon you, behold, you were at the age for love; and I spread my skirt over you, and covered your nakedness: yea, I plighted my troth to you and entered into a covenant with you, says the Lord GOD, and you became mine. ⁹Then I bathed you with water and washed off your blood from you, and anointed you with oil. ¹⁰I clothed you also with embroidered cloth and shod you with leather, I swathed you in fine linen and covered you with silk. ¹¹And I decked you with ornaments, and put bracelets on your arms, and a chain on your neck. ¹²And I put a ring on your nose, and earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown upon your head. ¹³Thus you were decked with gold and silver; and your raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and embroidered cloth; you ate fine flour and honey and oil. You grew exceedingly beautiful, and came to regal estate. ¹⁴And your renown went forth among the nations because of your beauty, for it was perfect through the splendor which I had bestowed upon you, says the Lord GOD.

¹⁵“But you trusted in your beauty, and played the harlot because of your renown, and lavished your harlotries on any passer-by. ¹⁶You took some of your garments, and made for yourself gaily decked shrines, and on them played the harlot; the like has never been, nor ever shall be. ¹⁷You also took your fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given you, and made for yourself images of men, and with them played the harlot; ¹⁸and you took your embroidered garments to cover them, and set my oil and my incense before them. ¹⁹Also my bread which I gave you—I fed you with fine flour and oil and honey—you set before them for a pleasing odor, says the Lord GOD.” ²⁰And you took your sons and your daughters, whom you had borne to me, and these you sacrificed to them to be devoured. Were your harlotries so small a matter ²¹that you slaughtered my children and delivered them up as an offering by fire to them? ²²And in all your abominations and your harlotries you did not remember the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, weltering in your blood.

²³“And after all your wickedness (woe, woe to you! says the Lord GOD). ²⁴you built yourself a vaulted chamber, and made yourself a lofty place in every square; ²⁵at the head of every street you built your lofty place and prostituted your beauty, offering yourself to any passer-by, and multiplying your harlotry. ²⁶ You also played the harlot with the Egyptians, your lustful neighbors, multiplying your harlotry, to provoke me to anger. ²⁷ Behold, therefore, I stretched out my hand against you, and diminished your allotted portion, and delivered you to the greed of your enemies, the daughters of the Philistines, who were ashamed of your lewd behavior. ²⁸ You played the harlot also with the Assyrians, because you were insatiable; yea, you played the harlot with them, and still you were not satisfied. ²⁹ You multiplied your harlotry also with the trading land of Chaldea; and even with this you were not satisfied.

³⁰ "How lovesick is your heart, says the Lord God, seeing you did all these things, the deeds of a brazen harlot; ³¹ building your vaulted chamber at the head of every street, and making your lofty place in every square. Yet you were not like a harlot, because you scorned hire. ³² Adulterous wife, who receives strangers instead of her husband! ³³ Men give gifts to all harlots; but you gave your gifts to all your lovers, bribing them to come to you from every side for your harlotries. ³⁴ So you were different from other women in your harlotries: none solicited you to play the harlot; and you gave hire, while no hire was given to you; therefore you were different.

³⁵ "Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD: ³⁶ Thus says the Lord God, Because your shame was laid bare and your nakedness uncovered in your harlotries with your lovers, and because of all your idols, and because of the blood of your children that you gave to them, ³⁷ therefore, behold, I will gather all your lovers, with whom you took pleasure, all those you loved and all those you loathed; I will gather them against you from every side, and will uncover your nakedness to them, that they may see all your nakedness. ³⁸ And I will judge you as women who break wedlock and shed blood are judged, and bring upon you the blood of wrath and jealousy. ³⁹ And I will give you into the hand of your lovers, and they shall throw down your vaulted chamber and break down your lofty places; they shall strip you of your clothes and take your fair jewels, and leave you naked and bare. ⁴⁰ They shall bring up a host against you, and they shall stone you and cut you to pieces with their swords. ⁴¹ And they shall burn your houses and execute judgments upon you in the sight of many women; I will make you stop playing the harlot, and you shall also give hire no more. ⁴² So will I satisfy my fury on you, and my jealousy shall depart from you; I will be calm, and will no more be angry. ⁴³ Because you have not remembered the days of your youth, but have enraged me with all these things; therefore, behold, I will requite your deeds upon your head, says the Lord God.

"Have you not committed lewdness in addition to all your abominations? ⁴⁴ Behold, every one who uses proverbs will use this proverb about you, 'Like mother, like daughter.' ⁴⁵ You are the daughter of your mother, who loathed her husband and her children; and you are the sister of your sisters, who loathed their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amorite. ⁴⁶ And your elder sister is Samar'ia, who lived with her daughters to the north of you; and your younger sister, who lived to the south of you, is Sodom with her daughters. ⁴⁷ Yet you were not content to walk in their ways, or do according to their abominations; within a very little time you were more corrupt than they in all your ways. ⁴⁸ As I live, says the Lord God, your sister Sodom and her daughters have not done as you and your daughters have done. ⁴⁹ Behold, this was the guilt of your sister Sodom: she and her daughters had pride, surfeit of food, and prosperous ease, but did not aid the poor and needy. ⁵⁰ They were haughty, and did abominable things before me; therefore I removed them, when I saw it. ⁵¹ Samar'ia has not committed half your sins; you have committed more abominations than they, and have made your sisters appear righteous by all the abominations which you have committed. ⁵² Bear your disgrace, you also, for you have made judgment favorable to your sisters; because of your sins in which you acted more abominably than they, they are more in the right than you. So be ashamed, you also, and bear your disgrace, for you have made your sisters appear righteous.

53 "I will restore their fortunes, both the fortunes of Sodom and her daughters, and the fortunes of Samar'ia and her daughters, and I will restore your own fortunes in the midst of them, 54 that you may bear your disgrace and be ashamed of all that you have done, becoming a consolation to them. 55 As for your sisters, Sodom and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and Samar'ia and her daughters shall return to their former estate; and you and your daughters shall return to your former estate. 56 Was not your sister Sodom a byword in your mouth in the day of your pride, 57 before your wickedness was uncovered? Now you have become like her' an object of reproach for the daughters of Edom' and all her neighbors, and for the daughters of the Philistines, those round about who despise you. 58 You bear the penalty of your lewdness and your abominations, says the LORD.

59 "Yea, thus says the Lord GOD: I will deal with you as you have done, who have despised the oath in breaking the covenant, 60 yet I will remember my covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish with you an everlasting covenant. 61 Then you will remember your ways, and be ashamed when I⁹ take your sisters, both your elder and your younger, and give them to you as daughters, but not on account of the covenant with you. 62 I will establish my covenant with you, and you shall know that I am the LORD, 63 that you may remember and be confounded, and never open your mouth again because of your shame, when I forgive you all that you have done, says the Lord GOD."

17 The word of the LORD came to me: 2 "Son of man, propound a riddle, and speak an allegory to the house of Israel; 3 say, Thus says the Lord GOD: A great eagle with great wings and long pinions, rich in plumage of many colors, came to Lebanon and took the top of the cedar; 4 he broke off the topmost of its young twigs and carried it to a land of trade, and set it in a city of merchants. 5 Then he took of the seed of the land and planted it in fertile soil; he placed it beside abundant waters. He set it like a willow twig, 6 and it sprouted and became a low spreading vine, and its branches turned toward him, and its roots remained where it stood. So it became a vine, and brought forth branches and put forth foliage.

7 "But there was another great eagle with great wings and much plumage: and behold, this vine bent its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him that he might water it. From the bed where it was planted 8 he transplanted it^h to good soil by abundant waters, that it might bring forth branches, and bear fruit, and become a noble vine. 9 Say, Thus says the Lord GOD: Will it thrive? Will he not pull up its roots and cut off its branches,ⁱ so that all its fresh sprouting leaves wither? It will not take a strong arm or many people to pull it from its roots. 10 Behold, when it is transplanted, will it thrive? Will it not utterly wither when the east wind strikes it—wither away on the bed where it grew?"

11 Then the word of the LORD came to me: 12 "Say now to the rebellious house, Do you not know what these things mean? Tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took her king and her princes and brought them to him to Babylon. 13 And he took one of the seed royal and made a covenant with him, putting him under oath. (The chief men of the land he had taken away, 14 that the kingdom might be humble and not lift itself up, and that by keeping his covenant it might stand.) 15 But he rebelled against him by sending ambassadors to Egypt, that they might give him horses and a large army. Will he succeed? Can a man escape who does such things? Can he break the covenant and yet escape? 16 As I live, says the Lord GOD, surely in the place where the king dwells who made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant with him he broke, in Babylon he shall die. 17 Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company will not help him in war, when mounds are cast up and siege walls built to cut off many lives. 18 Because he despised the oath and broke the covenant, because he gave his hand and yet did all these things, he shall not escape.¹⁹ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: As I live, surely my oath which he despised, and my covenant which he broke, I will requite upon his head.²⁰ I will spread my net over him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon and enter into judgment with him there for the treason he has committed against me.²¹ And all the pick of his troops shall fall by the sword, and the survivors shall be scattered to every wind; and you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken."

22 Thus says the Lord GOD: "I myself will take a sprig from the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it out; I will break off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one, and I myself will plant it upon a high and lofty mountain;²³ on the mountain height of Israel will I plant it, that it may bring forth boughs and bear fruit, and become a noble cedar; and under it will dwell all kinds of beasts;⁴ in the shade of its branches birds of every sort will nest.²⁴ And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD bring low the high tree, and make high the low tree, dry up the green tree, and make the dry tree flourish. I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it."

18 The word of the LORD came to me again:² "What do you mean by repeating this proverb concerning the land of Israel, 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge'?³ As I live, says the Lord GOD, this proverb shall no more be used by you in Israel.⁴ Behold, all souls are mine; the soul of the father as well as the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sins shall die.

5 "If a man is righteous and does what is lawful and right—⁶ if he does not eat upon the mountains or lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, does not defile his neighbor's wife or approach a woman in her time of impurity,⁷ does not oppress any one, but restores to the debtor his pledge, commits no robbery, gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with a garment,⁸ does not lend at interest or take any increase, with-

holds his hand from iniquity, executes true justice between man and man,⁹ walks in my statutes, and is careful to observe my ordinances¹—he is righteous, he shall surely live, says the Lord GOD.

10 "If he begets a son who is a robber, a shedder of blood,¹¹ who does none of these duties, but eats upon the mountains, defiles his neighbor's wife,¹² oppresses the poor and needy, commits robbery, does not restore the pledge, lifts up his eyes to the idols, commits abomination,¹³ lends at interest, and takes increase; shall he then live? He shall not live. He has done all these abominable things; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon himself.

14 "But if this man begets a son who sees all the sins which his father has done, and fears, and does not do likewise,¹⁵ who does not eat upon the mountains or lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, does not defile his neighbor's wife,¹⁶ does not wrong any one, exacts no pledge, commits no robbery, but gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with a garment,¹⁷ withholds his hand from iniquity," takes no interest or increase, observes my ordinances, and walks in my statutes; he shall not die for his father's iniquity; he shall surely live.¹⁸ As for his father, because he practiced extortion, robbed his brother, and did what is not good among his people, behold, he shall die for his iniquity.

19 "Yet you say, 'Why should not the son suffer for the iniquity of the father?' When the son has done what is lawful and right, and has been careful to observe all my statutes, he shall surely live.²⁰ The soul that sins shall die. The son shall not suffer for the iniquity of the father, nor the father suffer for the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself.

21 "But if a wicked man turns away from all his sins which he has committed and keeps all my statutes and does what is lawful and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die.²² None of the transgressions which he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness which he has done he shall live. ²³ Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, says the Lord God, and not rather that he should turn from his way and live? ²⁴ But when a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and commits iniquity and does the same abominable things that the wicked man does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds which he has done shall be remembered; for the treachery of which he is guilty and the sin he has committed, he shall die.

²⁵ "Yet you say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' Hear now, O house of Israel: Is my way not just? Is it not your ways that are not just? ²⁶ When a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and commits iniquity, he shall die for it; for the iniquity which he has committed he shall die. ²⁷ Again, when a wicked man turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is lawful and right, he shall save his life. ²⁸ Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions which he had committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die. ²⁹ Yet the house of Israel says, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' O house of Israel, are my ways not just? Is it not your ways that are not just?"

³⁰ "Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, says the Lord God. Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin." ³¹ Cast away from you all the transgressions which you have committed against me, and get yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? ³² For I have no pleasure in the death of any one, says the Lord God; so turn, and live."

19 And you, take up a lamentation for the princes of Israel, ² and say:

What a lioness was your mother among lions!

She couched in the midst of young lions,
rearing her whelps.

³ And she brought up one of her whelps;

he became a young lion,
and he learned to catch prey;
he devoured men.

⁴ The nations sounded an alarm against
him;

he was taken in their pit;
and they brought him with hooks to the land of Egypt.

⁵ When she saw that she was baffled,^a that her hope was lost, she took another of her whelps and made him a young lion.

⁶ He prowled among the lions;
he became a young lion,
and he learned to catch prey;
he devoured men.

⁷ And he ravaged their strongholds,^b and laid waste their cities; and the land was appalled and all who were in it
at the sound of his roaring.

⁸ Then the nations set against him snares^c on every side;
they spread their net over him;
he was taken in their pit.

⁹ With hooks they put him in a cage, and brought him to the king of Babylon;
they brought him into custody, that his voice should no more be heard
upon the mountains of Israel.

it towered aloft

cast down to the ground;
the east wind dried it up;
its fruit was stripped off, its strong stem was withered;
the fire consumed it.

20 In the seventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month, certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and sat before me. ²And the word of the LORD came to me: ³"Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and say to them, Thus says the Lord God, Is it to inquire of me that you come? As I live, says the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you. ⁴Will you judge them, son of man, will you judge them? Then let them know the abominations of their fathers, ⁵and say to them, Thus says the Lord God: On the day when I chose Israel, I swore to the seed of the house of Jacob, making myself known to them in the land of Egypt, I swore to them, saying, I am the LORD your God. ⁶On that day I swore to them that I would bring them out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had searched out for them, a land flowing with milk and honey, the most glorious of all lands. ⁷And I said to them, Cast away the detestable things your eyes feast on, every one of you, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God. ⁸But they rebelled against me and would not listen to me; they did not every man cast away the detestable things their eyes feasted on, nor did they forsake the idols of Egypt.

"Then I thought I would pour out my wrath upon them and spend my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt. ⁹But I acted for the sake of my name, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations among whom they dwelt, in whose sight I made myself known to them in bringing them out of the land of Egypt. ¹⁰So I led them out of the land of Egypt and brought them into the wilderness. ¹¹I gave them my statutes and showed them my ordinances, by whose observance man shall live. ¹²Moreover I gave them my sabbaths, as a sign between me and them, that they might know that I the LORD sanctify them. ¹³But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness; they did not walk in my statutes but rejected my ordinances, by whose observance man shall live; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned.

"Then I thought I would pour out my wrath upon them in the wilderness, to make a full end of them. ¹⁴But I acted for the sake of my name, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I had brought them out. ¹⁵Moreover I swore to them in the wilderness that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, a land flowing with milk and honey, the most glorious of all lands, ¹⁶because they rejected my ordinances and did not walk in my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths; for their heart went after their idols. ¹⁷Nevertheless my eye spared them, and I did not destroy them or make a full end of them in the wilderness.

¹⁸"And I said to their children in the wilderness, Do not walk in the statutes of your fathers, nor observe their ordinances, nor defile yourselves with their idols. ¹⁹I the LORD am your God; walk in my statutes, and be careful to observe my ordinances, ²⁰and hallow my sabbaths that they may be a sign between me and you, that you may know that I the LORD am your God. ²¹But the children rebelled against me; they did not walk in my statutes, and were not careful to observe my ordinances, by whose observance man shall live; they profaned my sabbaths.

"Then I thought I would pour out my wrath upon them and spend my anger against them in the wilderness. ²²But I withheld my hand, and acted for the sake of my name, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I had brought them out. ²³Moreover I swore to them in the wilderness that I would scatter them among the nations and disperse them through the countries, ²⁴because they had not executed my ordinances, but had rejected my statutes and profaned my sabbaths, and their eyes were set on their fathers' idols. ²⁵Moreover I gave them statutes that were not good and ordinances by which they could not have life; ²⁶and I defiled them through their very gifts in making them offer by fire all their first-born, that I might horrify them; I did it that they might know that I am the LORD.

²⁷"Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel and say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: In this again your fathers blasphemed me, by dealing treacherously with me. ²⁸ For when I had brought them into the land which I swore to give them, then wherever they saw any high hill or any leafy tree, there they offered their sacrifices and presented the provocation of their offering; there they sent up their soothing odors, and there they poured out their drink offerings. ²⁹ (I said to them, What is the high place to which you go? So its name is called Bamah¹ to this day.) ³⁰ Wherefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: Will you defile yourselves after the manner of your fathers and go astray after their detestable things? ³¹ When you offer your gifts and sacrifice your sons by fire, you defile yourselves with all your idols to this day. And shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, says the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you.

³³ "As I live, says the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, and with wrath poured out, I will be king over you. ³⁴ I will bring you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries where you are scattered, with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, and with wrath poured out; ³⁵ and I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there I will enter into judgment with you face to face. ³⁶ As I entered into judgment with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so I will enter into judgment with you, says the Lord GOD. ³⁷ I will make you pass under the rod, and I will let you go in by number." ³⁸ I will purge out the rebels from among you, and those who transgress against me; I will bring them out of the land where they sojourn, but they shall not enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

³⁹ "As for you, O house of Israel, thus says the Lord GOD: Go serve every one of you his idols, now and hereafter, if you will not listen to me; but my holy name you shall no more profane with your gifts and your idols.

⁴⁰ "For on my holy mountain, the mountain height of Israel, says the Lord GOD, there all the house of Israel, all of them, shall serve me in the land; there I will accept them, and there I will require your contributions and the choicest of your gifts, with all your sacred offerings. ⁴¹ As a pleasing odor I will accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries where you have been scattered; and I will manifest my holiness among you in the sight of the nations. ⁴² And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I bring you into the land of Israel, the country which I swore to give to your fathers. ⁴³ And there you shall remember your ways and all the doings with which you have polluted yourselves; and you shall loathe yourselves for all the evils that you have committed. ⁴⁴ And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I deal with you for my name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel, says the Lord GOD."

⁴⁵ And the word of the LORD came to me: ⁴⁶ "Son of man, set your face toward the south, preach against the south, and prophesy against the forest land in the Negeb; ⁴⁷ say to the forest of the Negeb, Hear the word of the LORD: Thus says the Lord GOD, Behold, I will kindle a fire in you, and it shall devour every green tree in you and every dry tree; the blazing flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from south to north shall be scorched by it. ⁴⁸ All flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it; it shall not be quenched." ⁴⁹ Then I said, "Ah Lord GOD! they are saying of me, 'Is he not a maker of allegories?'"

21 "The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, set your face toward Jerusalem and preach against the sanctuaries; prophesy against the land of Israel ³ and say to the land of Israel, Thus says the LORD: Behold, I am against you, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from you both righteous and wicked. ⁴ Because I will cut off from you both righteous and wicked, therefore my sword shall go out of its sheath against all flesh from south to north; ⁵ and all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn my sword out of its sheath; it shall not be sheathed again. ⁶ Sigh therefore, son of man; sigh with breaking heart and bitter grief before their eyes. ⁷ And when they say to you, 'Why do you sigh?' you shall say, 'Because of the tidings. When it comes, every heart will melt and all hands will be feeble, every spirit will faint and all knees will be weak as water. Behold, it comes and it will be fulfilled,' says the Lord God.

8 And the word of the LORD came to me: ⁹ "Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord, Say:

A sword, a sword is sharpened and also polished,

¹⁰ sharpened for slaughter, polished to flash like lightning! Or do we make mirth? You have despised the rod, my son, with everything of wood. ¹¹ So the sword is given to be polished, that it may be handled; it is sharpened and polished to be given into the hand of the slayer. ¹² Cry and wail, son of man, for it is against my people; it is against all the princes of Israel; they are delivered over to the sword with my people. Smite therefore upon your thigh. ¹³ For it will not be a testing—what could it do if you despise the rod?" says the Lord God.

14 "Prophesy therefore, son of man; clap your hands and let the sword come down twice, yea thrice, the sword for those to be slain; it is the sword for the great slaughter, which encompasses them, ¹⁵ that their hearts may melt, and many fall at all their gates. I have given the glittering sword; ah! it is made like lightning, it is polished^r for slaughter. ¹⁶ Cut sharply to right^u and left where your edge is directed. ¹⁷ I also will clap my hands, and I will satisfy my fury; I the LORD have spoken."

18 The word of the LORD came to me again: ¹⁹ "Son of man, mark two ways for the sword of the king of Babylon to come; both of them shall come forth from the same land. And make a signpost, make it at the head of the way to a city; ²⁰ mark a way for the sword to come to Rabbah of the Ammonites and to Judah and to ² Jerusalem the fortified. ²¹ For the king of Babylon stands at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination; he shakes the arrows, he consults the teraphim, he looks at the liver. ²² Into his right hand comes the lot for Jerusalem,^a to open the mouth with a cry,^b to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to cast up mounds, to build siege towers. ²³ But to them it will seem like a false divination; they have sworn solemn oaths; but he brings their guilt to remembrance, that they may be captured.

24 "Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you have made your guilt to be remembered, in that your transgressions are uncovered, so that in all your doings your sins appear—because you have come to remembrance, you shall be taken in them.^c ²⁵ And you, O unhallowed wicked one, prince of Israel, whose day has come, the time of your final punishment, ²⁶ thus says the Lord God: Remove the turban, and take off the crown; things shall not remain as they are; exalt that which is low, and abase that which is high. ²⁷ A ruin, ruin, ruin I will make it; there shall not be even a trace^d of it until he comes whose right it is; and to him I will give it.

28 "And you, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus says the Lord God concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach; say, A sword, a sword is drawn for the slaughter, it is polished to glitter^e and to flash like lightning—²⁹ while they see for you false visions, while they divine lies for you—to be laid on the necks of the unhallowed wicked, whose day has come, the time of their final punishment. ³⁰ Return it to its sheath. In the place where you were created, in the land of your origin, I will judge you. ³¹ And I will pour out my indignation upon you; I will blow upon you with the fire of my wrath; and I will deliver you into the hands of brutal men, skilful to destroy. ³² You shall be fuel for the fire; your blood shall be in the midst of the land; you shall be no 22 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ² "And you, son of man, will you judge, will you judge the bloody city? Then declare to her all her abominable deeds. ³ You shall say, Thus says the Lord GOD: A city that sheds blood in the midst of her, that her time may come, and that makes idols to defile herself! ⁴ You have become guilty by the blood which you have shed, and defiled by the idols which you have made; and you have brought your day near, the appointed time⁵ of your years has come. Therefore I have made you a reproach to the nations, and a mocking to all the countries. ⁵ Those who are near and those who are far from you will mock you, you infamous one, full of tumult.

⁶ "Behold, the princes of Israel in you, every one according to his power, have been bent on shedding blood. ⁷ Father and mother are treated with contempt in you; the sojourner suffers extortion in your midst; the fatherless and the widow are wronged in you. ⁸ You have despised my holy things, and profaned my sabbaths. ⁹ There are men in you who slander to shed blood, and men in you who eat upon the mountains; men commit lewdness in your midst. ¹⁰ In you men uncover their fathers' nakedness; in you they humble women who are unclean in their impurity. ¹¹ One commits abomination with his neighbor's wife; another lewdly defiles his daughter-in-law; another in you defiles his sister, his father's daughter. ¹² In you men take bribes to shed blood; you take interest and increase and make gain of your neighbors by extortion; and you have forgotten me, says the Lord GOD.

¹³ "Behold, therefore, I strike my hands together at the dishonest gain which you have made, and at the blood which has been in the midst of you. ¹⁴ Can your courage endure, or can your hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with you? I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it. ¹⁵ I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you through the countries, and I will consume your filthiness out of you. ¹⁶ And I⁹ shall be profaned through you in the sight of the nations; and you shall know that I am the LORD."

¹⁷ And the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁸ "Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to me; all of them, silver¹⁰ and bronze and tin and iron and lead in the furnace, have become dross. ¹⁹ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because you have all become dross, therefore, behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. ²⁰ As men gather silver and bronze and iron and lead and tin into a furnace, to blow the fire upon it in order to melt it; so I will gather you in my anger and in my wrath, and I will put you in and melt you. ²¹ I will gather you and blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and you shall be melted in the midst of it. ²² As silver is melted in a furnace, so you shall be melted in the midst of it; and you shall know that I the LORD have poured out my wrath upon you."

²³ And the word of the LORD came to me: ²⁴ "Son of man, say to her, You are a land that is not cleansed, or rained upon in the day of indignation. ²⁵ Her princes¹ in the midst of her are like a roaring lion tearing the prey; they have devoured human lives; they have taken treasure and precious things; they have made many widows in the midst of her. ²⁶ Her priests have done violence to my law and have profaned my holy things; they have made no distinction between the holy and the common, neither have they taught the difference between the unclean and the clean, and they have disregarded my sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them. ²⁷ Her princes in the midst of her are like wolves tearing the prey, shedding blood, destroying lives to get dishonest gain. ²⁸ And her prophets have daubed for them with whitewash, seeing false visions and divining lies for them, saying, 'Thus says the Lord GOD,' when the LORD has not spoken. ²⁹ The people of the land have practiced extortion and committed robbery; they have oppressed the poor and needy, and have extorted from the sojourner without redress. ³⁰ And I sought for a man among them who should build up the wall and stand in the breach before me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none. ³¹ Therefore I have poured out my indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath; their way have I requited upon their heads, says the Lord God."

23 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother; ³ they played the harlot in Egypt; they played the harlot in their youth; there their breasts were pressed and their virgin bosoms handled. ⁴ Oho'lah was the name of the elder and Ohol'ibah the name of her sister. They became mine, and they bore sons and daughters. As for their names, Oho'lah is Samar'ia, and Ohol'ibah is Jerusalem.

¹¹ "Her sister Ohol'ibah saw this, yet she was more corrupt than she in her, doting and in her harlotry, which was worse than that of her sister. ¹² She doted upon the Assyrians, governors and commanders, warriors clothed in full armor, horsemen riding on horses, all of them desirable young men. ¹³ And I saw that she was defiled; they both took the same way. ¹⁴ But she carried her harlotry further; she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chalde'ans portrayed in vermilion, ¹⁵ girded with belts on their loins, with flowing turbans on their heads, all of them looking like officers, a picture of Babylonians whose native land was Chalde'a. ¹⁶ When she saw them she doted upon them, and sent messengers to them in Chalde'a. ¹⁷ And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their lust; and after she was polluted by them, she turned from them in disgust. ¹⁸ When she carried on her harlotry so openly and flaunted her nakedness, I turned in disgust from her, as I had turned from her sister. ¹⁹ Yet she increased her harlotry, remembering the days of her youth, when she played the harlot in the land of Egypt ²⁰ and doted upon her paramours there, whose members were like those of asses, and whose issue was like that of horses. ²¹ Thus you longed for the lewdness of your youth, when the Egyptians^s handled your bosom and pressed^k your young breasts."

²² Therefore, O Ohol'ibah, thus says the Lord God: "Behold, I will rouse against you your lovers from whom you turned in disgust, and I will bring them against you from every side: ²³ the Babylonians and all the Chalde'ans, Pekod and Sho'a and Ko'a, and all the Assyrians with them, desirable young men, governors and commanders all of them, officers and warriors,^l all of them riding on horses. ²⁴ And they shall come against you from the north^m with chariots and wagons and a host of peoples; they shall set themselves against you on every side with buckler, shield, and helmet, and I will commit the judgment to them, and they shall judge you according to their judgments. ²⁵ And I will direct my indignation against you, that they may deal with you in fury. They shall cut off your nose and your ears, and your survivors shall fall by the sword. They shall seize your sons and your daughters, and your survivors shall be devoured by fire. ²⁶ They shall also strip you of your clothes and take away your fine jewels. ²⁷ Thus I will put an end to your lewdness and your harlotry brought from the land of Egypt; so that you shall not lift up your eyes to the Egyptians or remember them any more. ²⁸ For thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will deliver you into the hands of those whom you hate, into the hands of those from whom you turned in disgust; ²⁹ and they shall deal with you in hatred, and take away all the fruit of your labor, and leave you naked and bare, and the nakedness of your harlotry shall be uncovered. Your lewdness and your harlotry³⁰ have brought this upon you, because you played the harlot with the nations, and polluted yourself with their idols.³¹ You have gone the way of your sister; therefore I will give her cup into your hand.³² Thus says the Lord GOD:

"You shall drink your sister's cup which is deep and large;

Then declare to them their abominable deeds.³⁷ For they have committed adultery, and blood is upon their hands; with their idols they have committed adultery; and they have even offered up to them for food the sons whom they had borne to me.³⁸ Moreover this they have done to me: they have defiled my sanctuary on the same day and profaned my sabbaths.³⁹ For when they had slaughtered their children in sacrifice to their idols, on the same day they came into my sanctuary to profane it. And lo, this is what they did in my house.⁴⁰ They even sent for men to come from far, to whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came. For them you bathed yourself, painted your eyes, and decked yourself with ornaments;⁴¹ you sat upon a stately couch, with a table spread before it on which you had placed my incense and my oil.⁴² The sound of a carefree multitude was with her; and with men of the common sort drunkards" were brought from the wilderness; and they put bracelets upon the hands of the women, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

⁴³ "Then I said, Do not men now commit adultery" when they practice harlotry with her?⁴⁴ For they have gone in to her, as men go in to a harlot. Thus they went in to Oho'lah and to Ohol'ibah to commit lewdness.⁴⁵ But righteous men shall pass judgment on them with the sentence of adulteresses, and with the sentence of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is upon their hands."

⁴⁶ For thus says the Lord GOD: "Bring up a host against them, and make them an object of terror and a spoil.⁴⁷ And the host shall stone them and dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses.⁴⁸ Thus will I put an end to lewdness in the land, that all women may take warning and not commit lewdness as you have done.⁴⁹ And your lewdness shall be required upon you, and you shall bear the penalty for your sinful idolatry; and you shall know that I am the Lord GOD."

24 In the ninth year, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:² "Son of man, write down the name of this day, this very day. The king of Babylon has laid siege to Jerusalem this very day.³ And utter an allegory to the rebellious house and say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD:

Set on the pot, set it on,

pour in water also;

⁴ put in it the pieces of flesh,

all the good pieces, the thigh and the shoulder;

fill it with choice bones.

⁵ Take the choicest one of the flock, pile the logs¹ under it; boil its pieces,⁶

seethe¹ also its bones in it.

⁶ "Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose rust is in it, and whose rust has not gone out of it! Take out of it piece after piece, without making any choice."⁷ For the blood she has shed is still in the midst of her; she put it on the bare rock, she did not pour it upon the ground to cover it with dust. ⁸ To rouse my wrath, to take vengeance, I have set on the bare rock the blood she has shed, that it may not be covered. ⁹ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Woe to the bloody city! I also will make the pile great. ¹⁰ Heap on the logs, kindle the fire, boil well the flesh, and empty out the broth,^v and let the bones be burned up. ¹¹ Then set it empty upon the coals, that it may become hot, and its copper may burn, that its filthiness may be melted in it, its rust consumed. ¹² In vain I have wearied myself;^w its thick rust does not go out of it by fire. ¹³ Its rust is your filthy lewdness. Because I would have cleansed you and you were not cleansed from your filthiness, you shall not be cleansed any more till I have satisfied my fury upon you. ¹⁴ I the LORD have spoken; it shall come to pass, I will do it; I will not go back, I will not spare, I will not repent; according to your ways and your doings I will judge you, says the Lord GOD.^x

¹⁵ Also the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁶ "Son of man, behold, I am about to take the delight of your eyes away from you at a stroke; yet you shall not mourn or weep nor shall your tears run down. ¹⁷ Sigh, but not aloud; make no mourning for the dead. Bind on your turban, and put your shoes on your feet; do not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of mourners."^y ¹⁸ So I spoke to the people in the morning, and at evening my wife died. And on the next morning I did as I was commanded.

¹⁹ And the people said to me, "Will you not tell us what these things mean for us, that you are acting thus?" ²⁰ Then I said to them, "The word of the LORD came to me: ²¹ 'Say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the delight of your eyes, and the desire of your soul; and your sons and your daughters whom you left behind shall fall by the sword. ²² And you shall do as I have done; you shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of mourners.'^z ²³ Your turbans shall be on your heads and your shoes on your feet; you shall not mourn or weep, but you shall pine away in your iniquities and groan to one another. ²⁴ Thus shall Ezekiel be to you a sign; according to all that he has done you shall do. When this comes, then you will know that I am the Lord GOD.'

²⁵ "And you, son of man, on the day when I take from them their stronghold, their joy and glory, the delight of their eyes and their heart's desire, and also their sons and daughters, ²⁶ on that day a fugitive will come to you to report to you the news. ²⁷ On that day your mouth will be opened to the fugitive, and you shall speak and be no longer dumb. So you will be a sign to them; and they will know that I am the LORD."

25 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, set your face toward the Ammonites, and prophesy against them. ³ Say to the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus says the Lord GOD, Because you said, 'Aha!' over my sanctuary when it was profaned, and over the land of Israel when it was made desolate, and over the house of Judah when it went into exile; ⁴ therefore I am handing you over to the people of the East for a possession, and they shall set their encampments among you and make their dwellings in your midst; they shall eat your fruit, and they shall drink your milk. ⁵ I will make Rabbah a pasture for camels and the cities of the Ammonites^a a fold for flocks. Then you will know that I am the LORD. ⁶ For thus says the Lord GOD: Because you have clapped your hands and stamped your feet and rejoiced with all the malice within you against the land of Israel, ⁷ therefore, behold, I have stretched out my hand against you, and will hand you over as spoil to the nations; and I will cut you off from the peoples and will make you perish out of the countries; I will destroy you. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

⁸ "Thus says the Lord GOD: Because Moab^b said, Behold, the house of Judah is like all the other nations, ⁹ therefore I will lay open the flank of Moab from the cities^c on its frontier, the glory of the country, Beth-jesh'imoth, Ba'al-me'on, 12 "Thus says the Lord GOD: Because Edom acted revengefully against the house of Judah and has grievously offended in taking vengeance upon them,¹³ therefore thus says the Lord GOD, I will stretch out my hand against Edom, and cut off from it man and beast; and I will make it desolate; from Teman even to Dedan they shall fall by the sword.¹⁴ And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to my anger and according to my wrath; and they shall know my vengeance, says the Lord GOD.

15 "Thus says the Lord GOD: Because the Philistines acted revengefully and took vengeance with malice of heart to destroy in never-ending enmity;¹⁶ therefore thus says the Lord GOD, Behold, I will stretch out my hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cher'ethites, and destroy the rest of the seacoast.¹⁷ I will execute great vengeance upon them with wrathful chastisements. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I lay my vengeance upon them."

26 In the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:² "Son of man, because Tyre said concerning Jerusalem, 'Aha, the gate of the peoples is broken, it has swung open to me; I shall be replenished, now that she is laid waste,'³ therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against you, O Tyre, and will bring up many nations against you, as the sea brings up its waves.⁴ They shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers; and I will scrape her soil from her, and make her a bare rock.⁵ She shall be in the midst of the sea a place for the spreading of nets; for I have spoken, says the Lord GOD; and she shall become a spoil to the nations;⁶ and her daughters on the mainland shall be slain by the sword. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

7 "For thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will bring upon Tyre from the north Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, king of kings, with horses and chariots, and with horsemen and a host of many soldiers.⁸ He will slay with the sword your daughters on the mainland; he will set up a siege wall against you, and throw up a mound against you, and raise a roof of shields against you.⁹ He will direct the shock of his battering rams against your walls, and with his axes he will break down your towers.¹⁰ His horses will be so many that their dust will cover you; your walls will shake at the noise of the horsemen and wagons and chariots, when he enters your gates as one enters a city which has been breached.¹¹ With the hoofs of his horses he will trample all your streets; he will slay your people with the sword; and your mighty pillars will fall to the ground.¹² They will make a spoil of your riches and a prey of your merchandise; they will break down your walls and destroy your pleasant houses; your stones and timber and soil they will cast into the midst of the waters.¹³ And I will stop the music of your songs, and the sound of your lyres shall be heard no more.¹⁴ I will make you a bare rock; you shall be a place for the spreading of nets; you shall never be rebuilt; for I the LORD have spoken, says the Lord GOD.

15 "Thus says the Lord GOD to Tyre: Will not the coastlands shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan, when slaughter is made in the midst of you?¹⁶ Then all the princes of the sea will step down from their thrones, and remove their robes, and strip off their embroidered garments; they will clothe themselves with trembling; they will sit upon the ground and tremble every moment, and be appalled at you.¹⁷ And they will raise a lamentation over you, and say to you, ¹⁹ "For thus says the Lord God.

When I make you a city laid waste, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I bring up the deep over you, and the great waters cover you, ²⁰ then I will thrust you down with those who descend into the Pit, to the people of old, and I will make you to dwell in the place^f in the land of the living. ²¹ I will bring you to a dreadful end, and you shall be no more; though you be sought for, you will never be found again, says

the Lord God."

27 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Now you, son of man, raise a lamentation over Tyre, ³ and say to Tyre, who dwells at the entrance to the sea, merchant of the peoples on many coastlands, thus says the Lord
God:

"O Tyre, you have said,
'I am perfect in beauty.'

⁴ Your borders are in the heart of the seas;
your builders made perfect your
beauty.

⁵ They made all your planks of fir trees from Senir;
they took a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for you.

⁶ Of oaks of Bashan
they made your oars;
they made your deck of pines
from the coasts of Cyprus, inlaid with ivory.

⁷ Of fine embroidered linen from Egypt
was your sail,
serving as your ensign;
blue and purple from the coasts of Eli'shah
was your awning.

⁸ The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were your rowers;

skilled men of Zemer^g were in you,
they were your pilots.

⁹ The elders of Gebal and her skilled men were in you,
caulking your seams;
all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in you,
to barter for your wares.

¹⁰ "Persia and Lud and Put were in your army as your men of war; they hung the shield and helmet in you; they gave you splendor. ¹¹ The men of Arvad and Helech^h were upon your walls round about, and men of Ga-mad were in your towers; they hung their shields upon your walls round about; they made perfect your beauty.

¹² "Tarshish trafficked with you because of your great wealth of every kind; silver, iron, tin, and lead they exchanged for your wares. ¹³ Javan, Tubal, and Meshech traded with you;
they exchanged the persons of men and vessels of bronze for your merchandise.

¹⁴ Beth-togar'mah exchanged for your wares horses, war horses, and mules.

¹⁵ The men of Rhodesⁱ traded with you; many coastlands were your own special markets, they brought you in payment ivory tusks and ebony.

¹⁶ Edom^j trafficked with you because of your abundant goods; they exchanged for your wares emeralds, purple, embroidered work, fine linen, coral, and agate. ¹⁷ Judah and the land of Israel traded with you; they exchanged for your merchandise wheat, olives and early figs,^k honey, oil, and balm.

¹⁸ Damascus trafficked with you for your abundant goods, because of your great wealth of every kind; wine of Helbon, and white wool, ¹⁹ and wine^l from Uzal they exchanged for your wares; wrought iron, cassia, and calamus were bartered for your merchandise. ²⁰ Dedan traded with you in saddlecloths for riding. ²¹ Arabia and all the princes of Kedar were your favored dealers in lambs, rams, and goats; in these they trafficked with you.

²² The traders of Sheba and Ra'amah traded with you; they exchanged for your wares the best of all kinds of spices, and all precious stones, and gold.

"So you were filled and heavily laden in the heart of the seas.

²⁶ Your rowers have brought you out into the high seas.

The east wind has wrecked you in the heart of the seas.

²⁷ Your riches, your wares, your merchandise, your mariners and your pilots, your caulkers, your dealers in merchandise, and all your men of war who are in you, with all your company that is in your midst, sink into the heart of the seas on the day of your ruin.

²⁸ At the sound of the cry of your pilots the countryside shakes, ²⁹ and down from their ships come all that handle the oar.

The mariners and all the pilots of the sea stand on the shore

³⁰ and wail aloud over you, and cry bitterly.

They cast dust on their heads and wallow in ashes;

³¹ they make themselves bald for you, and gird themselves with sackcloth, and they weep over you in bitterness of soul, with bitter mourning.

³² In their wailing they raise a lamentation for you, and lament over you:

"Who was ever destroyed" like Tyre in the midst of the sea?

³³ When your wares came from the seas, you satisfied many peoples; with your abundant wealth and merchandise you enriched the kings of the earth.

³⁴ Now you are wrecked by the seas, in the depths of the waters;

your merchandise and all your crew have sunk with you.

³⁵ All the inhabitants of the coastlands are appalled at you;

and their kings are horribly afraid, their faces are convulsed.

³⁶ The merchants among the peoples hiss at you;

you have come to a dreadful end and shall be no more for ever."

28 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, say to the prince of Tyre, Thus says the Lord GOD:

"Because your heart is proud, and you have said, 'I am a god, I sit in the seat of the gods, in the heart of the seas,' yet you are but a man, and no god, though you consider yourself as wise as a god—

³ you are indeed wiser than Daniel; no secret is hidden from you;

⁴ by your wisdom and your understanding you have gotten wealth for yourself, and have gathered gold and silver into your treasuries;

⁵ by your great wisdom in trade you have increased your wealth, and your heart has become proud in your wealth—

⁶ therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

"Because you consider yourself as wise as a god,

⁷ therefore, behold, I will bring strangers upon you, the most terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom and defile your splendor.

⁸ They shall thrust you down into the Pit, and you shall die the death of the slain

in the heart of the seas.

¹¹ Moreover the word of the LORD came to me: ¹² “Son of man, raise a lamentation over the king of Tyre, and say to him, Thus says the Lord GOD: “You were the signet of perfection,^h full of wisdom
and perfect in beauty.

¹³ You were in Eden, the garden of
God;
every precious stone was your

and wrought in gold were your

and your engravings.^r
On the day that you were created they were prepared.

¹⁴ With an anointed guardian cherub
I placed you;^s
you were on the holy mountain of
God;
in the midst of the stones of fire you walked.

¹⁵ You were blameless in your ways from the day you were created, till iniquity was found in you.

¹⁶ In the abundance of your trade you were filled with violence, and you sinned;
so I cast you as a profane thing from the mountain of God, and the guardian cherub drove you
out
from the midst of the stones of
fire.

¹⁷ Your heart was proud because of your beauty;
you corrupted your wisdom for the sake of your splendor.

I cast you to the ground;
I exposed you before kings,
to feast their eyes on you.

¹⁸ By the multitude of your iniquities,
in the unrighteousness of your trade
you profaned your sanctuaries;
so I brought forth fire from the midst of you;
it consumed you,

and I turned you to ashes upon the earth

in the sight of all who saw you.

¹⁹ All who know you among the peoples are appalled at you;
you have come to a dreadful end and shall be no more for ever.”

²⁰ The word of the LORD came to me: ²¹ “Son of man, set your face toward Sidon, and prophesy against her ²² and say, Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, I am against you, O Sidon, and I will manifest my glory in the midst of you.

And they shall know that I am the
LORD

when I execute judgments in her,
and manifest my holiness in her;

²³ for I will send pestilence into her,
and blood into her streets;
and the slain shall fall in the midst of her,

by the sword that is against her on
every side.

Then they will know that I am the
LORD.

²⁴ “And for the house of Israel there shall be no more a brier to prick or a thorn to hurt them among all their neighbors who have treated them with contempt. Then they will know that I am the Lord GOD.

²⁵ “Thus says the Lord GOD: When I gather the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and manifest my holiness in them in the sight of the nations, then they shall dwell in their own land which I gave to my servant Jacob. ²⁶ And they shall dwell securely in it, and they shall build houses and plant vineyards. They shall dwell securely, when I execute judgments upon all their neighbors who have treated them with contempt. Then they will know that I am the LORD their God.”

29 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: ² “Son of man, set your face

5 And I will cast you forth into the wilderness, you and all the fish of your streams; you shall fall upon the open field, and not be gathered and buried. To the beasts of the earth and to the birds of the air

I have given you as food.

6 "Then all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD. Because you" have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel; ⁷ when they grasped you with the hand, you broke, and tore all their shoulders; and when they leaned upon you, you broke, and made all their loins to shake;" ⁸ therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will bring a sword upon you, and will cut off from you man and beast; ⁹ and the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

"Because you" said, 'The Nile is mine, and I made it,' ¹⁰ therefore, behold, I am against you, and against your streams, and I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, from Migdol to Syene, as far as the border of Ethiopia. ¹¹ No foot of man shall pass through it, and no foot of beast shall pass through it; it shall be uninhabited forty years. ¹² And I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of desolated countries; and her cities shall be a desolation forty years among cities that are laid waste. I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries.

13 "For thus says the Lord God: At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the peoples among whom they were scattered; ¹⁴ and I will restore the fortunes of Egypt, and bring them back to the land of Pathros, the land of their origin; and there they shall be a lowly kingdom. ¹⁵ It shall be the most lowly of the kingdoms, and never again exalt itself above the nations; and I will make them so small that they will never again rule over the nations. ¹⁶ And it shall never again be the reliance of the house of Israel, recalling their iniquity, when they turn to them for aid. Then they will know that I am the Lord God."

17 In the twenty-seventh year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁸ "Son of man, Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon made his army labor hard against Tyre; every head was made bald and every shoulder was rubbed bare; yet neither he nor his army got anything from Tyre to pay for the labor that he had performed against it. ¹⁹ Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadrez'zar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off its wealth' and despoil it and plunder it; and it shall be the wages for his army. ²⁰ I have given him the land of Egypt as his recompense for which he labored, because they worked for me, says the Lord God.

21 "On that day I will cause a horn to spring forth to the house of Israel, and I will open your lips among them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

30 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus says the Lord God:

"Wail, 'Alas for the day!'

³ For the day is near, the day of the LORD is near; it will be a day of clouds, a time of doom for the nations.

- ¹⁹ Thus I will execute acts of judgment upon Egypt.
Then they will know that I am the LORD."
- ²⁰ In the eleventh year, in the first month, on the seventh day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: ²¹ "Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, it has not been bound up, to heal it by binding it with a bandage, so that it may become strong to wield the sword. ²² Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, both the strong arm and the one that was broken; and I will make the sword fall from his hand. ²³ I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them throughout the lands. ²⁴ And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand; but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he will groan before him like a man mortally wounded. ²⁵ I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh shall fall; and they shall know that I am the LORD. When I put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, he shall stretch it out against the land of Egypt; ²⁶ and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries. Then they will know that I am the LORD."
- 31 In the eleventh year, in the third month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his multitude:
"Whom are you like in your greatness?

with fair branches and forest shade,
and of great height,

4 The waters nourished it,
the deep made it grow tall, making its rivers flow^f round the place of its planting, sending forth its streams to all the trees of the forest.

5 So it towered high above all the trees of the forest; its boughs grew large
and its branches long,
from abundant water in its shoots.

6 All the birds of the air made their nests in its boughs; under its branches all the beasts of the field
brought forth their young;
and under its shadow
dwelt all great nations.

7 It was beautiful in its greatness, in the length of its branches;
for its roots went down to abundant waters.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not rival it,
nor the fir trees equal its boughs;
the plane trees were as nothing compared with its branches; no tree in the garden of God was like it in beauty.

9 I made it beautiful
in the mass of its branches, and all the trees of Eden envied it,
that were in the garden of God.

10 "Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because it^g towered high and set its top among the clouds,^h and its heart was proud of its height,ⁱ I will give it into the hand of a mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with it as its wickedness deserves. I have cast it out.^j Foreigners, the most terrible of the nations, will cut it down and leave it. On the mountains and in all the valleys its branches will fall, and its boughs will lie broken in all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth will go from its shadow and leave it.^k Upon its ruin will dwell all the birds of the air, and upon its branches will be all the beasts of the field.^l All this is in order that no trees by the waters may grow to lofty height or set their tops among the clouds,^m and that no trees that drink water may reach up to them in height; for they are all given over to death, to the nether world among mortal men, with those who go down to the Pit.

15 "Thus says the Lord GOD: When it goes down to Sheol I will make the deep mourn forⁿ it, and restrain its rivers, and many waters shall be stopped; I will clothe Lebanon in gloom for it, and all the trees of the field shall faint because of it.^o I will make the nations quake at the sound of its fall, when I cast it down to Sheol with those who go down to the Pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, will be comforted in the nether world.^p 17 They also shall go down to Sheol with it, to those who are slain by the sword; yea, those who dwell under its shadow among the nations shall perish.^q 18 Whom are you thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden?
You shall be brought down with the trees of Eden to the nether world; you shall lie among the uncircumcised, with those who are slain by the sword.

and fill the valleys with your carcass.⁷

⁶ I will drench the land even to the mountains with your flowing blood; and the watercourses will be full of you.

⁸ All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over you, and put darkness upon your land, says the Lord GOD.

⁹ "I will trouble the hearts of many peoples, when I carry you captive" among the nations, into the countries which you have not known. ¹⁰ I will make many peoples appalled at you, and their kings shall shudder because of you, when I brandish my sword before them; they shall tremble every moment, every one for his own life, on the day of your downfall. ¹¹ For thus says the Lord GOD: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon you. ¹² I will cause your multitude to fall by the swords of mighty ones, all of them most terrible among the nations.

"They shall bring to nought the pride of Egypt, and all its multitude shall perish.

¹³ I will destroy all its beasts from beside many waters; and no foot of man shall trouble them any more, nor shall the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

¹⁴ Then I will make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, says the Lord GOD.

¹⁵ When I make the land of Egypt desolate and when the land is stripped of all that fills it, when I smite all who dwell in it, then they will know that I am the LORD.

¹⁶ This is a lamentation which shall be chanted; the daughters of the nations shall chant it; over Egypt, and over all her multitude, shall they chant it, says the Lord GOD."

¹⁷ In the twelfth year, in the first month," on the fifteenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁸ "Son of man, wail over the multitude of Egypt, and send them down, her and the daughters of majestic nations, to the nether world, to those who have gone down to the Pit:

¹⁹ "Whom do you surpass in beauty? Go down, and be laid with the uncircumcised."

²⁴ "Elam is there, and all her multitude about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who went down uncircumcised into the nether world, who spread terror in the land of the living, and they bear their shame with those who go down to the Pit. ²⁵ They have made her a bed among the slain with all her multitude, their graves round about her, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for terror of them was spread in the land of the living, and they bear their shame with those who go down to the Pit; they are placed among the slain.

²⁶ "Meshech and Tubal are there, and all their multitude, their graves round about them, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for they spread terror in the land of the living. ²⁷ And they do not lie with the fallen mighty men of old" who went down to Sheol with their weapons of war, whose swords were laid under their heads, and whose shields' are upon their bones; for the terror of the mighty men was in the land of the living. ²⁸ So you shall be broken and lie among the uncircumcised, with those who are slain by the sword.

29 "Edom is there, her kings and all her princes, who for all their might are laid with those who are slain by the sword; they lie with the uncircumcised, with those who go down to the Pit.

30 "The princes of the north are there, all of them, and all the Sidonians, who have gone down in shame with the slain, for all the terror which they caused by their might; they lie uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with those who go down to the Pit.

31 "When Pharaoh sees them, he will comfort himself for all his multitude, Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, says the Lord God. 32 For he^s spread terror in the land of the living; therefore he shall be laid among the uncircumcised, with those who are slain by the sword, Pharaoh and all his multitude, says the Lord God."

33 The word of the LORD came to me: 2 "Son of man, speak to your people and say to them, If I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them, and make him their watchman; 3 and if he sees the sword coming upon the land and blows the trumpet and warns the people; 4 then if any one who hears the sound of the trumpet does not take warning, and the sword comes and takes him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. 5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and did not take warning; his blood shall be upon himself. But if he had taken warning, he would have saved his life. 6 But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet, so that the people are not warned, and the sword comes, and takes any one of them; that man is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood I will require at the watchman's hand.

7 "So you, son of man, I have made a watchman for the house of Israel; whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you shall give them warning from me. 8 If I say to the wicked, O wicked man, you shall surely die, and you do not speak to warn the wicked to turn from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood I will require at your hand. 9 But if you warn the wicked to turn from his way, and he does not turn from his way; he shall die in his iniquity, but you will have saved your life.

10 "And you, son of man, say to the house of Israel, Thus have you said: 'Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we waste away because of them; how then can we live?' 11 Say to them, As I live, says the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live; turn back, turn back from your evil ways; for why will you die, O house of Israel? 12 And you, son of man, say to your people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him when he transgresses; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall by it when he turns from his wickedness; and the righteous shall not be able to live by his righteousness when he sins. 13 Though I say to the righteous that he shall surely live, yet if he trusts in his righteousness and commits iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but in the iniquity that he has committed he shall die. 14 Again, though I say to the wicked, 'You shall surely die,' yet if he turns from his sin and does what is lawful and right, 15 if the wicked restores the pledge, gives back what he has taken by robbery, and walks in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. 16 None of the sins that he has committed shall be remembered against him; he has done what is lawful and right, he shall surely live.

17 "Yet your people say, 'The way of the Lord is not just'; when it is their own way that is not just. 18 When the righteous turns from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, he shall die for it. 19 And when the wicked turns from his wickedness, and does what is lawful and right, he shall live by it. 20 Yet you say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' O house of Israel, I will judge each of you according to his ways."

21 In the twelfth year of our exile, in the tenth month, on the fifth day of the month, a man who had escaped from

Jerusalem came to me and said, "The city has fallen."²² Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me the evening before the fugitive came; and he had opened my mouth by the time the man came to me in the morning; so my mouth was opened, and I was no longer dumb.

23 The word of the LORD came to me:²⁴ "Son of man, the inhabitants of these waste places in the land of Israel keep saying, 'Abraham was only one man, yet he got possession of the land; but we are many; the land is surely given us to possess.'²⁵ Therefore say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: You eat flesh with the blood, and lift up your eyes to your idols, and shed blood; shall you then possess the land?²⁶ You resort to the sword, you commit abominations and each of you defiles his neighbor's wife; shall you then possess the land?²⁷ Say this to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: As I live, surely those who are in the waste places shall fall by the sword; and him that is in the open field I will give to the beasts to be devoured; and those who are in strongholds and in caves shall die by pestilence.²⁸ And I will make the land a desolation and a waste; and her proud might shall come to an end; and the mountains of Israel shall be so desolate that none will pass through.²⁹ Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolation and a waste because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 "As for you, son of man, your people who talk together about you by the walls and at the doors of the houses, say to one another, each to his brother, 'Come, and hear what the word is that comes forth from the LORD.'³¹ And they come to you as people come, and they sit before you as my people, and they hear what you say but they will not do it; for with their lips they show much love, but their heart is set on their gain.³² And, lo, you are to them like one who sings love songs³³ with a beautiful voice and plays well on an instrument, for they hear what you say, but they will not do it.³³ When this comes—and come it will!—then they will know that a prophet has been among them."

34 The word of the LORD came to me:² "Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say to them, even to the shepherds, Thus says the Lord GOD: Ho, shepherds of Israel who have been feeding yourselves! Should not shepherds feed the sheep?³ You eat the fat, you clothe yourselves with the wool, you slaughter the fatlings; but you do not feed the sheep.⁴ The weak you have not strengthened, the sick you have not healed, the crippled you have not bound up, the strayed you have not brought back, the lost you have not sought, and with force and harshness you have ruled them.⁵ So they were scattered, because there was no shepherd; and they became food for all the wild beasts.⁶ My sheep were scattered, they wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill; my sheep were scattered over all the face of the earth, with none to search or seek for them.

7 "Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:⁸ As I live, says the Lord GOD, because my sheep have become a prey, and my sheep have become food for all the wild beasts, since there was no shepherd; and because my shepherds have not searched for my sheep, but the shepherds have fed themselves, and have not fed my sheep;⁹ therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:¹⁰ Thus says the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheep at their hand, and put a stop to their feeding the sheep; no longer shall the shepherds feed themselves. I will rescue my sheep from their mouths, that they may not be food for them.

11 "For thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I, I myself will search for my sheep, and will seek them out.¹² As a shepherd seeks out his flock when some of his sheep¹³ have been scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will rescue them from all places where they have been scattered on a day of clouds and thick darkness.¹³ And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the fountains, and in all the inhabited places of the country.¹⁴ I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountain heights of Israel shall be their pasture; there they shall lie down in good grazing land, and on fat pasture they shall feed on the mountains of Israel. ¹⁵ I myself will be the shepherd of my sheep, and I will make them lie down, says the Lord God. ¹⁶ I will seek the lost, and I will bring back the strayed, and I will bind up the crippled, and I will strengthen the weak, and the fat and the strong I will watch over; ¹⁷ I will feed them in justice.

¹⁷ "As for you, my flock, thus says the Lord God: Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, rams and he-goats. ¹⁸ Is it not enough for you to feed on the good pasture, that you must tread down with your feet the rest of your pasture; and to drink of clear water, that you must foul the rest with your feet? ¹⁹ And must my sheep eat what you have trodden with your feet, and drink what you have fouled with your feet?

²⁰ "Therefore, thus says the Lord God to them: Behold, I, I myself will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. ²¹ Because you push with side and shoulder, and thrust at all the weak with your horns, till you have scattered them abroad, ²² I will save my flock, they shall no longer be a prey; and I will judge between sheep and sheep. ²³ And I will set up over them one shepherd, my servant David, and he shall feed them: he shall feed them and be their shepherd. ²⁴ And I, the LORD, will be their God, and my servant David shall be prince among them; I, the LORD, have spoken.

²⁵ "I will make with them a covenant of peace and banish wild beasts from the land, so that they may dwell securely in the wilderness and sleep in the woods. ²⁶ And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and I will send down the showers in their season; they shall be showers of blessing. ²⁷ And the trees of the field shall yield their fruit, and the earth shall yield its increase, and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I break the bars of their yoke, and deliver them from the hand of those who enslaved them. ²⁸ They shall no more be a prey to the nations, nor shall the beasts of the land devour them; they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. ²⁹ And I will provide for them prosperous⁷ plantations so that they shall no more be consumed with hunger in the land, and no longer suffer the reproach of the nations. ³⁰ And they shall know that I, the LORD their God, am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, says the Lord God. ³¹ And you are my sheep, the sheep of my pasture,⁸ and I am your God, says the Lord God."

35 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, set your face against Mount Se'ir, and prophesy against it, ³ and say to it, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against you, Mount Se'ir, and I will stretch out my hand against you, and I will make you a desolation and a waste. ⁴ I will lay your cities waste, and you shall become a desolation; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ⁵ Because you cherished perpetual enmity, and gave over the people of Israel to the power of the sword at the time of their calamity, at the time of their final punishment; ⁶ therefore, as I live, says the Lord God, I will prepare you for blood, and blood shall pursue you; because you are guilty of blood,² therefore blood shall pursue you. ⁷ I will make Mount Se'ir a waste and a desolation; and I will cut off from it all who come and go. ⁸ And I will fill your mountains with the slain: on your hills and in your valleys and in all your ravines those slain with the sword shall fall. ⁹ I will make you a perpetual desolation, and your cities shall not be inhabited. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

¹⁰ "Because you said, 'These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will take possession of them,'—although the LORD was there—¹¹ therefore, as I live, says the Lord God, I will deal with you according to the anger and envy which you showed because of your hatred against them; and I will make myself known among you,⁴ when I judge you. ¹² And you shall know that I, the LORD, have heard all the revilings which you uttered against the mountains of Israel, saying,

'They are laid desolate, they are given us to devour.' ¹³And you magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and multiplied your words against me; I heard it. ¹⁴Thus says the Lord GOD: For the rejoicing of the whole earth I will make you desolate. ¹⁵As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so I will deal with you; you shall be desolate, Mount Se'ir, and all Edom, all of it. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

36 "And you, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel, and say, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. ²Thus says the Lord GOD: Because the enemy said of you, 'Aha!' and, 'The ancient heights have become our possession,' ³ therefore prophesy, and say, Thus says the Lord GOD: Because, yea, because they made you desolate, and crushed you from all sides, so that you became the possession of the rest of the nations, and you became the talk and evil gossip of the people; ⁴ therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and the hills, the ravines and the valleys, the desolate wastes and the deserted cities, which have become a prey and derision to the rest of the nations round about; ⁵ therefore thus says the Lord GOD: I speak in my hot jealousy against the rest of the nations, and against all Edom, who gave my land to themselves as a possession with wholehearted joy and utter contempt, that they might possess^b it and plunder it. ⁶ Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I speak in my jealous wrath, because you have suffered the reproach of the nations; ⁷ therefore thus says the Lord GOD: I swear that the nations that are round about you shall themselves suffer reproach.

⁸ "But you, O mountains of Israel, shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel; for they will soon come home. ⁹ For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn to you, and you shall be tilled and sown; ¹⁰ and I will multiply men upon you, the whole house of Israel, all of it; the cities shall be inhabited and the waste places rebuilt; ¹¹ and I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and be fruitful; and I will cause you to be inhabited as in your former times, and will do more good to you than ever before. Then you will know that I am the LORD. ¹² Yea, I will let men walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess you, and you shall be their inheritance, and you shall no longer bereave them of children. ¹³ Thus says the Lord GOD: Because men say to you, 'You devour men, and you bereave your nation of children,' ¹⁴ therefore you shall no longer devour men and no longer bereave your nation of children, says the Lord GOD; ¹⁵ and I will not let you hear any more the reproach of the nations, and you shall no longer bear the disgrace of the peoples and no longer cause your nation to stumble, says the Lord GOD."

¹⁶ The word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁷ "Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their ways and their doings; their conduct before me was like the uncleanness of a woman in her impurity. ¹⁸ So I poured out my wrath upon them for the blood which they had shed in the land, for the idols with which they had defiled it. ¹⁹ I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries; in accordance with their conduct and their deeds I judged them. ²⁰ But when they came to the nations, wherever they came, they profaned my holy name, in that men said of them, 'These are the people of the LORD, and yet they had to go out of his land.' ²¹ But I had concern for my holy name, which the house of Israel caused to be profaned among the nations to which they came.

²⁴ For I will take you from the nations, and gather you from all the countries, and bring you into your own land. ²⁵ I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols I will cleanse you. ²⁶ A new heart I will give you, and a new spirit I will put within you; and I will take out of your flesh the heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. ²⁷ And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes and be careful to observe my ordinances. ²⁸ You shall dwell in the land which I gave to your fathers; and you shall be my people, and I will be your God. ²⁹ And I will deliver you from all your uncleannesses; and I will summon the grain and make it abundant and lay no famine upon you. ³⁰ I will make the fruit of the tree and the increase of the field abundant, that you may never again suffer the disgrace of famine among the nations. ³¹ Then you will remember your evil ways, and your deeds that were not good; and you will loathe yourselves for your iniquities and your abominable deeds. ³² It is not for your sake that I will act, says the Lord God; let that be known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel.

³³ "Thus says the Lord God: On the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be rebuilt. ³⁴ And the land that was desolate shall be tilled, instead of being the desolation that it was in the sight of all who passed by. ³⁵ And they will say, 'This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are now inhabited and fortified.' ³⁶ Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I, the LORD, have rebuilt the ruined places, and replanted that which was desolate; I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it.

³⁷ "Thus says the Lord God: This also I will let the house of Israel ask me to do for them: to increase their men like a flock. ³⁸ Like the flock for sacrifices,^c like the flock at Jerusalem during her appointed feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men.

Then they will know that I am the LORD."^b

37 The hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me out by the Spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley;^d it was full of bones. ² And he led me round among them; and behold, there were very many upon the valley;^d and lo, they were very dry. ³ And he said to me, "Son of man, can these bones live?" And I answered, "O Lord God, thou knowest." ⁴ Again he said to me, "Prophecy to these bones, and say to them, O dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. ⁵ Thus says the Lord God to these bones: Behold, I will cause breath^e to enter you, and you shall live. ⁶ And I will lay sinews upon you, and will cause flesh to come upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath^e in you, and you shall live; and you shall know that I am the LORD."^b

⁷ So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold, a rattling; and the bones came together, bone to its bone. ⁸ And as I looked, there were sinews on them, and flesh had come upon them, and skin had covered them; but there was no breath in them. ⁹ Then he said to me, "Prophecy to the breath, prophesy, son of man, and say to the breath,^f Thus says the Lord God: Come from the four winds, O breath,^f and breathe upon these slain, that they may live."^b ¹⁰ So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood upon their feet, an exceedingly great host.

¹¹ Then he said to me, "Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, 'Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are clean cut off.'^b ¹² Therefore prophesy, and say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will open your graves, and raise you from your graves, O my people; and I will bring you home into the land of Israel. ¹³ And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I open your graves, and raise you from your graves, O my people. ¹⁴ And I will put my Spirit within you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land; then you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken, and I have done it, says the LORD."

15 The word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁶ "Son of man, take a stick and write on it, 'For Judah, and the children of Israel associated with him'; then take another stick and write upon it, 'For Joseph (the stick of E'phraim) and all the house of Israel associated with him'; ¹⁷ and join them together into one stick, that they may become one in your hand. ¹⁸ And when your people say to you, 'Will you not show us what you mean by these?' ¹⁹ say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am about to take the stick of Joseph (which is in the hand of E'phraim) and the tribes of Israel associated with him; and I will join⁹ with it the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, that they may be one in my hand. ²⁰ When the sticks on which you write are in your hand before their eyes, ²¹ then say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will take the people of Israel from the nations among which they have gone, and will gather them from all sides, and bring them to their own land; ²² and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king over them all; and they shall be no longer two nations, and no longer divided into two kingdoms. ²³ They shall not defile themselves any more with their idols and their detestable things, or with any of their transgressions; but I will save them from all the backslidings in which they have sinned, and will cleanse them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

24 "My servant David shall be king over them; and they shall all have one shepherd. They shall follow my ordinances and be careful to observe my statutes. ²⁵ They shall dwell in the land where your fathers dwelt that I gave to my servant Jacob; they and their children and their children's children shall dwell there for ever; and David my servant shall be their prince for ever. ²⁶ I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; and I will bless¹⁰ them and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. ²⁷ My dwelling place shall be with them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. ²⁸ Then the nations will know that I the LORD sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary is in the midst of them for evermore."

38 The word of the LORD came to me: ² "Son of man, set your face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him ³ and say, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal; ⁴ and I will turn you about, and put hooks into your jaws, and I will bring you forth, and all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armor, a great company, all of them with buckler and shield, wielding swords; ⁵ Persia, Cush, and Put are with them, all of them with shield and helmet; ⁶ Gomer and all his hordes; Beth-togar'mah from the uttermost parts of the north with all his hordes—many peoples are with you.

⁷ "Be ready and keep ready, you and all the hosts that are assembled about you, and be a guard for them. ⁸ After many days you will be mustered; in the latter years you will go against the land that is restored from war, the land where people were gathered from many nations upon the mountains of Israel, which had been a continual waste; its people were brought out from the nations and now dwell securely, all of them. ⁹ You will advance, coming on like a storm, you will be like a cloud covering the land, you and all your hordes, and many peoples with you.

¹⁰ "Thus says the Lord God: On that day thoughts will come into your mind, and you will devise an evil scheme ¹¹ and say, 'I will go up against the land of unwallled villages; I will fall upon the quiet people who dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having no bars or gates'; ¹² to seize spoil and carry off plunder; to assail the waste places which are now inhabited, and the people who were gathered from the nations, who have gotten cattle and goods, who dwell at the center of the earth. ¹³ Sheba and Dedan and the merchants of Tarshish and all its villages will say to you, 'Have you come to seize spoil? Have you assembled your hosts to carry off plunder, to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to seize great spoil?²

14 "Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and say to Gog, Thus says the Lord GOD: On that day when my people Israel are dwelling securely, you will bestir yourself³ and come from your place out of the uttermost parts of the north, you and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great host, a mighty army;⁴ you will come up against my people Israel, like a cloud covering the land. In the latter days I will bring you against my land, that the nations may know me, when through you, O Gog, I vindicate my holiness before their eyes.

17 "Thus says the Lord GOD: Are you he of whom I spoke in former days by my servants the prophets of Israel, who in those days prophesied for years that I would bring you against them?⁵

18 But on that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, says the Lord GOD, my wrath will be roused.⁶ For in my jealousy and in my blazing wrath I declare, On that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel;⁷ the fish of the sea, and the birds of the air, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep on the ground, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall quake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the cliffs shall fall, and every wall shall tumble to the ground.⁸ I will summon every kind of terror⁹ against Gog,¹⁰ says the Lord GOD; every man's sword will be against his brother.¹¹ With pestilence and bloodshed I will enter into judgment with him; and I will rain upon him and his hordes and the many peoples that are with him, torrential rains and hailstones, fire and brimstone.¹² So I will show my greatness and my holiness and make myself known in the eyes of many nations. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

39 "And you, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal;² and I will turn you about and drive you forward, and bring you up from the uttermost parts of the north, and lead you against the mountains of Israel;³ then I will strike your bow from your left hand, and will make your arrows drop out of your right hand.⁴ You shall fall upon the mountains of Israel, you and all your hordes and the peoples that are with you; I will give you to birds of prey of every sort and to the wild beasts to be devoured.⁵ You shall fall in the open field; for I have spoken, says the Lord GOD.⁶ I will send fire on Magog and on those who dwell securely in the coastlands; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 "And my holy name I will make known in the midst of my people Israel; and I will not let my holy name be profaned any more; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel.⁸ Behold, it is coming and it will be brought about, says the Lord GOD. That is the day of which I have spoken.

9 "Then those who dwell in the cities of Israel will go forth and make fires of the weapons and burn them, shields and bucklers, bows and arrows, handpikes and spears, and they will make fires of them for seven years;¹⁰ so that they will not need to take wood out of the field or cut down any out of the forests, for they will make their fires of the weapons; they will despoil those who despoiled them, and plunder those who plundered them, says the Lord GOD.

11 "On that day I will give to Gog a place for burial in Israel, the Valley of the Travelers¹ east of the sea; it will block the travelers, for there Gog and all his multitude will be buried; it will be called the Valley of Hamon-gog.²

12 For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them, in order to cleanse the land.¹³ All the people of the land will bury them; and it will rebound to their honor on the day that I show my glory, says the Lord GOD.¹⁴ They will set apart men to pass through the land continually and bury¹⁵ those remaining upon the face of the land, so as to cleanse it; at the end of seven months they will make their search.¹⁵ And when these pass through the land and any one sees a man's bone, then he shall set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon-gog. ¹⁶ (A city Hamo'nah^o is there also.) Thus shall they cleanse the land.

¹⁷ "As for you, son of man, thus says the Lord God: Speak to the birds of every sort and to all beasts of the field, 'Assemble and come, gather from all sides to the sacrificial feast which I am preparing for you, a great sacrificial feast upon the mountains of Israel, and you shall eat flesh and drink blood. ¹⁸ You shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth—of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan. ¹⁹ And you shall eat fat till you are filled, and drink blood till you are drunk, at the sacrificial feast which I am preparing for you. ²⁰ And you shall be filled at my table with horses and riders, with mighty men and all kinds of warriors,' says the Lord God.

²¹ "And I will set my glory among the nations; and all the nations shall see my judgment which I have executed, and my hand which I have laid on them. ²² The house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God, from that day forward. ²³ And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they dealt so treacherously with me that I hid my face from them and gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they all fell by the sword. ²⁴ I dealt with them according to their uncleanness and their transgressions, and hid my face from them.

²⁵ "Therefore thus says the Lord God: Now I will restore the fortunes of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for my holy name. ²⁶ They shall forget their shame, and all the treachery they have practiced against me, when they dwell securely in their land with none to make them afraid, ²⁷ when I have brought them back from the peoples and gathered them from their enemies' lands, and through them have vindicated my holiness in the sight of many nations. ²⁸ Then they shall know that I am the Lord their God because I sent them into exile among the nations, and then gathered them into their own land. I will leave none of them remaining among the nations any more; ²⁹ and I will not hide my face any more from them, when I pour out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, says the Lord God."

40 In the twenty-fifth year of our exile, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city was conquered, on that very day, the hand of the Lord was upon me, ² and brought me in the visions of God into the land of Israel, and set me down upon a very high mountain, on which was a structure like a city opposite me. ³ When he brought me there, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like bronze, with a line of flax and a measuring reed in his hand; and he was standing in the gateway. ⁴ And the man said to me, "Son of man, look with your eyes, and hear with your ears, and set your mind upon all that I shall show you, for you were brought here in order that I might show it to you; declare all that you see to the house of Israel."

⁵ And behold, there was a wall all around the outside of the temple area, and the length of the measuring reed in the man's hand was six long cubits, each being a cubit and a handbreadth in length; so he measured the thickness of the wall, one reed; and the height, one reed. ⁶ Then he went into the gateway facing east, going up its steps, and measured the threshold of the gate, one reed deep; ⁷ and the side rooms, one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the side rooms, five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the vestibule of the gate at the inner end, one reed. ⁸ Then he measured the vestibule of the gateway, eight cubits; ⁹ and its jambs, two cubits; and the vestibule of the gate was at the inner end. ¹⁰ And there were three side rooms on either side of the east gate; the three were of the same size; and the jambs on either side were of the same size. ¹¹ Then he measured the breadth of the opening of the gateway, ten cubits; and the breadth of the gateway, thirteen cubits. ¹² There was a barrier before the side rooms, one cubit on either side; and the side rooms were six cubits on either side.¹³ Then he measured the gate from the back^r of the one side room to the back^r of the other, a breadth of five and twenty cubits, from door to door.¹⁴ He measured also the vestibule, twenty cubits; and round about the vestibule of the gateway was the court.^s¹⁵ From the front of the gate at the entrance to the end of the inner vestibule of the gate was fifty cubits.¹⁶ And the gateway had windows round about, narrowing inwards into their jambs in the side rooms, and likewise the vestibule had windows round about inside, and on the jambs were palm trees.

¹⁷ Then he brought me into the outer court; and behold, there were chambers and a pavement, round about the court; thirty chambers fronted on the pavement.¹⁸ And the pavement ran along the side of the gates, corresponding to the length of the gates; this was the lower pavement.¹⁹ Then he measured the distance from the inner front of^t the lower gate to the outer front of the inner court, a hundred cubits.

Then he went before me to the north,²⁰ and behold, there was a gate^u which faced toward the north, belonging to the outer court. He measured its length and its breadth.²¹ Its side rooms, three on either side, and its jambs and its vestibule were of the same size as those of the first gate; its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth twenty-five cubits.²² And its windows, its vestibule, and its palm trees were of the same size as those of the gate which faced toward the east; and seven steps led up to it; and its vestibule was on the inside.²³ And opposite the gate on the north, as on the east, was a gate to the inner court; and he measured from gate to gate, a hundred cubits.

²⁴ And he led me toward the south, and behold, there was a gate on the south; and he measured its jambs and its vestibule; they had the same size as the others.²⁵ And there were windows round about in it and in its vestibule, like the windows of the others; its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth twenty-five cubits.²⁶ And there were seven steps leading up to it, and its vestibule was on the inside; and it had palm trees on its jambs, one on either side.²⁷ And there was a gate on the south of the inner court; and he measured from gate to gate toward the south, a hundred cubits.

²⁸ Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate, and he measured the south gate; it was of the same size as the others.²⁹ Its side rooms, its jambs, and its vestibule were of the same size as the others; and there were windows round about in it and in its vestibule; its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth twenty-five cubits.³⁰ And there were vestibules round about, twenty-five cubits long and five cubits broad.³¹ Its vestibule faced the outer court, and palm trees were on its jambs, and its stairway had eight steps.

³² Then he brought me to the inner court on the east side, and he measured the gate; it was of the same size as the others.³³ Its side rooms, its jambs, and its vestibule were of the same size as the others; and there were windows round about in it and in its vestibule; its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth twenty-five cubits.³⁴ Its vestibule faced the outer court, and it had palm trees on its jambs, one on either side; and its stairway had eight steps.

³⁵ Then he brought me to the north gate, and he measured it; it had the same size as the others.³⁶ Its side rooms, its jambs, and its vestibule were of the same size as the others; and it had windows round about; its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth twenty-five cubits.³⁷ Its vestibule^v faced the outer court, and it had palm trees on its jambs, one on either side; and its stairway had eight steps.

³⁸ There was a chamber with its door in the vestibule of the gate,^w where the burnt offering was to be washed.³⁹ And in the vestibule of the gate were two tables on either side, on which the burnt offering and the sin offering and the guilt offering were to be slaughtered.⁴⁰ And on the outside of the vestibule^y at the entrance of the north gate were two tables; and on the other side of the vestibule of the gate were two tables.⁴¹ Four tables were on the inside, and four tables on the outside of the side of the gate, eight tables, on which the sacrifices were to be slaughtered.⁴² And there were also four tables of hewn stone for the burnt offering, a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high, on which the instruments were to be laid with which the burnt offerings and the sacrifices were slaughtered.⁴³ And hooks, a hand-breadth long, were fastened round about within. And on the tables the flesh of the offering was to be laid.

44 Then he brought me from without into the inner court, and behold, there were two chambers: in the inner court, one^a at the side of the north gate facing south, the other at the side of the south^b gate facing north.⁴⁵ And he said to me, This chamber which faces south is for the priests who have charge of the temple,⁴⁶ and the chamber which faces north is for the priests who have charge of the altar; these are the sons of Zadok, who alone among the sons of Levi may come near to the LORD to minister to him.⁴⁷ And he measured the court, a hundred cubits long, and a hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar was in front of the temple.

48 Then he brought me to the vestibule of the temple and measured the jambs of the vestibule, five cubits on either side; and the breadth of the gate was fourteen cubits; and the sidewalls of the gate were three cubits^c on either side.⁴⁹ The length of the vestibule was twenty cubits, and the breadth twelve^d cubits; and ten steps led up^e to it; and there were pillars beside the jambs on either side.

41 Then he brought me to the nave, and measured the jambs; on each side six cubits was the breadth of the jambs.^f ²And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the sidewalls of the entrance were five cubits on either side; and he measured the length of the nave forty cubits, and its breadth, twenty cubits.³ Then he went into the inner room and measured the jambs of the entrance, two cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, six cubits; and the sidewalls^g of the entrance, seven cubits.⁴ And he measured the length of the room, twenty cubits, and its breadth, twenty cubits, beyond the nave. And he said to me, This is the most holy place.

5 Then he measured the wall of the temple, six cubits thick; and the breadth of the side chambers, four cubits, round about the temple.⁶ And the side chambers were in three stories, one over another, thirty in each story. There were offsets^h all around the wall of the temple to serve as supports for the side chambers, so that they should not be supported by the wall of the temple.⁷ And the side chambers became broader as they roseⁱ from story to story, corresponding to the enlargement of the offset^j from story to story round about the temple; on the side of the temple a stairway led upward, and thus one went up from the lowest story to the top story through the middle story.⁸ I saw also that the temple had a raised platform round about; the foundations of the side chambers measured a full reed of six long cubits.⁹ The thickness of the outer wall of the side chambers was five cubits; and the part of the platform which was left free was five cubits.^k Between the platform^l of the temple and the¹⁰ chambers of the court was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the temple on every side.¹¹ And the doors of the side chambers opened on the part of the platform that was left free, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south; and the breadth of the part that was left free was five cubits round about.

12 The building that was facing the temple yard on the west side was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and its length ninety cubits.

13 Then he measured the temple, a hundred cubits long; and the yard and the building with its walls, a hundred cubits long;¹⁴ also the breadth of the east front of the temple and the yard, a hundred cubits.

The nave of the temple and the inner room and the outerⁿ vestibule¹⁶ were paneled^o and round about all three had windows with recessed^p frames. Over against the threshold the temple was paneled with wood round about, from the floor up to the windows (now the windows were covered),¹⁷ to the space above the door, even to the inner room, and on the outside. And on all the walls round about in the inner room and the nave were carved likenesses^q ¹⁸ of cherubim and palm trees, a palm tree between cherub and cherub. Every cherub had two faces: ¹⁹ the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side. They were carved on the whole temple round about; ²⁰ from the floor to above the door cherubim and palm trees were carved on the wall.^r

21 The doorposts of the nave were squared; and in front of the holy place was something resembling ²² an altar of wood, three cubits high, two cubits long, and two cubits broad;^s its corners, its base,^t and its walls were of wood. He said to me, "This is the table which is before the LORD."²³ The nave and the holy place had each a double door. ²⁴ The doors had two leaves apiece, two swinging leaves for each door. ²⁵ And on the doors of the nave were carved cherubim and palm trees, such as were carved on the walls; and there was a canopy of wood in front of the vestibule outside. ²⁶ And there were recessed windows and palm trees on either side, on the sidewalls of the vestibule.^u

42 Then he led me out into the inner^v court, toward the north, and he brought me to the chambers which were opposite the temple yard and opposite the building on the north. ² The length of the building which was on the north side^w was a hundred cubits, and the breadth fifty cubits.

On the south^c also, opposite the yard and opposite the building, there were chambers ¹¹ with a passage in front of them; they were similar to the chambers on the north, of the same length and breadth, with the same exits^d and arrangements and doors. ¹² And below the south chambers was an entrance on the east side, where one enters the passage, and opposite them was a dividing wall.^e

13 Then he said to me, "The north chambers and the south chambers opposite the yard are the holy chambers, where the priests who approach the LORD shall eat the most holy offerings; there they shall put the most holy offerings—the cereal offering, the sin offering, and the guilt offering, for the place is holy. ¹⁴ When the priests enter the holy place, they shall not go out of it into the outer court without laying there the garments in which they minister, for these are holy; they shall put on other garments before they go near to that which is for the people."³

15 Now when he had finished measuring the interior of the temple area, he led me out by the gate which faced east, and measured the temple area round about. ¹⁶ He measured the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred cubits by the measuring reed. ¹⁷ Then he turned and measured^f the north side, five hundred cubits by the measuring reed. ¹⁸ Then he turned and measured^f the south side, five hundred cubits by the measuring reed. ¹⁹ Then he turned to the west side and measured, five hundred cubits by the measuring reed. ²⁰ He measured it on the four sides. It had a wall around it, five hundred cubits long and five hundred cubits broad, to make a separation between the holy and the common.

43 Afterward he brought me to the gate, the gate facing east. ² And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the east; and the sound of his coming was like the sound of many waters; and the earth shone with his glory. ³ And^g the vision I saw was like the vision which I had seen when he came to destroy the city, and^h like the vision which I had seen by the river Chebar; and I fell upon my face. ⁴ As the glory of the LORD entered the temple by the gate facing east, ⁵ the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the temple.

⁶ While the man was standing beside me, I heard one speaking to me out of the temple; ⁷ and he said to me, "Son of man, this is the place of my throne and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the people of Israel for ever. And the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their harlotry, and by the dead bodiesⁱ of their kings, ⁸ by setting their threshold by my threshold and their doorposts beside my doorposts, with only a wall between me and them. They have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed, so I have consumed them in my anger. ⁹ Now let them put away their idolatry and the dead bodiesⁱ of their kings far from me, and I will dwell in their midst for ever.

¹⁰ "And you, son of man, describe to the house of Israel the temple and its appearance and plan,^j that they may be ashamed of their iniquities. ¹¹ And if they are ashamed of all that they have done, portray^k the temple, its arrangement, its exits and its entrances, and its whole form; and make known to them all its ordinances and all its laws; and write it down in their sight, so that they may observe and perform all its laws^l and all its ordinances. ¹² This is the law of the temple: the whole territory round about upon the top of the mountain shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the temple.

¹⁸ And he said to me, "Son of man, thus says the Lord GOD: These are the ordinances for the altar: On the day when it is erected for offering burnt offerings upon it and for throwing burnt against it, ¹⁹ you shall give to the Levitical priests of the family of Zadok, who draw near to me to minister to me, says the Lord GOD, a bull for a sin offering. ²⁰ And you shall take some of its blood, and put it on the four horns of the altar, and on the four corners of the ledge, and upon the rim round about; thus you shall cleanse the altar and make atonement for it. ²¹ You shall also take the bull of the sin offering, and it shall be burnt in the appointed place belonging to the temple, outside the sacred area. ²²And on the second day you shall offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin offering; and the altar shall be cleansed, as it was cleansed with the bull. ²³When you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer a bull without blemish and a ram from the flock without blemish. ²⁴You shall present them before the LORD, and the priests shall sprinkle salt upon them and offer them up as a burnt offering to the LORD. ²⁵For seven days you shall provide daily a goat for a sin offering; also a bull and a ram from the flock, without blemish, shall be provided. ²⁶Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it, and so consecrate it. ²⁷And when they have completed these days, then from the eighth day onward the priests shall offer upon the altar your burnt offerings and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, says the Lord GOD.²

44 Then he brought me back to the outer gate of the sanctuary, which faces east; and it was shut. ²And he³ said to me, "This gate shall remain shut; it shall not be opened, and no one shall enter by it; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered by it; therefore it shall remain shut. ³Only the prince may sit in it to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by way of the vestibule of the gate, and shall go out by the same way."³

⁴Then he brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple; and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the temple of the LORD; and I fell upon my face. ⁵And the LORD said to me, "Son of man, mark well, see with your eyes, and hear with your ears all that I shall tell you concerning all the ordinances of the temple of the LORD and all its laws; and mark well those who may be admitted⁶ to the temple and all those who are to be excluded from the sanctuary. ⁶And say to the rebellious house,⁴ to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: O house of Israel, let there be an end to all your abominations, ⁷in admitting foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and flesh, to be in my sanctuary, profaning it,⁵ when you offer to me my food, the fat and the blood. You⁸ have broken my covenant, in addition to all your abominations. ⁸And you have not kept charge of my holy things; but you have set foreigners to keep my charge in my sanctuary.

⁹"Therefore⁶ thus says the Lord GOD: No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and flesh, of all the foreigners who are among the people of Israel, shall enter my sanctuary. ¹⁰But the Levites who went far from me, going astray from me after their idols when Israel went astray, shall bear their punishment. ¹¹They shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the temple, and serving in the temple; they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall attend on the people, to serve them. ¹²Because they ministered to them before their idols and became a stumbling block of iniquity to the house of Israel, therefore I have sworn concerning them, says the Lord GOD, that they shall bear their punishment. ¹³They shall not come near to me, to serve me as priest, nor come near any of my sacred things and the things that are most sacred; but they shall bear their shame, because of the abominations which they have committed. ¹⁴Yet I will appoint them to keep charge of the temple, to do all its service and all that is to be done in it.

¹⁵"But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept the charge of my sanctuary when the people of Israel went astray from me, shall come near to me to minister to me; and they shall attend on me to offer me the fat and the blood, says the Lord GOD; ¹⁶they shall enter my sanctuary, and they shall approach my table, to minister to me, and they shall keep my charge. ¹⁷When they enter the gates of the inner court, they shall wear linen garments; they shall have nothing of wool on them, while they minister at the gates of the inner court, and within. ¹⁸They shall have linen turbans upon their heads, and linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with anything that causes sweat. ¹⁹And when they go out into the outer court to the people, they shall put off the garments in which they have been ministering, and lay them in the holy chambers; and they shall put on other garments, lest they communicate holiness to the people with their garments. ²⁰ They shall not shave their heads or let their locks grow long; they shall only trim the hair of their heads. ²¹ No priest shall drink wine, when he enters the inner court. ²² They shall not marry a widow, or a divorced woman, but only a virgin of the stock of the house of Israel, or a widow who is the widow of a priest. ²³ They shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and show them how to distinguish between the unclean and the clean. ²⁴ In a controversy they shall act as judges, and they shall judge it according to my judgments. They shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts, and they shall keep my sabbaths holy. ²⁵ They shall not defile themselves by going near to a dead person; however, for father or mother, for son or daughter, for brother or unmarried sister they may defile themselves. ²⁶ After he is defiled, he shall count for himself seven days, and then he shall be clean. ²⁷ And on the day that he goes into the holy place, into the inner court, to minister in the holy place, he shall offer his sin offering, says the Lord God.

²⁸ "They shall have no" inheritance; I am their inheritance: and you shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. ²⁹ They shall eat the cereal offering, the sin offering, and the guilt offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. ³⁰ And the first of all the first fruits of all kinds, and every offering of all kinds from all your offerings, shall belong to the priests; you shall also give to the priests the first of your coarse meal, that a blessing may rest on your house. ³¹ The priests shall not eat of anything, whether bird or beast, that has died of itself or is torn.

45 "When you allot the land as a possession, you shall set apart for the LORD a portion of the land as a holy district, twenty-five thousand cubits long and twenty-four thousand cubits broad; it shall be holy throughout its whole extent. ² Of this a square plot of five hundred by five hundred cubits shall be for the sanctuary, with fifty cubits for an open space around it. ³ And in the holy district you shall measure off a section twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand broad, in which shall be the sanctuary, the most holy place. ⁴ It shall be the holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, who minister in the sanctuary and approach the LORD to minister to him; and it shall be a place for their houses and a holy place for the sanctuary. ⁵ Another section, twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand cubits broad, shall be for the Levites who minister at the temple, as their possession for cities to live in."

⁶ "Alongside the portion set apart as the holy district you shall assign for the possession of the city an area five thousand cubits broad, and twenty-five thousand cubits long; it shall belong to the whole house of Israel.

⁷ "And to the prince shall belong the land on both sides of the holy district and the property of the city, alongside the holy district and the property of the city, on the west and on the east, corresponding in length to one of the tribal portions, and extending from the western to the eastern boundary of the land. ⁸ It is to be his property in Israel. And my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall let the house of Israel have the land according to their tribes.

⁹ "Thus says the Lord God: Enough, O princes of Israel! Put away violence and oppression, and execute justice and righteousness; cease your evictions of my people, says the Lord God.

¹⁰ "You shall have just balances, a just ephah, and a just bath. ¹¹ The ephah and the bath shall be of the same measure, the bath containing one tenth of a homer, and the ephah one tenth of a homer; the homer shall be the standard measure. ¹² The shekel shall be twenty gerahs; five shekels shall be five shekels, and ten shekels shall be ten shekels, and your mina shall be fifty shekels."

This is the offering for cereal offerings, burnt offerings, and peace offerings, to make atonement for them, says the Lord God. ¹⁶All the people of the land shall give^d this offering to the prince in Israel. ¹⁷It shall be the prince's duty to furnish the burnt offerings, cereal offerings, and drink offerings, at the feasts, the new moons, and the sabbaths, all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall provide the sin offerings, cereal offerings, burnt offerings, and peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

²¹ "In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall celebrate the feast of the passover, and for seven days unleavened bread shall be eaten. ²²On that day the prince shall provide for himself and all the people of the land a young bull for a sin offering. ²³And on the seven days of the festival he shall provide as a burnt offering to the LORD seven young bulls and seven rams without blemish, on each of the seven days; and a he-goat daily for a sin offering. ²⁴And he shall provide as a cereal offering an ephah for each bull, an ephah for each ram, and a hin of oil to each ephah. ²⁵In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month and for the seven days of the feast, he shall make the same provision for sin offerings, burnt offerings, and cereal offerings, and for the oil.

46 "Thus says the Lord God: The gate of the inner court that faces east shall be shut on the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened and on the day of the new moon it shall be opened. ²The prince shall enter by the vestibule of the gate from without, and shall take his stand by the post of the gate. The priests shall offer his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate. Then he shall go out, but the gate shall not be shut until evening. ³The people of the land shall worship at the entrance of that gate before the LORD on the sabbaths and on the new moons. ⁴The burnt offering that the prince offers to the LORD on the sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish; ⁵and the cereal offering with the ram shall be an ephah, and the cereal offering with the lambs shall be as much as he is able, together with a hin of oil to each ephah. ⁶On the day of the new moon he shall offer a young bull without blemish, and six lambs and a ram, which shall be without blemish; ⁷as a cereal offering he shall provide an ephah with the bull and an ephah with the ram, and with the lambs as much as he is able, together with a hin of oil to each ephah. ⁸When the prince enters, he shall go in by the vestibule of the gate, and he shall go out by the same way.

16 "Thus says the Lord God: If the prince makes a gift to any of his sons out of his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons, it is their property by inheritance. ¹⁷But if he makes a gift out of his inheritance to one of his servants, it shall be his to the year of liberty; then it shall revert to the prince; only his sons may keep a gift from his inheritance. ¹⁸The prince shall not take any of the inheritance of the people, thrusting them out of their property; he shall give his sons their inheritance out of his own property, so that none of my people shall be dispossessed of his property."

19 Then he brought me through the entrance, which was at the side of the gate, to the north row of the holy chambers for the priests; and there I saw a place at the extreme western end of them. ²⁰And he said to me, "This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the cereal offering, in order not to bring them out into the outer court and so communicate holiness to the people."

21 Then he brought me forth to the outer court, and led me to the four corners of the court; and in each corner of the court there was a court—²²in the four corners of the court were small courts, forty cubits long and thirty broad; the four were of the same size. ²³On the inside, around each of the four courts was a row of masonry, with hearths made at the bottom of the rows round about. ²⁴Then he said to me, "These are the kitchens where those who minister at the temple shall boil the sacrifices of the people."

47 Then he brought me back to the door of the temple; and behold, water was issuing from below the threshold of the temple toward the east (for the temple faced east); and the water was flowing down from below the south end of the threshold of the temple, south of the altar. ²Then he brought me out by way of the north gate, and led me round on the outside to the outer gate, that faces toward the east; and the water was coming out on the south side.

3 Going on eastward with a line in his hand, the man measured a thousand cubits, and then led me through the water; and it was ankle-deep. ⁴Again he measured a thousand, and led me through the water; and it was knee-deep. Again he measured a thousand, and led me through the water; and it was up to the loins. ⁵Again he measured a thousand, and it was a river that I could not pass through, for the water had risen; it was deep enough to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. ⁶And he said to me, "Son of man, have you seen this?"

Then he led me back along the bank of the river. ⁷As I went back, I saw upon the bank of the river very many trees on the one side and on the other. ⁸And he said to me, "This water flows toward the eastern region and goes down into the Arabah; and when it enters the stagnant waters of the sea, the water will become fresh. ⁹And wherever the river goes every living creature which swarms will live, and there will be very many fish; for this water goes there, that the waters of the sea may become fresh; so everything will live where the river goes. ¹⁰Fishermen will stand beside the sea; from En-ge'di to En-eg'laim it will be a place for the spreading of nets; its fish will be of very many kinds, like the fish of the Great Sea. ¹¹But its swamps and marshes will not become fresh; they are to be left for salt. ¹²And on the banks, on both sides of the river, there will grow all kinds of trees for food. Their leaves will not wither nor their fruit fail, but they will bear fresh fruit every month, because the water for them flows from 13 Thus says the Lord God: "These are the boundaries by which you shall divide the land for inheritance among the twelve tribes of Israel. Joseph shall have two portions. 14 And you shall divide it equally; I swore to give it to your fathers, and this land shall fall to you as your inheritance.

15 "This shall be the boundary of the land: On the north side, from the Great Sea by way of Hethlon to the entrance of Hamath, and on to Zedad,¹ 16 Bero'thah, Sib'raim (which lies on the border between Damascus and Hamath), as far as Hazerhaticon, which is on the border of Hauran. 17 So the boundary shall run from the sea to Hazar-e'non, which is on the northern border of Damascus, with the border of Hamath to the north.^m This shall be the north side.

21 "So you shall divide this land among you according to the tribes of Israel. 22 You shall allot it as an inheritance for yourselves and for the aliens who reside among you and have begotten children among you. They shall be to you as native-born sons of Israel; with you they shall be allotted an inheritance among the tribes of Israel. 23 In whatever tribe the alien resides, there you shall assign him his inheritance, says the Lord God.

48 "These are the names of the tribes: Beginning at the northern border, from the sea by way^p of Hethlon to the entrance of Hamath, as

THE BOOK OF
DANIEL

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoi'akim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it. ²And the Lord gave Jehoi'akim king of Judah into his hand, with some of the vessels of the house of God; and he brought them to the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and placed the vessels in the treasury of his god. ³ Then the king commanded Ashpenaz, his chief eunuch, to bring some of the people of Israel, both of the royal family and of the nobility, ⁴ youths without blemish, handsome and skilful in all wisdom, endowed with knowledge, understanding learning, and competent to serve in the king's palace, and to teach them the letters and language of the Chaldeans. ⁵ The king assigned them a daily portion of the rich food which the king ate, and of the wine which he drank. They were to be educated for three years, and at the end of that time they were to stand before the king. ⁶Among these were Daniel, Hanani'ah, Mish'ael, and Azari'ah of the tribe of Judah. ⁷And the chief of the eunuchs gave them names: Daniel he called Belteshazzar, Hanani'ah he called Shadrach, Mish'ael he called Meshach, and Azari'ah he called Abednego.

⁸ But Daniel resolved that he would not defile himself with the king's rich food, or with the wine which he drank; therefore he asked the chief of the eunuchs to allow him not to defile himself. ⁹And God gave Daniel favor and compassion in the sight of the chief of the eunuchs; ¹⁰ and the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel, "I fear lest my lord the king, who appointed your food and your drink, should see that you were in poorer condition than the youths who are of your own age. So you would endanger my head with the king." ¹¹ Then Daniel said to the steward whom the chief of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hanani'ah, Mish'ael, and Azari'ah; ¹² "Test your servants for ten days; let us be given vegetables to eat and water to drink. ¹³ Then let our appearance and the appearance of the youths who eat the king's rich food be observed by you, and according to what you see deal with your servants." ¹⁴ So he hearkened to them in this matter, and tested them for ten days. ¹⁵ At the end of ten days it was seen that they were better in appearance and fatter in flesh than all the youths who ate the king's rich food. ¹⁶ So the steward took away their rich food and the wine they were to drink, and gave them vegetables.

¹⁷ As for these four youths, God gave them learning and skill in all letters and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. ¹⁸ At the end of the time, when the king had commanded that they should be brought in, the chief of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁹ And the king spoke with them, and among them all none was found like Daniel, Hanani'ah, Mish'ael, and Azari'ah; therefore they stood before the king. ²⁰ And in every matter of wisdom and understanding concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his kingdom. ²¹ And Daniel continued until the first year of King Cyrus.

2 In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep left him. ² Then the king commanded that the magicians, the enchanters, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans be summoned, to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. ³ And the king said to them, "I had a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream." ⁴ Then the Chaldeans said to the king, "O king, live for ever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation." ⁵ The king answered the Chaldeans, "The word from me is sure: if you do not make known to me the dream and its interpretation, you shall be torn limb from limb, and your houses shall be laid in ruins. ⁶ But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor. Therefore show me the dream and its interpretation.”

⁷ They answered a second time, “Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show its interpretation.” ⁸ The king answered, “I know with certainty that you are trying to gain time, because you see that the word from me is sure ⁹ that if you do not make the dream known to me, there is but one sentence for you. You have agreed to speak lying and corrupt words before me till the times change. Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can show me its interpretation.” ¹⁰ The Chaldeans answered the king, “There is not a man on earth who can meet the king's demand; for no great and powerful king has asked such a thing of any magician or enchanter or Chaldean. ¹¹ The thing that the king asks is difficult, and none can show it to the king except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.”

¹² Because of this the king was angry and very furious, and commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed. ¹³ So the decree went forth that the wise men were to be slain, and they sought Daniel and his companions, to slay them. ¹⁴ Then Daniel replied with prudence and discretion to Ar'ioch, the captain of the king's guard, who had gone out to slay the wise men of Babylon; ¹⁵ he said to Ar'ioch, the king's captain, “Why is the decree of the king so severe?” Then Ar'ioch made the matter known to Daniel. ¹⁶ And Daniel went in and besought the king to appoint him a time, that he might show to the king the interpretation.

¹⁷ Then Daniel went to his house and made the matter known to Hanani'ah, Mish'a-el, and Azari'ah, his companions, ¹⁸ and told them to seek mercy of the God of heaven concerning this mystery, so that Daniel and his companions might not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. ¹⁹ Then the mystery was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

²⁰ Daniel said:

“Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever, to whom belong wisdom and might.

²¹ He changes times and seasons; he removes kings and sets up kings; he gives wisdom to the wise and knowledge to those who have understanding;

²² he reveals deep and mysterious things; he knows what is in the darkness, and the light dwells with him.

²³ To thee, O God of my fathers, I give thanks and praise, for thou hast given me wisdom and strength, and hast now made known to me what we asked of thee, for thou hast made known to us the king's matter.”

²⁴ Therefore Daniel went in to Ar'ioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and said thus to him, “Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon; bring me in before the king, and I will show the king the interpretation.”

²⁵ Then Ar'ioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus to him: “I have found among the exiles from Judah a man who can make known to the king the interpretation.” ²⁶ The king said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, “Are you able to make known to me the dream that I have seen and its interpretation?” ²⁷ Daniel answered the king, “No wise men, enchanters, magicians, or astrologers can show to the king the mystery which the king has asked, ²⁸ but there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries, and he has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter days. Your dream and the visions of your head as you lay in bed are these:

²⁹ To you, O king, as you lay in bed came thoughts of what would be hereafter, and he who reveals mysteries made known to you what is to be. ³⁰ But as for me, not because of any wisdom that I have more than all the living has this mystery been revealed to me, but in order that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your mind.

fine gold, its breast and arms of silver, its belly and thighs of bronze,³³ its legs of iron, its feet partly of iron and partly of clay.³⁴ As you looked, a stone was cut out by no human hand, and it smote the image on its feet of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces;³⁵ then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold, all together were broken in pieces, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away, so that not a trace of them could be found. But the stone that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

³⁶ "This was the dream; now we will tell the king its interpretation.³⁷ You, O king, the king of kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, and the might, and the glory,³⁸ and into whose hand he has given, wherever they dwell, the sons of men, the beasts of the field, and the birds of the air, making you rule over them all—you are the head of gold.³⁹ After you shall arise another kingdom inferior to you, and yet a third kingdom of bronze, which shall rule over all the earth.⁴⁰ And there shall be a fourth kingdom, strong as iron, because iron breaks to pieces and shatters all things; and like iron which crushes, it shall break and crush all these.⁴¹ And as you saw the feet and toes partly of potter's clay and partly of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but some of the firmness of iron shall be in it, just as you saw iron mixed with the miry clay.⁴² And as the toes of the feet were partly iron and partly clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly brittle.⁴³ As you saw the iron mixed with miry clay, so they will mix with one another in marriage,^b but they will not hold together, just as iron does not mix with clay.⁴⁴ And in the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed, nor shall its sovereignty be left to another people. It shall break in pieces all these kingdoms and bring them to an end, and it shall stand for ever;⁴⁵ just as you saw that a stone was cut from a mountain by no human hand, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold. A great God has made known to the king what shall be hereafter. The dream is certain, and its interpretation sure."

⁴⁶ Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and did homage to Babel, and commanded that an offering and incense be offered up to him.⁴⁷ The king said to Daniel, "Truly, your God is God of gods and Lord of kings, and a revealer of mysteries, for you have been able to reveal this mystery."⁴⁸ Then the king gave Daniel high honors and many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief prefect over all the wise men of Babylon.⁴⁹ Daniel made request of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel remained at the king's court.

3 King Nebuchadnezzar made an image of gold, whose height was sixty cubits and its breadth six cubits. He set it up on the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.² Then King Nebuchadnezzar sent to assemble the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the justices, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces to come to the dedication of the image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.³ Then the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the justices, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces, were assembled for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.⁴ And the herald proclaimed aloud, "You are commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages,⁵ that when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, you are to fall down and worship the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up;⁶ and whoever does not fall down and worship shall immediately be cast into a burning fiery furnace."⁷ Therefore, as soon as all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, all the peoples, nations, and languages fell down and worshiped the golden image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

8 Therefore at that time certain Chaldeans came forward and maliciously accused the Jews. ⁹ They said to King Nebuchadnezzar, "O king, live for ever! ¹⁰ You, O king, have made a decree, that every man who hears the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image; ¹¹ and whoever does not fall down and worship shall be cast into a burning fiery furnace. ¹² There are certain Jews whom you have appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. These men, O king, pay no heed to you; they do not serve your gods or worship the golden image which you have set up."

13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in furious rage commanded that Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego be brought. Then they brought these men before the king. ¹⁴ Nebuchadnezzar said to them, "Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you do not serve my gods or worship the golden image which I have set up? ¹⁵ Now if you are ready when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, to fall down and worship the image which I have made, well and good; but if you do not worship, you shall immediately be cast into a burning fiery furnace; and who is the god that will deliver you out of my hands?"

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, "O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter. ¹⁷ If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of your hand, O king." ¹⁸ But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the golden image which you have set up."

19 Then Nebuchadnezzar was full of fury, and the expression of his face was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He ordered the furnace heated seven times more than it was wont to be heated. ²⁰ And he ordered certain mighty men of his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. ²¹ Then these men were bound in their mantles,^d their tunics,^d their hats, and their other garments, and they were cast into the burning fiery furnace. ²² Because the king's order was strict and the furnace very hot, the flame of the fire slew those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. ²³ And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell bound into the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then King Nebuchadnezzar was astonished and rose up in haste. He said to his counselors, "Did we not cast three men bound into the fire?" They answered the king, "True, O king." ²⁵ He answered, "But I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they are not hurt; and the appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods."

26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the door of the burning fiery furnace and said, "Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come here!" Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out from the fire. ²⁷ And the satraps, the prefects, the governors, and the king's counselors gathered together and saw that the fire had not had any power over the bodies of those men; the hair of their heads was not singed, their mantles^d were not harmed, and no smell of fire had come upon them. ²⁸ Nebuchadnezzar said, "Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel and delivered his servants, who trusted in him, and set at nought the king's command, and yielded up their bodies rather than serve and worship any god except their own God. ²⁹ Therefore I make a decree: Any people, nation, or language that speaks anything against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego shall be torn limb from limb, and their houses laid in ruins; for there is no other god who is able to deliver in this way." ³⁰ Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

4 King Nebuchadnezzar to all peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you! ² It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has wrought toward me.

³ How great are his signs, how mighty his wonders!

His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

⁴ I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at ease in my house and prospering in my palace. ⁵ I had a dream which made me afraid; as I lay in bed the fancies and the visions of my head alarmed me.

⁶ Therefore I made a decree that all the wise men of Babylon should be brought before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream.

⁷ Then the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers came in; and I told them the dream, but they could not make known to me its interpretation.

⁸ At last Daniel came in before me—he who was named Belteshazzar after the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods⁹—and I told him the dream, saying, ⁹ “O Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods⁹ is in you, that no mystery is difficult for you, here is⁴ the dream which I saw; tell me its interpretation.

¹⁰ The visions of my head as I lay in bed were these: I saw, and behold, a tree in the midst of the earth; and its height was great. ¹¹ The tree grew and became strong, and its top reached to heaven, and it was visible to the end of the whole earth. ¹² Its leaves were fair and its fruit abundant, and in it was food for all. The beasts of the field found shade under it, and the birds of the air dwelt in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it.

¹³ “I saw in the visions of my head as I lay in bed, and behold, a watcher, a holy one, came down from heaven. ¹⁴ He cried aloud and said thus, ‘Hew down the tree and cut off its branches, strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit; let the beasts flee from under it and the birds from its branches.’ ¹⁵ But leave the stump of its roots in the earth, bound with a band of iron and bronze, amid the tender grass of the field. Let him be wet with the dew of heaven; let his lot be with the beasts in the grass of the earth; ¹⁶ let his mind be changed from a man's, and let a beast's mind be given to him; and let seven times pass over him. ¹⁷ The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, the decision by the word of the holy ones, to the end that the living may know that the Most High rules the kingdom of men, and gives it to whom he will, and sets over it the lowliest of men.’ ¹⁸ This dream I, King Nebuchadnezzar, saw. And you, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, because all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation, but you are able, for the spirit of the holy gods⁹ is in you.”

¹⁹ Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was dismayed for a moment, and his thoughts alarmed him. The king said, “Belteshazzar, let not the dream or the interpretation alarm you.” Belteshazzar answered, “My lord, may the dream be for those who hate you and its interpretation for your enemies! ²⁰ The tree you saw, which grew and became strong, so that its top reached to heaven, and it was visible to the end of the whole earth; ²¹ whose leaves were fair and its fruit abundant, and in which was food for all; under which beasts of the field found shade, and in whose branches the birds of the air dwelt—²² it is you, O king, who have grown and become strong. Your greatness has grown and reaches to heaven, and your dominion to the ends of the earth. ²³ And whereas the king saw a watcher, a holy one, coming down from heaven and saying, ‘Hew down the tree and destroy it, but leave the stump of its roots in the earth, bound with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field; and let him be wet with the dew of heaven; and let his lot be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him’; ²⁴ this is the interpretation, O king: It is a decree of the Most High, which has come upon my lord the king, ²⁵ that you shall be driven from among men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; you shall be made to eat grass like an ox, and you shall be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over you, till you know that the Most High rules the kingdom of men, and gives it to whom he will. ²⁶And as it was commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree, your kingdom shall be sure for you from the time that you know that Heaven rules. ²⁷Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you; break off your sins by practicing righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the oppressed, that there may perhaps be a lengthening of your tranquillity."

²⁸All this came upon King Nebuchadnezzar. ²⁹At the end of twelve months he was walking on the roof of the royal palace of Babylon, ³⁰and the king said, "Is not this great Babylon, which I have built by my mighty power as a royal residence and for the glory of my majesty?" ³¹While the words were still in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, "O King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken: The kingdom has departed from you, ³²and you shall be driven from among men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; and you shall be made to eat grass like an ox; and seven times shall pass over you, until you have learned that the Most High rules the kingdom of men and gives it to whom he will."

³³Immediately the word was fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar. He was driven from among men, and ate grass like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven till his hair grew as long as eagles' feathers, and his nails were like birds' claws.

³⁴At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted my eyes to heaven, and my reason returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and praised and honored him who lives for ever;

for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom endures from generation to generation;

³⁵all the inhabitants of the earth are accounted as nothing;

and he does according to his will in the host of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth;

and none can stay his hand or say to him, "What doest thou?"

³⁶At the same time my reason returned to me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and splendor returned to me. My counselors and my lords sought me, and I was established in my kingdom, and still more greatness was added to me. ³⁷Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven; for all his works are right and his ways are just; and those who walk in pride he is able to abase.

5 King Belshazzar made a great feast for a thousand of his lords, and drank wine in front of the thousand.

²Belshazzar, when he tasted the wine, commanded that the vessels of gold and of silver which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple in Jerusalem be brought, that the king and his lords, his wives, and his concubines might drink from them.

³Then they brought in the golden and silver vessels which had been taken out of the temple, the house of God in Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives, and his concubines drank from them. ⁴They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold and silver, bronze, iron, wood, and stone.

⁵Immediately the fingers of a man's hand appeared and wrote on the plaster of the wall of the king's palace, opposite the lampstand; and the king saw the hand as it wrote. ⁶Then the king's color changed, and his thoughts alarmed him; his limbs gave way, and his knees knocked together. ⁷The king cried aloud to bring in the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers. The king said to the wise men of Babylon, "Whoever reads this writing, and shows me its interpretation, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom." ⁸Then all the king's wise men came in, but they could not read the writing or make known to the king the interpretation. ⁹Then King Belshazzar was greatly alarmed, and his color changed; and his lords were perplexed.

¹⁰The queen, because of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquetting hall; and the queen said, "O king, live for ever! Let not your thoughts alarm you or your color change. ¹¹There is in your kingdom a man in whom is the spirit of the holy gods.^k In the days of your father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him, and King Nebuchadnezzar, your father, made him chief of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and astrologers,¹² because an excellent spirit, knowledge, and understanding to interpret dreams, explain riddles, and solve problems were found in this Daniel, whom the king named Belshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation."

^lTheodotion Vg: Aram golden vessels ^kOr Spirit of the holy God

13 Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king said to Daniel, "You are that Daniel, one of the exiles of Judah, whom the king my father brought from Judah.¹⁴ I have heard of you that the spirit of the holy gods⁴ is in you, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom are found in you.¹⁵ Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me to read this writing and make known to me its interpretation; but they could not show the interpretation of the matter.¹⁶ But I have heard that you can give interpretations and solve problems. Now if you can read the writing and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom."

17 Then Daniel answered before the king, "Let your gifts be for yourself, and give your rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing to the king and make known to him the interpretation.¹⁸ O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father kingship and greatness and glory and majesty;¹⁹ and because of the greatness that he gave him, all peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him; whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down.²⁰ But when his heart was lifted up and his spirit was hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and his glory was taken from him;²¹ he was driven from among men, and his mind was made like that of a beast, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed grass like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, until he knew that the Most High God rules the kingdom of men, and sets over it whom he will.²² And you his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this,²³ but you have lifted up yourself against the Lord of heaven; and the vessels of his house have been brought in before you, and you and your lords, your wives, and your concubines have drunk wine from them; and you have praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which do not see or hear or know, but the God in whose hand is your breath, and whose are all your ways, you have not honored.

24 "Then from his presence the hand was sent, and this writing was inscribed.²⁵ And this is the writing that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, and PARSIN.²⁶ This is the interpretation of the matter: MENE, God has numbered the days of your kingdom and brought it to an end;²⁷ TEKEL, you have been weighed in the balances and found wanting;²⁸ PERES, your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians."

29 Then Belshazzar commanded, and Daniel was clothed with purple, a chain of gold was put about his neck, and proclamation was made concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 That very night Belshazzar the Chaldean king was slain.³¹ And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about sixty-two years old.

6 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty satraps, to be throughout the whole kingdom;² and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one, to whom these satraps should give account, so that the king might suffer no loss.³ Then this Daniel became distinguished above all the other presidents and satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king planned to set him over the whole kingdom.⁴ Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find a ground for complaint against Daniel with regard to the kingdom; but they could find no ground for complaint or any fault, because he was faithful, and no error or fault was found in him.⁵ Then these men said, "We shall not find any ground for complaint against this Daniel unless we find it in connection with the law of his God."

¹ Aram repeats the king your father ^k Or Spirit of the holy God

6 Then these presidents and satraps came by agreement^m to the king and said to him, "O King Darius, live for ever! ⁷All the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects and the satraps, the counselors and the governors are agreed that the king should establish an ordinance and enforce an interdict, that whoever makes petition to any god or man for thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions. ⁸ Now, O king, establish the interdict and sign the document, so that it cannot be changed, according to the law of the Medes and the Persians, which cannot be revoked." ⁹ Therefore King Darius signed the document and interdict.

10 When Daniel knew that the document had been signed, he went to his house where he had windows in his upper chamber open toward Jerusalem; and he got down upon his knees three times a day and prayed and gave thanks before his God, as he had done previously. ¹¹ Then these men came by agreement^m and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. ¹² Then they came near and said before the king, concerning the interdict, "O king! Did you not sign an interdict, that any man who makes petition to any god or man within thirty days except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?" The king answered, "The thing stands fast, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be revoked." ¹³ Then they answered before the king, "That Daniel, who is one of the exiles from Judah, pays no heed to you, O king, or the interdict you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day."

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, was much distressed, and set his mind to deliver Daniel; and he labored till the sun went down to rescue him. ¹⁵ Then these men came by agreement^m to the king, and said to the king, "Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians that no interdict or ordinance which the king establishes can be changed."

16 Then the king commanded, and Daniel was brought and cast into the den of lions. The king said to Daniel, "May your God, whom you serve continually, deliver you!" ¹⁷ And a stone was brought and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet and with the signet of his lords, that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. ¹⁸ Then the king went to his palace, and spent the night fasting; no diversions were brought to him, and sleep fled from him.

19 Then, at break of day, the king arose and went in haste to the den of lions. ²⁰ When he came near to the den where Daniel was, he cried out in a tone of anguish and said to Daniel, "O Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been able to deliver you from the lions?" ²¹ Then Daniel said to the king, "O king, live for ever! ²² My God sent his angel and shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me, because I was found blameless before him; and also before you, O king, I have done no wrong." ²³ Then the king was exceedingly glad, and commanded that Daniel be taken up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no kind of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God. ²⁴ And the king commanded, and those men who had accused Daniel were brought and cast into the den of lions—they, their children, and their wives; and before they reached the bottom of the den the lions overpowered them and broke all their bones in pieces.

25 Then King Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth: "Peace be multiplied to you. ²⁶ I make a decree, that in all my royal dominion men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel,

for he is the living God,
enduring for ever;
his kingdom shall never be destroyed,
and his dominion shall be to the end.

²⁷ He delivers and rescues, he works signs and wonders
in heaven and on earth,
he who has saved Daniel from the power of the lions."

28 So this Daniel prospered during the reign of Darius and the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

6.22: 2 Tim 4.17.

7 In the first year of Belshaz'zar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head as he lay in his bed. Then he wrote down the dream, and told the sum of the matter. ² Daniel said, "I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of heaven were stirring up the great sea. ³ And four great beasts came up out of the sea, different from one another. ⁴ The first was like a lion and had eagles' wings. Then as I looked its wings were plucked off, and it was lifted up from the ground and made to stand upon two feet like a man; and the mind of a man was given to it. ⁵ And behold, another beast, a second one, like a bear. It was raised up on one side; it had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth; and it was told, 'Arise, devour much flesh.' ⁶ After this I looked, and lo, another, like a leopard, with four wings of a bird on its back; and the beast had four heads; and dominion was given to it. ⁷ After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, terrible and dreadful and exceedingly strong; and it had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. ⁸ I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots; and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things. ⁹ As I looked, thrones were placed and one that was ancient of days took his seat;

his raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool;

his throne was fiery flames,
its wheels were burning fire.

¹⁰ A stream of fire issued and came forth from before him;
a thousand thousands served him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him;
the court sat in judgment,
and the books were opened.

¹¹ I looked then because of the sound of the great words which the horn was speaking. And as I looked, the beast was slain, and its body destroyed and given over to be burned with fire. ¹² As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. ¹³ I saw in the night visions, and behold, with the clouds of heaven there came one like a son of man, and he came to the Ancient of Days and was presented before him.

¹⁴ And to him was given dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples, nations, and languages
should serve him;
his dominion is an everlasting dominion,
which shall not pass away, and his kingdom one that shall not be destroyed.

¹⁵ "As for me, Daniel, my spirit within me was anxious and the visions of my head alarmed me. ¹⁶ I approached one of those who stood there and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made known to me the interpretation of the things. ¹⁷ "These four great beasts are four kings who shall arise out of the earth. ¹⁸ But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, for ever and ever."

¹⁹ "Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was different from all the rest, exceedingly terrible, with its teeth of iron and claws of bronze; and which devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; ²⁰ and concerning the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn which came up and before which three of them fell, the horn which had eyes and a mouth that spoke great things, and which seemed greater than its fellows. ²¹ As I looked, this horn made war with the saints, and prevailed over them, ²² until the Ancient of Days came, and judgment was given for the saints of the Most High, and the time came when the saints received the kingdom.

²³ "Thus he said: 'As for the fourth beast,

there shall be a fourth kingdom on earth, and shall think to change the times and the law;

and they shall be given into his hand for a time, two times, and half a time.

and his dominion shall be taken away,
to be consumed and destroyed to the end.

²⁷ And the kingdom and the dominion and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High;
their kingdom shall be an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey them.⁷

²⁸ "Here is the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my thoughts greatly alarmed me, and my color changed; but I kept the matter in my mind."⁸

8 In the third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a vision appeared to me, Daniel, after that which appeared to me at the first. ²And I saw in the vision; and when I saw, I was in Susa the capital, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision, and I was at the river U'lai. ³I raised my eyes and saw, and behold, a ram standing on the bank of the river. It had two horns; and both horns were high, but one was higher than the other, and the higher one came up last. ⁴I saw the ram charging westward and northward and southward; no beast could stand before him, and there was no one who could rescue from his power; he did as he pleased and magnified himself.

⁵ As I was considering, behold, a he-goat came from the west across the face of the whole earth, without touching the ground; and the goat had a conspicuous horn between his eyes. ⁶ He came to the ram with the two horns, which I had seen standing on the bank of the river, and he ran at him in his mighty wrath. ⁷ I saw him come close to the ram, and he was enraged against him and struck the ram and broke his two horns; and the ram had no power to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground and trampled upon him; and there was no one who could rescue the ram from his power. ⁸ Then the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly; but when he was strong, the great horn was broken, and instead of it there came up four conspicuous horns toward the four winds of heaven.

⁹ Out of one of them came forth a little horn, which grew exceedingly great toward the south, toward the east, and toward the glorious land. ¹⁰ It grew great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled upon them. ¹¹ It magnified itself, even up to the Prince of the host; and the continual burnt offering was taken away from him, and the place of his sanctuary was overthrown. ¹² And the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and truth was cast down to the ground, and the horn acted and prospered. ¹³ Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to the one that spoke, "For how long is the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, the transgression that makes desolate, and the giving over of the sanctuary and host to be trampled under foot?" ¹⁴ And he said to him, "For two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then the sanctuary shall be restored to its rightful state."

make this man understand the vision."¹⁷ So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was frightened and fell upon my face. But he said to me, "Understand, O son of man, that the vision is for the time of the end."

18 As he was speaking to me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face to the ground; but he touched me and set me on my feet. 19 He said, "Behold, I will make known to you what shall be at the latter end of the indignation; for it pertains to the appointed time of the end. 20 As for the ram which you saw with the two horns, these are the kings of Media and Persia. 21 And the he-goat^a is the king of Greece; and the great horn between his eyes is the first king. 22 As for the horn that was broken, in place of which four others arose, four kingdoms shall arise from his^b nation, but not with his power. 23 And at the latter end of their rule, when the transgressors have reached their full measure, a king of bold countenance, one who understands riddles, shall arise. 24 His power shall be great,^c and he shall cause fearful destruction, and shall succeed in what he does, and destroy mighty men and the people of the saints. 25 By his cunning he shall make deceit prosper under his hand, and in his own mind he shall magnify himself. Without warning he shall destroy many; and he shall even rise up against the Prince of princes; but, by no human hand, he shall be broken. 26 The vision of the evenings and the mornings which has been told is true; but seal up the vision, for it pertains to many days hence."

27 And I, Daniel, was overcome and lay sick for some days; then I rose and went about the king's business; but I was appalled by the vision and did not understand it.

9 In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasu-e-rus, by birth a Mede, who became king over the realm of the Chaldeans—² in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, perceived in the books the number of years which, according to the word of the LORD to Jeremiah the prophet, must pass before the end of the desolations of Jerusalem, namely, seventy years.

3 Then I turned my face to the Lord

God, seeking him by prayer and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes. 4 I prayed to the LORD my God and made confession, saying, "O Lord, the great and terrible God, who keepest covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, 5 we have sinned and done wrong and acted wickedly and rebelled, turning aside from thy commandments and ordinances; 6 we have not listened to thy servants the prophets, who spoke in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. 7 To thee, O Lord, belongs righteousness, but to us confusion of face, as at this day, to the men of Judah, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, those that are near and those that are far away, in all the lands to which thou hast driven them, because of the treachery which they have committed against thee. 8 To us, O Lord, belongs confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee. 9 To the Lord our God belong mercy and forgiveness; because we have rebelled against him, 10 and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God by following his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. 11 All Israel has transgressed thy law and turned aside, refusing to obey thy voice. And the curse and oath which are written in the law of Moses the servant of God have been poured out upon us, because we have sinned against him. 12 He has confirmed his words, which he spoke against us and against our rulers who ruled us, by bringing upon us a great calamity; for under the whole heaven there has not been done the like of what has been done against Jerusalem. 13 As it is written in the law of Moses, all this calamity has come upon us, yet we have not entreated the favor of the LORD our God, turning from our iniquities and giving heed to thy truth. 14 Therefore the LORD has kept ready the calamity and has brought it upon us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all the works which he has done, and we have not obeyed his voice. 15 And now, O Lord our God, who didst bring thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast made thee a name, as at this day, we have sinned, we have done wickedly. ¹⁶ O Lord, according to all thy righteous acts, let thy anger and thy wrath turn away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy hill; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people have become a byword among all who are round about us. ¹⁷ Now therefore, O our God, hearken to the prayer of thy servant and to his supplications, and for thy own sake, O Lord, ¹⁸ cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary, which is desolate. ¹⁸ O my God, incline thy ear and hear; open thy eyes and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name; for we do not present our supplications before thee on the ground of our righteousness, but on the ground of thy great mercy. ¹⁹ O LORD, hear; O LORD, forgive; O LORD, give heed and act; delay not, for thy own sake, O my God, because thy city and thy people are called by thy name."

²⁰ While I was speaking and praying, confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy hill of my God; ²¹ while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the first, came to me in swift flight at the time of the evening sacrifice. ²² He came" and he said to me, "O Daniel, I have now come out to give you wisdom and understanding. ²³ At the beginning of your supplications a word went forth, and I have come to tell it to you, for you are greatly beloved; therefore consider the word and understand the vision.

²⁴ "Seventy weeks of years are decreed concerning your people and your holy city, to finish the transgression, to put an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal both vision and prophet, and to anoint a most holy place." ²⁵ Know therefore and understand that from the going forth of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time. ²⁶ And after the sixty-two weeks, an anointed one shall be cut off, and shall have nothing; and the people of the prince who is to come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its" end shall come with a flood, and to the end there shall be war; desolations are decreed. ²⁷ And he shall make a strong covenant with many for one week; and for half of the week he shall cause sacrifice and offering to cease; and upon the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator."

10 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a word was revealed to Daniel, who was named Belteshazzar. And the word was true, and it was a great conflict. And he understood the word and had understanding of the vision.

² In those days I, Daniel, was mourning for three weeks. ³ I ate no delicacies, no meat or wine entered my mouth, nor did I anoint myself at all, for the full three weeks. ⁴ On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was standing on the bank of the great river, that is, the Tigris, ⁵ I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, a man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with gold of Uphaz. ⁶ His body was like beryl, his face like the appearance of lightning, his eyes like flaming torches, his arms and legs like the gleam of burnished bronze, and the sound of his words like the noise of a multitude. ⁷ And I, Daniel, alone saw the vision, for the men who were with me did not see the vision, but a great trembling fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves. ⁸ So I was left alone and saw this great vision, and no strength was left in me; my radiant appearance was fearfully changed, and I retained no strength. ⁹ Then I heard the sound of his words; and when I heard the sound of his words, I fell on my face in a deep sleep with my face to the ground.

¹⁰ And behold, a hand touched me and set me trembling on my hands and knees. ¹¹ And he said to me, "O Daniel, man greatly beloved, give heed to the words that I speak to you, and stand upright, for now I have been sent to you." While he was speaking this word to me, I stood up trembling. ¹² Then he said to me, "Fear not, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your mind to understand and humbled yourself before your God, your words have been heard, and I have come because of your words. ¹³ The prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; but Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, so I left him there with the prince of the kingdom of Persia" ¹⁴ and came to make you understand what is to befall your people in the latter days. For the vision is for days yet to come."

¹⁵ When he had spoken to me according to these words, I turned my face toward the ground and was dumb. ¹⁶ And behold, one in the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips; then I opened my mouth and spoke. I said to him who stood before me, "O my lord, by reason of the vision pains have come upon me, and I retain no strength. ¹⁷ How can my lord's servant talk with my lord? For now no strength remains in me, and no breath is left in me."

¹⁸ Again one having the appearance of a man touched me and strengthened me. ¹⁹ And he said, "O man greatly beloved, fear not, peace be with you; be strong and of good courage." And when he spoke to me, I was strengthened and said, "Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me." ²⁰ Then he said, "Do you know why I have come to you? But now I will return to fight against the prince of Persia; and when I am through with him, lo, the prince of Greece will come. ²¹ But I will tell you what is inscribed in the book of truth: there is none who contends by my side against these except Michael, your 11 prince. ¹ And as for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.

² "And now I will show you the truth. Behold, three more kings shall arise in Persia; and a fourth shall be far richer than all of them; and when he has become strong through his riches, he shall stir up all against the kingdom of Greece. ³ Then a mighty king shall arise, who shall rule with great dominion and do according to his will. ⁴ And when he has arisen, his kingdom shall be broken and divided toward the four winds of heaven, but not to his posterity, nor according to the dominion with which he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up and go to others besides these.

⁵ "Then the king of the south shall be strong, but one of his princes shall be stronger than he and his dominion shall be a great dominion. ⁶ After some years they shall make an alliance, and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make peace; but she shall not retain the strength of her arm, and he and his offspring shall not endure; but she shall be given up, and her attendants, her child, and he who got possession of⁷ her.

fortified city. And the forces of the south shall not stand, or even his picked troops, for there shall be no strength to stand.¹⁶ But he who comes against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him; and he shall stand in the glorious land, and all of it shall be in his power.¹⁷ He shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and he shall bring terms of peace^b and perform them. He shall give him the daughter of women to destroy the kingdom;^c but it shall not stand or be to his advantage.¹⁸ Afterward he shall turn his face to the coastlands, and shall take many of them; but a commander shall put an end to his insolence; indeed^d he shall turn his insolence back upon him.¹⁹ Then he shall turn his face back toward the fortresses of his own land; but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found.

20 "Then shall arise in his place one who shall send an exactor of tribute through the glory of the kingdom; but within a few days he shall be broken, neither in anger nor in battle.²¹ In his place shall arise a contemptible person to whom royal majesty has not been given; he shall come in without warning and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.²² Armies shall be utterly swept away before him and broken, and the prince of the covenant also.²³ And from the time that an alliance is made with him he shall act deceitfully; and he shall become strong with a small people.²⁴ Without warning he shall come into the richest parts^e of the province; and he shall do what neither his fathers nor his fathers' fathers have done, scattering among them plunder, spoil, and goods. He shall devise plans against strongholds, but only for a time.²⁵ And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall wage war with an exceedingly great and mighty army; but he shall not stand, for plots shall be devised against him.²⁶ Even those who eat his rich food shall be his undoing; his army shall be swept away, and many shall fall down slain.²⁷ And as for the two kings, their minds shall be bent on mischief; they shall speak lies at the same table, but to no avail; for the end is yet to be at the time appointed.²⁸ And he shall return to his land with great substance, but his heart shall be set against the holy covenant. And he shall work his will, and return to his own land.

29 "At the time appointed he shall return and come into the south; but it shall not be this time as it was before.³⁰ For ships of Kittim shall come against him, and he shall be afraid and withdraw, and shall turn back and be enraged and take action against the holy covenant. He shall turn back and give heed to those who forsake the holy covenant.³¹ Forces from him shall appear and profane the temple and fortress, and shall take away the continual burnt offering. And they shall set up the abomination that makes desolate.³² He shall seduce with flattery those who violate the covenant; but the people who know their God shall stand firm and take action.³³ And those among the people who are wise shall make many understand, though they shall fall by sword and flame, by captivity and plunder, for some days.³⁴ When they fall, they shall receive a little help. And many shall join themselves to them with flattery;³⁵ and some of those who are wise shall fall, to refine and to cleanse them^f and to make them white, until the time of the end, for it is yet for the time appointed.

36 "And the king shall do according to his will; he shall exalt himself and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak astonishing things against the God of gods. He shall prosper till the indignation is accomplished; for what is determined shall be done.³⁷ He shall give no heed to the gods of his fathers, or to the one beloved by women; he shall not give heed to any other god, for he shall magnify himself above all.³⁸ He shall honor the god of fortresses instead of these; a god whom his fathers did not know he shall honor with gold and silver, with precious stones and costly gifts.³⁹ He shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a foreign god; those who acknowledge him he shall magnify with honor. He shall make them rulers over many and shall divide the land for a price.

40 "At the time of the end the king of the south shall attack⁹ him; but the king of the north shall rush upon him like a whirlwind, with chariots and horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall come into countries and shall overflow and pass through.⁴¹ He shall come into the glorious land. And tens of thousands shall fall, but these shall be delivered out of his hand: Edom and Moab and the main part of the Ammonites.⁴² He shall stretch out his hand against the countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.⁴³ He shall become ruler of the treasures of gold and of silver, and all the precious things of Egypt; and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall follow in his train.⁴⁴ But tidings from the east and the north shall alarm him, and he shall go forth with great fury to exterminate and utterly destroy many.⁴⁵ And he shall pitch his palatial tents between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, with none to help him.

12 "At that time shall arise Michael, the great prince who has charge of your people. And there shall be a time of trouble, such as never has been since there was a nation till that time; but at that time your people shall be delivered, every one whose name shall be found written in the book.² And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.³ And those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the firmament; and those who turn many to righteousness, like the stars for ever and ever.⁴ But you, Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, until the time of the end. Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall increase."

5 Then I Daniel looked, and behold, two others stood, one on this bank of the stream and one on that bank of the stream.⁶ And I^h said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the stream, "How long shall it be till the end of these wonders?"⁷ The man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the stream, raised his right hand and his left hand toward heaven; and I heard him swear by him who lives for ever that it would be for a time, two times, and half a time; and that when the shattering of the power of the holy people comes to an end all these things would be accomplished.⁸ I heard, but I did not understand. Then I said, "O my lord, what shall be the issue of these things?"⁹ He said, "Go your way, Daniel, for the words are shut up and sealed until the time of the end.¹⁰ Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand; but those who are wise shall understand.¹¹ And from the time that the continual burnt offering is taken away, and the abomination that makes desolate is set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.¹² Blessed is he who waits and comes to the thousand three hundred and thirty-five days.¹³ But go your way till the end; and you shall rest, and shall stand in your allotted place at the end of the days."

THE BOOK OF

HOSEA

1 The word of the LORD that came to Hose'a the son of Be-e'ri, in the days of Uzzi'ah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezeki'ah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jerobo'am the son of Jo'ash, king of Israel.

2 When the LORD first spoke through

Hose'a, the LORD said to Hose'a, "Go, take to yourself a wife of harlotry and have children of harlotry, for the land commits great harlotry by forsaking the LORD."³ So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Dibla'im, and she conceived and bore him a son.

4 And the LORD said to him, "Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will punish the house of Jehu for the blood of Jezreel, and I will put an end to the kingdom of the house of Israel. ⁵And on that day, I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel."

6 She conceived again and bore a daughter. And the LORD said to him, "Call her name Not pitied, for I will no more have pity on the house of Israel, to forgive them at all. ⁷But I will have pity on the house of Judah, and I will deliver them by the LORD their God; I will not deliver them by bow, nor by sword, nor by war, nor by horses, nor by horsemen."

8 When she had weaned Not pitied, she conceived and bore a son. ⁹And the LORD said, "Call his name Not my people, for you are not my people and I am not your God."^a

10^b Yet the number of the people of Israel shall be like the sand of the sea, which can be neither measured nor numbered; and in the place where it was said to them, "You are not my people," it shall be said to them, "Sons of the living God."¹¹ And the people of Judah and the people of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint for themselves one head; and they shall go up from the land, for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

2 "Say to your brother,^d "My people," and to your sister,^e "She has obtained pity."

² "Plead with your mother, plead—for she is not my wife, and I am not her husband—that she put away her harlotry from her face,
and her adultery from between her breasts;

³ lest I strip her naked and make her as in the day she was born,
and make her like a wilderness,
and set her like a parched land,
and slay her with thirst.

⁴ Upon her children also I will have no pity,
because they are children of har-lotry.

⁵ For their mother has played the
harlot;

she that conceived them has acted shamefully.

For she said, 'I will go after my
lovers,
who give me my bread and my
water,
my wool and my flax, my oil and my drink.'

⁶ Therefore I will hedge up her way with thorns;
and I will build a wall against her,
so that she cannot find her paths.

⁷ She shall pursue her lovers, but not overtake them;
and she shall seek them,
but shall not find them.
Then she shall say, 'I will go and return to my first husband, for it was better with me then than now.'

⁸ And she did not know that it was I who gave her the grain, the wine, and the oil, and who lavished upon her silver and gold which they used for Ba'al.

⁹ Therefore I will take back my grain in its time,
and my wine in its season;
and I will take away my wool and my flax,
which were to cover her nakedness.

¹⁰ Now I will uncover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and no one shall rescue her out of my hand.

¹¹ And I will put an end to all her mirth, her feasts, her new moons, her sabbaths,
and all her appointed feasts.

¹² And I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees,
of which she said,
'These are my hire,
which my lovers have given me.'
I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall devour them.

¹³ And I will punish her for the feast days of the Ba'als
when she burned incense to them and decked herself with her ring and jewelry,
and went after her lovers,
and forgot me, says the LORD.

¹⁴ "Therefore, behold, I will allure her,

and bring her into the wilderness,
and speak tenderly to her.

15 And there I will give her her vineyards, and make the Valley of Achor a door of hope.

And there she shall answer as in the days of her youth, as at the time when she came out of the land of Egypt.

16 "And in that day, says the LORD, you will call me, 'My husband,' and no longer will you call me, 'My Ba'al.'

17 For I will remove the names of the Ba'als from her mouth, and they shall be mentioned by name no more. 18 And I will make for you^a a covenant on that day with the beasts of the field, the birds of the air, and the creeping things of the ground; and I will abolish^b the bow, the sword, and war from the land; and I will make you lie down in safety.

19 And I will betroth you to me for ever; I will betroth you to me in righteousness and in justice, in steadfast love, and in mercy. 20 I will betroth you to me in faithfulness; and you shall know the LORD.

21 "And in that day, says the LORD,

I will answer the heavens and they shall answer the earth;

22 and the earth shall answer the grain,
the wine, and the oil,
and they shall answer Jezreel;^c

23 and I will sow him^d for myself in the land.

And I will have pity on Not pitied, and I will say to Not my people,

"You are my people";
and he shall say, 'Thou art my God.'

3 And the LORD said to me, "Go again, love a woman who is beloved of a paramour and is an adulteress; even as the LORD loves the people of Israel, though they turn to other gods and love cakes of raisins."² So I bought her for fifteen shekels of silver and a homer and a lethech of barley. ³ And I said to her, "You must dwell as mine for many days; you shall not play the harlot, or belong to another man; so will I also be to you."⁴ For the children of Israel shall dwell many days without king or prince, without sacrifice or pillar, without ephod or teraphim. ⁵ Afterward the children of Israel shall return and seek the LORD their God, and David their king; and they shall come in fear to the LORD and to his goodness in the latter days.

4 Hear the word of the LORD, O people of Israel;

for the LORD has a controversy with the inhabitants of the land.

There is no faithfulness or kindness, and no knowledge of God in the land;

2 there is swearing, lying, killing, stealing, and committing adultery;

they break all bounds and murder follows murder.

3 Therefore the land mourns, and all who dwell in it languish,
and also the beasts of the field,
and the birds of the air;
and even the fish of the sea are taken away.

4 Yet let no one contend, and let none accuse,
for with you is my contention,
O priest.^k

5 You shall stumble by day,
the prophet also shall stumble with you by night;
and I will destroy your mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge;
because you have rejected knowledge,
I reject you from being a priest to me.

And since you have forgotten the law of your God,
I also will forget your children.

7 The more they increased,
the more they sinned against me;
I will change their glory into shame.

8 They feed on the sin of my people;
they are greedy for their iniquity.

9 And it shall be like people, like priest;
I will punish them for their ways,
and requite them for their deeds.

10 They shall eat, but not be satisfied;
they shall play the harlot, but not multiply;
because they have forsaken the LORD to cherish harlotry.

11 Wine and new wine
take away the understanding.

12 My people inquire of a thing of wood,

- and their staff gives them oracles.
For a spirit of harlotry has led them astray, and they have left their God to play the harlot.
- 13 They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains, and make offerings upon the hills,
under oak, poplar, and terebinth, because their shade is good.
- Therefore your daughters play the harlot, and your brides commit adultery.
- 14 I will not punish your daughters when they play the harlot, nor your brides when they commit adultery;
for the men themselves go aside with harlots,
and sacrifice with cult prostitutes,
and a people without understanding shall come to ruin.
- 15 Though you play the harlot, O Israel, let not Judah become guilty.
Enter not into Gilgal,
nor go up to Beth-a'ven, and swear not, "As the LORD lives."
- 16 Like a stubborn heifer, Israel is stubborn;
can the LORD now feed them like a lamb in a broad pasture?
- 17 E'phraim is joined to idols, let him alone.
- 18 A band^l of drunkards, they give themselves to harlotry;
they love shame more than their glory.^m
- 19 A wind has wrapped themⁿ in its wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their altars."
- 5 Hear this, O priests!
Give heed, O house of Israel!
Hearken, O house of the king!
For the judgment pertains to you;
for you have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.
- 2 And they have made deep the pit of Shittim;^p but I will chastise all of them.
- 3 I know E'phraim,
and Israel is not hid from me;
for now, O E'phraim, you have played the harlot, Israel is defiled.
- 4 Their deeds do not permit them to return to their God.
For the spirit of harlotry is within them,
and they know not the LORD.
- 5 The pride of Israel testifies to his face; E'phraim^q shall stumble in his guilt;
Judah also shall stumble with them.
- 6 With their flocks and herds they shall go to seek the LORD,
but they will not find him;
he has withdrawn from them.
- 7 They have dealt faithlessly with the LORD;
for they have borne alien children.
Now the new moon shall devour them with their fields.
- 8 Blow the horn in Gib'e-ah,
the trumpet in Ramah.
Sound the alarm at Beth-a'ven;
tremble,^r O Benjamin!
- 9 E'phraim shall become a desolation
in the day of punishment;
among the tribes of Israel
I declare what is sure.
- 10 The princes of Judah have become like those who remove the landmark;
upon them I will pour out my wrath like water.
- 11 E'phraim is oppressed, crushed in judgment, because he was determined to go after vanity.^s
- 12 Therefore I am like a moth to E'phraim, and like dry rot to the house of Judah.
- 13 When E'phraim saw his sickness, and Judah his wound,
then E'phraim went to Assyria, and sent to the great king.^t
But he is not able to cure you or heal your wound.

15 I will return again to my place,

9 As robbers lie in wait^u for a man, so the priests are banded together;^f
they murder on the way to Shechem, yea, they commit villainy.

10 In the house of Israel I have seen a horrible thing;

E'phraim's harlotry is there, Israel is defiled.

11 For you also, O Judah, a harvest is appointed.

When I would restore the fortunes of my people,

7 ¹ when I would heal Israel, the corruption of E'phraim is revealed,
and the wicked deeds of Samar'ia;
for they deal falsely,
the thief breaks in,
and the bandits raid without.

2 But they do not consider that I remember all their evil works.

Now their deeds encompass them,
they are before my face.

3 By their wickedness they make the king glad,
and the princes by their treachery.

4 They are all adulterers;
they are like a heated oven, whose baker ceases to stir the fire, from the kneading of the dough until it is leavened.

5 On the day of our king the princes became sick with the heat of wine; he stretched out his hand with mockers.

6 For like an oven their hearts burn^v with intrigue;
all night their anger smolders;
in the morning it blazes like a flaming fire.

7 All of them are hot as an oven, and they devour their rulers.
All their kings have fallen;
and none of them calls upon me.

8 E'phraim mixes himself with the peoples;
E'phraim is a cake not turned.

9 Aliens devour his strength,
and he knows it not;
gray hairs are sprinkled upon him,
and he knows it not.

10 The pride of Israel witnesses against
him;
yet they do not return to the LORD
their God,
nor seek him, for all this.

wicked deeds.²
13 Woe to them, for they have strayed
from me!
Destruction to them, for they have rebelled against me!
I would redeem them,
but they speak lies against me.
14 They do not cry to me from the heart, but they wail upon their beds;
for grain and wine they gash themselves,
they rebel against me.
15 Although I trained and strengthened their arms,
yet they devise evil against me.
16 They turn to Ba'al;³
they are like a treacherous bow, their princes shall fall by the sword because of the insolence of their tongue.
This shall be their derision in the land
of Egypt.

8 Set the trumpet to your lips, for^b a vulture is over the house of
the LORD,
because they have broken my covenant,
and transgressed my law.

- 2 To me they cry,
My God, we Israel know thee.
3 Israel has spurned the good;
the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They made kings, but not through
me.
They set up princes, but without my knowledge.
With their silver and gold they made idols
for their own destruction.

- 5 I have^c spurned your calf, O Sammar'ia.
My anger burns against them.
How long will it be till they are pure⁶ in Israel?^d

A workman made it;

it is not God.
The calf of Samar'ia shall be broken to pieces.^e

- 7 For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind.
The standing grain has no heads,
it shall yield no meal;
if it were to yield,
aliens would devour it.
8 Israel is swallowed up; already they are among the nations
as a useless vessel.
9 For they have gone up to Assyria, a wild ass wandering alone;
E'phraim has hired lovers.
10 Though they hire allies among the
nations,
I will soon gather them up.
And they shall cease^f for a little while from anointing^g king and princes.

- 11 Because E'phraim has multiplied altars for sinning,
they have become to him altars for sinning.

- 12 Were I to write for him my laws by ten thousands,
they would be regarded as a strange
thing.

- 13 They love sacrifice;^h
they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the LORD has no delight in
them.
Now he will remember their iniquity,
and punish their sins;
they shall return to Egypt.

- 14 For Israel has forgotten his Maker, and built palaces;
and Judah has multiplied fortified cities;
but I will send a fire upon his cities,
and it shall devour his strongholds.

9 Rejoice not, O Israel!
Exult notⁱ like the peoples;
for you have played the harlot, forsaking your God.
You have loved a harlot's hire upon all threshing floors.

THE BOOK OF

JOEL

- 1 The word of the LORD that came to Jo'el, the son of Pethu'el:
from the house of the LORD.
The priests mourn,
the ministers of the LORD.
- ² Hear this, you aged men, give ear, all inhabitants of the land!
Has such a thing happened in your days, or in the days of your fathers?
¹⁰ The fields are laid waste,
the ground mourns;
because the grain is destroyed,
the wine fails,
the oil languishes.
- ³ Tell your children of it,
and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.
¹¹ Be confounded, O tillers of the soil, wail, O vinedressers,
for the wheat and the barley;
because the harvest of the field has perished.
- ⁴ What the cutting locust left,
the swarming locust has eaten.
What the swarming locust left,
the hopping locust has eaten,
and what the hopping locust left,
the destroying locust has eaten ¹² The vine withers,
the fig tree languishes.
Pomegranate, palm, and apple,
all the trees of the field are withered;
and gladness fails
from the sons of men.
- ⁵ Awake, you drunkards, and weep;
and wail, all you drinkers of wine,
because of the sweet wine,
for it is cut off from your mouth.
¹³ Gird on sackcloth and lament, O priests, wail, O ministers of the altar.
Go in, pass the night in sackcloth,
O ministers of my God!
Because cereal offering and drink offering are withheld from the house of your God.
- ⁶ For a nation has come up against my land, powerful and without number;
its teeth are lions' teeth,
and it has the fangs of a lioness.
¹⁴ Sanctify a fast,
call a solemn assembly.
Gather the elders
and all the inhabitants of the land to the house of the LORD your God:
and cry to the LORD.
- ⁷ It has laid waste my vines,
and splintered my fig trees;
it has stripped off their bark and thrown it down;
their branches are made white.
¹⁵ Alas for the day!
For the day of the LORD is near,
- ⁸ Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the bridegroom of her youth.
- ⁹ The cereal offering and the drink offering are cut off

^f Heb him

14.9: Acts 13.10. 1.6: Rev 9.8.

- and as destruction from the Almighty it comes.
- 16 Is not the food cut off before our eyes, joy and gladness from the house of our God?
- 17 The seed shrivels under the clods,^a the storehouses are desolate; the granaries are ruined because the grain has failed.
- 18 How the beasts groan! The herds of cattle are perplexed because there is no pasture for them; even the flocks of sheep are dismayed.
- 19 Unto thee, O LORD, I cry. For fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and flame has burned all the trees of the field.
- 20 Even the wild beasts cry to thee because the water brooks are dried up, and fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness.
- 2 Blow the trumpet in Zion; sound the alarm on my holy mountain! Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble, for the day of the LORD is coming, it is near, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and thick darkness! Like blackness there is spread upon the mountains a great and powerful people; their like has never been from of old, nor will be again after them through the years of all generations.
- 3 Fire devours before them, and behind them a flame burns. The land is like the garden of Eden before them, but after them a desolate wilderness, and nothing escapes them.
- 4 Their appearance is like the appearance of horses, and like war horses they run.
- 5 As with the rumbling of chariots, they leap on the tops of the mountains, like the crackling of a flame of fire devouring the stubble, like a powerful army drawn up for battle.
- 6 Before them peoples are in anguish, all faces grow pale.
- 7 Like warriors they charge, like soldiers they scale the wall. They march each on his way, they do not swerve^b from their paths.
- 8 They do not jostle one another, each marches in his path; they burst through the weapons and are not halted.
- 9 They leap upon the city, they run upon the walls; they climb up into the houses, they enter through the windows like a thief.
- 10 The earth quakes before them, the heavens tremble. The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining.
- 11 The LORD utters his voice before his army, for his host is exceedingly great; he that executes his word is powerful. For the day of the LORD is great and very terrible; who can endure it?
- 12 "Yet even now," says the LORD, "return to me with all your heart, with fasting, with weeping, and with mourning;
- 13 and rend your hearts and not your garments." Return to the LORD, your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love, and repents of evil.
- 14 Who knows whether he will not turn and repent, and leave a blessing behind him, a cereal offering and a drink offering for the LORD, your God?

 LORD, weep
 and say, "Spare thy people, O LORD, and make not thy heritage a reproach,
 a byword among the nations.
 Why should they say among the
 peoples,
 'Where is their God?'"
- 18 Then the LORD became jealous for his land,
 and had pity on his people.
- 19 The LORD answered and said to his
 people,
 "Behold, I am sending to you grain, wine, and oil,
 and you will be satisfied;

ing.

shake.

But the LORD is a refuge to his people, a stronghold to the people of Israel.

THE BOOK OF

AMOS

1 The words of Amos, who was among the shepherds of Teko'a, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzzi'ah king of Judah and in the days of Jerobo'am the son of Jo'ash, king of Israel, two years^a before the earthquake. ²And he said:

“The LORD roars from Zion, and utters his voice from Jerusalem;
the pastures of the shepherds mourn, and the top of Carmel withers.”

³ Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;^b because they have threshed Gilead with threshing sledges of iron.

⁴ So I will send a fire upon the house of Haz'ael, and it shall devour the strongholds of Ben-ha'dad.

⁵ I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitants from the Valley of Aven,^c and him that holds the scepter from Beth-eden; and the people of Syria shall go into exile to Kir,”
says the LORD.

⁶ Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of Gaza,
and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;^b because they carried into exile a whole people to deliver them up to Edom.

⁷ So I will send a fire upon the wall of Gaza,
and it shall devour her strongholds.

⁸ I will cut off the inhabitants from Ashdod, and him that holds the scepter from Ash'kelon;

I will turn my hand against Ekron; and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish,” says the Lord God.

⁹ Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of Tyre,
and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;^b

because they delivered up a whole people to Edom, and did not remember the covenant of brotherhood.

¹⁰ So I will send a fire upon the wall of Tyre,
and it shall devour her strongholds.”

¹¹ Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of Edom,
and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;^b

because he pursued his brother with the sword, and cast off all pity,
and his anger tore perpetually,
and he kept his wrath^d for ever.

¹² So I will send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the strongholds of Bozrah.”

¹³ Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of the Ammonites,
and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;^b

because they have ripped up women with child in Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

¹⁴ So I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah,
and it shall devour her strongholds,
with shouting in the day of battle,

- 2 Thus says the LORD:
 "For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;"
 because he burned to lime the bones of the king of Edom.
 2 So I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the strongholds of Ker'i-oth, and Moab shall die amid uproar, amid shouting and the sound of the trumpet;
 3 I will cut off the ruler from its midst, and will slay all its princes with him," says the LORD.
- 4 Thus says the LORD:
 "For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;"
 because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, but their lies have led them astray, after which their fathers walked.
 5 So I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the strongholds of Jerusalem."
- 6 Thus says the LORD:
 "For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;"
 because they sell the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes—7 they that trample the head of the poor into the dust of the earth, and turn aside the way of the afflicted;
 a man and his father go in to the same maiden, so that my holy name is profaned; 8 they lay themselves down beside every altar upon garments taken in pledge; and in the house of their God they drink the wine of those who have been fined.
- 9 "Yet I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and who was as strong as the oaks; I destroyed his fruit above, and his roots beneath.
 10 Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.
 11 And I raised up some of your sons for prophets, and some of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not indeed so, O people of Israel?" says the LORD.
- 12 "But you made the Nazirites drink wine, and commanded the prophets, saying, 'You shall not prophesy.' 13 "Behold, I will press you down in your place, as a cart full of sheaves presses down.
 14 Flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not retain his strength, nor shall the mighty save his life;
 15 he who handles the bow shall not stand, and he who is swift of foot shall not save himself, nor shall he who rides the horse save his life;
 16 and he who is stout of heart among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day," says the LORD.
- 3 Hear this word that the LORD has spoken against you, O people of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt:
 2 "You only have I known of all the families of the earth; therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities.
 3 "Do two walk together, unless they have made an appointment?

Does a young lion cry out from his den,

- 5 Does a bird fall in a snare on the
earth,
when there is no trap for it?
Does a snare spring up from the
ground,
when it has taken nothing?
- 6 Is a trumpet blown in a city,
and the people are not afraid?
Does evil befall a city,
unless the LORD has done it?
- 7 Surely the Lord GOD does nothing, without revealing his secret to his servants the prophets.
- 8 The lion has roared;
who will not fear?
The Lord GOD has spoken;
who can but prophesy?"
- 9 Proclaim to the strongholds in As-syr^a,
and to the strongholds in the land
of Egypt,
and say, "Assemble yourselves upon and see the great tumults within her, and the oppressions in her midst."

- 10 "They do not know how to do right," says the LORD,
"those who store up violence and robbery in their strongholds."
- 11 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:
"An adversary shall surround the
land,
and bring down your defenses from you,
and your strongholds shall be plundered."
- 12 Thus says the LORD: "As the shepherd rescues from the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear, so shall the people of Israel who dwell in Samar^a be rescued, with the corner of a couch and part^g of a bed."
- 13 "Hear, and testify against the house of Jacob,"
says the Lord GOD, the God of
hosts,
14 "that on the day I punish Israel for his transgressions,
I will punish the altars of Bethel, and the horns of the altar shall be cut off
and fall to the ground.
- 15 I will smite the winter house with the summer house;
and the houses of ivory shall perish,
and the great houses^h shall come to

says the LORD.
- 4 "Hear this word, you cows of

who are in the mountain of Samar^a,
who oppress the poor, who crush the who say to their husbands,

'Bring, that we may drink!'
2 The Lord GOD has sworn by his holiness
that, behold, the days are coming
upon you,
when they shall take you away with
hooks,
even the last of you with fish-
hooks.
- 3 And you shall go out through the breaches,
every one straight before her;
and you shall be cast forth into Harmon,"
says the LORD.
- 4 "Come to Bethel, and transgress; to Gilgal, and multiply transgression;
bring your sacrifices every morning,
your tithes every three days; 5 offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim freewill offerings,
publish them;
for so you love to do, O people of Israel!"
says the Lord GOD.
- 6 "I gave you cleanness of teeth in all your cities,
and lack of bread in all your places,
yet you did not return to me,"
says the LORD.

- I would send rain upon one city,
and send no rain upon another city;
one field would be rained upon,
and the field on which it did not rain withered;
8 so two or three cities wandered to one city
to drink water, and were not satisfied;
yet you did not return to me,”
says the LORD.
- 9 “I smote you with blight and mildew;
I laid waste¹ your gardens and your vineyards;
your fig trees and your olive trees
the locust devoured;
yet you did not return to me,”
says the LORD.
- 10 “I sent among you a pestilence after the manner of Egypt;
I slew your young men with the
sword;
I carried away your horses;² and I made the stench of your camp go up into your nostrils;
yet you did not return to me,”
says the LORD.
- 11 “I overthrew some of you,
as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomor’rah,
and you were as a brand plucked out of the burning;
yet you did not return to me,”
says the LORD.
- 12 “Therefore thus I will do to you,
O Israel;
because I will do this to you, prepare to meet your God, O
Israel!”
- 13 For lo, he who forms the mountains, and creates the wind,
and declares to man what is his thought;
who makes the morning darkness, and treads on the heights of the earth—
the LORD, the God of hosts, is his name!
- 5 Hear this word which I take up over you in lamentation, O house
of Israel:
2 “Fallen, no more to rise,
¹ Gn: Heb the multitude of ² Heb with the captivity of your horses
- is the virgin Israel;
forsaken on her land,
with none to raise her up.”
- 3 For thus says the Lord GOD:
“The city that went forth a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went forth a hundred shall have ten left
to the house of Israel.”
- 4 For thus says the LORD to the house
of Israel:
“Seek me and live;
5 but do not seek Bethel, and do not enter into Gilgal or cross over to Beer-sheba;
for Gilgal shall surely go into exile, and Bethel shall come to nought.”
- 6 Seek the LORD and live, lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph,
and it devour, with none to quench
it for Bethel,
- 7 O you who turn justice to worm-
wood,
and cast down righteousness to the
earth!
- 8 He who made the Plei’ades and Orion,
and turns deep darkness into the
morning,
and darkens the day into night,
who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out upon the surface of the earth,
the LORD is his name, 9 who makes destruction flash forth against the strong,
so that destruction comes upon the fortress.
- 10 They hate him who reproves in the gate,
and they abhor him who speaks the truth.
- 11 Therefore because you trample upon the poor
and take from him exactions of wheat,
you have built houses of hewn stone,
but you shall not dwell in them;
you have planted pleasant vineyards,
but you shall not drink their wine.
- 12 For I know how many are your trans-
gressions,

- and how great are your sins—you who afflict the righteous, who take a bribe,
 and turn aside the needy in the
 gate.
- 13 Therefore he who is prudent will keep silent in such a time;
 for it is an evil time.
- 14 Seek good, and not evil,
 that you may live;
 and so the LORD, the God of hosts, will be with you,
 as you have said.
- 15 Hate evil, and love good,
 and establish justice in the gate;
 it may be that the LORD, the God of
 hosts,
 will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph.
- 16 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord:
 "In all the squares there shall be wailing;
 and in all the streets they shall say,
 'Alas! alas!'
 They shall call the farmers to mourning
 and to wailing those who are skilled in lamentation, 17 and in all vineyards there shall be wailing,
 for I will pass through the midst of
 you,"
 says the LORD.
- 18 Woe to you who desire the day of the
 LORD!
 Why would you have the day of the
 LORD?
 It is darkness, and not light;
 19 as if a man fled from a lion, and a bear met him;
 or went into the house and leaned with his hand against the wall, and a serpent bit him.
- 20 Is not the day of the LORD darkness, and not light,
 and gloom with no brightness in it?
- 21 "I hate, I despise your feasts, and I take no delight in your solemn assemblies.
- 22 Even though you offer me your burnt offerings and cereal offerings,
 I will not accept them,
 and the peace offerings of your fattened beasts
 I will not look upon.
- 23 Take away from me the noise of your songs;
 to the melody of your harps I will not listen.
- 24 But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream.
- 25 "Did you bring to me sacrifices and offerings the forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel? 26 You shall take up Sakkuth your king, and Kaiwan your star-god, your images,^k which you made for yourselves; 27 therefore I will take you into exile beyond Damascus," says the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.
- 6 "Woe to those who are at ease in
 Zion,
 and to those who feel secure on the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the first of the
 nations,
 to whom the house of Israel come!
 2 Pass over to Calneh, and see;
 and thence go to Hamath the great;
 then go down to Gath of the Philistines.
 Are they better than these kingdoms?
 Or is their territory greater than your territory,
 3 O you who put far away the evil day,
 and bring near the seat of violence?
- 4 "Woe to those who lie upon beds of ivory,
 and stretch themselves upon their couches,
 and eat lambs from the flock, and calves from the midst of the stall;
 5 who sing idle songs to the sound of the harp,
 and like David invent for themselves instruments of music; 6 who drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the finest oils,
 but are not grieved over the ruin of Joseph!
 7 Therefore they shall now be the first of those to go into exile, and the revelry of those who stretch themselves shall pass away."

- ⁸ The Lord GOD has sworn by himself (says the LORD, the God of hosts):
 "I abhor the pride of Jacob,
 and hate his strongholds;
 and I will deliver up the city and all that is in it."

⁹ And if ten men remain in one house, they shall die. ¹⁰And when a man's kinsman, he who burns him,¹ shall take him up to bring the bones out of the house, and shall say to him who is in the innermost parts of the house, "Is there still any one with you?" he shall say, "No"; and he shall say, "Hush! We must not mention the name of the LORD."

- ¹¹ For behold, the LORD commands, and the great house shall be smitten into fragments,
 and the little house into bits.

¹² Do horses run upon rocks?
 Does one plow the sea with oxen?
 But you have turned justice into poison and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood—

- ¹³ you who rejoice in Lo-debar,¹ who say, "Have we not by our own strength taken Karnaïm" for ourselves?"

¹⁴ "For behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel," says the LORD,
 the God of hosts;
 "and they shall oppress you from the entrance of Hamath
 to the Brook of the Arabah."

7 Thus the Lord GOD showed me: behold, he was forming locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. ²When they had finished eating the grass of the land, I said,

"O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee!

How can Jacob stand?

He is so small!"

- ³ The LORD repented concerning this;
 "It shall not be," said the LORD.

⁴ Thus the Lord GOD showed me: behold, the Lord GOD was calling for

¹ Or who makes a burning for him ² Or a thing of ought ³ Or horns ⁴ Or one of the sons of the prophets a judgment by fire, and it devoured the great deep and was eating up the land.

⁵ Then I said,

"O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee!
 How can Jacob stand?
 He is so small!"

- ⁶ The LORD repented concerning this;
 "This also shall not be," said the Lord GOD.

⁷ He showed me: behold, the Lord was standing beside a wall built with a plumb line, with a plumb line in his hand. ⁸And the LORD said to me, "Amos, what do you see?" And I said, "A plumb line." Then the Lord said, "Behold, I am setting a plumb line in the midst of my people Israel; I will never again pass by them;
⁹ the high places of Isaac shall be made desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste, and I will rise against the house of Jerobo'am with the sword."

¹⁰ Then Amazi'ah the priest of Bethel sent to Jerobo'am king of Israel, saying, "Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel; the land is not able to bear all his words. ¹¹For thus Amos has said, 'Jerobo'am shall die by the sword, and Israel must go into exile away from his land.'"

¹²And Amazi'ah said to Amos, "O seer, go, flee away to the land of Judah, and eat bread there, and prophesy there;
¹³ but never again prophesy at Bethel, for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a temple of the kingdom."

¹⁴ Then Amos answered Amazi'ah, "I am no prophet, nor a prophet's son;¹ but I am a herdsman, and a dresser of sycamore trees, ¹⁵and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said to me, 'Go, prophesy to my people Israel.'

¹⁶ "Now therefore hear the word of the LORD.

You say, 'Do not prophesy against Israel, and do not preach against the house of Isaac.'

- ¹⁷ Therefore thus says the LORD:
 'Your wife shall be a harlot in the city, and your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword, and your land shall be parceled out by line;

you yourself shall die in an unclean
land,
and Israel shall surely go into exile away from its land.¹”

8 Thus the Lord GOD showed me:
behold, a basket of summer fruit.²
And he said, “Amos, what do you see?”
And I said, “A basket of summer fruit.”³ Then the LORD said to me, “The end⁴ has come upon my people
Israel;
I will never again pass by them.
3 The songs of the temple⁵ shall become wailings in that day,”
says the Lord GOD;
“the dead bodies shall be many;
in every place they shall be cast out in silence.”⁶

4 Hear this, you who trample upon the
needy,
and bring the poor of the land to an end,

5 saying, “When will the new moon be
over,
that we may sell grain?
And the sabbath,
that we may offer wheat for sale,
that we may make the ephah small and the shekel great,
and deal deceitfully with false balances,

6 that we may buy the poor for silver and the needy for a pair of sandals, and sell the refuse of the wheat?”

7 The LORD has sworn by the pride of
Jacob:
“Surely I will never forget any of their deeds.

8 Shall not the land tremble on this account,
and every one mourn who dwells in
it,
and all of it rise like the Nile, and be tossed about and sink again, like the Nile of Egypt?”

9 “And on that day,” says the Lord
GOD,
“I will make the sun go down at noon,
and darken the earth in broad daylight.

10 I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamenta-

tion;

I will bring sackcloth upon all loins,
and baldness on every head;
I will make it like the mourning for an only son,
and the end of it like a bitter day.

11 “Behold, the days are coming,” says
the Lord GOD,
“when I will send a famine on the
land;
not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for
water,
but of hearing the words of the
LORD.
12 They shall wander from sea to sea,
and from north to east;
they shall run to and fro, to seek the
word of the LORD,
but they shall not find it.

13 “In that day the fair virgins and the young men
shall faint for thirst.
14 Those who swear by Ash'imah of Samar'ia,
and say, ‘As thy god lives, O Dan,’ and, ‘As the way of Beer-sheba
lives,’
they shall fall, and never rise
again.”

9 I saw the LORD standing beside⁷
the altar, and he said:
“Smite the capitals until the thresholds shake,
and shatter them on the heads of all the people;”
and what are left of them I will slay
with the sword;
not one of them shall flee away,
not one of them shall escape.

2 “Though they dig into Sheol, from there shall my hand take
them;
though they climb up to heaven,
from there I will bring them
down.

3 Though they hide themselves on the top of Carmel,
from there I will search out and take them;
and though they hide from my sight
at the bottom of the sea, there I will command the serpent, and it shall bite them.

THE BOOK OF

OBADIAH

- 1 The vision of Obadi'ah.
Thus says the Lord GOD concerning
Edom:
We have heard tidings from the LORD, and a messenger has been sent
among the nations:
- "Rise up! let us rise against her for battle!"
- 2 Behold, I will make you small among
the nations,
you shall be utterly despised.
- 3 The pride of your heart has deceived you,

- you who live in the clefts of the rock,^a whose dwelling is high,
 who say in your heart,
 "Who will bring me down to the ground?"
- 4 Though you soar aloft like the eagle, though your nest is set among the stars, thence I will bring you down,
 says the LORD.
- 5 If thieves came to you,
 if plunderers by night—
 how you have been destroyed!— would they not steal only enough for themselves?
 If grape gatherers came to you, would they not leave gleanings?
- 6 How Esau has been pillaged, his treasures sought out!
- 7 All your allies have deceived you,
 they have driven you to the border;
 your confederates have prevailed against you;
 your trusted friends have set a trap
 under you—
 there is no understanding of it.
- 8 Will I not on that day, says the LORD, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of Mount Esau?
- 9 And your mighty men shall be dismayed, O Teman,
 so that every man from Mount Esau will be cut off by slaughter.
- 10 For the violence done to your brother Jacob, shame shall cover you,
 and you shall be cut off for ever.
- 11 On the day that you stood aloof, on the day that strangers carried off his wealth,
 and foreigners entered his gates and cast lots for Jerusalem, you were like one of them.
- 12 But you should not have gloated over the day of your brother in the day of his misfortune;
 you should not have rejoiced over the people of Judah
 in the day of their ruin;
 you should not have boasted
 in the day of distress.
- 13 You should not have entered the gate
 of my people
 in the day of his calamity;
- you should not have gloated over his disaster
 in the day of his calamity;
 you should not have looted his goods
 in the day of his calamity.
- 14 You should not have stood at the parting of the ways
 to cut off his fugitives;
 you should not have delivered up his survivors
 in the day of distress.
- 15 For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations.
 As you have done, it shall be done
 to you,
 your deeds shall return on your own head.
- 16 For as you have drunk upon my holy mountain,
 all the nations round about shall
 drink;
 they shall drink, and stagger,^b and shall be as though they had not been.
- 17 But in Mount Zion there shall be those that escape,
 and it shall be holy;
 and the house of Jacob shall possess their own possessions.
- 18 The house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame,
 and the house of Esau stubble;
 they shall burn them and consume
 them,
 and there shall be no survivor to the house of Esau;
 for the LORD has spoken.
- 19 Those of the Negeb shall possess Mount Esau,
 and those of the Shephe'lah the land of the Philistines;
 they shall possess the land of E'phraim and the land of Samar'ia
 and Benjamin shall possess Gilead.
- 20 The exiles in Halah^c who are of the people of Israel shall possess^d Phoeni'cia as far as Zar'ephath;
 and the exiles of Jerusalem who are in Sephar'ad shall possess the cities of the Negeb.
- 21 Saviors shall go up to Mount Zion
 to rule Mount Esau;
 and the kingdom shall be the LORD's.

JONAH

1 Now the word of the LORD came to Jonah the son of Amit'tai, saying, ² "Arise, go to Nin'ev'eh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness has come up before me." ³ But Jonah rose to flee to Tarshish from the presence of the LORD. He went down to Joppa and found a ship going to Tarshish; so he paid the fare, and went on board, to go with them to Tarshish, away from the presence of the LORD.

⁴ But the LORD hurled a great wind upon the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea, so that the ship threatened to break up. ⁵ Then the mariners were afraid, and each cried to his god; and they threw the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it for them. But Jonah had gone down into the inner part of the ship and had lain down, and was fast asleep. ⁶ So the captain came and said to him, "What do you mean, you sleeper? Arise, call upon your god! Perhaps the god will give a thought to us, that we do not perish."

⁷ And they said to one another, "Come, let us cast lots, that we may know on whose account this evil has come upon us." So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. ⁸ Then they said to him, "Tell us, on whose account this evil has come upon us? What is your occupation? And whence do you come? What is your country? And of what people are you?" ⁹ And he said to them, "I am a Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, who made the sea and the dry land." ¹⁰ Then the men were exceedingly afraid, and said to him, "What is this that you have done!" For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.

¹¹ Then they said to him, "What shall we do to you, that the sea may quiet down for us?" For the sea grew more and more tempestuous. ¹² He said to them, "Take me up and throw me into the sea; then the sea will quiet down for you; for I know it is because of me that this great tempest has come upon you." ¹³ Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring the ship back to land, but they could not, for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. ¹⁴ Therefore they cried to the LORD, "We beseech thee, O LORD, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not on us innocent blood; for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee." ¹⁵ So they took up Jonah and threw him into the sea; and the sea ceased from its raging. ¹⁶ Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly, and they offered a sacrifice to the LORD and made vows.

¹⁷ And the LORD appointed a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

2 Then Jonah prayed to the LORD his God from the belly of the fish, ² saying,

"I called to the LORD, out of my distress, and he answered me;
out of the belly of Sheol I cried, and thou didst hear my voice.

³ For thou didst cast me into the deep, into the heart of the seas,
and the flood was round about me;
all thy waves and thy billows passed over me.

⁴ Then I said, 'I am cast out from thy presence;
how shall I again look upon thy holy temple?'

⁵ The waters closed in over me,
the deep was round about me;
weeds were wrapped about my head at the roots of the mountains.

⁶ I went down to the land whose bars closed upon me for ever; yet thou didst bring up my life from the Pit,

O LORD my God.
⁷ When my soul fainted within me,
I remembered the LORD;
and my prayer came to thee,
into thy holy temple.

⁸ Those who pay regard to vain idols forsake their true loyalty.

⁹ But I with the voice of thanksgiving will sacrifice to thee; what I have vowed I will pay.

Deliverance belongs to the LORD!"

¹⁰ And the LORD spoke to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

3 Then the word of the LORD came to Jonah the second time, saying, ² "Arise, go to Nin'evah, that great city, and proclaim to it the message that I tell you." ³ So Jonah arose and went to Nin'evah, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nin'evah was an exceedingly great city, three days' journey in breadth. ⁴ Jonah began to go into the city, going a day's journey. And he cried, "Yet forty days, and Nin'evah shall be overthrown!" ⁵ And the people of Nin'evah believed God; they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them to the least of them.

¹⁰ When God saw what they did, how they turned from their evil way, God repented of the evil which he had said he would do to them; and he did not do it.

4 But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry. ² And he prayed to the LORD and said, "I pray thee, LORD, is not this what I said when I was yet in my country? That is why I made haste to flee to Tarshish; for I knew that thou art a gracious God and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love, and repentest of evil.

³ Therefore now, O LORD, take my life from me, I beseech thee, for it is better for me to die than to live." ⁴ And the LORD said, "Do you do well to be angry?" ⁵ Then Jonah went out of the city and sat to the east of the city, and made a booth for himself there. He sat under it in the shade, till he should see what would become of the city.

⁶ And the LORD God appointed a plant,^b and made it come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to save him from his discomfort. So Jonah was exceedingly glad because of the plant.^b ⁷ But when dawn came up the next day, God appointed a worm which attacked the plant,^b so that it withered. ⁸ When the sun rose, God appointed a sultry east wind, and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah so that he was faint; and he asked that he might die, and said, "It is better for me to die than to live." ⁹ But God said to Jonah, "Do you do well to be angry for the plant?"^b And he said, "I do well to be angry, angry enough to die." ¹⁰ And the LORD said, "You pity the plant,^b for which you did not labor, nor did you make it grow, which came into being in a night, and perished in a night. ¹¹ And should not I pity Nin'evah, that great city, in which there are more than a hundred and twenty thousand persons who do not know their right hand from their left, and also much cattle?"

THE BOOK OF

MICAH

1 The word of the LORD that came to Micah of Mo'resheth in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezeki'ah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

^b Heb qiqayon, probably the castor oil plant.
3.9: Joel 2.14. 4.2: Ex 34.6. 1.2: 1 Kings 22.28.

² Hear, you peoples, all of you; hearken, O earth, and all that is in it; and let the Lord God be a witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple.

- ³ For behold, the LORD is coming forth out of his place, and will come down and tread upon the high places of the earth.
- ⁴ And the mountains will melt under him and the valleys will be cleft, like wax before the fire, like waters poured down a steep place.
- ⁵ All this is for the transgression of Jacob and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samar'ia? And what is the sin of the house^c of Judah? Is it not Jerusalem?
- ⁶ Therefore I will make Samar'ia a heap in the open country, a place for planting vineyards; and I will pour down her stones into the valley, and uncover her foundations.
- ⁷ All her images shall be beaten to pieces, all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols I will lay waste; for from the hire of a harlot she gathered them, and to the hire of a harlot they shall return.
- ⁸ For this I will lament and wail; I will go stripped and naked; I will make lamentation like the jackals, and mourning like the ostriches.
- ⁹ For her wound^b is incurable; and it has come to Judah, it has reached to the gate of my people, to Jerusalem.
- ¹⁰ Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all; in Beth-le-aph'rah roll yourselves in the dust.
- ¹¹ Pass on your way, inhabitants of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame; the inhabitants of Za'anán do not come forth; the wailing of Beth-e'zel shall take away from you its standing place.
- ¹² For the inhabitants of Maroth wait anxiously for good, because evil has come down from the LORD to the gate of Jerusalem.
- ¹³ Harness the steeds to the chariots, inhabitants of Lachish; you were^c the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion, for in you were found the transgressions of Israel.
- ¹⁴ Therefore you shall give parting gifts to Mo'resheth-gath; the houses of Achzib shall be a deceitful thing to the kings of Israel.
- ¹⁵ I will again bring a conqueror upon you, inhabitants of Mare'shah; the glory of Israel shall come to Adullam.
- ¹⁶ Make yourselves bald and cut off your hair, for the children of your delight; make yourselves as bald as the eagle, for they shall go from you into exile.
- 2 Woe to those who devise wickedness and work evil upon their beds! When the morning dawns, they perform it, because it is in the power of their hand.
- ² They covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away; they oppress a man and his house, a man and his inheritance.
- ³ Therefore thus says the LORD: Behold, against this family I am devising evil, from which you cannot remove your necks; and you shall not walk haughtily, for it will be an evil time.
- ⁴ In that day they shall take up a taunt song against you, and wail with bitter lamentation, and say, "We are utterly ruined; he changes the portion of my people; how he removes it from me! Among our captors^d he divides our fields."

- 5 Therefore you will have none to cast the line by lot
in the assembly of the LORD.
- 6 "Do not preach"—thus they preach—
"one should not preach of such things;
disgrace will not overtake us."
- 7 Should this be said, O house of Jacob?
Is the Spirit of the LORD impatient?
Are these his doings?
Do not my words do good to him who walks uprightly?
- 8 But you rise against my people^c as an enemy;
you strip the robe from the peaceful,^f
from those who pass by trustingly with no thought of war.
- 9 The women of my people you drive
out
from their pleasant houses;
from their young children you take away
my glory for ever.
- 10 Arise and go,
for this is no place to rest;
because of uncleanness that destroys with a grievous destruction.
- 11 If a man should go about and utter wind and lies, saying, "I will preach to you of wine and strong drink," he would be the preacher for this
people!
- 12 I will surely gather all of you, O
Jacob,
I will gather the remnant of Israel;
I will set them together like sheep in a fold,
like a flock in its pasture,
a noisy multitude of men.
- 13 He who opens the breach will go up before them;
they will break through and pass
the gate,
going out by it.
Their king will pass on before them,
the LORD at their head.
- 3 And I said:
Hear, you heads of Jacob
and rulers of the house of Israel!
Is it not for you to know justice?—
- 2 you who hate the good and love the evil,
who tear the skin from off my people,
and their flesh from off their bones;
- 3 who eat the flesh of my people,
and flay their skin from off them,
and break their bones in pieces, and chop them up like meat^g in a kettle,
like flesh in a caldron.
- 4 Then they will cry to the LORD,
but he will not answer them;
he will hide his face from them at that time,
because they have made their deeds evil.
- 5 Thus says the LORD concerning the
prophets
who lead my people astray, who cry "Peace"
when they have something to eat, but declare war against him who puts nothing into their mouths.
- 6 Therefore it shall be night to you, without vision,
and darkness to you, without divination.
The sun shall go down upon the
prophets,
and the day shall be black over
them;
- 7 the seers shall be disgraced,
and the diviners put to shame;
they shall all cover their lips,
for there is no answer from God.
- 8 But as for me, I am filled with
power,
with the Spirit of the LORD, and with justice and might,
to declare to Jacob his transgression and to Israel his sin.
- 9 Hear this, you heads of the house of Jacob
and rulers of the house of Israel, who abhor justice
and pervert all equity, 10 who build Zion with blood and Jerusalem with wrong.
- 11 Its heads give judgment for a bribe,

- ¹² Therefore because of you
Zion shall be plowed as a field;
Jerusalem shall become a heap of
ruins,
and the mountain of the house a wooded height.

4 It shall come to pass in the latter days
that the mountain of the house of
the LORD
shall be established as the highest of
the mountains,
and shall be raised up above the hills;

- and peoples shall flow to it, ² and many nations shall come, and
say:

"Come, let us go up to the mountain
of the LORD,
to the house of the God of Jacob;
that he may teach us his ways
and we may walk in his paths."

For out of Zion shall go forth the
law,
and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

- ³ He shall judge between many peoples,
and shall decide for strong nations afar off;
and they shall beat their swords into
plowshares,
and their spears into pruning
hooks;
nation shall not lift up sword against
nation,
neither shall they learn war any
more;

- ⁴ but they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree, and none shall make them afraid;
for the mouth of the LORD of hosts
has spoken.

- ⁵ For all the peoples walk
each in the name of its god, but we will walk in the name of the LORD our God
for ever and ever.

- ⁶ In that day, says the LORD,
I will assemble the lame and gather those who have been driven away,

and those whom I have afflicted;
⁷ and the lame I will make the remnant;
and those who were cast off, a strong nation;
and the LORD will reign over them in Mount Zion
from this time forth and for ever-
more.

- ⁸ And you, O tower of the flock,
hill of the daughter of Zion,
to you shall it come,
the former dominion shall come,
the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

- ⁹ Now why do you cry aloud?
Is there no king in you?
Has your counselor perished, that pangs have seized you like a woman in travail?

- ¹⁰ Writhe and groan,^h O daughter of Zion,
like a woman in travail;
for now you shall go forth from the city
and dwell in the open country;
you shall go to Babylon.
There you shall be rescued, there the LORD will redeem you from the hand of your enemies.

- ¹¹ Now many nations
are assembled against you, saying, "Let her be profaned, and let our eyes gaze upon Zion."

- ¹² But they do not know the thoughts of the LORD, they do not understand his plan, that he has gathered them as sheaves to the threshing floor.

- ¹³ Arise and thresh,
O daughter of Zion,
for I will make your horn iron and your hoofs bronze;
you shall beat in pieces many peoples, and shallⁱ devote their gain to the
LORD,
their wealth to the Lord of the whole earth.

who are little to be among the clans
of Judah,
from you shall come forth for me one who is to be ruler in Israel, whose origin is from of old,
from ancient days.
- ³Therefore he shall give them up until the time
when she who is in travail has brought forth;
then the rest of his brethren shall return
to the people of Israel.
- ⁴And he shall stand and feed his flock
in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God.
And they shall dwell secure, for now he shall be great
to the ends of the earth.
- ⁵And this shall be peace, when the Assyrian comes into our
land
and treads upon our soil,^m that we will raise against him seven shepherds
and eight princes of men; ⁶they shall rule the land of Assyria
with the sword,
and the land of Nimrod with the drawn sword;ⁿ
and they^o shall deliver us from the Assyrian
when he comes into our land and treads within our border.
- ⁷Then the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples
like dew from the LORD, like showers upon the grass, which tarry not for men nor wait for the sons of men.
- ⁸And the remnant of Jacob shall be
among the nations,
in the midst of many peoples,
like a lion among the beasts of the forest,
like a young lion among the flocks of sheep,
which, when it goes through, treads
down
- and tears in pieces, and there is none to deliver.
- ⁹Your hand shall be lifted up over your
adversaries,
and all your enemies shall be cut off.
- ¹⁰And in that day, says the LORD,
I will cut off your horses from
among you
and will destroy your chariots; ¹¹and I will cut off the cities of your
land
and throw down all your strongholds;
¹²and I will cut off sorceries from your hand,
and you shall have no more sooth-sayers;
¹³and I will cut off your images and your pillars from among you, and you shall bow down no more to the work of your hands; ¹⁴and I will root out your Ashe'rim from among you
and destroy your cities.
- ¹⁵And in anger and wrath I will execute vengeance
upon the nations that did not obey.
- 6 Hear what the LORD says: Arise, plead your case before the
mountains,
and let the hills hear your voice.
- ²Hear, you mountains, the controversy
of the LORD,
and you enduring foundations of
the earth;
for the LORD has a controversy with
his people,
and he will contend with Israel.
- ³"O my people, what have I done to
you?
In what have I wearied you?
Answer me!

Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?”
- 8 He has showed you, O man, what is good;
and what does the LORD require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness,⁹ and to walk humbly with your God?
- 9 The voice of the LORD cries to the city—and it is sound wisdom to fear thy name:
“Hear, O tribe and assembly of the city!”
- 10 Can I forget¹⁰ the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is accursed?
- 11 Shall I acquit the man with wicked scales and with a bag of deceitful weights?
12 Your¹¹ rich men are full of violence; your¹² inhabitants speak lies,
and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.
- 13 Therefore I have begun¹³ to smite you, making you desolate because of your sins.
- 14 You shall eat, but not be satisfied, and there shall be hunger in your inward parts;
you shall put away, but not save,
and what you save I will give to the sword.
- 15 You shall sow, but not reap;
you shall tread olives, but not anoint yourselves with oil;
you shall tread grapes, but not drink wine.
- 16 For you have kept the statutes of Omri,¹⁶ and all the works of the house of Ahab;
and you have walked in their counsels;
that I may make you a desolation, and your¹⁷ inhabitants a hissing;
so you shall bear the scorn of the peoples.”¹⁸
- 7 Woe is me! For I have become as when the summer fruit has been gathered, as when the vintage has been gleaned:
there is no cluster to eat,
no first-ripe fig which my soul desires.
- 2 The godly man has perished from the earth, and there is none upright among men;
they all lie in wait for blood, and each hunts his brother with a net.
- 3 Their hands are upon what is evil,
to do it diligently;
the prince and the judge ask for a bribe,
and the great man utters the evil desire of his soul;
thus they weave it together.
- 4 The best of them is like a brier,
the most upright of them a thorn hedge.
The day of their¹⁹ watchmen, of their²⁰ punishment, has come;
now their confusion is at hand.
- 5 Put no trust in a neighbor, have no confidence in a friend;

THE BOOK OF

HABAKKUK

1 The oracle of God which Habak'- kuk the prophet saw.

2 O LORD, how long shall I cry for help, and thou wilt not hear?
Or cry to thee "Violence!"
and thou wilt not save?

3 Why dost thou make me see wrongs and look upon trouble?
Destruction and violence are before
me;
strife and contention arise.

4 So the law is slacked and justice never goes forth.
For the wicked surround the righteous,
so justice goes forth perverted.

5 Look among the nations, and see;
wonder and be astounded.
For I am doing a work in your days that you would not believe if told.

6 For lo, I am rousing the Chaldea'ns, that bitter and hasty nation, who march through the breadth of
the earth,
to seize habitations not their own.

7 Dread and terrible are they;
their justice and dignity proceed from themselves.

8 Their horses are swifter than leop-ards,
more fierce than the evening wolves;
their horsemen press proudly on.
Yea, their horsemen come from afar;
they fly like an eagle swift to devour.

9 They all come for violence;
terror^a of them goes before them.
They gather captives like sand.

10 At kings they scoff, and of rulers they make sport.

They laugh at every fortress,
for they heap up earth and take it.
11 Then they sweep by like the wind and go on,
guilty men, whose own might is
their god!

12 Art thou not from everlasting,
O LORD my God, my Holy One?
We shall not die.
O LORD, thou hast ordained them as a
judgment;
and thou, O Rock, hast established them for chastisement.

13 Thou who art of purer eyes than to behold evil
and canst not look on wrong, why dost thou look on faithless men, and art silent when the wicked swallows up
the man more righteous than he?
14 For thou makest men like the fish of
the sea,
like crawling things that have no ruler.

15 He brings all of them up with a hook, he drags them out with his net,
he gathers them in his seine;
so he rejoices and exults.

16 Therefore he sacrifices to his net and burns incense to his seine;
for by them he lives in luxury,^b and his food is rich.

17 Is he then to keep on emptying his net,
and mercilessly slaying nations for
ever?

2 I will take my stand to watch, and station myself on the tower, and look forth to see what he will say
to me,

 so he may run who reads it.

 but the righteous shall live by his faith.^d

 Then you will be booty for them.

 nations,
 all the remnant of the peoples shall plunder you,
 for the blood of men and violence to

 hosts
 that peoples labor only for fire, and nations weary themselves for nought?
- 14 For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of
 the LORD,
 as the waters cover the sea.

 drink
 of the cup of his wrath,^g and makes them drunk,
 to gaze on their shame!

 thing, Awake;
 to a dumb stone, Arise!

THE BOOK OF ZEPHANIAH

1 The word of the LORD which came to Zephani'ah the son of Cushi, son of Gedali'ah, son of Amari'ah, son of Hezeki'ah, in the days of Josi'ah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2 "I will utterly sweep away everything from the face of the earth," says the LORD.

3 "I will sweep away man and beast; I will sweep away the birds of the air and the fish of the sea.

I will overthrow^a the wicked; I will cut off mankind from the face of the earth," says the LORD.

4 "I will stretch out my hand against Judah, and against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off from this place the remnant of Ba'al and the name of the idolatrous priests;^b

5 those who bow down on the roofs to the host of the heavens; those who bow down and swear to the LORD and yet swear by Milcom;

6 those who have turned back from following the LORD, who do not seek the LORD or inquire of him."

7 Be silent before the Lord GOD! For the day of the LORD is at hand; the LORD has prepared a sacrifice and consecrated his guests.

8 And on the day of the LORD's sacrifice— "I will punish the officials and the king's sons and all who array themselves in foreign attire.

9 On that day I will punish every one who leaps over the threshold, and those who fill their master's house with violence and fraud."

10 "On that day," says the LORD, "a cry will be heard from the Fish Gate, a wail from the Second Quarter, a loud crash from the hills.

11 Wail, O inhabitants of the Mortar! For all the traders are no more; all who weigh out silver are cut off.

12 At that time I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and I will punish the men who are thickening upon their lees, those who say in their hearts, 'The LORD will not do good, nor will he do ill.'

13 Their goods shall be plundered, and their houses laid waste. Though they build houses, they shall not inhabit them; though they plant vineyards, they shall not drink wine from them."

14 The great day of the LORD is near, near and hastening fast; the sound of the day of the LORD is bitter, the mighty man cries aloud there.

15 A day of wrath is that day, a day of distress and anguish, a day of ruin and devastation, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and thick darkness,

16 a day of trumpet blast and battle cry against the fortified cities and against the lofty battlements.

17 I will bring distress on men, so that they shall walk like the blind, because they have sinned against the LORD; their blood shall be poured out like dust, and their flesh like dung.

^a Cn: Heb the stumbling blocks ^b Compare Gk: Heb idolatrous priests with the priests
1.7: Hab 2.20; Zech 2.13.

¹⁸ Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them on the day of the wrath of the LORD.

In the fire of his jealous wrath, all the earth shall be consumed; for a full, yea, sudden end he will make of all the inhabitants of the earth.

2 Come together and hold assembly, O shameless nation,

² before you are driven away like the drifting chaff,^c before there comes upon you the fierce anger of the LORD, before there comes upon you the day of the wrath of the LORD.

⁴ For Gaza shall be deserted, and Ash'kelon shall become a desolation; Ashdod's people shall be driven out at noon, and Ekron shall be uprooted.

⁵ Woe to you inhabitants of the seacoast, you nation of the Cher'ethites! The word of the LORD is against you, O Canaan, land of the Philistines; and I will destroy you till no inhabitant is left.

⁶ And you, O seacoast, shall be pastures, meadows for shepherds and folds for flocks.

⁷ The seacoast shall become the possession of the remnant of the house of Judah, on which they shall pasture, and in the houses of Ash'kelon they shall lie down at evening. For the LORD their God will be mindful of them and restore their fortunes.

⁸ "I have heard the taunts of Moab and the revilings of the Ammonites, how they have taunted my people and made boasts against their territory.

⁹ Therefore, as I live," says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, "Moab shall become like Sodom, and the Ammonites like Gomor'rah, a land possessed by nettles and salt pits, and a waste for ever.

The remnant of my people shall plunder them, and the survivors of my nation shall possess them."

¹⁰ This shall be their lot in return for their pride, because they scoffed and boasted against the people of the LORD of hosts.

¹¹ The LORD will be terrible against them; yea, he will furnish all the gods of the earth, and to him shall bow down, each in its place, all the lands of the nations.

¹² You also, O Ethiopians, shall be slain by my sword.

¹³ And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and he will make Nin'veh a desolation, a dry waste like the desert.

¹⁵ This is the exultant city that dwelt secure, that said to herself, "I am and there is none else." What a desolation she has become, a lair for wild beasts!

THE BOOK OF HAGGAI

1 In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet to Zerub'babel the son of She-al'ti-el, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehoz'adak, the high priest, ² "Thus says the LORD of hosts: This people say the time has not yet come to rebuild the house of the LORD." ³ Then the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, ⁴ "Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house lies in ruins? ⁵ Now therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: Consider how you have fared. ⁶ You have sown much, and harvested little; you eat, but you never have enough; you drink, but you never have your fill; you clothe yourselves, but no one is warm; and he who earns wages earns wages to put them into a bag with holes.

⁷ "Thus says the LORD of hosts: Consider how you have fared. ⁸ Go up to the hills and bring wood and build the house, that I may take pleasure in it and that I may appear in my glory, says the LORD. ⁹ You have looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why? says the LORD of hosts. Because of my house that lies in ruins, while you busy yourselves each with his own house. ¹⁰ Therefore the heavens above you have withheld the dew, and the earth has withheld its produce. ¹¹ And I have called for a drought upon the land and the hills, upon the grain, the new wine, the oil, upon what the ground brings forth, upon men and cattle, and upon all their labors."

2.8: Heb 12.26.

¹² Then Zerub'babel the son of She-al'ti-el, and Joshua the son of Jehoz'adak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people feared before the LORD. ¹³ Then Haggai, the messenger of the LORD, spoke to the people with the LORD's message, "I am with you, says the LORD." ¹⁴ And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerub'babel the son of She-al'ti-el, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehoz'adak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and worked on the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, ¹⁵ on the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month.

2 In the second year of Darius the king, ¹ in the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, ² "Speak now to Zerub'babel the son of She-al'ti-el, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehoz'adak, the high priest, and to all the remnant of the people, and say, ³ "Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? How do you see it now? Is it not in your sight as nothing? ⁴ Yet now take courage, O Zerub'babel, says the LORD; take courage, O Joshua, son of Jehoz'adak, the high priest; take courage, all you people of the land, says the LORD; work, for I am with you, says the LORD of hosts, ⁵ according to the promise that I made you when you came out of Egypt. My Spirit abides among you; fear not. ⁶ For thus says the LORD of hosts: Once again, in a little while, I will shake the heavens and the earth and the sea and the dry land; ⁷ and I will shake all nations, so that the treasures of all nations shall come in, and I will fill this house with splendor, says the LORD of hosts. ⁸ The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, says the LORD of hosts. ⁹ The latter splendor of this house shall be greater than the former, says the LORD of hosts; and in this place I will give prosperity, says the LORD of hosts. ⁷”

¹⁰ On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, ¹¹ “Thus says the LORD of hosts: Ask the priests to decide this question, ¹² ‘If one carries holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and touches with his skirt bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any kind of food, does it become holy?’” The priests answered, “No.” ¹³ Then said Haggai, “If one who is unclean by contact with a dead body touches any of these, does it become unclean?” The priests answered, “It does become unclean.” ¹⁴ Then Haggai said, “So is it with this people, and with this nation before me, says the LORD; and so with every work of their hands; and what they offer there is unclean. ¹⁵ Pray now, consider what will come to pass from this day onward. Before a stone was placed upon a stone in the temple of the LORD, ¹⁶ how did you fare?” When one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; when one came to the winevat to draw fifty measures, there were but twenty. ¹⁷ I smote you and all the products of your toil with blight and mildew and hail; yet you did not return to me, says the LORD. ¹⁸ Consider from this day onward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month. Since the day that the foundation of the LORD’s temple was laid, consider: ¹⁹ Is the seed yet in the barn? Do the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree still yield nothing? From this day on I will bless you.”

²⁰ The word of the LORD came a second time to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month, ²¹ “Speak to Zerub’babel, governor of Judah, saying, I am about to shake the heavens and the earth, ²² and to overthrow the throne of kingdoms; I am about to destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations, and overthrow the chariots and their riders; and the horses and their riders shall go down, every one by the sword of his fellow. ²³ On that day, says the LORD of hosts, I will take you, O Zerub’babel my servant, the son of She-al ti-el, says the LORD, and make you like a signet ring; for I have chosen you, says the LORD of hosts.”

THE BOOK OF ZECHARIAH

1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechari’ah the son of Berechi’ah, son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, ² “The LORD was very angry with your fathers. ³ Therefore say to them, Thus says the LORD of hosts: Return to me, says the LORD of hosts, and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts. ⁴ Be not like your fathers, to whom the former prophets cried out, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, Return from your evil ways and from your evil deeds.’ But they did not hear or heed me, says the LORD. ⁵ Your fathers,

^a Gk: Heb since they were where are they? And the prophets, do they live for ever? ⁶ But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? So they repented and said, As the LORD of hosts purposed to deal with us for our ways and deeds, so has he dealt with us.”

⁷ On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month which is the month of Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechari’ah the son of Berechi’ah, son of Iddo, the prophet; and Zechari’ah said, ⁸ “I saw in the night, and behold, a man riding upon a red horse! He was standing among the myrtle trees in the glen; and behind him were red, sorrel, and white horses. ⁹ Then I said, "What are these, my lord?" The angel who talked with me said to me, "I will show you what they are." ¹⁰ So the man who was standing among the myrtle trees answered, "These are they whom the LORD has sent to patrol the earth." ¹¹ And they answered the angel of the LORD who was standing among the myrtle trees, "We have patrolled the earth, and behold, all the earth remains at rest." ¹² Then the angel of the LORD said, "O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou have no mercy on Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these seventy years?" ¹³ And the LORD answered gracious and comforting words to the angel who talked with me. ¹⁴ So the angel who talked with me said to me, "Cry out, Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am exceedingly jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion. ¹⁵ And I am very angry with the nations that are at ease; for while I was angry but a little they furthered the disaster. ¹⁶ Therefore, thus says the LORD, I have returned to Jerusalem with compassion; my house shall be built in it, says the LORD of hosts, and the measuring line shall be stretched out over Jerusalem. ¹⁷ Cry again, Thus says the LORD of hosts: My cities shall again overflow with prosperity, and the LORD will again comfort Zion and again choose Jerusalem."

¹⁸ And I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, four horns! ¹⁹ And I said to the angel who talked with me, "What are these?" And he answered me, "These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem." ²⁰ Then the LORD showed me four smiths. ²¹ And I said, "What are these coming to do?" He answered, "These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man raised his head; and these have come to terrify them, to cast down the horns of the nations who lifted up their horns against the land of Judah to scatter it."

² And I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, a man with a measuring line in his hand! ² Then I said, "Where are you going?" And he said to me, "To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its breadth and what is its length." ³ And behold, the angel who talked with me came forward, and another angel came forward to meet him, ⁴ and said to him, "Run, say to that young man, 'Jerusalem shall be inhabited as villages without walls, because of the multitude of men and cattle in it. ⁵ For I will be to her a wall of fire round about, says the LORD, and I will be the glory within her.'"

⁶ Ho! ho! Flee from the land of the north, says the LORD; for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heavens, says the LORD. ⁷ Ho! Escape to Zion, you who dwell with the daughter of Babylon. ⁸ For thus said the LORD of hosts, after his glory sent me to the nations who plundered you, for he who touches you touches the apple of his eye: ⁹ "Behold, I will shake my hand over them, and they shall become plunder for those who served them. Then you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent me. ¹⁰ Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion; for lo, I come and I will dwell in the midst of you, says the LORD. ¹¹ And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of you, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. ¹² And the LORD will inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem."

¹³ Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD; for he has roused himself from his holy dwelling.

3 Then he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to accuse him. ² And the LORD said to Satan, "The LORD rebuke you, O Satan! The LORD who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! Is not this a brand plucked from the fire?" ³ Now Joshua was standing before the angel, clothed with filthy garments. ⁴ And the angel said to those who were standing before him, "Remove the filthy garments from him." And to him he said, "Behold, I have taken your iniquity away from you, and I will clothe you with rich apparel." ⁵ And I said, "Let them put a clean turban on his head." So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the LORD was standing by.

6 And the angel of the LORD enjoined Joshua, ⁷ "Thus says the LORD of hosts: If you will walk in my ways and keep my charge, then you shall rule my house and have charge of my courts, and I will give you the right of access among those who are standing here. ⁸ Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, you and your friends who sit before you, for they are men of good omen: behold, I will bring my servant the Branch. ⁹ For behold, upon the stone which I have set before Joshua, upon a single stone with seven facets, I will engrave its inscription, says the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the guilt of this land in a single day. ¹⁰ In that day, says the LORD of hosts, every one of you will invite his neighbor under his vine and under his fig tree."

4 And the angel who talked with me came again, and waked me, like a man that is wakened out of his sleep. ² And he said to me, "What do you see?" I said, "I see, and behold, a lampstand all of gold, with a bowl on the top of it, and seven lamps on it, with seven lips on each of the lamps which are on the top of it. ³ And there are two olive trees by it, one on the right of the bowl and the other on its left." ⁴ And I said to the angel who talked with me, "What are these, my lord?" ⁵ Then the angel who talked with me answered me, "Do you not know what these are?" I said, "No, my lord." ⁶ Then he said to me, "This is the word of the LORD to Zerub'babel: Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, says the LORD of hosts. ⁷ What are you, O great mountain? Before Zerub'babel you shall become a plain; and he shall bring forward the top stone amid shouts of 'Grace, grace to it!' " ⁸ Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁹ "The hands of Zerub'babel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also complete it. Then you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. ¹⁰ For whoever has despised the day of small things shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerub'babel.

"These seven are the eyes of the LORD, which range through the whole earth." ¹¹ Then I said to him, "What are these two olive trees on the right and the left of the lampstand?" ¹² And a second time I said to him, "What are these two branches of the olive trees, which are beside the two golden pipes from which the oil^c is poured out?" ¹³ He said to me, "Do you not know what these are?" I said, "No, my lord." ¹⁴ Then he said, "These are the two anointed who stand by the Lord of the whole earth."

5 Again I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, a flying scroll! ² And he said to me, "What do you see?" I answered, "I see a flying scroll; its length is twenty cubits, and its breadth ten cubits." ³ Then he said to me, "This is the curse that goes out over the face of the whole land; for every one who steals shall be cut off henceforth according to it, and every one who swears falsely shall be cut off henceforth according to it. ⁴ I will send it forth, says the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter the house of the thief, and the house of him who swears falsely by my name; and it shall abide in his house and consume it, both timber and stones."

5 Then the angel who talked with me came forward and said to me, "Lift your eyes, and see what this is that goes forth." ⁶ And I said, "What is it?" He said, "This is the ephah that goes forth." And he said, "This is their iniquity^d in all the land." ⁷ And behold, the leaden cover was lifted, and there was a woman sitting in the ephah! ⁸ And he said, "This is Wickedness." And he thrust her back into the ephah, and thrust down the leaden weight upon its mouth. ⁹ Then I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, two women coming forward! The wind was in their wings; they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the ephah between earth and heaven. ¹⁰ Then I said to the angel who talked with me, "Where are they taking the ephah?" ¹¹ He said to me, "To the land of Shinar, to build a house for it; and when this is prepared, they will set the ephah down there on its base."

6 And again I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, four chariots came out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of bronze. ²The first chariot had red horses, the second black horses, ³the third white horses, and the fourth chariot dappled gray^e horses. ⁴Then I said to the angel who talked with me, "What are these, my lord?" ⁵And the angel answered me, "These are going forth to the four winds of heaven, after presenting themselves before the LORD of all the earth. ⁶The chariot with the black horses goes toward the north country, the white ones go toward the west country,^f and the dappled ones go toward the south country." ⁷When the steeds came out, they were impatient to get off and patrol the earth. And he said, "Go, patrol the earth." So they patrolled the earth. ⁸Then he cried to me, "Behold, those who go toward the north country have set my Spirit at rest in the north country."

⁹And the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁰"Take from the exiles Heldai, Tobijah, and Jedai'ah, who have arrived from Babylon; and go the same day to the house of Josi'ah, the son of Zephani'ah. ¹¹Take from them silver and gold, and make a crown,^g and set it upon the head of Joshua, the son of Jehoz'adak, the high priest; ¹²and say to him, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, "Behold, the man whose name is the Branch: for he shall grow up in his place, and he shall build the temple of the LORD. ¹³It is he who shall build the temple of the LORD, and shall bear royal honor, and shall sit and rule upon his throne. And there shall be a priest by his throne, and peaceful understanding shall be between them both." ¹⁴And the crown^h shall be in the temple of the LORD as a reminder to Heldai,ⁱ Tobijah, Jedai'ah, and Josi'ah^j the son of Zephani'ah.

¹⁵"And those who are far off shall come and help to build the temple of the LORD; and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. And this shall come to pass, if you will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God."

7 In the fourth year of King Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechari'ah in the fourth day of the ninth month, which is Chislev. ²Now the people of Bethel had sent Share'zer and Reg'em-mel'ech and their men, to entreat the favor of the LORD, ³and to ask the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts and the prophets, "Should I mourn and fast in the fifth month, as I have done for so many years?" ⁴Then the word of the LORD of hosts came to me; ⁵"Say to all the people of the land and the priests, When you fasted and mourned in the fifth month and in the seventh, for these seventy years, was it for me that you fasted? ⁶And when you eat and when you drink, do you not eat for yourselves and drink for yourselves? ⁷When Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, with her cities round about her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited, were not these the words which the LORD proclaimed by the former prophets?"

⁸And the word of the LORD came to Zechari'ah, saying, ⁹"Thus says the LORD of hosts, Render true judgments, show kindness and mercy each to his brother, ¹⁰do not oppress the widow, the fatherless, the sojourner, or the poor; and let none of you devise evil against his brother in your heart." ¹¹But they refused to hearken, and turned a stubborn shoulder, and stopped their ears that they might not hear. ¹²They made their hearts like adamant lest they should hear the law and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by his Spirit through the former prophets. Therefore great wrath came from the LORD of hosts. ¹³"As I called, and they would not hear, so they called, and I would not hear," says the LORD of hosts, ¹⁴"and I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations which they had not known. Thus the land they left was desolate, so that no one went to and fro, and the pleasant land was made desolate."

8 And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, ²"Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath. ³Thus says the LORD: I will return to Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and Jerusalem shall be called the faithful city, and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain. ⁴ Thus says the LORD of hosts: Old men and old women shall again sit in the streets of Jerusalem, each with staff in hand for very age. ⁵ And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in its streets. ⁶ Thus says the LORD of hosts: If it is marvelous in the sight of the remnant of this people in these days, should it also be marvelous in my sight, says the LORD of hosts? ⁷ Thus says the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the east country and from the west country; ⁸ and I will bring them to dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people and I will be their God, in faithfulness and in righteousness."

⁹ Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Let your hands be strong, you who in these days have been hearing these words from the mouth of the prophets, since the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built. ¹⁰ For before those days there was no wage for man or any wage for beast, neither was there any safety from the foe for him who went out or came in; for I set every man against his fellow. ¹¹ But now I will not deal with the remnant of this people as in the former days, says the LORD of hosts. ¹² For there shall be a sowing of peace; the vine shall yield its fruit, and the ground shall give its increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things. ¹³ And as you have been a byword of cursing among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you and you shall be a blessing. Fear not, but let your hands be strong."

¹⁴ For thus says the LORD of hosts: "As I purposed to do evil to you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, and I did not relent, says the LORD of hosts, ¹⁵ so again have I purposed in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah; fear not. ¹⁶ These are the things that you shall do: Speak the truth to one another, render in your gates judgments that are true and make for peace, ¹⁷ do not devise evil in your hearts against one another, and love no false oath, for all these things I hate, says the LORD."

¹⁸ And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, ¹⁹ "Thus says the LORD of hosts: The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah seasons of joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts; therefore love truth and peace.

²⁰ "Thus says the LORD of hosts: Peoples shall yet come, even the inhabitants of many cities; ²¹ the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, 'Let us go at once to entreat the favor of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts; I am going.' ²² Many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to entreat the favor of the LORD. ²³ Thus says the LORD of hosts: In those days ten men from the nations of every tongue shall take hold of the robe of a Jew, saying, 'Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.'"

An Oracle

The word of the LORD is against the land of Hadrach and will rest upon Damascus.

For to the LORD belong the cities of Aram,^k even as all the tribes of Israel;

² Hamath also, which borders thereon, Tyre and Sidon, though they are very wise.

³ Tyre has built herself a rampart, and heaped up silver like dust, and gold like the dirt of the streets.

⁴ But lo, the Lord will strip her of her possessions and hurl her wealth into the sea, and she shall be devoured by fire.

⁵ Ash'kelon shall see it, and be afraid; Gaza too, and shall writhe in anguish;

Ekron also, because its hopes are confounded.

The king shall perish from Gaza; Ash'kelon shall be uninhabited;

⁶ a mongrel people shall dwell in Ashdod;

^k Cn: Heb the eye of Adam (or man) 8.16: Eph 4.25.

- and I will make an end of the pride of Philistia.
- 7 I will take away its blood from its mouth, and its abominations from between its teeth; it too shall be a remnant for our God; it shall be like a clan in Judah, and Ekron shall be like the Jeb'usites.
- 8 Then I will encamp at my house as a guard, so that none shall march to and fro; no oppressor shall again overrun them, for now I see with my own eyes.
- 9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Lo, your king comes to you; triumphant and victorious is he, humble and riding on an ass, on a colt the foal of an ass.
- 10 I will cut off the chariot from E'phraim and the war horse from Jerusalem; and the battle bow shall be cut off, and he shall command peace to the nations; his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth.
- 11 As for you also, because of the blood of my covenant with you, I will set your captives free from the waterless pit.
- 12 Return to your stronghold, O prisoners of hope; today I declare that I will restore to you double.
- 13 For I have bent Judah as my bow; I have made E'phraim its arrow. I will brandish your sons, O Zion, over your sons, O Greece, and wield you like a warrior's sword.
- 14 Then the LORD will appear over them, and his arrow go forth like lightning; the Lord GOD will sound the trumpet,
- and march forth in the whirlwinds of the south.
- 15 The LORD of hosts will protect them, and they shall devour and tread down the slingers;¹ and they shall drink their blood^m like wine, and be full like a bowl, drenched like the corners of the altar.
- 16 On that day the LORD their God will save them for they are the flock of his people; for like the jewels of a crown they shall shine on his land.
- 17 Yea, how good and how fair it shall be! Grain shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maidens.
- 10 Ask rain from the LORD in the season of the spring rain, from the LORD who makes the storm clouds, who gives men showers of rain, to every one the vegetation in the field.
- 2 For the teraphim utter nonsense, and the diviners see lies; the dreamers tell false dreams, and give empty consolation. Therefore the people wander like sheep; they are afflicted for want of a shepherd.
- 3 "My anger is hot against the shepherds, and I will punish the leaders;" for the LORD of hosts cares for his flock, the house of Judah, and will make them like his proud steed in battle.
- 4 Out of them shall come the corner-stone, out of them the tent peg, out of them the battle bow, out of them every ruler.
- 5 Together they shall be like mighty men in battle, trampling the foe in the mud of the streets; they shall fight because the LORD is with them, and they shall confound the riders on horses.

6 "I will strengthen the house of Judah,
and I will save the house of Joseph.
I will bring them back because I have compassion on them, and they shall be as though I had not rejected them;

will answer them.

7 Then Ephraim shall become like a mighty warrior,
and their hearts shall be glad as
with wine.

Their children shall see it and rejoice,
their hearts shall exult in the
LORD.

8 "I will signal for them and gather them in,
for I have redeemed them,
and they shall be as many as of old.

9 Though I scattered them among the
nations,
yet in far countries they shall remember me,
and with their children they shall live and return.

10 I will bring them home from the land
of Egypt,
and gather them from Assyria;
and I will bring them to the land of Gilead and to Lebanon, till there is no room for them.

11 They shall pass through the sea of Egypt,^o
and the waves of the sea shall be smitten,
and all the depths of the Nile dried
up.

The pride of Assyria shall be laid low, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart.

and they shall glory^p in his name,"
says the LORD.

fallen,

Wail, oaks of Bashan,

for the thick forest has been felled!
3 Hark, the wail of the shepherds, for their glory is despoiled!
Hark, the roar of the lions,
for the jungle of the Jordan is laid waste!

4 Thus said the LORD my God:
"Become shepherd of the flock doomed to slaughter. 5 Those who buy them slay them and go unpunished; and those who sell them say, 'Blessed be the LORD, I have become rich'; and their own shepherds have no pity on them.
6 For I will no longer have pity on the inhabitants of this land, says the LORD.
Lo, I will cause men to fall each into the hand of his shepherd, and each into the hand of his king; and they shall crush the earth, and I will deliver none from their hand."

7 So I became the shepherd of the flock doomed to be slain for those who trafficked in the sheep. And I took two staffs; one I named Grace, the other I named Union. And I tended the sheep.
8 In one month I destroyed the three shepherds. But I became impatient with them, and they also detested me. 9 So I said, "I will not be your shepherd. What is to die, let it die; what is to be destroyed, let it be destroyed; and let those that are left devour the flesh of one another." 10 And I took my staff Grace, and I broke it, annulling the covenant which I had made with all the peoples. 11 So it was annulled on that day, and the traffickers in the sheep, who were watching me, knew that it was the word of the LORD. 12 Then I said to them, "If it seems right to you, give me my wages; but if not, keep them."
And they weighed out as my wages thirty shekels of silver. 13 Then the LORD said to me, "Cast it into the treasury"^q—the lordly price at which I was paid off by them. So I took the thirty shekels of silver and cast them into the treasury^q in the house of the LORD. 14 Then I broke my second staff Union, annulling the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 Then the LORD said to me, "Take once more the implements of a worthless shepherd. 16 For lo, I am raising up in the land a shepherd who does not care for the perishing, or seek the wandering, or heal the maimed, or nourish the sound, but devours the flesh of the fat ones, tearing off even their hoofs.

¹⁷ Woe to my worthless shepherd, who deserts the flock!

May the sword smite his arm and his right eye!

Let his arm be wholly withered, his right eye utterly blinded!"

An Oracle

The word of the LORD concerning Israel: Thus says the LORD, who stretched out the heavens and founded the earth and formed the spirit of man within him: ² "Lo, I am about to make Jerusalem a cup of reeling to all the peoples round about; it will be against Judah also in the siege against Jerusalem. ³ On that day I will make Jerusalem a heavy stone for all the peoples; all who lift it shall grievously hurt themselves. And all the nations of the earth will come together against it. ⁴ On that day, says the LORD, I will strike every horse with panic, and its rider with madness. But upon the house of Judah I will open my eyes, when I strike every horse of the peoples with blindness. ⁵ Then the clans of Judah shall say to themselves, 'The inhabitants of Jerusalem have strength through the LORD of hosts, their God.'

⁶ "On that day I will make the clans of Judah like a blazing pot in the midst of wood, like a flaming torch among sheaves; and they shall devour to the right and to the left all the peoples round about, while Jerusalem shall still be inhabited in its place, in Jerusalem.

⁷ "And the LORD will give victory to the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem may not be exalted over that of Judah. ⁸ On that day the LORD will put a shield about the inhabitants of Jerusalem so that the feeblest among them on that day shall be like David, and the house of David shall be like God, like the angel of the LORD, at their head. ⁹ And on that day I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

¹⁰ "And I will pour out on the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit of compassion and supplication, so that, when they look on him whom they have pierced, they shall mourn for him, as one mourns for an only child, and weep bitterly over him, as one weeps over a first-born. ¹¹ On that day the mourning in Jerusalem will be as great as the mourning for Hadadrimmon in the plain of Megiddo. ¹² The land shall mourn, each family by itself; the family of the house of David by itself, and their wives by themselves; the family of the house of Nathan by itself, and their wives by themselves; ¹³ the family of the house of Levi by itself, and their wives by themselves; the family of the Shim'e-ites by itself, and their wives by themselves; ¹⁴ and all the families that are left, each by itself, and their wives by themselves.

13 "On that day there shall be a fountain opened for the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to cleanse them from sin and uncleanness.

² "And on that day, says the LORD of hosts, I will cut off the names of the idols from the land, so that they shall be remembered no more; and also I will remove from the land the prophets and the unclean spirit. ³ And if any one again appears as a prophet, his father and mother who bore him will say to him, 'You shall not live, for you speak lies in the name of the LORD'; and his father and mother who bore him shall pierce him through when he prophesies. ⁴ On that day every prophet will be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies; he will not put on a hairy mantle in order to deceive, ⁵ but he will say, 'I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the soil; for the land has been my possession' since my youth.' ⁶ And if one asks him, 'What are these wounds on your back?' he will say, 'The wounds I received in the house of my friends.'

⁷ "Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, against the man who stands next to me,"

says the LORD of hosts.

"Strike the shepherd, that the sheep may be scattered;

I will turn my hand against the little ones.

⁸ In the whole land, says the LORD,

¹ Syr Compare Gk Vg: Heb the youth ¹ Cn: Heb for man has caused me to possess

two thirds shall be cut off and perish, and one third shall be left alive.

⁹ And I will put this third into the fire, and refine them as one refines silver,
and test them as gold is tested.

They will call on my name,
and I will answer them.

I will say, 'They are my people';
and they will say, 'The LORD is my God.'

14 Behold, a day of the LORD is coming, when the spoil taken from you will be divided in the midst of you. ² For I will gather all the nations against Jerusalem to battle, and the city shall be taken and the houses plundered and the women ravished; half of the city shall go into exile, but the rest of the people shall not be cut off from the city. ³ Then the LORD will go forth and fight against those nations as when he fights on a day of battle. ⁴ On that day his feet shall stand on the Mount of Olives which lies before Jerusalem on the east; and the Mount of Olives shall be split in two from east to west by a very wide valley; so that one half of the Mount shall withdraw northward, and the other half southward. ⁵ And the valley of my mountains shall be stopped up, for the valley of the mountains shall touch the side of it; and you shall flee as you fled from the earthquake in the days of Uzzi'ah king of Judah. Then the LORD your^u God will come, and all the holy ones with him.^v

⁶ On that day there shall be neither cold nor frost.^w ⁷ And there shall be continuous day (it is known to the LORD), not day and not night, for at evening time there shall be light.

⁸ On that day living waters shall flow out from Jerusalem, half of them to the eastern sea and half of them to the western sea; it shall continue in summer as in winter.

⁹ And the LORD will become king over all the earth; on that day the LORD will be one and his name one.

¹⁰ The whole land shall be turned into a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem. But Jerusalem shall remain aloft upon its site from the Gate of Benjamin to the place of the former gate, to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Han'anel to the king's wine presses. ¹¹ And it shall be inhabited, for there shall be no more curse;^x Jerusalem shall dwell in security.

²⁰ And on that day there shall be inscribed on the bells of the horses, "Holy to the LORD." And the pots in the house of the LORD shall be as the bowls before the altar; ²¹ and every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be sacred to the LORD of hosts, so that all who sacrifice may come and take of them and boil the flesh of the sacrifice in them. And there shall no longer be a trader in the house of the LORD of hosts on that day.

THE BOOK OF MALACHI

1 The oracle of the word of the LORD to Israel by Mal'achi.^a

2 "I have loved you," says the LORD. But you say, "How hast thou loved us?" "Is not Esau Jacob's brother?" says the LORD. "Yet I have loved Jacob³ but I have hated Esau; I have laid waste his hill country and left his heritage to jackals of the desert."⁴ If Edom says, "We are shattered but we will rebuild the ruins," the LORD of hosts says, "They may build, but I will tear down, till they are called the wicked country, the people with whom the LORD is angry for ever."⁵ Your own eyes shall see this, and you shall say, "Great is the LORD, beyond the border of Israel!"

6 "A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If then I am a father, where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is my fear? says the LORD of hosts to you, O priests, who despise my name. You say, 'How have we despised thy name?'⁷ By offering polluted food upon my altar. And you say, 'How have we polluted it?'^b By thinking that the LORD's table may be despised.⁸ When you offer blind animals in sacrifice, is that no evil? And when you offer those that are lame or sick, is that no evil? Present that to your governor; will he be pleased with you or show you favor? says the LORD of hosts.⁹ And now entreat the favor of God, that he may be gracious to us. With such a gift from your hand, will he show favor to any of you? says the LORD of hosts.¹⁰ Oh, that there were one among you who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire upon my altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, says the LORD of hosts, and I will not accept an offering from your hand.¹¹ For from the rising of the sun to its setting my name is great among the nations, and in every place incense is offered to my name, and a pure offering; for my name is great among the nations, says the LORD of hosts.¹² But you profane it when you say that the LORD's table is polluted, and the food for it^c may be despised.¹³ 'What a weariness this is,' you say, and you sniff at me,^d says the LORD of hosts. You bring what has been taken by violence or is lame or sick, and this you bring as your offering! Shall I accept that from your hand? says the LORD.¹⁴ Cursed be the cheat who has a male in his flock, and vows it, and yet sacrifices to the Lord what is blemished; for I am a great King, says the LORD of hosts, and my name is feared among the nations.

2 "And now, O priests, this command is for you.² If you will not listen, if you will not lay it to heart to give glory to my name, says the LORD of hosts, then I will send the curse upon you and I will curse your blessings; indeed I have already cursed them, because you do not lay it to heart.³ Behold, I will rebuke your offspring, and spread dung upon your faces, the dung of your offerings, and I will put you out of my presence.^e ⁴ So shall you know that I have sent this command to you, that my covenant with Levi may hold, says the LORD of hosts.⁵ My covenant with him was a covenant of life and peace, and I gave them to him, that he might fear; and he feared me, he stood in awe of my name.⁶ True instruction/ was in his mouth, and no wrong was found on his lips. He walked with me in peace and uprightness, and he turned many from iniquity.⁷ For the lips of a priest should guard knowledge, and men should seek instruction/ from his mouth, for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.⁸ But you have turned aside from the way; you have caused many to stumble by your instruction;/ you have corrupted the covenant of Levi, says the LORD of hosts,⁹ and so I make you despised and abased before all the people, inasmuch as you have not kept my ways but have shown partiality in your instruction.”^f

10 Have we not all one father? Has not one God created us? Why then are we faithless to one another, profaning the covenant of our fathers? ¹¹ Judah has been faithless, and abomination has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah has profaned the sanctuary of the LORD, which he loves, and has married the daughter of a foreign God. ¹² May the LORD cut off from the tents of Jacob, for the man who does this, any to witness^g or answer, or to bring an offering to the LORD of hosts!

13 And this again you do. You cover the LORD's altar with tears, with weeping and groaning because he no longer regards the offering or accepts it with favor at your hand. ¹⁴ You ask, “Why does he not?” Because the LORD was witness to the covenant between you and the wife of your youth, to whom you have been faithless, though she is your companion and your wife by covenant. ¹⁵ Has not the one God made^h and sustained for us the spirit of life? And what does he desire? Godly offspring. So take heed to yourselves, and let none be faithless to the wife of his youth. ¹⁶ “For I hate^j divorce, says the LORD the God of Israel, and covering one's garment with violence, says the LORD of hosts. So take heed to yourselves and do not be faithless.”

17 You have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet you say, “How have we wearied him?” By saying, “Every one who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delights in them.” Or by asking, “Where is the God of justice?”

3 “Behold, I send my messenger to prepare the way before me, and the Lord whom you seek will suddenly come to his temple; the messenger of the covenant in whom you delight, behold, he is coming, says the LORD of hosts. ² But who can endure the day of his coming, and who can stand when he appears?

“For he is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap; ³ he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, till they present right offerings to the LORD. ⁴ Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasing to the LORD as in the days of old and as in former years.

5 “Then I will draw near to you for judgment; I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against those who swear falsely, against those who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow and the orphan, against those who thrust aside the sojourner, and do not fear me, says the LORD of hosts.

6 “For I the LORD do not change; therefore you, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed. ⁷ From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from my statutes and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts. But you say, ‘How shall we return?’ ⁸ Will man rob God? Yet you are robbing me. But you say, ‘How are we robbing thee?’ In your tithes and offerings. ⁹ You are cursed with a curse, for you are robbing me; the whole nation of you. ¹⁰ Bring the full tithes into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house; and thereby put me to the test, says the LORD of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven for you and pour down for you an overflowing blessing. ¹¹ I will rebuke the devourer^k for you, so that it will not destroy the fruits of your soil; and your vine in the field shall not fail to bear, says the LORD of hosts. ¹² Then all nations will call you blessed, for you will be a land of delight, says the LORD of hosts.

13 “Your words have been stout against me, says the LORD. Yet you say, ‘How have we spoken against thee?’ ¹⁴ You have said, ‘It is vain to serve God. What is the good of our keeping his charge or of walking as in mourning before the LORD of hosts? ¹⁵ Henceforth we deem the arrogant blessed; evildoers not only prosper but when they put God to the test they escape.’”

16 Then those who feared the LORD spoke with one another; the LORD heeded and heard them, and a book of remembrance was written before him of those who feared the LORD and thought on his name. ¹⁷ “They shall be mine, says the LORD of hosts, my special possession on the day when I act, and I will spare them as a man spares his son who serves him.¹⁸ Then once more you shall distinguish between the righteous and the wicked, between one who serves God and one who does not serve him.

4¹ "For behold, the day comes, burning like an oven, when all the arrogant and all evildoers will be stubble; the day that comes shall burn them up, says the LORD of hosts, so that it will leave them neither root nor branch.² But for you who fear my name the sun of righteousness shall rise, with healing in its wings. You shall go forth leaping like calves from the stall.³ And you shall tread down the wicked, for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet, on the day when I act, says the LORD of hosts.

4 "Remember the law of my servant Moses, the statutes and ordinances that I commanded him at Horeb for all Israel.

5 "Behold, I will send you Eli'jah the prophet before the great and terrible day of the LORD comes.⁶ And he will turn the hearts of fathers to their children and the hearts of children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the land with a curse."^m

TOBIT

1 The book of the acts^a of Tobit the son of To'biel, son of Anan'iel, son of Ad'uel, son of Gab'ael, of the descendants of As'i-el and the tribe of Naph'tali, 2 who in the days of Shalmane'ser,^b king of the Assyrians, was taken into captivity from Thisbe, which is to the south of Kedesh Naph'tali in Galilee above Asher.

3 I, Tobit, walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I performed many acts of charity to my brethren and countrymen who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nin'veh. 4 Now when I was in my own country, in the land of Israel, while I was still a young man, the whole tribe of Naph'tali my forefather deserted the house of Jerusalem. This was the place which had been chosen from among all the tribes of Israel, where all the tribes should sacrifice and where the temple of the dwelling of the Most High was consecrated and established for all generations for ever.

5 All the tribes that joined in apostasy used to sacrifice to the calf^c Ba'al, and so did the house of Naph'tali my forefather.

6 But I alone went often to Jerusalem for the feasts, as it is ordained for all Israel by an everlasting decree. Taking the first fruits and the tithes of my produce and the first shearings, I would give these to the priests, the sons of Aaron, at the altar. ⁷ Of all my produce I would give a tenth to the sons of Levi who ministered at Jerusalem; a second tenth I would sell, and I would go and spend the proceeds each year at Jerusalem; ⁸ the third tenth I would give to those to whom it was my duty, as Deb'orah my father's mother had commanded me, for I was left an orphan by my father. ⁹ When I became a man I married Anna, a member of our family, and by her I became the father of Tobí'as.

¹⁰ Now when I was carried away captive to Nin'evéh, all my brethren and my relatives ate the food of the Gentiles; ¹¹ but I kept myself from eating it, ¹² because I remembered God with all my heart. ¹³ Then the Most High gave me favor and good appearance in the sight of Shalmane'ser,^b and I was his buyer of provisions. ¹⁴ So I used to go into Media, and once at Rages in Media I left ten talents of silver in trust with Gab'ael, the brother of Gabri'as. ¹⁵ But when Shalmane'ser^b died, Sennach'erib his son reigned in his place; and under him the highways were unsafe, so that I could no longer go into Media.

¹⁶ In the days of Shalmane'ser^b I performed many acts of charity to my brethren. ¹⁷ I would give my bread to the hungry and my clothing to the naked; and if I saw any one of my people dead and thrown out behind the wall of Nin'evéh, I would bury him. ¹⁸ And if Sennach'erib the king put to death any who came fleeing from Judea, I buried them secretly. For in his anger he put many to death. When the bodies were sought by the king, they were not found. ¹⁹ Then one of the men of Nin'evéh went and informed the king about me, that I was burying them; so I hid myself. When I learned that I was being searched for, to be put to death, I left home in fear. ²⁰ Then all my property was confiscated and nothing was left to me except my wife Anna and my son Tobí'as.

²¹ But not fifty^d days passed before two of Sennach'erib's^e sons killed him, and they fled to the mountains of Ar'arat. Then E'sar-had'don,^f his son, reigned in his place; and he appointed Ahikar, the son of my brother An'ael, over all the accounts of his kingdom and over the entire administration. ²² Ahikar interceded for me, and I returned to Nin'evéh. Now Ahikar was cupbearer, keeper of the signet, and in charge of administration of the accounts, for E'sar-had'don^f had appointed him second to himself.^g He was my nephew.

2 When I arrived home and my wife Anna and my son Tooi'as were restored to me, at the feast of Pentecost, which is the sacred festival of the seven weeks, a good dinner was prepared for me and I sat down to eat. ² Upon seeing the abundance of food I said to my son, "Go and bring whatever poor man of our brethren you may find who is mindful of the Lord, and I will wait for you." ³ But he came back and said, "Father, one of our people has been strangled and thrown into the market place." ⁴ So before I tasted anything I sprang up and removed the body^h to a place of shelter until sunset. ⁵ And when I returned I washed myself and ate my food in sorrow. ⁶ Then I remembered the prophecy of Amos, how he said,

"Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your festivities into lamentation."

And I wept.

⁷ When the sun had set I went and dug a grave and buried the body.^h ⁸ And my neighbors laughed at me and said, "He is no longer afraid that he will be put to death for doing this; he once ran away, and here he is burying the dead again!" ⁹ On the same night I returned from burying him, and because I was defiled I slept by the wall of the courtyard, and my face was uncovered. ¹⁰ I did not know that there were sparrows on the wall and their fresh droppings fell into my open eyes and white films formed on my eyes. I went to physicians, but they did not help me. Ahikar, however, took care of me until heⁱ went to Elyma'is.

¹¹ Then my wife Anna earned money at women's work. ¹² She used to send

the product to the owners. Once when they paid her wages, they also gave her a kid; ¹³ and when she returned to me it began to bleat. So I said to her, "Where did you get the kid? It is not stolen, is it? Return it to the owners; for it is not right to eat what is stolen." ¹⁴ And she said, "It was given to me as a gift in addition to my wages." But I did not believe her, and told her to return it to the owners; and I blushed for her. Then she replied to me, "Where are your charities and your righteous deeds? You seem to know everything!"

3 Then in my grief I wept, and I prayed in anguish, saying, ² "Righteous art thou, O Lord; all thy deeds and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou dost render true and righteous judgment for ever. ³ Remember me and look favorably upon me; do not punish me for my sins and for my unwitting offenses and those which my fathers committed before thee. ⁴ For they disobeyed thy commandments, and thou gavest us over to plunder, captivity, and death; thou madest us a byword of reproach in all the nations among which we have been dispersed. ⁵ And now thy many judgments are true in exacting penalty from me for my sins and those of my fathers, because we did not keep thy commandments. For we did not walk in truth before thee. ⁶ And now deal with me according to thy pleasure; command my spirit to be taken up, that I may depart and become dust. For it is better for me to die than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and great is the sorrow within me. Command that I now be released from my distress to go to the eternal abode; do not turn thy face away from me."

⁷ On the same day, at Ecbat'ana in Media, it also happened that Sarah, the daughter of Rag'uel, was reproached by her father's maids, ⁸ because she had been given to seven husbands, and the evil demon Asmode'us had slain each of them before he had been with her as his wife. So the maids^j said to her, "Do you not know that you strangle your husbands? You already have had seven and have had no benefit from^k any of them.

⁹ Why do you beat us? If they are dead, go with them! May we never see a son or daughter of yours!"

¹⁰ When she heard these things she was deeply grieved, even to the thought of hanging herself. But she said, "I am the only child of my father; if I do this, it will be a disgrace to him, and I shall bring his old age down in sorrow to the grave."¹¹ So she prayed by her window and said, "Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and blessed is thy holy and honored name for ever. May all thy works praise thee for ever. ¹² And now, O Lord, I have turned my eyes and my face toward thee. ¹³ Command that I be released from the earth and that I hear reproach no more. ¹⁴ Thou knowest, O Lord, that I am innocent of any sin with man, ¹⁵ and that I did not stain my name or the name of my father in the land of my captivity. I am my father's only child, and he has no child to be his heir, no near kinsman or kinsman's^m son for whom I should keep myself as wife. Already seven husbands of mine are dead. Why should I live? But if it be not pleasing to thee to take my life, command that respect be shown to me and pity be taken upon me, and that I hear reproach no more."

¹⁶ The prayer of both was heard in the presence of the glory of the great God. ¹⁷ And Raph'aelⁿ was sent to heal the two of them: to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes; to give Sarah the daughter of Rag'uel in marriage to Tobi'as the son of Tobit, and to bind Asmode'us the evil demon, because Tobi'as was entitled to possess her. At that very moment Tobit returned and entered his house and Sarah the daughter of Rag'uel came down from her upper room.

4 On that day Tobit remembered the money which he had left in trust with Gab'ael at Rages in Media, and he said to himself: ² "I have asked for death. Why do I not call my son Tobi'as so that I may explain to him about the money^o before I die?" ³ So he called him and said, "My son, when I die, bury me, and do not neglect your mother. Honor her all the days of your life; do what is pleasing to her, and do not grieve her. ⁴ Remember, my son, that she faced many dangers for you while you were yet unborn. When she dies, bury her beside me in the same grave.

⁵ "Remember the Lord our God all your days, my son, and refuse to sin or to transgress his commandments. Live uprightly all the days of your life, and do not walk in the ways of wrongdoing. ⁶ For if you do what is true, your ways will prosper through your deeds. ⁷ Give alms from your possessions to all who live uprightly, and do not let your eye begrudge the gift when you make it. Do not turn your face away from any poor man, and the face of God will not be turned away from you. ⁸ If you have many possessions, make your gift from them in proportion; if few, do not be afraid to give according to the little you have. ⁹ So you will be laying up a good treasure for yourself against the day of necessity. ¹⁰ For charity delivers from death and keeps you from entering the darkness; ¹¹ and for all who practice it charity is an excellent offering in the presence of the Most High.

¹² "Beware, my son, of all immorality. First of all take a wife from among the descendants of your fathers and do not marry a foreign woman, who is not of your father's tribe; for we are the sons of the prophets. Remember, my son, that Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, our fathers of old, all took wives from among their brethren. They were blessed in their children, and their posterity will inherit the land. ¹³ So now, my son, love your brethren, and in your heart do not disdain your brethren and the sons and daughters of your people by refusing to take a wife for yourself from among them. For in pride there is ruin and great confusion; and in shiftlessness there is loss and great want, because shiftlessness is the mother of famine. ¹⁴ Do not hold over till the next day the wages of any man who works for you, but pay him at once; and if you serve God you will receive payment.

"Watch yourself, my son, in everything you do, and be disciplined in all your conduct. ¹⁵ And what you hate, do not do to any one. Do not drink wine to excess or let drunkenness go with you on your way. ¹⁶ Give of your bread to the hungry, and of your clothing to the naked. Give all your surplus to charity, and do not let your eye begrudge the gift when you make it. ¹⁷ Place your bread on the grave of the righteous, but give none to sinners. ¹⁸ Seek advice from every wise man, and do not despise any useful counsel. ¹⁹ Bless the Lord God on every occasion; ask him that your ways may be made straight and that all your paths and plans may prosper. For none of the nations has understanding; but the Lord himself gives all good things, and according to his will he humbles whomever he wishes.

"So, my son, remember my commands, and do not let them be blotted out of your mind. ²⁰ And now let me explain to you about the ten talents of silver which I left in trust with Gab'ael the son of Gabri'as at Rages in Media. ²¹ Do not be afraid, my son, because we have become poor. You have great wealth if you fear God and refrain from every sin and do what is pleasing in his sight."

5 Then Tobit answered him, "Father, I will do everything that you have commanded me; ² but how can I obtain the money when I do not know the man?" ³ Then Tobit gave him the receipt, and said to him, "Find a man to go with you and I will pay him wages as long as I live; and go and get the money." ⁴ So he went to look for a man; and he found Raph'ael, who was an angel, ⁵ but Tobit's^p did not know it. Tobit's^p said to him, "Can you go with me to Rages in Media? Are you acquainted with that region?" ⁶ The angel replied, "I will go with you; I am familiar with the way, and I have stayed with our brother Gab'ael." ⁷ Then Tobit's^p said to him, "Wait for me, and I shall tell my father." ⁸ And he said to him, "Go, and do not delay." So he went in and said to his father, "I have found some one to go with me." He said, "Call him to me, so that I may learn to what tribe he belongs, and whether he is a reliable man to go with you."

⁹ So Tobit's^p invited him in; he entered and they greeted each other. ¹⁰ Then Tobit said to him, "My brother, to what tribe and family do you belong? Tell me." ¹¹ But he answered, "Are you looking for a tribe and a family or for a man whom you will pay to go with your son?" And Tobit said to him, "I should like to know, my brother, your people and your name." ¹² He replied, "I am Azari'as the son of the great Anani'as, one of your relatives." ¹³ Then Tobit said to him, "You are welcome, my brother. Do not be angry with me because I tried to learn your tribe and family. You are a relative of mine, of a good and noble lineage. For I used to know Anani'as and Jathan, the sons of the great Shemai'ah, when we went together to Jerusalem to worship and offered the first-born of our flocks and the tithes of our produce. They did not go astray in the error of our brethren. My brother, you come of good stock. ¹⁴ But tell me, what wages am I to pay you—a drachma a day, and expenses for yourself as for my son? ¹⁵ And besides, I will add to your wages if you both return safe and sound." So they agreed to these terms.

¹⁶ Then he said to Tobi'as, "Get ready for the journey, and good success to you both." So his son made the preparations for the journey. And his father said to him, "Go with this man; God who dwells in heaven will prosper your way, and may his angel attend you." So they both went out and departed, and the young man's dog was with them.

¹⁷ But Anna,⁹ his mother, began to weep, and said to Tobit, "Why have you sent our child away? Is he not the staff of our hands as he goes in and out before us? ¹⁸ Do not add money to money, but consider it rubbish as compared to our child. ¹⁹ For the life that is given to us by the Lord is enough for us." ²⁰ And Tobit said to her, "Do not worry, my sister; he will return safe and sound, and your eyes will see him. ²¹ For a good angel will go with him; his journey will be successful, and he will come back safe and sound." So she stopped weeping.

6 Now as they proceeded on their way they came at evening to the Tigris river and camped there. ² Then the young man went down to wash himself. A fish leaped up from the river and would have swallowed the young man; ³ and the angel said to him, "Catch the fish." So the young man seized the fish and threw it up on the land. ⁴ Then the angel said to him, "Cut open the fish and take the heart and liver and gall and put them away safely." ⁵ So the young man did as the angel told him; and they roasted and ate the fish.

And they both continued on their way until they came near to Ecbat'ana. ⁶ Then the young man said to the angel, "Brother Azari'as, of what use is the liver and heart and gall of the fish?" ⁷ He replied, "As for the heart and the liver, if a demon or evil spirit gives trouble to any one, you make a smoke from these before the man or woman, and that person will never be troubled again. ⁸ And as for the gall, anoint with it a man who has white films in his eyes, and he will be cured."

⁹ When they approached Ecbat'ana, ¹⁰ the angel said to the young man, "Brother, today we shall stay with Rag'uel. He is your relative, and he has an only daughter named Sarah. I will suggest that she be given to you in marriage, ¹¹ because you are entitled to her and to her inheritance, for you are her only eligible kinsman. ¹² The girl is also beautiful and sensible. Now listen to my plan. I will speak to her father, and as soon as we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage. For I know that Rag'uel, according to the law of Moses, cannot give her to another man without incurring the penalty of death, because you rather than any other man are entitled to the inheritance."

¹³ Then the young man said to the angel, "Brother Azari'as, I have heard that the girl has been given to seven husbands and that each died in the bridal chamber. ¹⁴ Now I am the only son my father has, and I am afraid that if I go in I will die as those before me did, for a demon is in love with her, and he harms no one except those who approach her. So now I fear that I may die and bring the lives of my father and mother to the grave in sorrow on my account. And they have no other son to bury them."

15 But the angel said to him, "Do you not remember the words with which your father commanded you to take a wife from among your own people? Now listen to me, brother, for she will become your wife; and do not worry about the demon, for this very night she will be given to you in marriage. 16 When you enter the bridal chamber, you shall take live ashes of incense and lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish so as to make a smoke. 17 Then the demon will smell it and flee away, and will never again return. And when you approach her, rise up, both of you, and cry out to the merciful God, and he will save you and have mercy on you. Do not be afraid, for she was destined for you from eternity. You will save her, and she will go with you, and I suppose that you will have children by her." When Tobías heard these things, he fell in love with her and yearned deeply for her.

7 When they reached Ecbatána and arrived at the house of Rag'uel, Sarah met them and greeted them. They returned her greeting, and she brought them into the house. 2 Then Rag'uel said to his wife Edna, "How much the young man resembles my cousin Tobit!" 3 And Rag'uel asked them, "Where are you from, brethren?" They answered him, "We belong to the sons of Naph'tali, who are captives in Nin'evéh." 4 So he said to them, "Do you know our brother Tobit?" And they said, "Yes, we do." And he asked them, "Is he in good health?" 5 They replied, "He is alive and in good health." And Tobías said, "He is my father." 6 Then Rag'uel sprang up and kissed him and wept. 7 And he blessed him and exclaimed, "Son of that good and noble man!" When he heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was stricken with grief and wept. 8 And his wife Edna and his daughter Sarah wept. They received them very warmly; and they killed a ram from the flock and set large servings of food before them.

Then Tobías said to Raph'ael, "Brother Azari'as, speak of those things which you talked about on the journey, and let the matter be settled." 9 So he communicated the proposal to Rag'uel. And Rag'uel said to Tobías, "Eat, drink, and be merry; 10 for it is your right to take my child. But let me explain the true situation to you. 11 I have given my daughter to seven husbands, and when each came to her he died in the night. But for the present be merry." And Tobías said, "I will eat nothing here until you make a binding agreement with me." 12 So Rag'uel said, "Take her right now, in accordance with the law. You are her relative, and she is yours. The merciful God will guide you both for the best." 13 Then he called his daughter Sarah, and taking her by the hand he gave her to Tobías to be his wife, saying, "Here she is; take her according to the law of Moses, and take her with you to your father." And he blessed them. 14 Next he called his wife Edna, and took a scroll and wrote out the contract; and they set their seals to it. 15 Then they began to eat.

16 And Rag'uel called his wife Edna and said to her, "Sister, make up the other room, and take her into it." 17 So she did as he said, and took her there; and the girl^s began to weep. But the mother^s comforted her daughter in her tears, and said to her, 18 "Be brave, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth grant you joy^t in place of this sorrow of yours. Be brave, my daughter."

8 When they had finished eating, they escorted Tobías in to her. 2 As he went he remembered the words of Raph'ael, and he took the live ashes of incense and put the heart and liver of the fish upon them and made a smoke. 3 And when the demon smelled the odor he fled to the remotest parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him. 4 When the door was shut and the two were alone, Tobías got up from the bed and said, "Sister, get up, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy upon us." 5 And Tobías began to pray,

"Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed be thy holy and glorious name for ever.

Let the heavens and all thy creatures bless thee.

6 Thou madest Adam and gavest him Eve his wife as a helper and support. From them the race of mankind has sprung. Thou didst say, 'It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make a helper for him like himself.'

7 And now, O Lord, I am not taking this sister of mine because of lust, but with sincerity. Grant that I may find mercy and may grow old together with her." 8 And she said with him, "Amen." 9 Then they both went to sleep for the night.

But Rag'uel arose and went and dug a grave, 10 with the thought, "Perhaps he too will die." 11 Then Rag'uel went into his house 12 and said to his wife Edna, "Send one of the maids to see whether he is alive; and if he is not, let us bury him without any one knowing about it." 13 So the maid opened the door and went in, and found them both asleep. 14 And she came out and told them that he was alive. 15 Then Rag'uel blessed God and said,

"Blessed art thou, O God, with every pure and holy blessing. Let thy saints and all thy creatures bless thee; let all thy angels and thy chosen people bless thee for ever.

16 Blessed art thou, because thou hast made me glad. It has not happened to me as I expected; but thou hast treated us according to thy great mercy.

17 Blessed art thou, because thou hast had compassion on two only children. Show them mercy, O Lord; and bring their lives to fulfilment in health and happiness and mercy."

18 Then he ordered his servants to fill in the grave.

19 After this he gave a wedding feast for them which lasted fourteen days. 20 And before the days of the feast were over, Rag'uel declared by oath to Tobias that he should not leave until the fourteen days of the wedding feast were ended, 21 that then he should take half of Rag'uel's property and return in safety to his father, and that the rest would be his "when my wife and I die."

9 Then Tobias called Raph'ael and said to him, 2 "Brother Azari'as, take a servant and two camels with you and go to Gab'ael at Rages in Media and get the money for me; and bring him to the wedding feast. 3 For Rag'uel has sworn that I should not leave; 4 but my father is counting the days, and if I delay long he will be greatly distressed." 5 So Raph'ael made the journey and stayed overnight with Gab'ael. He gave him the receipt, and Gab'ael brought out the money bags with their seals intact and gave them to him. 6 In the morning they both got up early and came to the wedding feast. And Gab'ael blessed Tobias and his wife.^x

10 Now his father Tobit was counting each day, and when the days for the journey had expired and they did not arrive, 2 he said, "Is it possible that he has been detained? Or is it possible that Gab'ael has died and there is no one to give him the money?" 3 And he was greatly distressed. 4 And his wife said to him, "The lad has perished; his long delay proves it." Then she began to mourn for him, and said, 5 "Am I not distressed, my child, that I let you go, you who are the light of my eyes?" 6 But Tobit said to her, "Be still and stop worrying; he is well." 7 And she answered him, "Be still and stop deceiving me; my child has perished." And she went out every day to the road by which they had left; she ate nothing in the daytime, and throughout the nights she never stopped mourning for her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding feast had expired which Rag'uel had sworn that he should spend there.

At that time Tobias said to Rag'uel, "Send me back, for my father and mother have given up hope of ever seeing me again." 8 But his father-in-law said to him, "Stay with me, and I will send messengers to your father, and they will inform him how things are with you." ⁹ Tobi'as replied, "No, send me back to my father." ¹⁰ So Rag'uel arose and gave him his wife Sarah and half of his property in slaves, cattle, and money. ¹¹ And when he had blessed them he sent them away, saying, "The God of heaven will prosper you, my children, before I die." ¹² He said also to his daughter, "Honor your father-in-law and your mother-in-law; they are now your parents. Let me hear a good report of you." And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobi'as, "The Lord of heaven bring you back safely, dear brother, and grant me to see your children by my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord. See, I am entrusting my daughter to you; do nothing to grieve her."

11 After this Tobi'as went on his way, praising God because he had made his journey a success. And he blessed Rag'uel and his wife Edna.

So he continued on his way until they came near to Nin'evéh. ² Then Raph'ael said to Tobi'as, "Are you not aware, brother, of how you left your father? ³ Let us run ahead of your wife and prepare the house. ⁴ And take the gall of the fish with you." So they went their way, and the dog went along behind them.

⁵ Now Anna sat looking intently down the road for her son. ⁶ And she caught sight of him coming, and said to his father, "Behold, your son is coming, and so is the man who went with him!"

⁷ Raph'ael said, "I know, Tobi'as, that your father will open his eyes. ⁸ You therefore must anoint his eyes with the gall; and when they smart he will rub them, and will cause the white films to fall away, and he will see you."

⁹ Then Anna ran to meet them, and embraced her son, and said to him, "I have seen you, my child; now I am ready to die." And they both wept. ¹⁰ Tobit started toward the door, and stumbled. But his son ran to him ¹¹ and took hold of his father, and he sprinkled the gall upon his father's eyes, saying, "Be of good cheer, father." ¹² And when his eyes began to smart he rubbed them, ¹³ and the white films scaled off from the corners of his eyes. ¹⁴ Then he saw his son and embraced him, and he wept and said, "Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are all thy holy angels. ¹⁵ For thou hast afflicted me, but thou hast had mercy upon me; here I see my son Tobi'as!" And his son went in rejoicing, and he reported to his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

¹⁶ Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter-in-law at the gate of Nin'evéh, rejoicing and praising God. Those who saw him as he went were amazed because he could see. ¹⁷ And Tobit gave thanks before them that God had been merciful to him. When Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter-in-law, he blessed her, saying, "Welcome, daughter! Blessed is God who has brought you to us, and blessed are your father and your mother." So there was rejoicing among all his brethren in Nin'evéh. ¹⁸ Ahikar and his nephew Nadab: came, ¹⁹ and Tobi'as' marriage was celebrated for seven days with great festivity.

12 Tobit then called his son Tobi'as and said to him, "My son, see to the wages of the man who went with you; and he must also be given more." ² He replied, "Father, it would do me no harm to give him half of what I have brought back. ³ For he has led me back to you safely, he cured my wife, he obtained the money for me, and he also healed you." ⁴ The old man said, "He deserves it." ⁵ So he called the angel and said to him, "Take half of all that you two have brought back."

⁶ Then the angel^a called the two of them privately and said to them: "Praise God and give thanks to him; exalt him and give thanks to him in the presence of all the living for what he has done for you. It is good to praise God and to exalt his name, worthily declaring the works of God. Do not be slow to give him thanks. ⁷ It is good to guard the secret of a king, but gloriously to reveal the works of God. Do good, and evil will not overtake you. ⁸ Prayer is good when accompanied by fasting, almsgiving, and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with wrongdoing. It is better to give alms than to treasure up gold. ⁹ For almsgiving delivers from death, and it will purge away every sin. Those who perform deeds of charity and of righteousness will have fulness of life; ¹⁰ but those who commit sin are the enemies of their own lives.

¹¹ "I will not conceal anything from you. I have said, 'It is good to guard the secret of a king, but gloriously to reveal the works of God.' ¹² And so, when you and your daughter-in-law Sarah prayed, I brought a reminder of your prayer before the Holy One; and when you buried the dead, I was likewise present with you. ¹³ When you did not hesitate to rise and leave your dinner in order to go and lay out the dead, your good deed was not hidden from me, but I was with you. ¹⁴ So now God sent me to heal you and your daughter-in-law Sarah. ¹⁵ I am Raph'ael, one of the seven holy angels who present the prayers of the saints and enter into the presence of the glory of the Holy One."

¹⁶ They were both alarmed; and they fell upon their faces, for they were afraid. ¹⁷ But he said to them, "Do not be afraid; you will be safe. But praise God for ever. ¹⁸ For I did not come as a favor on my part, but by the will of our God. Therefore praise him for ever. ¹⁹ All these days I merely appeared to you and did not eat or drink, but you were seeing a vision. ²⁰ And now give thanks to God, for I am ascending to him who sent me. Write in a book everything that has happened." ²¹ Then they stood up; but they saw him no more. ²² So they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and acknowledged that the angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

13 Then Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoicing, and said:

"Blessed is God who lives for ever, and blessed is his kingdom.

² For he afflicts, and he shows mercy; he leads down to Hades, and brings up again, and there is no one who can escape his hand.

³ Acknowledge him before the nations, O sons of Israel; for he has scattered us among them.

⁴ Make his greatness known there, and exalt him in the presence of all the living;

because he is our Lord and God, he is our Father for ever.

⁵ He will afflict us for our iniquities; and again he will show mercy, and will gather us from all the nations among whom you^b have been scattered.

⁶ If you turn to him with all your heart and with all your soul, to do what is true before him, then he will turn to you and will not hide his face from you. But see what he will do with you; give thanks to him with your full voice.

Praise the Lord of righteousness, and exalt the King of the ages.

I give him thanks in the land of my captivity, and I show his power and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn back, you sinners, and do right before him; who knows if he will accept you and have mercy on you?

⁷ I exalt my God; my soul exalts the King of heaven, and will rejoice in his majesty.

⁸ Let all men speak, and give him thanks in Jerusalem.

⁹ O Jerusalem, the holy city, he will afflict you for the deeds of your sons, but again he will show mercy to the sons of the righteous.

¹⁰ Give thanks worthily to the Lord, and praise the King of the ages, that his tent may be raised for you again with joy.

May he cheer those within you who are captives, and love those within you who are distressed, to all generations for ever.

¹¹ Many nations will come from afar to the name of the Lord God, bearing gifts in their hands, gifts for the King of heaven.

Generations of generations will give you joyful praise.

14 Here Tobit ended his words of praise. ² He was fifty-eight years old when he lost his sight, and after eight years he regained it. He gave alms, and he continued to fear the Lord God and to praise him. ³ When he had grown very old he called his son and grandsons, and said to him, "My son, take your sons; behold, I have grown old and am about to depart this life. ⁴ Go to Media, my son, for I fully believe what Jonah the prophet said about Nin'evah, that it will be overthrown. But in Media there will be peace for a time. Our brethren will be scattered over the earth from the good land, and Jerusalem will be desolate. The house of God in it will be burned down and will be in ruins for a time. ⁵ But God will again have mercy on them, and bring them back into their land; and they will rebuild the house of God,^e though it will not be like the former one until the times of the age are completed. After this they will return from the places of their captivity, and will rebuild Jerusalem in splendor. And the house of God will be rebuilt there with a glorious building for all generations for ever, just as the prophets said of it. ⁶ Then all the Gentiles will turn to fear the Lord God in truth, and will bury their idols. ⁷ All the Gentiles will praise the Lord, and his people will give thanks to God, and the Lord will exalt his people. And all who love the Lord Godⁱ in truth and righteousness will rejoice, showing mercy to our brethren.

⁸ "So now, my son, leave Nin'evah, because what the prophet Jonah said will surely happen. ⁹ But keep the law and the commandments, and be merciful and just, so that it may be well with you. ¹⁰ Bury me properly, and your mother with me. And do not live in Nin'evah any longer. See, my son, what Nadab^f did to Ahikar who had reared him, how he brought him from light into darkness, and with what he repaid him. But Ahikar was saved, and the other received repayment as he himself went down into the darkness. Ahikar^g gave alms and escaped the deathtrap which Nadab^h had set for him; but Nadab^f fell into the trap and perished.
¹¹ So now, my children, consider what almsgiving accomplishes and how righteousness delivers." As he said this he died in his bed. He was a hundred and fifty-eight years old; and Tobit^h gave him a magnificent funeral. ¹² And when Anna died he buried her with his father.

Then Tobit^h returned with his wife and his sons to Ecbat'ana, to Rag'uel his father-in-law. ¹³ He grew old with honor, and he gave his father-in-law and mother-in-law magnificent funerals. He inherited their property and that of his father Tobit. ¹⁴ He died in Ecbat'ana of Media at the age of a hundred and twenty-seven years. ¹⁵ But before he died, he heard of the destruction of Nin'evah, which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasu-e-rus had captured. Before his death he rejoiced over Nin'evah.

JUDITH

1 In the twelfth year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, who ruled over the Assyrians in the great city of Nineveh, in the days of Arphaxad, who ruled over the Medes in Ecbatana—² he is the king who built walls about Ecbatana with hewn stones three cubits thick and six cubits long; he made the walls seventy cubits high and fifty cubits wide; ³ at the gates he built towers a hundred cubits high and sixty cubits wide at the foundations; ⁴ and he made its gates, which were seventy cubits high and forty cubits wide, so that his armies could march out in force and his infantry form their ranks—⁵ it was in those days that King Nebuchadnezzar made war against King Arphaxad in the great plain which is on the borders of Ragae. ⁶ He was joined by all the people of the hill country and all those who lived along the Euphrates and the Tigris and the Hydaspes and in the plain where Arich ruled the Elymaeans. Many nations joined the forces of the Chaldeans.

7 Then Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent to all who lived in Persia and to all who lived in the west, those who lived in Cilicia and Damascus and Lebanon and Antilebanon and all who lived along the seacoast, ⁸ and those among the nations of Carmel and Gilead, and Upper Galilee and the great Plain of Esdrael, ⁹ and all who were in Samaria and its surrounding towns, and beyond the Jordan as far as Jerusalem and Bethany and Chelous and Kadesh and the river of Egypt, and Tahpannes and Raamses and the whole land of Goshen, ¹⁰ even beyond Tanis and Memphis, and all who lived in Egypt as far as the borders of Ethiopia. ¹¹ But all who lived in the whole region disregarded the orders of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and refused to join him in the war; for they were not afraid of him, but looked upon him as only one man, ^a and they sent back his messengers empty-handed and shamefaced.

12 Then Nebuchadnezzar was very angry with this whole region, and swore by his throne and kingdom that he would surely take revenge on the whole territory of Cilicia and Damascus and Syria, that he would kill by the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the people of Ammon, and all Judea, and every one in Egypt, as far as the coasts of the two seas. ¹³ In the seventeenth year he led his forces against King Arphaxad, and defeated him in battle, and overthrew the whole army of Arphaxad, and all his cavalry and all his chariots. ¹⁴ Thus he took possession of his cities, and came to Ecbatana, captured its towers, plundered its markets, and turned its beauty into shame. ¹⁵ He captured Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragae and struck him down with hunting spears; and he utterly destroyed him, to this day. ¹⁶ Then he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his combined forces, a vast body of troops; and there he and his forces rested and feasted for one hundred and twenty days.

2 In the eighteenth year, on the twenty-second day of the first month, there was talk in the palace of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians about carrying out his revenge on the whole region, just as he had said. ² He called together all his officers and all his nobles and set forth to them his secret plan and recounted fully, with his own lips, all the wickedness of the region; ^b ³ and it was decided that every one who had not obeyed his command should be destroyed. ⁴ When he had finished setting forth his plan, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes, the chief general of his army, second only to himself, and said to him,

5 "Thus says the Great King, the lord of the whole earth: When you leave my presence, take with you men confident in their strength, to the number of one hundred and twenty thousand foot soldiers and twelve thousand cavalry. ⁶ Go and attack the whole west country, because they disobeyed my orders. ⁷ Tell them to prepare earth and water, for I am coming against them in my anger, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of my armies, and will hand them over to be plundered by my troops,^c ⁸ till their wounded shall fill their valleys, and every brook and river shall be filled with their dead, and overflow; ⁹ and I will lead them away captive to the ends of the whole earth. ¹⁰ You shall go and seize all their territory for me in advance. They will yield themselves to you, and you shall hold them for me till the day of their punishment. ¹¹ But if they refuse, your eye shall not spare and you shall hand them over to slaughter and plunder throughout your whole region. ¹² For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, what I have spoken my hand will execute. ¹³ And you—take care not to transgress any of your sovereign's commands, but be sure to carry them out just as I have ordered you; and do not delay about it."

¹⁴ So Holofernes left the presence of his master, and called together all the commanders, generals, and officers of the Assyrian army, ¹⁵ and mustered the picked troops by divisions as his lord had ordered him to do, one hundred and twenty thousand of them, together with twelve thousand archers on horseback, ¹⁶ and he organized them as a great army is marshaled for a campaign. ¹⁷ He collected a vast number of camels and asses and mules for transport, and innumerable sheep and oxen and goats for provision; ¹⁸ also plenty of food for every man, and a huge amount of gold and silver from the royal palace. ¹⁹ So he set out with his whole army, to go ahead of King Nebuchadnezzar and to cover the whole face of the earth to the west with their chariots and horsemen and picked troops of infantry. ²⁰ Along with them went a mixed crowd like a swarm of locusts, like the dust of the earth—a multitude that could not be counted.

²¹ They marched for three days from Nin'evah to the plain of Becu'leth, and camped opposite Becu'leth near the mountain which is to the north of Upper Cili'cia. ²² From there Holofernes^d took his whole army, his infantry, cavalry, and chariots, and went up into the hill country ²³ and ravaged Put and Lud, and plundered all the people of Rassis and the Ish'maelites who lived along the desert, south of the country of the Chel'leans. ²⁴ Then he followed^e the Eu-phra'tes and passed through Mesopotamia and destroyed all the hilltop cities along the brook Abron, as far as the sea. ²⁵ He also seized the territory of Cili'cia, and killed every one who resisted him, and came to the southern borders of Japheth, fronting toward Arabia. ²⁶ He surrounded all the Mid'ianites, and burned their tents and plundered their sheepfolds. ²⁷ Then he went down into the plain of Damascus during the wheat harvest, and burned all their fields and destroyed their flocks and herds and sacked their cities and ravaged their lands and put to death all their young men with the edge of the sword.

²⁸ So fear and terror of him fell upon all the people who lived along the seacoast, at Sidon and Tyre, and those who lived in Sur and Oci'na and all who lived in Jam'nia. Those who lived in Azo'tus and As'calon feared him exceedingly.

3 So they sent messengers to sue for peace, and said, ² "Behold, we the servants of Nebuchadnezzar, the Great King, lie prostrate before you. Do with us whatever you will. ³ Behold, our buildings, and all our land, and all our wheat fields, and our flocks and herds, and all our sheepfolds with their tents, lie before you; do with them whatever you please. ⁴ Our cities also and their inhabitants are your slaves; come and deal with them in any way that seems good to you."

⁵ The men came to Holofernes and told him all this. ⁶ Then he went down to the seacoast with his army and stationed garrisons in the hilltop cities and took picked men from them as his allies. ⁷ And these people and all in the country round about welcomed him with garlands and dances and tambourines. ⁸ And he demolished all their shrines^f and cut down their sacred groves; for it had been given to him to destroy all the gods of the land, so that all nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and all their tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.

⁹ Then he came to the edge of Esdrae'lon, near Dothan, fronting the great ridge of Judea; ¹⁰ here he camped between Geba and Scythopolis, and remained for a whole month in order to assemble all the supplies for his army.

4 By this time the people of Israel living in Judea heard of everything that Holofernes, the general of Nebuchadnezzar the king of the Assyrians, had done to the nations, and how he had plundered and destroyed all their temples; ² they were therefore very greatly terrified at his approach, and were alarmed both for Jerusalem and for the temple of the Lord their God. ³ For they had only recently returned from the captivity, and all the people of Judea were newly gathered together, and the sacred vessels and the altar and the temple had been consecrated after their profanation. ⁴ So they sent to every district of Samar'ia, and to Kona and Beth-horon and Belma'in and Jericho and to Choba and Aesor'a and the valley of Salem, ⁵ and immediately seized all the high hilltops and fortified the villages on them and stored up food in preparation for war—since their fields had recently been harvested. ⁶ And Jo'akim, the high priest, who was in Jerusalem at that time, wrote to the people of Bethu'lia and Betomestha'im, which faces Esdrac'lon opposite the plain near Dothan, ⁷ ordering them to seize the passes up into the hills, since by them Judea could be invaded, and it was easy to stop any who tried to enter, for the approach was narrow, only wide enough for two men at the most.

⁸ So the Israelites did as Jo'akim the high priest and the senate of the whole people of Israel, in session at Jerusalem, had given order. ⁹ And every man of Israel cried out to God with great fervor, and they humbled themselves with much fasting. ¹⁰ They and their wives and their children and their cattle and every resident alien and hired laborer and purchased slave—they all girded themselves with sackcloth. ¹¹ And all the men and women of Israel, and their children, living at Jerusalem, prostrated themselves before the temple and put ashes on their heads and spread out their sackcloth before the Lord. ¹² They even surrounded the altar with sackcloth and cried out in unison, praying earnestly to the God of Israel not to give up their infants as prey and their wives as booty, and the cities they had inherited to be destroyed, and the sanctuary to be profaned and desecrated to the malicious joy of the Gentiles. ¹³ So the Lord heard their prayers and looked upon their affliction; for the people fasted many days throughout Judea and in Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. ¹⁴ And Jo'akim the high priest and all the priests who stood before the Lord and ministered to the Lord, with their loins girded with sackcloth, offered the continual burnt offerings and the vows and freewill offerings of the people. ¹⁵ With ashes upon their turbans, they cried out to the Lord with all their might to look with favor upon the whole house of Israel.

5 When Holofernes, the general of the Assyrian army, heard that the people of Israel had prepared for war and had closed the passes in the hills and had fortified all the high hilltops and set up barricades in the plains, ² he was very angry. So he called together all the princes of Moab and the commanders of Ammon and all the governors of the coastland, ³ and said to them, "Tell me, you Canaanites, what people is this that lives in the hill country? What cities do they inhabit? How large is their army, and in what does their power or strength consist? Who rules over them as king, leading their army? ⁴ And why have they alone, of all who live in the west, refused to come out and meet me?"

⁵ Then Ach'ior, the leader of all the Ammonites, said to him, "Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of your servant, and I will tell you the truth about this people that dwells in the nearby mountain district. No falsehood shall come from your servant's mouth. ⁶ This people is descended from the Chalde'ans. ⁷ At one time they lived in Mesopotamia, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers who were in Chaldea. ⁸ For they had left the ways of their ancestors, and they worshiped the God of heaven, the God they had come to know; hence they drove them out from the presence of their gods; and they fled to Mesopotamia, and lived there for a long time. ⁹ Then their God commanded them to leave the place where they were living and go to the land of Canaan. There they settled, and prospered, with much gold and silver and very many cattle. ¹⁰ When a famine spread over Canaan they went down to Egypt and lived there as long as they had food; and there they became a great multitude—so great that they could not be counted. ¹¹ So the king of Egypt became hostile to them; he took advantage of them and set them to making bricks, and humbled them and made slaves of them. ¹² Then they cried out to their God, and he afflicted the whole land of Egypt with incurable plagues; and so the Egyptians drove them out of their sight. ¹³ Then God dried up the Red Sea before them, ¹⁴ and he led them by the way of Sinai and Ka'desh-bar'nea, and drove out all the people of the wilderness. ¹⁵ So they lived in the land of the Amorites, and by their might destroyed all the inhabitants of Heshbon; and crossing over the Jordan they took possession of all the hill country. ¹⁶ And they drove out before them the Canaanites and the Per'izzites and the Jeb'usites and the She'chemites and all the Ger'gesites, and lived there a long time. ¹⁷ As long as they did not sin against their God they prospered, for the God who hates iniquity is with them. ¹⁸ But when they departed from the way which he had appointed for them, they were utterly defeated in many battles and were led away captive to a foreign country; the temple of their God was razed to the ground, and their cities were captured by their enemies. ¹⁹ But now they have returned to their God, and have come back from the places to which they were scattered, and have occupied Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and have settled in the hill country, because it was uninhabited. ²⁰ Now therefore, my master and lord, if there is any unwitting error in this people and they sin against their God and we find out their offense, then we will go up and defeat them. ²¹ But if there is no transgression in their nation, then let my lord pass them by; for their Lord will defend them, and their God will protect them, and we shall be put to shame before the whole world."

²² When Ach'ior had finished saying this, all the men standing around the tent began to complain; Holofer'nes' officers and all the men from the sea-coast and from Moab insisted that he must be put to death. ²³ "For," they said, "we will not be afraid of the Israelites; they are a people with no strength or power for making war. ²⁴ Therefore let us go up, Lord Holofer'nes, and they will be devoured by your vast army."

6 When the disturbance made by the men outside the council died down, Holofer'nes, the commander of the Assyrian army, said to Ach'ior and all the Moabites in the presence of all the foreign contingents:

² "And who are you, Ach'ior, and you hirelings of E'phraim, to prophesy among us as you have done today and tell us not to make war against the people of Israel because their God will defend them? Who is God except Nebuchadnezzar? ³ He will send his forces and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God will not deliver them—we the king's servants will destroy them as one man. They cannot resist the might of our cavalry. ⁴ We will burn them up,⁸ and their mountains will be drunk with their blood and their fields will be full of their dead. They⁶ cannot withstand us, but will utterly perish. So says King Nebuchadnezzar, the lord of the whole earth. For he has spoken; none of his words shall be in vain.

⁵ "But you, Ach'ior, you Ammonite hireling, who have said these words on the day of your iniquity, you shall not see my face again from this day until I take revenge on this race that came out of Egypt. ⁶ Then the sword of my army and the spearⁱ of my servants shall pierce your sides, and you shall fall among their wounded, when I return. ⁷ Now my slaves are going to take you back into the hill country and put you in one of the cities beside the passes, ⁸ and you will not die until you perish along with them. ⁹ If you really hope in your heart that they will not be taken, do not look downcast! I have spoken and none of my words shall fail."

¹⁰ Then Holofer'nes ordered his slaves, who waited on him in his tent, to seize Ach'ior and take him to Bethu'lia and hand him over to the men of Israel.

¹⁴ Then the men of Israel came down from their city and found him; and they untied him and brought him into Bethu'lia and placed him before the magistrates of their city, ¹⁵ who in those days were Uzzi'ah the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothon'iel, and Charmis the son of Mel'chiel. ¹⁶ They called together all the elders of the city, and all their young men and their women ran to the assembly; and they set Ach'ior in the midst of all their people, and Uzzi'ah asked him what had happened. ¹⁷ He answered and told them what had taken place at the council of Holofer'nes, and all that he had said in the presence of the Assyrian leaders, and all that Holofer'nes had said so boastfully against the house of Israel. ¹⁸ Then the people fell down and worshiped God, and cried out to him, and said,

²⁰ Then they consoled Ach'ior, and praised him greatly. ²¹ And Uzzi'ah took him from the assembly to his own house and gave a banquet for the elders; and all that night they called on the God of Israel for help.

7 The next day Holofer'nes ordered his whole army, and all the allies who had joined him, to break camp and move against Bethu'lia, and to seize the passes up into the hill country and make war on the Israelites. ² So all their warriors moved their camp that day; their force of men of war was one hundred and seventy thousand infantry and twelve thousand cavalry, together with the baggage and the foot soldiers handling it, a very great multitude. ³ They encamped in the valley near Bethu'lia, beside the spring, and they spread out in breadth over Dothan as far as Balba'im and in length from Bethu'lia to Cy'amon, which faces Esdrae'lon.

⁴ When the Israelites saw their vast numbers they were greatly terrified, and every one said to his neighbor, "These men will now lick up the face of the whole land; neither the high mountains nor the valleys nor the hills will bear their weight." ⁵ Then each man took up his weapons, and when they had kindled fires on their towers they remained on guard all that night.

⁸ Then all the chieftains of the people of Esau and all the leaders of the Moabites and the commanders of the coastland came to him and said, ⁹ "Let our lord hear a word, lest his army be defeated. ¹⁰ For these people, the Israelites, do not rely on their spears but on the height of the mountains where they live, for it is not easy to reach the tops of their mountains. ¹¹ Therefore, my lord, do not fight against them in battle array, and not a man of your army will fall. ¹² Remain in your camp, and keep all the men in your forces with you; only let your servants take possession of the spring of water that flows from the foot of the mountain—¹³ for this is where all the people of Bethu'lia get their water. So thirst will destroy them, and they will give up their city. We and our people will go up to the tops of the nearby mountains and camp there to keep watch that not a man gets out of the city. ¹⁴ They and their wives and children will waste away with famine, and before the sword reaches them they will be strewn about in the streets where they live. ¹⁵ So you will pay them back with evil, because they rebelled and did not receive you peaceably."

¹⁶ These words pleased Holofer'nes and all his servants, and he gave orders to do as they had said. ¹⁷ So the army of the Ammonites moved forward, together with five thousand Assyrians, and they encamped in the valley and seized the water supply and the springs of the Israelites. ¹⁸ And the sons of Esau and the sons of Ammon went up and encamped in the hill country opposite Dothan; and they sent some of their men toward the south and the east, toward Acr'aba, which is near Chusi beside the brook Mochmur. The rest of the Assyrian army encamped in the plain, and covered the whole face of the land, and their tents and supply trains spread out in great number, and they formed a vast multitude.

¹⁹ The people of Israel cried out to the Lord their God, for their courage failed, because all their enemies had surrounded them and there was no way of escape from them. ²⁰ The whole Assyrian army, their infantry, chariots, and cavalry, surrounded them for thirty-four days, until all the vessels of water belonging to every inhabitant of Bethu'lia were empty; ²¹ their cisterns were going dry, and they did not have enough water to drink their fill for a single day, because it was measured out to them to drink. ²² Their children lost heart, and the women and young men fainted from thirst and fell down in the streets of the city and in the passages through the gates; there was no strength left in them any longer.

²³ Then all the people, the young men, the women, and the children, gathered about Uzzi'ah and the rulers of the city and cried out with a loud voice, and said before all the elders, ²⁴ "God be judge between you and us! For you have done us a great injury in not making peace with the Assyrians. ²⁵ For now we have no one to help us; God has sold us into their hands, to strew us on the ground before them with thirst and utter destruction. ²⁶ Now call them in and surrender the whole city to the army of Holofer'nes and to all his forces, to be plundered. ²⁷ For it would be better for us to be captured by them;^k for we will be slaves, but our lives will be spared, and we shall not witness the death of our babes before our eyes, or see our wives and children draw their last breath. ²⁸ We call to witness against you heaven and earth and our God, the Lord of our fathers, who punishes us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers. Let him not do this day the things which we have described!"

²⁹ Then great and general lamentation arose throughout the assembly, and they cried out to the Lord God with a loud voice. ³⁰ And Uzzi'ah said to them, "Have courage, my brothers! Let us hold out for five more days; by that time the Lord our God will restore to us his mercy, for he will not forsake us utterly. ³¹ But if these days pass by, and no help comes for us, I will do what you say."

³² Then he dismissed the people to their various posts, and they went up on the walls and towers of their city. The women and children he sent home. And they were greatly depressed in the city.

8 At that time Judith heard about these things: she was the daughter of Merar'i the son of Ox, son of Joseph, son of O'ziel, son of Elki'ah, son of Anani'as, son of Gideon, son of Raph'-a-im, son of Ahi'tub, son of Eli'jah, son of Hilki'ah, son of Eli'ab, son of Nathan'a-el, son of Salam'iel, son of Sarasad'ai, son of Israel. ² Her husband Manas'seh, who belonged to her tribe and family, had died during the barley harvest. ³ For as he stood overseeing the men who were binding sheaves in the field, he was overcome by the burning heat, and took to his bed and died in Bethu'lia his city. So they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothan and Bala'mon. ⁴ Judith had lived at home as a widow for three years and four months. ⁵ She set up a tent for herself on the roof of her house, and girded sackcloth about her loins and wore the garments of her widowhood. ⁶ She fasted all the days of her widowhood, except the day before the sabbath and the sabbath itself, the day before the new moon and the day of the new moon, and the feasts and days of rejoicing of the house of Israel. ⁷ She was beautiful in appearance, and had a very lovely face; and her husband Manas'seh had left her gold and silver, and men and women slaves, and cattle, and fields; and she maintained this estate. ⁸ No one

^k Other authorities add than to die of thirst spoke ill of her, for she feared God with great devotion.

9 When Judith heard the wicked words spoken by the people against the ruler, because they were faint for lack of water, and when she heard all that Uzzi'ah said to them, and how he promised them under oath to surrender the city to the Assyrians after five days, ¹⁰ she sent her maid, who was in charge of all she possessed, to summon^l Chabris and Char-mis, the elders of her city. ¹¹ They came to her, and she said to them,

"Listen to me, rulers of the people of Bethu'lia! What you have said to the people today is not right; you have even sworn and pronounced this oath between God and you, promising to surrender the city to our enemies unless the Lord turns and helps us within so many days. ¹² Who are you, that have put God to the test this day, and are setting yourselves up in the place of^m God among the sons of men? ¹³ You are putting the Lord Almighty to the test—but you will never know anything! ¹⁴ You cannot plumb the depths of the human heart, nor find out what a man is thinking; how do you expect to search out God, who made all these things, and find out his mind or comprehend his thought? No, my brethren, do not provoke the Lord our God to anger. ¹⁵ For if he does not choose to help us within these five days, he has power to protect us within any time he pleases, or even to destroy us in the presence of our enemies. ¹⁶ Do not try to bind the purposes of the Lord our God; for God is not like man, to be threatened, nor like a human being, to be won over by pleading. ¹⁷ Therefore, while we wait for his deliverance, let us call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it pleases him.

18 "For never in our generation, nor in these present days, has there been any tribe or family or people or city of ours which worshiped gods made with hands, as was done in days gone by—¹⁹ and that was why our fathers were handed over to the sword, and to be plundered, and so they suffered a great catastrophe before our enemies. ²⁰ But we know no other god but him, and therefore we hope that he will not disdain us or any of our nation. ²¹ For if we are captured and all Judea will be captured and our sanctuary will be plundered; and he will exact of usⁿ the penalty for its desecration. ²² And the slaughter of our brethren and the captivity of the land and the desolation of our inheritance—all this he will bring upon our heads among the Gentiles, wherever we serve as slaves; and we shall be an offense and a reproach in the eyes of those who acquire us. ²³ For our slavery will not bring us into favor, but the Lord our God will turn it to dishonor.

24 "Now therefore, brethren, let us set an example to our brethren, for their lives depend upon us, and the sanctuary and the temple and the altar rest upon us. ²⁵ In spite of everything let us give thanks to the Lord our God, who is putting us to the test as he did our forefathers. ²⁶ Remember what he did with Abraham, and how he tested Isaac, and what happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia in Syria, while he was keeping the sheep of Laban, his mother's brother. ²⁷ For he has not tried us with fire, as he did them, to search their hearts, nor has he taken revenge upon us; but the Lord scourges those who draw near to him, in order to admonish them."

28 Then Uzzi'ah said to her, "All that you have said has been spoken out of a true heart, and there is no one who can deny your words. ²⁹ Today is not the first time your wisdom has been shown, but from the beginning of your life all the people have recognized your understanding, for your heart's disposition is right. ³⁰ But the people were very thirsty, and they compelled us to do for them what we have promised, and made us take an oath which we cannot break. ³¹ So pray for us, since you are a devout woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns and we will no longer be faint."

32 Judith said to them, "Listen to me. I am about to do a thing which will go down through all generations of our descendants. ³³ Stand at the city gate tonight, and I will go out with my maid; and within the days after which you have promised to surrender the city to our enemies, the Lord will deliver Israel by my hand. ³⁴ Only, do not try to find out what I plan; for I will not tell you until I have finished what I am about to do."

³⁵ Uzzi'ah and the rulers said to her, "Go in peace, and may the Lord God go before you, to take revenge upon our enemies." ³⁶ So they returned from the tent and went to their posts.

9 Then Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes on her head, and uncovered the sackcloth she was wearing; and at the very time when that evening's incense was being offered in the house of God in Jerusalem, Judith cried out to the Lord with a loud voice, and said,

2 "O Lord God of my father Simeon, to whom thou gavest a sword to take revenge on the strangers who had loosed the girde^o of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered her thigh to put her to shame, and polluted her womb to disgrace her; for thou hast said, 'It shall not be done'—yet they did it. ³ So thou gavest up their rulers to be slain, and their bed, which was ashamed of the deceit they had practiced, to be stained with blood, and thou didst strike down slaves along with princes, and princes on their thrones; ⁴ and thou gavest their wives for a prey and their daughters to captivity, and all their booty to be divided among thy beloved sons, who were zealous for thee, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called on thee for help—O God, my God, hear me also, a widow.

5 "For thou hast done these things and those that went before and those that followed; thou hast designed the things that are now, and those that are to come. Yea, the things thou didst intend came to pass, ⁶ and the things thou didst will presented themselves and said, 'Lo, we are here'; for all thy ways are prepared in advance, and thy judgment is with foreknowledge.

7 "Behold now, the Assyrians are increased in their might; they are exalted, with their horses and riders; they glory in the strength of their foot soldiers; they trust in shield and spear, in bow and sling, and know not that thou art the Lord who crushes wars; the Lord is thy name. ⁸ Break their strength by thy might, and bring down their power in thy anger; for they intend to defile thy sanctuary, and to pollute the tabernacle where thy glorious name rests, and to cast down the horn of thy altar with the sword. ⁹ Behold their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads; give to me, a widow, the strength to do what I plan. ¹⁰ By the deceit of my lips strike down the slave with the prince and the prince with his servant; crush their arrogance by the hand of a woman.

11 "For thy power depends not upon numbers, nor thy might upon men of strength; for thou art God of the lowly, helper of the oppressed, upholder of the weak, protector of the forlorn, savior of those without hope. ¹² Hear, O hear me, God of my father, God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of heaven and earth, Creator of the waters, King of all thy creation, hear my prayer! ¹³ Make my deceitful words to be their wound and stripe, for they have planned cruel things against thy covenant, and against thy consecrated house, and against the top of Zion, and against the house possessed by thy children. ¹⁴ And cause thy whole nation and every tribe to know and understand that thou art God, the God of all power and might, and that there is no other who protects the people of Israel but thou alone!"

10 When Judith^p had ceased crying out to the God of Israel, and had ended all these words, ² she rose from where she lay prostrate and called her maid and went down into the house where she lived on sabbaths and on her feast days; ³ and she removed the sackcloth which she had been wearing, and took off her widow's garments, and bathed her body with water, and anointed herself with precious ointment, and combed her hair and put on a tiara, and arrayed herself in her gayest apparel, which she used to wear while her husband Manas'sch was living. ⁴ And she put sandals on her feet, and put on her anklets and bracelets and rings, and her earrings and all her ornaments, and made herself very beautiful, to entice the eyes of all men who might see her. ⁵ And she gave her maid a bottle of wine and a flask of oil, and filled a bag with parched grain and a cake of dried fruit and fine bread; and she wrapped up all her vessels and gave them to her to carry.

6 Then they went out to the city gate of Bethu'lia, and found Uzzi'ah standing there with the elders of the city, Chabris and Charmis. 7 When they saw her, and noted how her face was altered and her clothing changed, they greatly admired her beauty, and said to her, 8 "May the God of our fathers grant you favor and fulfil your plans, that the people of Israel may glory and Jerusalem may be exalted." And she worshiped God.

9 Then she said to them, "Order the gate of the city to be opened for me, and I will go out and accomplish the things about which you spoke with me." So they ordered the young men to open the gate for her, as she had said. 10 When they had done this, Judith went out, she and her maid with her; and the men of the city watched her until she had gone down the mountain and passed through the valley and they could no longer see her.

11 The women^a went straight on through the valley; and an Assyrian patrol met her 12 and took her into custody, and asked her, "To what people do you belong, and where are you coming from, and where are you going?" She replied, "I am a daughter of the Hebrews, but I am fleeing from them, for they are about to be handed over to you to be devoured. 13 I am on my way to the presence of Holofer'nes the commander of your army, to give him a true report; and I will show him a way by which he can go and capture all the hill country without losing one of his men, captured or slain."

14 When the men heard her words, and observed her face—she was in their eyes marvelously beautiful—they said to her, 15 "You have saved your life by hurrying down to the presence of our lord. Go at once to his tent; some of us will escort you and hand you over to him. 16 And when you stand before him, do not be afraid in your heart, but tell him just what you have said, and he will treat you well."

17 They chose from their number a hundred men to accompany her and her maid, and they brought them to the tent of Holofer'nes. 18 There was great excitement in the whole camp, for her arrival was reported from tent to tent, and they came and stood around her as she waited outside the tent of Holofer'nes while they told him about her. 19 And they marveled at her beauty, and admired the Israelites, judging them by her, and every one said to his neighbor, "Who can despise these people, who have women like this among them? Surely not a man of them had better be left alive, for if we let them go they will be able to ensnare the whole world!"

20 Then Holofer'nes' companions and all his servants came out and led her into the tent. 21 Holofer'nes was resting on his bed, under a canopy which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious stones. 22 When they told him of her he came forward to the front of the tent, with silver lamps carried before him. 23 And when Judith came into the presence of Holofer'nes and his servants, they all marveled at the beauty of her face; and she prostrated herself and made obeisance to him, and his slaves raised her up.

11 Then Holofer'nes said to her, "Take courage, woman, and do not be afraid in your heart, for I have never hurt any one who chose to serve Nebuchadnezzar, the king of all the earth. 2 And even now, if your people who live in the hill country had not slighted me, I would never have lifted my spear against them; but they have brought all this on themselves. 3 And now tell me why you have fled from them and have come over to us—since you have come to safety. 4 Have courage; you will live, tonight and from now on. No one will hurt you, but all will treat you well, as they do the servants of my lord King Nebuchadnezzar."

5 Judith replied to him, "Accept the words of your servant, and let your maidservant speak in your presence, and I will tell nothing false to my lord this night. 6 And if you follow out the words of your maidservant, God will accomplish something through you, and my lord will not fail to achieve his purposes. ⁷ Nebuchadnezzar the king of the whole earth lives, and as his power endures, who has sent you to direct every living soul, not only do men serve him because of you, but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the air will live by your power under Nebuchadnezzar and all his house. ⁸ For we have heard of your wisdom and skill, and it is reported throughout the whole world that you are the one good man in the whole kingdom, thoroughly informed and marvelous in military strategy.

⁹ "Now as for the things Achior said in your council, we have heard his words, for the men of Bethulia spared him and he told them all he had said to you. ¹⁰ Therefore, my lord and master, do not disregard what he said, but keep it in your mind, for it is true: our nation cannot be punished, nor can the sword prevail against them, unless they sin against their God.

¹¹ "And now, in order that my lord may not be defeated and his purpose frustrated, death will fall upon them, for a sin has overtaken them by which they are about to provoke their God to anger when they do what is wrong. ¹² Since their food supply is exhausted and their water has almost given out, they have planned to kill their cattle and have determined to use all that God by his laws has forbidden them to eat. ¹³ They have decided to consume the first fruits of the grain and the tithes of the wine and oil, which they had consecrated and set aside for the priests who minister in the presence of our God at Jerusalem—although it is not lawful for any of the people so much as to touch these things with their hands. ¹⁴ They have sent men to Jerusalem, because even the people living there have been doing this, to bring back to them permission from the senate. ¹⁵ When the word reaches them and they proceed to do this, on that very day they will be handed over to you to be destroyed.

¹⁶ "Therefore, when I, your servant, learned all this, I fled from them; and God has sent me to accomplish with you things that will astonish the whole world, as many as shall hear about them. ¹⁷ For your servant is religious, and serves the God of heaven day and night; therefore, my lord, I will remain with you, and every night your servant will go out into the valley, and I will pray to God and he will tell me when they have committed their sins. ¹⁸ And I will come and tell you, and then you shall go out with your whole army, and not one of them will withstand you. ¹⁹ Then I will lead you through the middle of Judea, till you come to Jerusalem; and I will set your throne in the midst of it; and you will lead them like sheep that have no shepherd, and not a dog will so much as open its mouth to growl at you. For this has been told me, by my foreknowledge; it was announced to me, and I was sent to tell you."

²⁰ Her words pleased Holofernes and all his servants, and they marveled at her wisdom and said, ²¹ "There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, either for beauty of face or wisdom of speech!" ²² And Holofernes said to her, "God has done well to send you before the people, to lend strength to our hands and to bring destruction upon those who have slighted my lord. ²³ You are not only beautiful in appearance, but wise in speech; and if you do as you have said, your God shall be my God, and you shall live in the house of King Nebuchadnezzar and be renowned throughout the whole world."

12 Then he commanded them to bring her in where his silver dishes were kept, and ordered them to set a table for her with some of his own food and to serve her with his own wine. ² But Judith said, "I cannot eat it, lest it be an offense; but I will be provided from the things I have brought with me." ³ Holofernes said to her, "If your supply runs out, where can we get more like it for you? For none of your people is here with us." ⁴ Judith replied, "As your soul lives, my lord, your servant will not use up the things I have with me before the Lord carries out by my hand what he has determined to do."

⁵ Then the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept until midnight. Along toward the morning watch she arose ⁶ and sent to Holofer'nes and said, "Let my lord now command that your servant be permitted to go out and pray." ⁷ So Holofer'nes commanded his guards not to hinder her. And she remained in the camp for three days, and went out each night to the valley of Bethu'lia, and bathed at the spring in the camp.⁸ When she came up from the spring she prayed the Lord God of Israel to direct her way for the raising up of her people. ⁹ So she returned clean and stayed in the tent until she ate her food toward evening.

¹⁰ On the fourth day Holofer'nes held a banquet for his slaves only, and did not invite any of his officers. ¹¹ And he said to Bago'as, the eunuch who had charge of all his personal affairs, "Go now and persuade the Hebrew woman who is in your care to join us and eat and drink with us. ¹² For it will be a disgrace if we let such a woman go without enjoying her company, for if we do not embrace her she will laugh at us." ¹³ So Bago'as went out from the presence of Holofer'nes, and approached her and said, "This beautiful maidservant will please come to my lord and be honored in his presence, and drink wine and be merry with us, and become today like one of the daughters of the Assyrians who serve in the house of Nebuchadnezzar." ¹⁴ And Judith said, "Who am I, to refuse my lord? Surely whatever pleases him I will do at once, and it will be a joy to me until the day of my death!" ¹⁵ So she got up and arrayed herself in all her woman's finery, and her maid went and spread on the ground for her before Holofer'nes the soft fleeces which she had received from Bago'as for her daily use, so that she might recline on them when she ate.

¹⁶ Then Judith came in and lay down, and Holofer'nes' heart was ravished with her and he was moved with great desire to possess her; for he had been waiting for an opportunity to deceive her, ever since the day he first saw her. ¹⁷ So Holofer'nes said to her, "Drink now, and be merry with us!" ¹⁸ Judith said, "I will drink now, my lord, because my life means more to me today than in all the days since I was born." ¹⁹ Then she took and ate and drank before him what her maid had prepared. ²⁰ And Holofer'nes was greatly pleased with her, and drank a great quantity of wine, much more than he had ever drunk in any one day since he was born.

13 When evening came, his slaves quickly withdrew, and Bago'as closed the tent from outside and shut out the attendants from his master's presence; and they went to bed, for they all were weary because the banquet had lasted long. ² So Judith was left alone in the tent, with Holofer'nes stretched out on his bed, for he was overcome with wine.

⁶ She went up to the post at the end of the bed, above Holofer'nes' head, and took down his sword that hung there. ⁷ She came close to his bed and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, "Give me strength this day, O Lord God of Israel!" ⁸ And she struck his neck twice with all her might, and severed his head from his body. ⁹ Then she tumbled his body off the bed and pulled down the canopy from the posts; after a moment she went out, and gave Holofer'nes' head to her maid, ¹⁰ who placed it in her food bag.

Then the two of them went out together, as they were accustomed to go for prayer; and they passed through the camp and circled around the valley and went up the mountain to Bethu'lia and came to its gates. ¹¹ Judith called out from afar to the watchmen at the gates, "Open, open the gate! God, our God, is still with us, to show his power in Israel, and his strength against our enemies, even as he has done this day!"

12 When the men of her city heard her voice, they hurried down to the city gate and called together the elders of the city. 13 They all ran together, both small and great, for it was unbelievable that she had returned; they opened the gate and admitted them, and they kindled a fire for light, and gathered around them. 14 Then she said to them with a loud voice, "Praise God, O praise him! Praise God, who has not withdrawn his mercy from the house of Israel, but has destroyed our enemies by my hand this very night!"

15 Then she took the head out of the bag and showed it to them, and said, "See, here is the head of Holofer'nes, the commander of the Assyrian army, and here is the canopy beneath which he lay in his drunken stupor. The Lord has struck him down by the hand of a woman. 16 As the Lord lives, who has protected me in the way I went, it was my face that tricked him to his destruction, and yet he committed no act of sin with me, to defile and shame me."

17 All the people were greatly astonished, and bowed down and worshiped God, and said with one accord, "Blessed art thou, our God, who hast brought into contempt this day the enemies of thy people."

18 And Uzzi'ah said to her, "O daughter, you are blessed by the Most High God above all women on earth; and blessed be the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who has guided you to strike the head of the leader of our enemies. 19 Your hope will never depart from the hearts of men, as they remember the power of God. 20 May God grant this to be a perpetual honor to you, and may he visit you with blessings, because you did not spare your own life when our nation was brought low, but have avenged our ruin, walking in the straight path before our God." And all the people said, "So be it, so be it!"

14 Then Judith said to them, "Listen to me, my brethren, and take this head and hang it upon the parapet of your wall. 2 And as soon as morning comes and the sun rises, let every valiant man take his weapons and go out of the city, and set a captain over them, as if you were going down to the plain against the Assyrian outpost; only do not go down. 3 Then they will seize their arms and go into the camp and rouse the officers of the Assyrian army; and they will rush into the tent of Holofer'nes, and will not find him. Then fear will come over them, and they will flee before you, 4 and you and all who live within the borders of Israel shall pursue them and cut them down as they flee. 5 But before you do all this, bring Ach'ior the Ammonite to me, and let him see and recognize the man who despised the house of Israel and sent him to us as if to his death."

6 So they summoned Ach'ior from the house of Uzzi'ah. And when he came and saw the head of Holofer'nes in the hand of one of the men at the gathering of the people, he fell down on his face and his spirit failed him. 7 And when they raised him up he fell at Judith's feet, and knelt before her, and said, "Blessed are you in every tent of Judah! In every nation those who hear your name will be alarmed. 8 Now tell me what you have done during these days."

Then Judith described to him in the presence of the people all that she had done, from the day she left until the moment of her speaking to them. 9 And when she had finished, the people raised a great shout and made a joyful noise in their city. 10 And when Ach'ior saw all that the God of Israel had done, he believed firmly in God, and was circumcised, and joined the house of Israel, remaining so to this day.

11 As soon as it was dawn they hung the head of Holofer'nes on the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went out in companies to the passes in the mountains. 12 And when the Assyrians saw them they sent word to their commanders, and they went to the generals and the captains and to all their officers. 13 So they came to Holofer'nes' tent and said to the steward in charge of all his personal affairs, "Wake up our lord, for the slaves have been so bold as to come down against us and to give battle, in order to be destroyed completely."

14 So Bago'as went in and knocked at the door of the tent, for he supposed that he was sleeping with Judith. ¹⁵ But when no one answered, he opened it and went into the bedchamber and found him thrown down on the platform dead, with his head cut off and missing. ¹⁶ And he cried out with a loud voice and wept and groaned and shouted, and rent his garments. ¹⁷ Then he went to the tent where Judith had stayed, and when he did not find her he rushed out to the people and shouted, ¹⁸ "The slaves have tricked us! One Hebrew woman has brought disgrace upon the house of King Nebuchadnezzar! For look, here is Holofer'nes lying on the ground, and his head is not on him!"

19 When the leaders of the Assyrian army heard this, they rent their tunics and were greatly dismayed, and their loud cries and shouts arose in the midst of the camp.

15 When the men in the tents heard it, they were amazed at what had happened. ² Fear and trembling came over them, so that they did not wait for one another, but with one impulse all rushed out and fled by every path across the plain and through the hill country. ³ Those who had camped in the hills around Bethu'lia also took to flight. Then the men of Israel, every one that was a soldier, rushed out upon them. ⁴ And Uzzi'ah sent men to Betomastha'im and Be'bai and Choba and Kola, and to all the frontiers of Israel, to tell what had taken place and to urge all to rush out upon their enemies to destroy them. ⁵ And when the Israelites heard it, with one accord they fell upon the enemy,⁴ and cut them down as far as Choba. Those in Jerusalem and all the hill country also came, for they were told what had happened in the camp of the enemy; and those in Gilcad and in Galilee outflanked them with great slaughter, even beyond Damascus and its borders. ⁶ The rest of the people of Bethu'lia fell upon the Assyrian camp and plundered it, and were greatly enriched. ⁷ And the Israelites, when they returned from the slaughter, took possession of what remained, and the villages and towns in the hill country and in the plain got a great amount of booty, for there was a vast quantity of it.

8 Then Jo'akim the high priest, and the senate of the people of Israel who lived at Jerusalem, came to witness the good things which the Lord had done for Israel, and to see Judith and to greet her. ⁹ And when they met her they all blessed her with one accord and said to her, "You are the exaltation of Jerusalem, you are the great glory of Israel, you are the great pride of our nation! ¹⁰ You have done all this singlehanded; you have done great good to Israel, and God is well pleased with it. May the Almighty Lord bless you for ever!" And all the people said, "So be it!"

11 So all the people plundered the camp for thirty days. They gave Judith the tent of Holofer'nes and all his silver dishes and his beds and his bowls and all his furniture; and she took them and loaded her mule and hitched up her carts and piled the things on them.

12 Then all the women of Israel gathered to see her, and blessed her, and some of them performed a dance for her; and she took branches in her hands and gave them to the women who were with her; ¹³ and they crowned themselves with olive wreaths, she and those who were with her; and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women, while all the men of Israel followed, bearing their arms and wearing garlands and with songs on their lips.

16 Then Judith began this thanksgiving before all Israel, and all the people loudly sang this song of praise. ² And Judith said,

Begin a song to my God with tambourines, sing to my Lord with cymbals.

Raise to him a new psalm;¹ exalt him, and call upon his name.

³ For God is the Lord who crushes wars; for he has delivered me out of the hands of my pursuers, and brought me into his camp, in the midst of the people.

⁴ The Assyrian came down from the mountains of the north;

 their cavalry covered the hills.
- 5 He boasted that he would burn up my territory, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash my infants to the ground and seize my children as prey, and take my virgins as booty.
- 6 But the Lord Almighty has foiled them by the hand of a woman.
- 7 For their mighty one did not fall by they worshiped God. As soon as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, their freewill offerings, and their gifts. ¹⁹ Judith also dedicated to God all the vessels of Holofer'nes, which the people had given her; and the canopy which she took for herself from his bedchamber she gave as a votive offering to the Lord. ²⁰ So the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for three months, and Judith remained with them.

- 21 After this every one returned home to his own inheritance, and Judith went to Bethu'lia, and remained on her estate, and was honored in her time throughout the whole country. ²² Many desired to marry her, but she remained a widow all the days of her life after Manas'seh her husband died and was gathered to his people. ²³ She became more and more famous, and grew old in her husband's house, until she was one hundred and five years old. She set her maid free. She died in Bethu'lia, and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manas'seh, ²⁴ and the house of Israel mourned for her seven days. Before she died she distributed her property to all those who were next of kin to her husband Manas'-seh, and to her own nearest kindred. ²⁵And no one ever again spread terror among the people of Israel in the days of Judith, or for a long time after her death.

THE ADDITIONS TO THE BOOK OF ESTHER

WITH THE RSV TRANSLATION OF THE HEBREW TEXT OF THE BOOK OF ESTHER

The deuterocanonical portions of the Book of Esther are additional passages found in the Greek translation of the Book of Esther. Their disordered chapter numbers come from their displacement to the end of the canonical Book of Esther by Jerome in his Latin translation. So that they may be seen in their proper context, they are presented here with the RSV translation of the Hebrew text of the Book of Esther, which is printed in different type.

11 ²In the second year of the reign of Ahasu-e'rus^x the Great, on the first day of Nisan, Mor'decai the son of Ja'ir, son of Shim'e-i, son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream. ³He was a Jew, dwelling in the city of Susa, a great man, serving in the court of the king. ⁴He was one of the captives whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had brought from Jerusalem with Jeconiah king of Judea. And this was his dream:

⁵Behold, noise^a and confusion, thunders and earthquake, tumult upon the earth! ⁶And behold, two great dragons came forward, both ready to fight, and they roared terribly. ⁷And at their roaring every nation prepared for war, to fight against the nation of the righteous. ⁸And behold, a day of darkness and gloom, tribulation and distress, affliction and great tumult upon the earth! ⁹And the whole righteous nation was troubled; they feared the evils that threatened them, and were ready to perish. ¹⁰Then they cried to God; and from their cry, as though from a tiny spring, there came a great river, with abundant water; ¹¹light came, and the sun rose, and the lowly were exalted and consumed those held in honor.

¹²Mor'decai saw in this dream what God had determined to do, and after he awoke he had it on his mind and sought all day to understand it in every detail.

12 Now Mor'decai took his rest in the courtyard with Gab'atha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king who kept watch in the courtyard. ²He overheard their conversation and inquired into their purposes, and learned that they were preparing to lay hands upon Ahasu-e'rus^x the king; and he informed the king concerning them. ³Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and when they confessed they were led to execution. ⁴The king made a permanent record of these things, and Mor'decai wrote an account of them. ⁵And the king ordered Mor'decai to serve in the court and rewarded him for these things. ⁶But Haman, the son of Hammedatha, a Bougae'an, was in great honor with the king, and he sought to injure Mor'decai and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

1 In the days of Ahasu-e'rus, the Ahasu-e'rus who reigned from India to Ethopia over one hundred and twenty-seven provinces, ²in those days when King Ahasu-e'rus sat on his royal throne in Susa the capital, ³in the third year of his reign he gave a banquet for all his princes and servants, the army chiefs^a of Persia and Media and the nobles and governors of the provinces being before him, ⁴while he showed the riches of his royal glory and the splendor and pomp of his majesty for many days, a hundred and eighty days. ⁵And when these days were completed, the king gave for all the people present in Susa the capital, both great and small, a banquet lasting for seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace. ⁶There were white cotton curtains and blue hangings caught up with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings^b and marble pillars, and also couches of gold and silver on a mosaic pavement of porphyry, marble, mother-of-pearl and precious stones. ⁷Drinks were served in golden goblets, goblets of different kinds, and the royal wine was lavished according to the bounty of the king. ⁸And drinking was according to the law, no one was compelled; for the king had given orders to all the officials of his palace to do as every man desired. ⁹Queen Vashti also gave a banquet for the women in the palace which belonged to King Ahasu-e'rus.

¹³ Then the king said to the wise men who knew the times—for this was the king's procedure toward all who were versed in law and judgment, ¹⁴the men next to him being Carsh'e'na, Shethar, Adma'tha, Tarshish, Meres, Marse'na, and Memu'can, the seven princes of Persia and Media, who saw the king's face, and sat first in the kingdom—: ¹⁵“According to the law, what is to be done to Queen Vashti, because she has not performed the command of King

Ahasu-e'rus conveyed by the eunuchs?” ¹⁶Then Memu'can said in presence of the king and the princes, “Not only to the king has Queen Vashti done wrong, but also to all the princes and all the peoples who are in all the provinces of King Ahasu-e'rus. ¹⁷For this deed of the queen will be made known to all women, causing them to look with contempt upon their husbands, since they will say, ‘King Ahasu-e'rus commanded Queen Vashti to be brought before him, and she did not come.’ ¹⁸This very day the ladies of Persia and Media who have heard of the queen's behavior will be telling it to all the king's princes, and there will be contempt and wrath in plenty. ¹⁹If it please the king, let a royal order go forth from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes so that it may not be altered, that Vashti is to come no more before King Ahasu-e'rus; and let the king give her royal position to another who is better than she. ²⁰So when the decree made by the king is proclaimed throughout all his kingdom, vast as it is, all women will give honor to their husbands, high and low.” ²¹This advice pleased the king and the princes, and the king did as Memu'can proposed; ²²he sent letters to all the royal provinces, to every province in its own script and to every people in its own language, that every man be lord in his own house and speak according to the language of his people.

2 After these things, when the anger of King Ahasu-e'rus had abated, he remembered Vashti and what she had done and what had been decreed against her. ²Then the king's servants who attended him said, “Let beautiful young virgins be sought out for the king. ³And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom to gather all the beautiful young virgins to the harem in Susa the capital, under custody of Hegai the king's eunuch who is in charge of the women; let their ointments be given them. ⁴And let the maiden who pleases the king be queen instead of Vashti.” This pleased the king, and he did so.

⁵ Now there was a Jew in Susa the capital whose name was Mor'decai, the son of Ja'ir, son of Shim'e-i, son of Kish, a Benjaminite, who had been carried away from Jerusalem among the captives carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away.

⁷He had brought up Hadasah, that is Esther, the daughter of his uncle, for she had neither father nor mother; the maiden was beautiful and lovely, and when her father and her mother died, Mordecai adopted her as his own daughter. ⁸So when the king's order and his edict were proclaimed, and when many maidens were gathered in Susa the capital in custody of Hegai, Esther also was taken into the king's palace and put in custody of Hegai who had charge of the women. ⁹And the maiden pleased him and won his favor; and he quickly provided her with her ointments and her portion of food, and with seven chosen maids from the king's palace, and advanced her and her maids to the best place in the harem.

¹⁰Esther had not made known her people or kindred, for Mordecai had charged her not to make it known. ¹¹And every day Mordecai walked in front of the court of the harem, to learn how Esther was and how she fared.

¹²Now when the turn came for each maiden to go in to King Ahasuerus, after being twelve months under the regulations for the women, since this was the regular period of their beautifying, six months with oil of myrrh and six months with spices and ointments for women—¹³when the maiden went in to the king in this way she was given whatever she desired to take with her from the harem to the king's palace.

¹⁴In the evening she went, and in the morning she came back to the second harem in custody of Sha-ashgaz the king's eunuch, who was in charge of the concubines; she did not go in to the king again, unless the king delighted in her and she was summoned by name.

¹⁵When the turn came for Esther the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had adopted her as his own daughter, to go in to the king, she asked for nothing except what Hegai the king's eunuch, who had charge of the women, advised. Now Esther found favor in the eyes of all who saw her.

¹⁶And when Esther was taken to King Ahasuerus into his royal palace in the tenth month, which is the month of Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign, ¹⁷the king loved Esther more than all the women, and she found grace and favor in his sight more than all the virgins, so that he set the royal crown on her head and made her queen instead of Vashti. ¹⁸Then the king gave a great banquet to all his princes and servants; it was Esther's banquet. He also granted a remission of taxes to the provinces, and gave gifts with royal liberality.

¹⁹When the virgins were gathered together the second time, Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate. ²⁰Now Esther had not made known her kindred or her people, as Mordecai had charged her; for Esther obeyed Mordecai just as when she was brought up by him.

²¹And in those days, as Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate, Bigthan and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs, who guarded the threshold, became angry and sought to lay hands on King Ahasuerus. ²²And this came to the knowledge of Mordecai, and he told it to Queen Esther, and Esther told the king in the name of Mordecai. ²³When the affair was investigated and found to be so, the men were both hanged on the gallows. And it was recorded in the Book of the Chronicles in the presence of the king.

3 After these things King Ahasuerus promoted Haman the Agagite, the son of Hammedatha, and advanced him and set his seat above all the princes who were with him. ²And all the king's servants who were at the king's gate bowed down and did obeisance to Haman; for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai did not bow down or do obeisance. ³Then the king's servants who were at the king's gate said to Mordecai, "Why do you transgress the king's command?" ⁴And when they spoke to him day after day and he would not listen to them, they told Haman, in order to see whether Mordecai's words would avail; for he had told them that he was a Jew. ⁵And when Haman saw that Mordecai did not bow down or do obeisance to him, Haman was filled with fury. ⁶But he disdained to lay hands on Mordecai alone. So, as they had made known to him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jews, the people of Mor'decai, throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasu-e'rus.

7 In the first month, which is the month of Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Ahasu-e'rus, they cast Pur, that is the lot, before Haman day after day; and they cast it month after month till the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar. ⁸Then Haman said to King Ahasu-e'rus, "There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom; their laws are different from those of every other people, and they do not keep the king's laws, so that it is not for the king's profit to tolerate them. ⁹If it please the king, let it be decreed that they be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those who have charge of the king's business, that they may put it into the king's treasures." ¹⁰So the king took his signet ring from his hand and gave it to Haman the Ag'agite, the son of Hammetha, the enemy of the Jews. ¹¹And the king said to Haman, "The money is given to you, the people also, to do with them as it seems good to you."

12 Then the king's secretaries were summoned on the thirteenth day of the first month, and an edict, according to all that Haman commanded, was written to the king's satraps and to the governors over all the provinces and to the princes of all the peoples, to every province in its own script and every people in its own language; it was written in the name of King Ahasu-e'rus and sealed with the king's ring. ¹³Letters were sent by couriers to all the king's provinces, to destroy, to slay, and to annihilate all Jews, young and old, women and children, in one day, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar, and to plunder their goods.

13 This is a copy of the letter: "The Great King, Ahasu-e'rus⁵, to the rulers of the hundred and twenty-seven provinces from India to Ethiopia and to the governors under them, writes thus:

2 "Having become ruler of many nations and master of the whole world, not elated with presumption of authority but always acting reasonably and with kindness, I have determined to settle the lives of my subjects in lasting tranquillity and, in order to make my kingdom peaceable and open to travel throughout all its extent, to re-establish the peace which all men desire.

3 "When I asked my counselors how this might be accomplished, Haman, who excels among us in sound judgment, and is distinguished for his unchanging good will and steadfast fidelity, and has attained the second place in the kingdom, ⁴pointed out to us that among all the nations in the world there is scattered a certain hostile people, who have laws contrary to those of every nation and continually disregard the ordinances of the kings, so that the unifying of the kingdom which we honorably intend cannot be brought about. ⁵We understand that this people, and it alone, stands constantly in opposition to all men, perversely following a strange manner of life and laws, and is ill-disposed to our government, doing all the harm they can so that our kingdom may not attain stability.

6 "Therefore we have decreed that those indicated to you in the letters of Haman, who is in charge of affairs and is our second father, shall all, with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without pity or mercy, on the fourteenth day of the twelfth month, Adar, of this present year, ⁷so that those who have long been and are now hostile may in one day go down in violence to Hades, and leave our government completely secure and untroubled hereafter."

3 ¹⁴A copy of the document was to be issued as a decree in every province by proclamation to all the peoples to be ready for that day. ¹⁵The couriers went in haste by order of the king, and the decree was issued in Susa the capital. And the king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Susa was perplexed.

4 When Mor'decai learned all that had been done, Mor'decai rent his clothes and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, wailing with a loud and bitter cry; ²he went up to the entrance of the king's gate, for no one might enter the king's gate clothed with sackcloth. ³And in every province, wherever the king's command and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews.

with fasting and weeping and lamenting, and most of them lay in sackcloth and ashes.

4 When Esther's maids and her eunuchs came and told her, the queen was deeply distressed; she sent garments to clothe Mor'decai, so that he might take off his sackcloth, but he would not accept them. 5 Then Esther called for Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs, who had been appointed to attend her, and ordered him to go to Mor'decai to learn what this was and why it was. 6 Hathach went out to Mor'decai in the open square of the city in front of the king's gate, 7 and Mor'decai told him all that had happened to him, and the exact sum of money that Haman had promised to pay into the king's treasuries for the destruction of the Jews. 8 Mor'decai also gave him a copy of the written decree issued in Susa for their destruction, that he might show it to Esther and explain it to her and charge her to go to the king to make supplication to him and entreat him for her people. 9 And Hathach went and told Esther what Mor'decai had said. 10 Then Esther spoke to Hathach and gave him a message for Mor'decai, saying, 11 "All the king's servants and the people of the king's provinces know that if any man or woman goes to the king inside the inner court without being called, there is but one law; all alike are to be put to death, except the one to whom the king holds out the golden scepter that he may live. And I have not been called to come in to the king these thirty days." 12 And they told Mor'decai what Esther had said. 13 Then Mor'decai told them to return answer to Esther, "Think not that in the king's palace you will escape any more than all the other Jews." 14 For if you keep silence at such a time as this, relief and deliverance will rise for the Jews from another quarter, but you and your father's house will perish. And who knows whether you have not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" 15 Then Esther told them to reply to Mor'decai, 16 "Go, gather all the Jews to be found in Susa, and hold a fast on my behalf, and neither eat nor drink for three days, night or day. I and my maids will also fast as you do. Then I will go to the king, though it is against the law; and if I perish, I perish." 17 Mor'decai then went away and did everything as Esther had ordered him.

13 8 Then he^b prayed to the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord. He said:

9 "O Lord, Lord, King who rulest over all things, for the universe is in thy power and there is no one who can oppose thee if it is thy will to save Israel. 10 For thou hast made heaven and earth and every wonderful thing under heaven, 11 and thou art Lord of all, and there is no one who can resist thee, who art the Lord. 12 Thou knowest all things; thou knowest, O Lord, that it was not in insolence or pride or for any love of glory that I did this, and refused to bow down to this proud Haman. 13 For I would have been willing to kiss the soles of his feet, to save Israel! 14 But I did this, that I might not set the glory of man above the glory of God, and I will not bow down to any one not to thee, who art my Lord; and I will not do these things in pride. 15 And now, O Lord God and King, God of Abraham, spare thy people; for the eyes of our foes are upon us^c to annihilate us, and they desire to destroy the inheritance that has been thine from the beginning. 16 Do not neglect thy portion, which thou didst redeem for thyself out of the land of Egypt. 17 Hear my prayer, and have mercy upon thy inheritance; turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live and sing praise to thy name, O Lord; do not destroy the mouth of those who praise thee."

18 And all Israel cried out mightily, for their death was before their eyes.

14 And Esther the queen, seized with deadly anxiety, fled to the Lord; 2 she took off her splendid apparel and put on the garments of distress and mourning, and instead of costly perfumes she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she utterly humbled her body, and every part that she loved to adorn she covered with her tangled hair. 3 And she prayed to the Lord God of Israel, and said:

"O my Lord, thou only art our King; help me, who am alone and have no helper but thee, 4 for my dan-

^bMordecai ^cGk for they are looking upon us ger is in my hand. ⁵ Ever since I was born I have heard in the tribe of my family that thou, O Lord, didst take Israel out of all the nations, and our fathers from among all their ancestors, for an everlasting inheritance, and that thou didst do for them all that thou didst promise. ⁶ And now we have sinned before thee, and thou hast given us into the hands of our enemies, ⁷ because we glorified their gods. Thou art righteous, O Lord! ⁸ And now they are not satisfied that we are in bitter slavery, but they have covenanted with their idols ⁹ to abolish what thy mouth has ordained and to destroy thy inheritance, to stop the mouths of those who praise thee and to quench thy altar and the glory of thy house, ¹⁰ to open the mouths of the nations for the praise of vain idols, and to magnify for ever a mortal king. ¹¹ O Lord, do not surrender thy scepter to what has no being; and do not let them mock at our downfall; but turn their plan against themselves, and make an example of the man who began this against us. ¹² Remember, O Lord; make thyself known in this time of our affliction, and give me courage, O King of the gods and Master of all dominion! ¹³ Put eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion, and turn his heart to hate the man who is fighting against us, so that there may be an end of him and those who agree with him. ¹⁴ But save us by thy hand, and help me, who am alone and have no helper but thee, O Lord. ¹⁵ Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the splendor of the wicked and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised and of any alien. ¹⁶ Thou knowest my necessity—that I abhor the sign of my proud position, which is upon my head on the days when I appear in public. I abhor it like a menstruous rag, and I do not wear it on the days when I am at leisure. ¹⁷ And thy servant has not eaten at Haman's table, and I have not honored the king's feast or drunk the wine of the libations. ¹⁸ Thy servant has had no joy since the day that I was brought here until now, except in thee, O Lord God of Abraham. ¹⁹ O God, whose might is over all, hear the voice of the despairing, and save us from the hands of evildoers. And save me from my fear!"

5 On the third day Esther put on her royal robes and stood in the inner court of the king's palace, opposite the king's hall. The king was sitting on his royal throne inside the palace opposite the entrance to the palace; ² and when the king saw Queen Esther standing in the court, she found favor in his sight and he held out to Esther the golden scepter that was in his hand. Then Esther approached and touched the top of the scepter.

15 On the third day, when she ended her prayer, she took off the garments in which she had worshiped, and arrayed herself in splendid attire. ² Then, majestically adorned, after invoking the aid of the all-seeing God and Savior, she took her two maids with her, ³ leaning daintily on one, ⁴ while the other followed carrying her train. ⁵ She was radiant with perfect beauty, and she looked happy, as if beloved, but her heart was frozen with fear. ⁶ When she had gone through all the doors, she stood before the king. He was seated on his royal throne, clothed in the full array of his majesty, all covered with gold and precious stones. And he was most terrifying.

¹¹ Then he raised the golden scepter and touched it to her neck; ¹² and he embraced her, and said, "Speak to me." ¹³ And she said to him, "I saw you, my lord, like an angel of God, and my heart was shaken with fear at your glory. ¹⁴ For you are wonderful, my lord, and your countenance is full of grace." ¹⁵ But as she was speaking, she fell fainting.

¹⁰ And the king was agitated, and all his servants sought to comfort her.

5 ¹ And the king said to her, "What is it, Queen Esther? What is your request? It shall be given you, even to the half of my kingdom." ² And Esther said, "If it please the king, let the king and Haman come this day to a dinner that I have prepared for the king." ³ Then said the king, "Bring Haman quickly, that we may do as Esther desires." So the king and Haman came to the dinner that Esther had prepared. ⁴ And as they were drinking wine, the king said to Esther, "What is your petition? It shall be granted you. And what is your request? Even to the half of my kingdom, it shall be fulfilled." ⁵ But Esther said, "My petition and my request is: ⁶ If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition and fulfil my request, let the king and Haman come tomorrow^d to the dinner which I will prepare for them, and tomorrow I will do as the king has said."

⁹ And Haman went out that day joyful and glad of heart. But when Haman saw Mor'decai in the king's gate, that he neither rose nor trembled before him, he was filled with wrath against Mor'decai. ¹⁰ Nevertheless Haman restrained himself, and went home; and he sent and fetched his friends and his wife Zeresh. ¹¹ And Haman recounted to them the splendor of his riches, the number of his sons, all the promotions with which the king had honored him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and the servants of the king. ¹² And Haman added, "Even Queen Esther let no one come with the king to the banquet she prepared but myself. And tomorrow also I am invited by her together with the king. ¹³ Yet all this does me no good, so long as I see Mor'decai the Jew sitting at the king's gate." ¹⁴ Then his wife Zeresh and all his friends said to him, "Let a gallows fifty cubits high be made, and in the morning tell the king to have Mor'decai hanged upon it; then go merrily with the king to the dinner." This counsel pleased Haman, and he had the gallows made.

6 On that night the king could not sleep; and he gave orders to bring the book of memorable deeds, the chronicles, and they were read before the king. ² And it was found written how Mor'decai had told about Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs, who guarded the threshold, and who had sought to lay hands upon King Ahasuerus. ³ And the king said, "What honor or dignity has been bestowed on Mor'decai for this?" The king's servants who attended him said, "Nothing has been done for him." ⁴ And the king said, "Who is in the court?" Now Haman had just entered the outer court of the king's palace to speak to the king about having Mor'decai hanged on the gallows that he had prepared for him. ⁵ So the king's servants told him, "Haman is there, standing in the court." And the king said, "Let him come in." ⁶ So Haman came in, and the king said to him, "What shall be done to the man whom the king delights to honor?" And Haman said to himself, "Whom would the king delight to honor more than me?" ⁷ And Haman said to the king, "For the man whom the king delights to honour, ⁸ let royal robes be brought, which the king has worn, and the horse which the king has ridden, and on whose head a royal crown is set; ⁹ and let the robes and the horse be handed over to one of the king's most noble princes; let him^e array the man whom the king delights to honor, and let him^e conduct the man on horseback through the open square of the city, proclaiming before him: 'Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor.'" ¹⁰ Then the king said to Haman, "Make haste, take the robes and the horse, as you have said, and do so to Mor'decai the Jew who sits at the king's gate. Leave out nothing that you have mentioned." ¹¹ So Haman took the robes and the horse, and he arrayed Mor'decai and made him ride through the open square of the city, proclaiming, "Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honour."

¹² Then Mor'decai returned to the king's gate. But Haman hurried to his house, mourning and with his head covered. ¹³ And Haman told his wife Zeresh and all his friends everything that had befallen him. Then his wise men and his wife Zeresh said to him, "If Mor'decai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of the Jewish people, you will not prevail against him but will surely fall before him.³

^dGik: Heb lacks tomorrow ^eHeb: them

14 While they were yet talking with him, the king's eunuchs arrived and brought Haman in haste to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

7 So the king and Haman went in to feast with Queen Esther. ²And on the second day, as they were drinking wine, the king again said to Esther, "What is your petition, Queen Esther? It shall be granted you. And what is your request? Even to the half of my kingdom, it shall be fulfilled." ³Then Queen Esther answered, "If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request. ⁴For we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to be annihilated. If we had been sold merely as slaves, men and women, I would have held my peace; for our affliction is not to be compared with the loss to the king." ⁵Then King Ahasu-e'rus said to Queen Esther, "Who is he, and where is he, that would presume to do this?" ⁶And Esther said, "A foe and enemy! This wicked Haman!" Then Haman was in terror before the king and the queen. ⁷And the king rose from the feast in wrath and went into the palace garden; but Haman stayed to beg his life from Queen Esther, for he saw that evil was determined against him by the king. ⁸And the king returned from the palace garden to the place where they were drinking wine, as Haman was falling on the couch where Esther was; and the king said, "Will he even assault the queen in my presence, in my own house?" As the words left the mouth of the king, they covered Haman's face. ⁹Then said Harbo'na, one of the eunuchs in attendance on the king, "Moreover, the gallows which Haman has prepared for Mor'decai, whose word saved the king, is standing in Haman's house, fifty cubits high." ¹⁰And the king said, "Hang him on that." So they hanged Haman on the gallows which he had prepared for Mor'decai. Then the anger of the king abated.

8 On that day King Ahasu-e'rus gave to Queen Esther the house of Haman, the enemy of the Jews. And Mor'decai came before the king, for Esther had told what he was to her; ²and the king took off his signet ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mor'decai. And Esther set Mor'decai over the house of Haman.

3 Then Esther spoke again to the king; she fell at his feet and besought him with tears to avert the evil design of Haman the Ag'agite and the plot which he had devised against the Jews. ⁴And the king held out the golden scepter to Esther, ⁵and Esther rose and stood before the king. And she said, "If it please the king, and if I have found favor in his sight, and if the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let an order be written to revoke the letters devised by Haman the Ag'agite, the son of Hammeda'tha, which he wrote to destroy the Jews who are in all the provinces of the king. ⁶For how can I endure to see the calamity that is coming to my people? Or how can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?" ⁷Then King Ahasu-e'rus said to Queen Esther and to Mor'decai the Jew, "Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and they have hanged him on the gallows, because he would lay hands on the Jews. ⁸And you may write as you please with regard to the Jews, in the name of the king, and seal it with the king's ring; for an edict written in the name of the king and sealed with the king's ring cannot be revoked."

9 The king's secretaries were summoned at that time, in the third month, which is the month of Sivan, on the twenty-third day; and an edict was written according to all that Mor'decai commanded concerning the Jews to the satraps and the governors and the princes of the provinces from India to Ethiopia, a hundred and twenty-seven provinces, to every province in its own script and to every people in its own language, and also to the Jews in their script and their language. ¹⁰The writing was in the name of King Ahasu-e'rus and sealed with the king's ring, and letters were sent by mounted couriers riding on swift horses that were used in the king's service, bred from the royal stud. ¹¹By these the king allowed the Jews who were in every city to gather and defend their lives, to destroy, to slay, and to annihilate any armed force of any people or province that might attack them, with their children and women, and to plunder their goods, ¹²upon one day throughout all the provinces of King Ahasu-e'rus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar.

16 The following is a copy of this letter:

"The Great King, Ahasu-e'rus¹, to the rulers of the provinces from India to Ethiopia, one hundred and twenty-seven satrapies, and to those who are loyal to our government, greeting.

2 "The more often they are honored by the too great kindness of their benefactors, the more proud do many men become. ³They not only seek to injure our subjects, but in their inability to stand prosperity they even undertake to scheme against their own benefactors. ⁴They not only take away thankfulness from among men, but, carried away by the boasts of those who know nothing of goodness, they suppose that they will escape the evil-hating justice of God, who always sees everything. ⁵And often many of those who are set in places of authority have been made in part responsible for the shedding of innocent blood, and have been involved in irremediable calamities, by the persuasion of friends who have been entrusted with the administration of public affairs, ⁶when these men by the false trickery of their evil natures beguile the sincere good will of their sovereigns.

7 "What has been wickedly accomplished through the pestilent behavior of those who exercise authority unworthily, can be seen not so much from the more ancient records which we hand on as from investigation of matters close at hand. ⁸For the future we will take care to render our kingdom quiet and peaceable for all men, ⁹by changing our methods and always judging what comes before our eyes with more equitable consideration. ¹⁰For Haman, the son of Hammeda'tha, a Macedo'nian (really an alien to the Persian blood, and quite devoid of our kindliness), having become our guest, ¹¹so far enjoyed the good will that we have for every nation that he was called our father and was continually bowed down to by all as the person second to the royal throne. ¹²But, unable to restrain his arrogance, he undertook to deprive us of our kingdom and our life, ¹³and with intricate craft and deceit asked for the destruction of Mor'decai, our savior and perpetual benefactor, and of Esther, the blameless partner of our kingdom, together with their whole nation. ¹⁴He thought that in this way he would find us undefended and would transfer the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedo'nians.

15 "But we find that the Jews, who were consigned to annihilation by this thrice accursed man, are not evildoers but are governed by most righteous laws ¹⁶and are sons of the Most High, the most mighty living God, who has directed the kingdom both for us and for our fathers in the most excellent order.

17 "You will therefore do well not to put in execution the letters sent by Haman the son of Hammeda'tha, ¹⁸because the man himself who did these things has been hanged at the gate of Susa, with all his household. For God, who rules over all things, has speedily inflicted on him the punishment he deserved.

19 "Therefore post a copy of this letter publicly in every place, and permit the Jews to live under their own laws. ²⁰And give them reinforcements, so that on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, Adar, on that very day they may defend themselves against those who attack them at the time of their affliction. ²¹For God, who rules over all things, has made this day to be a joy to his chosen people instead of a day of destruction for them.

22 "Therefore you shall observe this with all good cheer as a notable day among your commemorative festivals, ²³so that both now and hereafter it may mean salvation for us and the loyal Persians, but that for those who plot against us it may be a reminder of destruction.

24 "Every city and country, without exception, which does not act accordingly, shall be destroyed in wrath with spear and fire. It shall be made not only impassable for men, but also most hateful for all time to beasts and birds."

8 ¹³A copy of what was written was to be issued as a decree in every province, and by proclamation to all peoples, and the Jews were to be ready on that day to avenge themselves upon their enemies.

¹⁴So the couriers, mounted on their swift horses that were used in the king's service, rode out in haste, urged by the king's command; and the decree was issued in Susa the capital.

¹⁵Then Mor'decai went out from the presence of the king in royal robes of blue and white, with a great golden crown and a mantle of fine linen and purple, while the city of Susa shouted and rejoiced. ¹⁶The Jews had light and gladness and joy and honor. ¹⁷And in every province and in every city, wherever the king's command and his edict came, there was gladness and joy among the Jews, a feast and a holiday. And many from the peoples of the country declared themselves Jews, for the fear of the Jews had fallen upon them.

9 Now in the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar, on the thirteenth day of the same, when the king's command and edict were about to be executed, on the very day when the enemies of the Jews hoped to get the mastery over them, but which had been changed to a day when the Jews should get the mastery over their foes, ²the Jews gathered in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Ahasu-e'rus to lay hands on such as sought their hurt. And no one could make a stand against them, for the fear of them had fallen upon all peoples. ³All the princes of the provinces and the satraps and the governors and the royal officials also helped the Jews, for the fear of Mor'decai had fallen upon them. ⁴For Mor'decai was great in the king's house, and his fame spread throughout all the provinces; for the man Mor'decai grew more and more powerful. ⁵So the Jews smote all their enemies with the sword, slaughtering, and destroying them, and did as they pleased to those who hated them. ⁶In Susa the capital itself the Jews slew and destroyed five hundred men, ⁷and also slew Par-shan-da'tha and Dalphon and Aspa'tha ⁸and Pora'tha and Ada'ha and Arida'tha ⁹and Parmash'ta and Ar'isai and Ar'idai and Vaiza'tha, ¹⁰the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammeda'tha, the enemy of the Jews; but they laid no hand on the plunder.

¹¹That very day the number of those slain in Susa the capital was reported to the king. ¹²And the king said to Queen Esther, "In Susa the capital the Jews have slain five hundred men and also the ten sons of Haman. What then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now what is your petition? It shall be granted you. And what further is your request? It shall be fulfilled." ¹³And Esther said, "If it please the king, let the Jews who are in Susa be allowed tomorrow also to do according to this day's edict. And let the ten sons of Haman be hanged on the gallows." ¹⁴So the king commanded this to be done; a decree was issued in Susa, and the ten sons of Haman were hanged. ¹⁵The Jews who were in Susa gathered also on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar and they slew three hundred men in Susa; but they laid no hands on the plunder.

¹⁶Now the other Jews who were in the king's provinces also gathered to defend their lives, and got relief from their enemies, and slew seventy-five thousand of those who hated them; but they laid no hands on the plunder.

¹⁷This was on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, and on the fourteenth day they rested and made that a day of feasting and gladness. ¹⁸But the Jews who were in Susa gathered on the thirteenth day and on the fourteenth, and rested on the fifteenth day, making that a day of feasting and gladness. ¹⁹Therefore the Jews of the villages, who live in the open towns, hold the fourteenth day of the month of Adar as a day for gladness and feasting and holiday-making, and a day on which they send choice portions to one another.

²⁰And Mor'decai recorded these things, and sent letters to all the Jews who were in all the provinces of King Ahasu-e'rus, both near and far, ²¹enjoining them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar and also the fifteenth day of the same, year by year, ²²as the days on which the Jews got relief from their enemies, and as the month that had been turned for them from sorrow into gladness and from mourning into a holiday; that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, days for sending choice portions to one another and gifts to the poor.

23 So the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mor'decai had written to them. 24 For Haman the Ag'agite, the son of Hammada'tha, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur, that is the lot, to crush and destroy them; 25 but when Esther came before the king, he gave orders in writing that his wicked plot which he had devised against the Jews should come upon his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. 26 Therefore they called these days Purim, after the term Pur. And therefore, because of all that was written in this letter, and of what they had faced in this matter, and of what had befallen them, 27 the Jews ordained and took it upon themselves and their descendants and all who joined them, that without fail they would keep these two days according to what was written and at the time appointed every year, 28 that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, in every family, province, and city, and that these days of Purim should never fall into disuse among the Jews, nor should the commemoration of these days cease among their descendants.

29 Then Queen Esther, the daughter of Ab'ihail, and Mor'decai the Jew gave full written authority, confirming this second letter about Purim. 30 Letters were sent to all the Jews, to the hundred and twenty-seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasu-e'rus, in words of peace and truth, 31 that these days of Purim should be observed at their appointed seasons, as Mor'decai the Jew and Queen Esther enjoined upon the Jews, and as they had laid down for themselves and for their descendants, with regard to their fasts and their lamenting. 32 The command of Queen Esther fixed these practices of Purim, and it was recorded in writing.

10 King Ahasu-e'rus laid tribute on the land and on the coastlands of the sea. 2 And all the acts of his power and might, and the full account of the high honor of Mor'decai, to which the king advanced him, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia? 3 For Mor'decai the Jew was next in rank to King Ahasu-e'rus, and he was great among the Jews and popular with the multitude of his brethren, for he sought the welfare of his people and spoke peace to all his people.

4 And Mor'decai said, "These things have come from God. 5 For I remember the dream that I had concerning these matters, and none of them has failed to be fulfilled. 6 The tiny spring which became a river, and there was light and the sun and abundant water—the river is Esther, whom the king married and made queen. 7 The two dragons are Haman and myself. 8 The nations are those that gathered to destroy the name of the Jews. 9 And my nation, this is Israel, who cried out to God and were saved. The Lord has saved his people; the Lord has delivered us from all these evils; God has done great signs and wonders, which have not occurred among the nations. 10 For this purpose he made two lots, one for the people of God and one for all the nations. 11 And these two lots came to the hour and moment and day of decision before God and among all the nations. 12 And God remembered his people and vindicated his inheritance. 13 So they will observe these days in the month of Adar, on the fourteenth and fifteenth of that month, with an assembly and joy and gladness before God, from generation to generation for ever among his people Israel."

11 1 In the fourth year of the reign of Ptol'emy and Cleopatra, Dosithe'us, who said that he was a priest and a Levite,^e and Ptol'emy his son brought to Egypt^f the preceding Letter of Purim, which they said was genuine and had been translated by Lysim'achus the son of Ptol'emy, one of the residents of Jerusalem.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

- 1 Love righteousness, you rulers of the earth, think of the Lord with uprightness, and seek him with sincerity of heart;
2 because he is found by those who do not put him to the test, and manifests himself to those who do not distrust him.
3 For perverse thoughts separate men from God, and when his power is tested, it convicts the foolish; 4 because wisdom will not enter a deceitful soul, nor dwell in a body enslaved to sin.
5 For a holy and disciplined spirit will flee from deceit, and will rise and depart from foolish thoughts,
and will be ashamed at the approach of unrighteousness.
- 6 For wisdom is a kindly spirit and will not free a blasphemer from the guilt of his words;
because God is witness of his inmost feelings, and a true observer of his heart,
and a hearer of his tongue.
7 Because the Spirit of the Lord has filled the world, and that which holds all things together knows what is said;
8 therefore no one who utters unrighteous things will escape notice, and justice, when it punishes, will not pass him by.
9 For inquiry will be made into the counsels of an ungodly man, and a report of his words will come to the Lord,
- to convict him of his lawless deeds;
10 because a jealous ear hears all things, and the sound of murmurings does not go unheard.
11 Beware then of useless murmuring, and keep your tongue from slander;
because no secret word is without result,^a and a lying mouth destroys the soul.
12 Do not invite death by the error of your life, nor bring on destruction by the works of your hands; 13 because God did not make death, and he does not delight in the death of the living.
14 For he created all things that they might exist, and the generative forces^b of the world are wholesome,
and there is no destructive poison in them;
and the dominion^c of Hades is not on earth.
15 For righteousness is immortal.
- 16 But ungodly men by their words and deeds summoned death;^d considering him a friend, they pined away, and they made a covenant with him, because they are fit to belong to his party.
- 2 For they reasoned unsoundly, saying to themselves,
"Short and sorrowful is our life,
and there is no remedy when a man comes to his end, and no one has been known to return from Hades." 2 Because we were born by mere chance, a Or will go unpunished b Or the creatures c Or palace d Gk him

- and hereafter we shall be as though we had never been;
because the breath in our nostrils is smoke, and reason is a spark kindled by the beating of our hearts.
- 3 When it is extinguished, the body will turn to ashes, and the spirit will dissolve like empty air.
- 4 Our name will be forgotten in time, and no one will remember our works;
our life will pass away like the traces of a cloud, and be scattered like mist that is chased by the rays of the sun and overcome by its heat.
- 5 For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow, and there is no return from our death,
because it is sealed up and no one turns back.
- 6 "Come, therefore, let us enjoy the good things that exist, and make use of the creation to the full as in youth.
- 7 Let us take our fill of costly wine and perfumes, and let no flower of spring pass by us.
- 8 Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds before they wither.
- 9 Let none of us fail to share in our revelry, everywhere let us leave signs of enjoyment, because this is our portion, and this our lot.
- 10 Let us oppress the righteous poor man;
let us not spare the widow nor regard the grey hairs of the aged.
- 11 But let our might be our law of right, for what is weak proves itself to be useless.
- 12 "Let us lie in wait for the righteous man, because he is inconvenient to us and opposes our actions;
he reproaches us for sins against the law,
and accuses us of sins against our training.
- 13 He professes to have knowledge of God, and calls himself a child^e of the Lord.
14 He became to us a reproof of our thoughts; 15 the very sight of him is a burden to us, because his manner of life is unlike that of others,
and his ways are strange.
- 16 We are considered by him as something base, and he avoids our ways as unclean;
he calls the last end of the righteous happy, and boasts that God is his father.
- 17 Let us see if his words are true, and let us test what will happen at the end of his life; 18 for if the righteous man is God's son,
he will help him,
and will deliver him from the hand of his adversaries.
- 19 Let us test him with insult and torture, that we may find out how gentle he is,
and make trial of his forbearance.
- 20 Let us condemn him to a shameful death, for, according to what he says, he will be protected."
- 21 Thus they reasoned, but they were led astray, for their wickedness blinded them, 22 and they did not know the secret purposes of God, nor hope for the wages of holiness, nor discern the prize for blameless souls;
- 23 for God created man for incorruption, and made him in the image of his own eternity,^f 24 but through the devil's envy death entered the world, and those who belong to his party experience it.
- 3 But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and no torment will ever touch them.
- 2 In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died,
and their departure was thought to be an affliction, 3 and their going from us to be their destruction;
but they are at peace.
- 4 For though in the sight of men they were punished,

^e Or servant / Other ancient authorities read nature

- their hope is full of immortality.
- 5 Having been disciplined a little, they will receive great good, because God tested them and found them worthy of himself;
- 6 like gold in the furnace he tried them, and like a sacrificial burnt offering he accepted them.
- 7 In the time of their visitation they will shine forth, and will run like sparks through the stubble.
- 8 They will govern nations and rule over peoples, and the Lord will reign over them for ever.
- 9 Those who trust in him will understand truth, and the faithful will abide with him in love, because grace and mercy are upon his elect, and he watches over his holy ones.^g
- 10 But the ungodly will be punished as their reasoning deserves, who disregarded the righteous man^h and rebelled against the Lord;
- 11 for whoever despises wisdom and instruction is miserable. Their hope is vain, their labors are unprofitable, and their works are useless.
- 12 Their wives are foolish, and their children evil;
- 13 their offspring are accursed. For blessed is the barren woman who is undefiled, who has not entered into a sinful union; she will have fruit when God examines souls.
- 14 Blessed also is the eunuch whose hands have done no lawless deed, and who has not devised wicked things against the Lord; for special favor will be shown him for his faithfulness, and a place of great delight in the temple of the Lord.
- 15 For the fruit of good labors is renowned, and the root of understanding does not fail.
- 16 But children of adulterers will not come to maturity, and the offspring of an unlawful union will perish.
- 17 Even if they live long they will be held of no account, and finally their old age will be without honor.
- 18 If they die young, they will have no hope and no consolation in the day of decision.
- 19 For the end of an unrighteous generation is grievous.
- 4 Better than this is childlessness with virtue, for in the memory of virtueⁱ is immortality, because it is known both by God and by men.
- 2 When it is present, men imitate^j it, and they long for it when it has gone; and throughout all time it marches crowned in triumph, victor in the contest for prizes that are undefiled.
- 3 But the prolific brood of the ungodly will be of no use, and none of their illegitimate seedlings will strike a deep root or take a firm hold.
- 4 For even if they put forth boughs for a while, standing insecurely they will be shaken by the wind, and by the violence of the winds they will be uprooted.
- 5 The branches will be broken off before they come to maturity, and their fruit will be useless, not ripe enough to eat, and good for nothing.
- 6 For children born of unlawful unions are witnesses of evil against their parents when God examines them.^k
- 7 But the righteous man, though he die early, will be at rest.
- 8 For old age is not honored for length of time, nor measured by number of years;
- 9 but understanding is grey hair for men, and a blameless life is ripe old age.

^g The text of this line is uncertain, and it is omitted here by some ancient authorities. Compare 4.15

- 10 There was one who pleased God and was loved by him, and while living among sinners he was taken up.
- 11 He was caught up lest evil change his understanding or guile deceive his soul.
- 12 For the fascination of wickedness obscures what is good,
and roving desire perverts the innocent mind.
- 13 Being perfected in a short time, he fulfilled long years;
- 14 for his soul was pleasing to the Lord, therefore he took him quickly from the midst of wickedness.
- 15 Yet the peoples saw and did not understand, nor take such a thing to heart,
that God's grace and mercy are with his elect,
and he watches over his holy ones.
- 16 The righteous man who has died will condemn the ungodly who are living, and youth that is quickly perfected/will condemn the prolonged old age of the unrighteous man.
- 17 For they will see the end of the wise man, and will not understand what the Lord purposed for him,
and for what he kept him safe.
- 18 They will see, and will have contempt for him, but the Lord will laugh them to scorn.
After this they will become dishonored corpses, and an outrage among the dead for ever;
- 19 because he will dash them speechless to the ground, and shake them from the foundations;
they will be left utterly dry and barren,
and they will suffer anguish,
and the memory of them will perish.
- 20 They will come with dread when their sins are reckoned up, and their lawless deeds will convict them to their face.
- 5 Then the righteous man will stand with great confidence in the presence of those who have afflicted him, and those who make light of his labors.
- 2 When they see him, they will be shaken with dreadful fear, and they will be amazed at his unexpected salvation.
- 3 They will speak to one another in repentance, and in anguish of spirit they will groan, and say,
- 4 "This is the man whom we once held in derision and made a byword of reproach—we fools!
We thought that his life was madness and that his end was without honor.
- 5 Why has he been numbered among the sons of God?
And why is his lot among the saints?
- 6 So it was we who strayed from the way of truth, and the light of righteousness did not shine on us, and the sun did not rise upon us.
- 7 We took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction, and we journeyed through trackless deserts,
but the way of the Lord we have not known.
- 8 What has our arrogance profited us?
And what good has our boasted wealth brought us?
- 9 "All those things have vanished like a shadow, and like a rumor that passes by;
10 like a ship that sails through the billowy water, and when it has passed no trace can be found,
nor track of its keel in the waves;
- 11 or as, when a bird flies through the air,
no evidence of its passage is found;
the light air, lashed by the beat of its pinions and pierced by the force of its rushing flight, is traversed by the movement of its wings,
and afterward no sign of its coming is found there;
- 12 or as, when an arrow is shot at a target,
the air, thus divided, comes together at once,

so that no one knows its pathway.

- 13 So we also, as soon as we were born, ceased to be, and we had no sign of virtue to show, but were consumed in our wickedness.”
- 14 Because the hope of the ungodly man is like chaff^m carried by the wind, and like a light hoarfrostⁿ driven away by a storm; it is dispersed like smoke before the wind, and it passes like the remembrance of a guest who stays but a day.
- 15 But the righteous live for ever, and their reward is with the Lord; the Most High takes care of them.
- 16 Therefore they will receive a glorious crown and a beautiful diadem from the hand of the Lord, because with his right hand he will cover them, and with his arm he will shield them.
- 17 The Lord^o will take his zeal as his whole armor, and will arm all creation to repel^p his enemies;
- 18 he will put on righteousness as a breastplate, and wear impartial justice as a helmet;
- 19 he will take holiness as an invincible shield,
- 20 and sharpen stern wrath for a sword, and creation will join with him to fight against the madmen.
- 21 Shafts of lightning will fly with true aim, and will leap to the target as from a well-drawn bow of clouds,
- 22 and hailstones full of wrath will be hurled as from a catapult; the water of the sea will rage against them, and rivers will relentlessly overwhelm them;
- 23 a mighty wind will rise against them, and like a tempest it will winnow them away.
- Lawlessness will lay waste the whole earth, and evil-doing will overturn the thrones of rulers.

- 6 Listen therefore, O kings, and understand; learn, O judges of the ends of the earth.
- 2 Give ear, you that rule over multitudes, and boast of many nations.
- 3 For your dominion was given you from the Lord, and your sovereignty from the Most High, who will search out your works and inquire into your plans.
- 4 Because as servants of his kingdom you did not rule rightly, nor keep the law, nor walk according to the purpose of God,
- 5 he will come upon you terribly and swiftly, because severe judgment falls on those in high places.
- 6 For the lowliest man may be pardoned in mercy, but mighty men will be mightily tested.
- 7 For the Lord of all will not stand in awe of any one, nor show deference to greatness; because he himself made both small and great, and he takes thought for all alike.
- 8 But a strict inquiry is in store for the mighty.
- 9 To you then, O monarchs, my words are directed, that you may learn wisdom and not transgress.
- 10 For they will be made holy who observe holy things in holiness, and those who have been taught them will find a defense.
- 11 Therefore set your desire on my words; long for them, and you will be instructed.
- 12 Wisdom is radiant and unfading, and she is easily discerned by those who love her, and is found by those who seek her.
- 13 She hastens to make herself known to those who desire her.
- 14 He who rises early to seek her will have no difficulty,

^m Or dust ⁿ Other authorities read spider's web ^o Gk He ^p Or punish

- for he will find her sitting at his gates.
- 15 To fix one's thought on her is perfect understanding, and he who is vigilant on her account will soon be free from care,
- 16 because she goes about seeking those worthy of her,
and she graciously appears to them in their paths,
and meets them in every thought.
- 17 The beginning of wisdom^a is the most sincere desire for instruction, and concern for instruction is love of
her,
- 18 and love of her is the keeping of her laws,
and giving heed to her laws is assurance of immortality,
- 19 and immortality brings one near to
God;
- 20 so the desire for wisdom leads to a kingdom.
- 21 Therefore if you delight in thrones and scepters, O monarchs over the peoples,
honor wisdom, that you may reign
for ever.
- 22 I will tell you what wisdom is and how she came to be,
and I will hide no secrets from you, but I will trace her course from the beginning of creation,
and make the knowledge of her clear,
and I will not pass by the truth;
- 23 neither will I travel in the company of sickly envy,
for envy^r does not associate with
wisdom.
- 24 A multitude of wise men is the salvation of the world,
and a sensible king is the stability of
his people.
- 25 Therefore be instructed by my words,
and you will profit.
- 7 I also am mortal, like all men, a descendant of the first-formed child of earth;
and in the womb of a mother I was molded into flesh,
2 within the period of ten months, compacted with blood,
from the seed of a man and the pleasure of marriage.
- 3 And when I was born, I began to breathe the common air,
and fell upon the kindred earth, and my first sound was a cry, like that of all.
- 4 I was nursed with care in swaddling cloths.
- 5 For no king has had a different beginning of existence;
- 6 there is for all mankind one entrance into life, and a common departure.
- 7 Therefore I prayed, and understanding was given me;
I called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.
- 8 I preferred her to scepters and thrones,
and I accounted wealth as nothing in comparison with her.
- 9 Neither did I liken to her any priceless gem,
because all gold is but a little sand in her sight,
and silver will be accounted as clay before her.
- 10 I loved her more than health and beauty,
and I chose to have her rather than
light,
because her radiance never ceases.
- 11 All good things came to me along with her,
and in her hands uncounted wealth.
- 12 I rejoiced in them all, because wisdom leads them;
- but I did not know that she was their mother.
- 13 I learned without guile and I impart without grudging;
I do not hide her wealth,
- 14 for it is an unfailing treasure for
men;
those who get it obtain friendship with
God,
commended for the gifts that come from instruction.
- 15 May God grant that I speak with
judgment
and have thoughts worthy of what I have received,
for he is the guide even of wisdom and the corrector of the wise.
- 16 For both we and our words are in his
hand,

^a Gk Her beginning ^r Gk this

- as are all understanding and skill in crafts.
- 17 For it is he who gave me unerring knowledge of what exists, to know the structure of the world and the activity of the elements;
- 18 the beginning and end and middle of times, the alternations of the solstices and the changes of the seasons,
- 19 the cycles of the year and the constellations of the stars,
- 20 the natures of animals and the tempers of wild beasts, the powers of spirits^s and the reasonings of men, the varieties of plants and the virtues of roots;
- 21 I learned both what is secret and what is manifest,
- 22 for wisdom, the fashioner of all things, taught me.

For in her there is a spirit that is intelligent, holy, unique, manifold, subtle, mobile, clear, unpolluted, distinct, invulnerable, loving the good, keen, irresistible, ²³ beneficent, humane, steadfast, sure, free from anxiety, all-powerful, overseeing all, and penetrating through all spirits that are intelligent and pure and most subtle.

- 24 For wisdom is more mobile than any motion; because of her pureness she pervades and penetrates all things.
- 25 For she is a breath of the power of God, and a pure emanation of the glory of the Almighty; therefore nothing defiled gains entrance into her.
- 26 For she is a reflection of eternal light, a spotless mirror of the working of God, and an image of his goodness.
- 27 Though she is but one, she can do all things, and while remaining in herself, she renews all things; in every generation she passes into holy souls

- and makes them friends of God, and prophets;
- 28 for God loves nothing so much as the man who lives with wisdom.
- 29 For she is more beautiful than the sun, and excels every constellation of the stars. Compared with the light she is found to be superior,
- 30 for it is succeeded by the night, but against wisdom evil does not prevail.

8 She reaches mightily from one end of the earth to the other, and she orders all things well.

- 2 I loved her and sought her from my youth, and I desired to take her for my bride, and I became enamored of her beauty.
- 3 She glorifies her noble birth by living with God, and the Lord of all loves her.
- 4 For she is an initiate in the knowledge of God, and an associate in his works.
- 5 If riches are a desirable possession in life, what is richer than wisdom who effects all things?
- 6 And if understanding is effective, who more than she is fashioner of what exists?
- 7 And if any one loves righteousness, her labors are virtues; for she teaches self-control and prudence, justice and courage; nothing in life is more profitable for men than these.
- 8 And if any one longs for wide experience, she knows the things of old, and infers the things to come; she understands turns of speech and the solutions of riddles; she has foreknowledge of signs and wonders and of the outcome of seasons and times.
- 9 Therefore I determined to take her to live with me, knowing that she would give me good counsel and encouragement in cares and grief.

- 10 Because of her I shall have glory among the multitudes and honor in the presence of the elders, though I am young.
- 11 I shall be found keen in judgment, and in the sight of rulers I shall be admired.
- 12 When I am silent they will wait for me, and when I speak they will give heed; and when I speak at greater length they will put their hands on their mouths.
- 13 Because of her I shall have immortality, and leave an everlasting remembrance to those who come after me.
- 14 I shall govern peoples, and nations will be subject to me;
- 15 dread monarchs will be afraid of me when they hear of me; among the people I shall show myself capable, and courageous in war.
- 16 When I enter my house, I shall find rest with her, for companionship with her has no bitterness, and life with her has no pain, but gladness and joy.
- 17 When I considered these things inwardly, and thought upon them in my mind, that in kinship with wisdom there is immortality,
- 18 and in friendship with her, pure delight, and in the labors of her hands, un-failing wealth, and in the experience of her company, understanding, and renown in sharing her words, I went about seeking how to get her for myself.
- 19 As a child I was by nature well endowed, and a good soul fell to my lot;
- 20 or rather, being good, I entered an undefiled body.
- 21 But I perceived that I would not possess wisdom unless God gave her to me— and it was a mark of insight to know whose gift she was— so I appealed to the Lord and be-sought him, and with my whole heart I said:
- 9 "O God of my fathers and Lord of mercy, who hast made all things by thy word,
- 2 and by thy wisdom hast formed man, to have dominion over the creatures thou hast made,
- 3 and rule the world in holiness and righteousness, and pronounce judgment in upright-ness of soul,
- 4 give me the wisdom that sits by thy throne, and do not reject me from among thy servants.
- 5 For I am thy slave and the son of thy maidservant, a man who is weak and short-lived, with little understanding of judgment and laws;
- 6 for even if one is perfect among the sons of men, yet without the wisdom that comes from thee he will be regarded as nothing.
- 7 Thou hast chosen me to be king of thy people and to be judge over thy sons and daughters.
- 8 Thou hast given command to build a temple on thy holy mountain, and an altar in the city of thy habita-tion, a copy of the holy tent which thou didst prepare from the beginning.
- 9 With thee is wisdom, who knows thy works and was present when thou didst make the world, and who understands what is pleasing in thy sight and what is right according to thy commandments.
- 10 Send her forth from the holy heav-ens, and from the throne of thy glory send her, that she may be with me and toil, and that I may learn what is pleasing to thee.
- 11 For she knows and understands all things, and she will guide me wisely in my actions and guard me with her glory.
- 12 Then my works will be acceptable, and I shall judge thy people justly,

- and shall be worthy of the throne^r of my father.
- 13 For what man can learn the counsel of God?
Or who can discern what the Lord wills?
- 14 For the reasoning of mortals is worthless, and our designs are likely to fail,
- 15 for a perishable body weighs down the soul,
and this earthly tent burdens the thoughtful^u mind.
- 16 We can hardly guess at what is on earth, and what is at hand we find with labor;
but who has traced out what is in the heavens?
- 17 Who has learned thy counsel, unless thou hast given wisdom and sent thy holy Spirit from on high?
- 18 And thus the paths of those on earth were set right, and men were taught what pleases thee, and were saved by wisdom.^v
- 10 Wisdom^v protected the first-formed father of the world, when he alone had been created;
she delivered him from his transgression, 2 and gave him strength to rule all things.
- 3 But when an unrighteous man departed from her in his anger, he perished because in rage he slew his brother.
- 4 When the earth was flooded because of him, wisdom again saved it, steering the righteous man by a paltry piece of wood.
- 5 Wisdom^w also, when the nations in wicked agreement had been confounded, recognized the righteous man and preserved him blameless before God, and kept him strong in the face of his compassion for his child.
- 6 Wisdom^w rescued a righteous man when the ungodly were perishing;
he escaped the fire that descended on the Five Cities.^x
- 7 Evidence of their wickedness still remains:
a continually smoking wasteland, plants bearing fruit that does not ripen, and a pillar of salt standing as a monument to an unbelieving soul.
- 8 For because they passed wisdom by,
they not only were hindered from recognizing the good,
but also left for mankind a reminder of their folly,
so that their failures could never go unnoticed.
- 9 Wisdom rescued from troubles those who served her.
- 10 When a righteous man fled from his brother's wrath, she guided him on straight paths;
she showed him the kingdom of God, and gave him knowledge of angels;^y she prospered him in his labors, and increased the fruit of his toil.
- 11 When his oppressors were covetous, she stood by him and made him rich.
- 12 She protected him from his enemies, and kept him safe from those who lay in wait for him;
in his arduous contest she gave him the victory, so that he might learn that godliness is more powerful than anything.
- 13 When a righteous man was sold, wisdom^z did not desert him,
but delivered him from sin.
She descended with him into the dungeon,
- 14 and when he was in prison she did not leave him, until she brought him the scepter of a kingdom and authority over his masters.
Those who accused him she showed to be false, and she gave him everlasting honor.
- 15 A holy people and blameless race wisdom^z delivered from a nation of oppressors.

- 17 She gave to holy men the reward of their labors;
she guided them along a marvelous way,
and became a shelter to them by day,
and a starry flame through the night.
- 18 She brought them over the Red Sea, and led them through deep waters; 19 but she drowned their enemies, and cast them up from the depth of the sea.
- 20 Therefore the righteous plundered the ungodly;
they sang hymns, O Lord, to thy holy name,
and praised with one accord thy defending hand,
- 21 because wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb, and made the tongues of babes speak clearly.
- 11 Wisdom^a prospered their works by the hand of a holy prophet.
- 2 They journeyed through an uninhabited wilderness, and pitched their tents in untrodden places.
- 3 They withstood their enemies and fought off their foes.
- 4 When they thirsted they called upon thee, and water was given them out of flinty rock,
and slaking of thirst from hard stone.
- 5 For through the very things by which their enemies were punished, they themselves received benefit in their need.
- 6 Instead of the fountain of an ever-flowing river, stirred up and defiled with blood
- 7 in rebuke for the decree to slay the infants, thou gavest them abundant water unexpectedly,
- 8 showing by their thirst at that time how thou didst punish their enemies.
- 9 For when they were tried, though they were being disciplined in mercy, they learned how the ungodly were tormented when judged in wrath.
- 10 For thou didst test them as a father does in warning, but thou didst examine the ungodly^b
- as a stern king does in condemnation.
- 11 Whether absent or present, they were equally distressed, 12 for a twofold grief possessed them,
and a groaning at the memory of what had occurred.
- 13 For when they heard that through their own punishments
the righteous^c had received benefit, they perceived it was the Lord's doing.
- 14 For though they had mockingly rejected him who long before had been cast out and exposed,
at the end of the events they marveled at him,
for their thirst was not like that of the righteous.
- 15 In return for their foolish and wicked thoughts, which led them astray to worship irrational serpents and worthless animals, thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures to punish them,
- 16 that they might learn that one is punished by the very things by which he sins.
- 17 For thy all-powerful hand, which created the world out of formless matter, did not lack the means to send upon them a multitude of bears, or bold lions,
- 18 or newly created unknown beasts full of rage, or such as breathe out fiery breath, or belch forth a thick pall of smoke, or flash terrible sparks from their eyes;
- 19 not only could their damage exterminate men,^d
but the mere sight of them could kill by fright.
- 20 Even apart from these, men^e could fall at a single breath when pursued by justice and scattered by the breath of thy power.
But thou hast arranged all things by measure and number and weight.
- 21 For it is always in thy power to show great strength,

- and who can withstand the might of thy arm?
- 22 Because the whole world before thee is like a speck that tips the scales, and like a drop of morning dew that falls upon the ground.
- 23 But thou art merciful to all, for thou canst do all things, and thou dost overlook men's sins, that they may repent.
- 24 For thou lovest all things that exist, and hast loathing for none of the things which thou hast made, for thou wouldst not have made anything if thou hadst hated it.
- 25 How would anything have endured if thou hadst not willed it?
Or how would anything not called forth by thee have been preserved?
- 26 Thou sparest all things, for they are thine, O Lord who lovest the living.
- 12 For thy immortal spirit is in all things.
- 2 Therefore thou dost correct little by little those who trespass, and dost remind and warn them of the things wherein they sin, that they may be freed from wickedness and put their trust in thee, O Lord.
- 3 Those who dwelt of old in thy holy land
- 4 thou didst hate for their detestable practices, their works of sorcery and unholy rites, their merciless slaughter^f of children, and their sacrificial feasting on human flesh and blood.
These initiates from the midst of a heathen cult,^g
- 6 these parents who murder helpless lives, thou didst will to destroy by the hands of our fathers,
- 7 that the land most precious of all to thee might receive a worthy colony of the servants^h of God.
- 8 But even these thou didst spare, since they were but men, and didst send waspsⁱ as forerunners of thy army, to destroy them little by little,
- 9 though thou wast not unable to give the ungodly into the hands of the righteous in battle, or to destroy them at one blow by dread wild beasts or thy stern word.
- 10 But judging them little by little thou gavest them a chance to repent, though thou wast not unaware that their origin^j was evil and their wickedness inborn, and that their way of thinking would never change.
- 11 For they were an accursed race from the beginning, and it was not through fear of any one that thou didst leave them unpunished for their sins.
- 12 For who will say, "What hast thou done?"
Or who will resist thy judgment?
Who will accuse thee for the destruction of nations which thou didst make?
Or who will come before thee to plead as an advocate for unrighteous men?
- 13 For neither is there any god besides thee, whose care is for all men,^k to whom thou shouldst prove that thou hast not judged unjustly;
- 14 nor can any king or monarch confront thee about those whom thou hast punished.
- 15 Thou art righteous and rulest all things righteously, deeming it alien to thy power to condemn him who does not deserve to be punished.
- 16 For thy strength is the source of righteousness, and thy sovereignty over all causes thee to spare all.
- 17 For thou dost show thy strength when men doubt the completeness of thy power, and dost rebuke any insolence among those who know it.^l
- 18 Thou who art sovereign in strength dost judge with mildness, and with great forbearance thou dost govern us;
for thou hast power to act whenever thou dost choose.
- 19 Through such works thou hast taught thy people

- that the righteous man must be kind, and thou hast filled thy sons with good hope,
because thou givest repentance for
sins.
- 20 For if thou didst punish with such great care and indulgence^m the enemies of thy servantsⁿ and those deserving of death, granting them time and opportunity to give up their wickedness,
- 21 with what strictness thou hast judged thy sons,
to whose fathers thou gavest oaths and covenants full of good promises!
- 22 So while chastening us thou scourgest our enemies ten thousand times
more,
so that we may meditate upon thy goodness when we judge, and when we are judged we may expect mercy.
- 23 Therefore those who in folly of life lived unrighteously thou didst torment through their own abominations.
- 24 For they went far astray on the paths of error,
accepting as gods those animals which even their enemies^o despised;
they were deceived like foolish babes.
- 25 Therefore, as to thoughtless children, thou didst send thy judgment to mock
them.
- 26 But those who have not heeded the warning of light rebukes will experience the deserved judgment
of God.
- 27 For when in their suffering they became incensed
at those creatures which they had thought to be gods, being punished by means of them,
they saw and recognized as the true God him whom they had before refused to know.
Therefore the utmost condemnation came upon them.

13 For all men who were ignorant of God were foolish by nature; and they were unable from the good things that are seen to know him who exists,

- nor did they recognize the craftsman while paying heed to his works;
- 2 but they supposed that either fire or wind or swift air,
or the circle of the stars, or turbulent
water,
or the luminaries of heaven were the gods that rule the world.
- 3 If through delight in the beauty of these things men^p assumed them to be gods,
let them know how much better than these is their Lord,
for the author of beauty created them.
- 4 And if men^p were amazed at their power and working,
let them perceive from them how much more powerful is he who formed them.
- 5 For from the greatness and beauty of created things comes a corresponding perception of their Creator.
- 6 Yet these men are little to be blamed, for perhaps they go astray while seeking God and desiring to find him.
- 7 For as they live among his works they keep searching,
and they trust in what they see, because the things that are seen are beautiful.
- 8 Yet again, not even they are to be excused;
- 9 for if they had the power to know so much
that they could investigate the world, how did they fail to find sooner the Lord of these things?
- 10 But miserable, with their hopes set on dead things, are the men who give the name "gods" to the works of men's hands, gold and silver fashioned with skill,
and likenesses of animals, or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.
- 11 A skilled woodcutter may saw down a tree easy to handle
and skilfully strip off all its bark, and then with pleasing workmanship make a useful vessel that serves life's needs,
- 12 and burn the castoff pieces of his work

^m Some ancient authorities omit and indulgence; others read and entreaty ⁿ Or children

- to prepare his food, and eat his fill.
- 13 But a castoff piece from among them, useful for nothing,
a stick crooked and full of knots, he takes and carves with care in his leisure,
and shapes it with skill gained in idleness;^a he forms it like the image of a man, 14 or makes it like some worthless animal, giving it a coat of red paint and colouring its surface red and covering every blemish in it with paint;
- 15 then he makes for it a niche that befits
it,
and sets it in the wall, and fastens it there with iron.
- 16 So he takes thought for it, that it may not fall,
because he knows that it cannot help itself,
for it is only an image and has need of help.
- 17 When he prays about possessions and his marriage and children, he is not ashamed to address a lifeless
thing.
- 18 For health he appeals to a thing that is weak;
for life he prays to a thing that is
dead;
for aid he entreats a thing that is utterly inexperienced;
for a prosperous journey, a thing that cannot take a step;
- 19 for money-making and work and success with his hands
he asks strength of a thing whose hands have no strength.
- 14 Again, one preparing to sail and about to voyage over raging waves calls upon a piece of wood more fragile than the ship which carries him.
- 2 For it was desire for gain that planned that vessel,
and wisdom was the craftsman who built it;
- 3 but it is thy providence, O Father,
that steers its course, because thou hast given it a path in
the sea,
and a safe way through the waves,
- 4 showing that thou canst save from every danger,
so that even if a man lacks skill, he may put to sea.
- 5 It is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should not be without effect; therefore men trust their lives even to the smallest piece of wood, and passing through the billows on a raft they come safely to land.
- 6 For even in the beginning, when arrogant giants were perishing, the hope of the world took refuge on a raft,
and guided by thy hand left to the world the seed of a new generation.
- 7 For blessed is the wood by which righteousness comes.
- 8 But the idol made with hands is accursed,
and so is he who made it;
because he did the work, and the perishable thing was named a god.
- 9 For equally hateful to God are the ungodly man and his ungodliness,
- 10 for what was done will be punished together with him who did it.
- 11 Therefore there will be a visitation also upon the heathen idols, because, though part of what God created,
they became an abomination, and became traps for the souls of
men
and a snare to the feet of the foolish.
- 12 For the idea of making idols was the beginning of fornication, and the invention of them was the corruption of life,
- 13 for neither have they existed from the beginning
nor will they exist for ever.
- 14 For through the vanity of men they entered the world,
and therefore their speedy end has been planned.
- 15 For a father, consumed with grief at an untimely bereavement, made an image of his child, who had been suddenly taken from him; and he now honored as a god what was once a dead human being, and handed on to his dependents secret rites and initiations.

^a Other authorities read with intelligent skill

- 16 Then the ungodly custom, grown strong with time, was kept as a law, and at the command of monarchs graven images were worshipped.
- 17 When men could not honor monarchs^r in their presence, since they lived at a distance, they imagined their appearance far away, and made a visible image of the king whom they honored, so that by their zeal they might flatter the absent one as though present.
- 18 Then the ambition of the craftsman impelled even those who did not know the king to intensify their worship.
- 19 For he, perhaps wishing to please his ruler, skilfully forced the likeness to take more beautiful form,
- 20 and the multitude, attracted by the charm of his work, now regarded as an object of worship the one whom shortly before they had honored as a man.
- 21 And this became a hidden trap for mankind, because men, in bondage to misfortune or to royal authority, bestowed on objects of stone or wood the name that ought not to be shared.
- 22 Afterward it was not enough for them to err about the knowledge of God, but they live in great strife due to ignorance, and they call such great evils peace.
- 23 For whether they kill children in their initiations, or celebrate secret mysteries, or hold frenzied revels with strange customs,
- 24 they no longer keep either their lives or their marriages pure, but they either treacherously kill one another, or grieve one another by adultery,
- 25 and all is a raging riot of blood and murder, theft and deceit, corruption, faithlessness, tumult, perjury,
- 26 confusion over what is good, forgetfulness of favors, pollution of souls, sex perversion,

- disorder in marriage, adultery, and debauchery.
- 27 For the worship of idols not to be named is the beginning and cause and end of every evil.
- 28 For their worshippers^s either rave in exultation, or prophesy lies, or live unrighteously, or readily commit perjury;
- 29 for because they trust in lifeless idols they swear wicked oaths and expect to suffer no harm.
- 30 But just penalties will overtake them on two counts: because they thought wickedly of God in devoting themselves to idols, and because in deceit they swore unrighteously through contempt for holiness.
- 31 For it is not the power of the things by which men swear,^t but the just penalty for those who sin, that always pursues the transgression of the unrighteous.

- 15 But thou, our God, art kind and true, patient, and ruling all things^u in mercy.
- 2 For even if we sin we are thine, knowing thy power; but we will not sin, because we know that we are accounted thine.
- 3 For to know thee is complete righteousness, and to know thy power is the root of immortality.
- 4 For neither has the evil intent of human art misled us, nor the fruitless toil of painters, a figure stained with varied colors,
- 5 whose appearance arouses yearning in fools, so that they desire^v the lifeless form of a dead image.
- 6 Lovers of evil things and fit for such objects of hope^w are those who either make or desire or worship them.

- both the vessels that serve clean uses and those for contrary uses, making all in like manner; but which shall be the use of each of these the worker in clay decides.
- 8 With the misspent toil, he forms a futile god from the same clay— this man who was made of earth a short time before and after a little while goes to the earth from which he was taken, when he is required to return the soul that was lent him.
- 9 But he is not concerned that he is destined to die or that his life is brief, but he competes with workers in gold and silver, and imitates workers in copper; and he counts it his glory that he moulds counterfeit gods.
- 10 His heart is ashes, his hope is cheaper than dirt, and his life is of less worth than clay, 11 because he failed to know the one who formed him and inspired him with an active soul and breathed into him a living spirit.
- 12 But he^x considered our existence an idle game, and life a festival held for profit, for he says one must get money however one can, even by base means.
- 13 For this man, more than all others, knows that he sins when he makes from earthy matter fragile vessels and graven images.
- 14 But most foolish, and more miserable than an infant, are all the enemies who oppressed thy people.
- 15 For they thought that all their heathen idols were gods, though these have neither the use of their eyes to see with, nor nostrils with which to draw breath, nor ears with which to hear, nor fingers to feel with, and their feet are of no use for walking.
- 16 For a man made them, and one whose spirit is borrowed formed them;
- for no man can form a god which is like himself.
- 17 He is mortal, and what he makes with lawless hands is dead, for he is better than the objects he worships, since^y he has life, but they never have.
- 18 The enemies of thy people^z worship even the most hateful animals, which are worse than all others, when judged by their lack of intelligence; 19 and even as animals they are not so beautiful in appearance that one would desire them, but they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.
- 16 Therefore those men were deservedly punished through such creatures, and were tormented by a multitude of animals.
- 2 Instead of this punishment thou didst show kindness to thy people, and thou didst prepare quails to eat, a delicacy to satisfy the desire of appetite; 3 in order that those men, when they desired food, might lose the least remnant of appetite^a because of the odious creatures sent to them, while thy people,^b after suffering want a short time, might partake of delicacies.
- 4 For it was necessary that upon those oppressors inexorable want should come, while to these it was merely shown how their enemies were being tormented.
- 5 For when the terrible rage of wild beasts came upon thy people^c and they were being destroyed by the bites of writhing serpents, thy wrath did not continue to the end; 6 they were troubled for a little while as a warning, and received a token of deliverance to remind them of thy law's command.
- 7 For he who turned toward it was saved, not by what he saw, but by thee, the Savior of all.

- 8 And by this also thou didst convince our enemies that it is thou who deliverest from every evil.
- 9 For they were killed by the bites of locusts and flies, and no healing was found for them, because they deserved to be punished by such things;
- 10 but thy sons were not conquered even by the teeth of venomous serpents, for thy mercy came to their help and healed them.
- 11 To remind them of thy oracles they were bitten, and then were quickly delivered, lest they should fall into deep forgetfulness and become unresponsive^d to thy kindness.
- 12 For neither herb nor poultice cured them, but it was thy word, O Lord, which heals all men.
- 13 For thou hast power over life and death; thou dost lead men down to the gates of Hades and back again.
- 14 A man in his wickedness kills another, but he cannot bring back the departed spirit, nor set free the imprisoned soul.
- 15 To escape from thy hand is impossible;
- 16 for the ungodly, refusing to know thee, were scourged by the strength of thy arm, pursued by unusual rains and hail and relentless storms, and utterly consumed by fire.
- 17 For—most incredible of all—in the water, which quenches all things, the fire had still greater effect, for the universe defends the righteous.
- 18 At one time the flame was restrained, so that it might not consume the creatures sent against the ungodly, but that seeing this they might know that they were being pursued by the judgment of God;
- 19 and at another time even in the midst of water it burned more intensely than fire, to destroy the crops of the unrighteous land.
- 20 Instead of these things thou didst give thy people the food of angels, and without their toil thou didst supply them from heaven with bread ready to eat, providing every pleasure and suited to every taste.
- 21 For thy sustenance manifested thy sweetness toward thy children; and the bread, ministering^e to the desire of the one who took it, was changed to suit every one's liking.
- 22 Snow and ice withstood fire without melting, so that they might know that the crops of their enemies were being destroyed by the fire that blazed in the hail and flashed in the showers of rain;
- 23 whereas the fire,^f in order that the righteous might be fed, even forgot its native power.
- 24 For the creation, serving thee who hast made it, exerts itself to punish the unrighteous, and in kindness relaxes on behalf of those who trust in thee.
- 25 Therefore at that time also, changed into all forms, it served thy all-nourishing bounty, according to the desire of those who had need,^g
- 26 so that thy sons, whom thou didst love, O Lord, might learn that it is not the production of crops that feeds man, but that thy word preserves those who trust in thee.
- 27 For what was not destroyed by fire was melted when simply warmed by a fleeting ray of the sun,
- 28 to make it known that one must rise before the sun to give thee thanks, and must pray to thee at the dawning of the light;
- 29 for the hope of an ungrateful man will melt like wintry frost, and flow away like waste water.
- 17 Great are thy judgments and hard to describe; therefore uninstructed souls have gone astray.
- 2 For when lawless men supposed that

^d The meaning of the Greek is obscure ^e Gk and it, ministering ^f Gk this ^g Or who made supplication

- they held the holy nation in their power, they themselves lay as captives of darkness and prisoners of long night, shut in under their roofs, exiles from eternal providence.
- 3 For thinking that in their secret sins they were unobserved behind a dark curtain of forgetfulness, they were scattered, terribly^h alarmed, and appalled by specters.
- 4 For not even the inner chamber that held them protected them from fear, but terrifying sounds rang out around them,
 and dismal phantoms with gloomy faces appeared.
- 5 And no power of fire was able to give light, nor did the brilliant flames of the stars avail to illumine that hateful night.
- 6 Nothing was shining through to them except a dreadful, self-kindled fire, and in terror they deemed the things which they saw to be worse than that unseen appearance.
- 7 The delusions of their magic art lay humbled, and their boasted wisdom was scornfully rebuked.
- 8 For those who promised to drive off the fears and disorders of a sick soul were sick themselves with ridiculous fear.
- 9 For even if nothing disturbing frightened them, yet, scared by the passing of beasts and the hissing of serpents,
- 10 they perished in trembling fear, refusing to look even at the air, though it nowhere could be avoided.
- 11 For wickedness is a cowardly thing, condemned by its own testimony;ⁱ distressed by conscience, it has always exaggerated^j the difficulties.
- 12 For fear is nothing but surrender of the helps that come from reason;
- 13 and the inner expectation of help, being weak, prefers ignorance of what causes the torment.
- 14 But throughout the night, which was really powerless, and which beset them from the recesses of powerless Hades, they all slept the same sleep, 15 and now were driven by monstrous specters, and now were paralyzed by their souls' surrender, for sudden and unexpected fear overwhelmed them.
- 16 And whoever was there fell down, and thus was kept shut up in a prison not made of iron;
- 17 for whether he was a farmer or a shepherd or a workman who toiled in the wilderness, he was seized, and endured the incapable fate;
 for with one chain of darkness they all were bound.
- 18 Whether there came a whistling wind, or a melodious sound of birds in wide-spreading branches, or the rhythm of violently rushing water, 19 or the harsh crash of rocks hurled down, or the unseen running of leaping animals,
 or the sound of the most savage roaring beasts, or an echo thrown back from a hollow of the mountains, it paralyzed them with terror.
- 20 For the whole world was illumined with brilliant light, and was engaged in unhindered work, 21 while over those men alone heavy night was spread, an image of the darkness that was destined to receive them;
 but still heavier than darkness were they to themselves.
- 18 But for thy holy ones there was very great light.

- 8 where those protected by thy hand passed through as one nation, after gazing on marvelous wonders.
- 9 For they ranged like horses, and leaped like lambs, praising thee, O Lord, who didst deliver them.
- 10 For they still recalled the events of their sojourn, how instead of producing animals the earth brought forth gnats, and instead of fish the river spewed out vast numbers of frogs.
- 11 Afterward they saw also a new kind^v of birds, when desire led them to ask for luxurious food;
- 12 for, to give them relief, quails came up from the sea.
- 13 The punishments did not come upon the sinners without prior signs in the violence of thunder, for they justly suffered because of their wicked acts; for they practiced a more bitter hatred of strangers.
- 14 Others had refused to receive strangers when they came to them, but these made slaves of guests who were their benefactors.
- 15 And not only so, but punishment of some sort will come upon the former for their hostile reception of the aliens;
- 16 but the latter, after receiving them with festal celebrations, afflicted with terrible sufferings those who had already shared the same rights.
- 17 They were stricken also with loss of sight— just as were those at the door of the righteous man— when, surrounded by yawning darkness, each tried to find the way through his own door.

as on a harp the notes vary the nature of the rhythm, while each note remains the same.^x
 This may be clearly inferred from the sight of what took place.
 19 For land animals were transformed into water creatures, and creatures that swim moved over to the land.
 20 Fire even in water retained its normal power, and water forgot its fire-quenching nature.

21 Flames, on the contrary, failed to consume the flesh of perishable creatures that walked among them, nor did they melt^y the crystalline, easily melted kind of heavenly food.

22 For in everything, O Lord, thou hast exalted and glorified thy people; and thou hast not neglected to help them at all times and in all places.

ECCLESIASTICUS, OR THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF

SIRACH

The Prologue

Whereas many great teachings have been given to us through the law and the prophets and the others that followed them, on account of which we should praise Israel for instruction and wisdom; and since it is necessary not only that the readers themselves should acquire understanding but also that those who love learning should be able to help the outsiders by both speaking and writing, my grandfather Jesus, after devoting himself especially to the reading of the law and the prophets and the other books of our fathers, and after acquiring considerable proficiency in them, was himself also led to write something pertaining to instruction and wisdom, in order that, by becoming conversant with this also, those who love learning should make even greater progress in living according to the law.

You are urged therefore to read with good will and attention, and to be indulgent^a in cases where, despite our diligent labor in translating, we may seem to have rendered some phrases imperfectly. For what was originally expressed in Hebrew does not have exactly the same sense when translated into another language. Not only this work, but even the law itself, the prophecies, and the rest of the books differ not a little as originally expressed.

When I came to Egypt in the thirty-eighth year of the reign of Eu-er'getes and stayed for some time, I found opportunity for no little instruction.^b It seemed highly necessary that I should myself devote some pains and labor to the translation of the following book, using in that period of time great watchfulness and skill in order to complete and publish the book for those living abroad who wished to gain learning, being prepared in character to live according to the law.

1 All wisdom comes from the Lord and is with him for ever.

² The sand of the sea, the drops of rain, and the days of eternity—who can count them?

³ The height of heaven, the breadth of the earth, the abyss, and wisdom—who can search them out?

^x The meaning of this verse is uncertain ^y Cn: Gk nor could be melted

^a Or Please read therefore with good will and attention, and be indulgent

^b Other authorities read a copy affording no little instruction

- 4 Wisdom was created before all things, and prudent understanding from eternity.^c
- 6 The root of wisdom—to whom has it been revealed?
Her clever devices—who knows them?^d
- 8 There is One who is wise, greatly to be feared,
sitting upon his throne.
- 9 The Lord himself created wisdom;^e he saw her and apportioned her,
he poured her out upon all his works.
- 10 She dwells with all flesh according to his gift,
and he supplied her to those who love him.
- 11 The fear of the Lord is glory and exultation,
and gladness and a crown of rejoicing.
- 12 The fear of the Lord delights the
heart,
and gives gladness and joy and long
life.
- 13 With him who fears the Lord it will go well at the end;
on the day of his death he will be blessed.
- 14 To fear the Lord is the beginning of
wisdom;
she is created with the faithful in the womb.
- 15 She made^f among men an eternal
foundation,
and among their descendants she will be trusted.
- 16 To fear the Lord is wisdom's full measure;
she satisfies^g men with her fruits; 17 she fills their whole house with desirable goods,
and their storehouses with her produce.
- 18 The fear of the Lord is the crown of
wisdom,
making peace and perfect health to flourish.
- 19 He saw her and apportioned her;
- he rained down knowledge and discerning comprehension, and he exalted the glory of those who held her fast.
- 20 To fear the Lord is the root of wisdom, and her branches are long life.^h
- 22 Unrighteous anger cannot be justified, for a man's anger tips the scale to his ruin.
- 23 A patient man will endure until the
right moment,
and then joy will burst forth for
him.
- 24 He will hide his words until the right moment,
and the lips of many will tell of his good sense.
- 25 In the treasures of wisdom are wise sayings,
but godliness is an abomination to a sinner.
- 26 If you desire wisdom, keep the commandments,
and the Lord will supply it for you.
- 27 For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction,
and he delights in fidelity and meekness.
- 28 Do not disobey the fear of the Lord;
do not approach him with a divided mind.
- 29 Be not a hypocrite in men's sight,ⁱ and keep watch over your lips.
- 30 Do not exalt yourself lest you fall, and thus bring dishonor upon yourself.
The Lord will reveal your secrets and cast you down in the midst of the congregation,
because you did not come in the fear
of the Lord,
and your heart was full of deceit.
- 2 My son, if you come forward to serve the Lord,
prepare yourself for temptation.^j
- 2 Set your heart right and be steadfast, and do not be hasty in time of calamity.
- 3 Cleave to him and do not depart,

^c Other authorities add as verse 5, The source of wisdom is God's word in the highest heaven, and her ways are the eternal commandments.

- that you may be honored at the end of your life.
- 4 Accept whatever is brought upon you,
and in changes that humble you be patient.
- 5 For gold is tested in the fire, and acceptable men in the furnace of humiliation.
- 6 Trust in him, and he will help you;
make your ways straight, and hope in him.
- 7 You who fear the Lord, wait for his mercy;
and turn not aside, lest you fall.
- 8 You who fear the Lord, trust in him, and your reward will not fail;
- 9 you who fear the Lord, hope for good things, for everlasting joy and mercy.
- 10 Consider the ancient generations and see:
who ever trusted in the Lord and was put to shame?
Or who ever persevered in the fear of the Lord^k and was forsaken?
Or who ever called upon him and was overlooked?
- 11 For the Lord is compassionate and merciful;
he forgives sins and saves in time of affliction.
- 12 Woe to timid hearts and to slack hands, and to the sinner who walks along two ways!
- 13 Woe to the faint heart, for it has no trust!
Therefore it will not be sheltered.
- 14 Woe to you who have lost your endurance!
What will you do when the Lord punishes you?
- 15 Those who fear the Lord will not disobey his words, and those who love him will keep his ways.
- 16 Those who fear the Lord will seek his approval, and those who love him will be filled with the law.
- 17 Those who fear the Lord will prepare their hearts, and will humble themselves before him.
- 18 Let us fall^l into the hands of the Lord, but not into the hands of men;
for as his majesty is,
so also is his mercy.
- 3 Listen to me your father, O children;
and act accordingly, that you may be kept in safety.
- 2 For the Lord honored the father above the children, and he confirmed the right of the mother over her sons.
- 3 Whoever honors his father atones for sins, 4 and whoever glorifies his mother is like one who lays up treasure.
- 5 Whoever honors his father will be gladdened by his own children, and when he prays he will be heard.
- 6 Whoever glorifies his father will have long life, and whoever obeys the Lord will refresh his mother;
- 7 he will serve his parents as his masters.^m
- 8 Honor your father by word and deed, that a blessing from him may come upon you.
- 9 For a father's blessing strengthens the houses of the children, but a mother's curse uproots their foundations.
- 10 Do not glorify yourself by dishonoring your father, for your father's dishonor is no glory to you.
- 11 For a man's glory comes from honoring his father, and it is a disgrace for children not to respect their mother.
- 12 O son, help your father in his old age, and do not grieve him as long as he lives;
- 13 even if he is lacking in understanding,
show forbearance;
in all your strength do not despise him.
- 14 For kindness to a father will not be forgotten,

^k Gk of him ^l Gk We shall fall

^m In other authorities this line is preceded by Whoever fears the Lord will honor his father,

- and against your sins it will be credited to you;
- 15 in the day of your affliction it will be remembered in your favor; as frost in fair weather, your sins will melt away.
- 16 Whoever forsakes his father is like a blasphemer, and whoever angers his mother is cursed by the Lord.
- 17 My son, perform your tasks in meekness; then you will be loved by those whom God accepts.
- 18 The greater you are, the more you must humble yourself; so you will find favor in the sight of the Lord.ⁿ
- 20 For great is the might of the Lord; he is glorified by the humble.
- 21 Seek not what is too difficult for you, nor investigate what is beyond your power.
- 22 Reflect upon what has been assigned to you, for you do not need what is hidden.
- 23 Do not meddle in what is beyond your tasks, for matters too great for human understanding have been shown you.
- 24 For their hasty judgment has led many astray, and wrong opinion has caused their thoughts to slip.^o
- 26 A stubborn mind will be afflicted at the end, and whoever loves danger will perish by it.
- 27 A stubborn mind will be burdened by troubles, and the sinner will heap sin upon sin.
- 28 The affliction of the proud has no healing, for a plant of wickedness has taken root in him.
- 29 The mind of the intelligent man will ponder a parable, and an attentive ear is the wise man's desire.
- 30 Water extinguishes a blazing fire:

- so almsgiving atones for sin.
- 31 Whoever requites favors gives thought to the future; at the moment of his falling he will find support.
- 4 My son, deprive not the poor of his living, and do not keep needy eyes waiting.
- 2 Do not grieve the one who is hungry, nor anger a man in want.
- 3 Do not add to the troubles of an angry mind, nor delay your gift to a beggar.
- 4 Do not reject an afflicted suppliant, nor turn your face away from the poor.
- 5 Do not avert your eye from the needy, nor give a man occasion to curse you;
- 6 for if in bitterness of soul he calls down a curse upon you, his Creator will hear his prayer.
- 7 Make yourself beloved in the congregation; bow your head low to a great man.
- 8 Incline your ear to the poor, and answer him peaceably and gently.
- 9 Deliver him who is wronged from the hand of the wrongdoer; and do not be fainthearted in judging a case.
- 10 Be like a father to orphans, and instead of a husband to their mother; you will then be like a son of the Most High, and he will love you more than does your mother.
- 11 Wisdom exalts her sons and gives help to those who seek her.
- 12 Whoever loves her loves life, and those who seek her early will be filled with joy.
- 13 Whoever holds her fast will obtain glory, and the Lord will bless the place she^p enters.
- 14 Those who serve her will minister to the Holy One;^q

- 17 For at first she will walk with him on tortuous paths, she will bring fear and cowardice upon him, and will torment him by her discipline until she trusts him,
and she will test him with her ordinances.
- 18 Then she will come straight back to him and gladden him, and will reveal her secrets to him.
- 19 If he goes astray she will forsake him,
and hand him over to his ruin.
- 20 Observe the right time, and beware of evil;^r and do not bring shame on yourself.
- 21 For there is a shame which brings sin, and there is a shame which is glory and favor.
- 22 Do not show partiality, to your own harm, or deference, to your downfall.
- 23 Do not refrain from speaking at the crucial time,^s and do not hide your wisdom.^t
- 24 For wisdom is known through speech, and education through the words of the tongue.
- 25 Never speak against the truth,
but be mindful of your ignorance.
- 26 Do not be ashamed to confess your sins, and do not try to stop the current of a river.
- 27 Do not subject yourself to a foolish fellow, nor show partiality to a ruler.
- 28 Strive even to death for the truth and the Lord God will fight for you.
- 29 Do not be reckless in your speech, or sluggish and remiss in your deeds.
- 30 Do not be like a lion in your home, nor be a faultfinder with your servants.
- 31 Let not your hand be extended to receive,
but withdrawn when it is time to repay.
- 5 Do not set your heart on your wealth, nor say, "I have enough."
- 2 Do not follow your inclination and strength, walking according to the desires of your heart.
- 3 Do not say, "Who will have power over me?"
for the Lord will surely punish you.
- 4 Do not say, "I sinned, and what happened to me?"
for the Lord is slow to anger.
- 5 Do not be so confident of atonement that you add sin to sin.
- 6 Do not say, "His mercy is great,
he will forgive" the multitude of my sins," for both mercy and wrath are with him, and his anger rests on sinners.
- 7 Do not delay to turn to the Lord, nor postpone it from day to day;
for suddenly the wrath of the Lord will go forth, and at the time of punishment you will perish.
- 8 Do not depend on dishonest wealth, for it will not benefit you in the day of calamity.
- 9 Do not winnow with every wind, nor follow every path;
the double-tongued sinner does that.
- 10 Be steadfast in your understanding, and let your speech be consistent.
- 11 Be quick to hear,
and be deliberate in answering.
- 12 If you have understanding, answer your neighbor;
but if not, put your hand on your mouth.
- 13 Glory and dishonor come from speaking, and a man's tongue is his downfall.

10 A wise magistrate will educate his people, and the rule of an understanding man will be well ordered.

² Like the magistrate of the people, so are his officials; and like the ruler of the city, so are all its inhabitants.

³ An undisciplined king will ruin his people, but a city will grow through the understanding of its rulers.

⁴ The government of the earth is in the hands of the Lord, and over it he will raise up the right man for the time.

⁵ The success of a man is in the hands of the Lord, and he confers his honor upon the person of the scribe.^j

⁶ Do not be angry with your neighbor for any injury, and do not attempt anything by acts of insolence.

⁷ Arrogance is hateful before the Lord and before men, and injustice is outrageous to both.

⁸ Sovereignty passes from nation to nation on account of injustice and insolence and wealth.

⁹ How can he who is dust and ashes be proud?

for even in life his bowels decay.^k

¹⁰ A long illness baffles the physician;^l the king of today will die tomorrow.

¹¹ For when a man is dead,
he will inherit creeping things, and wild beasts, and worms.

¹² The beginning of man's pride is to depart from the Lord;
his heart has forsaken his Maker.

¹³ For the beginning of pride is sin, and the man who clings to it pours out abominations.

Therefore the Lord brought upon them extraordinary afflictions, and destroyed them utterly.

¹⁴ The Lord has cast down the thrones of rulers, and has seated the lowly in their place.

¹⁵ The Lord has plucked up the roots of the nations,^m and has planted the humble in their place.

¹⁶ The Lord has overthrown the lands of the nations, and has destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.

¹⁷ He has removed some of them and destroyed them, and has extinguished the memory of them from the earth.

¹⁸ Pride was not created for men, nor fierce anger for those born of women.

¹⁹ What race is worthy of honor? The human race.

What race is worthy of honor?
Those who fear the Lord.

What race is unworthy of honor?
The human race.

What race is unworthy of honor?
Those who transgress the commandments.

²⁰ Among brothers their leader is worthy of honor, and those who fear the Lord are worthy of honor in his eyes.ⁿ

²² The rich, and the eminent, and the poor—their glory is the fear of the Lord.

²³ It is not right to despise an intelligent poor man, nor is it proper to honor a sinful man.

²⁴ The nobleman, and the judge, and the ruler will be honored, but none of them is greater than the man who fears the Lord.

²⁵ Free men will be at the service of a wise servant,
and a man of understanding will not grumble.

- 28 My son, glorify yourself with humility, and ascribe to yourself honor according to your worth.
- 29 Who will justify the man that sins against himself?
And who will honor the man that dishonors his own life?
- 30 A poor man is honored for his knowledge, while a rich man is honored for his wealth.
- 31 A man honored in poverty, how much more in wealth!
And a man dishonored in wealth, how much more in poverty!

- 4 Do not boast about wearing fine clothes, nor exalt yourself in the day that you are honored; for the works of the Lord are wonderful, and his works are concealed from men.
- 5 Many kings have had to sit on the ground, but one who was never thought of has worn a crown.
- 6 Many rulers have been greatly disgraced, and illustrious men have been handed over to others.
- 7 Do not find fault before you investigate; first consider, and then reprove.
- 8 Do not answer before you have heard, nor interrupt a speaker in the midst of his words.
- 9 Do not argue about a matter which does not concern you, nor sit with sinners when they judge a case.
- 10 My son, do not busy yourself with many matters;
if you multiply activities you will not go unpunished, and if you pursue you will not overtake,
and by fleeing you will not escape.
- 11 There is a man who works, and toils, and presses on,
but is so much the more in want.
- 12 There is another who is slow and needs help, who lacks strength and abounds in poverty;
but the eyes of the Lord look upon him for his good;
he lifts him out of his low estate and raises up his head,
so that many are amazed at him.
- 14 Good things and bad, life and death, poverty and wealth, come from the Lord.^o
- 17 The gift of the Lord endures for those who are godly, and in all wisdom there is the fulfillment of the law.^h

- ²² But the knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom, nor is there prudence where sinners take counsel.
- ²³ There is a cleverness which is abominable, but there is a fool who merely lacks wisdom.
- ²⁴ Better is the God-fearing man who lacks intelligence, than the highly prudent man who transgresses the law.
- ²⁵ There is a cleverness which is scrupulous but unjust, and there are people who distort kindness to gain a verdict.
- ²⁶ There is a rascal bowed down in mourning,ⁱ but inwardly he is full of deceit.
- ²⁷ He hides his face and pretends not to hear;
but where no one notices, he will forestall you.

- And the one who confesses his fault will be kept from loss.¹
- 4 Like a eunuch's desire to violate a maiden is a man who executes judgments by violence.
- 5 There is one who by keeping silent is found wise,
while another is detested for being too talkative.
- 6 There is one who keeps silent because he has no answer, while another keeps silent because he knows when to speak.
- 7 A wise man will be silent until the
right moment,
but a braggart and fool goes beyond the right moment.
- 8 Whoever uses too many words will be loathed,
and whoever usurps the right to speak will be hated.
- 9 There may be good fortune for a man
in adversity,
and a windfall may result in a loss.
- 10 There is a gift that profits you nothing, and there is a gift that brings a double return.
- 11 There are losses because of glory, and there are men who have raised their heads from humble circumstances.
- 12 There is a man who buys much for a little,
but pays for it seven times over.
- 13 The wise man makes himself beloved through his words,
but the courtesies of fools are wasted.
- 14 A fool's gift will profit you nothing, for he has many eyes instead of
one.
- 15 He gives little and upbraids much,
he opens his mouth like a herald;
today he lends and tomorrow he asks it back;
such a one is a hateful man.
- 16 A fool will say, "I have no friend, and there is no gratitude for my good deeds;
those who eat my bread speak unkindly."
- 17 How many will ridicule him, and how often!
- 18 A slip on the pavement is better than a slip of the tongue;
so the downfall of the wicked will occur speedily.
- 19 An ungracious man is like a story told
at the wrong time, which is continually on the lips of the ignorant.
- 20 A proverb from a fool's lips will be rejected,
for he does not tell it at its proper
time.
- 21 A man may be prevented from sinning
by his poverty,
so when he rests he feels no remorse.
- 22 A man may lose his life through shame,
or lose it because of his foolish look.
- 23 A man may for shame make promises to a friend,
and needlessly make him an enemy.
- 24 A lie is an ugly blot on a man; it is continually on the lips of the ignorant.
- 25 A thief is preferable to a habitual liar,
but the lot of both is ruin.
- 26 The disposition of a liar brings disgrace,

- 28 Whoever cultivates the soil will heap
up his harvest,
and whoever pleases great men will atone for injustice.

3 All lawlessness is like a two-edged sword;
there is no healing for its wound.
4 Terror and violence will lay waste riches;

10 The way of sinners is smoothly paved with stones, but at its end is the pit of Hades.
11 Whoever keeps the law controls his thoughts, and wisdom is the fulfilment of the fear of the Lord.
12 He who is not clever cannot be taught,
but there is a cleverness which increases bitterness.
13 The knowledge of a wise man will increase like a flood, and his counsel like a flowing spring.

- 14 The mind of a fool is like a broken jar;
it will hold no knowledge.
15 When a man of understanding hears a wise saying,
he will praise it and add to it;
when a reveler hears it, he dislikes it and casts it behind his back.
16 A fool's narration is like a burden on a journey, but delight will be found in the speech of the intelligent.
17 The utterance of a sensible man will be sought in the assembly, and they will ponder his words in their minds.
18 Like a house that has vanished, so is wisdom to a fool;
and the knowledge of the ignorant is unexamined talk.
19 To a senseless man education is fetters on his feet, and like manacles on his right hand.
20 A fool raises his voice when he laughs, but a clever man smiles quietly.
21 To a sensible man education is like a golden ornament, and like a bracelet on the right arm.
22 The foot of a fool rushes into a house,
but a man of experience stands respectfully before it.
23 A boor peers into the house from the door, but a cultivated man remains outside.
24 It is ill-mannered for a man to listen at a door, and a discreet man is grieved by the disgrace.
25 The lips of strangers will speak of these things,ⁿ but the words of the prudent will be weighed in the balance.
26 The mind of fools is in their mouth,

- 18 For as a man destroys his enemy,
so you have destroyed the friendship of your neighbor.
- 19 And as you allow a bird to escape from your hand, so you have let your neighbor go,
and will not catch him again.

- 5 If he himself, being flesh, maintains wrath, who will make expiation for his sins?

 9 and a sinful man will disturb friends and inject enmity among those who are at peace.
 10 In proportion to the fuel for the fire, so will be the burning, and in proportion to the obstinacy of strife will be the burning;^p in proportion to the strength of the man will be his anger, and in proportion to his wealth he will heighten his wrath.
 11 A hasty quarrel kindles fire, and urgent strife sheds blood.
 12 If you blow on a spark, it will glow; if you spit on it, it will be put out; and both come out of your mouth.
 13 Curse the whisperer and deceiver, for he has destroyed many who were at peace.
 14 Slander^q has shaken many, and scattered them from nation to nation, and destroyed strong cities, and overturned the houses of great men.
 15 Slander^q has driven away courageous women, and deprived them of the fruit of their toil.
 16 Whoever pays heed to slander^r will not find rest, nor will he settle down in peace.
 17 The blow of a whip raises a welt, but a blow of the tongue crushes the bones.

 19 Happy is the man who is protected from it, who has not been exposed to its anger, who has not borne its yoke, and has not been bound with its fetters;

 2 Lend to your neighbor in the time of his need; and in turn, repay your neighbor promptly.
 3 Confirm your word and keep faith with him, and on every occasion you will find what you need.
 4 Many persons regard a loan as a windfall, and cause trouble to those who help them.
 5 A man will kiss another's hands until he gets a loan, and will lower his voice in speaking of his neighbor's money; but at the time for repayment he will delay, and will pay in words of unconcern, and will find fault with the time.
 6 If the lender^t exerts pressure, he will hardly get back half, and will regard that as a windfall. If he does not, the borrower^u has robbed him of his money, and he has needlessly made him his enemy; he will repay him with curses and reproaches, he inclines his ear to the sound of the hammer,ⁿ and his eyes are on the pattern of the object.

He sets his heart on finishing his handiwork, that the nations would be blessed through his posterity;

that he would multiply him like the dust of the earth, and exalt his posterity like the stars, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea and from the River to the ends of the earth.
- 22 To Isaac also he gave the same assurance for the sake of Abraham his father.

- 5 He made him hear his voice, and led him into the thick darkness, and gave him the commandments face to face, the law of life and knowledge, to teach Jacob the covenant, and Israel his judgments.
- 6 He exalted Aaron, the brother of Moses,^h a holy man like him, of the tribe of Levi.
- 7 He made an everlasting covenant with him, and gave him the priesthood of the people. He blessed him with splendid vestments, and put a glorious robe upon him.
- 8 He clothed him with superb perfection, and strengthened him with the symbols of authority, the linen breeches, the long robe, and the ephod.
- 9 And he encircled him with pomegranates, with very many golden bells round about, to send forth a sound as he walked, to make their ringing heard in the temple as a reminder to the sons of his people;
- 10 with a holy garment, of gold and blue and purple, the work of an embroiderer;
- with the oracle of judgment, Urim and Thummim;
- 11 with twisted scarlet, the work of a craftsman; with precious stones engraved like signets, in a setting of gold, the work of a jeweler, for a reminder, in engraved letters, according to the number of the tribes of Israel;
- 12 with a gold crown upon his turban, inscribed like a signet with "Holiness," a distinction to be prized, the work of an expert, the delight of the eyes, richly adorned.
- 13 Before his time there never were such beautiful things. No outsider ever put them on, but only his sons and his descendants perpetually.
- 14 His sacrifices shall be wholly burned twice every day continually.
- 15 Moses ordained him, and anointed him with holy oil; it was an everlasting covenant for him and for his descendants all the days of heaven, to minister to the Lordⁱ and serve as priest and bless his people in his name.
- 16 He chose him out of all the living to offer sacrifice to the Lord, incense and a pleasing odor as a memorial portion, to make atonement for the people.^j
- 17 In his commandments he gave him authority in statutes and^k judgments, to teach Jacob the testimonies, and to enlighten Israel with his law.
- 18 Outsiders conspired against him, and envied him in the wilderness, Dathan and Abi'ram and their men and the company of Korah, in wrath and anger.
- 19 The Lord saw it and was not pleased, and in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed; he wrought wonders against them to consume them in flaming fire.
- 20 He added glory to Aaron and gave him a heritage;

- 22 But in the land of the people he has no inheritance, and he has no portion among the people;
 for the Lord^l himself is his^m portion and inheritance.
- 23 Phin'has the son of Elea'zar is the third in glory, for he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,
 and stood fast, when the people turned away, in the ready goodness of his soul, and made atonement for Israel.
- 24 Therefore a covenant of peace was established with him, that he should be leader of the sanctuary and of his people, that he and his descendants should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.
- 25 A covenant was also established with David,
 the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah:
 the heritage of the king is from son to son only;
 so the heritage of Aaron is for his descendants.

- 46 Joshua the son of Nun was mighty in war, and was the successor of Moses in prophesying.
 He became, in accordance with his name,
 a great savior of God's^p elect,
 to take vengeance on the enemies that rose against them,

- 2 How glorious he was when he lifted his hands and stretched out his sword against the cities!
- 3 Who before him ever stood so firm?
 For he waged the wars of the Lord.
- 4 Was not the sun held back by his hand?
 And did not one day become as long as two?
- 5 He called upon the Most High, the Mighty One, when enemies pressed him on every side,
- 6 and the great Lord answered him with hailstones of mighty power.
 He hurled down war upon that nation, and at the descent of Beth-horon^q he destroyed those who resisted, so that the nations might know his armament,

- 8 And these two alone were preserved out of six hundred thousand people on foot, to bring them into their inheritance, into a land flowing with milk and honey.
- 9 And the Lord gave Caleb strength, which remained with him to old age, so that he went up to the hill country, and his children obtained it for an inheritance;
- 10 so that all the sons of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

- 13 Samuel, beloved by his Lord, a prophet of the Lord, established the kingdom and anointed rulers over his people.
- 14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the Lord watched over Jacob.
- 15 By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet, and by his words he became known as a trustworthy seer.
- 16 He called upon the Lord, the Mighty One,
when his enemies pressed him on every side,
and he offered in sacrifice a sucking lamb.
- 17 Then the Lord thundered from heaven,

- 19 Before the time of his eternal sleep,
Samuel^s called men to witness before the Lord and his anointed:
"I have not taken any one's property,

And no man accused him.
- 20 Even after he had fallen asleep he prophesied and revealed to the king his death, and lifted up his voice out of the earth in prophecy, to blot out the wickedness of the people.
- 47 And after him Nathan rose up to prophesy in the days of David.
- 2 As the fat is selected from the peace offering,
so David was selected from the sons of Israel.
- 3 He played with lions as with young goats,
and with bears as with lambs of the flock.
- 4 In his youth did he not kill a giant,
and take away reproach from the people, when he lifted his hand with a stone in the sling and struck down the boasting of Goliath?
- 5 For he appealed to the Lord, the Most High,
and he gave him strength in his right hand to slay a man mighty in war, to exalt the power^t of his people.
- 6 So they glorified him for his ten thousands,
and praised him for the blessings of the Lord,
when the glorious diadem was bestowed upon him.
- 7 For he wiped out his enemies on every side, and annihilated his adversaries the Philistines;
he crushed their power^t even to this day.
- 8 In all that he did he gave thanks to the Holy One, the Most High, with ascriptions of glory;
he sang praise with all his heart,
and he loved his Maker.
- 9 He placed singers before the altar, to make sweet melody with their voices.
- 10 He gave beauty to the feasts, while they praised God's^v holy name,

and the sanctuary resounded from early morning.
- 11 The Lord took away his sins,

- 18 In the name of the Lord God, who is called the God of Israel, you gathered gold like tin and amassed silver like lead.
- 19 But laid your loins beside women, and through your body you were brought into subjection.
- 20 You put a stain upon your honor, and defiled your posterity, so that you brought wrath upon your children and they were grieved^y at your folly,

- 12 It was Eli'jah who was covered by the whirlwind, and Eli'sha was filled with his spirit;
in all his days he did not tremble before any ruler,
and no one brought him into subjection.
- 13 Nothing was too hard for him, and when he was dead his body prophesied.

of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, small and great, all who dwelt in Babylon by the river Sud.

5 Then they wept, and fasted, and prayed before the Lord; 6 and they collected money, each giving what he could; 7 and they sent it to Jerusalem to Jehoi'akim the high priest,^a the son of Hilki'ah, son of Shallum, and to the priests, and to all the people who were present with him in Jerusalem. 8 At the same time, on the tenth day of Sivan, Baruch^b took the vessels of the house of the Lord, which had been carried away from the temple, to return them to the land of Judah—the silver vessels which Zedeki'ah the son of Josi'ah, king of Judah, had made, 9 after Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away from Jerusalem Jeconiah and the princes and the prisoners and the mighty men and the people of the land, and brought them to Babylon.

10 And they said: "Herewith we send you money; so buy with the money burnt offerings and sin offerings and incense, and prepare a cereal offering, and offer them upon the altar of the Lord our God; 11 and pray for the life of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and for the life of Belshaz'zar his son, that their days on earth may be like the days of heaven. 12 And the Lord will give us strength, and he will give light to our eyes, and we shall live under the protection^c of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and under the protection^c of Belshaz'zar his son, and we shall serve them many days and find favor in their sight. 13 And pray for us to the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God, and to this day the anger of the Lord and his wrath have not turned away from us. 14 And you shall read this book which we are sending you, to make your confession in the house of the Lord on the days of the feasts and at appointed seasons.

15 "And you shall say: 'Righteousness belongs to the Lord our God, but confusion of face, as at this day, to us, to the men of Judah, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, 16 and to our kings and our princes and our priests and our prophets and our fathers, 17 because we have sinned before the Lord, 18 and have disobeyed him, and have not heeded the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the statutes of the Lord which he set before us. 19 From the day when the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt until today, we have been disobedient to the Lord our God, and we have been negligent, in not heeding his voice. 20 So to this day there have clung to us the calamities and the curse which the Lord declared through Moses his servant at the time when he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt to give to us a land flowing with milk and honey. 21 We did not heed the voice of the Lord our God in all the words of the prophets whom he sent to us, but we each followed the intent of his own wicked heart by serving other gods and doing what is evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

2 "So the Lord confirmed his word, which he spoke against us, and against our judges who judged Israel, and against our kings and against our princes and against the men of Israel and Judah. 2 Under the whole heaven there has not been done the like of what he has done in Jerusalem, in accordance with what is written in the law of Moses, 3 that we should eat, one the flesh of his son and another the flesh of his daughter. 4 And he gave them into subjection to all the kingdoms around us, to be a reproach and a desolation among all the surrounding peoples, where the Lord has scattered them. 5 They were brought low and not raised up, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not heeding his voice.

6 "Righteousness belongs to the Lord our God, but confusion of face to us and our fathers, as at this day. 7 All those calamities with which the Lord threatened us have come upon us. 8 Yet we have not entreated the favor of the Lord by turning away, each of us, from the thoughts of his wicked heart. 9 And the Lord has kept the calamities ready, and the Lord has brought them upon us, for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he has commanded us to do. 10 Yet we have not obeyed his voice, to walk in the statutes of the Lord which he set before us.

11 "And now, O Lord God of Israel, who didst bring thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand and with signs and wonders and with great power and outstretched arm, and hast made thee a name, as at this day, ¹² we have sinned, we have been ungodly, we have done wrong, O Lord our God, against all thy ordinances. ¹³ Let thy anger turn away from us, for we are left, few in number, among the nations where thou hast scattered us. ¹⁴ Hear, O Lord, our prayer and our supplication, and for thy own sake deliver us, and grant us favor in the sight of those who have carried us into exile; ¹⁵ that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, for Israel and his descendants are called by thy name. ¹⁶ O Lord, look down from thy holy habitation, and consider us. Incline thy ear, O Lord, and hear; ¹⁷ open thy eyes, O Lord, and see; for the dead who are in Hades, whose spirit has been taken from their bodies, will not ascribe glory or justice to the Lord, ¹⁸ but the person that is greatly distressed,^d that goes about bent over and feeble, and the eyes that are failing, and the person that hungers, will ascribe to thee glory and righteousness, O Lord. ¹⁹ For it is not because of any righteous deeds of our fathers or our kings that we bring before thee our prayer for mercy, O Lord our God. ²⁰ For thou hast sent thy anger and thy wrath upon us, as thou didst declare by thy servants the prophets, saying: ²¹ "Thus says the Lord: Bend your shoulders and serve the king of Babylon, and you will remain in the land which I gave to your fathers. ²² But if you will not obey the voice of the Lord and will not serve the king of Babylon, ²³ I will make to cease from the cities of Judah and from the region about Jerusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, and the whole land will be a desolation without inhabitants."

24 "But we did not obey thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon; and thou hast confirmed thy words, which thou didst speak by thy servants the prophets, that the bones of our kings and the bones of our fathers would be brought out of their graves;^e ²⁵ and behold, they have been cast out to the heat of day and the frost of night. They perished in great misery, by famine and sword and pestilence. ²⁶ And the house which is called by thy name thou hast made as it is today, because of the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah.

27 "Yet thou hast dealt with us, O Lord our God, in all thy kindness and in all thy great compassion, ²⁸ as thou didst speak by thy servant Moses on the day when thou didst command him to write thy law in the presence of the people of Israel, saying, ²⁹ "If you will not obey my voice, this very great multitude will surely turn into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. ³⁰ For I know that they will not obey me, for they are a stiff-necked people. But in the land of their exile they will come to themselves, ³¹ and they will know that I am the Lord their God. I will give them a heart that obeys and ears that hear; ³² and they will praise me in the land of their exile, and will remember my name, ³³ and will turn from their stubbornness and their wicked deeds; for they will remember the ways of their fathers, who sinned before the Lord. ³⁴ I will bring them again into the land which I swore to give to their fathers, to Abraham and to Isaac and to Jacob, and they will rule over it; and I will increase them, and they will not be diminished. ³⁵ I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God and they shall be my people; and I will never again remove my people Israel from the land which I have given them."

3 "O Lord Almighty, God of Israel, the soul in anguish and the wearied spirit cry out to thee. ² Hear, O Lord, and have mercy, for we have sinned before thee. ³ For thou art enthroned for ever, and we are perishing for ever. ⁴ O Lord Almighty, God of Israel, hear now the prayer of the dead of Israel and of the sons of those who sinned before thee, who did not heed the voice of the Lord their God, so that calamities have clung to us. ⁵ Remember not the iniquities of our fathers, but in this crisis remember thy power and thy name. ⁶ For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise. ⁷ For thou hast put the fear of thee in our hearts in order that we should call upon thy name; and we will praise thee in our exile, for we have put away from our hearts all the iniquity of our fathers who sinned before thee. ⁸ Behold, we are today in our exile where thou hast scattered us, to be reproached and cursed and punished for all the iniquities of our fathers who forsook the Lord our God.' "

⁹ Hear the commandments of life, O Israel; give ear, and learn wisdom!

¹⁰ Why is it, O Israel, why is it that you are in the land of your enemies, that you are growing old in a foreign country, that you are defiled with the dead,

¹¹ that you are counted among those in Hades?

¹² You have forsaken the fountain of wisdom.

¹³ If you had walked in the way of God, you would be dwelling in peace for ever.

¹⁴ Learn where there is wisdom, where there is strength, where there is understanding, that you may at the same time discern where there is length of days, and life, where there is light for the eyes, and peace.

¹⁵ Who has found her place?
And who has entered her store-houses?

¹⁶ Where are the princes of the nations, and those who rule over the beasts on the earth;

¹⁷ those who have sport with the birds of the air, and who hoard up silver and gold, in which men trust, and there is no end to their getting;

¹⁸ those who scheme to get silver, and are anxious, whose labors are beyond measure?

¹⁹ They have vanished and gone down to Hades, and others have arisen in their place.

²⁰ Young men have seen the light of day, and have dwelt upon the earth; but they have not learned the way to knowledge, nor understood her paths, nor laid hold of her.

²¹ Their sons have strayed far from her way.

²² She has not been heard of in Canaan, nor seen in Teman;

²³ the sons of Hagar, who seek for understanding on the earth, the merchants of Merran and Teman, the story-tellers and the seekers for understanding, have not learned the way to wisdom, nor given thought to her paths.

²⁴ O Israel, how great is the house of God!
And how vast the territory that he possesses!

²⁵ It is great and has no bounds; it is high and immeasurable.

²⁶ The giants were born there, who were famous of old, great in stature, expert in war.

²⁷ God did not choose them, nor give them the way to knowledge;

²⁸ so they perished because they had no wisdom, they perished through their folly.

²⁹ Who has gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?

³⁰ Who has gone over the sea, and found her, and will buy her for pure gold?

³¹ No one knows the way to her, or is concerned about the path to her.

³² But he who knows all things knows her, he found her by his understanding. He who prepared the earth for all time filled it with four-footed creatures; ³³ he who sends forth the light, and it goes, called it, and it obeyed him in fear;

- 34 the stars shone in their watches, and were glad;
 he called them, and they said,
 "Here we are!"
 They shone with gladness for him who made them.
- 35 This is our God;
 no other can be compared to him!
- 36 He found the whole way to knowledge,
 and gave her to Jacob his servant
 and to Israel whom he loved.
- 37 Afterward she appeared upon earth and lived among men.
- 4 She is the book of the commandments of God,
 and the law that endures for ever.
 All who hold her fast will live,
 and those who forsake her will die.
- 2 Turn, O Jacob, and take her; walk toward the shining of her
 light.
- 3 Do not give your glory to another, or your advantages to an alien people.
- 4 Happy are we, O Israel, for we know what is pleasing to
 God.
- 5 Take courage, my people,
 O memorial of Israel!
- 6 It was not for destruction that you were sold to the nations, but you were handed over to your enemies
 because you angered God.
- 7 For you provoked him who made
 you,
 by sacrificing to demons and not to
 God.
- 8 You forgot the everlasting God, who brought you up,
 and you grieved Jerusalem, who reared you.
- 9 For she saw the wrath that came upon you from God,
 and she said:
 "Hearken, you neighbors of Zion, God has brought great sorrow upon
 me;
- 10 for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting brought up-
 on them.
- 11 With joy I nurtured them, but I sent them away with weeping and sorrow.
- 12 Let no one rejoice over me, a widow and bereaved of many;
 I was left desolate because of the sins of my children,
 because they turned away from the law of God.
- 13 They had no regard for his statutes;
 they did not walk in the ways of God's commandments, nor tread the paths of discipline in his righteousness.
- 14 Let the neighbors of Zion come; remember the capture of my sons and daughters,
 which the Everlasting brought up-
 on them.
- 15 For he brought against them a nation
 from afar,
 a shameless nation, of a strange language,
 who had no respect for an old man,
 and had no pity for a child.
- 16 They led away the widow's beloved
 sons,
 and bereaved the lonely woman of her daughters.
- 17 "But I, how can I help you?"
- 18 For he who brought these calamities
 upon you
 will deliver you from the hand of your enemies.
- 19 Go, my children, go;
 for I have been left desolate.
- 20 I have taken off the robe of peace and put on the sackcloth of my supplication;
 I will cry to the Everlasting all my
 days.
- 21 "Take courage, my children, cry to God,
 and he will deliver you from the power and hand of the enemy.
- 22 For I have put my hope in the Everlasting to save you,
 and joy has come to me from the Holy One,
 because of the mercy which soon will come to you from your everlasting Savior.^g
- 23 For I sent you out with sorrow and weeping,
 but God will give you back to me

^g Or from the Everlasting, your Savior

- with joy and gladness for ever.
- 24 For as the neighbors of Zion have now seen your capture,
so they soon will see your salvation by God, which will come to you with great glory and with the splendor of the Everlasting.
- 25 My children, endure with patience the wrath that has come upon you from God.
Your enemy has overtaken you, but you will soon see their destruction and will tread upon their necks.
- 26 My tender sons have traveled rough roads;
they were taken away like a flock carried off by the enemy.
- 27 "Take courage, my children, and cry to God, for you will be remembered by him who brought this upon you.
- 28 For just as you purposed to go astray from God, return with tenfold zeal to seek him.
- 29 For he who brought these calamities upon you will bring you everlasting joy with your salvation."
- 30 Take courage, O Jerusalem, for he who named you will comfort you.
- 31 Wretched will be those who afflicted you and rejoiced at your fall.
- 32 Wretched will be the cities which your children served as slaves;
wretched will be the city which received your sons.
- 33 For just as she rejoiced at your fall and was glad for your ruin, so she will be grieved at her own desolation.
- 34 And I will take away her pride in her great population, and her insolence will be turned to grief.
- 35 For fire will come upon her from the Everlasting for many days, and for a long time she will be inhabited by demons.
- 36 Look toward the east, O Jerusalem, and see the joy that is coming to you from God!
- 37 Behold, your sons are coming, whom you sent away;
they are coming, gathered from east and west,
at the word of the Holy One,
rejoicing in the glory of God.
- 5 Take off the garment of your sorrow and affliction, O Jerusalem, and put on for ever the beauty of the glory from God.
- 2 Put on the robe of the righteousness from God;
put on your head the diadem of the glory of the Everlasting.
- 3 For God will show your splendor everywhere under heaven.
- 4 For your name will for ever be called by God,
"Peace of righteousness and glory of godliness."
- 5 Arise, O Jerusalem, stand upon the height and look toward the east, and see your children gathered from west and east,
at the word of the Holy One,
rejoicing that God has remembered them.
- 6 For they went forth from you on foot, led away by their enemies;
but God will bring them back to you, carried in glory, as on a royal throne.
- 7 For God has ordered that every high mountain and the everlasting hills be made low and the valleys filled up, to make level ground, so that Israel may walk safely in the glory of God.
- 8 The woods and every fragrant tree have shaded Israel at God's command.
- 9 For God will lead Israel with joy,
in the light of his glory,
with the mercy and righteousness that come from him.

THE LETTER OF JEREMIAH

(BARUCH CH. 6)

6^h A copy of a letter which Jeremiah sent to those who were to be taken to Babylon as captives by the king of the Babylonians, to give them the message which God had commanded him.

2 Because of the sins which you have committed before God, you will be taken to Babylon as captives by Nebuchadnezzar, king of the Babylonians. 3 Therefore when you have come to Babylon you will remain there for many years, for a long time, up to seven generations; after that I will bring you away from there in peace. 4 Now in Babylon you will see gods made of silver and gold and wood, which are carried on men's shoulders and inspire fear in the heathen. 5 So take care not to become at all like the foreigners or to let fear for these godsⁱ possess you, when you see the multitude before and behind them worshipping them. 6 But say in your heart, "It is thou, O Lord, whom we must worship." 7 For my angel is with you, and he is watching your lives.

8 Their tongues are smoothed by the craftsman, and they themselves are overlaid with gold and silver; but they are false and cannot speak. 9 People^j take gold and make crowns for the heads of their gods, as they would for a girl who loves ornaments; 10 and sometimes the priests secretly take gold and silver from their gods and spend it upon themselves, 11 and even give some of it to the harlots in the brothel. They deck their gods^k out with garments like men—these gods of silver and gold and wood, 12 which cannot save themselves from rust and corrosion. When they have been dressed in purple robes, 13 their faces are wiped because of the dust from the temple, which is thick upon them. 14 Like a local ruler the god^l holds a sceptre, though unable to destroy any one who offends it. 15 It has a dagger in its right hand, and has an axe; but it cannot save itself from war and robbers. 16 Therefore they evidently are not gods; so do not fear them.

17 For just as one's dish is useless when it is broken, so are the gods of the heathen,^m when they have been set up in the temples. Their eyes are full of the dust raised by the feet of those who enter. 18 And just as the gates are shut on every side upon a man who has offended a king, as though he were sentenced to death, so the priests make their temples secure with doors and locks and bars, in order that they may not be plundered by robbers. 19 They light lamps, even more than they light for themselves, though their godsⁿ can see none of them. 20 They are^o just like a beam of the temple, but men say their hearts have melted, when worms from the earth devour them and their robes. They do not notice 21 when their faces have been blackened by the smoke of the temple. 22 Bats, swallows, and birds light on their bodies and heads; and so do cats. 23 From this you will know that they are not gods; so do not fear them.

24 As for the gold which they wear for beauty—they will not shine unless some one wipes off the rust; for even when they were being cast, they had no feeling. 25 They are bought at any cost, but there is no breath in them. 26 Having no feet, they are carried on men's shoulders, revealing to mankind their worthlessness. 27 And those who serve them are ashamed because through them these godsⁿ are made to stand, lest they fall to the ground. If any one sets one of them upright, it cannot move of itself; and if it is tipped over, it cannot straighten itself; but gifts are placed before them just as before the dead. 28 The priests sell the sacrifices that are offered to these gods^p and use the money; and likewise their wives preserve some with salt, but give none to the poor or helpless. 29 Sacrifices to them may be touched by women in menstruation or at childbirth. Since you know by these things that they are not gods, do not fear them.

^hThe King James Version, according with Catholic practice, prints the Letter of Jeremiah as Chapter 6 of the Book of Baruch, and the chapter and verse numbers are here retained. In the Greek Septuagint, the Letter is separated from Baruch by the Book of Lamentations. ⁱ Gk for them ^j Gk They ^k Gk them ^l Gk he ^m Gk of them ⁿ Gk they ^o Gk It is ^p Gk to them

30 For why should they be called gods? Women serve meals for gods of silver and gold and wood; ³¹ and in their temples the priests sit with their clothes rent, their heads and beards shaved, and their heads uncovered. ³² They howl and shout before their gods as some do at a funeral feast for a man who has died. ³³ The priests take some of the clothing of their gods⁹ to clothe their wives and children. ³⁴ Whether one does evil to them or good, they will not be able to repay it. They cannot set up a king or depose one. ³⁵ Likewise they are not able to give either wealth or money; if one makes a vow to them and does not keep it, they will not require it. ³⁶ They cannot save a man from death or rescue the weak from the strong. ³⁷ They cannot restore sight to a blind man; they cannot rescue a man who is in distress. ³⁸ They cannot take pity on a widow or do good to an orphan. ³⁹ These things that are made of wood and overlaid with gold and silver are like stones from the mountain, and those who serve them will be put to shame. ⁴⁰ Why then must any one think that they are gods, or call them gods?

Besides, even the Chalde'ans themselves dishonor them; ⁴¹ for when they see a dumb man, who cannot speak, they bring him and pray Bel¹ that the man may speak, as though Bel² were able to understand. ⁴² Yet they themselves cannot perceive this and abandon them, for they have no sense. ⁴³ And the women, with cords about them, sit along the passageways, burning bran for incense; and when one of them is led off by one of the passers-by and is lain with, she derides the woman next to her, because she was not as attractive as herself and her cord was not broken. ⁴⁴ Whatever is done for them is false. Why then must any one think that they are gods, or call them gods?

⁴⁵ They are made by carpenters and goldsmiths; they can be nothing but what the craftsmen wish them to be. ⁴⁶ The men that make them will certainly not live very long themselves; how then can the things that are made by them be gods? ⁴⁷ They have left only lies and reproach for those who come after. ⁴⁸ For when war or calamity comes upon them, the priests consult together as to where they can hide themselves and their gods.¹ ⁴⁹ How then can one fail to see that these are not gods, for they cannot save themselves from war or calamity? ⁵⁰ Since they are made of wood and overlaid with gold and silver, it will afterward be known that they are false. ⁵¹ It will be manifest to all the nations and kings that they are not gods but the work of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. ⁵² Who then can fail to know that they are not gods?²⁴

⁵³ For they cannot set up a king over a country or give rain to men. ⁵⁴ They cannot judge their own cause or deliver one who is wronged, for they have no power; they are like crows between heaven and earth. ⁵⁵ When fire breaks out in a temple of wooden gods overlaid with gold or silver, their priests will flee and escape, but the gods⁵ will be burnt in two like beams. ⁵⁶ Besides, they can offer no resistance to a king or any enemies. Why then must any one admit or think that they are gods?

⁵⁷ Gods made of wood and overlaid with silver and gold are not able to save themselves from thieves and robbers. ⁵⁸ Strong men will strip them of their gold and silver and of the robes they wear, and go off with this booty, and they will not be able to help themselves. ⁵⁹ So it is better to be a king who shows his courage, or a household utensil that serves its owner's need, than to be these false gods; better even the door of a house that protects its contents, than these false gods; better also a wooden pillar in a palace, than these false gods.

⁶⁰ For sun and moon and stars, shining and sent forth for service, are obedient. ⁶¹ So also the lightning, when it flashes, is widely seen; and the wind likewise blows in every land. ⁶² When God commands the clouds to go over the whole world, they carry out his command. ⁶³ And the fire sent from above to consume mountains and woods does what it is ordered. But these idols⁶ are not to be compared with them in appearance or power. ⁶⁴ Therefore one must not think that they are gods nor call them gods, for they are not able either to decide a case or to do good to men. ⁶⁵ Since you know then that they are not gods, do not fear them.

⁹ Gk them ¹ Or they bring Bel and pray ⁵ Gk he ¹ Gk them

²⁴ The Greek text of this verse is uncertain ⁵ Gk they ⁶ Gk these things

⁶⁶ For they can neither curse nor bless kings; ⁶⁷ they cannot show signs in the heavens and^x among the nations, or shine like the sun or give light like the moon. ⁶⁸ The wild beasts are better than they are, for they can flee to cover and help themselves. ⁶⁹ So we have no evidence whatever that they are gods; therefore do not fear them.

⁷⁰ Like a scarecrow in a cucumber bed, that guards nothing, so are their gods of wood, overlaid with gold and silver. ⁷¹ In the same way, their gods of wood, overlaid with gold and silver, are like a thorn bush in a garden, on which every bird sits; or like a dead body cast out in the darkness. ⁷² By the purple and linen^y that rot upon them you will know that they are not gods; and they will finally themselves be consumed, and be a reproach in the land. ⁷³ Better therefore is a just man who has no idols, for he will be far from reproach.

THE PRAYER OF AZARIAH AND THE SONG OF THE THREE YOUNG MEN

Additions to Daniel, inserted between 3.23 and 3.24

And they walked about in the midst of the flames, singing hymns to God and blessing the Lord. ² Then Azari'ah stood and offered this prayer; in the midst of the fire he opened his mouth and said:

³ "Blessed art thou, O Lord, God of our fathers, and worthy of praise; and thy name is glorified for ever.
⁴ For thou art just in all that thou hast done to us, and all thy works are true and thy ways right, and all thy judgments are truth.
⁵ Thou hast executed true judgments in all that thou hast brought upon us and upon Jerusalem, the holy city of our fathers, for in truth and justice thou hast brought all this upon us because of our sins.
⁶ For we have sinfully and lawlessly departed from thee, and have sinned in all things and have not obeyed thy commandments;

⁷ we have not observed them or done them, as thou hast commanded us that it might go well with us.
⁸ So all that thou hast brought upon us, and all that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgment.
⁹ Thou hast given us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful rebels, and to an unjust king, the most wicked in all the world.
¹⁰ And now we cannot open our mouths; shame and disgrace have befallen thy servants and worshipers.
¹¹ For thy name's sake do not give us up utterly, and do not break thy covenant, and do not withdraw thy mercy from us, for the sake of Abraham thy beloved and for the sake of Isaac thy servant and Israel thy holy one,
¹³ to whom thou didst promise to make their descendants as many as the stars of heaven

- and as the sand on the shore of the sea.
- 14 For we, O Lord, have become fewer than any nation, and are brought low this day in all the world because of our sins.
- 15 And at this time there is no prince, or prophet, or leader, no burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, no place to make an offering before thee or to find mercy.
- 16 Yet with a contrite heart and a humble spirit may we be accepted, as though it were with burnt offerings of rams and bulls, and with tens of thousands of fat lambs;
- 17 such may our sacrifice be in thy sight this day,
and may we wholly follow thee,
for there will be no shame for those who trust in thee.
- 18 And now with all our heart we follow thee,
we fear thee and seek thy face.
- 19 Do not put us to shame, but deal with us in thy forbearance and in thy abundant mercy.
- 20 Deliver us in accordance with thy marvelous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord!
- Let all who do harm to thy servants be put to shame;
- 21 let them be disgraced and deprived of all power and dominion, and let their strength be broken.
- 22 Let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, glorious over the whole world.”
- 23 Now the king’s servants who threw them in did not cease feeding the furnace fires with naphtha, pitch, tow, and brush. ²⁴And the flame streamed out above the furnace forty-nine cubits, ²⁵and it broke through and burned those of the Chalde’ans whom it caught about the furnace. ²⁶But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace to be with Azari’ah and his companions, and drove the fiery flame out of the furnace, ²⁷and made the midst of the furnace like a moist whistling wind, so that the fire did not touch them at all or hurt or trouble them.
- 28 Then the three, as with one mouth, praised and glorified and blessed God in the furnace, saying:
- 29 “Blessed art thou, O Lord, God of our fathers,
and to be praised and highly exalted for ever;
- 30 And blessed is thy glorious, holy name and to be highly praised and highly exalted for ever;
- 31 Blessed art thou in the temple of thy holy glory and to be extolled and highly glorified for ever.
- 32 Blessed art thou, who sittest upon cherubim and lookest upon the deeps,
and to be praised and highly exalted for ever.
- 33 Blessed art thou upon the throne of thy kingdom and to be extolled and highly exalted for ever.
- 34 Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven and to be sung and glorified for ever.
- 35 “Bless the Lord, all works of the Lord,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 36 Bless the Lord, you heavens,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 37 Bless the Lord, you angels of the Lord,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 38 Bless the Lord, all waters above the heaven,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 39 Bless the Lord, all powers,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 40 Bless the Lord, sun and moon,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 41 Bless the Lord, stars of heaven,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 42 Bless the Lord, all rain and dew,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 43 Bless the Lord, all winds,
sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.

THE THREE YOUNG MEN 118

- 44 Bless the Lord, fire and heat,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 45 Bless the Lord, winter cold and summer heat,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 46 Bless the Lord, dews and snows,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 47 Bless the Lord, nights and days,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 48 Bless the Lord, light and darkness,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 49 Bless the Lord, ice and cold,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 50 Bless the Lord, frosts and snows,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 51 Bless the Lord, lightnings and clouds,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 52 Let the earth bless the Lord;
let it sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.
- 53 Bless the Lord, mountains and hills,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 54 Bless the Lord, all things that grow on the earth,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 55 Bless the Lord, you springs,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 56 Bless the Lord, seas and rivers,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 57 Bless the Lord, you whales and all creatures that move in the waters,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 58 Bless the Lord, all birds of the air,

“His mercy endures for ever”

- sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 59 Bless the Lord, all beasts and cattle,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 60 Bless the Lord, you sons of men,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 61 Bless the Lord, O Israel,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 62 Bless the Lord, you priests of the Lord,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 63 Bless the Lord, you servants of the Lord,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 64 Bless the Lord, spirits and souls of
the righteous,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 65 Bless the Lord, you who are holy and humble in heart,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever.
- 66 Bless the Lord, Hanani’ah, Azari’ah, and Mish’a-el,
sing praise to him and highly exalt
him for ever;
for he has rescued us from Hades and saved us from the hand of
death,
and delivered us from the midst of the burning fiery furnace;
from the midst of the fire he has delivered us.
- 67 Give thanks to the Lord, for he is
good,
for his mercy endures for ever.
- 68 Bless him, all who worship the Lord,
the God of gods,
sing praise to him and give thanks to him,
for his mercy endures for ever.”

SUSANNA

(DANIEL CH. 13)

¹There was a man living in Babylon whose name was Jo'akim. ²And he took a wife named Susanna, the daughter of Hilki'ah, a very beautiful woman and one who feared the Lord. ³Her parents were righteous, and had taught their daughter according to the law of Moses. ⁴Jo'akim was very rich, and had a spacious garden adjoining his house; and the Jews used to come to him because he was the most honored of them all.

5 In that year two elders from the people were appointed as judges. Concerning them the Lord had said: "Iniquity came forth from Babylon, from elders who were judges, who were supposed to govern the people." ⁶These men were frequently at Jo'akim's house, and all who had suits at law came to them.

7 When the people departed at noon, Susanna would go into her husband's garden to walk. ⁸The two elders used to see her every day, going in and walking about, and they began to desire her. ⁹And they perverted their minds and turned away their eyes from looking to Heaven or remembering righteous judgments. ¹⁰Both were overwhelmed with passion for her, but they did not tell each other of their distress, ¹¹for they were ashamed to disclose their lustful desire to possess her. ¹²And they watched eagerly, day after day, to see her.

13 They said to each other, "Let us go home, for it is mealtime." ¹⁴And when they went out, they parted from each other. But turning back, they met again; and when each pressed the other for the reason, they confessed their lust. And then together they arranged for a time when they could find her alone.

15 Once, while they were watching for an opportune day, she went in as before with only two maids, and wished to bathe in the garden, for it was very hot. ¹⁶And no one was there except the two elders, who had hid themselves and were watching her. ¹⁷She said to her maids, "Bring me oil and ointments, and shut the garden doors so that I may bathe." ¹⁸They did as she said, shut the garden doors, and went out by the side doors to bring what they had been commanded; and they did not see the elders, because they were hidden.

19 When the maids had gone out, the two elders rose and ran to her, and said: ²⁰"Look, the garden doors are shut, no one sees us, and we are in love with you; so give your consent, and lie with us. ²¹If you refuse, we will testify against you that a young man was with you, and this was why you sent your maids away."

22 Susanna sighed deeply, and said, "I am hemmed in on every side. For if I do this thing, it is death for me; and if I do not, I shall not escape your hands. ²³I choose not to do it and to fall into your hands, rather than to sin in the sight of the Lord."

24 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and the two elders shouted against her. ²⁵And one of them ran and opened the garden doors. ²⁶When the household servants heard the shouting in the garden, they rushed in at the side door to see what had happened to her. ²⁷And when the elders told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed, for nothing like this had ever been said about Susanna.

28 The next day, when the people gathered at the house of her husband Jo'akim, the two elders came, full of their wicked plot to have Susanna put to death. ²⁹They said before the people, "Send for Susanna, the daughter of Hilki'ah, who is the wife of Jo'akim." ³⁰So they sent for her. And she came, with her parents, her children, and all her kindred.

31 Now Susanna was a woman of great refinement, and beautiful in appearance. ³²As she was veiled, the wicked men ordered her to be unveiled, that they might feast upon her beauty. ³³But her family and friends and all who saw her wept.

34 Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands

^xIn the Greek Septuagint and in the Latin Vulgate, and in Catholic usage, Susanna is reckoned as Chapter 13 of Daniel.

upon her head. ³⁵And she, weeping, looked up toward heaven, for her heart trusted in the Lord. ³⁶The elders said, "As we were walking in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, shut the garden doors, and dismissed the maids. ³⁷Then a young man, who had been hidden, came to her and lay with her. ³⁸We were in a corner of the garden, and when we saw this wickedness we ran to them. ³⁹We saw them embracing, but we could not hold the man, for he was too strong for us, and he opened the doors and dashed out. ⁴⁰So we seized this woman and asked her who the young man was, but she would not tell us. These things we testify."

41 The assembly believed them, because they were elders of the people and judges; and they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, "O eternal God, who dost discern what is secret, who art aware of all things before they come to be, ⁴³thou knowest that these men have borne false witness against me. And now I am to die! Yet I have done none of the things that they have wickedly invented against me!"

44 The Lord heard her cry. ⁴⁵And as she was being led away to be put to death, God aroused the holy spirit of a young lad named Daniel; ⁴⁶and he cried with a loud voice, "I am innocent of the blood of this woman."

47 All the people turned to him, and said, "What is this that you have said?" ⁴⁸Taking his stand in the midst of them, he said, "Are you such fools, you sons of Israel? Have you condemned a daughter of Israel without examination and without learning the facts? ⁴⁹Return to the place of judgment. For these men have borne false witness against her."

50 Then all the people returned in haste. And the elders said to him, "Come, sit among us and inform us, for God has given you that right." ⁵¹And Daniel said to them, "Separate them far from each other, and I will examine them."

52 When they were separated from each other, he summoned one of them and said to him, "You old relic of wicked days, your sins have now come home, which you have committed in the past, ⁵³pronouncing unjust judgments, condemning the innocent and letting the guilty go free, though the Lord said, 'Do not put to death an innocent and righteous person.' ⁵⁴Now then, if you really saw her, tell me this: Under what tree did you see them being intimate with each other?" He answered, "Under a mastic tree."^a ⁵⁵And Daniel said, "Very well! You have lied against your own head, for the angel of God has received the sentence from God and will immediately cut^a you in two."

56 Then he put him aside, and commanded them to bring the other. And he said to him, "You offspring of Canaan and not of Judah, beauty has deceived you and lust has perverted your heart. ⁵⁷This is how you both have been dealing with the daughters of Israel, and they were intimate with you through fear; but a daughter of Judah would not endure your wickedness. ⁵⁸Now then, tell me: Under what tree did you catch them being intimate with each other?" He answered, "Under an evergreen oak."^b ⁵⁹And Daniel said to him, "Very well! You also have lied against your own head, for the angel of God is waiting with his sword to saw^b you in two, that he may destroy you both."

60 Then all the assembly shouted loudly and blessed God, who saves those who hope in him. ⁶¹And they rose against the two elders, for out of their own mouths Daniel had convicted them of bearing false witness; ⁶²and they did to them as they had wickedly planned to do to their neighbor; acting in accordance with the law of Moses, they put them to death. Thus innocent blood was saved that day.

63 And Hilki'ah and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, and so did Jo'akim her husband and all her kindred, because nothing shameful was found in her. ⁶⁴And from that day onward Daniel had a great reputation among the people.

BEL AND THE DRAGON

(DANIEL CH. 14)

¹When King Asty'ages was laid with his fathers, Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom. ²And Daniel was a companion of the king, and was the most honored of his friends.

³Now the Babylonians had an idol called Bel, and every day they spent on it twelve bushels of fine flour and forty sheep and fifty gallons of wine. ⁴The king revered it and went every day to worship it. But Daniel worshiped his own God.

⁵And the king said to him, "Why do you not worship Bel?" He answered, "Because I do not revere man-made idols, but the living God, who created heaven and earth and has dominion over all flesh."

⁶The king said to him, "Do you not think that Bel is a living God? Do you not see how much he eats and drinks every day?" ⁷Then Daniel laughed, and said, "Do not be deceived, O king; for this is but clay inside and brass outside, and it never ate or drank anything."

⁸Then the king was angry, and he called his priests and said to them, "If you do not tell me who is eating these provisions, you shall die. ⁹But if you prove that Bel is eating them, Daniel shall die, because he blasphemed against Bel." And Daniel said to the king, "Let it be done as you have said."

¹⁰Now there were seventy priests of Bel, besides their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel. ¹¹And the priests of Bel said, "Behold, we are going outside; you yourself, O king, shall set forth the food and mix and place the wine, and shut the door and seal it with your signet. ¹²And when you return in the morning, if you do not find that Bel has eaten it all, we will die; or else Daniel will, who is telling lies about us."

¹³They were unconcerned, for beneath the table they had made a hidden entrance, through which they used to go in regularly and consume the provisions.

¹⁴When they had gone out, the king set forth the food for Bel. Then Daniel ordered his servants to bring ashes and they sifted them throughout the whole temple in the presence of the king alone. Then they went out, shut the door and sealed it with the king's signet, and departed. ¹⁵In the night the priests came with their wives and children, as they were accustomed to do, and ate and drank everything.

¹⁶Early in the morning the king rose and came, and Daniel with him. ¹⁷And the king said, "Are the seals unbroken, Daniel?" He answered, "They are unbroken, O king." ¹⁸As soon as the doors were opened, the king looked at the table, and shouted in a loud voice, "You are great, O Bel; and with you there is no deceit, none at all."

¹⁹Then Daniel laughed, and restrained the king from going in, and said, "Look at the floor, and notice whose footsteps these are." ²⁰The king said, "I see the footsteps of men and women and children."

²¹Then the king was enraged, and he seized the priests and their wives and children; and they showed him the secret doors through which they were accustomed to enter and devour what was on the table. ²²Therefore the king put them to death, and gave Bel over to Daniel, who destroyed it and its temple.

²³There was also a great dragon, which the Babylonians revered. ²⁴And the king said to Daniel, "You cannot deny that this is a living god; so worship him." ²⁵Daniel said, "I will worship the Lord my God, for he is the living God. ²⁶But if you, O king, will give me permission, I will slay the dragon without sword or club." The king said, "I give you permission."

²⁷Then Daniel took pitch, fat, and hair, and boiled them together and made cakes, which he fed to the dragon. The dragon ate them, and burst open. And Daniel said, "See what you have been worshipping!"

²⁸When the Babylonians heard it, they were very indignant and conspired against the king, saying, "The king has become a Jew; he has destroyed Bel, ^vIn the Greek manuscripts Bel and the Dragon stands at the end of Daniel Chapter 12, as an Appendix. In the Latin Vulgate and in all Catholic Bibles, it is Chapter 14 of the Book of Daniel.

and slain the dragon, and slaughtered the priests." ²⁹ Going to the king, they said, "Hand Daniel over to us, or else we will kill you and your household."

³⁰ The king saw that they were pressing him hard, and under compulsion he handed Daniel over to them.

³¹ They threw Daniel into the lions' den, and he was there for six days.

³² There were seven lions in the den, and every day they had been given two human bodies and two sheep; but these were not given to them now, so that they might devour Daniel.

³³ Now the prophet Habak'kuk was in Judea. He had boiled pottage and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field to take it to the reapers.

³⁴ But the angel of the Lord said to Habak'kuk, "Take the dinner which you have to Babylon, to Daniel, in the lions' den." ³⁵ Habak'kuk said, "Sir, I have never seen Babylon, and I know nothing about the den." ³⁶ Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown of his head, and lifted him by his hair and set him down in Babylon, right over the den, with the rushing sound of the wind itself.

³⁷ Then Habak'kuk shouted, "Daniel! Daniel! Take the dinner which God has sent you." ³⁸ And Daniel said, "Thou hast remembered me, O God, and hast not forsaken those who love thee."

³⁹ So Daniel arose and ate. And the angel of God immediately returned Habak'kuk to his own place.

⁴⁰ On the seventh day the king came to mourn for Daniel. When he came to the den he looked in, and there sat Daniel. ⁴¹ And the king shouted with a loud voice, "Thou art great, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is no other besides thee." ⁴² And he pulled Daniel^a out, and threw into the den the men who had attempted his destruction, and they were devoured immediately before his eyes.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

1 After Alexander son of Philip, the Macedonian, who came from the land of Kittim, had defeated^a Darius, king of the Persians and the Medes, he succeeded him as king. (He had previously become king of Greece.) ² He fought many battles, conquered strongholds, and put to death the kings of the earth. ³ He advanced to the ends of the earth, and plundered many nations. When the earth became quiet before him, he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up. ⁴ He gathered a very strong army and ruled over countries, nations, and princes, and they became tributary to him.

⁵ After this he fell sick and perceived that he was dying. ⁶ So he summoned his most honored officers, who had been brought up with him from youth, and divided his kingdom among them while he was still alive. ⁷ And after Alexander had reigned twelve years, he died.

⁸ Then his officers began to rule, each in his own place. ⁹ They all put on crowns after his death, and so did their sons after them for many years; and they caused many evils on the earth.

¹⁰ From them came forth a sinful root, Anti'ochus Epiph'anes, son of Anti'ochus the king; he had been a hostage in Rome. He began to reign in the one hundred and thirty-seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.^b

¹¹ In those days lawless men came forth from Israel, and misled many, saying, "Let us go and make a covenant with the Gentiles round about us, for since we separated from them many evils have come upon us." ¹² This proposal pleased them, ¹³ and some of the people eagerly went to the king. He authorized them to observe the ordinances of the Gentiles. ¹⁴ So they built a gymnasium in Jerusalem, according to Gentile custom, ¹⁵ and removed the marks of circumcision, and abandoned the holy covenant. They joined with the Gentiles and sold themselves to do evil.

¹⁶ When Anti'ochus saw that his kingdom was established, he determined

^a Greek adds and he defeated ^b 175 B.C. ^{a'} Gik him to become king of the land of Egypt, that he might reign over both kingdoms. ¹⁷ So he invaded Egypt with a strong force, with chariots and elephants and cavalry and with a large fleet. ¹⁸ He engaged Ptol'emy king of Egypt in battle and Ptol'emy turned and fled before him, and many were wounded and fell. ¹⁹ And they captured the fortified cities in the land of Egypt, and he plundered the land of Egypt.

²⁰ After subduing Egypt, Anti'ochus returned in the one hundred and forty-third year.^c He went up against Israel and came to Jerusalem with a strong force. ²¹ He arrogantly entered the sanctuary and took the golden altar, the lampstand for the light, and all its utensils. ²² He took also the table for the bread of the Presence, the cups for drink offerings, the bowls, the golden censers, the curtain, the crowns, and the gold decoration on the front of the temple; he stripped it all off. ²³ He took the silver and the gold, and the costly vessels; he took also the hidden treasures which he found. ²⁴ Taking them all, he departed to his own land.

He committed deeds of murder, and spoke with great arrogance.

²⁵ Israel mourned deeply in every community,

²⁶ rulers and elders groaned, maidens and young men became faint,
the beauty of the women faded.

²⁷ Every bridegroom took up the lament;
she who sat in the bridal chamber was mourning.

²⁸ Even the land shook for its inhabitants, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame.

²⁹ Two years later the king sent to the cities of Judah a chief collector of tribute, and he came to Jerusalem with a large force. ³⁰ Deceitfully he spoke peaceable words to them, and they believed him; but he suddenly fell upon the city, dealt it a severe blow, and destroyed many people of Israel. ³¹ He plundered the city, burned it with fire, and tore down its houses and its surrounding walls. ³² And they took captive the women and children, and seized the cattle. ³³ Then they fortified the city of David with a great strong wall and strong towers, and it became their citadel. ³⁴ And they stationed there a sinful people, lawless men. These strengthened their position; ³⁵ they stored up arms and food, and collecting the spoils of Jerusalem they stored them there, and became a great snare.

³⁶ It became an ambush against the sanctuary, an evil adversary of Israel continually.

³⁷ On every side of the sanctuary they shed innocent blood;
they even defiled the sanctuary.

³⁸ Because of them the residents of Jerusalem fled;
she became a dwelling of strangers;
she became strange to her offspring,
and her children forsook her.

³⁹ Her sanctuary became desolate as a desert;
her feasts were turned into mourning,
her sabbaths into a reproach,
her honor into contempt.

⁴⁰ Her dishonor now grew as great as her glory;
her exaltation was turned into mourning.

⁴¹ Then the king wrote to his whole kingdom that all should be one people, ⁴² and that each should give up his customs. ⁴³ All the Gentiles accepted the command of the king. Many even from Israel gladly adopted his religion; they sacrificed to idols and profaned the sabbath. ⁴⁴ And the king sent letters by messengers to Jerusalem and the cities of Judah; he directed them to follow customs strange to the land, ⁴⁵ to forbid burnt offerings and sacrifices and drink offerings in the sanctuary, to profane sabbaths and feasts, ⁴⁶ to defile the sanctuary and the priests, ⁴⁷ to build altars and sacred precincts and shrines for idols, to sacrifice swine and unclean animals, ⁴⁸ and to leave their sons uncircumcised. They were to make themselves abominable by everything unclean and profane, ⁴⁹ so that they should forget the law and change all the ordinances. ⁵⁰ "And whoever does not obey the command of the king shall die."

⁵¹ In such words he wrote to his whole kingdom. And he appointed inspectors over all the people and commanded the cities of Judah to offer sacrifice, city by city. ⁵² Many of the people, every one who forsook the law, joined them, and they did evil in the land; ⁵³ they drove Israel into hiding in every place of refuge they had.

⁵⁴ Now on the fifteenth day of Chislew, in the one hundred and forty-fifth year, ^d they erected a desolating sacrilege upon the altar of burnt offering. They also built altars in the surrounding cities of Judah, ⁵⁵ and burned incense at the doors of the houses and in the streets. ⁵⁶ The books of the law which they found they tore to pieces and burned with fire. ⁵⁷ Where the book of the covenant was found in the possession of any one, or if any one adhered to the law, the decree of the king condemned him to death. ⁵⁸ They kept using violence against Israel, against those found month after month in the cities. ⁵⁹ And on the twenty-fifth day of the month they offered sacrifice on the altar which was upon the altar of burnt offering. ⁶⁰ According to the decree, they put to death the women who had their children circumcised, ⁶¹ and their families and those who circumcised them; and they hung the infants from their mothers' necks.

⁶² But many in Israel stood firm and were resolved in their hearts not to eat unclean food. ⁶³ They chose to die rather than to be defiled by food or to profane the holy covenant; and they did die. ⁶⁴ And very great wrath came upon Israel.

2 In those days Mattathias the son of John, son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Jo'arib, moved from Jerusalem and settled in Mo'de-in. ² He had five sons, John surnamed Gaddi, ³ Simon called Thassi, ⁴ Judas called Maccabe'us. ⁵ Elea'zar called Av'aran, and Jonathan called Apphus. ⁶ He saw the blasphemies being committed in Judah and Jerusalem, ⁷ and said,

"Alas! Why was I born to see this,
the ruin of my people, the ruin of the holy city,
and to dwell there when it was given over to the enemy,

the sanctuary given over to aliens?
⁸ Her temple has become like a man without honor;^e
⁹ her glorious vessels have been carried into captivity.

Her babes have been killed in her
streets,
her youths by the sword of the foe.
¹⁰ What nation has not inherited her palaces/
and has not seized her spoils?

¹¹ All her adornment has been taken
away;
no longer free, she has become a slave.

¹² And behold, our holy place, our
beauty,
and our glory have been laid waste;
the Gentiles have profaned it.

¹³ Why should we live any longer?"
¹⁴ And Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, put on sackcloth, and mourned greatly.

¹⁵ Then the king's officers who were enforcing the apostasy came to the city of Mo'de-in to make them offer sacrifice.

¹⁶ Many from Israel came to them; and Mattathias and his sons were assembled. ¹⁷ Then the king's officers spoke to Mattathias as follows: "You are a leader, honored and great in this city, and supported by sons and brothers.

¹⁸ Now be the first to come and do what the king commands, as all the Gentiles and the men of Judah and those that are left in Jerusalem have done. Then you and your sons will be numbered among the friends of the king, and you and your sons will be honored with silver and gold and many gifts."

¹⁹ But Mattathias answered and said in a loud voice: "Even if all the nations that live under the rule of the king obey him, and have chosen to do his commandments, departing each one from the religion of his fathers, ²⁰ yet I and my sons and my brothers will live by the covenant of our fathers. ²¹ Far be it from us to desert the law and the ordinances.
²² We will not obey the king's words by turning aside from our religion to the right hand or to the left."

²³ When he had finished speaking these words, a Jew came forward in the sight of all to offer sacrifice upon the altar in Mo'de-in, according to ^d 167 B.C. ^e The text of this verse is uncertain / Other authorities read has not had a part in her kingdom

the king's command. ²⁴ When Mattathias saw it, he burned with zeal and his heart was stirred. He gave vent to righteous anger; he ran and killed him upon the altar. ²⁵ At the same time he killed the king's officer who was forcing them to sacrifice, and he tore down the altar. ²⁶ Thus he burned with zeal for the law, as Phin'ehas did against Zimri the son of Salu.

²⁹ Then many who were seeking righteousness and justice went down to the wilderness to dwell there, ³⁰ they, their sons, their wives, and their cattle, because evils pressed heavily upon them.

³¹ And it was reported to the king's officers, and to the troops in Jerusalem the city of David, that men who had rejected the king's command had gone down to the hiding places in the wilderness. ³² Many pursued them, and overtook them; they encamped opposite them and prepared for battle against them on the sabbath day. ³³ And they said to them, "Enough of this! Come out and do what the king commands, and you will live." ³⁴ But they said, "We will not come out, nor will we do what the king commands and so profane the sabbath day." ³⁵ Then the enemy^s hastened to attack them. ³⁶ But they did not answer them or hurl a stone at them or block up their hiding places, ³⁷ for they said, "Let us all die in our innocence; heaven and earth testify for us that you are killing us unjustly." ³⁸ So they attacked them on the sabbath, and they died, with their wives and children and cattle, to the number of a thousand persons.

³⁹ When Mattathias and his friends learned of it, they mourned for them deeply. ⁴⁰ And each said to his neighbour: "If we all do as our brethren have done and refuse to fight with the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will quickly destroy us from the earth." ⁴¹ So they made this decision that day: "Let us fight against every man who comes to attack us on the sabbath day; let us not all die as our brethren died in their hiding places."

⁴² Then there united with them a company of Hasidae'ans, mighty warriors of Israel, every one who offered himself willingly for the law. ⁴³ And all who became fugitives to escape their troubles joined them and reinforced them. ⁴⁴ They organized an army, and struck down sinners in their anger and lawless men in their wrath; the survivors fled to the Gentiles for safety. ⁴⁵ And Mattathias and his friends went about and tore down the altars; ⁴⁶ they forcibly circumcised all the uncircumcised boys that they found within the borders of Israel. ⁴⁷ They hunted down the arrogant men, and the work prospered in their hands. ⁴⁸ They rescued the law out of the hands of the Gentiles and kings, and they never let the sinner gain the upper hand.

⁴⁹ Now the days drew near for Mattathias to die, and he said to his sons: "Arrogance and reproach have now become strong, it is a time of ruin and furious anger. ⁵⁰ Now, my children, show zeal for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of our fathers.

⁵¹ "Remember the deeds of the fathers, which they did in their generations; and receive great honor and an everlasting name. ⁵² Was not Abraham found faithful when tested, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness? ⁵³ Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt. ⁵⁴ Phin'ehas our father, because he was deeply zealous, received the covenant of everlasting priesthood. ⁵⁵ Joshua, because he fulfilled the command, became a judge in Israel. ⁵⁶ Caleb, because he testified in the assembly, received an inheritance in the land. ⁵⁷ David, because he was merciful, inherited the throne of the kingdom for ever. ⁵⁸ Eli'jah because of great zeal for the law was taken up into heaven. ⁵⁹ Hanani'ah, Azari'ah and Mish'a-el believed and were saved from the flame. ⁶⁰ Daniel because of his innocence was delivered from the mouth of the lions.

⁶¹ "And so observe, from generation to generation, that none who put their trust in him will lack strength. ⁶² Do not fear the words of a sinner, for his splendor will turn into dung and worms. ⁶³ Today he will be exalted, but tomorrow he will not be found, because he has returned to the dust, and his plans will perish. ⁶⁴ My children, be courageous and grow strong in the law, for by it you will gain honor.

⁶⁵ "Now behold, I know that Simeon your brother is wise in counsel; always listen to him; he shall be your father. ⁶⁶ Judas Maccabe'us has been a mighty warrior from his youth; he shall command the army for you and fight the battle against the peoples.^h ⁶⁷ You shall rally about you all who observe the law, and avenge the wrong done to your people. ⁶⁸ Pay back the Gentiles in full, and heed what the law commands."

⁶⁹ Then he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers. ⁷⁰ He died in the one hundred and forty-sixth yearⁱ and was buried in the tomb of his fathers at Mo'de-in. And all Israel mourned for him with great lamentation.

3 Then Judas his son, who was called Maccabe'us, took command in his place. ² All his brothers and all who had joined his father helped him; they gladly fought for Israel.

³ He extended the glory of his people.

Like a giant he put on his breastplate;

he girded on his armor of war and waged battles, protecting the host by his sword.

⁴ He was like a lion in his deeds, like a lion's cub roaring for prey.

⁵ He searched out and pursued the lawless;
he burned those who troubled his people.

⁶ Lawless men shrank back for fear of him;
all the evildoers were confounded;
and deliverance prospered by his hand.

⁷ He embittered many kings,
but he made Jacob glad by his deeds,
and his memory is blessed for ever.

⁸ He went through the cities of Judah;

he destroyed the ungodly out of the land;^j thus he turned away wrath from Israel.

⁹ He was renowned to the ends of the earth;
he gathered in those who were perishing.

¹⁰ But Apollo'n'ius gathered together Gentiles and a large force from Samaria to fight against Israel. ¹¹ When Judas learned of it, he went out to meet him, and he defeated and killed him. Many were wounded and fell, and the rest fled. ¹² Then they seized their spoils; and Judas took the sword of Apollo'n'ius, and used it in battle the rest of his life.

¹³ Now when Seron, the commander of the Syrian army, heard that Judas had gathered a large company, including a body of faithful men who stayed with him and went out to battle, ¹⁴ he said, "I will make a name for myself and win honor in the kingdom. I will make war on Judas and his companions, who scorn the king's command."

¹⁵ And again a strong army of ungodly men went up with him to help him, to take vengeance on the sons of Israel.

¹⁶ When he approached the ascent of Beth-horon, Judas went out to meet him with a small company. ¹⁷ But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said to Judas, "How can we, few as we are, fight against so great and strong a multitude? And we are faint, for we have eaten nothing today."

¹⁸ Judas replied, "It is easy for many to be hemmed in by few, for in the sight of Heaven there is no difference between saving by many or by few. ¹⁹ It is not on the size of the army that victory in battle depends, but strength comes from Heaven. ²⁰ They come against us in great pride and lawlessness to destroy us and our wives and our children, and to despoil us; ²¹ but we fight for our lives and our laws. ²² He himself will crush them before us; as for you, do not be afraid of them."

²³ When he finished speaking, he rushed suddenly against Seron and his army, and they were crushed before him. ²⁴ They pursued them^k down the descent of Beth-horon to the plain; eight hundred of them fell, and the rest fled into the land of the Philistines. ²⁵ Then Judas and his brothers began to be feared, and terror fell upon the Gentiles round about them. ²⁶ His fame reached the king, and the Gentiles talked of the battles of Judas.

²⁷ When King Anti'ochus heard these reports, he was greatly angered; and he sent and gathered all the forces of his kingdom, a very strong army. ²⁸ And he opened his coffers and gave a year's pay to his forces, and ordered them to be ready for any need. ²⁹ Then he saw that the money in the treasury was exhausted, and that the revenues from the country were small because of the dissension and disaster which he had caused in the land by abolishing the laws that had existed from the earliest days. ³⁰ He feared that he might not have such funds as he had before for his expenses and for the gifts which he used to give more lavishly than preceding kings. ³¹ He was greatly perplexed in mind, and determined to go to Persia and collect the revenues from those regions and raise a large fund.

³² He left Lys'ias, a distinguished man of royal lineage, in charge of the king's affairs from the river Eu-phra'tes to the border of Egypt. ³³ Lys'ias was also to take care of Anti'ochus his son until he returned. ³⁴ And he turned over to Lys'ias' half of his troops and the elephants, and gave him orders about all that he wanted done. As for the residents of Judea and Jerusalem, ³⁵ Lys'ias was to send a force against them to wipe out and destroy the strength of Israel and the remnant of Jerusalem; he was to banish the memory of them from the place, ³⁶ settle aliens in all their territory, and distribute their land. ³⁷ Then the king took the remaining half of his troops and departed from Antioch his capital in the one hundred and forty-seventh year.^m He crossed the Eu-phra'tes river and went through the upper provinces.

³⁸ Lys'ias chose Ptol'emy the son of Dorym'enes, and Nica'nor and Gor-gias, mighty men among the friends of the king, ³⁹ and sent with them forty thousand infantry and seven thousand cavalry to go into the land of Judah and destroy it, as the king had commanded. ⁴⁰ So they departed with their entire force, and when they arrived they encamped near Emma'us in the plain. ⁴¹ When the traders of the region heard what was said of them, they took silver and gold in immense amounts, and fetters,ⁿ and went to the camp to get the sons of Israel for slaves. And forces from Syria and the land of the Philistines joined with them.

⁴² Now Judas and his brothers saw that misfortunes had increased and that the forces were encamped in their territory. They also learned what the king had commanded to do to the people to cause their final destruction. ⁴³ But they said to one another, "Let us repair the destruction of our people, and fight for our people and the sanctuary." ⁴⁴ And the congregation assembled to be ready for battle, and to pray and ask for mercy and compassion.

⁴⁵ Jerusalem was uninhabited like a wilderness; not one of her children went in or out.

The sanctuary was trampled down, and the sons of aliens held the citadel;

it was a lodging place for the Gentiles.

Joy was taken from Jacob; the flute and the harp ceased to play.

⁴⁶ So they assembled and went to Mizpah, opposite Jerusalem, because Israel formerly had a place of prayer in Mizpah. ⁴⁷ They fasted that day, put on sackcloth and sprinkled ashes on their heads, and rent their clothes. ⁴⁸ And they opened the book of the law to inquire into those matters about which the Gentiles were consulting the images of their idols. ⁴⁹ They also brought the garments of the priesthood and the first fruits and the tithes, and they stirred up the Nazirites who had completed their days; ⁵⁰ and they cried aloud to Heaven, saying,

"What shall we do with these?

Where shall we take them?"

⁵¹ Thy sanctuary is trampled down and profaned, and thy priests mourn in humiliation.

⁵² And behold, the Gentiles are assembled against us to destroy us; thou knowest what they plot against us.

53 How will we be able to withstand them,

if thou dost not help us?"

54 Then they sounded the trumpets and gave a loud shout. 55 After this Judas appointed leaders of the people, in charge of thousands and hundreds and fifties and tens. 56 And he said to those who were building houses, or were betrothed, or were planting vineyards, or were faint-hearted, that each should return to his home, according to the law. 57 Then the army marched out and encamped to the south of Emma'us.

58 And Judas said, "Gird yourselves and be valiant. Be ready early in the morning to fight with these Gentiles who have assembled against us to destroy us and our sanctuary. 59 It is better for us to die in battle than to see the misfortunes of our nation and of the sanctuary. 60 But as his will in heaven may be, so he will do."

4 Now Gorgias took five thousand infantry and a thousand picked cavalry, and this division moved out by night ² to fall upon the camp of the Jews and attack them suddenly. Men from the citadel were his guides. ³ But Judas heard of it, and he and his mighty men moved out to attack the king's force in Emma'us ⁴ while the division was still absent from the camp. ⁵ When Gorgias entered the camp of Judas by night, he found no one there, so he looked for them in the hills, because he said, "These men are fleeing from us."

6 At daybreak Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men, but they did not have armor and swords such as they desired. ⁷ And they saw the camp of the Gentiles, strong and fortified, with cavalry round about it; and these men were trained in war. ⁸ But Judas said to the men who were with him, "Do not fear their numbers or be afraid when they charge. ⁹ Remember how our fathers were saved at the Red Sea, when Pharaoh with his forces pursued them. ¹⁰ And now let us cry to Heaven, to see whether he will favor us and remember his covenant with our fathers and crush this army before us today. ¹¹ Then all the Gentiles will know that there is one who redeems and saves Israel."

12 When the foreigners looked up and saw them coming against them, ¹³ they went forth from their camp to battle. Then the men with Judas blew their trumpets ¹⁴ and engaged in battle. The Gentiles were crushed and fled into the plain, ¹⁵ and all those in the rear fell by the sword. They pursued them to Gazar'a, and to the plains of Idume'a, and to Azo'tus and Jam'nia; and three thousand of them fell. ¹⁶ Then Judas and his force turned back from pursuing them, ¹⁷ and he said to the people, "Do not be greedy for plunder, for there is a battle before us; ¹⁸ Gorgias and his force are near us in the hills. But stand now against our enemies and fight them, and afterward seize the plunder boldly."

19 Just as Judas was finishing his speech, a detachment appeared, coming out of the hills. ²⁰ They saw that their army^o had been put to flight, and that the Jews^o were burning the camp, for the smoke that was seen showed what had happened. ²¹ When they perceived this they were greatly frightened, and when they also saw the army of Judas drawn up in the plain for battle, ²² they all fled into the land of the Philistines. ²³ Then Judas returned to plunder the camp, and they seized much gold and silver, and cloth dyed blue and sea purple, and great riches. ²⁴ On their return they sang hymns and praises to Heaven, for he is good, for his mercy endures for ever. ²⁵ Thus Israel had a great deliverance that day.

26 Those of the foreigners who escaped went and reported to Lys'ias all that had happened. ²⁷ When he heard it, he was perplexed and discouraged, for things had not happened to Israel as he had intended, nor had they turned out as the king had commanded him. ²⁸ But the next year he mustered sixty thousand picked infantrymen and five thousand cavalry to subdue them. ²⁹ They came into Idume'a and encamped at Beth-zur, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30 When he saw that the army was strong, he prayed, saying, "Blessed art

^o Gk they

thou, O Savior of Israel, who didst crush the attack of the mighty warrior by the hand of thy servant David, and didst give the camp of the Philistines into the hands of Jonathan, the son of Saul, and of the man who carried his armor. ³¹So do thou hem in this army by the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be ashamed of their troops and their cavalry. ³²Fill them with cowardice; melt the boldness of their strength; let them tremble in their destruction. ³³Strike them down with the sword of those who love thee, and let all who know thy name praise thee with hymns."

³⁴Then both sides attacked, and there fell of the army of Lys'ias five thousand men; they fell in action. ³⁵And when Lys'ias saw the rout of his troops and observed the boldness which inspired those of Judas, and how ready they were either to live or to die nobly, he departed to Antioch and enlisted mercenaries, to invade Judea again with an even larger army.

³⁶Then said Judas and his brothers, "Behold, our enemies are crushed; let us go up to cleanse the sanctuary and dedicate it." ³⁷So all the army assembled and they went up to Mount Zion. ³⁸And they saw the sanctuary desolate, the altar profaned, and the gates burned. In the courts they saw bushes sprung up as in a thicket, or as on one of the mountains. They saw also the chambers of the priests in ruins. ³⁹Then they rent their clothes, and mourned with great lamentation, and sprinkled themselves with ashes. ⁴⁰They fell face down on the ground, and sounded the signal on the trumpets, and cried out to Heaven. ⁴¹Then Judas detailed men to fight against those in the citadel until he had cleansed the sanctuary.

⁴²He chose blameless priests devoted to the law, ⁴³and they cleansed the sanctuary and removed the defiled stones to an unclean place. ⁴⁴They deliberated what to do about the altar of burnt offering, which had been profaned. ⁴⁵And they thought it best to tear it down, lest it bring reproach upon them, for the Gentiles had defiled it. So they tore down the altar, ⁴⁶and stored the stones in a convenient place on the temple hill until there should come a prophet to tell what to do with them. ⁴⁷Then they took unhewn^q stones, as the law directs, and built a new altar like the former one. ⁴⁸They also rebuilt the sanctuary and the interior of the temple, and consecrated the courts. ⁴⁹They made new holy vessels, and brought the lampstand, the altar of incense, and the table into the temple. ⁵⁰Then they burned incense on the altar and lighted the lamps on the lampstand, and these gave light in the temple. ⁵¹They placed the bread on the table and hung up the curtains. Thus they finished all the work they had undertaken.

⁵²Early in the morning on the twenty-fifth day of the ninth month, which is the month of Chislew, in the one hundred and forty-eighth year,^r ⁵³they rose and offered sacrifice, as the law directs, on the new altar of burnt offering which they had built. ⁵⁴At the very season and on the very day that the Gentiles had profaned it, it was dedicated with songs and harps and lutes and cymbals. ⁵⁵All the people fell on their faces and worshiped and blessed Heaven, who had prospered them. ⁵⁶So they celebrated the dedication of the altar for eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness; they offered a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. ⁵⁷They decorated the front of the temple with golden crowns and small shields; they restored the gates and the chambers for the priests, and furnished them with doors. ⁵⁸There was very great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was removed.

⁵⁹Then Judas and his brothers and all the assembly of Israel determined that every year at that season the days of the dedication of the altar should be observed with gladness and joy for eight days, beginning with the twenty-fifth day of the month of Chislew.

⁶⁰At that time they fortified Mount Zion with high walls and strong towers round about, to keep the Gentiles from coming and trampling them down as they had done before. ⁶¹And he stationed a garrison there to hold it. He also^s fortified Beth-zur, so that the people might have a stronghold that faced Idume'a.

5 When the Gentiles round about heard that the altar had been built and the sanctuary dedicated as it was before, they became very angry,² and they determined to destroy the descendants of Jacob who lived among them. So they began to kill and destroy among the people.³ But Judas made war on the sons of Esau in Idume'a, at Akrabatte'ne, because they kept lying in wait for Israel. He dealt them a heavy blow and humbled them and despoiled them.⁴ He also remembered the wickedness of the sons of Bae'an, who were a trap and a snare to the people and ambushed them on the highways.⁵ They were shut up by him in their towers; and he encamped against them, vowed their complete destruction, and burned with fire their towers and all who were in them.⁶ Then he crossed over to attack the Ammonites, where he found a strong band and many people with Timothy as their leader.⁷ He engaged in many battles with them and they were crushed before him; he struck them down.⁸ He also took Jazer and its villages; then he returned to Judea.

9 Now the Gentiles in Gilead gathered together against the Israelites who lived in their territory, and planned to destroy them. But they fled to the stronghold of Dath'ema,¹⁰ and sent to Judas and his brothers a letter which said, "The Gentiles around us have gathered together against us to destroy us.¹¹ They are preparing to come and capture the stronghold to which we have fled, and Timothy is leading their forces.¹² Now then come and rescue us from their hands, for many of us have fallen,¹³ and all our brethren who were in the land of Tob have been killed; the enemy^u have captured their wives and children and goods, and have destroyed about a thousand men there."

14 While the letter was still being read, behold, other messengers, with their garments rent, came from Galilee and made a similar report;¹⁵ they said that against them had gathered together men of Ptolema'is and Tyre and Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles,^v "to annihilate us."¹⁶ When Judas and the people heard these messages, a great assembly was called to determine what they should do for their brethren who were in distress and were being attacked by enemies.^w ¹⁷ Then Judas said to Simon his brother, "Choose your men and go and rescue your brethren in Galilee; I and Jonathan my brother will go to Gilead."¹⁸ But he left Joseph, the son of Zechari'ah, and Azari'ah, a leader of the people, with the rest of the forces, in Judea to guard it;¹⁹ and he gave them this command, "Take charge of this people, but do not engage in battle with the Gentiles until we return."²⁰ Then three thousand men were assigned to Simon to go to Galilee, and eight thousand to Judas for Gilead.

21 So Simon went to Galilee and fought many battles against the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were crushed before him.²² He pursued them to the gate of Ptolema'is, and as many as three thousand of the Gentiles fell, and he despoiled them.²³ Then he took the Jews^x of Galilee and Arbat'ta, with their wives and children, and all they possessed, and led them to Judea with great rejoicing.

24 Judas Maccabe'us and Jonathan his brother crossed the Jordan and went three days' journey into the wilderness.²⁵ They encountered the Nabate'ans, who met them peaceably and told them all that had happened to their brethren in Gilead:²⁶ "Many of them have been shut up in Bozrah and Bosor, in Al'ema and Chaspho, Maked and Car'naim"—all these cities were strong and large—²⁷ "and some have been shut up in the other cities of Gilead; the enemy^y are getting ready to attack the strongholds tomorrow and take and destroy all these men in one day."

28 Then Judas and his army quickly turned back by the wilderness road to Bozrah; and he took the city, and killed every male by the edge of the sword; then he seized all its spoils and burned it with fire.²⁹ He departed from there at night, and they went all the way to the stronghold of Dath'ema.³⁰ At dawn they looked up, and behold, a large company, that could not be counted, carrying ladders and engines of war to capture the stronghold, and attacking the Jews within.^a ³¹ So Judas saw that the battle had begun and that the cry of the city went up to Heaven with trumpets and loud shouts, ³² and he said to the men of his forces, "Fight today for your brethren!" ³³ Then he came up behind them in three companies, who sounded their trumpets and cried aloud in prayer. ³⁴ And when the army of Timothy realized that it was Maccabeus, they fled before him, and he dealt them a heavy blow. As many as eight thousand of them fell that day.

³⁵ Next he turned aside to Al'ema,^b and fought against it and took it; and he killed every male in it, plundered it, and burned it with fire. ³⁶ From there he marched on and took Chaspho, Maked, and Bosor, and the other cities of Gilead.

³⁷ After these things Timothy gathered another army and encamped opposite Raphon, on the other side of the stream. ³⁸ Judas sent men to spy out the camp, and they reported to him, "All the Gentiles around us have gathered to him; it is a very large force. ³⁹ They also have hired Arabs to help them, and they are encamped across the stream, ready to come and fight against you." And Judas went to meet them.

⁴⁰ Now as Judas and his army drew near to the stream of water, Timothy said to the officers of his forces, "If he crosses over to us first, we will not be able to resist him, for he will surely defeat us. ⁴¹ But if he shows fear and camps on the other side of the river, we will cross over to him and defeat him."

⁴³ Then he crossed over against them first, and the whole army followed him. All the Gentiles were defeated before him, and they threw away their arms and fled into the sacred precincts at Car'naim. ⁴⁴ But he took the city and burned the sacred precincts with fire, together with all who were in them. Thus Car'naim was conquered; they could stand before Judas no longer.

⁵² And they crossed the Jordan into the large plain before Beth-shan. ⁵³ And Judas kept rallying the laggards and encouraging the people all the way till he came to the land of Judah. ⁵⁴ So they went up to Mount Zion with gladness and joy, and offered burnt offerings, because not one of them had fallen before they returned in safety.

⁵⁵ Now while Judas and Jonathan were in Gilead and Simon his brother was in Galilee before Ptolema'is, ⁵⁶ Joseph, the son of Zechari'ah, and Azari'ah, the commanders of the forces, heard of their brave deeds and of the heroic war they had fought. ⁵⁷ So they said, "Let us also make a name for ourselves; let us go and make war on the Gentiles around us." ⁵⁸ And they issued orders to the men of the forces that were with them, and they marched against Jam'nia. ⁵⁹ And Gor'gias and his men came out of the city to meet them in battle. ⁶⁰ Then Joseph and Azari'ah were routed, and were pursued to the borders of Judea; as many as two thousand of the people of Israel fell that day. ⁶¹ Thus the people suffered a great rout because, thinking to do a brave deed, they did not listen to Judas and his brothers. ⁶² But they did not belong to the family of those men through whom deliverance was given to Israel.

⁶³ The man Judas and his brothers were greatly honored in all Israel and among all the Gentiles, wherever their name was heard. ⁶⁴ Men gathered to them and praised them.

⁶⁵ Then Judas and his brothers went forth and fought the sons of Esau in the land to the south. He struck Hebron and its villages and tore down its strongholds and burned its towers round about. ⁶⁶ Then he marched off to go into the land of the Philistines, and passed through Mar'isa.^c ⁶⁷ On that day some priests, who wished to do a brave deed, fell in battle, for they went out to battle unwisely. ⁶⁸ But Judas turned aside to Azo'tus in the land of the Philistines; he tore down their altars, and the graven images of their gods he burned with fire; he plundered the cities and returned to the land of Judah.

6 King Anti'ochus was going through the upper provinces when he heard that Elyma'is in Persia was a city famed for its wealth in silver and gold. ² Its temple was very rich, containing golden shields, breastplates, and weapons left there by Alexander, the son of Philip, the Macedonian king who first reigned over the Greeks. ³ So he came and tried to take the city and plunder it, but he could not, because his plan became known to the men of the city ⁴ and they withstood him in battle. So he fled and in great grief departed from there to return to Babylon.

⁵ Then some one came to him in Persia and reported that the armies which had gone into the land of Judah had been routed; ⁶ that Lys'ias had gone first with a strong force, but had turned and fled before the Jews;^d that the Jews^e had grown strong from the arms, supplies, and abundant spoils which they had taken from the armies they had cut down; ⁷ that they had torn down the abomination which he had erected upon the altar in Jerusalem; and that they had surrounded the sanctuary with high walls as before, and also Beth-zur, his city.

⁸ When the king heard this news, he was astounded and badly shaken. He took to his bed and became sick from grief, because things had not turned out for him as he had planned. ⁹ He lay there for many days, because deep grief continually gripped him, and he concluded that he was dying. ¹⁰ So he called all his friends and said to them, "Sleep departs from my eyes and I am downhearted with worry. ¹¹ I said to myself, 'To what distress I have come! And into what a great flood I now am plunged! For I was kind and beloved in my power.'¹² But now I remember the evils I did in Jerusalem. I seized all her vessels of silver and gold; and I sent to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without good reason. ¹³ I know that it is because of this that these evils have come upon me; and behold, I am perishing of deep grief in a strange land."

¹⁴ Then he called for Philip, one of his friends, and made him ruler over all his kingdom. ¹⁵ He gave him the crown and his robe and the signet, that he might guide Anti'ochus his son and bring him up to be king. ¹⁶ Thus Anti'ochus the king died there in the one hundred and forty-ninth year.^f ¹⁷ And when Lys'ias learned that the king was dead, he set up Anti'ochus the king's^g son to reign. Lys'ias^h had brought him up as a boy, and he named him Eu'pator.

¹⁸ Now the men in the citadel kept hemming Israel in around the sanctuary. They were trying in every way to harm them and strengthen the Gentiles. ¹⁹ So Judas decided to destroy them, and assembled all the people to besiege them. ²⁰ They gathered together and besieged the citadelⁱ in the one hundred and fiftieth year;^j and he built siege towers and other engines of war. ²¹ But some of the garrison escaped from the siege and some of the ungodly Israelites joined them. ²² They went to the king and said, "How long will you fail to do justice and to avenge our brethren?" ²³ We were happy to serve your father, to live by what he said and to follow his commands. ²⁴ For this reason the sons of our people besieged the citadel^k and became hostile to us; moreover, they have put to death as many of us as they have caught, and they have seized our inheritances.²⁵ And not against us alone have they stretched out their hands, but also against all the lands on their borders.²⁶ And behold, today they have encamped against the citadel in Jerusalem to take it; they have fortified both the sanctuary and Beth-zur;²⁷ and unless you quickly prevent them, they will do still greater things, and you will not be able to stop them.²⁸

²⁸ The king was enraged when he heard this. He assembled all his friends, the commanders of his forces and those in authority.²⁹ And mercenary forces came to him from other kingdoms and from islands of the seas.³⁰ The number of his forces was a hundred thousand foot soldiers, twenty thousand horsemen, and thirty-two elephants accustomed to war.³¹ They came through Idumea and encamped against Beth-zur, and for many days they fought and built engines of war; but the Jews^m sallied out and burned these with fire, and fought manfully.

³² Then Judas marched away from the citadel and encamped at Beth-zechari'ah, opposite the camp of the king.³³ Early in the morning the king rose and took his army by a forced march along the road to Beth-zechari'ah, and his troops made ready for battle and sounded their trumpets.³⁴ They showed the elephants the juice of grapes and mulberries, to arouse them for battle.³⁵ And they distributed the beasts among the phalanxes; with each elephant they stationed a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and with brass helmets on their heads; and five hundred picked horsemen were assigned to each beast.³⁶ These took their position beforehand wherever the beast was; wherever it went they went with it, and they never left it.³⁷ And upon the elephantsⁿ were wooden towers, strong and covered; they were fastened upon each beast by special harness, and upon each were four^o armed men who fought from there, and also its Indian driver.³⁸ The rest of the horsemen were stationed on either side, on the two flanks of the army, to harass the enemy while being themselves protected by the phalanxes.³⁹ When the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the hills were ablaze with them and gleamed like flaming torches.

⁴⁰ Now a part of the king's army was spread out on the high hills, and some troops were on the plain, and they advanced steadily and in good order.⁴¹ All who heard the noise made by their multitude, by the marching of their arms, trembled, for the army was very large and strong.⁴² But Judas and his army advanced to the battle, and six hundred men of the king's army fell.⁴³ And Eleazar, called Av'aran, saw that one of the beasts was equipped with royal armor. It was taller than all the others, and he supposed that the king was upon it.⁴⁴ So he gave his life to save his people and to win for himself an everlasting name.⁴⁵ He courageously ran into the midst of the phalanx to reach it; he killed men right and left, and they parted before him on both sides.⁴⁶ He got under the elephant, stabbed it from beneath, and killed it; but it fell to the ground upon him and there he died.⁴⁷ And when the Jews^p saw the royal might and the fierce attack of the forces, they turned away in flight.

⁴⁸ The soldiers of the king's army went up to Jerusalem against them, and the king encamped in Judea and at Mount Zion.⁴⁹ He made peace with the men of Beth-zur, and they evacuated the city, because they had no provisions there to withstand a siege, since it was a sabbatical year for the land.⁵⁰ So the king took Beth-zur and stationed a guard there to hold it.⁵¹ Then he encamped before the sanctuary for many days. He set up siege towers, engines of war to throw fire and stones, machines to shoot arrows, and catapults.⁵² The Jews^q also made engines of war to match theirs, and fought for many days.⁵³ But they had no food in storage,^r because it was the seventh year; those who found safety in Judea from the Gentiles had consumed the last of the stores.⁵⁴ Few men were left in the sanctuary, because famine had prevailed over the rest and they had been scattered, each to his own place.

55 Then Lys'ias heard that Philip, whom King Anti'ochus while still living had appointed to bring up Anti'ochus his son to be king, 56 had returned from Persia and Media with the forces that had gone with the king, and that he was trying to seize control of the government. 57 So he quickly gave orders to depart, and said to the king, to the commanders of the forces, and to the men, "We daily grow weaker, our food supply is scant, the place against which we are fighting is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom press urgently upon us. 58 Now then let us come to terms with these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, 59 and agree to let them live by their laws as they did before; for it was on account of their laws which we abolished that they became angry and did all these things."

60 The speech pleased the king and the commanders, and he sent to the Jews^s an offer of peace, and they accepted it. 61 So the king and the commanders gave them their oath. On these conditions the Jews^t evacuated the stronghold. 62 But when the king entered Mount Zion and saw what a strong fortress the place was, he broke the oath he had sworn and gave orders to tear down the wall all around. 63 Then he departed with haste and returned to Antioch. He found Philip in control of the city, but he fought against him, and took the city by force.

7 In the one hundred and fifty-first year^u Deme'trius the son of Seleu'cus set forth from Rome, sailed with a few men to a city by the sea, and there began to reign. 2As he was entering the royal palace of his fathers, the army seized Anti'ochus and Lys'ias to bring them to him. 3 But when this act became known to him, he said, "Do not let me see their faces!" 4 So the army killed them, and Deme'trius took his seat upon the throne of his kingdom.

5 Then there came to him all the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; they were led by Al'cimus, who wanted to be high priest. 6And they brought to the king this accusation against the people: "Judas and his brothers have destroyed all your friends, and have driven us out of our land. 7 Now then send a man whom you trust; let him go and see all the ruin which Judas' has brought upon us and upon the land of the king, and let him punish them and all who help them."

8 So the king chose Bac'chides, one of the king's friends, governor of the province Beyond the River; he was a great man in the kingdom and was faithful to the king. 9And he sent him, and with him the ungodly Al'cimus, whom he made high priest; and he commanded him to take vengeance on the sons of Israel. 10 So they marched away and came with a large force into the land of Judah; and he sent messengers to Judas and his brothers with peaceable but treacherous words. 11But they paid no attention to their words, for they saw that they had come with a large force.

12 Then a group of scribes appeared in a body before Al'cimus and Bac'chides to ask for just terms. 13 The Hasidae'ans were the first among the sons of Israel to seek peace from them, 14 for they said, "A priest of the line of Aaron has come with the army, and he will not harm us." 15And he spoke peaceable words to them and swore this oath to them, "We will not seek to injure you or your friends." 16 So they trusted him; but he seized sixty of them and killed them in one day, in accordance with the word which was written,

17 "The flesh of thy saints and their blood they poured out round about Jerusalem,

and there was none to bury them."

18 Then the fear and dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, "There is no truth or justice in them, for they have violated the agreement and the oath which they swore."

19 Then Bac'chides departed from Jerusalem and encamped in Beth-zaith. And he sent and seized many of the men who had deserted to him,^w and some of the people, and killed them and threw them into the great pit. 20 He placed Al'cimus in charge of the country and left with him a force to help him; then Bac'chides went back to the king.

21 Al'cimus strove for the high priesthood, ²² and all who were troubling their people joined him. They gained control of the land of Judah and did great damage in Israel. ²³ And Judas saw all the evil that Al'cimus and those with him had done among the sons of Israel; it was more than the Gentiles had done. ²⁴ So Judas^x went out into all the surrounding parts of Judea, and took vengeance on the men who had deserted, and he prevented those in the city^y from going out into the country. ²⁵ When Al'cimus saw that Judas and those with him had grown strong, and realized that he could not withstand them, he returned to the king and brought wicked charges against them.

26 Then the king sent Nica'nor, one of his honored princes, who hated and detested Israel, and he commanded him to destroy the people. ²⁷ So Nica'nor came to Jerusalem with a large force, and treacherously sent to Judas and his brothers this peaceable message, ²⁸ "Let there be no fighting between me and you; I shall come with a few men to see you face to face in peace." ²⁹ So he came to Judas, and they greeted one another peaceably. But the enemy were ready to seize Judas. ³⁰ It became known to Judas that Nica'nor^z had come to him with treacherous intent, and he was afraid of him and would not meet him again. ³¹ When Nica'nor learned that his plan had been disclosed, he went out to meet Judas in battle near Capharsal'ama. ³² About five hundred men of the army of Nica'nor fell, and the rest^z fled into the city of David.

33 After these events Nica'nor went up to Mount Zion. Some of the priests came out of the sanctuary, and some of the elders of the people, to greet him peaceably and to show him the burnt offering that was being offered for the king. ³⁴ But he mocked them and derided them and defiled them and spoke arrogantly, ³⁵ and in anger he swore this oath, "Unless Judas and his army are delivered into my hands this time, then if I return safely I will burn up this house." And he went out in great anger. ³⁶ Then the priests went in and stood before the altar and the temple, and they wept and said, ³⁷ "Thou didst choose this house to be called by thy name, and to be for thy people a house of prayer and supplication.

³⁸ Take vengeance on this man and on his army, and let them fall by the sword; remember their blasphemies, and let them live no longer."

³⁹ Now Nica'nor went out from Jerusalem and encamped in Beth-horon, and the Syrian army joined him. ⁴⁰ And Judas encamped in Ad'asa with three thousand men. Then Judas prayed and said, ⁴¹ "When the messengers from the king spoke blasphemy, thy angel went forth and struck down one hundred and eighty-five thousand of the Assyrians.^a ⁴² So also crush this army before us today; let the rest learn that Nica'nor^b has spoken wickedly against thy sanctuary, and judge him according to this wickedness." ⁴³ So the armies met in battle on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar. The army of Nica'nor was crushed, and he himself was the first to fall in the battle. ⁴⁴ When his army saw that Nica'nor had fallen, they threw down their arms and fled. ⁴⁵ The Jews^c pursued them a day's journey, from Ad'asa as far as Gazar'a, and as they followed kept sounding the battle call on the trumpets. ⁴⁶ And men came out of all the villages of Judea round about, and they outflanked the enemy^d and drove them back to their pursuers,^e so that they all fell by the sword; not even one of them was left. ⁴⁷ Then the Jews^f seized the spoils and the plunder, and they cut off Nica'nor's head and the right hand which he had so arrogantly stretched out, and brought them and displayed them just outside Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ The people rejoiced greatly and celebrated that day as a day of great gladness. ⁴⁹ And they decreed that this day should be celebrated each year on the thirteenth day of Adar. ⁵⁰ So the land of Judah had rest for a few days.

8 Now Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they were very strong and were well-disposed toward all who made an alliance with them, that they pledged friendship to those who came to them,² and that they were very strong. Men told him of their wars and of the brave deeds which they were doing among the Gauls, how they had defeated them and forced them to pay tribute,³ and what they had done in the land of Spain to get control of the silver and gold mines there,⁴ and how they had gained control of the whole region by their planning and patience, even though the place was far distant from them. They also subdued the kings who came against them from the ends of the earth, until they crushed them and inflicted great disaster upon them; the rest paid them tribute every year.⁵ Philip, and Per'seus king of the Macedonians,⁶ and the others who rose up against them, they crushed in battle and conquered.⁶ They also defeated Anti'ochus the Great, king of Asia, who went to fight against them with a hundred and twenty elephants and with cavalry and chariots and a very large army. He was crushed by them;⁷ they took him alive and decreed that he and those who should reign after him should pay a heavy tribute and give hostages and surrender some of their best provinces,⁸ the country of India and Media and Lydia. These they took from him and gave to Eu'menes the king.⁹ The Greeks planned to come and destroy them,¹⁰ but this became known to them, and they sent a general against the Greeks^h and attacked them. Many of them were wounded and fell, and the Romansⁱ took captive their wives and children; they plundered them, conquered the land, tore down their strongholds, and enslaved them to this day.¹¹ The remaining kingdoms and islands, as many as ever opposed them, they destroyed and enslaved;¹² but with their friends and those who rely on them they have kept friendship. They have subdued kings far and near, and as many as have heard of their fame have feared them.¹³ Those whom they wish to help and to make kings, they make kings, and those whom they wish they depose; and they have been greatly exalted.¹⁴ Yet for all this not one of them has put on a crown or worn purple as a mark of pride,¹⁵ but they have built for themselves a senate chamber, and every day three hundred and twenty senators constantly deliberate concerning the people, to govern them well.¹⁶ They trust one man each year to rule over them and to control all their land; they all heed the one man, and there is no envy or jealousy among them.

¹⁷ So Judas chose Eupol'ermus the son of John, son of Accos, and Jason the son of Elea'zar, and sent them to Rome to establish friendship and alliance,¹⁸ and to free themselves from the yoke; for they saw that the kingdom of the Greeks was completely enslaving Israel.¹⁹ They went to Rome, a very long journey; and they entered the senate chamber and spoke as follows:²⁰ "Judas, who is also called Maccabe'us, and his brothers and the people of the Jews have sent us to you to establish alliance and peace with you, that we may be enrolled as your allies and friends."²¹ The proposal pleased them,²² and this is a copy of the letter which they wrote in reply, on bronze tablets, and sent to Jerusalem to remain with them there as a memorial of peace and alliance:

²³ "May all go well with the Romans and with the nation of the Jews at sea and on land for ever, and may sword and enemy be far from them.²⁴ If war comes first to Rome or to any of their allies in all their dominion,²⁵ the nation of the Jews shall act as their allies wholeheartedly, as the occasion may indicate to them.²⁶ And to the enemy who makes war they shall not give or supply grain, arms, money, or ships, as Rome has decided; and they shall keep their obligations without receiving any return.²⁷ In the same way, if war comes first to the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall willingly act as their allies, as the occasion may indicate to them.²⁸ And to the enemy allies shall be given no grain, arms, money, or ships, as Rome has decided; and they shall keep these obligations and do so without deceit.²⁹ Thus on these terms the Romans make a treaty with the Jewish people. ³⁰ If after these terms are in effect both parties shall determine to add or delete anything, they shall do so at their discretion, and any addition or deletion that they may make shall be valid.

³¹ "And concerning the wrongs which King Deme'trius is doing to them we have written to him as follows, 'Why have you made your yoke heavy upon our friends and allies the Jews?' ³² If now they appeal again for help against you, we will defend their rights and fight you on sea and on land."

9 When Deme'trius heard that Nica'nor and his army had fallen in battle, he sent Bac'chides and Alcimus into the land of Judah a second time, and with them the right wing of the army. ² They went by the road which leads to Gilgal and encamped against Mes'aloth in Arbe'la, and they took it and killed many people. ³ In the first month of the one hundred and fifty-second year/ they encamped against Jerusalem; ⁴ then they marched off and went to Ber'ea with twenty thousand foot soldiers and two thousand cavalry.

⁵ Now Judas was encamped in El'asa, and with him were three thousand picked men. ⁶ When they saw the huge number of the enemy forces, they were greatly frightened, and many slipped away from the camp, until no more than eight hundred of them were left.

⁷ When Judas saw that his army had slipped away and the battle was imminent, he was crushed in spirit, for he had no time to assemble them. ⁸ He became faint, but he said to those who were left, "Let us rise and go up against our enemies. We may be able to fight them." ⁹ But they tried to dissuade him, saying, "We are not able. Let us rather save our own lives now, and let us come back with our brethren and fight them; we are too few." ¹⁰ But Judas said, "Far be it from us to do such a thing as to flee from them. If our time has come, let us die bravely for our brethren, and leave no cause to question our honor."

¹¹ Then the army of Bac'chides^k marched out from the camp and took its stand for the encounter. The cavalry was divided into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went ahead of the army, as did all the chief warriors. ¹² Bac'chides was on the right wing. Flanked by the two companies, the phalanx advanced to the sound of the trumpets; and the men with Judas also blew their trumpets. ¹³ The earth was shaken by the noise of the armies, and the battle raged from morning till evening.

¹⁴ Judas saw that Bac'chides and the strength of his army were on the right; then all the stouthearted men went with him, ¹⁵ and they crushed the right wing, and he pursued them as far as Mount Azo'tus. ¹⁶ When those on the left wing saw that the right wing was crushed, they turned and followed close behind Judas and his men. ¹⁷ The battle became desperate, and many on both sides were wounded and fell. ¹⁸ Judas also fell, and the rest fled.

¹⁹ Then Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother and buried him in the tomb of their fathers at Mo'de-in, ²⁰ and wept for him. And all Israel made great lamentation for him; they mourned many days and said, ²¹ "How is the mighty fallen, the savior of Israel!"

²² Now the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars and the brave deeds that he did, and his greatness, have not been recorded, for they were very many.

²³ After the death of Judas, the lawless emerged in all parts of Israel; all the doers of injustice appeared. ²⁴ In those days a very great famine occurred, and the country deserted with them to the enemy. ²⁵ And Bac'chides chose the ungodly and put them in charge of the country. ²⁶ They sought and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them to Bac'chides, and he took vengeance on them and made sport of them. ²⁷ Thus there was great distress in Israel, such as had not been since the time that prophets ceased to appear among them.

²⁸ Then all the friends of Judas assembled and said to Jonathan, ²⁹ "Since the death of your brother Judas there has been no one like him to go against our enemies and Bac'chides, and to deal with those of our nation who hate us. ³⁰ So now we have chosen you today to take his place as our ruler and leader, to fight our battle.”

³¹ And Jonathan at that time accepted the leadership and took the place of Judas his brother.

³² When Bac'chides learned of this, he tried to kill him. ³³ But Jonathan and Simon his brother and all who were with him heard of it, and they fled into the wilderness of Teko'a and camped by the water of the pool of Asphar. ³⁴ Bac'chides found this out on the sabbath day, and he with all his army crossed the Jordan.

³⁷ After these things it was reported to Jonathan and Simon his brother, “The sons of Jambri are celebrating a great wedding, and are conducting the bride, a daughter of one of the great nobles of Canaan, from Nad'abath with a large escort.” ³⁸ And they remembered the blood of John their brother, and went up and hid under cover of the mountain. ³⁹ They raised their eyes and looked, and saw a tumultuous procession with much baggage; and the bridegroom came out with his friends and his brothers to meet them with tambourines and musicians and many weapons. ⁴⁰ Then they rushed upon them from the ambush and began killing them. Many were wounded and fell, and the rest fled to the mountain; and they took all their goods. ⁴¹ Thus, the wedding was turned into mourning and the voice of their musicians into a funeral dirge. ⁴² And when they had fully avenged the blood of their brother, they returned to the marshes of the Jordan.

⁴³ When Bac'chides heard of this, he came with a large force on the sabbath day to the banks of the Jordan. ⁴⁴ And Jonathan said to those with him, “Let us rise up now and fight for our lives, for today things are not as they were before. ⁴⁵ For look! the battle is in front of us and behind us; the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that, with marsh and thicket; there is no place to turn. ⁴⁶ Cry out now to Heaven that you may be delivered from the hands of our enemies.” ⁴⁷ So the battle began, and Jonathan stretched out his hand to strike Bac'chides, but he eluded him and went to the rear. ⁴⁸ Then Jonathan and the men with him leaped into the Jordan and swam across to the other side, and the enemy^m did not cross the Jordan to attack them. ⁴⁹ And about one thousand of Bac'chides' men fell that day.

⁵⁰ Bac'chidesⁿ then returned to Jerusalem and built strong cities in Judea: the fortress in Jericho, and Emma'us, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, and Timnath, and^o Phar'athon, and Tephon, with high walls and gates and bars. ⁵¹ And he placed garrisons in them to harass Israel. ⁵² He also fortified the city of Beth-zur, and Gazar'a, and the citadel, and in them he put troops and stores of food. ⁵³ And he took the sons of the leading men of the land as hostages and put them under guard in the citadel at Jerusalem.

⁵⁴ In the one hundred and fifty-third year,^p in the second month, Al'cimus gave orders to tear down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary. He tore down the work of the prophets! ⁵⁵ But he only began to tear it down, for at that time Al'cimus was stricken and his work was hindered; his mouth was stopped and he was paralyzed, so that he could no longer say a word or give commands concerning his house. ⁵⁶ And Al'cimus died at that time in great agony. ⁵⁷ When Bac'chides saw that Al'cimus was dead, he returned to the king, and the land of Judah had rest for two years.

⁵⁸ Then all the lawless plotted and said, “See! Jonathan and his men are living in quiet and confidence. So now let us bring Bac'chides back, and he will capture them all in one night.” ⁵⁹ And they went and consulted with him. ⁶⁰ He started to come with a large force, and secretly sent letters to all his allies in Judea, telling them to seize Jonathan and his men; but they were unable to do it, because their plan became known. ⁶¹ And Jonathan's men^q seized about fifty of the men of the country who were leaders in this treachery, and killed them.

62 Then Jonathan with his men, and Simon, withdrew to Beth-ba'si in the wilderness; he rebuilt the parts of it that had been demolished, and they fortified it. 63 When Bac'chides learned of this, he assembled all his forces, and sent orders to the men of Judea. 64 Then he came and encamped against Beth-ba'si; he fought against it for many days and made machines of war.

65 But Jonathan left Simon his brother in the city, while he went out into the country; and he went with only a few men. 66 He struck down Odome'ra and his brothers and the sons of Phasi'ron in their tents. 67 Then he began to attack and went into battle with his forces; and Simon and his men sallied out from the city and set fire to the machines of war. 68 They fought with Bac'chides, and he was crushed by them. They distressed him greatly, for his plan and his expedition had been in vain. 69 So he was greatly enraged at the lawless men who had counseled him to come into the country, and he killed many of them. Then he decided to depart to his own land.

70 When Jonathan learned of this, he sent ambassadors to him to make peace with him and obtain release of the captives. 71 He agreed, and did as he said; and he swore to Jonathan^s that he would not try to harm him as long as he lived. 72 He restored to him the captives whom he had formerly taken from the land of Judah; then he turned and departed to his own land, and came no more into their territory. 73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt in Michmash. And Jonathan began to judge the people, and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

10 In the one hundred and sixtieth year^r Alexander Epiph'anes, the son of Anti'ochus, landed and occupied Ptolema'is. They welcomed him, and there he began to reign. 2 When Deme'trius the king heard of it, he assembled a very large army and marched out to meet him in battle. 3 And Deme'trius sent Jonathan a letter in peaceable words to honor him; 4 for he said, "Let us act first to make peace with him^u before he makes peace with Alexander against us,⁵ for he will remember all the wrongs which we did to him and to his brothers and his nation." 6 So Deme'trius^v gave him authority to recruit troops, to equip them with arms, and to become his ally; and he commanded that the hostages in the citadel should be released to him.

7 Then Jonathan came to Jerusalem and read the letter in the hearing of all the people and of the men in the citadel. 8 They were greatly alarmed when they heard that the king had given him authority to recruit troops. 9 But the men in the citadel released the hostages to Jonathan, and he returned them to their parents.

10 And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem and began to rebuild and restore the city. 11 He directed those who were doing the work to build the walls and encircle Mount Zion with squared stones, for better fortification; and they did so.

12 Then the foreigners who were in the strongholds that Bac'chides had built fled; 13 each left his place and departed to his own land. 14 Only in Beth-zur did some remain who had forsaken the law and the commandments, for it served as a place of refuge.

15 Now Alexander the king heard of all the promises which Deme'trius had sent to Jonathan, and men told him of the battles that Jonathan^w and his brothers had fought, of the brave deeds that they had done, and of the troubles that they had endured. 16 So he said, "Shall we find another such man? Come now, we will make him our friend and ally." 17 And he wrote a letter and sent it to him, in the following words:

18 "King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greeting. 19 We have heard about you, that you are a mighty warrior and worthy to be our friend. 20 And so we have appointed you today to be the high priest of your nation; you are to be called the king's friend" (and he sent him a purple robe and a golden crown) "and you are to take our side and keep friendship with us."

21 So Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of the one hundred and sixtieth year,^x at the feast of tabernacles, and he recruited troops and equipped them with arms in abundance. ²²When Deme'trius heard of these things he was grieved and said, ²³"What is this that we have done? Alexander has gotten ahead of us in forming a friendship with the Jews to strengthen himself. ²⁴I also will write them words of encouragement and promise their honor and gifts, that I may have their help." ²⁵So he sent a message to them in the following words:

"King Deme'trius to the nation of the Jews, greeting. ²⁶Since you have kept your agreement with us and have continued your friendship with us, and have not sided with our enemies, we have heard of it and rejoiced. ²⁷And now continue still to keep faith with us, and we will repay you with good for what you do for us. ²⁸We will grant you many immunities and give you gifts.

²⁹"And now I free you and exempt all the Jews from payment of tribute and salt tax and crown levies, ³⁰and instead of collecting the third of the grain and the half of the fruit of the trees that I should receive, I release them from this day and henceforth. I will not collect them from the land of Judah or from the three districts added to it from Samar'ia and Galilee, from this day and for all time. ³¹And let Jerusalem and her environs, her tithes and her revenues, be holy and free from tax. ³²I release also my control of the citadel in Jerusalem and give it to the high priest, that he may station in it men of his own choice to guard it. ³³And every one of the Jews taken as a captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set free without payment; and let all officials cancel also the taxes on their cattle.

³⁴"And all the feasts and sabbaths and new moons and appointed days, and the three days before a feast and the three after a feast—let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews who are in my kingdom. ³⁵No one shall have authority to exact anything from them or annoy any of them about any matter.

³⁶"Let Jews be enrolled in the king's forces to the number of thirty thousand men, and let the maintenance be given them that is due to all the forces of the king. ³⁷Let some of them be stationed in the great strongholds of the king, and let some of them be put in positions of trust in the kingdom. Let their officers and leaders be of their own number, and let them live by their own laws, just as the king has commanded in the land of Judah.

³⁸"As for the three districts that have been added to Judea from the country of Samar'ia, let them be so annexed to Judea that they are considered to be under one ruler and obey no other authority but the high priest. ³⁹Ptolema'is and the land adjoining it I have given as a gift to the sanctuary in Jerusalem, to meet the necessary expenses of the sanctuary. ⁴⁰I also grant fifteen thousand shekels of silver yearly out of the king's revenues from appropriate places. ⁴¹And all the additional funds which the government officials have not paid as they did in the first years,^y they shall give from now on for the service of the temple.^z ⁴²Moreover, the five thousand shekels of silver which my officials^a have received every year from the income of the services of the temple, this too is canceled, because it belongs to the priests who minister there. ⁴³And whoever takes refuge at the temple in Jerusalem, or in any of its precincts, because he owes money to the king or has any debt, let him be released and receive back all his property in my kingdom.

⁴⁶When Jonathan and the people heard these words, they did not believe or accept them, because they remembered the great wrongs which Deme'trius^b had done in Israel and how he had greatly oppressed them. ⁴⁷They favored Alexander, because he had been the first to speak peaceable words to them, and they remained his allies all his days.

⁴⁸Now Alexander the king assembled large forces and encamped opposite Deme'trius.⁴⁹ The two kings met in battle, and the army of Deme'trius fled, and Alexander^c pursued him and defeated them.⁵⁰ He pressed the battle strongly until the sun set, and Deme'trius fell on that day.

51 Then Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptol'emy king of Egypt with the following message:⁵² "Since I have returned to my kingdom and have taken my seat on the throne of my fathers, and established my rule—for I crushed Deme'trius and gained control of our country;⁵³ I met him in battle, and he and his army were crushed by us, and we have taken our seat on the throne of his kingdom—⁵⁴ now therefore let us establish friendship with one another; give me now your daughter as my wife, and I will become your son-in-law, and will make gifts to you and to her in keeping with your position."

55 Ptol'emy the king replied and said, "Happy was the day on which you returned to the land of your fathers and took your seat on the throne of their kingdom.⁵⁶ And now I will do for you as you wrote, but meet me at Ptolema'is, so that we may see one another, and I will become your father-in-law, as you have said."

57 So Ptol'emy set out from Egypt, he and Cleopatra his daughter, and came to Ptolema'is in the one hundred and sixty-second year.^d ⁵⁸Alexander the king met him, and Ptol'emy^e gave him Cleopatra his daughter in marriage, and celebrated her wedding at Ptolema'is with great pomp, as kings do.

59 Then Alexander the king wrote to Jonathan to come to meet him.⁶⁰ So he went with pomp to Ptolema'is and met the two kings; he gave them and their friends silver and gold and many gifts, and found favor with them.⁶¹ A group of pestilent men from Israel, lawless men, gathered together against him to accuse him; but the king paid no attention to them.⁶² The king gave orders to take off Jonathan's garments and to clothe him in purple, and they did so.⁶³ The king also seated him at his side; and he said to his officers, "Go forth with him into the middle of the city and proclaim that no one is to bring charges against him about any matter, and let no one annoy him for any reason."⁶⁴ And when his accusers saw the honor that was paid him, in accordance with the proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled.⁶⁵ Thus the king honored him and enrolled him among his chief friends, and made him general and governor of the province.⁶⁶ And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem in peace and gladness.

67 In the one hundred and sixty-fifth year^f Deme'trius the son of Deme'trius came from Crete to the land of his fathers.⁶⁸ When Alexander the king heard of it, he was greatly grieved and returned to Antioch.⁶⁹ And Deme'trius appointed Apollo'nus the governor of Coelesyria, and he assembled a large force and encamped against Jam'nia. Then he sent the following message to Jonathan the high priest:

70 "You are the only one to rise up against us, and I have become a laughingstock and reproach because of you. Why do you assume authority against us in the hill country?⁷¹ If you now have confidence in your forces, come down to the plain to meet us, and let us match strength with each other there, for I have with me the power of the cities.⁷² Ask and learn who I am and who the others are that are helping us. Men will tell you that you cannot stand before us, for your fathers were twice put to flight in their own land.⁷³ And now you will not be able to withstand my cavalry and such an army in the plain, where there is no stone or pebble, or place to flee."

74 When Jonathan heard the words of Apollo'nus, his spirit was aroused. He chose ten thousand men and set out from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him to help him.⁷⁵ He encamped before Joppa, but the men of the city closed its gates, for Apollo'nus had a garrison in Joppa.⁷⁶ So they fought against it, and the men of the city became afraid and opened the gates, and Jonathan gained possession of Joppa.

77 When Apollo'nus heard of it, he mustered three thousand cavalry and a large army, and went to Azo'tus as though he were going farther. At the same time he advanced into the plain, for he had a large troop of cavalry and put confidence in it. ⁷⁸ Jonathan^r pursued him to Azo'tus, and the armies engaged in battle. ⁷⁹ Now Apollo'nus had secretly left a thousand cavalry behind them. ⁸⁰ Jonathan learned that there was an ambush behind him, for they surrounded his army and shot arrows at his men from early morning till late afternoon. ⁸¹ But his men stood fast, as Jonathan commanded, and the enemy's^h horses grew tired.

⁸² Then Simon brought forward his force and engaged the phalanx in battle (for the cavalry was exhausted); they were overwhelmed by him and fled, ⁸³ and the cavalry was dispersed in the plain. They fled to Azo'tus and entered Beth-da'gon, the temple of their idol, for safety. ⁸⁴ But Jonathan burned Azo'tus and the surrounding towns and plundered them; and the temple of Dagon, and those who had taken refuge in it he burned with fire. ⁸⁵ The number of those who fell by the sword, with those burned alive, came to eight thousand men.

⁸⁶ Then Jonathan departed from there and encamped against As'kalon, and the men of the city came out to meet him with great pomp. ⁸⁷ And Jonathan and those with him returned to Jerusalem with much booty. ⁸⁸ When Alexander the king heard of these things, he honored Jonathan still more; ⁸⁹ and he sent to him a golden buckle, such as it is the custom to give to the kinsmen of kings. He also gave him Ekron and all its environs as his possession.

11 Then the king of Egypt gathered great forces, like the sand by the seashore, and many ships; and he tried to get possession of Alexander's kingdom by trickery and add it to his own kingdom. ² He set out for Syria with peaceable words, and the people of the cities opened their gates to him and went to meet him, for Alexander the king had commanded them to meet him, since he was Alexander'sⁱ father-in-law. ³ But when Ptol'emy entered the cities he stationed forces as a garrison in each city.

⁴ When he^j approached Azo'tus, they showed him the temple of Dagon burned down, and Azo'tus and its suburbs destroyed, and the corpses lying about, and the charred bodies of those whom Jonathan^k had burned in the war, for they had piled them in heaps along his route. ⁵ They also told the king what Jonathan had done, to throw blame on him; but the king kept silent. ⁶ Jonathan met the king at Joppa with pomp, and they greeted one another and spent the night there. ⁷ And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river called Eleu'therus; then he returned to Jerusalem.

⁸ So King Ptol'emy gained control of the coastal cities as far as Seleu'cia by the sea, and he kept devising evil designs against Alexander. ⁹ He sent envoys to Deme'trius the king, saying, "Come, let us make a covenant with each other, and I will give you in marriage my daughter who was Alexander's wife, and you shall reign over your father's kingdom. ¹⁰ For I now regret that I gave him my daughter, for he has tried to kill me." ¹¹ He threw blame on Alexander^l because he coveted his kingdom. ¹² So he took his daughter away from him and gave her to Deme'trius. He was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity became manifest.

¹³ Then Ptol'emy entered Antioch and put on the crown of Asia. Thus he put two crowns upon his head, the crown of Egypt and that of Asia. ¹⁴ Now Alexander the king was in Cil-i'cia at that time, because the people of that region were in revolt. ¹⁵ And Alexander heard of it and came against him in battle. Ptol'emy marched out and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. ¹⁶ So Alexander fled into Arabia to find protection there, and King Ptol'emy was exalted. ¹⁷ And Zab'di-el the Arab cut off the head of Alexander and sent it to Ptol'emy. ¹⁸ But King Ptol'emy died three days later, and his troops in the strongholds were killed by the inhabitants of the strongholds. ¹⁹ So Deme'trius became king in the one hundred and sixty-seventh year.^m in Jerusalem, and he built many engines of war to use against it. ²¹ But certain lawless men who hated their nation went to the king and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. ²² When he heard this he was angry, and as soon as he heard it he set out and came to Ptolema'is; and he wrote to Jonathan not to continue the siege, but to meet him for a conference at Ptolema'is as quickly as possible.

²³ When Jonathan heard this, he gave orders to continue the siege; and he chose some of the elders of Israel and some of the priests, and put himself in danger, ²⁴ for he went to the king at Ptolema'is, taking silver and gold and clothing and numerous other gifts. And he won his favor. ²⁵ Although certain lawless men of his nation kept making complaints against him, ²⁶ the king treated him as his predecessors had treated him; he exalted him in the presence of all his friends. ²⁷ He confirmed him in the high priesthood and in as many other honors as he had formerly had, and made him to be regarded as one of his chief friends. ²⁸ Then Jonathan asked the king to free Judea and the three districts of Samar'iaⁿ from tribute, and promised him three hundred talents. ²⁹ The king consented, and wrote a letter to Jonathan about all these things; its contents were as follows:

³⁰ "King Deme'trius to Jonathan his brother and to the nation of the Jews, greeting. ³¹ This copy of the letter which we wrote concerning you to Las'thenes our kinsman we have written to you also, so that you may know what it says. ³² 'King Deme'trius to Las'thenes his father, greeting. ³³ To the nation of the Jews, who are our friends and fulfil their obligations to us, we have determined to do good, because of the good will they show toward us. ³⁴ We have confirmed as their possession both the territory of Judea and the three districts of Aphair'ema and Lydda and Rath'amim; the latter, with all the region bordering them, were added to Judea from Samar'ia. To all those who offer sacrifice in Jerusalem, we have granted release from^o the royal taxes which the king formerly received from them each year, from the crops of the land and the fruit of the trees. ³⁵ And the other payments henceforth due to us of the tithes, and the taxes due to us, and the salt pits and the crown taxes due to us—from all these we shall grant them release. ³⁶ And not one of these grants shall be canceled from this time forth for ever. ³⁷ Now therefore take care to make a copy of this, and let it be given to Jonathan and put up in a conspicuous place on the holy mountain.'"^p

³⁸ Now when Deme'trius the king saw that the land was quiet before him and that there was no opposition to him, he dismissed all his troops, each man to his own place, except the foreign troops which he had recruited from the islands of the nations. So all the troops who had served his fathers hated him. ³⁹ Now Trypho had formerly been one of Alexander's supporters. He saw that all the troops were murmuring against Deme'trius. So he went to Imalku'e the Arab, who was bringing up Anti'ochus, the young son of Alexander, ⁴⁰ and insistently urged him to hand Anti'ochus^p over to him, to become king in place of his father. He also reported to Imalku'e^p what Deme'trius had done and told of the hatred which the troops of Deme'trius^p had for him; and he stayed there many days.

⁴¹ Now Jonathan sent to Deme'trius the king the request that he remove the troops of the citadel from Jerusalem, and the troops in the strongholds; for they kept fighting against Israel. ⁴² And Deme'trius sent this message to Jonathan, "Not only will I do these things for you and your nation, but I will confer great honor on you and your nation, if I find an opportunity. ⁴³ Now then you will do well to send me men who will help me, for all my troops have revolted." ⁴⁴ So Jonathan sent three thousand stalwart men to him at Anti'och, and when they came to the king, the king rejoiced at their arrival.

⁴⁵ Then the men of the city assembled within the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand, and they wanted to kill the king. ⁴⁶ But

ⁿ Cn: Gk the three districts and Samaria the king fled into the palace. Then the men of the city seized the main streets of the city and began to fight.⁴⁷ So the king called the Jews to his aid, and they all rallied about him and then spread out through the city; and they killed on that day as many as a hundred thousand men.⁴⁸ They set fire to the city and seized much spoil on that day, and they saved the king.⁴⁹ When the men of the city saw that the Jews had gained control of the city as they pleased, their courage failed and they cried out to the king with this entreaty,⁵⁰ "Grant us peace, and make the Jews stop fighting against us and our city."⁵¹ And they threw down their arms and made peace. So the Jews gained glory in the eyes of the king and of all the people in his kingdom, and they returned to Jerusalem with much spoil.

⁵² So Deme'trius the king sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him.⁵³ But he broke his word about all that he had promised; and he became estranged from Jonathan and did not repay the favors which Jonathan^a had done him, but oppressed him greatly.

⁵⁴ After this Trypho returned, and with him the young boy Anti'ochus, who began to reign and put on the crown.⁵⁵ All the troops that Deme'trius had cast off gathered around him, and they fought against Deme'trius,^c and he fled and was routed.⁵⁶ And Trypho captured the elephants^d and gained control of Antioch.⁵⁷ Then the young Anti'ochus wrote to Jonathan, saying, "I confirm you in the high priesthood and set you over the four districts and make you one of the friends of the king."⁵⁸ And he sent him gold plate and a table service, and granted him the right to drink from gold cups and dress in purple and wear a gold buckle.⁵⁹ Simon his brother he made governor from the Ladder of Tyre to the borders of Egypt.

⁶⁰ Then Jonathan set forth and traveled beyond the river and among the cities and all the army of Syria gathered to him as allies. When he came to As'kalon, the people of the city met him and paid him honor.⁶¹ From there he departed to Gaza, but the men of Gaza shut him out. So he besieged it and burned its suburbs with fire and plundered them.⁶² Then the people of Gaza pleaded with Jonathan, and he made peace with them, and took the sons of their rulers as hostages and sent them to Jerusalem. And he passed through the country as far as Damascus.

⁶³ Then Jonathan heard that the officers of Deme'trius had come to Kadesh in Galilee with a large army, intending to remove him from office.⁶⁴ He went to meet them, but left his brother Simon in the country.⁶⁵ Simon encamped before Beth-zur and fought against it for many days and hemmed it in.⁶⁶ Then they asked him to grant them terms of peace, and he did so. He removed them from there, took possession of the city, and set a garrison over it.

⁶⁷ Jonathan and his army encamped by the waters of Gennesaret. Early in the morning they marched to the plain of Hazor,⁶⁸ and behold, the army of the foreigners met him in the plain; they had set an ambush against him in the mountains, but they themselves met him face to face.⁶⁹ Then the men in ambush emerged from their places and joined battle.⁷⁰ All the men with Jonathan fled; not one of them was left except Mattathi'as the son of Ab'salom and Judas the son of Chalphi, commanders of the forces of the army.⁷¹ Jonathan rent his garments and put dust on his head, and prayed.⁷² Then he turned back to the battle against the enemy^e and routed them, and they fled.⁷³ When his men who were fleeing saw this, they returned to him and joined him in the pursuit as far as Kadesh, to their camp, and there they encamped.⁷⁴ As many as three thousand of the foreigners fell that day. And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

12 Now when Jonathan saw that the time was favorable for him, he chose men and sent them to Rome to confirm and renew the friendship with them.² He also sent letters to the same effect to the Spartans and to other places.³ So they went to Rome and entered the senate chamber and said, "Jonathan the high priest and the Jewish nation have sent us to renew the former friendship and alliance with them." ⁴And the Romans^w gave them letters to the people in every place, asking them to provide for the envoys' safe conduct to the land of Judah.

⁵ This is a copy of the letter which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans: ⁶ "Jonathan the high priest, the senate of the nation, the priests, and the rest of the Jewish people to their brethren the Spartans, greeting. ⁷Already in time past a letter was sent to Oni'as the high priest from Ari'us,^w who was king among you, stating that you are our brethren, as the appended copy shows. ⁸ Oni'as welcomed the envoy with honour, and received the letter, which contained a clear declaration of alliance and friendship. ⁹ Therefore, though we have no need of these things, since we have as encouragement the holy books which are in our hands, ¹⁰ we have undertaken to send to renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, so that we may not become estranged from you, for considerable time has passed since you sent your letter to us. ¹¹ We therefore remember you constantly on every occasion, both in our feasts and on other appropriate days, at the sacrifices which we offer and in our prayers, as it is right and proper to remember brethren. ¹² And we rejoice in your glory. ¹³ But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encircled us; the kings round about us have waged war against us. ¹⁴ We were unwilling to annoy you and our other allies and friends with these wars, ¹⁵ for we have the help which comes from Heaven for our aid; and we were delivered from our enemies and our enemies were humbled. ¹⁶ We therefore have chosen Nume'nus the son of Anti'ochus and Antip'ater the son of Jason, and have sent them to Rome to renew our former friendship and alliance with them. ¹⁷ We have commanded them to go also to you and greet you and deliver to you this letter from us concerning the renewal of our brotherhood. ¹⁸ And now please send us a reply to this."

¹⁹ This is a copy of the letter which they sent to Oni'as: ²⁰ "Ari'us, king of the Spartans, to Oni'as the high priest, greeting. ²¹ It has been found in writing concerning the Spartans and the Jews that they are brethren and are of the family of Abraham. ²² And now that we have learned this, please write us concerning your welfare; ²³ we on our part write to you that your cattle and your property belong to us, and ours belong to you. We therefore command that our envoys^x report to you accordingly."

²⁴ Now Jonathan heard that the commanders of Deme'trius had returned, with a larger force than before, to wage war against him. ²⁵ So he marched away from Jerusalem and met them in the region of Hamath, for he gave them no opportunity to invade his own country. ²⁶ He sent spies to their camp, and they returned and reported to him that the enemy^y were being drawn up in formation to fall upon the Jews^z by night. ²⁷ So when the sun set, Jonathan commanded his men to be alert and to keep their arms at hand so as to be ready all night for battle, and he stationed outposts around the camp. ²⁸ When the enemy heard that Jonathan and his men were prepared for battle, they were afraid and were terrified at heart; so they kindled fires in their camp and withdrew.^a ²⁹ But Jonathan and his men did not know it until morning, for they saw the fires burning. ³⁰ Then Jonathan pursued them, but he did not overtake them, for they had crossed the Eleu'therus river. ³¹ So Jonathan turned aside against the Arabs who are called Zabade'ans, and he crushed them and plundered them. ³² Then he broke camp and went to Damascus, and marched through all that region.

³³ Simon also went forth and marched through the country as far as As'kalon and the neighboring strongholds. He turned aside to Joppa and took it by surprise, ³⁴ for he had heard that they were ready to hand over the stronghold to the men whom Deme'trius had sent. And he stationed a garrison there to guard it.

35 When Jonathan returned he convened the elders of the people and planned with them to build strongholds in Judea, ³⁶ to build the walls of Jerusalem still higher, and to erect a high barrier between the citadel and the city to separate it from the city, in order to isolate it so that its garrison^b could neither buy nor sell. ³⁷ So they gathered together to build up the city; part of the wall on the valley to the east had fallen, and he repaired the section called Chaphena'tha. ³⁸ And Simon built Ad'ida in the Shephe'lah; he fortified it and installed gates with bolts.

39 Then Trypho attempted to become king of Asia and put on the crown, and to raise his hand against Anti'ochus the king. ⁴⁰ He feared that Jonathan might not permit him to do so, but might make war on him, so he kept seeking to seize and kill him, and he marched forth and came to Beth-shan. ⁴¹ Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand picked fighting men, and he came to Beth-shan. ⁴² When Trypho saw that he had come with a large army, he was afraid to raise his hand against him. ⁴³ So he received him with honor and commended him to all his friends, and he gave him gifts and commanded his friends and his troops to obey him as they would himself. ⁴⁴ Then he said to Jonathan, "Why have you wearied all these people when we are not at war?" ⁴⁵ Dismiss them now to their homes and choose for yourself a few men to stay with you, and come with me to Ptolema'is. I will hand it over to you as well as the other strongholds and the remaining troops and all the officials, and will turn round and go home. For that is why I am here."

46 Jonathan^c trusted him and did as he said; he sent away the troops, and they returned to the land of Judah. ⁴⁷ He kept with himself three thousand men, two thousand of whom he left in Galilee, while a thousand accompanied him. ⁴⁸ But when Jonathan entered Ptolema'is, the men of Ptolema'is closed the gates and seized him, and all who had entered with him they killed with the sword.

49 Then Trypho sent troops and cavalry into Galilee and the Great

Plain to destroy all Jonathan's soldiers. ⁵⁰ But they realized that Jonathan^c had been seized and had perished along with his men, and they encouraged one another and kept marching in close formation, ready for battle. ⁵¹ When their pursuers saw that they would fight for their lives, they turned back. ⁵² So they all reached the land of Judah safely, and they mourned for Jonathan and his companions and were in great fear; and all Israel mourned deeply. ⁵³ And all the nations round about them tried to destroy them, for they said, "They have no leader or helper. Now therefore let us make war on them and blot out the memory of them from among men."

13 Simon heard that Trypho had assembled a large army to invade the land of Judah and destroy it, ² and he saw that the people were trembling and fearful. So he went up to Jerusalem, and gathering the people together ³ he encouraged them, saying to them, "You yourselves know what great things I and my brothers and the house of my father have done for the laws and the sanctuary; you know also the wars and the difficulties which we have seen. ⁴ By reason of this all my brothers have perished for the sake of Israel, and I alone am left. ⁵ And now, far be it from me to spare my life in any time of distress, for I am not better than my brothers. ⁶ But I will avenge my nation and the sanctuary and your wives and children, for all the nations have gathered together out of hatred to destroy us."

7 The spirit of the people was rekindled when they heard these words, ⁸ and they answered in a loud voice, "You are our leader in place of Judas and Jonathan your brother. ⁹ Fight our battles, and all that you say to us we will do." ¹⁰ So he assembled all the warriors and hastened to complete the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it on every side. ¹¹ He sent Jonathan the son of Ab'salom to Joppa, and with him a considerable army; he drove out its occupants and remained there.

12 Then Trypho departed from Ptolema'is with a large army to invade the land of Judah, and Jonathan was with him under guard. ¹³ And Simon encamped in Ad'ida, facing the plain. ¹⁴ Trypho learned that Simon had risen up in place of Jonathan his brother, and that he was about to join battle with him, so he sent envoys to him and said, ¹⁵ "It is for the money that Jonathan your brother owed the royal treasury, in connection with the offices he held, that we are detaining him. ¹⁶ Send now a hundred talents of silver and two of his sons as hostages, so that when released he will not revolt against us, and we will release him."

¹⁷ Simon knew that they were speaking deceitfully to him, but he sent to get the money and the sons, lest he arouse great hostility among the people, who might say, ¹⁸ "Because Simon^d did not send him the money and the sons, he perished." ¹⁹ So he sent the sons and the hundred talents, but Trypho^e broke his word and did not release Jonathan.

²⁰ After this Trypho came to invade the country and destroy it, and he circled around by the way to Ador'a. But Simon and his army kept marching along opposite him to every place he went. ²¹ Now the men in the citadel kept sending envoys to Trypho urging him to come to them by way of the wilderness and to send them food. ²² So Trypho got all his cavalry ready to go, but that night a very heavy snow fell, and he did not go because of the snow. He marched off and went into the land of Gilead. ²³ When he approached Bas'kama, he killed Jonathan, and he was buried there. ²⁴ Then Trypho turned back and departed to his own land.

²⁵ And Simon sent and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried him in Mo'de-in, the city of his fathers. ²⁶ All Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, and mourned for him many days. ²⁷ And Simon built a monument over the tomb of his father and his brothers; he made it high that it might be seen, with polished stone at the front and back. ²⁸ He also erected seven pyramids, opposite one another, for his father and mother and four brothers. ²⁹ And for the pyramids^f he devised an elaborate setting, erecting about them great columns, and upon the columns he put suits of armor for a permanent memorial, and beside the suits of armor carved ships, so that they could be seen by all who sail the sea. ³⁰ This is the tomb which he built in Mo'de-in; it remains to this day.

³¹ Trypho dealt treacherously with the young king Anti'ochus; he killed him ³² and became king in his place, putting on the crown of Asia; and he brought great calamity upon the land. ³³ But Simon built up the strongholds of Judea and walled them all around, with high towers and great walls and gates and bolts, and he stored food in the strongholds. ³⁴ Simon also chose men and sent them to Deme'trius the king with a request to grant relief to the country, for all that Trypho did was to plunder. ³⁵ Deme'trius the king sent him a favorable reply to this request, and wrote him a letter as follows, ³⁶ "King Deme'trius to Simon, the high priest and friend of kings, and to the elders and nation of the Jews, greeting. ³⁷ We have received the gold crown and the palm branch which you^g sent, and we are ready to make a general peace with you and to write to our officials to grant you release from tribute. ³⁸ All the grants that we have made to you remain valid, and let the strongholds that you have built be your possession. ³⁹ We pardon any errors and offenses committed to this day, and cancel the crown tax which you owe; and whatever other tax has been collected in Jerusalem shall be collected no longer. ⁴⁰ And if any of you are qualified to be enrolled in our bodyguard,^h let them be enrolled, and let there be peace between us."

⁴¹ In the one hundred and seventieth yearⁱ the yoke of the Gentiles was removed from Israel, ⁴² and the people began to write in their documents and contracts, "In the first year of Simon the great high priest and commander and leader of the Jews."

⁴³ In those days Simon^j encamped against Gazar'a^k and surrounded it with troops. He made a siege engine, brought it up to the city, and battered and captured one tower. ⁴⁴ The men in the siege engine leaped out into the city, and a great tumult arose in the city. ⁴⁵ The men in the city, with their wives and children, went up on the wall with their clothes rent, and they cried out with a loud voice, asking Simon to make peace with them; ⁴⁶ they said, "Do not treat us according to our wicked acts but according to your mercy." ⁴⁷ So Simon reached an agreement with them and stopped fighting against them. But he expelled them from the city and cleansed the houses in which the idols were, and then entered it with hymns and praise. ⁴⁸ He cast out of it all uncleanness, and settled in it men who observed the law. He also strengthened its fortifications and built in it a house for himself.

⁴⁹ The men in the citadel at Jerusalem were prevented from going out to the country and back to buy and sell. So they were very hungry, and many of them perished from famine. ⁵⁰ Then they cried to Simon to make peace with them, and he did so. But he expelled them from there and cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. ⁵¹ On the twenty-third day of the second month, in the one hundred and seventy-first year, ¹ the Jews^m entered it with praise and palm branches, and with harps and cymbals and stringed instruments, and with hymns and songs, because a great enemy had been crushed and removed from Israel. ⁵² And Simonⁿ decreed that every year they should celebrate this day with rejoicing. He strengthened the fortifications of the temple hill alongside the citadel, and he and his men dwelt there. ⁵³ And Simon saw that John his son had reached manhood, so he made him commander of all the forces, and he dwelt in Gazar'a.

14 In the one hundred and seventy-second year^o Deme'trius the king assembled his forces and marched into Media to secure help, so that he could make war against Trypho. ² When Ar'saces the king of Persia and Media heard that Deme'trius had invaded his territory, he sent one of his commanders to take him alive. ³ And he went and defeated the army of Deme'trius, and seized him and took him to Ar'saces, who put him under guard.

⁴ The land^p had rest all the days of Simon.

He sought the good of his nation; his rule was pleasing to them, as was the honor shown him, all his days.

⁵ To crown all his honors he took Joppa for a harbor, and opened a way to the isles of the sea.

⁶ He extended the borders of his nation, and gained full control of the country.

⁷ He gathered a host of captives; he ruled over Gazar'a and Beth-zur and the citadel, and he removed its uncleanness from it; and there was none to oppose him.

⁸ They tilled their land in peace; the ground gave its increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit.

⁹ Old men sat in the streets; they all talked together of good things; and the youths donned the glories and garments of war.

¹⁰ He supplied the cities with food, and furnished them with the means of defence, till his renown spread to the ends of the earth.

¹¹ He established peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy.

¹² Each man sat under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid.

¹³ No one was left in the land to fight them, and the kings were crushed in those days.

¹⁴ He strengthened all the humble of his people; he sought out the law, and did away with every lawless and wicked man.

¹⁵ He made the sanctuary glorious, and added to the vessels of the sanctuary.

¹⁶ It was heard in Rome, and as far away as Sparta, that Jonathan had died, and they were deeply grieved.

¹⁷ When they heard that Simon his brother had become high priest in his place, and that he was ruling over the country and the cities in it, ¹⁸ they wrote to him on bronze tablets to renew with him the friendship and alliance which they had established with Judas and Jonathan his brothers. ¹⁹ And these were read before the assembly in Jerusalem.

²⁰ This is a copy of the letter which the Spartans sent: "The rulers and the city of the Spartans to Simon the high priest and to the elders and the priests and the rest of the Jewish people, our brethren, greeting. ²¹ The envoys who were sent to our people have told us about your glory and honor, and we rejoiced at their coming. ²² And what they said we have recorded in our public decrees, as follows, 'Nume'nius the son of Anti'ochns and Antip'ater the son of Jason, envoys of the Jews, have come to us to renew their friendship with us. ²³ It has pleased our people to receive these men with honor and to put a copy of their words in the public archives, so that the people of the Spartans may have a record of them. And they have sent a copy of this to Simon the high priest.'"

²⁴ After this Simon sent Nume'nius to Rome with a large gold shield weighing a thousand minas, to confirm the alliance with the Romans.^q

²⁵ When the people heard these things they said, "How shall we thank Simon and his sons? ²⁶ For he and his brothers and the house of his father have stood firm; they have fought and repulsed Israel's enemies and established its freedom." ²⁷ So they made a record on bronze tablets and put it upon pillars on Mount Zion.

This is a copy of what they wrote: "On the eighteenth day of Elul, in the one hundred and seventy-second year,^r which is the third year of Simon the great high priest, ²⁸ in As'aramel,^s in the great assembly of the priests and the people and the rulers of the nation and the elders of the country, the following was proclaimed to us:

²⁹ "Since wars often occurred in the country, Simon the son of Mattathi'as, a priest of the sons^t of Jo'arib, and his brothers, exposed themselves to danger and resisted the enemies of their nation, in order that their sanctuary and the law might be preserved; and they brought great glory to their nation. ³⁰ Jonathan rallied the^u nation, and became their high priest, and was gathered to his people. ³¹ And when their enemies decided to invade their country and lay hands on their sanctuary, ³² then Simon rose up and fought for his nation. He spent great sums of his own money; he armed the men of his nation's forces and paid them wages. ³³ He fortified the cities of Judea, and Beth-zur on the borders of Judea, where formerly the arms of the enemy had been stored, and he placed there a garrison of Jews. ³⁴ He also fortified Joppa, which is by the sea, and Gazar'a, which is on the borders of Azo'tus, where the enemy formerly dwelt. He settled Jews there, and provided in those cities^v whatever was necessary for their restoration.

³⁵ "The people saw Simon's faithfulness^w and the glory which he had resolved to win for his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things and because of the justice and loyalty which he had maintained toward his nation. He sought in every way to exalt his people. ³⁶ And in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were put out of the^x country, as were also the men in the city of David in Jerusalem, who had built themselves a citadel from which they used to sally forth and defile the environs of the sanctuary and do great damage to its purity. ³⁷ He settled Jews in it, and fortified it for the safety of the country and of the city, and built the walls of Jerusalem higher.

³⁸ "In view of these things King Deme'trius confirmed him in the high priesthood, ³⁹ and he made him one of the king's^y friends and paid him high honors. ⁴⁰ For he had heard that the Jews were addressed by the Romans as friends and allies and brethren, and that the Romans^z had received the envoys of Simon with honor.

41 "And^a the Jews and their priests decided that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, until a trustworthy prophet should arise,⁴² and that he should be governor over them and that he should take charge of the sanctuary and appoint men over its tasks and over the country and the weapons and the strongholds, and that he should take charge of the sanctuary,⁴³ and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all contracts in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple and wear gold.

44 "And none of the people or priests shall be permitted to nullify any of these decisions or to oppose what he says, or to convene an assembly in the country without his permission, or to be clothed in purple or put on a gold buckle.⁴⁵ Whoever acts contrary to these decisions or nullifies any of them shall be liable to punishment."

46 And all the people agreed to grant Simon the right to act in accord with these decisions.⁴⁷ So Simon accepted and agreed to be high priest, to be commander and ethnarch of the Jews and priests, and to be protector of them all.^b 48 And they gave orders to inscribe this decree upon bronze tablets, to put them up in a conspicuous place in the precincts of the sanctuary,⁴⁹ and to deposit copies of them in the treasury, so that Simon and his sons might have them.

15 Anti'ochus, the son of Deme'trius the king, sent a letter from the islands of the sea to Simon, the priest and ethnarch of the Jews, and to all the nation;² its contents were as follows: "King Anti'ochus to Simon the high priest and ethnarch and to the nation of the Jews, greeting.³ Whereas certain pestilent men have gained control of the kingdom of our fathers, and I intend to lay claim to the kingdom so that I may restore it as it formerly was, and have recruited a host of mercenary troops and have equipped warships,⁴ and intend to make a landing in the country so that I may proceed against those who have destroyed our country and those who have devastated many cities in my kingdom,⁵ now therefore I confirm to you all the tax remissions that the kings before me have granted you, and release from all the other payments from which they have released you.⁶ I permit you to mint your own coinage as money for your country,⁷ and I grant freedom to Jerusalem and the sanctuary. All the weapons which you have prepared and the strongholds which you have built and now hold shall remain yours.⁸ Every debt you owe to the royal treasury and any such future debts shall be canceled for you from henceforth and for all time.⁹ When we gain control of our kingdom, we will bestow great honor upon you and your nation and the temple, so that your glory will become manifest in all the earth."

10 In the one hundred and seventy-fourth year^c Anti'ochus set out and invaded the land of his fathers. All the troops rallied to him, so that there were few with Trypho.¹¹ Anti'ochus pursued him, and he came in his flight to Dor, which is by the sea;¹² for he knew that troubles had converged upon him, and his troops had deserted him.¹³ So Anti'ochus encamped against Dor, and with him were a hundred and twenty thousand warriors and eight thousand cavalry.¹⁴ He surrounded the city, and the ships joined battle from the sea; he pressed the city hard from land and sea, and permitted no one to leave or enter it.

15 Then Nume'nus and his companions arrived from Rome, with letters to the kings and countries, in which the following was written:¹⁶ "Lucius, consul of the Romans, to King Pto'lemy, greeting.¹⁷ The envoys of the Jews have come to us as our friends and allies to renew our ancient friendship and alliance. They had been sent by Simon the high priest and by the people of the Jews,¹⁸ and have brought a gold shield weighing a thousand minas.¹⁹ We therefore have decided to write to the kings and countries that they should not seek their harm or make war against them and their cities and their country, or make alliance with those who war against them.²⁰ And it has seemed good to us to accept the shield from them.

fled to you from their country, hand them over to Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their law."

22 The consul^d wrote the same thing to Deme'trius the king and to At'talus and Ariar'athes and Ar'saces,²³ and to all the countries, and to Sam'psames,^e and to the Spartans, and to Delos, and to Myndos, and to Sic'yon, and to Ca'ria, and to Samos, and to Pamphyl'ia, and to Lyc'ia, and to Halicarnas'sus, and to Rhodes, and to Phase'lis, and to Cos, and to Side, and to Ar'adus and Gortyna and Cni'dus and Cyprus and Cyre'ne.²⁴ They also sent a copy of these things to Simon the high priest.

25 Anti'ochus the king besieged Dor anew,^f continually throwing his forces against it and making engines of war; and he shut Trypho up and kept him from going out or in.²⁶ And Simon sent to Anti'ochus^g two thousand picked men, to fight for him, and silver and gold and much military equipment.²⁷ But he refused to receive them, and he broke all the agreements he formerly had made with Simon,^h and became estranged from him.²⁸ He sent to him Athenob'ius, one of his friends, to confer with him, saying, "You hold control of Joppa and Gazar'a and the citadel in Jerusalem; they are cities of my kingdom.²⁹ You have devastated their territory, you have done great damage in the land, and you have taken possession of many places in my kingdom.³⁰ Now then, hand over the cities which you have seized and the tribute money of the places which you have conquered outside the borders of Judea;³¹ or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver, and for the destruction that you have caused and the tribute money of the cities, five hundred talents more. Otherwise we will come and conquer you."

32 So Athenob'ius the friend of the king came to Jerusalem, and when he saw the splendor of Simon, and the sideboard with its gold and silver plate, and his great magnificence, he was amazed. He reported to him the words of the king,³³ but Simon gave him this reply: "We have neither taken foreign land nor seized foreign property, but only the inheritance of our fathers, which at one time had been unjustly taken by our enemies.³⁴ Now that we have the opportunity, we are firmly holding the inheritance of our fathers.³⁵ As for Joppa and Gazar'a, which you demand, they were causing great damage among the people and to our land; for them we will give a hundred talents."³⁶ Athenob'ius^h did not answer him a word,³⁶ but returned in wrath to the king and reported to him these words and the splendor of Simon and all that he had seen. And the king was greatly angered.

37 Now Trypho embarked on a ship and escaped to Ortho'sia.³⁸ Then the king made Cendebae'us commander-in-chief of the coastal country, and gave him troops of infantry and cavalry.³⁹ He commanded him to encamp against Judea, and commanded him to build up Kedron and fortify its gates, and to make war on the people; but the king pursued Trypho.⁴⁰ So Cendebae'us came to Jam'nia and began to provoke the people and invade Judea and take the people captive and kill them.⁴¹ He built up Kedron and stationed there horsemen and troops, so that they might go out and make raids along the highways of Judea, as the king had ordered him.

16 John went up from Gazar'a and reported to Simon his father what Cendebae'us had done.² And Simon called in his two elder sons Judas and John, and said to them: "I and my brothers and the house of my father have fought the wars of Israel from our youth until this day, and things have prospered in our hands so that we have delivered Israel many times.³ But now I have grown old, and you by His mercy are mature in years. Take my place and my brother's, and go out and fight for our nation, and may the help which comes from Heaven be with you."

4 So Johnⁱ chose out of the country twenty thousand warriors and horsemen, and they marched against Cendebae'us and camped for the night in Mo'de-in.⁵ Early in the morning they arose and marched into the plain, and behold, a large force of infantry and horsemen was coming to meet them; and a stream

^d Gk He ^e The name is uncertain / Or on the second day ^g Gk him ^h Gk He lay between them. ⁶ Then he and his army lined up against them. And he saw that the soldiers were afraid to cross the stream, so he crossed over first; and when his men saw him, they crossed over after him. ⁷ Then he divided the army and placed the horsemen in the midst of the infantry, for the cavalry of the enemy were very numerous. ⁸ And they sounded the trumpets, and Cendebae'us and his army were put to flight, and many of them were wounded and fell; the rest fled into the stronghold. ⁹ At that time Judas the brother of John was wounded, but John pursued them until Cendebae'us⁷ reached Kedron, which he had built. ¹⁰ They also fled into the towers that were in the fields of Azo'tus, and John⁷ burned it with fire, and about two thousand of them fell. And he returned to Judea safely.

¹¹ Now Ptol'emy the son of Abu'bus had been appointed governor over the plain of Jericho, and he had much silver and gold, ¹² for he was son-in-law of the high priest. ¹³ His heart was lifted up; he determined to get control of the country, and made treacherous plans against Simon and his sons, to do away with them. ¹⁴ Now Simon was visiting the cities of the country and attending to their needs, and he went down to Jericho with Mattathi'as and Judas his sons, in the one hundred and seventy-seventh year,^k in the eleventh month, which is the month of Shebat. ¹⁵ The son of Abu'bus received them treacherously in the little stronghold called Dok, which he had built; he gave them a great banquet, and hid men there. ¹⁶ When Simon and his sons were drunk, Ptol'emy and his men rose up, took their weapons, and rushed in against Simon in the banquet hall, and they killed him and his two sons and some of his servants. ¹⁷ So he committed an act of great treachery and returned evil for good.

¹⁸ Then Ptol'emy wrote a report about these things and sent it to the king, asking him to send troops to aid him and to turn over to him the cities and the country. ¹⁹ He sent other men to Gazar'a to do away with John; he sent letters to the captains asking them to come to him so that he might give them silver and gold and gifts; ²⁰ and he sent other men to take possession of Jerusalem and the temple hill. ²¹ But some one ran ahead and reported to John at Gazar'a that his father and brothers had perished, and that "he has sent men to kill you also." ²² When he heard this, he was greatly shocked; and he seized the men who came to destroy him and killed them, for he had found out that they were seeking to destroy him.

²³ The rest of the acts of John and his wars and the brave deeds which he did, and the building of the walls which he built, and his achievements, ²⁴ behold, they are written in the chronicles of his high priesthood, from the time that he became high priest after his father.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

1 The Jewish brethren in Jerusalem and those in the land of Judea, To their Jewish brethren in Egypt, Greeting, and good peace.

² May God do good to you, and may he remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants. ³ May he give you all a heart to worship him and to do his will with a strong heart and a willing spirit. ⁴ May he open your heart to his law and his commandments, and may he bring peace. ⁵ May he hear your prayers and be reconciled to you, and may he not forsake you in time of evil. ⁶ We are now praying for you here.

⁷ In the reign of Deme'trius, in the one hundred and sixty-ninth year,^a we

Jews wrote to you, in the critical distress which came upon us in those years after Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and the kingdom ⁸ and burned the gate and shed innocent blood. We besought the Lord and we were heard, and we offered sacrifice and cereal offering, and we lighted the lamps and we set out the loaves. ⁹And now see that you keep the feast of booths in the month of Chislew, in the one hundred and eighty-eighth year.^b

10 Those in Jerusalem and those in Judea and the senate and Judas,

To Aristobu'lus, who is of the family of the anointed priests, teacher of Ptol'my the king, and to the Jews in Egypt, Greeting, and good health.

11 Having been saved by God out of grave dangers we thank him greatly for taking our side against the king.^c ¹²For he drove out those who fought against the holy city. ¹³For when the leader reached Persia with a force that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanae'a by a deception employed by the priests of Nanae'a. ¹⁴For under pretext of intending to marry her, Anti'ochus came to the place together with his friends, to secure most of its treasures as a dowry. ¹⁵When the priests of the temple of Nanae'a had set out the treasures and Anti'ochus had come with a few men inside the wall of the sacred precinct, they closed the temple as soon as he entered it. ¹⁶Opening the secret door in the ceiling, they threw stones and struck down the leader and his men, and dismembered them and cut off their heads and threw them to the people outside. ¹⁷Blessed in every way be our God, who has brought judgment upon those who have behaved impiously.

18 Since on the twenty-fifth day of Chislew we shall celebrate the purification of the temple, we thought it necessary to notify you, in order that you also may celebrate the feast of booths and the feast of the fire given when Nehemi'ah, who built the temple and the altar, offered sacrifices.

19 For when our fathers were being led captive to Persia, the pious priests of that time took some of the fire of the altar and secretly hid it in the hollow of a dry cistern, where they took such precautions that the place was unknown to any one. ²⁰But after many years had passed, when it pleased God, Nehemi'ah, having been commissioned by the king of Persia, sent the descendants of the priests who had hidden the fire to get it. And when they reported to us that they had not found fire but thick liquid, he ordered them to dip it out and bring it. ²¹And when the materials for the sacrifices were presented, Nehemi'ah ordered the priests to sprinkle the liquid on the wood and what was laid upon it. ²²When this was done and some time had passed and the sun, which had been clouded over, shone out, a great fire blazed up, so that all marveled. ²³And while the sacrifice was being consumed, the priests offered prayer—the priests and every one. Jonathan led, and the rest responded, as did Nehemi'ah. ²⁴The prayer was to this effect:

"O Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, who art awe-inspiring and strong and just and merciful, who alone art King and art kind, ²⁵who alone art bountiful, who alone art just and almighty and eternal, who dost rescue Israel from every evil, who didst choose the fathers and consecrate them, ²⁶accept this sacrifice on behalf of all thy people Israel and preserve thy portion and make it holy. ²⁷Gather together our scattered people, set free those who are slaves among the Gentiles, look upon those who are rejected and despised, and let the Gentiles know that thou art our God. ²⁸Afflict those who oppress and are insolent with pride. ²⁹Plant thy people in thy holy place, as Moses said."

30 Then the priests sang the hymns. ³¹And when the materials of the sacrifice were consumed, Nehemi'ah ordered that the liquid that was left should be poured upon large stones. ³²When this was done, a flame blazed up; but when the light from the altar shone back, it went out. ³³When this matter became known, and it was reported to the king of the Persians that, in the place where the exiled priests had hidden the fire, the liquid had appeared with which Nehemi'ah and his associates had burned the materials of the sacrifice, ³⁴the king investigated the matter, and enclosed the place and made it sacred. ³⁵And with those persons whom the king favored he exchanged many excellent gifts. ³⁶Nehemi'ah and his associates called this "nephthar," which means purification, but by most people it is called naphtha.^d

2 One finds in the records that Jeremiah the prophet ordered those who were being deported to take some of the fire, as has been told, ² and that the prophet after giving them the law instructed those who were being deported not to forget the commandments of the Lord, nor to be led astray in their thoughts upon seeing the gold and silver statues and their adornment. ³And with other similar words he exhorted them that the law should not depart from their hearts.

⁴ It was also in the writing that the prophet, having received an oracle, ordered that the tent and the ark should follow with him, and that he went out to the mountain where Moses had gone up and had seen the inheritance of God. ⁵And Jeremiah came and found a cave, and he brought there the tent and the ark and the altar of incense, and he sealed up the entrance. ⁶ Some of those who followed him came up to mark the way, but could not find it. ⁷ When Jeremiah learned of it, he rebuked them and declared: "The place shall be unknown until God gathers his people together again and shows his mercy. ⁸And then the Lord will disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord and the cloud will appear, as they were shown in the case of Moses, and as Solomon asked that the place should be specially consecrated."

⁹ It was also made clear that being possessed of wisdom Solomon^e offered sacrifice for the dedication and completion of the temple. ¹⁰ Just as Moses prayed to the Lord, and fire came down from heaven and devoured the sacrifices, so also Solomon prayed, and the fire came down and consumed the whole burnt offerings. ¹¹And Moses said, "They were consumed because the sin offering had not been eaten." ¹² Likewise Solomon also kept the eight days.

¹³ The same things are reported in the records and in the memoirs of Nehemi'ah, and also that he founded a library and collected the books about the kings and prophets, and the writings of David, and letters of kings about votive offerings. ¹⁴ In the same way Judas also collected all the books that had been lost on account of the war which had come upon us, and they are in our possession. ¹⁵ So if you have need of them, send people to get them for you.

¹⁶ Since, therefore, we are about to celebrate the purification, we write to you. Will you therefore please keep the days? ¹⁷ It is God who has saved all his people, and has returned the inheritance to all, and the kingship and priesthood and consecration, ¹⁸ as he promised through the law. For we have hope in God that he will soon have mercy upon us and will gather us from everywhere under heaven into his holy place, for he has rescued us from great evils and has purified the place.

¹⁹ The story of Judas Maccabe'us and his brothers, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar, ²⁰ and further the wars against Anti'ochus Epiph'anes and his son Eu'pator, ²¹ and the appearances which came from heaven to those who strove zealously on behalf of Judaism, so that though few in number they seized the whole land and pursued the barbarian hordes, ²² and recovered the temple famous throughout the world and freed the city and restored the laws that were about to be abolished, while the Lord with great kindness became gracious to them—²³ all this, which has been set forth by Jason of Cyre'ne in five volumes, we shall attempt to condense into a single book. ²⁴ For considering the flood of numbers involved and the difficulty there is for those who wish to enter upon the narratives of history because of the mass of material, ²⁵ we have aimed to please those who wish to read, to make it easy for those who are inclined to memorize, and to profit all readers. ²⁶ For us who have undertaken the toil of abbreviating, it is no light matter but calls for sweat and loss of sleep, ²⁷ just as it is not easy for one who prepares a banquet and seeks the benefit of others. However, to secure the gratitude of many we will gladly endure the uncon-fortable toil,²⁸ leaving the responsibility for exact details to the compiler, while devoting our effort to arriving at the outlines of the condensation.²⁹ For as the master builder of a new house must be concerned with the whole construction, while the one who undertakes its painting and decoration has to consider only what is suitable for its adornment, such in my judgment is the case with us.³⁰ It is the duty of the original historian to occupy the ground and to discuss matters from every side and to take trouble with details,³¹ but the one who recasts the narrative should be allowed to strive for brevity of expression and to forego exhaustive treatment.³² At this point therefore let us begin our narrative, adding only so much to what has already been said; for it is foolish to lengthen the preface while cutting short the history itself.

3 While the holy city was inhabited in unbroken peace and the laws were very well observed because of the piety of the high priest Oni'as and his hatred of wickedness,² it came about that the kings themselves honored the place and glorified the temple with the finest presents,³ so that even Seleu'cus, the king of Asia, defrayed from his own revenues all the expenses connected with the service of the sacrifices.⁴ But a man named Simon, of the tribe of Benjamin, who had been made captain of the temple, had a disagreement with the high priest about the administration of the city market;⁵ and when he could not prevail over Oni'as he went to Apollo'nus of Tarsus,⁶ who at that time was governor of Coelesyria and Phoeni'cia.⁶ He reported to him that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the amount of the funds could not be reckoned, and that they did not belong to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible for them to fall under the control of the king.⁷ When Apollo'nus met the king, he told him of the money about which he had been informed. The king⁸ chose Heliodor'us, who was in charge of his affairs, and sent him with commands to effect the removal of the aforesaid money.⁸ Heliodor'us at once set out on his journey, ostensibly to make a tour of inspection of the cities of Coelesyria and Phoeni'cia, but in fact to carry out the king's purpose.

9 When he had arrived at Jerusalem and had been kindly welcomed by the high priest of^h the city, he told about the disclosure that had been made and stated why he had come, and he inquired whether this really was the situation.¹⁰ The high priest explained that there were some deposits belonging to widows and orphans,¹¹ and also some money of Hyrcanu's, son of Tobias, a man of very prominent position, and that it totalled in all four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold. To such an extent the impious Simon had misrepresented the facts.¹² And he said that it was utterly impossible that wrong should be done to those people who had trusted in the holiness of the place and in the sanctity and inviolability of the temple which is honored throughout the whole world.

13 But Heliodor'us, because of the king's commands which he had, said that this money must in any case be confiscated for the king's treasury.¹⁴ So he set a day and went in to direct the inspection of these funds.

There was no little distress throughout the whole city.¹⁵ The priests prostrated themselves before the altar in their priestly garments and called toward heaven upon him who had given the law about deposits, that he should keep them safe for those who had deposited them.¹⁶ To see the appearance of the high priest was to be wounded at heart, for his face and the change in his color disclosed the anguish of his soul.¹⁷ For terror and bodily trembling had come over the man, which plainly showed to those who looked at him the pain lodged in his heart.¹⁸ People also hurried out of their houses in crowds to make a general supplication because the holy place was about to be brought into contempt.¹⁹ Women, girded with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets. Some of the maidens who were kept indoors ran together to the gates, and some to the walls, while others peered out of the windows.²⁰ And holding up their hands to heaven, they all made entreaty.²¹ There was something pitiable in the prostration of the whole populace and the anxiety of the high priest in his great anguish.

^f Gk Apollonius son of Tharseas ^g Gk He ^h Some authorities read and

22 While they were calling upon the Almighty Lord that he would keep what had been entrusted safe and secure for those who had entrusted it, ²³ Heliodor'us went on with what had been decided. ²⁴ But when he arrived at the treasury with his bodyguard, then and there the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused so great a manifestation that all who had been so bold as to accompany him were astounded by the power of God, and became faint with terror. ²⁵ For there appeared to them a magnificently caparisoned horse, with a rider of frightening mien, and it rushed furiously at Heliodor'us and struck at him with its front hoofs. Its rider was seen to have armor and weapons of gold. ²⁶ Two young men also appeared to him, remarkably strong, gloriously beautiful and splendidly dressed, who stood on each side of him and scourged him continuously, inflicting many blows on him. ²⁷ When he suddenly fell to the ground and deep darkness came over him, his men took him up and put him on a stretcher ²⁸ and carried him away, this man who had just entered the aforesaid treasury with a great retinue and all his bodyguard but was now unable to help himself; and they recognized clearly the sovereign power of God. ²⁹ While he lay prostrate, speechless because of the divine intervention and deprived of any hope of recovery, ³⁰ they praised the Lord who had acted marvelously for his own place. And the temple, which a little while before was full of fear and disturbance, was filled with joy and gladness, now that the Almighty Lord had appeared.

31 Quickly some of Heliodor'us' friends asked Oni'as to call upon the Most High and to grant life to one who was lying quite at his last breath. ³² And the high priest, fearing that the king might get the notion that some foul play had been perpetrated by the Jews with regard to Heliodor'us, offered sacrifice for the man's recovery. ³³ While the high priest was making the offering of atonement, the same young men appeared again to Heliodor'us, dressed in the same clothing, and they stood and said, "Be very grateful to Oni'as the high priest, since for his sake the Lord has granted you your life. ³⁴ And see that you, who have been scourged by heaven, report to all men the majestic power of God." Having said this they vanished.

35 Then Heliodor'us offered sacrifice to the Lord and made very great vows to the Savior of his life, and having bidden Oni'as farewell, he marched off with his forces to the king. ³⁶ And he bore testimony to all men of the deeds of the supreme God, which he had seen with his own eyes. ³⁷ When the king asked Heliodor'us what sort of person would be suitable to send on another mission to Jerusalem, he replied, ³⁸ "If you have any enemy or plotter against your government, send him there, for you will get him back thoroughly scourged, if he escapes at all, for there certainly is about the place some power of God. ³⁹ For he who has his dwelling in heaven watches over that place himself and brings it aid, and he strikes and destroys those who come to do it injury." ⁴⁰ This was the outcome of the episode of Heliodor'us and the protection of the treasury.

4 The previously mentioned Simon, who had informed about the money against^t his own country, slandered Oni'as, saying that it was he who had incited Heliodor'us and had been the real cause of the misfortune. ² He dared to designate as a plotter against the government the man who was the benefactor of the city, the protector of his fellow countrymen, and a zealot for the laws. ³ When his hatred progressed to such a degree that even murders were committed by one of Simon's approved agents, ⁴ Oni'as recognized that the rivalry was serious and that Apollo'nus, the son of Menes' theusⁱ and governor of Coesyria and Phoeni'cia, was intensifying the malice of Simon. ⁵ So he betook himself to the king, not accusing his fellow citizens but having in view the welfare, both public and private, of all the people. ⁶ For he saw that without the king's attention public affairs could not again reach a peaceful settlement, and that Simon would not stop his folly.

7 When Seleu'cus died and Anti'ochus who was called Epiph'anes succeeded to the kingdom, Jason the brother of Oni'as obtained the high priesthood by corruption, ⁸ promising the king at an interview^k three hundred and sixty talents of silver and, from another source of revenue, eighty talents. ⁹ In addition to this he promised to pay one hundred and fifty more if permission were given to establish by his authority a gymnasium and a body of youth for it, and to enrol the men of Jerusalem as citizens of Antioch. ¹⁰ When the king assented and Jason^l came to office, he at once shifted his countrymen over to the Greek way of life. ¹¹ He set aside the existing royal concessions to the Jews, secured through John the father of Eupol'ermus, who went on the mission to establish friendship and alliance with the Romans; and he destroyed the lawful ways of living and introduced new customs contrary to the law. ¹² For with alacrity he founded a gymnasium right under the citadel, and he induced the noblest of the young men^m to wear the Greek hat. ¹³ There was such an extreme of Hellenization and increase in the adoption of foreign ways because of the surpassing wickedness of Jason, who was ungodly and no high priest, ¹⁴ that the priests were no longer intent upon their service at the altar. Despising the sanctuary and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to take part in the unlawful proceedings in the wrestling arena after the call to the discus, ¹⁵ disdain the honors prized by their fathers and putting the highest value upon Greek forms of prestige. ¹⁶ For this reason heavy disaster overtook them, and those whose ways of living they admired and wished to imitate completely became their enemies and punished them. ¹⁷ For it is no light thing to show irreverence to the divine laws—a fact which later events will make clear.

18 When the quadrennial games were being held at Tyre and the king was present, ¹⁹ the vile Jason sent envoys, chosen as being Antioch'ian citizens from Jerusalem, to carry three hundred silver drachmas for the sacrifice to Her'cules. Those who carried the money, however, thought best not to use it for sacrifice, because that was inappropriate, but to expend it for another purpose. ²⁰ So this money was intended by the sender for the sacrifice to Her'cules, but by the decision of its carriers it was applied to the construction of triremes.

21 When Apollo'nus the son of Menes'theus was sent to Egypt for the coronationⁿ of Philome'tor as king, Anti'ochus learned that Philome'tor^o had become hostile to his government, and he took measures for his own security. Therefore upon arriving at Joppa he proceeded to Jerusalem. ²² He was welcomed magnificently by Jason and the city, and ushered in with a blaze of torches and with shouts. Then he marched into Phoeni'cia.

23 After a period of three years Jason sent Menela'us, the brother of the previously mentioned Simon, to carry the money to the king and to complete the records of essential business. ²⁴ But he, when presented to the king, extolled him with an air of authority, and secured the high priesthood for himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred talents of silver. ²⁵ After receiving the king's orders he returned, possessing no qualification for the high priesthood, but having the hot temper of a cruel tyrant and the rage of a savage wild beast. ²⁶ So Jason, who after supplanting his own brother was supplanted by another man, was driven as a fugitive into the land of Ammon. ²⁷ And Menela'us held the office, but he did not pay regularly any of the money promised to the king. ²⁸ When So'stratus the captain of the citadel kept requesting payment, for the collection of the revenue was his responsibility, the two of them were summoned by the king on account of this issue. ²⁹ Menela'us left his own brother Lysim'achus as deputy in the high priesthood, while So'stratus left Crates, the commander of the Cyprian troops.

30 While such was the state of affairs, it happened that the people of Tarsus and of Mallus revolted because their cities had been given as a present to Anti'ochis, the king's concubine. ³¹ So the king went hastily to settle the trouble,

^k Or by a petition ^l Gk he

^m Some authorities add subjecting them ⁿ The exact meaning of the Greek word is uncertain ^o Gk he leaving Androni'cus, a man of high rank, to act as his deputy.³² But Menela'us, thinking he had obtained a suitable opportunity, stole some of the gold vessels of the temple and gave them to Androni'cus; other vessels, as it happened, he had sold to Tyre and the neighboring cities.³³ When Oni'as became fully aware of these acts he publicly exposed them, having first withdrawn to a place of sanctuary at Daphne near Antioch.³⁴ Therefore Menela'us, taking Androni'cus aside, urged him to kill Oni'as. Androni'cus^p came to Oni'as, and resorting to treachery offered him sworn pledges and gave him his right hand, and in spite of his suspicion persuaded Oni'as^q to come out from the place of sanctuary; then, with no regard for justice, he immediately put him out of the way.³⁵ For this reason not only Jews, but many also of other nations, were grieved and displeased at the unjust murder of the man.³⁶ When the king returned from the region of Cili'cia, the Jews in the city^r appealed to him with regard to the unreasonable murder of Oni'as, and the Greeks shared their hatred of the crime.³⁷ Therefore Anti'ochus was grieved at heart and filled with pity, and wept because of the moderation and good conduct of the deceased;³⁸ and inflamed with anger, he immediately stripped off the purple robe from Androni'cus, tore off his garments, and led him about the whole city to that very place where he had committed the outrage against Oni'as, and there he dispatched the bloodthirsty fellow. The Lord thus repaid him with the punishment he deserved.

³⁹ When many acts of sacrilege had been committed in the city by Lysim'achus with the connivance of Menela'us, and when report of them had spread abroad, the populace gathered against Lysim'achus, because many of the gold vessels had already been stolen.⁴⁰ And since the crowds were becoming aroused and filled with anger, Lysim'achus armed about three thousand men and launched an unjust attack, under the leadership of a certain Aura'nus, a man advanced in years and no less advanced in folly.⁴¹ But when the Jews^s became aware of Lysim'achus' attack, some picked up stones, some blocks of wood, and others took handfuls of the ashes that were lying about, and threw them in wild confusion at Lysim'achus and his men.⁴² As a result, they wounded many of them, and killed some, and put them all to flight; and the temple robber himself they killed close by the treasury.

⁴³ Charges were brought against Menela'us about this incident.⁴⁴ When the king came to Tyre, three men sent by the senate presented the case before him.⁴⁵ But Menela'us, already as good as beaten, promised a substantial bribe to Ptol'emy son of Dorym'enes to win over the king.⁴⁶ Therefore Ptol'emy, taking the king aside into a colonnade as if for refreshment, induced the king to change his mind.⁴⁷ Menela'us, the cause of all the evil, he acquitted of the charges against him, while he sentenced to death those unfortunate men, who would have been freed uncondemned if they had pleaded even before Scyth'ians.⁴⁸ And so those who had spoken for the city and the villages^t and the holy vessels quickly suffered the unjust penalty.⁴⁹ Therefore even the Tyr'ians, showing their hatred of the crime, provided magnificently for their funeral.⁵⁰ But Menela'us, because of the cupidity of those in power, remained in office, growing in wickedness, having become the chief plotter against his fellow citizens.

5 About this time Anti'ochus made his second invasion of Egypt.² And it happened that over all the city, for almost forty days, there appeared golden-clad horsemen charging through the air, in companies fully armed with lances and drawn swords—³troops of horsemen drawn up, attacks and counter-attacks made on this side and on that, brandishing of shields, massing of spears, hurling of missiles, the flash of golden trappings, and armor of all sorts.⁴ Therefore all men prayed that the apparition might prove to have been a good omen.

⁵ When a false rumor arose that Anti'ochus was dead, Jason took no less than a thousand men and suddenly made an assault upon the city. When the troops upon the wall had been forced back and at last the city was being taken, Menela'us took refuge in the citadel. ⁶ But Jason kept relentlessly slaughtering his fellow citizens, not realizing that success at the cost of one's kindred is the greatest misfortune, but imagining that he was setting up trophies of victory over enemies and not over fellow countrymen. ⁷ He did not gain control of the government, however; and in the end got only disgrace from his conspiracy, and fled again into the country of the Am'monites. ⁸ Finally he met a miserable end. Accused^u before Ar'etas the ruler of the Arabs, fleeing from city to city, pursued by all men, hated as a rebel against the laws, and abhorred as the executioner of his country and his fellow citizens, he was cast ashore in Egypt; ⁹ and he who had driven many from their own country into exile died in exile, having embarked to go to the Lacedaemo'nians in hope of finding protection because of their kinship. ¹⁰ He who had cast out many to lie unburied had no one to mourn for him; he had no funeral of any sort and no place in the tomb of his fathers.

^p Gk He ^q Gk him ^r Or in each city ^s Gk they ^t Other authorities read the people

¹¹ When news of what had happened reached the king, he took it to mean that Judea was in revolt. So, raging inwardly, he left Egypt and took the city by storm. ¹² And he commanded his soldiers to cut down relentlessly every one they met and to slay those who went into the houses. ¹³ Then there was killing of young and old, destruction of boys, women, and children, and slaughter of virgins and infants. ¹⁴ Within the total of three days eighty thousand were destroyed, forty thousand in hand-to-hand fighting; and as many were sold into slavery as were slain.

¹⁵ Not content with this, Anti'ochus^v dared to enter the most holy temple in all the world, guided by Menela'us, who had become a traitor both to the laws and to his country. ¹⁶ He took the holy vessels with his polluted hands, and swept away with profane hands the votive offerings which other kings had made to enhance the glory and honor of the place. ¹⁷ Anti'ochus was elated in spirit, and did not perceive that the Lord was angered for a little while because of the sins of those who dwelt in the city, and that therefore he was disregarding the holy place. ¹⁸ But if it had not happened that they were involved in many sins, this man would have been scourged and turned back from his rash act as soon as he came forward, just as Heliodor'us was, whom Seleu'cus the king sent to inspect the treasury. ¹⁹ But the Lord did not choose the nation for the sake of the holy place, but the place for the sake of the nation. ²⁰ Therefore the place itself shared in the misfortunes that befell the nation and afterward participated in its benefits; and what was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was restored again in all its glory when the great Lord became reconciled.

²¹ So Anti'ochus carried off eighteen hundred talents from the temple, and hurried away to Antioch, thinking in his arrogance that he could sail on the land and walk on the sea, because his mind was elated. ²² And he left governors to afflict the people: at Jerusalem, Philip, by birth a Phryg'ian and in character more barbarous than the man who appointed him; ²³ and at Ger'izim, Androni'cus; and besides these Menela'us, who lorded it over his fellow citizens worse than the others did. In his malice toward the Jewish citizens,^w ²⁴ Anti'ochus^x sent Apollo'nus, the captain of the My'sians, with an army of twenty-two thousand, and commanded him to slay all the grown men and to sell the women and boys as slaves. ²⁵ When this man arrived in Jerusalem, he pretended to be peaceably disposed and waited until the holy sabbath day; then, finding the Jews not at work, he ordered his men to parade under arms. ²⁶ He put to the sword all those who came out to see them, then rushed into the city with his armed men and killed great numbers of people.

6 Not long after this, the king sent an Athenian^γ senator^z to compel the Jews to forsake the laws of their fathers and cease to live by the laws of God,² and also to pollute the temple in Jerusalem and call it the temple of Olympian Zeus, and to call the one in Ger'izim the temple of Zeus the Friend of Strangers, as did the people who dwell in that place.

3 Harsh and utterly grievous was the onslaught of evil. 4 For the temple was filled with debauchery and reveling by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots and had intercourse with women within the sacred precincts, and besides brought in things for sacrifice that were unfit. 5 The altar was covered with abominable offerings which were forbidden by the laws. 6 A man could neither keep the sabbath, nor observe the feasts of his fathers, nor so much as confess himself to be a Jew.

7 On the monthly celebration of the king's birthday, the Jews^δ were taken, under bitter constraint, to partake of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Diony'sus came, they were compelled to walk in the procession in honor of Diony'sus, wearing wreaths of ivy. 8 At the suggestion of Ptol'emy a decree was issued to the neighboring Greek cities, that they should adopt the same policy toward the Jews and make them partake of the sacrifices,⁹ and should slay those who did not choose to change over to Greek customs. One could see, therefore, the misery that had come upon them. 10 For example, two women were brought in for having circumcised their children. These women they publicly paraded about the city, with their babies hung at their breasts, then hurled them down headlong from the wall. 11 Others who had assembled in the caves near by, to observe the seventh day secretly, were betrayed to Philip and were all burned together, because their piety kept them from defending themselves, in view of their regard for that most holy day.

12 Now I urge those who read this book not to be depressed by such calamities, but to recognize that these punishments were designed not to destroy but to discipline our people. 13 In fact, not to let the impious alone for long, but to punish them immediately, is a sign of great kindness. 14 For in the case of the other nations the Lord waits patiently to punish them until they have reached the full measure of their sins; but he does not deal in this way with us, 15 in order that he may not take vengeance on us afterward when our sins have reached their height. 16 Therefore he never withdraws his mercy from us. Though he disciplines us with calamities, he does not forsake his own people. 17 Let what we have said serve as a reminder; we must go on briefly with the story.

18 Elea'zar, one of the scribes in high position, a man now advanced in age and of noble presence, was being forced to open his mouth to eat swine's flesh. 19 But he, welcoming death with honor rather than life with pollution, went up to the rack of his own accord, spitting out the flesh,²⁰ as men ought to go who have the courage to refuse things that it is not right to taste, even for the natural love of life.

21 Those who were in charge of that unlawful sacrifice took the man aside, because of their long acquaintance with him, and privately urged him to bring meat of his own providing, proper for him to use, and pretend that he was eating the flesh of the sacrificial meal which had been commanded by the king, 22 so that by doing this he might be saved from death, and be treated kindly on account of his old friendship with them. 23 But making a high resolve, worthy of his years and the dignity of his old age and the grey hairs which he had reached with distinction and his excellent life even from childhood, and moreover according to the holy God-given law, he declared himself quickly, telling them to send him to Hades.

24 "Such pretence is not worthy of our time of life," he said, "lest many of the young should suppose that Elea'zar in his ninetieth year has gone over to an alien religion,²⁵ and through my pretence, for the sake of living a brief moment longer, they should be led astray because of me, while I defile and disgrace my old age. 26 For even if for the present I should avoid the punishment of men, yet whether I live or die I shall not escape the hands of the Almighty. ²⁷ Therefore, by manfully giving up my life now, I will show myself worthy of my old age ²⁸ and leave to the young a noble example of how to die a good death willingly and nobly for the revered and holy laws."

When he had said this, he went ^b at once to the rack. ²⁹ And those who a little before had acted toward him with good will now changed to ill will, because the words he had uttered were in their opinion sheer madness. ^c ³⁰ When he was about to die under the blows, he groaned aloud and said: "It is clear to the Lord in his holy knowledge that, though I might have been saved from death, I am enduring terrible sufferings in my body under this beating, but in my soul I am glad to suffer these things because I fear him."

³¹ So in this way he died, leaving in his death an example of nobility and a memorial of courage, not only to the young but to the great body of his nation.

7 It happened also that seven brothers and their mother were arrested and were being compelled by the king, under torture with whips and cords, to partake of unlawful swine's flesh. ² One of them, acting as their spokesman, said, "What do you intend to ask and learn from us? For we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers."

³ The king fell into a rage, and gave orders that pans and caldrons be heated. ⁴ These were heated immediately, and he commanded that the tongue of their spokesman be cut out and that they scalp him and cut off his hands and feet, while the rest of the brothers and the mother looked on. ⁵ When he was utterly helpless, the king ^d ordered them to take him to the fire, still breathing, and to fry him in a pan. The smoke from the pan spread widely, but the brothers ^e and their mother encouraged one another to die nobly, saying, ⁶ "The Lord God is watching over us and in truth has compassion on us, as Moses declared in his song which bore witness against the people to their faces, when he said, 'And he will have compassion on his servants.'"

⁷ After the first brother had died in this way, they brought forward the second for their sport. They tore off the skin of his head with the hair, and asked him, "Will you eat rather than have your body punished limb by limb?"

⁸ He replied in the language of his fathers, and said to them, "No." Therefore he in turn underwent tortures as the first brother had done. ⁹ And when he was at his last breath, he said, "You accursed wretch, you dismiss us from this present life, but the King of the universe will raise us up to an everlasting renewal of life, because we have died for his laws."

¹⁰ After him, the third was the victim of their sport. When it was demanded, he quickly put out his tongue and courageously stretched forth his hands, ¹¹ and said nobly, "I got these from Heaven, and because of his laws I disdain them, and from him I hope to get them back again." ¹² As a result the king himself and those with him were astonished at the young man's spirit, for he regarded his sufferings as nothing.

¹³ When he too had died, they maltreated and tortured the fourth in the same way. ¹⁴ And when he was near death, he said, "One cannot but choose to die at the hands of men and to cherish the hope that God gives of being raised again by him. But for you there will be no resurrection to life!"

¹⁵ Next they brought forward the fifth and maltreated him. ¹⁶ But he looked at the king, ^f and said, "Because you have authority among men, mortal though you are, you do what you please. But do not think that God has forsaken our people. ¹⁷ Keep on, and see how his mighty power will torture you and your descendants!"

¹⁸ After him they brought forward the sixth. And when he was about to die, he said, "Do not deceive yourself in vain. For we are suffering these things on our own account, because of our sins against our own God. Therefore ^g astounding things have happened. ¹⁹ But do not think that you will go unpunished for having tried to fight against God!"

20 The mother was especially admirable and worthy of honorable memory. Though she saw her seven sons perish within a single day, she bore it with good courage because of her hope in the Lord. 21 She encouraged each of them in the language of their fathers. Filled with a noble spirit, she fired her woman's reasoning with a man's courage, and said to them, 22 "I do not know how you came into being in my womb. It was not I who gave you life and breath, nor I who set in order the elements within each of you. 23 Therefore the Creator of the world, who shaped the beginning of man and devised the origin of all things, will in his mercy give life and breath back to you again, since you now forget yourselves for the sake of his laws."

24 Anti'ochus felt that he was being treated with contempt, and he was suspicious of her reproachful tone. The youngest brother being still alive, Anti'ochus^h not only appealed to him in words, but promised with oaths that he would make him rich and enviable if he would turn from the ways of his fathers, and that he would take him for his friend and entrust him with public affairs. 25 Since the young man would not listen to him at all, the king called the mother to him and urged her to advise the youth to save himself. 26 After much urging on his part, she undertook to persuade her son. 27 But, leaning close to him, she spoke in their native tongue as follows, deriding the cruel tyrant: "My son, have pity on me. I carried you nine months in my womb, and nursed you for three years, and have reared you and brought you up to this point in your life, and have taken care of you.ⁱ 28 I beseech you, my child, to look at the heaven and the earth and see everything that is in them, and recognize that God did not make them out of things that existed.^j Thus also mankind comes into being. 29 Do not fear this butcher, but prove worthy of your brothers. Accept death, so that in God's mercy I may get you back again with your brothers."

30 While she was still speaking, the young man said, "What are you^k waiting for? I will not obey the king's command, but I obey the command of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. 31 But you,^l who have contrived all sorts of evil against the Hebrews, will certainly not escape the hands of God. 32 For we are suffering because of our own sins. 33 And if our living Lord is angry for a little while, to rebuke and discipline us, he will again be reconciled with his own servants. 34 But you, unholy wretch, you most defiled of all men, do not be elated in vain and puffed up by uncertain hopes, when you raise your hand against the children of heaven. 35 You have not yet escaped the judgment of the almighty, all-seeing God. 36 For our brothers after enduring a brief suffering have drunk^m of everflowing life under God's covenant; but you, by the judgment of God, will receive just punishment for your arrogance. 37 I, like my brothers, give up body and life for the laws of our fathers, appealing to God to show mercy soon to our nation and by afflictions and plagues to make you confess that he alone is God, 38 and through me and my brothers to bring to an end the wrath of the Almighty which has justly fallen on our whole nation."

39 The king fell into a rage, and handled him worse than the others, being exasperated at his scorn. 40 So he died in his integrity, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all, the mother died, after her sons.

42 Let this be enough, then, about the eating of sacrifices and the extreme tortures.

8 But Judas, who was also called Maccabe'us, and his companions secretly entered the villages and summoned their kinsmen and enlisted those who had continued in the Jewish faith, and so they gathered about six thousand men. 2 They besought the Lord to look upon the people who were oppressed by all, and to have pity on the temple which had been profaned by ungodly men,³ and to have mercy on the city which was being destroyed and about to be leveled to the ground, and to hearken to the blood that cried out to him,⁴ and to remember also the lawless destruction of the innocent babies and the blasphemies committed against his name, and to show his hatred of evil.

5 As soon as Maccabe'us got his army organized, the Gentiles could not withstand him, for the wrath of the Lord had turned to mercy.⁶ Coming without warning, he would set fire to towns and villages. He captured strategic positions and put to flight not a few of the enemy.⁷ He found the nights most advantageous for such attacks. And talk of his valor spread everywhere.

8 When Philip saw that the man was gaining ground little by little, and that he was pushing ahead with more frequent successes, he wrote to Ptol'emy, the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, for aid to the king's government.⁹ And Ptol'emy promptly appointed Nica'nor the son of Patroc'ulus, one of the king's chief friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand Gentiles of all nations, to wipe out the whole race of Judea. He associated with him Gor'gias, a general and a man of experience in military service.¹⁰ Nica'nor determined to make up for the king the tribute due to the Romans, two thousand talents, by selling the captured Jews into slavery.¹¹ And he immediately sent to the cities on the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish slaves and promising to hand over ninety slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgment from the Almighty that was about to overtake him.

12 Word came to Judas concerning Nica'nor's invasion; and when he told his companions of the arrival of the army,¹³ those who were cowardly and distrustful of God's justice ran off and got away.¹⁴ Others sold all their remaining property, and at the same time besought the Lord to rescue those who had been sold by the ungodly Nica'nor before he ever met them,¹⁵ if not for their own sake, yet for the sake of the covenants made with their fathers, and because he had called them by his holy and glorious name.¹⁶ But Maccabe'us gathered his men together, to the number of six thousand, and exhorted them not to be frightened by the enemy and not to fear the great multitude of Gentiles who were wickedly coming against them, but to fight nobly,¹⁷ keeping before their eyes the lawless outrage which the Gentiles^o had committed against the holy place, and the torture of the derided city, and besides, the overthrow of their ancestral way of life.¹⁸ "For they trust to arms and acts of daring," he said, "but we trust in the Almighty God, who is able with a single nod to strike down those who are coming against us and even the whole world."¹⁹

19 Moreover, he told them of the times when help came to their ancestors; both the time of Sennach'erib, when one hundred and eighty-five thousand perished,²⁰ and the time of the battle with the Galatians that took place in Babylonia, when eight thousand in all went into the affair, with four thousand Macedo'nians; and when the Macedo'nians were hard pressed, the eight thousand, by the help that came to them from heaven, destroyed one hundred and twenty thousand and took much booty.

21 With these words he filled them with good courage and made them ready to die for their laws and their country; then he divided his army into four parts.²² He appointed his brothers, also, Simon and Joseph and Jonathan, each to command a division, putting fifteen hundred men under each.²³ Besides, he appointed Elea'zar to read aloudⁿ from the holy book, and gave the watchword, "God's help"; then, leading the first division himself, he joined battle with Nica'nor.

24 With the Almighty as their ally, they slew more than nine thousand of the enemy, and wounded and disabled most of Nica'nor's army, and forced them all to flee.²⁵ They captured the money of those who had come to buy them as slaves. After pursuing them for some distance, they were obliged to return because the hour was late.²⁶ For it was the day before the sabbath, ⁿ Gk he ^o Gk they ^p The Greek text of this clause is uncertain and for that reason they did not continue their pursuit. ²⁷And when they had collected the arms of the enemy and stripped them of their spoils, they kept the sabbath, giving great praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preserved them for that day and allotted it to them as the beginning of mercy. ²⁸After the sabbath they gave some of the spoils to those who had been tortured and to the widows and orphans, and distributed the rest among themselves and their children. ²⁹When they had done this, they made common supplication and besought the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.

³⁰In encounters with the forces of Timothy and Bac'chides they killed more than twenty thousand of them and got possession of some exceedingly high strongholds, and they divided very much plunder, giving to those who had been tortured and to the orphans and widows, and also to the aged, shares equal to their own. ³¹Collecting the arms of the enemy,^a they stored them all carefully in strategic places, and carried the rest of the spoils to Jerusalem. ³²They killed the commander of Timothy's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had greatly troubled the Jews. ³³While they were celebrating the victory in the city of their fathers, they burned those who had set fire to the sacred gates, Callis'thenes and some others, who had fled into one little house; so these received the proper recompense for their impiety.^r

³⁴The thrice-accursed Nica'nor, who had brought the thousand merchants to buy the Jews,^s having been humbled with the help of the Lord by opponents whom he regarded as of the least account, took off his splendid uniform and made his way alone like a runaway slave across the country till he reached Antioch, having succeeded chiefly in the destruction of his own army!¹ ³⁶Thus he who had undertaken to secure tribute for the Romans by the capture of the people of Jerusalem proclaimed that the Jews had a Defender, and that therefore the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.

9 About that time, as it happened, Anti'ochus had retreated in disorder from the region of Persia. ²For he had entered the city called Persep'olis, and attempted to rob the temples and control the city. Therefore the people rushed to the rescue with arms, and Anti'ochus and his men were defeated,^s with the result that Anti'ochus was put to flight by the inhabitants and beat a shameful retreat. ³While he was in Ecbat'ana, news came to him of what had happened to Nica'nor and the forces of Timothy. ⁴Transported with rage, he conceived the idea of turning upon the Jews the injury done by those who had put him to flight; so he ordered his charioteer to drive without stopping until he completed the journey. But the judgment of heaven rode with him! For in his arrogance he said, "When I get there I will make Jerusalem a cemetery of Jews."

⁵But the all-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, struck him an incurable and unseen blow. As soon as he ceased speaking he was seized with a pain in his bowels for which there was no relief and with sharp internal tortures—⁶and that very justly, for he had tortured the bowels of others with many and strange inflictions. ⁷Yet he did not in any way stop his insolence, but was even more filled with arrogance, breathing fire in his rage against the Jews, and giving orders to hasten the journey. And so it came about that he fell out of his chariot as it was rushing along, and the fall was so hard as to torture every limb of his body. ⁸Thus he who had just been thinking that he could command the waves of the sea, in his superhuman arrogance, and imagining that he could weigh the high mountains in a balance, was brought down to earth and carried in a litter, making the power of God manifest to all. ⁹And so the ungodly man's body swarmed with worms, and while he was still living in anguish and pain, his flesh rotted away, and because of his stench the whole army felt revulsion at his decay. ¹⁰Because of his intolerable stench no one was able to carry the man who a little while before had thought that he could touch the stars of heaven.

^a Gk their arms ^r The Greek text of this verse is uncertain ^s Gk they were defeated

¹¹ Then it was that, broken in spirit, he began to lose much of his arrogance and to come to his senses under the scourge of God, for he was tortured with pain every moment. ¹² And when he could not endure his own stench, he uttered these words: "It is right to be subject to God, and no mortal should think that he is equal to God."¹

¹³ Then the abominable fellow made a vow to the Lord, who would no longer have mercy on him, stating ¹⁴ that the holy city, which he was hastening to level to the ground and to make a cemetery, he was now declaring to be free; ¹⁵ and the Jews, whom he had not considered worth burying but had planned to throw out with their children to the beasts, for the birds to pick, he would make, all of them, equal to citizens of Athens; ¹⁶ and the holy sanctuary, which he had formerly plundered, he would adorn with the finest offerings; and the holy vessels he would give back, all of them, many times over; and the expenses incurred for the sacrifices he would provide from his own revenues; ¹⁷ and in addition to all this he also would become a Jew and would visit every inhabited place to proclaim the power of God. ¹⁸ But when his sufferings did not in any way abate, for the judgment of God had justly come upon him, he gave up all hope for himself and wrote to the Jews the following letter, in the form of a supplication. This was its content:

¹⁹ "To his worthy Jewish citizens, Anti'ochus their king and general sends hearty greetings and good wishes for their health and prosperity. ²⁰ If you and your children are well and your affairs are as you wish, I am glad. As my hope is in heaven, ²¹ I remember with affection your esteem and good will. On my way back from the region of Persia I suffered an annoying illness, and I have deemed it necessary to take thought for the general security of all. ²² I do not despair of my condition, for I have good hope of recovering from my illness, ²³ but I observed that my father, on the occasions when he made expeditions into the upper country, appointed his successor, ²⁴ so that, if anything unexpected happened or any unwelcome news came, the people throughout the realm would not be troubled, for they would know to whom the government was left. ²⁵ Moreover, I understand how the princes along the borders and the neighbors to my kingdom keep watching for opportunities and waiting to see what will happen. So I have appointed my son Anti'ochus to be king, whom I have often entrusted and commended to most of you when I hastened off to the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written here. ²⁶ I therefore urge and beseech you to remember the public and private services rendered to you and to maintain your present good will, each of you, toward me and my son. ²⁷ For I am sure that he will follow my policy and will treat you with moderation and kindness."

²⁸ So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the most intense suffering, such as he had inflicted on others, came to the end of his life by a most pitiable fate, among the mountains in a strange land. ²⁹ And Philip, one of his courtiers, took his body home; then, fearing the son of Anti'ochus, he betook himself to Ptol'emy Philome'tor in Egypt.

10 Now Maccabe'us and his followers, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city; ² and they tore down the altars which had been built in the public square by the foreigners, and also destroyed the sacred precincts. ³ They purified the sanctuary, and made another altar of sacrifice; then, striking fire out of flint, they offered sacrifices, after a lapse of two years, and they burned incense and lighted lamps and set out the bread of the Presence. ⁴ And when they had done this, they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might never again fall into such misfortunes, but that, if they should ever sin, they might be disciplined by him with forbearance and not be handed over to blasphemous and barbarous nations. ⁵ It happened that on the same day on which the sanctuary had been profaned by the foreigners, the purification of the sanctuary took place, that is, on the twenty-fifth day of the same month,

which was Chisleu. ⁶And they celebrated it for eight days with rejoicing, in the manner of the feast of booths, remembering how not long before, during the feast of booths, they had been wandering in the mountains and caves like wild animals. ⁷Therefore bearing ivy-wreathed wands and beautiful branches and also fronds of palm, they offered hymns of thanksgiving to him who had given success to the purifying of his own holy place. ⁸They decreed by public ordinance and vote that the whole nation of the Jews should observe these days every year.

⁹Such then was the end of Anti'ochus who was called Epiph'anes.

¹⁰Now we will tell what took place under Anti'ochus Eu'pator, who was the son of that ungodly man, and will give a brief summary of the principal calamities of the wars. ¹¹This man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one Lys'ias to have charge of the government and to be chief governor of Coele-syria and Phoen'icia. ¹²Ptol'emy, who was called Macron, took the lead in showing justice to the Jews because of the wrong that had been done to them, and attempted to maintain peaceful relations with them. ¹³As a result he was accused before Eu'pator by the king's friends. He heard himself called a traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned Cyprus, which Philome'tor had entrusted to him, and had gone over to Anti'ochus Epiph'anes. Unable to command the respect due his office,^u he took poison and ended his life.

¹⁴When Gor'gias became governor of the region, he maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept on warring against the Jews. ¹⁵Besides this, the Idume'ans, who had control of important strongholds, were harassing the Jews; they received those who were banished from Jerusalem, and endeavored to keep up the war. ¹⁶But Maccabe'us and his men, after making solemn supplication and beseeching God to fight on their side, rushed to the strongholds of the Idume'ans. ¹⁷Attacking them vigorously, they gained possession of the places, and beat off all who fought upon the wall, and slew those whom they encountered, killing no fewer than twenty thousand.

¹⁸When no less than nine thousand took refuge in two very strong towers well equipped to withstand a siege, ¹⁹Maccabe'us left Simon and Joseph, and also Zacchae'us and his men, a force sufficient to besiege them; and he himself set off for places where he was more urgently needed. ²⁰But the men with Simon, who were money-hungry, were bribed by some of those who were in the towers, and on receiving seventy thousand drachmas let some of them slip away. ²¹When word of what had happened came to Maccabe'us, he gathered the leaders of the people, and accused these men of having sold their brethren for money by setting their enemies free to fight against them. ²²Then he slew these men who had turned traitor, and immediately captured the two towers. ²³Having success at arms in everything he undertook, he destroyed more than twenty thousand in the two strongholds.

²⁹When the battle became fierce, there appeared to the enemy from heaven five resplendent men on horses with golden bridles, and they were leading the Jews. ³⁰Surrounding Maccabe'us and protecting him with their own

armor and weapons, they kept him from being wounded. And they showered arrows and thunderbolts upon the enemy, so that, confused and blinded, they were thrown into disorder and cut to pieces. ³¹ Twenty thousand five hundred were slaughtered, besides six hundred horsemen.

³² Timothy himself fled to a stronghold called Gazar'a, especially well garrisoned, where Chae'reas was commander. ³³ Then Maccabe'us and his men were glad, and they besieged the fort for four days. ³⁴ The men within, relying on the strength of the place, blasphemed terribly and hurled out wicked words. ³⁵ But at dawn on the fifth day, twenty young men in the army of Maccabe'us, fired with anger because of the blasphemies, bravely stormed the wall and with savage fury cut down every one they met. ³⁶ Others who came up in the same way wheeled around against the defenders and set fire to the towers; they kindled fires and burned the blasphemers alive. Others broke open the gates and let in the rest of the force, and they occupied the city. ³⁷ They killed Timothy, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chae'reas, and Apollophanes. ³⁸ When they had accomplished these things, with hymns and thanksgivings they blessed the Lord who shows great kindness to Israel and gives them the victory.

11 Very soon after this, Lys'ias, the king's guardian and kinsman, who was in charge of the government, being vexed at what had happened, ² gathered about eighty thousand men and all his cavalry and came against the Jews. He intended to make the city a home for Greeks, ³ and to levy tribute on the temple as he did on the sacred places of the other nations, and to put up the high priesthood for sale every year. ⁴ He took no account whatever of the power of God, but was elated with his ten thousands of infantry, and his thousands of cavalry, and his eighty elephants. ⁵ Invading Judca, he approached Bethzur, which was a fortified place about five leagues^v from Jerusalem, and pressed it hard.

⁶ When Maccabe'us and his men got word that Lys'ias^w was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people, with lamentations and tears, besought the Lord to send a good angel to save Israel. ⁷ Maccabe'us himself was the first to take up arms, and he urged the others to risk their lives with him to aid their brethren. Then they eagerly rushed off together. ⁸ And there, while they were still near Jerusalem, a horseman appeared at their head, clothed in white and brandishing weapons of gold. ⁹ And they all together praised the merciful God, and were strengthened in heart, ready to assail not only men but the wildest beasts or walls of iron. ¹⁰ They advanced in battle order, having their heavenly ally, for the Lord had mercy on them. ¹¹ They hurled themselves like lions against the enemy, and slew eleven thousand of them and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. ¹² Most of them got away stripped and wounded, and Lys'ias himself escaped by disgraceful flight. ¹³ And as he was not without intelligence, he pondered over the defeat which had befallen him, and realized that the Hebrews were invincible because the mighty God fought on their side. So he sent to them ¹⁴ and persuaded them to settle everything on just terms, promising that he would persuade the king, constraining him to be their friend.^x ¹⁵ Maccabe'us, having regard for the common good, agreed to all that Lys'ias urged. For the king granted every request in behalf of the Jews which Maccabe'us delivered to Lys'ias in writing.

¹⁶ The letter written to the Jews by Lys'ias was to this effect:

"Lys'ias to the people of the Jews, greeting. ¹⁷ John and Ab'salom, who were sent by you, have delivered your signed communication and have asked about the matters indicated therein. ¹⁸ I have informed the king of everything that needed to be brought before him, and he has agreed to what was possible. ¹⁹ If you will maintain your good will toward the government, I will endeavor for the future to help promote your welfare. ²⁰ And concerning these matters and their details, I have ordered these men and my representatives to confer with you. ²¹ Farewell. hundred and forty-eighth year,^y Dios-corin^z thus twenty-fourth.^z

22 The king's letter ran thus:

"King Anti'ochus to his brother Lys'-ias, greeting. ²³ Now that our father has gone on to the gods, we desire that the subjects of the kingdom be undisturbed in caring for their own affairs. ²⁴ We have heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's change to Greek customs but prefer their own way of living and ask that their own customs be allowed them. ²⁵ Accordingly, since we choose that this nation also be free from disturbance, our decision is that their temple be restored to them and that they live according to the customs of their ancestors. ²⁶ You will do well, therefore, to send word to them and give them pledges of friendship, so that they may know our policy and be of good cheer and go on happily in the conduct of their own affairs."

27 To the nation the king's letter was as follows:

"King Anti'ochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. ²⁸ If you are well, it is as we desire. We also are in good health. ²⁹ Menela'us has informed us that you wish to return home and look after your own affairs. ³⁰ Therefore those who go home by the thirtieth day of Xan'thicus will have our pledge of friendship and full permission ³¹ for the Jews to enjoy their own food and laws, just as formerly, and none of them shall be molested in any way for what he may have done in ignorance. ³² And I have also sent Menela'us to encourage you. ³³ Farewell. The one hundred and forty-eighth year,^c Xan'thicus fifteenth."

34 The Romans also sent them a letter which read thus:

"Quintus Mem'nius and Titus Man'-ius, envoys of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greeting. ³⁵ With regard to what Lys'ias the kinsman of the king has granted you, we also give consent. ³⁶ But as to the matters which he decided are to be referred to the king, as soon as you have considered them, send some one promptly, so that we may make proposals appropriate for you. For we are on our way to Antioch. ³⁷ Therefore make haste and send some men, so that we may have your judgment. ³⁸ Farewell. The one hundred and forty-eighth year,^a Xan'thicus fifteenth."

12 When this agreement had been reached, Lys'ias returned to the king, and the Jews went about their farming.

2 But some of the governors in various places, Timothy and Apollo'nus the son of Gennae'us, as well as Hiero'nymus and De'mophon, and in addition to these Nica'nor the governor of Cyprus, would not let them live quietly and in peace. ³ And some men of Joppa did so ungodly a deed as this: they invited the Jews who lived among them to embark, with their wives and children, on boats which they had provided, as though there were no ill will to the Jews;^b ⁴ and this was done by public vote of the city. And when they accepted, because they wished to live peaceably and suspected nothing, the men of Joppa^c took them out to sea and drowned them, not less than two hundred. ⁵ When Judas heard of the cruelty visited on his countrymen, he gave orders to his men ⁶ and, calling upon God the righteous Judge, attacked the murderers of his brethren. He set fire to the harbor by night, and burned the boats, and massacred those who had taken refuge there. ⁷ Then, because the city's gates were closed, he withdrew, intending to come again and root out the whole community of Joppa. ⁸ But learning that the men in Jam'nia meant in the same way to wipe out the Jews who were living among them, ⁹ he attacked the people of Jam'nia by night and set fire to the harbor and the fleet, so that the glow of the light was seen in Jerusalem, thirty miles^d distant.

10 When they had gone more than a mile^e from there, on their march against Timothy, not less than five thousand Arabs with five hundred horsemen attacked them. ¹¹ After a hard fight Judas and his men won the victory, by the help of God. The defeated nomads besought Judas to grant them pledges of friendship, promising to give him cattle and to help his people^f in all other ways. ¹² Judas, thinking that they might really be useful in many ways, agreed to make peace with them; and after receiving his pledges they departed to their tents.

¹³ He also attacked a certain city which was strongly fortified with earthworks^g and walls, and inhabited by all sorts of Gentiles. Its name was Caspin. ¹⁴ And those who were within, relying on the strength of the walls and on their supply of provisions, behaved most insolently toward Judas and his men, railing at them and even blaspheming and saying unholy things. ¹⁵ But Judas and his men, calling upon the great Sovereign of the world, who without battering-rams or engines of war overthrew Jericho in the days of Joshua, rushed furiously upon the walls. ¹⁶ They took the city by the will of God, and slaughtered untold numbers, so that the adjoining lake, a quarter of a mile^h wide, appeared to be running over with blood.

¹⁷ When they had gone ninety-five milesⁱ from there, they came to Charax, to the Jews who are called Toubia'ni. ¹⁸ They did not find Timothy in that region, for he had by then departed from the region without accomplishing anything, though in one place he had left a very strong garrison. ¹⁹ Dosith'eus and Sosip'ater, who were captains under Maccabe'us, marched out and destroyed those whom Timothy had left in the stronghold, more than ten thousand men. ²⁰ But Maccabe'us arranged his army in divisions, set men^j in command of the divisions, and hastened after Timothy, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand infantry and two thousand five hundred cavalry. ²¹ When Timothy learned of the approach of Judas, he sent off the women and the children and also the baggage to a place called Car'naim; for that place was hard to besiege and difficult of access because of the narrowness of all the approaches. ²² But when Judas' first division appeared, terror and fear came over the enemy at the manifestation to them of him who sees all things, and they rushed off in flight and were swept on, this way and that, so that often they were injured by their own men and pierced by the points of their swords. ²³ And Judas pressed the pursuit with the utmost vigor, putting the sinners to the sword, and destroyed as many as thirty thousand men.

²⁴ Timothy himself fell into the hands of Dosith'eus and Sosip'ater and their men. With great guile he besought them to let him go in safety, because he held the parents of most of them and the brothers of some and no consideration would be shown them. ²⁵ And when with many words he had confirmed his solemn promise to restore them unharmed, they let him go, for the sake of saving their brethren.

²⁶ Then Judas^k marched against Car'naim and the temple of Atar'gatis, and slaughtered twenty-five thousand people. ²⁷ After the rout and destruction of these, he marched also against Ephron, a fortified city where Lys'ias dwelt with multitudes of people of all nationalities.^l Stalwart young men took their stand before the walls and made a vigorous defence; and great stores of war engines and missiles were there. ²⁸ But the Jews^m called upon the Sovereign who with power shatters the might of his enemies, and they got the city into their hands, and killed as many as twenty-five thousand of those who were within it.

²⁹ Setting out from there, they hastened to Scythop'olis, which is seventy-five milesⁿ from Jerusalem. ³⁰ But when the Jews who dwell there bore witness to the good will which the people of Scythop'olis had shown them and their kind treatment of them in times of misfortune, ³¹ they thanked them and exhorted them to be well disposed to their race in the future also. Then they went up to Jerusalem, as the feast of weeks was close at hand.

³² After the feast called Pentecost, they hastened against Gor'gias, the governor of Idume'a. ³³ And he came out with three thousand infantry and four hundred cavalry. ³⁴ When they joined battle, it happened that a few of the Jews fell. ³⁵ But a certain Dosith'eus, one of Bace'nor's men, who was on horseback and was a strong man, caught hold of Gor'gias, and grasping his cloak was dragging him off by main strength, wishing to take the accursed man alive, when one of the Thracian horsemen bore down upon him and cut off his arm; so Gor'gias escaped and reached Mar'isa.

36 As Esdris and his men had been fighting for a long time and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord to show himself their ally and leader in the battle. 37 In the language of their fathers he raised the battle cry, with hymns; then he charged against Gor'gias' men when they were not expecting it, and put them to flight.

38 Then Judas assembled his army and went to the city of Adullam. As the seventh day was coming on, they purified themselves according to the custom, and they kept the sabbath there.

39 On the next day, as by that time it had become necessary, Judas and his men went to take up the bodies of the fallen and to bring them back to lie with their kinsmen in the sepulchres of their fathers. 40 Then under the tunic of every one of the dead they found sacred tokens of the idols of Jam'nia, which the law forbids the Jews to wear. And it became clear to all that this was why these men had fallen. 41 So they all blessed the ways of the Lord, the righteous Judge, who reveals the things that are hidden; 42 and they turned to prayer, beseeching that the sin which had been committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves free from sin, for they had seen with their own eyes what had happened because of the sin of those who had fallen. 43 He also took up a collection, man by man, to the amount of two thousand drachmas of silver, and sent it to Jerusalem to provide for a sin offering. In doing this he acted very well and honorably, taking account of the resurrection. 44 For if he were not expecting that those who had fallen would rise again, it would have been superfluous and foolish to pray for the dead. 45 But if he was looking to the splendid reward that is laid up for those who fall asleep in godliness, it was a holy and pious thought. Therefore he made atonement for the dead, that they might be delivered from their sin.

13 In the one hundred and forty-ninth year^o word came to Judas and his men that Anti'ochus Eu'pator was coming with a great army against Judea, 2 and with him Lys'ias, his guardian, who had charge of the government. Each of them had a Greek force of one hundred and ten thousand infantry, five thousand three hundred cavalry, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.

3 Menela'us also joined them and with utter hypocrisy urged Anti'ochus on, not for the sake of his country's welfare, but because he thought that he would be established in office. 4 But the King of kings aroused the anger of Anti'ochus against the scoundrel; and when Lys'ias informed him that this man was to blame for all the trouble, he ordered them to take him to Beroe'a and to put him to death by the method which is the custom in that place. 5 For there is a tower in that place, fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it has a rim running around it which on all sides inclines precipitously into the ashes. 6 There they all push to destruction any man guilty of sacrilege or notorious for other crimes. 7 By such a fate it came about that Menela'us the lawbreaker died, without even burial in the earth. 8 And this was eminently just; because he had committed many sins against the altar whose fire and ashes were holy, he met his death in ashes.

9 The king with barbarous arrogance was coming to show to the Jews things far worse than those that had been done^o in his father's time. 10 But when Judas heard of this, he ordered the people to call upon the Lord day and night, now if ever to help those who were on the point of being deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple, 11 and not to let the people who had just begun to revive fall into the hands of the blasphemous Gentiles. 12 When they had all joined in the same petition and had besought the merciful Lord with weeping and fasting and lying prostrate for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and ordered them to stand ready.

13 After consulting privately with the elders, he determined to march out and decide the matter by the help of God before the king's army could enter Judea and get possession of the city. ¹⁴ So, committing the decision to the Creator of the world and exhorting his men to fight nobly to the death for the laws, temple, city, country, and commonwealth, he pitched his camp near Mo'de-in. ¹⁵ He gave his men the watchword, "God's victory," and with a picked force of the bravest young men, he attacked the king's pavilion at night and slew as many as two thousand men in the camp. He stabbed the leading elephant and its rider. ¹⁶ In the end they filled the camp with terror and confusion and withdrew in triumph. ¹⁷ This happened, just as day was dawning, because the Lord's help protected him.

¹⁸ The king, having had a taste of the daring of the Jews, tried strategy in attacking their positions. ¹⁹ He advanced against Beth-zur, a strong fortress of the Jews, was turned back, attacked again, and was defeated. ²⁰ Judas sent in to the garrison whatever was necessary. ²¹ But Rhod'ocus, a man from the ranks of the Jews, gave secret information to the enemy; he was sought for, caught, and put in prison. ²² The king negotiated a second time with the people in Beth-zur, gave pledges, received theirs, withdrew, attacked Judas and his men, was defeated; ²³ he got word that Philip, who had been left in charge of the government, had revolted in Antioch; he was dismayed, called in the Jews, yielded and swore to observe all their rights, settled with them and offered sacrifice, honored the sanctuary and showed generosity to the holy place. ²⁴ He received Maccabe'us, left Hegemon'ides as governor from Ptolema'is to Gerar, ²⁵ and went to Ptolema'is. The people of Ptolema'is were indignant over the treaty; in fact they were so angry that they wanted to annul its terms. ²⁶ Lys'ias took the public platform, made the best possible defense, convinced them, appeased them, gained their good will, and set out for Antioch. This is how the king's attack and withdrawal turned out.

14 Three years later, word came to Judas and his men that Deme'trius, the son of Seleu'cus, had sailed into the harbor of Trip'olis with a strong army and a fleet, ² and had taken possession of the country, having made away with Anti'ochus and his guardian Lys'ias.

³ Now a certain Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest but had wilfully defiled himself in the times of separation, realized that there was no way for him to be safe or to have access again to the holy altar, ⁴ and went to King Deme'trius in about the one hundred and fifty-first year, presenting to him a crown of gold and a palm, and besides these some of the customary olive branches from the temple. During that day he kept quiet. ⁵ But he found an opportunity that furthered his mad purpose when he was invited by Deme'trius to a meeting of the council and was asked about the disposition and intentions of the Jews. He answered:

⁶ "Those of the Jews who are called Haside'ans, whose leader is Judas Maccabe'us, are keeping up war and stirring up sedition, and will not let the kingdom attain tranquility. ⁷ Therefore I have laid aside my ancestral glory—I mean the high priesthood—and have now come here, ⁸ first because I am genuinely concerned for the interests of the king, and second because I have regard also for my fellow citizens. For through the folly of those whom I have mentioned our whole nation is now in no small misfortune. ⁹ Since you are acquainted, O king, with the details of this matter, deign to take thought for our country and our hard-pressed nation with the gracious kindness which you show to all. ¹⁰ For as long as Judas lives, it is impossible for the government to find peace."

¹¹ When he had said this, the rest of the king's friends, who were hostile to Judas, quickly inflamed Deme'trius still more. ¹² And he immediately chose Nica'nor, who had been in command of the elephants, appointed him governor of Judea, and sent him off ¹³ with orders to kill Judas and scatter his men, and to set up Alcimus as high priest of the greatest temple. ¹⁴ And the Gentiles throughout Judea, who had fled before Judas, flocked to join Nica'nor, thinking that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would mean prosperity for themselves.

15 When the Jews^v heard of Nica'nor's coming and the gathering of the Gentiles, they sprinkled dust upon their heads and prayed to him who established his own people for ever and always upholds his own heritage by manifesting himself. ¹⁶At the command of the leader, they^w set out from there immediately and engaged them in battle at a village called Dessau.^x ¹⁷Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nica'nor, but had been temporarily^y checked because of the sudden consternation created by the enemy.

18 Nevertheless Nica'nor, hearing of the valor of Judas and his men and their courage in battle for their country, shrank from deciding the issue by bloodshed. ¹⁹Therefore he sent Posidonius and Theodoros and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. ²⁰When the terms had been fully considered, and the leader had informed the people, and it appeared that they were of one mind, they agreed to the covenant. ²¹And the leaders^z set a day on which to meet by themselves. A chariot came forward from each army; seats of honor were set in place; ²²Judas posted armed men in readiness at key places to prevent sudden treachery on the part of the enemy; they held the proper conference.

23 Nica'nor stayed on in Jerusalem and did nothing out of the way, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered. ²⁴And he kept Judas always in his presence; he was warmly attached to the man. ²⁵And he urged him to marry and have children; so he married, settled down, and shared the common life.

26 But when Alcimus noticed their good will for one another, he took the covenant that had been made and went to Demetrius. He told him that Nica'nor was disloyal to the government, for he had appointed that conspirator against the kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. ²⁷The king became excited and, provoked by the false accusations of that depraved man, wrote to Nica'nor, stating that he was displeased with the covenant and commanding him to send Macca-be'us to Antioch as a prisoner without delay.

28 When this message came to Nica'nor, he was troubled and grieved that he had to annul their agreement when the man had done no wrong. ²⁹Since it was not possible to oppose the king, he watched for an opportunity to accomplish this by a stratagem. ³⁰But Macca-be'us, noticing that Nica'nor was more austere in his dealings with him and was meeting him more rudely than had been his custom, concluded that this austerity did not spring from the best motives. So he gathered not a few of his men, and went into hiding from Nica'nor.

31 When the latter became aware that he had been cleverly outwitted by the man, he went to the great^a and holy temple while the priests were offering the customary sacrifices, and commanded them to hand the man over. ³²And when they declared on oath that they did not know where the man was whom he sought, ³³he stretched out his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: "If you do not hand Judas over to me as a prisoner, I will level this precinct of God to the ground and tear down the altar, and I will build here a splendid temple to Dionysus."

34 Having said this, he went away. Then the priests stretched forth their hands toward heaven and called upon the constant Defender of our nation, in these words: ³⁵"O Lord of all, who hast need of nothing, thou wast pleased that there be a temple for thy habitation among us; ³⁶so now, O holy One, Lord of all holiness, keep undefiled for ever this house that has been so recently purified."

37 A certain Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, was denounced to Nica'nor as a man who loved his fellow citizens and was very well thought of and for his good will was called father of the Jews. ³⁸For in former times, when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaism, and for Judaism he had with all zeal risked body and life. ³⁹Nica'nor, wishing to exhibit the enmity which he had for the Jews, sent more than five hundred soldiers to arrest him; ⁴⁰for he thought that by arresting^b him he would do them an injury. ⁴¹ When the troops were about to capture the tower and were forcing the door of the courtyard, they ordered that fire be brought and the doors burned. Being surrounded, Razis^c fell upon his own sword, ⁴² preferring to die nobly rather than to fall into the hands of sinners and suffer outrages unworthy of his noble birth. ⁴³ But in the heat of the struggle he did not hit exactly, and the crowd was now rushing in through the doors. He bravely ran up on the wall, and manfully threw himself down into the crowd. ⁴⁴ But as they quickly drew back, a space opened and he fell in the middle of the empty space. ⁴⁵ Still alive and aflame with anger, he rose, and though his blood gushed forth and his wounds were severe he ran through the crowd; and standing upon a steep rock, ⁴⁶ with his blood now completely drained from him, he tore out his entrails, took them with both hands and hurled them at the crowd, calling upon the Lord of life and spirit to give them back to him again. This was the manner of his death.

15 When Nica' nor heard that Judas and his men were in the region of Samar'ia, he made plans to attack them with complete safety on the day of rest. ² And when the Jews who were compelled to follow him said, "Do not destroy so savagely and barbarously, but show respect for the day which he who sees all things has honored and hallowed above other days," ³ the thrice-cursed wretch asked if there were a sovereign in heaven who had commanded the keeping of the sabbath day. ⁴ And when they declared, "It is the living Lord himself, the Sovereign in heaven, who ordered us to observe the seventh day," ⁵ he replied, "And I am a sovereign also, on earth, and I command you to take up arms and finish the king's business." Nevertheless, he did not succeed in carrying out his abominable design.

⁶ This Nica' nor in his utter boastfulness and arrogance had determined to erect a public monument of victory over Judas and his men. ⁷ But Maccabe'us did not cease to trust with all confidence that he would get help from the Lord. ⁸ And he exhorted his men not to fear the attack of the Gentiles, but to keep in mind the former times when help had come to them from heaven, and now to look for the victory which the Almighty would give them. ⁹ Encouraging them from the law and the prophets, and reminding them also of the struggles they had won, he made them the more eager. ¹⁰ And when he had aroused their courage, he gave his orders, at the same time pointing out the perfidy of the Gentiles and their violation of oaths. ¹¹ He armed each of them not so much with confidence in shields and spears as with the inspiration of brave words, and he cheered them all by relating a dream, a sort of vision,^d which was worthy of belief.

¹² What he saw was this: Oni'as, who had been high priest, a noble and good man, of modest bearing and gentle manner, one who spoke fittingly and had been trained from childhood in all that belongs to excellence, was praying with outstretched hands for the whole body of the Jews. ¹³ Then likewise a man appeared, distinguished by his grey hair and dignity, and of marvelous majesty and authority. ¹⁴ And Oni'as spoke, saying, "This is a man who loves the brethren and prays much for the people and the holy city, Jeremiah, the prophet of God." ¹⁵ Jeremiah stretched out his right hand and gave to Judas a golden sword, and as he gave it he addressed him thus: ¹⁶ "Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with which you will strike down your adversaries."

¹⁷ Encouraged by the words of Judas, so noble and so effective in arousing valor and awaking manliness in the souls of the young, they determined not to carry on a campaign but to attack bravely, and to decide the matter, by fighting hand to hand with all courage, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. ¹⁸ Their concern for wives and children, and also for brethren and relatives, lay upon them less heavily; their greatest and first fear was for the consecrated sanctuary. ¹⁹ And those who had to remain in the city were in no little distress, being anxious over the encounter in the open country.

²⁰ When all were now looking forward to the coming decision, and the enemy was already close at hand with their army drawn up for battle, the elephants^e strategically stationed and the cavalry deployed on the flanks,²¹ Maccabe'us, perceiving the hosts that were before him and the varied supply of arms and the savagery of the elephants,^e stretched out his hands toward heaven and called upon the Lord who works wonders; for he knew that it is not by arms, but as the Lord^f decides, that he gains the victory for those who deserve it.²² And he called upon him in these words: "O Lord, thou didst send thy angel in the time of Hezeki'ah king of Judea, and he slew fully a hundred and eighty-five thousand in the camp of Sennach'erib.²³ So now, O Sovereign of the heavens, send a good angel to carry terror and trembling before us.²⁴ By the might of thy arm may these blasphemers who come against thy holy people be struck down." With these words he ended his prayer.

25 Nica'nor and his men advanced with trumpets and battle songs;²⁶ and Judas and his men met the enemy in battle with invocation to God and prayers.²⁷ So, fighting with their hands and praying to God in their hearts, they laid low no less than thirty-five thousand men, and were greatly gladdened by God's manifestation.

28 When the action was over and they were returning with joy, they recognized Nica'nor, lying dead, in full armor.²⁹ Then there was shouting and tumult, and they blessed the Sovereign Lord in the language of their fathers.³⁰ And the man who was ever in body and soul the defender of his fellow citizens, the man who maintained his youthful good will toward his countrymen, ordered them to cut off Nica'nor's head and arm and carry them to Jerusalem.³¹ And when he arrived there and had called his countrymen together and stationed the priests before the altar, he sent for those who were in the citadel.³² He showed them the vile Nica'nor's head and that profane man's arm, which had been boastfully stretched out against the holy house of the Almighty;³³ and he cut out the tongue of the ungodly Nica'nor and said that he would give it piecemeal to the birds and hang up these rewards of his folly opposite the sanctuary.³⁴ And they all, looking to heaven, blessed the Lord who had manifested himself, saying, "Blessed is he who has kept his own place undefiled."³⁵ And he hung Nica'nor's head from the citadel, a clear and conspicuous sign to every one of the help of the Lord.³⁶ And they all decreed by public vote never to let this day go unobserved, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month—which is called Adar in the Syrian language—the day before Mor'decai's day.

37 This, then, is how matters turned out with Nica'nor. And from that time the city has been in the possession of the Hebrews. So I too will here end my story.³⁸ If it is well told and to the point, that is what I myself desired; if it is poorly done and mediocre, that was the best I could do.³⁹ For just as it is harmful to drink wine alone, or, again, to drink water alone, while wine mixed with water is sweet and delicious and enhances one's enjoyment, so also the style of the story delights the ears of those who read the work. And here will be the end.

ESDRAS

1 Josi'ah kept the passover to his Lord in Jerusalem; he killed the passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the first month, ² having placed the priests according to their divisions, arrayed in their garments, in the temple of the Lord. ³ And he told the Levites, the temple servants of Israel, that they should sanctify themselves to the Lord and put the holy ark of the Lord in the house which Solomon the king, the son of David, had built; ⁴ and he said, "You need no longer carry it upon your shoulders. Now worship the Lord your God and serve his people Israel; and prepare yourselves by your families and kindred, ⁵ in accordance with the directions of David king of Israel and the magnificence of Solomon his son. Stand in order in the temple according to the grouping of the fathers' houses of you Levites, who minister before your brethren the people of Israel, ⁶ and kill the passover lamb and prepare the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord which was given to Moses."

⁷ And Josi'ah gave to the people who were present thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves; these were given from the king's possessions, as he promised, to the people and the priests and Levites. ⁸ And Hilki'ah, Zechari'ah, and Jehi'el, ^a the chief officers of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand six hundred sheep and three hundred calves. ⁹ And Jeconiah and Shemai'ah and Nathan'el his brother, and Hashabi'ah and Ochiel and Joram, captains over thousands, gave the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep and seven hundred calves.

¹⁰ And this is what took place. The priests and the Levites, properly arrayed and having the unleavened bread, stood according to kindred ¹¹ and the grouping of the fathers' houses, before the people, to make the offering to the Lord as it is written in the book of Moses; this they did in the morning. ¹² They roasted the passover lamb with fire, as required; and they boiled the sacrifices in brass pots and caldrons, with a pleasing odor, ¹³ and carried them to all the people. Afterward they prepared the passover for themselves and for their brethren the priests, the sons of Aaron, ¹⁴ because the priests were offering the fat until night; so the Levites prepared it for themselves and for their brethren the priests, the sons of Aaron. ¹⁵ And the temple singers, the sons of Asaph, were in their place according to the arrangement made by David, and also Asaph, Zechari'ah, and Eddi'nus, who represented the king. ¹⁶ The gatekeepers were at each gate; no one needed to depart from his duties, for their brethren the Levites prepared the passover for them.

¹⁷ So the things that had to do with the sacrifices to the Lord were accomplished that day: the passover was kept ¹⁸ and the sacrifices were offered on the altar of the Lord, according to the command of King Josi'ah. ¹⁹ And the people of Israel who were present at that time kept the passover and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. ²⁰ No passover like it had been kept in Israel since the times of Samuel the prophet; ²¹ none of the kings of Israel had kept such a passover as was kept by Josi'ah and the priests and the Levites and the men of Judah and all of Israel who were dwelling in Jerusalem. ²² In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josi'ah this passover was kept. ²³ And the deeds of Josi'ah were upright in the sight of his Lord, for his heart was full of godliness. ²⁴ The events of his reign have been recorded in the past, concerning those who sinned and acted wickedly toward the Lord beyond any other people or kingdom, and how they grieved the Lord^b deeply, so that the words of the Lord rose up against Israel.

25 After all these acts of Josi'ah, it happened that Pharaoh, king of Egypt, went to make war at Car'chemish on the Eu-phra'tes, and Josi'ah went out against him. ²⁶And the king of Egypt sent word to him saying, "What have we to do with each other, king of Judea? ²⁷I was not sent against you by the Lord God, for my war is at the Eu-phra'tes. And now the Lord is with me! The Lord is with me, urging me on! Stand aside, and do not oppose the Lord."

28 But Josi'ah did not turn back to his chariot, but tried to fight with him, and did not heed the words of Jeremiah the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. ²⁹He joined battle with him in the plain of Megid'do, and the commanders came down against King Josi'ah. ³⁰And the king said to his servants, "Take me away from the battle, for I am very weak." And immediately his servants took him out of the line of battle. ³¹And he got into his second chariot; and after he was brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the tomb of his fathers. ³²And in all Judea they mourned for Josi'ah. Jeremiah the prophet lamented for Josi'ah, and the principal men, with the women,^c have made lamentation for him to this day; it was ordained that this should always be done throughout the whole nation of Israel. ³³These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judea; and every one of the acts of Josi'ah, and his splendor, and his understanding of the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before and these that are now told, are recorded in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

34 And the men of the nation took Jeconiah the son of Josi'ah, who was twenty-three years old, and made him king in succession to Josi'ah his father. ³⁵And he reigned three months in Judah and Jerusalem. Then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem, ³⁶and fined the nation a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold. ³⁷And the king of Egypt made Jehoi'akim his brother king of Judea and Jerusalem. ³⁸Jehoi'akim put the nobles in prison, and seized his brother Zar'ius and brought him up out of Egypt.

39 Jehoi'akim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign in Judea and Jerusalem, and he did what was evil in the sight of the Lord. ⁴⁰And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against him, and bound him with a chain of brass and took him away to Babylon. ⁴¹Nebuchadnezzar also took some of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and stored them in his temple in Babylon. ⁴²But the things that are reported about Jehoi'akim^d and his uncleanness and impiety are written in the chronicles of the kings.

43 Jehoi'achin^e his son became king in his stead; when he was made king he was eighteen years old, ⁴⁴and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. He did what was evil in the sight of the Lord. ⁴⁵So after a year Nebuchadnezzar sent and removed him to Babylon, with the holy vessels of the Lord, ⁴⁶and made Zedekiah king of Judea and Jerusalem.

Zedekiah was twenty-one years old, and he reigned eleven years. ⁴⁷He also did what was evil in the sight of the Lord, and did not heed the words that were spoken by Jeremiah the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. ⁴⁸And though King Nebuchadnezzar had made him swear by the name of the Lord, he broke his oath and rebelled; and he stiffened his neck and hardened his heart and transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁴⁹Even the leaders of the people and of the priests committed many acts of sacrilege and lawlessness beyond all the unclean deeds of all the nations, and polluted the temple of the Lord which had been hallowed in Jerusalem. ⁵⁰So the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he would have spared them and his dwelling place. ⁵¹But they mocked his messengers, and whenever the Lord spoke, they scoffed at his prophets, ⁵²until in his anger against his people because of their ungodly acts he gave command to bring against them the kings of the Chalde'ans. ⁵³These slew their young men with the sword around their holy temple, and did not spare young man or virgin, old man or child, for he gave them all into their hands. ⁵⁴And all the holy vessels of the Lord, great and small, and the treasure chests of the Lord, and the royal stores, they took and carried away to Babylon. ⁵⁵And they burned the house of the Lord and broke down the walls of Jerusalem and burned their towers with fire, ⁵⁶and utterly destroyed all its glorious things. The survivors he led away to Babylon with the sword, ⁵⁷and they were servants to him and to his sons until the Persians began to reign, in fulfilment of the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah: ⁵⁸"Until the land has enjoyed its sabbaths, it shall keep sabbath all the time of its desolation until the completion of seventy years."

2 In the first year of Cyrus as king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accomplished, ²the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom and also put it in writing:

³"Thus says Cyrus king of the Persians: The Lord of Israel, the Lord Most High, has made me king of the world, ⁴and he has commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judea. ⁵If any one of you, therefore, is of his people, may his Lord be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel—he is the Lord who dwells in Jerusalem; ⁶and let each man, wherever he may live, be helped by the men of his place with gold and silver, ⁷with gifts, and with horses and cattle, besides the other things added as votive offerings for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem."

⁸Then arose the heads of families of the tribes of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, and all whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up to build the house in Jerusalem for the Lord; ⁹and their neighbors helped them with everything, with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with a very great number of votive offerings from many whose hearts were stirred.

¹⁰Cyrus the king also brought out the holy vessels of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and stored in his temple of idols. ¹¹When Cyrus king of the Persians brought these out, he gave them to Mithridates his treasurer, ¹²and by him they were given to Shesh-bazzar the governor of Judea. ¹³The number of these was: a thousand gold cups, a thousand silver cups, twenty-nine silver censers, thirty gold bowls, two thousand four hundred and ten silver bowls, and a thousand other vessels. ¹⁴All the vessels were handed over, gold and silver, five thousand four hundred and sixty-nine, ¹⁵and they were carried back by Shesh-bazzar with the returning exiles from Babylon to Jerusalem.

¹⁶But in the time of Ar-ta-xerxes king of the Persians, Bishlam, Mithridates, Ta'be-el, Rehum, Belteth'mus, Shim'shai the scribe, and the rest of their associates, living in Samar'ia and other places, wrote him the following letter, against those who were living in Judea and Jerusalem:

¹⁷"To King Ar-ta-xerxes our lord, Your servants Rehum the recorder and Shim'shai the scribe and the other judges of their council in Coelesyria and Phoen'icia: ¹⁸Now be it known to our lord the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have gone to Jerusalem and are building that rebellious and wicked city, repairing its market places and walls and laying the foundations for a temple. ¹⁹Now if this city is built and the walls finished, they will not only refuse to pay tribute but will even resist kings. ²⁰And since the building of the temple is now going on, we think it best not to neglect such a matter, ²¹but to speak to our lord the king, in order that, if it seems good to you, search may be made in the record of your fathers. ²²You will find in the chronicles what has been written about them, and will learn that this city was rebellious, troubling both kings and other cities, ²³and that the Jews were rebels and kept setting up blockades in it from of old. That is why this city was laid waste. ²⁴Therefore we now make known to you, O lord and king, that if this city is built and its walls finished, you will no longer have access to Coelesyria and Phoenicia."

25 Then the king, in reply to Rehum the recorder and Beltethmus and Shimshai the scribe and the others associated with them and living in Samar'ia and Syria and Phoenicia, wrote as follows:

26 "I have read the letter which you sent me. So I ordered search to be made, and it has been found that this city from of old has fought against kings, 27 and that the men in it were given to rebellion and war, and that mighty and cruel kings ruled in Jerusalem and exacted tribute from Coelesyria and Phoenicia. 28 Therefore I have now issued orders to prevent these men from building the city and to take care that nothing more be done 29 and that such wicked proceedings go no further to the annoyance of kings."

30 Then, when the letter from King Ar-ta-xerxes was read, Rehum and Shimshai the scribe and their associates went in haste to Jerusalem, with horsemen and a multitude in battle array, and began to hinder the builders. And the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Dari'us king of the Persians.

3 Now King Dari'us gave a great banquet for all that were under him and all that were born in his house and all the nobles of Media and Persia 2 and all the satraps and generals and governors that were under him in the hundred and twenty-seven satrapies from India to Ethiopia. 3 They ate and drank, and when they were satisfied they departed; and Dari'us the king went to his bedroom, and went to sleep, and then awoke.

4 Then the three young men of the bodyguard, who kept guard over the person of the king, said to one another, 5 "Let each of us state what one thing is strongest; and to him whose statement seems wisest, Dari'us the king will give rich gifts and great honors of victory. 6 He shall be clothed in purple, and drink from gold cups, and sleep on a gold bed, and have a chariot with gold bridles, and a turban of fine linen, and a necklace about his neck; 7 and because of his wisdom he shall sit next to Dari'us and shall be called kinsman of Dari'us."

8 Then each wrote his own statement, and they sealed them and put them under the pillow of Dari'us the king, 9 and said, "When the king wakes, they will give him the writing; and to the one whose statement the king and the three nobles of Persia judge to be wisest the victory shall be given according to what is written." 10 The first wrote, "Wine is strongest." 11 The second wrote, "The king is strongest." 12 The third wrote, "Women are strongest, but truth is victor over all things."

13 When the king awoke, they took the writing and gave it to him, and he read it. 14 Then he sent and summoned all the nobles of Persia and Media and the satraps and generals and governors and prefects, 15 and he took his seat in the council chamber, and the writing was read in their presence. 16 And he said, "Call the young men, and they shall explain their statements." So they were summoned, and came in. 17 And they said to them, "Explain to us what you have written."

Then the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, began and said: 18 "Gentlemen, how is wine the strongest? It leads astray the minds of all who drink it. 19 It makes equal the mind of the king and the orphan, of the slave and the free, of the poor and the rich. 20 It turns every thought to feasting and mirth, and forgets all sorrow and debt. 21 It makes all hearts feel rich, forgets kings and satraps, and makes every one talk in millions. 22 When men drink they forget to be friendly with friends and brothers, and before long they draw their swords. 23 And when they recover from the wine, they do not remember what they have done. 24 Gentlemen, is not wine the strongest, since it forces men to do these things?" When he had said this, he stopped speaking.

4 Then the second, who had spoken of the strength of the king, began to speak: 2 "Gentlemen, are not men strongest, who rule over land and sea and all that is in them? 3 But the king is stronger; he is their lord and master, and whatever he says to them they obey.

⁴ If he tells them to make war on one another, they do it; and if he sends them out against the enemy, they go, and conquer mountains, walls, and towers. ⁵ They kill and are killed, and do not disobey the king's command; if they win the victory, they bring everything to the king—whatever spoil they take and everything else. ⁶ Likewise those who do not serve in the army or make war but till the soil, whenever they sow, reap the harvest and bring some to the king; and they compel one another to pay taxes to the king. ⁷ And yet he is only one man! If he tells them to kill, they kill; if he tells them to release, they release; ⁸ if he tells them to attack, they attack; if he tells them to lay waste, they lay waste; if he tells them to build, they build; ⁹ if he tells them to cut down, they cut down; if he tells them to plant, they plant. ¹⁰ All his people and his armies obey him. Moreover, he reclines, he eats and drinks and sleeps, ¹¹ but they keep watch around him and no one may go away to attend to his own affairs, nor do they disobey him. ¹² Gentlemen, why is not the king the strongest, since he is to be obeyed in this fashion?" And he stopped speaking.

¹³ Then the third, that is Zerub'babel, who had spoken of women and truth, began to speak: ¹⁴ "Gentlemen, is not the king great, and are not men many, and is not wine strong? Who then is their master, or who is their lord? Is it not women? ¹⁵ Women gave birth to the king and to every people that rules over sea and land. ¹⁶ From women they came; and women brought up the very men who plant the vineyards from which comes wine. ¹⁷ Women make men's clothes; they bring men glory; men cannot exist without women. ¹⁸ If men gather gold and silver or any other beautiful thing, and then see a woman lovely in appearance and beauty, ¹⁹ they let all those things go, and gape at her, and with open mouths stare at her, and all prefer her to gold or silver or any other beautiful thing. ²⁰ A man leaves his own father who brought him up, and his own country, and cleaves to his wife. ²¹ With his wife he ends his days, with no thought of his father or his mother or his country. ²² Hence you must realize that women rule over you!

"Do you not labor and toil, and bring everything and give it to women? ²³ A man takes his sword, and goes out to travel and rob and steal and to sail the sea and rivers; ²⁴ he faces lions, and he walks in darkness, and when he steals and robs and plunders, he brings it back to the woman he loves. ²⁵ A man loves his wife more than his father or his mother. ²⁶ Many men have lost their minds because of women, and have become slaves because of them. ²⁷ Many have perished, or stumbled, or sinned, because of women. ²⁸ And now do you not believe me?

"Is not the king great in his power? Do not all lands fear to touch him? ²⁹ Yet I have seen him with Ap'ame, the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Bar'tacus; she would sit at the king's right hand ³⁰ and take the crown from the king's head and put it on her own, and slap the king with her left hand. ³¹ At this the king would gaze at her with mouth agape. If she smiles at him, he laughs; if she loses her temper with him, he flatters her, that she may be reconciled to him. ³² Gentlemen, why are not women strong, since they do such things?"

³³ Then the king and the nobles looked at one another; and he began to speak about truth: ³⁴ "Gentlemen, are not women strong? The earth is vast, and heaven is high, and the sun is swift in its course, for it makes the circuit of the heavens and returns to its place in one day. ³⁵ Is he not great who does these things? But truth is great, and stronger than all things. ³⁶ The whole earth calls upon truth, and heaven blesses her. All God's^h works quake and tremble, and with him there is nothing unrighteous. ³⁷ Wine is unrighteous, the king is unrighteous, women are unrighteous, all the sons of men are unrighteous, all their works are unrighteous, and all such things. There is no truth in them and in their unrighteousness they will perish. ³⁸ But truth endures and is strong for ever, and lives and prevails for ever and ever. ³⁹ With her there is no partiality or preference, but she does what is righteous instead of anything that is unrighteous or wicked. All men approve her deeds, ⁴⁰ and there is nothing unrighteous in her judgment. To her belongs the strength and the kingship and the power and the majesty of all the ages. Blessed be the God of truth!" ⁴¹ He ceased speaking; then all the people shouted, and said, "Great is truth, and strongest of all!"

⁴² Then the king said to him, "Ask what you wish, even beyond what is written, and we will give it to you, for you have been found to be the wisest. And you shall sit next to me, and be called my kinsman." ⁴³ Then he said to the king, "Remember the vow which you made to build Jerusalem, in the day when you became king, ⁴⁴ and to send back all the vessels that were taken from Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart when he beganⁱ to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them back there. ⁴⁵ You also vowed to build the temple, which the Edomites burned when Judea was laid waste by the Chalde'ans. ⁴⁶ And now, O lord the king, this is what I ask and request of you, and this befits your greatness. I pray therefore that you fulfil the vow whose fulfilment you vowed to the King of heaven with your own lips."²

⁴⁷ Then Dari'us the king rose, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him to all the treasurers and governors and generals and satraps, that they should give escort to him and all who were going up with him to build Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ And he wrote letters to all the governors in Coelesyria and Phoen'icia and to those in Lebanon, to bring cedar timber from Lebanon to Jerusalem, and to help him build the city. ⁴⁹ And he wrote for all the Jews who were going up from his kingdom to Judea, in the interest of their freedom, that no officer or satrap or governor or treasurer should forcibly enter their doors; ⁵⁰ that all the country which they would occupy should be theirs without tribute; that the Idume'ans should give up the villages of the Jews which they held; ⁵¹ that twenty talents a year should be given for the building of the temple until it was completed, ⁵² and an additional ten talents a year for burnt offerings to be offered on the altar every day, in accordance with the commandment to make seventeen offerings; ⁵³ and that all who came from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, they and their children and all the priests who came. ⁵⁴ He wrote also concerning their support and the priests' garments in which^j they were to minister. ⁵⁵ He wrote that the support for the Levites should be provided until the day when the temple should be finished and Jerusalem built. ⁵⁶ He wrote that land and wages should be provided for all who guarded the city. ⁵⁷ And he sent back from Babylon all the vessels which Cyrus had set apart; everything that Cyrus had ordered to be done, he also commanded to be done and to be sent to Jerusalem.

⁵⁸ When the young man went out, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, saying, ⁵⁹ "From thee is the victory; from thee is wisdom; and thine is the glory. I am thy servant. ⁶⁰ Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom; I give thee thanks, O Lord of our fathers."

⁶¹ So he took the letters, and went to Babylon and told this to all his brethren. ⁶² And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them release and permission ⁶³ to go up and build Jerusalem and the temple which is called by his name; and they feasted, with music and rejoicing, for seven days.

5 After this the heads of fathers' houses were chosen to go up, according to their tribes, with their wives and sons and daughters, and their menservants and maidservants, and their cattle. ² And Dari'us sent with them a thousand horsemen to take them back to Jerusalem in safety, with the music of drums and flutes; ³ and all their brethren were making merry. And he made them go up with them.

⁴ These are the names of the men who went up, according to their fathers' houses in the tribes, over their groups: ⁵ the priests, the sons of Phin'eas, son of Aaron; Jeshua the son of Jo'zadak, son of Sera'iah, and Jo'akim the son of Zerub'babel, son of She-al'ti-el, of the

the sons of Hasso'phereth,^h the sons of Peru'da, the sons of Ja'alah, the sons of Lozon, the sons of Giddel,ⁱ the sons of Shephati'ah, ³⁴ the sons of Hattil,^j the sons of Po'chereth-hazzeba'im, the sons of Saro'thie, the sons of Masi'ah, the sons of Gas, the sons of Addus, the sons of Subas, the sons of Apher'ra, the sons of Baro'dis, the sons of Shaphat, the sons of Ami.^k

35 All the temple servants and the sons of Solomon's servants were three hundred and seventy-two.

36 The following are those who came up from Tel-me'lah^l and Tel-har'sha, under the leadership of Cherub, Addan, and Immer, ³⁷ though they could not prove by their fathers' houses or lineage that they belonged to Israel: the sons of Dela'iah the son of Tobi'ah, the sons of Neko'da, six hundred and fifty-two.

38 Of the priests the following had assumed the priesthood but were not found registered: the sons of Habai'ah, the sons of Hakkoz, the sons of Jaddus who had married Agi'a, one of the daughters of Barzil'lai, and was called by his name. ³⁹And when the genealogy of these men was sought in the register and was not found, they were excluded from serving as priests. ⁴⁰And Nehemi'ah and Athhari'as^m told them not to share in the holy things until a high priest should appear wearing Urim and Thummim.ⁿ

41 All those of Israel, twelve or more years of age, besides menservants and maidservants, were forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty; ⁴² their menservants and maidservants were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven; there were two hundred and forty-five musicians and singers. ⁴³ There were four hundred and thirty-five camels, and seven thousand and thirty-six horses, two hundred and forty-five mules, and five thousand five hundred and twenty-five asses.

44 Some of the heads of families, when they came to the temple of God which is in Jerusalem, vowed that they would erect the house on its site, to the best of their ability, ⁴⁵ and that they would give to the sacred treasury for the work a thousand minas of gold, five thousand minas of silver, and one hundred priests' garments.

46 The priests, the Levites, and some of the people^o settled in Jerusalem and its vicinity; and the temple singers, the gatekeepers, and all Israel in their towns.

47 When the seventh month came, and the sons of Israel were each in his own home, they gathered as one man in the square before the first gate toward the east. ⁴⁸ Then Jeshua the son of Jo'zadak, with his fellow priests, and Zerub'babel the son of She-al'ti-el, with his kinsmen, took their places and prepared the altar of the God of Israel, ⁴⁹ to offer burnt offerings upon it, in accordance with the directions in the book of Moses the man of God. ⁵⁰ And some joined them from the other peoples of the land. And they erected the altar in its place, for all the peoples of the land were hostile to them and were stronger than they; and they offered sacrifices at the proper times and burnt offerings to the Lord morning and evening. ⁵¹ They kept the feast of booths, as it is commanded in the law, and offered the proper sacrifices every day, ⁵² and thereafter the continual offerings and sacrifices on sabbaths and at new moons and at all the consecrated feasts. ⁵³ And all who had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God, from the new moon of the seventh month, though the temple of God was not yet built. ⁵⁴ And they gave money to the masons and the carpenters, and food and drink ⁵⁵ and carts^p to the Sidonians and the Tyrians, to bring cedar logs from Lebanon and convey them in rafts to the harbor of Joppa, according to the decree which they had in writing from Cyrus king of the Persians.

56 In the second year after their coming to the temple of God in Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerub'babel the son of She-al'ti-el and Jeshua the son of Jo'zadak made a beginning, together with their brethren and the Levitical priests and all who had come to Jerusalem from the captivity; ⁵⁷ and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month in the second year after they came to Judea and Jerusalem. ⁵⁸And they appointed the Levites who were twenty or more years of age to have charge of the work of the Lord. And Jeshua arose, and his sons and brethren and Kad'mi-el his brother and the sons of Jeshua Emada'bun and the sons of Joda son of Ilia'dun, with their sons and brethren, all the Levites, as one man pressing forward the work on the house of God.

So the builders built the temple of the Lord. ⁵⁹And the priests stood arrayed in their garments, with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites, the sons of Asaph, with cymbals, ⁶⁰praising the Lord and blessing him, according to the directions of David king of Israel; ⁶¹and they sang hymns, giving thanks to the Lord, because his goodness and his glory are for ever upon all Israel. ⁶²And all the people sounded trumpets and shouted with a great shout, praising the Lord for the erection of the house of the Lord. ⁶³Some of the Levitical priests and heads of fathers' houses, old men who had seen the former house, came to the building of this one with outcries and loud weeping, ⁶⁴while many came with trumpets and a joyful noise, ⁶⁵so that the people could not hear the trumpets because of the weeping of the people.

For the multitude sounded the trumpets loudly, so that the sound was heard afar; ⁶⁶and when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to find out what the sound of the trumpets meant. ⁶⁷And they learned that those who had returned from captivity were building the temple for the Lord God of Israel. ⁶⁸So they approached Zerub'babel and Jeshua and the heads of the fathers' houses and said to them, "We will build with you. ⁶⁹For we obey your Lord just as you do, and we have been sacrificing to him ever since the days of E'sar-had'don⁴ king of the Assyrians, who brought us here." ⁷⁰But Zerub'babel and Jeshua and the heads of the fathers' houses in Israel said to them, "You have nothing to do with us in building the house for the Lord our God, ⁷¹for we alone will build it for the Lord of Israel, as Cyrus the king of the Persians has commanded us." ⁷²But the peoples of the land pressed hard upon those in Judea, cut off their supplies, and hindered their building; ⁷³and by plots and demagoguery and uprisings they prevented the completion of the building as long as King Cyrus lived. And they were kept from building for two years, until the reign of Dari'us.

6 Now in the second year of the reign of Dari'us, the prophets Haggai and Zechari'ah the son of Iddo prophesied to the Jews who were in Judea and Jerusalem; they prophesied to them in the name of the Lord God of Israel. ²Then Zerub'babel the son of Sheal'ti-el and Jeshua the son of Jo'zadak arose and began to build the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem, with the help of the prophets of the Lord who were with them.

³At the same time Sisin'nes the governor of Syria and Phoeni'cia, and Sathra-bu'zanes, and their associates came to them and said, ⁴"By whose order are you building this house and this roof and finishing all the other things? And who are the builders that are finishing these things?" ⁵Yet the elders of the Jews were dealt with kindly, for the providence of the Lord was over the captives; ⁶and they were not prevented from building until word could be sent to Dari'us concerning them and a report made.

⁷A copy of the letter which Sisin'nes the governor of Syria and Phoeni'cia, and Sathra-bu'zanes, and their associates the local rulers in Syria and Phoeni'cia, wrote and sent to Dari'us:

⁸"To King Dari'us, greeting. Let it be fully known to our lord the king that, when we went to the country of Judea and entered the city of Jerusalem, we found the elders of the Jews, who had been in captivity, ⁹building in the city of Jerusalem a great new house for the Lord, of hewn stone, with costly timber laid in the walls. ¹⁰These operations are going on rapidly, and the work is prospering in their hands and being completed with all splendor and care. ¹¹Then we asked these elders, 'At whose command are you building this house and laying the foundations of this structure?"¹² And in order that we might inform you in writing who the leaders are, we questioned them and asked them for a list of the names of those who are at their head.¹³ They answered us, 'We are the servants of the Lord who created the heaven and the earth.'¹⁴ And the house was built many years ago by a king of Israel who was great and strong, and it was finished.¹⁵ But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel who is in heaven, and provoked him, he gave them over into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, king of the Chaldeans;¹⁶ and they pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried the people away captive to Babylon.¹⁷ But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylonia, King Cyrus wrote that this house should be rebuilt.¹⁸ And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the house in Jerusalem and stored in his own temple, these Cyrus the king took out again from the temple in Babylon, and they were delivered to Zerubbabel and Sheshbazzar the governor¹⁹ with the command that he should take all these vessels back and put them in the temple at Jerusalem, and that this temple of the Lord should be rebuilt on its site.²⁰ Then this Sheshbazzar,^s after coming here, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem, and although it has been in process of construction from that time until now, it has not yet reached completion.'²¹ Now therefore, if it seems wise, O king, let search be made in the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon;²² and if it is found that the building of the house of the Lord in Jerusalem was done with the consent of King Cyrus, and if it is approved by our lord the king, let him send us directions concerning these things."

²³ Then King Darius commanded that search be made in the royal archives that were deposited in Babylon. And in Ecbatana, the fortress which is in the country of Media, a scroll^u was found in which this was recorded:²⁴ "In the first year of the reign of Cyrus, King Cyrus ordered the building of the house of the Lord in Jerusalem, where they sacrifice with perpetual fire;²⁵ its height to be sixty cubits and its breadth sixty cubits, with three courses of hewn stone and one course of new native timber; the cost to be paid from the treasury of Cyrus the king;²⁶ and that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of gold and of silver, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the house in Jerusalem and carried away to Babylon, should be restored to the house in Jerusalem, to be placed where they had been."

²⁷ So Darius^v commanded Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathra-buzanes, and their associates, and those who were appointed as local rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, to keep away from the place, and to permit Zerubbabel, the servant of the Lord and governor of Judea, and the elders of the Jews to build this house of the Lord on its site.²⁸ "And I command that it be built completely, and that full effort be made to help the men who have returned from the captivity of Judea, until the house of the Lord is finished;²⁹ and that out of the tribute of Coele-syria and Phoenicia a portion be scrupulously given to these men, that is, to Zerubbabel the governor, for sacrifices to the Lord, for bulls and rams and lambs,³⁰ and likewise wheat and salt and wine and oil, regularly every year, without quibbling, for daily use as the priests in Jerusalem may indicate,³¹ in order that libations may be made to the Most High God for the king and his children, and prayers be offered for their life."

³² And he commanded that if any should transgress or nullify any of the things herein written, a beam should be taken out of his house and he should be hanged upon it, and his property should be forfeited to the king.

³³ "Therefore may the Lord, whose name is there called upon, destroy every king and nation that shall stretch out their hands to hinder or damage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem.

34 "I, King Dari'us, have decreed that it be done with all diligence as here prescribed."

7 Then Sis'in'es the governor of Coelesyria and Phoen'icia, and Sathra-bu'zanes, and their associates, following the orders of King Dari'us, ² supervised the holy work with very great care, assisting the elders of the Jews and the chief officers of the temple. ³And the holy work prospered, while the prophets Haggai and Zechari'ah prophesied; ⁴ and they completed it by the command of the Lord God of Israel. So with the consent of Cyrus and Dari'us and Ar-ta-xerx'es, kings of the Persians, ⁵ the holy house was finished by the twenty-third day of the month of Adar, in the sixth year of King Dari'us. ⁶And the people of Israel, the priests, the Levites, and the rest of those from the captivity who joined them, did according to what was written in the book of Moses. ⁷ They offered at the dedication of the temple of the Lord one hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, ⁸ and twelve he-goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the twelve leaders of the tribes of Israel; ⁹ and the priests and the Levites stood arrayed in their garments, according to kindred, for the services of the Lord God of Israel in accordance with the book of Moses; and the gatekeepers were at each gate.

10 The people of Israel who came from the captivity kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month, after the priests and the Levites were purified together. ¹¹ Not all of the returned captives were purified, but the Levites were all purified together, ^x ¹² and they sacrificed the passover lamb for all the returned captives and for their brethren the priests and for themselves. ¹³And the people of Israel who came from the captivity at it, all those who had separated themselves from the abominations of the peoples of the land and sought the Lord. ¹⁴And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, rejoicing before the Lord, ¹⁵ because he had changed the will of the king of the Assyrians concerning them, to strengthen their hands for the service of the Lord God of Israel.

8 After these things, when Ar-ta-xerx'es the king of the Persians was reigning, Ezra came, the son of Serai'ah, son of Azari'ah, son of Hilk'i'ah, son of Shallum, ² son of Zadok, son of Ahi'tub, son of Amari'ah, son of Uzzi, son of Bukki, son of Abishu'a, son of Phin'ehas, son of Elea'zar, son of Aaron the chief priest. ³ This Ezra came up from Babylon as a scribe skilled in the law of Moses, which was given by the God of Israel; ⁴ and the king showed him honor, for he found favor before the king^y in all his requests. ⁵ There came up with him to Jerusalem some of the people of Israel and some of the priests and Levites and temple singers and gatekeepers and temple servants, ⁶ in the seventh year of the reign of Ar-ta-xerx'es, in the fifth month (this was the king's seventh year); for they left Babylon on the new moon of the first month and arrived in Jerusalem on the new moon of the fifth month, by the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them. ^z ⁷ For Ezra possessed great knowledge, so that he omitted nothing from the law of the Lord or the commandments, but taught all Israel all the ordinances and judgments.

8 The following is a copy of the written commission from Ar-ta-xerx'es the king which was delivered to Ezra the priest and reader of the law of the Lord:

9 "King Ar-ta-xerx'es to Ezra the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, greeting. ¹⁰ In accordance with my gracious decision, I have given orders that those of the Jewish nation and of the priests and Levites and others in our realm, who freely choose to do so, may go with you to Jerusalem. ¹¹ Let as many as are so disposed, therefore, depart with you as I and the seven friends who are my counselors have decided, ¹² in order to look into matters in Judea and Jerusalem, in accordance with what is in the law of the Lord, ¹³ and to carry to Jerusalem the gifts for the Lord of Israel which I and my friends have vowed, and to collect for the Lord in Jerusalem all the gold and silver that may be found in the country of Babylonia, ¹⁴ together with what is given by the nation for the temple of their Lord which is in Jerusalem, both gold and silver for bulls and rams and lambs and what goes with them,¹⁵ so as to offer sacrifices upon the altar of their Lord which is in Jerusalem.¹⁶ And whatever you and your brethren are minded to do with the gold and silver, perform it in accordance with the will of your God;¹⁷ and deliver the holy vessels of the Lord which are given you for the use of the temple of your God which is in Jerusalem.¹⁸ And whatever else occurs to you as necessary for the temple of your God, you may provide out of the royal treasury.

19 "And I, Ar-ta-xerxes the king, have commanded the treasurers of Syria and Phoenicia that whatever Ezra the priest and reader of the law of the Most High God sends for, they shall take care to give him,²⁰ up to a hundred talents of silver, and likewise up to a hundred cors of wheat, a hundred baths of wine, and salt in abundance.²¹ Let all things prescribed in the law of God be scrupulously fulfilled for the Most High God, so that wrath may not come upon the kingdom of the king and his sons.²² You are also informed that no tribute or any other tax is to be laid on any of the priests or Levites or temple singers or gatekeepers or temple servants or persons employed in this temple, and that no one has authority to impose any tax upon them.

23 "And you, Ezra, according to the wisdom of God, appoint judges and justices to judge all those who know the law of your God, throughout all Syria and Phoenicia; and those who do not know it you shall teach.²⁴ And all who transgress the law of your God or the law of the kingdom shall be strictly punished, whether by death or some other punishment, either fine or imprisonment."

25 Blessed be the Lord alone, who put this into the heart of the king, to glorify his house which is in Jerusalem,²⁶ and who honored me in the sight of the king and his counselors and all his friends and nobles.²⁷ I was encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and I gathered men from Israel to go up with me.

a Gk Asebebias

28 These are the principal men, according to their fathers' houses and their groups, who went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Ar-ta-xerxes the king:²⁹ Of the sons of Phin'eas, Gershom. Of the sons of Ith'amar, Gam'ael. Of the sons of David, Hattush the son of Shecani'ah.³⁰ Of the sons of Parosh, Zechari'ah, and with him a hundred and fifty men enrolled.³¹ Of the sons of Pa'hath-mo'ab, El'ieho-e'nai the son of Zerahi'ah, and with him two hundred men.³² Of the sons of Zattu, Shecani'ah the son of Jahazi'el, and with him three hundred men. Of the sons of Adin, Obed the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men.³³ Of the sons of Elam, Jeshai'ah the son of Gotholi'ah, and with him seventy men.³⁴ Of the sons of Shephati'ah, Zera'iah the son of Michael, and with him seventy men.³⁵ Of the sons of Jo'ab, Obadi'ah the son of Jehi'el, and with him two hundred and twelve men.³⁶ Of the sons of Bani, Shelo'mith the son of Josiphi'ah, and with him a hundred and sixty men.³⁷ Of the sons of Be'bai, Zechari'ah the son of Be'bai, and with him twenty-eight men.³⁸ Of the sons of Azgad, Joha'nan the son of Hak'katan, and with him a hundred and ten men.³⁹ Of the sons of Adoni'kam, the last ones, their names being Eliph'elet, Jeu'el, and Shemai'ah, and with them seventy men.⁴⁰ Of the sons of Big'vai, Uthai the son of Istalcu'rus, and with him seventy men.

41 I assembled them at the river called Theras, and we camped there three days, and I inspected them.

42 When I found there none of the sons of the priests or of the Levites,⁴³ I sent word to Elie'zar, Id'u-el, Ma-as'as,⁴⁴ Elna'than, Shemai'ah, Jarib, Nathan, Elna'than, Zechari'ah, and Meshul'lam, who were leaders and men of understanding;⁴⁵ and I told them to go to Iddo, who was the leading man at the place of the treasury,⁴⁶ and ordered them to tell Iddo and his brethren and the treasurers at that place to send us men to serve as priests in the house of our Lord.⁴⁷ And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought us competent men of the sons of Mahli the son of Levi, son of Israel, namely Sherebi'ah^a with his sons and kinsmen, eighteen;

48 also Hashabi'ah and Annu'nus and Jeshai'ah his brother, of the sons of Hanani'ah, and their sons, twenty men; 49 and of the temple servants, whom David and the leaders had given for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple servants; the list of all their names was reported.

50 There I proclaimed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to seek from him a prosperous journey for ourselves and for our children and the cattle that were with us. 51 For I was ashamed to ask the king for foot soldiers and horsemen and an escort to keep us safe from our adversaries; 52 for we had said to the king, "The power of our Lord will be with those who seek him, and will support them in every way." 53 And again we prayed to our Lord about these things, and we found him very merciful.

54 Then I set apart twelve of the leaders of the priests, Sherebi'ah and Hashabi'ah, and ten of their kinsmen with them; 55 and I weighed out to them the silver and the gold and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king himself and his counselors and the nobles and all Israel had given. 56 I weighed and gave to them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels worth a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, 57 and twenty golden bowls, and twelve bronze vessels of fine bronze that glittered like gold. 58 And I said to them, "You are holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the silver and the gold are vowed to the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. 59 Be watchful and on guard until you deliver them to the leaders of the priests and the Levites, and to the heads of the fathers' houses of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord." 60 So the priests and the Levites who took the silver and the gold and the vessels which had been in Jerusalem carried them to the temple of the Lord.

61 We departed from the river Theras on the twelfth day of the first month; and we arrived in Jerusalem by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us; he delivered us from every enemy on the way, and so we came to

Jerusalem. 62 When we had been there three days, the silver and the gold were weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord to Mer'emoth the priest, son of Uri'ah; 63 and with him was Eleazar the son of Phin'ehas, and with them were Jo'zabad the son of Jeshua and Moeth the son of Bin'nui,^b the Levites. 64 The whole was counted and weighed, and the weight of everything was recorded at that very time. 65 And those who had come back from captivity offered sacrifices to the Lord, the God of Israel, twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, 66 seventy-two lambs, and as a thank offering twelve he-goats—all as a sacrifice to the Lord. 67 And they delivered the king's orders to the royal stewards and to the governors of Coele-syria and Phoeni'cia; and these officials^c honored the people and the temple of the Lord.

68 After these things had been done, the principal men came to me and said, 69 "The people of Israel and the leaders and the priests and the Levites have not put away from themselves the alien peoples of the land and their pollutions, the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Per'izzites, the Jeb'usites, the Mo'abites, the Egyptians, and the Edomites. 70 For they and their sons have married the daughters of these people,^d and the holy race has been mixed with the alien peoples of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the leaders and the nobles have been sharing in this iniquity."

71 As soon as I heard these things, I rent my garments and my holy mantle, and pulled out hair from my head and beard, and sat down in anxiety and grief. 72 And all who were ever moved at^e the word of the Lord of Israel gathered round me, as I mourned over this iniquity, and I sat grief-stricken until the evening sacrifice. 73 Then I rose from my fast, with my garments and my holy mantle rent, and kneeling down and stretching forth my hands to the Lord 74 I said,

"O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before thy face. 75 For our sins have risen higher than our heads, and our mistakes have mounted up to heaven 76 from the times of our fathers, and we are in great sin to this day. ⁷⁷And because of our sins and the sins of our fathers we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given over to the kings of the earth, to the sword and captivity and plundering, in shame until this day. ⁷⁸And now in some measure mercy has come to us from thee, O Lord, to leave to us a root and a name in thy holy place, ⁷⁹and to uncover a light for us in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our servitude. ⁸⁰Even in our bondage we were not forsaken by our Lord, but he brought us into favor with the kings of the Persians, so that they have given us food ⁸¹and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised Zion from desolation, to give us a stronghold in Judea and Jerusalem.

⁸²“And now, O Lord, what shall we say, when we have these things? For we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou didst give by thy servants the prophets, saying, ⁸³‘The land which you are entering to take possession of it is a land polluted with the pollution of the aliens of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. ⁸⁴Therefore do not give your daughters in marriage to their sons, and do not take their daughters for your sons; ⁸⁵and do not seek ever to have peace with them, in order that you may be strong and eat the good things of the land and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.’ ⁸⁶And all that has happened to us has come about because of our evil deeds and our great sins. For thou, O Lord, didst lift the burden of our sins ⁸⁷and give us such a root as this; but we turned back again to transgress thy law by mixing with the uncleanness of the peoples of the land. ⁸⁸Wast thou not angry enough with us to destroy us without leaving a root or seed or name? ⁸⁹O Lord of Israel, thou art true; for we are left as a root this day. ⁹⁰Behold, we are now before thee in our iniquities; for we can no longer stand in thy presence because of these things.”

⁹¹While Ezra was praying and making his confession, weeping and lying upon the ground before the temple, there gathered about him a very great throng from Jerusalem, men and women and youths; for there was great weeping among the multitude. ⁹²Then Shecani'ah the son of Jehi'el, one of the men of Israel, called out, and said to Ezra, “We have sinned against the Lord, and have married foreign women from the peoples of the land; but even now there is hope for Israel. ⁹³Let us take an oath to the Lord about this, that we will put away all our foreign wives, with their children, ⁹⁴as seems good to you and to all who obey the law of the Lord. ⁹⁵Arise! and take action, for it is your task, and we are with you to take strong measures.” ⁹⁶Then Ezra arose and had the leaders of the priests and Levites of all Israel take oath that they would do this. And they took the oath.

9 Then Ezra rose and went from the court of the temple to the chamber of Jehoha'nan the son of Eli'ashib, ²and spent the night there; and he did not eat bread or drink water, for he was mourning over the great iniquities of the multitude. ³And a proclamation was made throughout Judea and Jerusalem to all who had returned from the captivity that they should assemble at Jerusalem, ⁴and that if any did not meet there within two or three days, in accordance with the decision of the ruling elders, their cattle should be seized for sacrifice and the men themselves expelled from the multitude of those who had returned from the captivity.

⁵Then the men of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin assembled at Jerusalem within three days; this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. ⁶And all the multitude sat in the open square before the temple, shivering because of the bad weather that prevailed. ⁷Then Ezra rose and said to them, “You have broken the law and married foreign women, and so have increased the sin of Israel. ⁸Now then make confession and give glory to the Lord the God of our fathers, ⁹and do his will; separate yourselves from the peoples of the land and from your

This is not a work we can do in one day or two, for we have sinned too much in these things. ¹² So let the leaders of the multitude stay, and let all those in our settlements who have foreign wives come at the time appointed, ¹³ with the elders and judges of each place, until we are freed from the wrath of the Lord over this matter." ¹⁴ Jonathan the son of As'ahel and Jahzei'ah the son of Tikvah^h undertook the matter on these terms, and Meshul'am and Levi and Shab'bethai served with them as judges. ¹⁵ And those who had returned from the captivity acted in accordance with all this.

¹⁶ Ezra the priest chose for himself the leading men of their fathers' houses, all of them by name; and on the new moon of the tenth month they began their sessions to investigate the matter. ¹⁷ And the cases of the men who had foreign wives were brought to an end by the new moon of the first month.

¹⁸ Of the priests those who were brought in and found to have foreign wives were: ¹⁹ of the sons of Jeshua the son of Jo'zadak and his brethren, Ma-asei'ah, Elie'zar, Jarib and Judan. ²⁰ They pledged themselves to put away their wives, and to give rams in expiation of their error. ²¹ Of the sons of Immer: Hana'ni and Zebadi'ah and Ma-asei'ah and Shemai'ah and Jehi'el and Azari'ah. ²² Of the sons of Pashhur: Eli-o-e'nai, Ma-asei'ah, Ish'mael, and Nathan'a-el, and Gedali'ah, and Ela'sah.ⁱ ²³ And of the Levites: Jo'zabad and Shim'e-i and Kelai'ah, who was Keli'ta, and Pethahi'ah and Judah and Jonah. ²⁴ Of the temple singers: Eli'ashib and Zaccur.^j ²⁵ Of the gatekeepers: Shallum and Telem.^k

THE SECOND BOOK OF

ESDRAS

1 The second book of the prophet Ezra the son of Serai'ah, son of Azari'ah, son of Hilki'ah, son of Shal-lum, son of Zadok, son of Ahi'tub,² son of Ahi'jah, son of Phin'ehas, son of Eli, son of Amari'ah, son of Azari'ah, son of Merai'oth, son of Arna, son of Uzzi, son of Borith, son of Abishu'a, son of Phin'ehas, son of Elea'zar,³ son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi, who was a captive in the country of the Medes in the reign of Ar-ta-xerxes, king of the Persians.

⁴The word of the Lord came to me, saying, ⁵"Go and declare to my people their evil deeds, and to their children the iniquities which they have committed against me, so that they may tell their children's children ⁶that the sins of their parents have increased in them, for they have forgotten me and have offered sacrifices to strange gods. ⁷Was it not I who brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage? But they have angered me and despised my counsels. ⁸Pull out the hair of your head and hurl all evils upon them, for they have not obeyed my law—they are a rebellious people. ⁹How long shall I endure them, on whom I have bestowed such great benefits? ¹⁰For their sake I have overthrown many kings; I struck down Pharaoh with his servants, and all his army. ¹¹I have destroyed all nations before them, and scattered in the east the people of two provinces, Tyre and Sidon; I have slain all their enemies.

¹²"But speak to them and say, Thus says the Lord: ¹³Surely it was I who brought you through the sea, and made safe highways for you where there was no road; I gave you Moses as leader and Aaron as priest; ¹⁴I provided light for you from a pillar of fire, and did great wonders among you. Yet you have forgotten me, says the Lord.

¹⁵"Thus says the Lord Almighty: The quails were a sign to you; I gave you camps for your protection, and in them you complained. ¹⁶You have not exulted in my name at the destruction of your enemies, but to this day you still complain. ¹⁷ Where are the benefits which I bestowed on you? When you were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did you not cry out to me, ¹⁸ saying, 'Why hast thou led us into this wilderness to kill us? It would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in this wilderness.' ¹⁹ I pitied your groaning and gave you manna for food; you ate the bread of angels. ²⁰ When you were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock so that waters flowed in abundance? Because of the heat I covered you with the leaves of trees. ²¹ I divided fertile lands among you: I drove out the Canaanites, the Per'izzites, and the Philistines before you. What more can I do for you? says the Lord. ²² Thus says the Lord Almighty: When you were in the wilderness, at the bitter stream, thirsty and blaspheming my name, ²³ I did not send fire upon you for your blasphemies, but threw a tree into the water and made the stream sweet.

²⁴ "What shall I do to you, O Jacob? You would not obey me, O Judah. I will turn to other nations and will give them my name, that they may keep my statutes. ²⁵ Because you have forsaken me, I also will forsake you. When you beg mercy of me, I will show you no mercy. ²⁶ When you call upon me, I will not listen to you; for you have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit murder. ²⁷ It is not as though you had forsaken me; you have forsaken yourselves, says the Lord.

²⁸ "Thus says the Lord Almighty: Have I not entreated you as a father entreats his sons or a mother her daughters or a nurse her children, ²⁹ that you should be my people and I should be your God, and that you should be my sons and I should be your father? ³⁰ I gathered you as a hen gathers her brood under her wings. But now, what shall I do to you? I will cast you out from my presence. ³¹ When you offer oblations to me, I will turn my face from you; for I have rejected your feast days, and new moons, and circumcisions of the flesh. ³² I sent to you my servants the prophets, but you have taken and slain them and torn their bodies in pieces; their blood I will require of you, says the Lord.

³³ "Thus says the Lord Almighty: Your house is desolate; I will drive you out as the wind drives straw; ³⁴ and your sons will have no children, because with you they have neglected my commandment and have done what is evil in my sight. ³⁵ I will give your houses to a people that will come, who without having heard me will believe. Those to whom I have shown no signs will do what I have commanded. ³⁶ They have seen no prophets, yet will recall their former state.^a ³⁷ I call to witness the gratitude of the people that is to come, whose children rejoice with gladness; though they do not see me with bodily eyes, yet with the spirit they will believe the things I have said.

³⁸ "And now, father, look with pride and see the people coming from the east; ³⁹ to them I will give as leaders Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob and Hose'a and Amos and Micah and Jo'el and Obadi'ah and Jonah ⁴⁰ and Nahum and Habakkuk, Zephani'ah, Haggai, Zechari'ah and Mal'achi, who is also called the messenger of the Lord.

2 "Thus says the Lord: I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them commandments through my servants the prophets; but they would not listen to them, and made my counsels void. ² The mother who bore them says to them, 'Go, my children, because I am a widow and forsaken. ³ I brought you up with gladness; but with mourning and sorrow I have lost you, because you have sinned before the Lord God and have done what is evil in my sight. ⁴ But now what can I do for you? For I am a widow and forsaken. Go, my children, and ask for mercy from the Lord.' ⁵ I call upon you, father, as a witness in addition to the mother of the children, because they would not keep my covenant, ⁶ that you may bring confusion upon them and bring their mother to ruin, so that they may have no offspring. ⁷ Let them be scattered among the nations, let their names be blotted out from the earth, because they have despised my covenant.

⁸ "Woe to you, Assyria, who conceal the unrighteous in your midst! O wicked nation, remember what I did to Sodom and Gomor'rah, ⁹ whose land lies in lumps of pitch and heaps of ashes. So will I do to those who have not listened to me, says the Lord Almighty."

10 Thus says the Lord to Ezra: "Tell my people that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I was going to give to Israel. ¹¹ Moreover, I will take back to myself their glory, and will give to these others the everlasting habitations, which I had prepared for Israel.^b ¹² The tree of life shall give them fragrant perfume, and they shall neither toil nor become weary. ¹³ Ask and you will receive; pray that your days may be few, that they may be shortened. The kingdom is already prepared for you; watch! ¹⁴ Call, O call heaven and earth to witness, for I left out evil and created good, because I live, says the Lord.

15 "Mother, embrace your sons; bring them up with gladness, as does the dove; establish their feet, because I have chosen you, says the Lord. ¹⁶ And I will raise up the dead from their places, and will bring them out from their tombs, because I recognize my name in them. ¹⁷ Do not fear, mother of the sons, for I have chosen you, says the Lord. ¹⁸ I will send you help, my servants Isaiah and Jeremiah. According to their counsel I have consecrated and prepared for you twelve trees loaded with various fruits, ¹⁹ and the same number of springs flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains on which roses and lilies grow; by these I will fill your children with joy. ²⁰ Guard the rights of the widow, secure justice for the fatherless, give to the needy, defend the orphan, clothe the naked, ²¹ care for the injured and the weak, do not ridicule a lame man, protect the maimed, and let the blind man have a vision of my splendor. ²² Protect the old and the young within your walls; ²³ when you find any who are dead, commit them to the grave and mark it,^c and I will give you the first place in my resurrection. ²⁴ Pause and be quiet, my people, because your rest will come. ²⁵ Good nurse, nourish your sons, and strengthen their feet. ²⁶ Not one of the servants whom I have given you will perish, for I will require them from among your number. ²⁷ Do not be anxious, for when the day of tribulation and anguish comes, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but you shall rejoice and have abundance. ²⁸ The nations shall envy you but they shall not be able to do anything against you, says the Lord. ²⁹ My hands will cover you, that your sons may not see Gehenna. ³⁰ Rejoice, O mother, with your sons, because I will deliver you, says the Lord. ³¹ Remember your sons that sleep, because I will bring them out of the hiding places of the earth, and will show mercy to them; for I am merciful, says the Lord Almighty. ³² Embrace your children until I come, and proclaim mercy to them; because my springs run over, and my grace will not fail."

33 I, Ezra, received a command from the Lord on Mount Horeb to go to Israel. When I came to them they rejected me and refused the Lord's commandment. ³⁴ Therefore I say to you, O nations that hear and understand, "Await your shepherd; he will give you everlasting rest, because he who will come at the end of the age is close at hand. ³⁵ Be ready for the rewards of the kingdom, because the eternal light will shine upon you for evermore. ³⁶ Flee from the shadow of this age, receive the joy of your glory; I publicly call on my Savior to witness.^d ³⁷ Receive what the Lord has entrusted to you and be joyful, giving thanks to him who has called you to heavenly kingdoms. ³⁸ Rise and stand, and see at the feast of the Lord the number of those who have been sealed. ³⁹ Those who have departed from the shadow of this age have received glorious garments from the Lord. ⁴⁰ Take again your full number, O Zion, and conclude the list of your people who are clothed in white, who have fulfilled the law of the Lord. ⁴¹ The number of your children, whom you desired, is full; beseech the Lord's power that your people, who have been called from the beginning, may be made holy."

42 I, Ezra, saw on Mount Zion a great multitude, which I could not number, and they all were praising the Lord with songs. ⁴³ In their midst was a young man of great stature, taller than any of the others, and on the head of each of them he placed a crown, but he was more exalted than they. And I was held spellbound. ⁴⁴ Then I asked an angel, "Who are these, my lord?" ⁴⁵ He answered and said to me, "These are they who have put off mortal clothing and have put on the immortal, and they have confessed the name of God; now they are being crowned, and receive palms." ⁴⁶ Then I said to the angel, "Who is that young man who places crowns on them and puts palms in their hands?" ⁴⁷ He answered and said to me, "He is the Son of God, whom they confessed in the world." So I began to praise those who had stood valiantly for the name of the Lord. ⁴⁸ Then the angel said to me, "Go, tell my people how great and many are the wonders of the Lord God which you have seen."

3 In the thirtieth year after the destruction of our city, I, Salathiel, who am also called Ezra, was in Babylon. I was troubled as I lay on my bed, and my thoughts welled up in my heart, ² because I saw the desolation of Zion and the wealth of those who lived in Babylon. ³ My spirit was greatly agitated, and I began to speak anxious words to the Most High, and said, ⁴ "O sovereign Lord, didst thou not speak at the beginning when thou didst form the earth—and that without help—and didst command the dust" ⁵ and it gave^c thee Adam, a lifeless body? Yet he was the workmanship of thy hands, and thou didst breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made alive in thy presence. ⁶ And thou didst lead him into the garden which thy right hand had planted before the earth appeared. ⁷ And thou didst lay upon him one commandment of thine; but he transgressed it, and immediately thou didst appoint death for him and for his descendants. From him there sprang nations and tribes, peoples and clans, without number. ⁸ And every nation walked after its own will and did ungodly things before thee and scorned thee, and thou didst not hinder them. ⁹ But again, in its time thou didst bring the flood upon the inhabitants of the world and destroy them. ¹⁰ And the same fate befell them: as death came upon Adam, so the flood upon them. ¹¹ But thou didst leave one of them, Noah with his household, and all the righteous who have descended from him.

¹² "When those who dwelt on earth began to multiply, they produced children and peoples and many nations, and again they began to be more ungodly than were their ancestors. ¹³ And when they were committing iniquity before thee, thou didst choose for thyself one of them, whose name was Abraham; ¹⁴ and thou didst love him, and to him only didst thou reveal the end of the times, secretly by night. ¹⁵ Thou didst make with him an everlasting covenant, and promise him that thou wouldst never forsake his descendants; and thou gavest to him Isaac, and to Isaac thou gavest Jacob and Esau. ¹⁶ And thou didst set apart Jacob for thyself, but Esau thou didst reject; and Jacob became a great multitude. ¹⁷ And when thou didst lead his descendants out of Egypt, thou didst bring them to Mount Sinai. ¹⁸ Thou didst bend down the heavens and shake^e the earth, and move the world, and make the depths to tremble, and trouble the times. ¹⁹ And thy glory passed through the four gates of fire and earthquake and wind and ice, to give the law to the descendants of Jacob, and thy commandment to the posterity of Israel.

²⁰ "Yet thou didst not take away from them their evil heart, so that thy law might bring forth fruit in them. ²¹ For the first Adam, burdened with an evil heart, transgressed and was overcome, as were also all who were descended from him. ²² Thus the disease became permanent; the law was in the people's heart along with the evil root, but what was good departed, and the evil remained. ²³ So the times passed and the years were completed, and thou didst raise up for thyself a servant, named David. ²⁴ And thou didst command him to build a city for thy name, and in it to offer thee oblations from what is thine. ²⁵ This was done for many years; but the inhabitants of the city transgressed, ²⁶ in everything doing

as Adam and all his descendants had done, for they also had the evil heart. ²⁷ So thou didst deliver the city into the hands of thy enemies.

²⁸ "Then I said in my heart, Are the deeds of those who inhabit Babylon any better? Is that why she has gained dominion over Zion? ²⁹ For when I came here I saw ungodly deeds without number, and my soul has seen many sinners during these thirty years.^h And my heart failed me, ³⁰ for I have seen how thou dost endure those who sin, and hast spared those who act wickedly, and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thy enemies, ³¹ and hast not shown to any one how thy way may be comprehended.ⁱ Are the deeds of Babylon better than those of Zion? ³² Or has another nation known thee besides Israel? Or what tribes have so believed thy covenants as these tribes of Jacob? ³³ Yet their reward has not appeared and their labor has borne no fruit. For I have traveled widely among the nations and have seen that they abound in wealth, though they are unmindful of thy commandments. ³⁴ Now therefore weigh in a balance our iniquities and those of the inhabitants of the world; and so it will be found which way the turn of the scale will incline. ³⁵ When have the inhabitants of the earth not sinned in thy sight? Or what nation has kept thy commandments so well? ³⁶ Thou mayest indeed find individual men who have kept thy commandments, but nations thou wilt not find."

4 Then the angel that had been sent to me, whose name was Uri'el, answered ² and said to me, "Your understanding has utterly failed regarding this world, and do you think you can comprehend the way of the Most High?" ³ Then I said, "Yes, my lord." And he replied to me, "I have been sent to show you three ways, and to put before you three problems. ⁴ If you can solve one of them for me, I also will show you the way you desire to see, and will teach you why the heart is evil."

⁵ I said, "Speak on, my lord."

And he said to me, "Go, weigh for me the weight of fire, or measure for me a measure^j of wind, or call back for me the day that is past."

⁶ I answered and said, "Who of those that have been born can do this, that you ask me concerning these things?"

⁷ And he said to me, "If I had asked you, 'How many dwellings are in the heart of the sea, or how many streams are at the source of the deep, or how many streams are above the firmament, or which are the exits of hell, or which are the entrances^k of paradise?' ⁸ perhaps you would have said to me, 'I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever ascend into heaven.'⁹ But now I have asked you only about fire and wind and the day, things through which you have passed and without which you cannot exist,^l and you have given me no answer about them!" ¹⁰ And he said to me, "You cannot understand the things with which you have grown up; ¹¹ how then can your mind comprehend the way of the Most High? And how can one who is already worn out^m by the corrupt world understand incorruption?"ⁿ When I heard this, I fell on my face^o ¹² and said to him, "It would be better for us not to be here than to come here and live in ungodliness, and to suffer and not understand why."

¹³ He answered me and said, "I went into a forest of trees of the plain, and they made a plan ¹⁴ and said, 'Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may recede before us, and that we may make for ourselves more forests.'¹⁵ And in like manner the waves of the sea also made a plan and said, 'Come, let us go up and subdue the forest of the plain so that there also we may gain more territory for ourselves.'¹⁶ But the plan of the forest was in vain, for the fire came and consumed it; ¹⁷ likewise also the plan of the waves of the sea, for the sand stood firm and stopped them. ¹⁸ If now you were a judge between them, which would you undertake to justify, and which to condemn?"

¹⁹ I answered and said, "Each has made a foolish plan, for the land is assigned to the forest, and to the sea is assigned a place to carry its waves."

20 He answered me and said, "You have judged rightly, but why have you not judged so in your own case? 21 For as the land is assigned to the forest and the sea to its waves, so also those who dwell upon earth can understand only what is on the earth, and he who is above the heavens can understand what is above the height of the heavens."

22 Then I answered and said, "I beseech you, my lord, why have I been endowed with the power of understanding? 23 For I did not wish to inquire about the ways above, but about those things which we daily experience: why Israel has been given over to the Gentiles as a reproach; why the people whom you loved has been given over to godless tribes, and the law of our fathers has been made of no effect and the written covenants no longer exist; 24 and why we pass from the world like locusts, and our life is like a mist,⁹ and we are not worthy to obtain mercy. 25 But what will he do for his name, by which we are called? It is about these things that I have asked."

26 He answered me and said, "If you are alive, you will see, and if you live long,⁷ you will often marvel, because the age is hastening swiftly to its end. 27 For it will not be able to bring the things that have been promised to the righteous in their appointed times, because this age is full of sadness and infirmities. 28 For the evil about which you ask me has been sown, but the harvest of it has not yet come. 29 If therefore that which has been sown is not reaped, and if the place where the evil has been sown does not pass away, the field where the good has been sown will not come. 30 For a grain of evil seed was sown in Adam's heart from the beginning, and how much ungodliness it has produced until now, and will produce until the time of threshing comes! 31 Consider now for yourself how much fruit of ungodliness a grain of evil seed has produced. 32 When heads of grain without number are sown, how great a threshing floor they will fill!"

33 Then I answered and said, "How long' and when will these things be? Why are our years few and evil?"

34 He answered me and said, "You do not hasten faster than the Most High, for your haste is for yourself,⁴ but the Highest hastens on behalf of many. 35 Did not the souls of the righteous in their chambers ask about these matters, saying, 'How long are we to remain here?' And when will come the harvest of our reward?" 36 And Jerem'iel the archangel answered them and said, "When the number of those like yourselves is completed;¹⁰ for he has weighed the age in the balance, 37 and measured the times by measure, and numbered the times by number; and he will not move or arouse them until that measure is fulfilled."

38 Then I answered and said, "O sovereign Lord, but all of us also are full of ungodliness. 39 And it is perhaps on account of us that the time of threshing is delayed for the righteous—on account of the sins of those who dwell on earth."

40 He answered me and said, "Go and ask a woman who is with child if, when her nine months have been completed, her womb can keep the child within her any longer."

41 And I said, "No, lord, it cannot." And he said to me, "In Hades the chambers of the souls are like the womb. 42 For just as a woman who is in travail makes haste to escape the pangs of birth, so also do these places hasten to give back those things that were committed to them from the beginning. 43 Then the things that you desire to see will be disclosed to you."

44 I answered and said, "If I have found favor in your sight, and if it is possible, and if I am worthy, 45 show me this also: whether more time is to come than has passed, or whether for us the greater part has gone by. 46 For I know what has gone by, but I do not know what is to come."

47 And he said to me, "Stand at my right side, and I will show you the interpretation of a parable."

48 So I stood and looked, and behold, a flaming furnace passed by before me, and when the flame had gone by I looked, and behold, the smoke remained. ⁴⁹And after this a cloud full of water passed before me and poured down a heavy and violent rain, and when the rainstorm had passed, drops remained in the cloud.

⁵⁰ And he said to me, "Consider it for yourself; for as the rain is more than the drops, and the fire is greater than the smoke, so the quantity that passed was far greater; but drops and smoke remained."

⁵¹ Then I prayed and said, "Do you think that I shall live until those days? Or who will be alive in those days?"

⁵² He answered me and said, "Concerning the signs about which you ask me, I can tell you in part; but I was not sent to tell you concerning your life, for I do not know.

5 "Now concerning the signs: behold, the days are coming when those who dwell on earth shall be seized with great terror,^x and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of faith. ²And unrighteousness shall be increased beyond what you yourself see, and beyond what you heard of formerly. ³And the land which you now see ruling shall be waste and untrodden,^y and men shall see it desolate. ⁴But if the Most High grants that you live, you shall see it thrown into confusion after the third period;^z and the sun shall suddenly shine forth at night, and the moon during the day.

⁵ Blood shall drip from wood, and the stone shall utter its voice; the peoples shall be troubled, and the stars shall fall.^a

⁶And one shall reign whom those who dwell on earth do not expect, and the birds shall fly away together; ⁷ and the sea of Sodom shall cast up fish; and one whom the many do not know shall make his voice heard by night, and all shall hear his voice.^b ⁸ There shall be chaos also in many places, and fire shall often break out, and the wild beasts shall roam beyond their haunts, and menstruous women shall bring forth monsters. ⁹And salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall conquer one another; then shall reason hide itself, and wisdom shall withdraw into its chamber, ¹⁰ and it shall be sought by many but shall not be found, and unrighteousness and unrestraint shall increase on earth. ¹¹And one country shall ask its neighbor, 'Has righteousness, or any one who does right, passed through you?' And it will answer, 'No.' ¹²And at that time men shall hope but not obtain; they shall labor but their ways shall not prosper. ¹³ These are the signs which I am permitted to tell you, and if you pray again, and weep as you do now, and fast for seven days, you shall hear yet greater things than these."

¹⁴ Then I awoke, and my body shuddered violently, and my soul was so troubled that it fainted. ¹⁵ But the angel who had come and talked with me held me and strengthened me and set me on my feet.

¹⁶ Now on the second night Phal'tiel, a chief of the people, came to me and said, "Where have you been? And why is your face sad? ¹⁷ Or do you not know that Israel has been entrusted to you in the land of their exile? ¹⁸ Rise therefore and eat some bread, so that you may not forsake us, like a shepherd who leaves his flock in the power of cruel wolves."

¹⁹ Then I said to him, "Depart from me and do not come near me for seven days, and then you may come to me."

He heard what I said and left me. ²⁰ So I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, as Uri'el the angel had commanded me.

²¹ And after seven days the thoughts of my heart were very grievous to me again. ²² Then my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began once more to speak words in the presence of the Most High. ²³ And I said, "O sovereign Lord, from every forest of the earth and from all its trees thou hast chosen one vine, ²⁴ and from all the lands of the world thou hast chosen for thyself one region,^c and from all the flowers of the world thou hast chosen for thyself one lily,²⁵ and from all the depths of the sea thou hast filled for thyself one river, and from all the cities that have been built thou hast consecrated Zion for thyself,²⁶ and from all the birds that have been created thou hast named for thyself one dove, and from all the flocks that have been made thou hast provided for thyself one sheep,²⁷ and from all the multitude of peoples thou hast gotten for thyself one people; and to this people, whom thou hast loved, thou hast given the law which is approved by all.²⁸ And now, O Lord, why hast thou given over the one to the many, and dishonored^d the one root beyond the others, and scattered thine only one among the many? ²⁹And those who opposed thy promises have trodden down those who believed thy covenants.³⁰ If thou dost really hate thy people, they should be punished at thy own hands."

31 When I had spoken these words, the angel who had come to me on a previous night was sent to me,³² and he said to me, "Listen to me, and I will instruct you; pay attention to me, and I will tell you more."

33 And I said, "Speak, my lord." And he said to me, "Are you greatly disturbed in mind over Israel?^e Or do you love him more than his Maker does?"

34 And I said, "No, my lord, but because of my grief I have spoken; for every hour I suffer agonies of heart, while I strive to understand the way of the Most High and to search out part of his judgment."

35 And he said to me, "You cannot." And I said, "Why not, my lord? Why then was I born? Or why did not my mother's womb become my grave, that I might not see the travail of Jacob and the exhaustion of the people of Israel?"

36 He said to me, "Count up for me those who have not yet come, and gather for me the scattered raindrops, and make the withered flowers bloom again for me; ³⁷ open for me the closed chambers, and bring forth for me the winds shut up in them, or show me the picture of a voice; and then I will explain to you the travail that you ask to understand."^f

38 And I said, "O sovereign Lord, who is able to know these things except he whose dwelling is not with men? ³⁹As for me, I am without wisdom, and how can I speak concerning the things which thou hast asked me?"

40 He said to me, "Just as you cannot do one of the things that were mentioned, so you cannot discover my judgment, or the goal of the love that I have promised my people."

41 And I said, "Yet behold, O Lord, thou dost have charge of those who are alive at the end, but what will those do who were before us, or we, or those who come after us?"

42 He said to me, "I shall liken my judgment to a circle;^g just as for those who are last there is no slowness, so for those who are first there is no haste."

43 Then I answered and said, "Couldst thou not have created at one time those who have been and those who are and those who will be, that thou mightest show thy judgment the sooner?"

44 He replied to me and said, "The creation cannot make more haste than the Creator, neither can the world hold at one time those who have been created in it."

45 And I said, "How hast thou said to thy servant that thou^h wilt certainly give life at one time to thy creation? If therefore all creatures will live at one timeⁱ and the creation will sustain them, it might even now be able to support all of them present at one time."

46 He said to me, "Ask a woman's womb, and say to it, 'If you bear ten^j children, why one after another?' Request it therefore to produce ten at one time."

47 I said, "Of course it cannot, but only each in its own time."

48 He said to me, "Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those who from time to time are sown in it."

49 For as an infant does not bring forth, and a woman who has become old does not bring forth any longer, so have I organized the world which I created."

50 Then I inquired and said, "Since thou hast now given me the opportunity, let me speak before thee. Is our mother, of whom thou hast told me, still young? Or is she now approaching old age?"

51 He replied to me, "Ask a woman who bears children, and she will tell you. ⁵² Say to her, 'Why are those whom you have borne recently not like those whom you bore before, but smaller in stature?' ⁵³ And she herself will answer you, 'Those born in the strength of youth are different from those born during the time of old age, when the womb is failing.' ⁵⁴ Therefore you also should consider that you and your contemporaries are smaller in stature than those who were before you, ⁵⁵ and those who come after you will be smaller than you, as born of a creation which already is aging and passing the strength of youth."

56 And I said, "O Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favor in thy sight, show thy servant through whom thou dost visit thy creation."

6 And he said to me, "At the beginning of the circle of the earth, ^k before the portals of the world were in place, and before the assembled winds blew, ² and before the rumblings of thunder sounded, and before the flashes of lightning shone, and before the foundations of paradise were laid, ³ and before the beautiful flowers were seen, and before the powers of movement^l were established, and before the innumerable hosts of angels were gathered together, ⁴ and before the heights of the air were lifted up, and before the measures of the firmaments were named, and before the footstool of Zion was established, ⁵ and before the present years were reckoned, and before the imaginations of those who now sin were estranged, and before those who stored up treasures of faith were sealed—⁶ then I planned these things, and they were made through me and not through another, just as the end shall come through me and not through another."

7 And I answered and said, "What will be the dividing of the times? Or when will be the end of the first age and the beginning of the age that follows?"

8 He said to me, "From Abraham to Isaac,^m because from him were born Jacob and Esau, for Jacob's hand held Esau's heel from the beginning. ⁹ For Esau is the end of this age, and Jacob is the beginning of the age that follows. ¹⁰ For the beginning of a man is his hand, and the end of a man is his heel;ⁿ between the heel and the hand seek for nothing else, Ezra!"

11 I answered and said, "O sovereign Lord, if I have found favor in thy sight, ¹² show thy servant the end of thy signs which thou didst show me in part on a previous night."

13 He answered and said to me, "Rise to your feet and you will hear a full, resounding voice. ¹⁴ And if the place where you are standing is greatly shaken ¹⁵ while the voice is speaking, do not be terrified; because the word concerns the end, and the foundations of the earth will understand ¹⁶ that the speech concerns them. They will tremble and be shaken, for they know that their end must be changed."

17 When I heard this, I rose to my feet and listened, and behold, a voice was speaking, and its sound was like the sound of many waters. ¹⁸ And it said, "Behold, the days are coming, and it shall be that when I draw near to visit the inhabitants of the earth, ¹⁹ and when I require from the doers of iniquity the penalty of their iniquity, and when the humiliation of Zion is complete, ²⁰ and when the seal is placed upon the age which is about to pass away, then I will show these signs: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see it together. ²¹ Infants a year old shall speak with their voices, and women with child shall give birth to premature children at three or four months, and these shall live and dance. ²² Sown places shall suddenly appear unsown, and full storehouses shall suddenly be found to be empty; ²³ and the trumpet shall sound aloud, and when all hear it, they shall suddenly be terrified. ²⁴At that time friends shall make war on friends like enemies, and the earth and those who inhabit it shall be terrified, and the springs of the fountains shall stand still, so that for three hours they shall not flow.

25 "And it shall be that whoever remains after all that I have foretold to you shall himself be saved and shall see my salvation and the end of my world. ²⁶And they shall see the men who were taken up, who from their birth have not tasted death; and the heart of the earth's^a inhabitants shall be changed and converted to a different spirit. ²⁷For evil shall be blotted out, and deceit shall be quenched; ²⁸faithfulness shall flourish, and corruption shall be overcome, and the truth, which has been so long without fruit, shall be revealed."

29 While he spoke to me, behold, little by little the place where I was standing began to rock to and fro.^b ³⁰And he said to me, "I have come to show you these things this night."^c ³¹If therefore you will pray again and fast again for seven days, I will again declare to you greater things than these,^d ³²because your voice has surely been heard before the Most High; for the Mighty One has seen your uprightness and has also observed the purity which you have maintained from your youth. ³³Therefore he sent me to show you all these things, and to say to you: 'Believe and do not be afraid! ³⁴Do not be quick to think vain thoughts concerning the former times, lest you be hasty concerning the last times.'

35 Now after this I wept again and fasted seven days as before, in order to complete the three weeks as I had been told. ³⁶And on the eighth night my heart was troubled within me again, and I began to speak in the presence of the Most High. ³⁷For my spirit was greatly aroused, and my soul was in distress.

38 I said, "O Lord, thou didst speak at the beginning of creation, and didst say on the first day, 'Let heaven and earth be made,' and thy word accomplished the work. ³⁹And then the Spirit was hovering, and darkness and silence embraced everything; the sound of man's voice was not yet there.^e ⁴⁰Then thou didst command that a ray of light be brought forth from thy treasures, so that thy works might then appear.

41 "Again, on the second day, thou didst create the spirit of the firmament, and didst command him to divide and separate the waters, that one part might move upward and the other part remain beneath.

42 "On the third day thou didst command the waters to be gathered together in the seventh part of the earth; six parts thou didst dry up and keep so that some of them might be planted and cultivated and be of service before thee. ⁴³For thy word went forth, and at once the work was done. ⁴⁴For immediately fruit came forth in endless abundance and of varied appeal to the taste; and flowers of inimitable color; and odors of inexpressible fragrance. These were made on the third day.

45 "On the fourth day thou didst command the brightness of the sun, the light of the moon, and the arrangement of the stars to come into being; ⁴⁶and thou didst command them to serve man, who was about to be formed.

47 "On the fifth day thou didst command the seventh part, where the water had been gathered together, to bring forth living creatures, birds, and fishes; and so it was done. ⁴⁸The dumb and lifeless water produced living creatures, as it was commanded,^f that therefore the nations might declare thy wondrous works.

49 "Then thou didst keep in existence two living creatures;^g the name of one thou didst call Be'hemoth and the name of the other Leviathan. ⁵⁰And thou didst separate one from the other, for the seventh part where the water had been gathered together could not hold them both. ⁵¹And thou didst give Be'hemoth one of the parts which had been dried up on the third day, to live in it, where there are a thousand mountains; ⁵² but to Leviathan thou didst give the seventh part, the watery part; and thou hast kept them to be eaten by whom thou wilt, and when thou wilt.

⁵³ "On the sixth day thou didst command the earth to bring forth before thee cattle, beasts, and creeping things; ⁵⁴ and over these thou didst place Adam, as ruler over all the works which thou hadst made; and from him we have all come, the people whom thou hast chosen.

⁵⁵ "All this I have spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast said that it was for us that thou didst create this world." ⁵⁶As for the other nations which have descended from Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, and that they are like spittle, and thou hast compared their abundance to a drop from a bucket. ⁵⁷And now, O Lord, behold, these nations, which are reputed as nothing, domineer over us and devour us. ⁵⁸ But we thy people, whom thou hast called thy first-born, only begotten, zealous for thee, and most dear, have been given into their hands. ⁵⁹ If the world has indeed been created for us, why do we not possess our world as an inheritance? How long will this be so?"

7 When I had finished speaking these words, the angel who had been sent to me on the former nights was sent to me again, ² and he said to me, "Rise, Ezra, and listen to the words that I have come to speak to you."

³ I said, "Speak, my lord." And he said to me, "There is a sea set in a wide expanse so that it is broad^x and vast, ⁴ but it has an entrance set in a narrow place, so that it is like a river. ⁵ If any one, then, wishes to reach the sea, to look at it or to navigate it, how can he come to the broad part unless he passes through the narrow part? ⁶ Another example: There is a city built and set on a plain, and it is full of all good things; ⁷ but the entrance to it is narrow and set in a precipitous place, so that there is fire on the right hand and deep water on the left; ⁸ and there is only one path lying between them, that is, between the fire and the water, so that only one man can walk upon that path. ⁹ If now that city is given to a man for an inheritance, how will the heir receive his inheritance unless he passes through the danger set before him?"

¹⁰ I said, "He cannot, lord." And he said to me, "So also is Israel's portion. ¹¹ For I made the world for their sake, and when Adam transgressed my statutes, what had been made was judged. ¹² And so the entrances of this world were made narrow and sorrowful and toilsome; they are few and evil, full of dangers and involved in great hardships. ¹³ But the entrances of the greater world are broad and safe, and really yield the fruit of immortality. ¹⁴ Therefore unless the living pass through the difficult and vain experiences, they can never receive those things that have been reserved for them. ¹⁵ But now why are you disturbed, seeing that you are to perish? And why are you moved, seeing that you are mortal? ¹⁶ And why have you not considered in your mind what is to come, rather than what is now present?"

¹⁷ Then I answered and said, "O sovereign Lord, behold, thou hast ordained in thy law that the righteous shall inherit these things, but that the ungodly shall perish. ¹⁸ The righteous therefore can endure difficult circumstances while hoping for easier ones; but those who have done wickedly have suffered the difficult circumstances and will not see the easier ones."

¹⁹ And he said to me, "You are not a better judge than God, or wiser than the Most High! ²⁰ Let many perish who are now living, rather than that the law of God which is set before them be disregarded! ²¹ For God strictly commanded those who came into the world, when they came, what they should do to live, and what they should observe to avoid punishment. ²² Nevertheless they were not obedient, and spoke against him;

they devised for themselves vain thoughts,

²³ and proposed to themselves wicked frauds;

they even declared that the Most High does not exist, and they ignored his ways!

²⁴ They scorned his law,
and denied his covenants;
they have been unfaithful to his statutes, and have not performed his works.

²⁵ "Therefore, Ezra, empty things are for the empty, and full things are for the full. ²⁶ For behold, the time will come, when the signs which I have foretold to you will come to pass, that the city which now is not seen shall appear,^y and the land which now is hidden shall be disclosed. ²⁷ And every one who has been delivered from the evils that I have foretold shall see my wonders. ²⁸ For my son the Messiah^z shall be revealed with those who are with him, and those who remain shall rejoice four hundred years. ²⁹ And after these years my son the Messiah shall die, and all who draw human breath. ³⁰ And the world shall be turned back to primeval silence for seven days, as it was at the first beginnings; so that no one shall be left. ³¹ And after seven days the world, which is not yet awake, shall be roused, and that which is corruptible shall perish. ³² And the earth shall give up those who are asleep in it, and the dust those who dwell silently in it; and the chambers shall give up the souls which have been committed to them. ³³ And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgment, and compassion shall pass away, and patience shall be withdrawn;^a ³⁴ but only judgment shall remain, truth shall stand, and faithfulness shall grow strong. ³⁵ And recompense shall follow, and the reward shall be manifested; righteous deeds shall awake, and unrighteous deeds shall not sleep.^b ³⁶ Then the pit^c of torment shall appear, and opposite it shall be the place of rest; and the furnace of hell^d shall be disclosed, and opposite it the paradise of delight. ³⁷ Then the Most High will say to the nations that have been raised from the dead, 'Look now, and understand whom you have denied, whom you have not served, whose commandments you have despised! ³⁸ Look on this side and on that; here are delight and rest, and there are fire and torments!'^e Thus he will^f speak to them on the day of judgment—³⁹ a day that has no sun or moon or stars, ⁴⁰ or cloud or thunder or lightning or wind or water or air, or darkness or evening or morning, ⁴¹ or summer or spring or heat or winter^f or frost or cold or hail or rain or dew, ⁴² or noon or night, or dawn or shining or brightness or light, but only the splendor of the glory of the Most High, by which all shall see what has been determined for them. ⁴³ For it will last for about a week of years. ⁴⁴ This is my judgment and its prescribed order; and to you alone have I shown these things."

[45] I answered and said, "O sovereign Lord, I said then and I say now:^g Blessed are those who are alive and keep thy commandments! ⁴⁶ But what of those for whom I prayed? For who among the living is there that has not sinned, or who among men that has not transgressed thy covenant? ⁴⁷ And now I see that the world to come will bring delight to a few, but torments to many. ⁴⁸ For an evil heart has grown up in us, which has alienated us from God,^h and has brought us into corruption and the ways of death, and has shown us the paths of perdition and removed us far from life—and that not just a few of us but almost all who have been created!"

[49] He answered me and said, "Listen to me, Ezra,ⁱ and I will instruct you, and will admonish you yet again. ⁵⁰ For this reason the Most High has made not one world but two. ⁵¹ For whereas you have said that the righteous are not many but few, while the ungodly abound, hear the explanation for this.

[53] I said, "Lord, how could that be?"

[54] And he said to me, "Not only that, but ask the earth and she will tell you; defer to her, and she will declare it to you. [55] Say to her, 'You produce gold and silver and brass, and also iron and lead and clay; [56] but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, and lead than iron, and clay than lead.' [57] Judge therefore which things are precious and desirable, those that are abundant or those that are rare?"

[59] He answered me and said, "Weigh within yourself^k what you have thought, for he who has what is hard to get rejoices more than he who has what is plentiful. [60] So also will be the judgment! which I have promised; for I will rejoice over the few who shall be saved, because it is they who have made my glory to prevail now, and through them my name has now been honored. [61] And I will not grieve over the multitude of those who perish; for it is they who are now like a mist, and are similar to a flame and smoke—they are set on fire and burn hotly, and are extinguished."

[62] I replied and said, "O earth, what have you brought forth, if the mind is made out of the dust like the other created things! [63] For it would have been better if the dust itself had not been born, so that the mind might not have been made from it. [64] But now the mind grows with us, and therefore we are tormented, because we perish and know it. [65] Let the human race lament, but let the beasts of the field be glad; let all who have been born lament, but let the four-footed beasts and the flocks rejoice! [66] For it is much better with them than with us; for they do not look for a judgment, nor do they know of any torment or salvation promised to them after death. [67] For what does it profit us that we shall be preserved alive but cruelly tormented? [68] For all who have been born are involved in iniquities, and are full of sins and burdened with transgressions. [69] And if we were not to come into judgment after death, perhaps it would have been better for us."

[70] He answered me and said, "When the Most High made the world and Adam and all who have come from him, he first prepared the judgment and the things that pertain to the judgment. [71] And now understand from your own words, for you have said that the mind grows with us. [72] For this reason, therefore, those who dwell on earth shall be tormented, because though they had understanding they committed iniquity, and though they received the commandments they did not keep them, and though they obtained the law they dealt unfaithfully with what they received. [73] What, then, will they have to say in the judgment, or how will they answer in the last times? [74] For how long the time is that the Most High has been patient with those who inhabit the world, and not for their sake, but because of the times which he had foreordained!"

[75] I answered and said, "If I have found favor in thy sight, O Lord, show this also to thy servant: whether after death, as soon as every one of us yields up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come when thou wilt renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented at once?"

[76] He answered me and said, "I will show you that also, but do not be associated with those who have shown scorn, nor number yourself among those who are tormented. [77] For you have a treasure of works laid up with the Most High; but it will not be shown to you until the last times. [78] Now, concerning death, the teaching is: When the decisive decree has gone forth from the Most High that a man shall die, as the spirit leaves the body to return again to him who gave it, first of all it adores the glory of the Most High. [79] And if it is one of those who have shown scorn and have not kept the way of the Most High, and who have despised his law, and who have hated those who fear God—[80] such spirits shall not enter into habitations, but shall immediately wander about in torments, ever grieving and sad, in seven ways. ^[81] The first way, because they have scorned the law of the Most High. ^[82] The second way, because they cannot now make a good repentance that they may live. ^[83] The third way, they shall see the reward laid up for those who have trusted the covenants of the Most High. ^[84] The fourth way, they shall consider the torment laid up for themselves in the last days. ^[85] The fifth way, they shall see how the habitations of the others are guarded by angels in profound quiet. ^[86] The sixth way, they shall see how some of them will pass over^m into torments. ^[87] The seventh way, which is worseⁿ than all the ways that have been mentioned, because they shall utterly waste away in confusion and be consumed with shame,^p and shall wither with fear at seeing the glory of the Most High before whom they sinned while they were alive, and before whom they are to be judged in the last times.

[88] "Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from their mortal body."^p ^[89] During the time that they lived in it,^q they laboriously served the Most High, and withstood danger every hour, that they might keep the law of the Lawgiver perfectly. ^[90] Therefore this is the teaching concerning them: ^[91] First of all, they shall see with great joy the glory of him who receives them, for they shall have rest in seven orders. ^[92] The first order, because they have striven with great effort to overcome the evil thought which was formed with them, that it might not lead them astray from life into death. ^[93] The second order, because they see the perplexity in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and the punishment that awaits them. ^[94] The third order, they see the witness which he who formed them bears concerning them, that while they were alive they kept the law which was given them in trust. ^[95] The fourth order, they understand the rest which they now enjoy, being gathered into their chambers and guarded by angels in profound quiet, and the glory which awaits them in the last days. ^[96] The fifth order, they rejoice that they have now escaped what is corruptible, and shall inherit what is to come; and besides they see the straits and toil^r from which they have been delivered, and the spacious liberty which they are to receive and enjoy in immortality. ^[97] The sixth order, when it is shown to them how their face is to shine like the sun, and how they are to be made like the light of the stars, being incorruptible from then on. ^[98] The seventh order, which is greater than all that have been mentioned, because they shall rejoice with boldness, and shall be confident without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten to behold the face of him whom they served in life and from whom they are to receive their reward when glorified. ^[99] This is the order of the souls of the righteous, as henceforth is announced;^s and the aforesaid are the ways of torment which those who would not give heed shall suffer hereafter."

[100] I answered and said, "Will time therefore be given to the souls, after they have been separated from the bodies, to see what you have described to me?"

[101] He said to me, "They shall have freedom for seven days, so that during these seven days they may see the things of which you have been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered in their habitations."

[102] I answered and said, "If I have found favor in thy sight, show further to me, thy servant, whether on the day of judgment the righteous will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to entreat the Most High for them, ^[103] fathers for sons or sons for parents, brothers for brothers, relatives for their kinsmen, or friends^t for those who are most dear."

plays to all the seal of truth. Just as now a father does not send his son, or a son his father, or a master his servant, or a friend his dearest friend, to be ill^v or sleep or eat or be healed in his stead,¹¹⁰⁵ so no one shall ever pray for another on that day, neither shall any one lay a burden on another;^w for then every one shall bear his own righteousness or unrighteousness.^z

36 [106] I answered and said, "How then do we find that first Abraham prayed for the people of Sodom, and Moses for our fathers who sinned in the desert,^{37 [107]} and Joshua after him for Israel in the days of Achan,^{38 [108]} and Samuel in the days of Saul,^x and David for the plague, and Solomon for those in the sanctuary,^{39 [109]} and Eli'jah for those who received the rain, and for the one who was dead, that he might live,^{40 [110]} and Hezeki'ah for the people in the days of Sennach'erib, and many others prayed for many?^{41 [111]} If therefore the righteous have prayed for the ungodly now, when corruption has increased and unrighteousness has multiplied, why will it not be so then as well?"

42 [112] He answered me and said, "This present world is not the end; the full glory does not^y abide in it;^z therefore those who were strong prayed for the weak.^{43 [113]} But the day of judgment will be the end of this age and the beginning^a of the immortal age to come, in which corruption has passed away,^{44 [114]} sinful indulgence has come to an end, unbelief has been cut off, and righteousness has increased and truth has appeared.^{45 [115]} Therefore no one will then be able to have mercy on him who has been condemned in the judgment, or to harm^b him who is victorious."

46 [116] I answered and said, "This is my first and last word, that it would have been better if the earth had not produced Adam, or else, when it had produced him, had restrained him from sinning.^{47 [117]} For what good is it to all that they live in sorrow now and expect punishment after death?^{48 [118]} O Adam, what have you done? 57 [127] He answered and said, "This is the meaning of the contest which every man who is born on earth shall wage,^{58 [128]} that if he is defeated he shall suffer what you have said, but if he is victorious he shall receive what I have said.^c^{59 [129]} For this is the way of which Moses, while he was alive, spoke to the people, saying, 'Choose for yourself life, that you may live!'^{60 [130]} But they did not believe him, or the prophets after him, or even myself who have spoken to them.^{61 [131]} Therefore there shall not be^d grief at their destruction, so much as joy over those to whom salvation is assured."

62 [132] I answered and said, "I know, O Lord, that the Most High is now called merciful, because he has mercy on those who have not yet come into the world;^{63 [133]} and gracious, because he is gracious to those who turn in repentance to his law;^{64 [134]} and patient, because he shows patience toward those who have sinned, since they are his own works;^{65 [135]} and bountiful, because he would rather give than take away;^e

Just as, when you ask the earth, it will tell you that it provides very much clay from which earthenware is made, but only a little dust from which gold comes; so is the course of the present world. 3 Many have been created, but few shall be saved."

4 I answered and said, "Then drink your fill of understanding, O my soul, and drink wisdom, O my heart! 5 For not of your own will did you come into the world, h and against your will you depart, for you have been given only a short time to live. 6 O Lord who art over us, grant to thy servant that we may pray before thee, and give us seed for our heart and cultivation of our understanding so that fruit may be produced, by which every mortal who bears the likeness i of a human being may be able to live. 7 For thou alone dost exist, and we are a work of thy hands, as thou hast declared. 8 And because thou dost give life to the body which is now fashioned j in the womb, and dost furnish it with members, what thou hast created is preserved in fire and water, and for nine months the womb k which thou hast formed endures thy creation which has been created in it. 9 But that which keeps and that which is kept shall both be kept by thy keeping. k And when the womb gives up again what has been created in it, 10 thou hast commanded that from the members themselves (that is, from the breasts) milk should be supplied which is the fruit of the breasts, 11 so that what has been fashioned may be nourished for a time; and afterwards thou wilt guide him in thy mercy. 12 Thou hast brought him up in thy righteousness, and instructed him in thy law, and reproved him in thy wisdom. 13 Thou wilt take away his life, for he is thy creation; and thou wilt make him live, for he is thy work. 14 If then thou wilt suddenly and quickly l destroy him who with so great labor was fashioned by thy command, to what purpose was he made? 15 And now I will speak out: About all mankind thou knowest best; but I will speak about thy people, for whom I am grieved, 16 and about thy inheritance, for whom I lament, and about Israel, for whom I am sad, and about the seed of Jacob, for whom I am troubled. 17 Therefore I will pray before thee for myself and for them, for I see the failings of us who dwell in the land, 18 and m I have heard of the swiftness of the judgment that is to come. 19 Therefore hear my voice, and understand my words, and I will speak before thee."

The beginning of the words of Ezra's prayer, before he was taken up. He said: 20 "O Lord who inhabitest eternity, n whose eyes are exalted o and whose upper chambers are in the air, 21 whose throne is beyond measure and whose glory is beyond comprehension, before whom the hosts of angels stand trembling 22 and at whose command they are changed to wind and fire, p whose word is sure and whose utterances are certain, whose ordinance is strong and whose command is terrible, 23 whose look dries up the depths and whose indignation makes the mountains melt away, and whose truth is established for ever q—24 hear, O Lord, the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy creature; attend to my words. 25 For as long as I live I will speak, and as long as I have under-
